"I've always cared, I always will," he breathed huskily.

"Jerry," she whispered.

Yet, assured now of his triumph, Wallace pressed warm kisses on her hair. But always when he sought her lips she evaded him, to finally pull away with a tremulous little laugh.

"And to think I ever doubted you, Jerry."

He eyed her eagerly and, still clinging to her hand, drew her to his side.

Beside the table she playfully opened the drawer, took out some paper and placed it before him.

She had overplayed her game. Suspicion leaped into his eyes.

"Please, Jerry," she whispered softly.

He frowned, then turned impatiently from her.

She could have cried aloud with vexation. But it was all for Bob; she must not give up. Now, she was at Wallace's side, her hand upon his shoulder, and when she spoke there was injury in her tones.

"Now that we have found each other, don't fail me, dear. Let me believe in you."

Indifference held him, but after a moment he reached forth and touched her hair, and it was as if he fell anew under the spell of her.

"And you care enough to leave Mannering and come to me?"

What a question. It made Eileen pause. How far dared she go with this man? Then came the memory of Bob. She nodded her head.

With a sharp intake of breath he gathered her hungrily into his arms, but gently she drew away from him.

"You don't trust me, Jerry, and without trust there is no love."

"I'll prove it to you," he exclaimed, and would have embraced her anew. But resolutely she shook her head. Then, without another word, he turned to the table and reached for his pen.

Yet, even as he did so, even as Eileen waited there beside him with her hand upon his shoulder, there came a sound from the hallway. Heedless of the Japanese servant's protests, John Mannering was approaching.

"A trap," muttered Wallace, casting the pen aside and leaping to his feet.

And in that instant Eileen saw all her planning come to grief, and in her woe turned to the man she loved.

"John!" she cried hysterically. "John!"

He paused in the doorway adjusting himself to what he saw. It was true, then. Eileen was with Wallace.

Now, thrusting the Japanese servant aside, he strode into the room.

With a cry, Eileen rushed to her husband's side and mechanically his arm enfolded her, but his eyes were upon Wallace, who waited on the defensive. For a minute John paused as if expecting some explanation. Then, he looked down at Eileen and spoke in a strange, toneless voice.

"Dryden of the Star just called me on the telephone—something about you being in a raid on a road house."

She looked up at him.

"You know, then."

Ah, she did not even deny it. John's arm dropped from about her and horror crept into his eyes.

"I had to do it, John. I had to do it so that he would be elected," she protested wildly.

John gasped, and his eyes smoldering with a mighty passion shifted to Wallace, standing with a cynical smile upon his face.

Her terror increased by the attitude of the two men, Eileen fairly beat her hands together in a perfect frenzy lest her husband might not understand.

"I had to do it, John, can't you understand? I just had to do it for him."

But John, almost throwing her out of his way, strode over to the table. Picking the picture up, he stared at it for a moment as if he could not believe his own eyes. Then, with a terrible cry, he crushed it in his hands. As Eileen clutched at him with inarticulate explanations, he turned on her, his voice hoarse and choked.

"You did this thing, so that your lover might beat me, eh?"

"No," she cried, and again and again, "No," while she tried to press her hands to his lips to stay the words he could not unsay.

Past all reasoning, he thrust back her hands and faced them both. She wild with fear and Wallace with a twisted smile upon his lips.

"You might have waited until morning. Then, you might have learned that tonight I resigned." He made a gesture towards Wallace, the hatred in his tone bitter, biting. "You have a clear field, now."

"D——n you, d——n you both," he cried and made for the door, but only to pause and, turning, point his finger at Eileen. "You've put him in office, d——n him. But, thank God, I can still fight. I'm going to fight him and save my son." Then, Mannering was gone.

Like some demented creature, Eileen followed after him. Through the hallway, into the street, she rushed madly, to come finally to the car in which he had that moment seated himself.

"John," she sobbed piteously, "let me in, let me in."

His answer was to signal the driver to go on.

White and distraught, she was left on the curb, staring after the departing car, a wife who was not wanted. Finally dazed, faint, half conscious of what she was doing, she turned to move away. And passing her own taxi, its driver spoke to her. Like one in a trance, she climbed in at the door he held open for her and sank limply upon the cushions.

"Where to, now?" said the driver, and he had to repeat his question again and again before she answered him.

"Drive," she said, wearily. "Just drive—and drive—and drive."

CHAPTER XII.

Reddy Gear, taxi cab driver, yawned nodded and straightened up with a shiver as the chill air of the early morning struck in t josh, bones. Mechanically, he swung his taxi over to speed by the lumbering bulk of a great truck with but few spare inches between himself and disaster. He frowned, but with never a thought to the exigencies of traffic. These were in the day's work and he had other perplexities. Unused to profound cogitation, they lay heavily upon him.

In his perplexity, he gazed moodily about him. On the one hand, a great forest in all its primeval grandeur, skirted the road and filled the air with the rich odor of resinous pine and hemlock. On the other, the wide reaches of a river, silvery beneath the rising sun, stretched away. Yet, Red was not interested in the lumber industry, nor was he given to faring forth upon the water. Taxi cabs, tires, carburetors and passengers summed his world. At the moment, a passenger who rode on and on. Suppose this one proposed to continue on forever? In Red's mind there arose a vision of an extraordinary taxi cab journey. One that would send him on through the years with that motionless sad eyed passenger always behind. Send him on, until he became an ancient bearded man and she a toothless hag. It might seem that this would be the acme of success to one of Red's calling. But he had no such feeling. Rounding a curve, there lay before him a village nestled in the midst of the forest on the bank of the river. At sight of the town came resolution. A novel one too in a taxi driver. He turned and shouted at Eileen.

"Say—don't you want to stop at this next town?"

She turned to gaze at him, her face blank, as if she had difficulty in locating herself, to finally nod wearily.

As a man who sees himself relieved of a burden, Red drove on, to finally stop before a little hotel, weather worn and dilapidated. He helped Eileen out of the taxi and she stumbled partway up the steps leading to the rickety porch, where she paused, lacking the strength to proceed.

Intent upon ridding himself of his passenger, Red moved on to the door and thundered clamorously upon it with his fist. For a few moments there was no sign of life, then steps sounded within, the door was opened and a sleepy landlord in his shirt sleeves appeared.

"This here lady," said Reid, "she's sick and wants a room."

"I dunno," responded the hotel man doubtfully, scratching his towsled head. "Don't nobody but lumberjacks an' mill hands stay here, an' what's more this ain't no horspital."

"She ain't, said Red hastily, "she ain't what you'd call really sick, just tired. What she wants is just rest and she ain't a bit particular how she gets it, so long as she gets it. What's more," he continued, speaking with marvelous confidence upon a subject which had caused him no little personal misgivings, "she's got lots of money and ain't caring about what she pays for anything, so long as she gets it."

Before so fair spoken a recommendation as Red's what innkeeper could remain obdurate, what one long hesitate? Certainly the doubts of this one were promptly dispelled. Hardly had Red ceased speaking than the hotel man, all courtesy and attention in his rough way, was ushering Eileen into the house, up the stairs and down a long hall into a plainly furnished room. There he paused to regard her kindly, if curiously.

"Anything else, ma'am? What we got ain't much, but all you got to do is to holler an' it's yours."

Her senses numbed with grief and unutterably wearied by the events of the night, Eileen shook her head, hardly aware of what the man had said. Too dazed had she been to be aware of other things, too. That she had given Reddy a bill of a denomination which had lifted his tried soul from the slough of despond to the heights of joy was a thing to which she perhaps would have given little heed had she realized it. But had she known of Diane Bledsoe's presence, and, above all else, her extraordinary behavior Eileen would have found food for much thought.

For Diano had seen and recognized Eileen, early as it was, that morning. Out for a morning horseback ride, Diane had cantered up just as Reddy had assisted Eileen from the taxicab, and she had paused uncertainly on the hotel steps. The sight of Bob's mother waiting there had affected Diane strangely. Turning white as a sheet, she had swayed so far in the saddle as to almost lose her seat. Recovering herself with an effort she had swung her mount about and applying the whip to the mettlesome beast had fled the town.

And, what was more, now as Eileen, left finally alone, sank wearily down upon the edge of the bed, to fall back across it completely exhausted, Diane was still sending her horse thundering along the wooded road which led to her father's beautiful lodge and applying whip and spur, as if pursued by some invisible fiend incarnate.

Reaching the lodge she dismounted and tossing the reins of her foaming steed to an astonished groom rushed straight upstairs to her own bedroom. There, as if yet followed by this invisible terror, she burst into tears and pacing up and down the room, fell to wringing her hands. Amidst every luxury that money could buy this pampered child of the rich seemed the picture of misery and woe.

Soon growing somewhat calmer, she turned to her desk and after studying a moment her fingers fairly flew as she prepared the following telegram:

"E. J. Bledsoe,

Bledsoe Building, New York:

"Daddy Dear—Please come at once. Mrs. Mannering is here and I am sure she knows. "DIANE."

A vague message this at best, and particularly perplexing and mysterious to one not blessed with a knowledge of what Eileen knew. Curiously enough, this seemed to be E. J. Bledsoe's predicament when he received his daughter's wire.

He sat back in his big mahogany chair and blinked at the yellow sheet for a full minute. Then he stared down at the plate glass which topped the broad plain of his huge mahogany desk and blinked again, as if being a crystal gazer he might read the answer to this puzzle in its polkished surface.

"Knows what? What in the blankety, blank, blank does she think John Mannering's wife knows?" muttered E. J. Bledsoe, being a rough man when peevish.

In short, Mr. Bledsoe was in a fair way to work himself into a very bad humor over his daughter's cryptic message when luckily his attention was diverted by the entrance of his secretary.

"Mr. Jennings, sir," said that worthy young man most respectfully.

And certainly in his big chair and behind his big desk there was something rather imposing and impressive about E. J. Bledsoe, particularly as the frown aroused by his daughter's telegram had not entirely departed.

"What does he want now?" said Bledsoe with an involuntary gesture that seemed to involve the security of his pocket check book.

"He wouldn't say. He only said he wanted to see you personally, sir."

"Very well," said Bledsoe with much dighity. "Let him come in."

There, laid forth for convenient examination, were startling headlines: "Mannering withdraws on eve of election," and following it in smaller type, "Mannering denies that his action was based on the fact that Mrs. Mannering was found in a notorious roadhouse during a raid last night."

Bledsoe read and having inwardly digested it all raised his eyes from the paper and sniffed.

"Wallace is a smart man, a damned smart man, Mr. Bledsoe. They don't come any smarter."

"Humph!" muttered Bledsoe in tones which might have daunted a less satisfied heart.

"You've got a good eye, Mr. Bledsoe," continued Slick, as if he had suddenly set up as an oculist. "You picked a winner and he gave you a good run for your money."

Mr. Bledsoe looked doubtful. Indeed, there was a vague something about him which might have led one to suspect that personally he was of the opinion that he had backed an also ran in this race of Slick's imagination.

But so filled with pride and contentment was Slick that he never noticed this.

"You couldn't beat it—no, not in a thousand years—that little scheme of Wallace's to get Mannering out of office. It worked—I'll say it worked," chuckled Slick, and his manner said plainly: "Why shouldn't it work, I helped to do it?"

But in the face of all this enthusiasm Bledsoe remained strangely cold. Now he shot a keen glance at the speaker.

"What did Wallace have to do with it?"

"Do with it!" Slick drew himself up with pride, even if his grammer did lapse sadly. "Me an' him did it. Yes, sir, you've got nobody to—er—thank but me an' Wallace for that smooth little trick."

"Trick?" Bledsoe looked surprised, more than surprised, but no flood of gratitude burst from his lips.

"This—you two did this thing'?" he said slowly, indicating the newspaper.

"We did it. If you don't believe me look here." With a knowing wink he produced the signed statement for the possession of which Eileen had struggled in vain. "This is what took her to the roadhouse—to get it. She was so crazy to help her kid that she didn't have any more sense than a jaybird."

"How did you get the paper?"

"H—ll, I kept it. What do you suppose? I just kidded her along. You know my way. It was like taking milk from a baby."

"And the raid?" said Bledsoe softly.

"Framed—everything pulled off like clockwork."

"And do you mean to tell me that you two so managed that thing that Mannering has no idea why his wife went to that roadhouse?"

"Sure," said Slick, drawing himself up proudly and fairly beaming on Bledsoe. "That's the best part of the whole business. Mannering's got it in his bean that his wife double-crossed him because she was in love with Wallace."

His face purple with rage Bledsoe leaped to his feet.

"Why, you scoundrels! You d——d dirty, sneaking pair of skunks!" he bellowed and turned towards the door.

Shocked beyond belief, Slick sat there when he had gone. In the moment of victory had come defeat. Slowly he straightened himself, and he might have been a wounded soldier raising himself upon his elbow to gaze at a conquered field in search of succor.

"D——n," whispered Slick, so low that it might have been the soft sigh of a summer's zephyr—"D——n the luck to h—ll!"

Then he slowly hitched himself towards the telephone. On the hour of defeat that indomitable spirit was uplifting him. That masterly brain was evolving some new strategical move ere the smoke of battle cleared. It was not to Wallace he called. Standing upon his own feet in more ways than one, he called the railroad station.

"Say," said Slick hurriedly, "reserve me a lower for San Francisco tonight!"

CHAPTER XIII.

John Mannering entered the jail to walk slowly along the corridor and pause by the jailer.

"I want," he said with an effort, "I want to see my son."

(To be continued next week.)

The picture of the above Serial will be shown at the REGENT.

Watch for the date !

Health and Happiness in Home Life

WHAT a joy are children to the healthy mother. Their noise and shouts are music in her ears, for then she knows they are well and full of energy.

But how different when mother is tired, nervous and irritable. Then she longs for rest and quiet and every sound jars on her jangled nerves.

Health and happiness has come to many a home as the result of mother using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Gently and naturally it instils new nerve force into the tired, nerve-racked body.

Headaches disappear, you rest and sleep better, digestion improves, worries and fears fade away and you know again the happiness of health.

Use it at the first sign of nervous exhaustion and you save yourself weeks of unhappiness. There are no substitutes for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It has proven itself the greatest of restoratives.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is woman's best friend for it helps her as nothing else can during the trying critical periods of her life. 60 cts. a box, all dealers or The Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto 2, Can.

Still Enjoying Life at 84

Thanks To That Wonderful Remedy

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. F. H. Miller, 1843-11th Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"Five years ago my husband suffered terribly with severe attacks of palpitation of the heart and smothering spells, and two doctors stated that he could not possibly live six months.

A friend recommended Milburn's H. and N. Pills, with the result that my husband is still enjoying life at the age of 84 years.

He has improved so wonderfully that he can now climb the stairs without having those awful pains in his heart."

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE CANADIAN HOMEMAKER

A series of weekly articles covering

PLANING . BUILDING . FINANCING
DECORATING . FURNISHING . GARDENING

Windows—The Eyes of Architecture

The success of windows is the proper disposition and proportion of the openings so as to give facade dignity as well as repose.

By W. L. Symons

The gospel of sunlight is spreading, and far and wide the marvelous effects of its healing influences—mental and physical are being taught.

The dim, mouldy, carpeted parlor is being replaced by the sun-room and the sanitary hardwood floors, and the question of light and air in our homes is now conceded first place. How can we build to get most sunlight and the best views—and bring all out doors into our rooms—is the question of the day. The adequate heating of our homes is now possible—warm air and hot water superceding the old base burners and self feeders and we can safely have a few more window openings in our rooms, without dread of cold houses.

Windows have been well termed "the eyes or architecture," not only to look through, but to be seen, and to evidence the character of the inmate.

That our well being is conditioned by the factor of our home environment is beyond question, and our health and disposition will be in direct proportion to the amount of sunlight we admit into our homes; and also in the degree that this healthy environment is beautiful and comfortable it will affect us favourably, or vice-versa.

Without doubt, in house planning, the location and size of the windows must be considered to a great extent from the interior. Each room—even the kitchen—should have, at least, one window through which direct sunlight may come into the room. Plan and replan your house until this is accomplished—and in an old house, watch your sunny walls and cut openings to let in the sunlight.

The plan of each room in your new home should be carefully considered as to the right location of the windows, in order to give proper wall and floor space for the furniture. The living room can be well sunlit from one side, with a four or five light mullioned window, and small openings on each side of the fireplace.

Bedroom windows, two if possible, must be placed so as to give proper light to the dressing table, and so that the bed may be located out of the draught.

If you cannot get direct sunlight—as on a north wall—throw out a deep bay window, to project as far out as possible. Remember the word "bay" originally meant a unit of measurement of sixteen feet. What a caricature of the "bay" our modern planning has made!

Regarding types of windows—we have a choice of two—the lifting balanced sash, and the casement Both have advantages, but without doubt the latter is the more artistic. If the sash are made to open outwards, much better chance is given for hanging of curtains—roller blinds are out of the question—and should be. The window frames may be divided by a transom so as to give a small upper sash, which can be opened without opening the entire height of the window; this will be found to be of great advantage in bed rooms, for night ventilation.

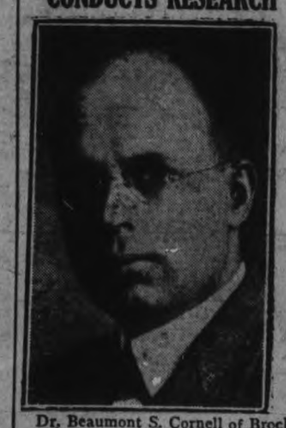
The charm of the casement as far as designing goes, is without doubt, its adaptability to grouping in the rooms, as well as for heights in stair halls, thus allowing great variety in application and design. As far as the weather is concerned, the casement can be made as serviceable as the lifting sash, by means of metal weather stripping. Care should be given in the selection of suitable hardware, on which depends the entire service of this style of window—as is evidenced by the types used by the metal casement sash manufacturers.

Regarding the exterior of our window openings—the essential thing to remember is, that we have walls in which must be made simple openings—placed rythmically—and all ornament on or about them is of secondary importance the important factor being to study the proper disposition, and proportion of the openings, so as to give a decade dignity, as well as repose.

Remember, again, that windows must be governed to a large extent by the interior arrangements, and that the outside should never control the inside. Exterior design can be modified to meet interior necessities, and the interior planning can give way somewhat to exterior design.

"Custom dulls observation and sends reason to sleep"—but let for that reason all the more be strong advocates of the crusade for "more light and air."—Copyright, 1926, MacLean Buildings Reports Limited.

CONDUCTS RESEARCH



Dr, Beaumont S. Cornell of Brockville, Ont., who has been chosen to conduct a research on pernicious anemia, provided for by the late Jas. B. Duke, American, tobacco magnate.

HOMES OF CHARACTER

Homes of all types costing from $4,000 to $10,000 are illustrated in MacLean Builders' Guide with floor plans. Also articles delightfully illustrated on decorating, furnishing and gardening. A book of immense value to the home builder. Twenty Cents a copy. MacLean Building Reports, Ltd., 342 Adelaide St. West, Toronto.

Durability

Look beneath the beautiful exterior of the NEW STAR CAR and you will find the hidden reasons for NEW STAR durability.

A Powerful Continental Red Seal M.
Force Feed Lubrication
Morse Silent Chain Drive
Dry Plate Clutch
New Rugged Steel Frame with Five Cross Members
Spicer Universal Joints
Longer Springs
Pressure Chassis Lubrication

If you look upon a car as an investment, you will be interested in the NEW STAR - Four or Six - The low prices will surprise you.

The New Star Car is Supreme in the low cost field.

Durant Motors of Canada Limited
TORONTO (Lcaside) ONTARIO

Ask for a Demonstration

SELKIRK & ELLIOTT
ORIENTAL BUILDING
Phone 98 171 Hunter Street

The NEW Star CAR

A Complete New Line of Fours and Sixes

D 26

"Evening Examiner's" Spring Fashion Page

Picking Fashion Winners for 1926

By Muriel Mertens Townley

After all, the whole art of dressing well, for it is an art, consists in "picking the winners." That is, choosing between the countless variations offered at the beginning of a new season, just which ones are going to last—not the ones which will blaze into sudden glory to be immediately dropped because of too many imitations. So the well dressed woman studies carefully the trend of the mode, selects her frocks by that trend and saves herself many disastrous and costly experiments.

The Silhouette.

The silhouette of this season's frocks is slimmer than last winter's. This does not mean that we are going back to the straight tight frock of a few seasons past. Far from it. It simply means that the flare is more subtly managed. When we walk, the dress is plenty full enough to flow easily and gracefully with the figure. This fullness is frequently attained by pleatings. Sometimes these pleats are found in fan shape godets. The godet is not quite as good as formerly as it gives too abrupt a line of flare. However, it is still seen if the material is soft enough to take it gracefully. The dress which falls into a soft ripple flare below the hips is also a favorite.

Use the Uneven Hemline.

The uneven hemline is very good, not so much for street frocks as for the daintier, softer frocks of afternoon and evening. Usually this line is up in the front and down in the back, but sometimes the sides are long with the front and back short.

Many a frock, especially the daytime frocks are made with a flat back. The fullness is then introduced across the front by means of box pleats. Sometimes these pleats go right across the front. At others they are concentrated at one or both side fronts. For the more tailored costume, the inverted plait is used, either at the side or the front.

The hemline tunic is another method of obtaining a feeling of flare and motion in the skirt. These tunics usually open down the front over a tight underslip. On these frocks the bodice is slightly molded to the figure.

Jumpers Again.

Of course, for morning, afternoon and evening the jumper dress is a great favorite. It is almost a uniform for sports wear. It is frequently seen in silks or kasha or jersey in street shades; in the afternoon it is in georgette, while in the evening it is in chiffon gorgeously beaded or spangled.

The jumper is longer than it was last year, and the skirt is usually full in the front with a flat back. It seems as though this youthfully becoming little frock is ever new. It has been several time's rumored that it is going out of fashion, but back it comes with a few slight changes and finds itself more charming and more popular than ever before. This is probably because its supple boyish lines and the freedom of motion it allows, express the life of the woman of today better than any other type of costume.

The Influence of the Cape.

The little cape is the very newest idea for spring and summer frocks. Sometimes this cape is so narrow that it is hardly more than a wide collar while in other models it reaches well below the waist. In the street frocks, especially the woolen ones, this cape is detachable leaving an equally smart but cooler dress for warmer days. This cape is also seen on many a chiffon evening dress to which its fluttering motion adds unusual charm.

Of course, sleeves are long and tight for daytime wear. Now and then one sees a dainty little frock for summer afternoons with the briefest of sleeves, but these frocks are few and far between.

The evening frock when it is a jumper frock, has a moderately low neck, but every other type of evening frock has either a deep "V" or "U" in the back, while it is higher in front. An evening frock which is particularly becoming to the very young Miss is the "robe de style." These frocks of taffeta with a fitted bodice and long full skirt, are very smart no matter how the mode changes. This year most of them are made with the hemline much shorter in front than in back. Another new note is to have a wide transparent hem of net so that while the general feeling of length is kept, they are more in keeping with the short skirted mode of today.

Taffeta.

Perhaps it is the charm of these frocks which is causing a definite attempt to bring taffeta back into style for daytime dresses. It is a new and very soft taffeta, but it demands a different handling than the soft silks we have been wearing so long. The models handling than the soft silks we have been wearing so long. The models shown so far have had a molded bodice a full skirt and have them trimmed with crisp white organdie in collar and vestee.

However, crepe de chine and crepe satin are certain to be smart. The crepe satin is frequently used in modes which show both the dull and shiny surfaces of the material. Georgette for afternoon and chiffon for evening are almost universal.

The evening mode, however, is such a gorgeous and glittering one that these chiffon frocks are frequently trimmed with silver lace, embroidered in silver or brilliantly beaded.

So far, no woolen material has quite taken the place of kasha but tweed and jersey are frequently seen. Among the newest woolens are crepella and frisca.

The New Colors.

Grey in all shades has come back to the mode, but of all the shades that lovely silver grey is quite the smartest. We have been wearing all shades of beige as our neutral color for so long that this change to grey is most welcome. Of course, this does not mean that beige will suddenly be dropped, but it does mean that a distinct turn in fashion's favor toward grey has been felt.

All the colors are good. It's really a rainbow year. Some will choose the clear pastels though the "dusty" pastels are even newer. For the street quieter versions of those colors will be worn while the evening hours will choose even more vivid tones.

Printed georgette is a great favorite especially for afternoon.

The New Wraps.

The cape is having a definite influence on the mode. Many of the new coats have a cape back while the long cape is also worn.

However, these capes will not supplant the long coat as that is entirely too useful a style to be given up. The new coats are either straight or with a flare which comes from the shoulder. They are developed in twil; kasha, cashmere or novelty woolens for utilitarian wear, and in black satin or any of the ribbed silks for dress.

When these coats do not boast of cape back, they may have a scarf collar or a fur collar while, if you are one of the few women to whom it is becoming, you may choose a collarless one.

Suits Are In.

The suit which is straight of shirt, short of coat and tailored is in again. It is worn with an overblouse of some tub silk in white or a pastel shade, and its jaunty smartness is certain to recommend it to youth.

There is also a cape suit. Some of these are really sport suits, light colored silk frocks with a matching circular cape, coming about to the hips, while those intended for street wear may be either in silk or wool. The capes to the street suits are usually short and circular though a few longer ones are seen.

The Ensemble.

It is hard to say whether the ensemble suit is in or not. This is because all of our dresses and coats are planned so much with the ensemble in mind that it affects our whole wardrobe, rather than remaining a distinct fashion. In this sense, it is most certainly the greatest style trend of the times. Now, though, dresses and coats are planned to go harmoniously together rather than be a definite match as when the ensemble was first introduced.

MAN steps out in Gayer Garb this Spring

"Abandon" is the word that would best describe the fashions in men's suits for the past year or so, hence by noted contrast the word "precise" could be well used to emphasize the newer trend in the modelling of suits for Spring, 1926.

Where the keynote of the English styles that have dominated the fashion for the last two or three seasons was carelessness, looseness, drape rather than fit, the suits of this season show more of a tendency toward defining the figure—in fact, exaggerating the lines a bit by more accentuated shoulders and waist line.

The idea lends to the suits more of dapperness that has always been characteristic of the Canadian's dress.

More Graceful Lines.

The fronts are more "set," the lines are more graceful in contour and even the trousers show more shapeliness than "shiek" styles have that obscured the niceties for a while.

Patterns, too, are more characterful With the exception of a still persisting popularity of plain blues and quiet grey mixtures the most of what is shown is in very expressive plaids, blocks and fairly bold intermixtures.

Double-breasted suits that stood out so prominently during the fall and winter season are still good but as the season advances more of the sack suits in two and three-button single-breasted effect will be noted, and as the summer season comes along there will be almost a total eclipse of the double-breasted coat.

Lapels are still fairly wide and peaked—a trifle longer than heretofore and with more of a roll effect. Sport details are lacking with the exception of modest trimming effect about the sleeve cuffs. Pockets are for the most part plain and inset and belts, pleats, etc., are taboo except in very definite sport models for golf or other sport purposes and even these are of very moderate treatment.

Single-Breasted Topcoat.

One topcoat holds the center of the stage without serious competition. That is the single-breasted box effect either button-through or fly-front. Next to this model comes a more fitted effect. Both these models are fairly long, reaching to the knee and a trifle below in most models.

These coats are very dressy in their aspect, being close cousins to the Chesterfield idea and not far removed in relationship to the "Guard."

All manner of fabrics are employed from the fine and very dressy vicunas and unfinished worsteds to the gayer and more expressive tweeds and cheviots. Fewer double-breasteds are shown than appeared either last Spring or last Winter in overcoat models.

Vicunas and Worsteds.

Golf clothes are pretty much as before—or rather as last season when the real sport details retired from the picture. In fact, so many men have adopted the four-piece idea in golf clothes that they demand a certain dignified dressiness to the coat that is in keeping with office wear before departure for the links.

Golf trousers are still long and baggy and straight-hanging unless the English "shorts" really come into vogue in this country. These "shorts" at this writing are still a venture—they may, or may not, arrive. They are straight-hanging pants stopping just above the knee and they wear them abroad with the golf hose rolled to a cuff below the knee and the rest of the bare leg exposed in the manner of the Scotch kiltie.

Getting into mid-summer the styles will show but little variation aside from a few cautiously launched novelties such as blazer coats with flannel trousers in new bright and pastel shades. These are now being worn at English colleges. It is not thought, however, that these will cut a large figure with the masses.

Palm Beach and other tropical cloths will as heretofore be the mid-summer cloths in models very much the same as those prescribed for Spring.

CAPRICES OF 1926

As we now plan our costumes with an eye to the whole effect, the accessories gain an ever increasing importance for they must be so carefully chosen. Indeed, it is in the gloves, the purse, the handkerchief and the jewelry that a woman indicated her ability to dress with the most perfect taste.

Novelty Jewelry.

Novelty jewelry has attained a place that was scarcely dreamt of a few years ago. And this is particularly true of bracelets. With the evening frocks of today the arm is covered with bracelets of all types and sizes. The flexible bracelet of stones is seen in every width varying from a tiny strand to gorgeous affairs over an inch wide and the slave bracelet is still very good, either in the simple heavy gold or silver links or with stones set in every other link. Odd bracelets are very smart also. Russian antiques and old English jewelry have won high places in the mode. But whatever type of bracelet you choose, be sure to wear enough of them, for moderation, as a rule the keynote to smartness, is anathema in the bracelet world.

Victorian Jewelry Again.

A charming revival is the vogue of Victorian jewelry. It is really surprising how these quaint earring, chain and pendants, which we have always associated with the demure Victorian Miss, seem to fit in with the frocks of today.

The earring is with us once more. Long, decorative and very unusual earrings are the very newest. With the closely cut, sleek hair which is at the height of fashion these earrings save us from a too severe simplicity with their exotic charm.

Pearls are quite as popular as ever. They have been in so long now that it seems as though they had become a classic in the mode and while other fads may come and go, pearls go on forever.

Very Modernistic.

The scarfs for 1926 are the gayest of patterns. The designs are modernistic in nine cases out of ten and brilliant color contrasts make them a vivid adjunct to the softly colored frocks with which they are generally worn. For sports wear the favored scarf is very short. However, with other frocks the scarf is its usual length.

Shawls are having an added vogue also. Sometimes they are worn as a wrap, at others they are worn under the coat and used during the evening, frequently being left over the back of the chair while the fair owner is dancing. The embroidered shawls have rivals in plain shawls with a very deep fringe. Some of these shawls are made of metal embroidered net—a charming fashion for warm summer evenings.

Still the Slip-On.

The chamois or suede slip-on is by all odds the smartest glove. It is worn in the afternoon, it is worn with tweed coats—in fact, it is the glove of the season. It is worn in white or a yellowish nude with lighter frocks and comes in lovely tones of grey and beige for street costumes.

The envelope purse and the large pouch bag still lead the way to smartness. Many of the envelope bags are trimmed with appliques of many colored leather in striking modernistic designs.

The parasol is with us once more! When you see the gaily printed designs you will want one immediately.

Decorating for a Home Wedding

Granting that there is a wide diversity in brides, and that some of them will choose a church wedding and other a home wedding, one can be fairly sure of one thing. If you ask the grooms he will choose a home wedding. He is, usually thoroughly frightened anyway, and really would rather not add the unknown terrors of a church wedding and all its formality to his other difficulties.

"Let's have a little quiet home affair, sweetheart," he will undoubtedly say. And she will assent,—well, that is let's play she will, very graciously, nay even warmly, and forthwith she and her mother will begin plans for the very sweetest little original home wedding that ever was.

Wedding On The Porch.

If it is warm weather, she may choose to have her wedding on the porch, or better still on the loggia. A terrace with a gay awning overhead would furnish an equally pretty setting for an outdoor affair. Suppose she chooses coral and pale green for her colors—what a delightful effect may be produced. Two tints of coral and two of green for the bridesmaids, and her own bouquet of Aaron Ward roses,—there you have it.

After arranging for decorations of hanging swags of green, and as many coral tinted flowers as possible,—holly hocks will supply some and bowls of nasturtiums in the paler tints will do, (white and pale yellow flowers can be used, too, very pleasantly—she will want to consider her furniture.

Period Slip Covers.

It is a rare home that has enough chairs to take care of all one's wedding guests, and it is usually necessary to rent a few or maybe several extra ones. It would be a good idea to arrange slip covers for these in some other periods, and it may be cretonne flowered or awnings.

Then too, the camp chairs could be made to seem a part of the home furnishings, if new and matching slip covers were made for the home pieces, one expects to use. The porch settee and the porch swing will be useful at this time, and every fern stand one can resurrect or borrow.

Perhaps a bride may prefer to plan a Spanish wedding. So many homes have been furnished in Spanish styles the last few years that such a wedding would fit in very well. Iron furniture would lend itself gracefully to this occasion. The spot where the service takes place naturally becomes the central point of interest and with a marble topped console against a semi-circular tapestry on the wall, an interesting beginning is made. A handsome beveled mirror may hang against the tapestry, draped with flowers.

Fill Aquarium with Flowers.

Wrought iron fern stands will go with the other pieces pleasantly. Aquariums filled with flowers instead of fish, will add to the arrangement and as many iron chairs as can be brought together.

A Spanish wedding will furnish many ideas to one who likes to be original.

A great tapestry can hang back of the refectory table on which, with all its glittering china and glass, is set the wedding breakfast. For her gown and her veil, the bride can consult Velesquez's portraits, and find some unusual arrangement of the mantilla over a high comb, for her lovely bridal veil.

The Wedding of 1860.

An 1860 wedding with bridesmaids in pastel tints of gingham with hoop skirts would make another unusual home affair. Furniture of the 1860 period is much easier to find than all about the home, or at least no further than the attic.

Old fashioned garden flowers in gay mixed bunches would be appropriate, and of course each bridesmaid would carry a nosegay with a trim lace paper back.

And then, to start at the end and work back to the beginning it does seem as though a Colonial wedding should belong to the general plan, doesn't it? Colonial dresses have their own charm and picturesqueness.

Resurrecting Old Things.

Besides, while the bride was collecting furniture, old brass, and pewter old glass and samplers to complete her pretty picture-book wedding—she would quite naturally be able to use these old things in her new home. As for furniture, excellent replicas of old time may be bought everywhere, and they will fit in beautifully with the genuine antiques she may be able to find, or that she has had the good fortune to inherit.

WORDS OF WISE MEN.

The first and last thing required of genius is the love of truth.
—Goethe.

Ingratitude calls ofrth reproaches as gratitude brings renewed kindness.
—de Sevigne.

Wise men propose, and fools dispose.
—Anacharsis.

Enter the New- footwear

By Muriel Townley

Our footwear is becoming even more prominent in the part it assumes in the costume of the well dressed woman. There are two obvious reasons for this One, that with the extremely short skirts and nude hose, our shoes are much more prominent than ever before. The second reason is that we are considering our costumes as a whole nowadays and anything as important as our shoes must fit into the color scheme harmoniously. And this does not only mean in color but in general line and feeling.

For Daytime.

The newest thing for general daytime wear, particularly for street wear, is the high cut pump and sometimes a shoe that is cut so high over the instep that it is a closer relative to the oxford than the pump. At present, the high cut pump is seen on fully eighty per cent. of the well shod feet. But these higher cut shoes are distinctly a new trend and, as such, will bear watching.

The Combinations.

The most popular materials are kid, patent leather and antelope. But these materials are scarcely ever by themselves. They are usually found in combination with each other, or with lizard. For example, some very smart patent leather pumps are trimmed with a buckle of grey or beige lizard with a lizard heel matching the buckle. At other times a patent leather pump is trimmed with lizard which forms a buckle or some trimming on a buckle as well as a tiny scalloped band around the top of the shoe. Another favored combination for an all black shoe is kid trimmed with patent leather.

In the high cut shoe the upper part is sometimes of antelope while the lower part and the heel are of patent leather Black satin is also being used for day time shoes. Some black satin oxfords are seen, but they are a very feminized, high-heeled oxford—far removed from the simple brogue of seasons past. Grey, beige or black shoes are chosen according to the color note of the costume.

Certainly There Are Strap Slippers.

The strap slipper is far too popular to be dropped from the mode, so, of course, it is here in many clever new interpretations. The strap slippers is especially attractive with afternoon frocks but it is also worn interchangeably with the pump. Some of the newest of these have a sabot strap, that is, a strap which goes high across the instep and continues across each side of the shoe and joins the sole. The strap slipper is found in the same combinations of leather as the pump, but instead of having a contrasting buckle to match the heel, it is the strap which matches.

However, there is one thing that all of these shoes have in common, and that is the very high heel. The spike heel, sometimes between two and three inches high, is seen on all shoes except those for active sports.

With Sports Togs.

The low heeled oxford, peel oxford or two-strap slipper of white buckskin trimmed with brown, grey or black leather will be worn for actual sports. The linen slipper in pastel tones is very popular with the light frocks of summer, and much more practical than the pastel doeskin of last year. Parchment kid, a lovely creamy tone just off white, is new and lovely with light frocks—especially the printed chiffons with a light background. There are even a few slippers of Panama.

The Evening Mode.

The evening mode is very gorgeous and glittering with interwoven sandals of gold or silver kid jeweled heels and straps—to say nothing of some satin slippers exquisitely embroidered. These satin slippers are frequently chosen to harmonize with the frock rather than match it.

Nude hosiery is worn with all these shoes except the grey or black trimmed with grey when a matching shade of grey is chosen.

ADVENTURER

Captain Horace Wart, New Brunswick adventurer, who fought extensively in Russia during the war, and who is shortly leaving for further excitement in Ireland.

NON RUSTABLE D & A CORSETS

D & A Corsets and Corsettes give the lines which are called for by latest styles & make the most of any figure.

The illustration shows an elastic-panel model very slightly boned. It is justly popular, as while it confines the hips and assures slim lines, it is comfortable either standing or sitting.

There is a D & A for every figure. Ask your corsetiere.

DOMINION CORSET CO., Montreal QUEBEC Toronto
Makers of La Diva and Goddess Corsets.
3-2c

A Handsome Book—FREE!

"Wall Paper and How to Use It"

IF you will call or write, we will gladly give you this new book filled with decorative secrets and samples of the latest

NIAGARA BLUE RIBBON WALL PAPER

Gives entertaining history of each pattern, and shows you how you can make old rooms look like new. Spruce up! Use this handsome new book for ideas—It's FREE.

C. B. ROUTLEY
341 George Street
Peterborough.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of the yellow theatre ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Chicago where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he encounters Olga. She faints at hearing she is wanted for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Chicago and later is attacked by two men but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—he as one of his assailants, she as the man who got the stub. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks her engagement and writes Jimmy a letter, explaining, but the office boy forgets to mail it.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. While he and police are in the apartment a mysterious phone call comes for him, threatening his life.

The papers are full of Olga's mysterious disappearance. Police Lieutenant O'Day then tells Jimmy he found a picture of Henry Rand, taken when a boy, in Olga's apartment. The thought that Olga may have been implicated in the murder, after all, rises to torture him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLV.

The next morning there was a night letter for Jimmy from Detective Mooney. He was still in New York, it said, and he had found Marie Rellane.

She was living in an apartment in New York, alone, still unmarried, and wealthy.

But the amazing part, to Jimmy, was this:

"Twenty years ago she ran into Thaddeus Rand, down in Mexico City. He was living there. Had changed his name to Thomas Rolfe. He came one night to hear her sing and recognized her. Asked her if she knew whereabouts of Henry Rand.

"She did, but she hated old Thaddeus and didn't tell him. She had never seen Henry Rand since she gave him the ring. That was years ago when she was making an appreaance in Grafton. She never wrote to him again, not even to tell him about seeing Thaddeus.

"She hadn't read about your father's murder and was broken up when I told her. I think with her it was one of those romances that never die. I'm writing you in full and we're looking up Thaddeus Rand in Mexico City."

"Well, can you beat that?" cried Barry. He looked at Jimmy in blank amazement.

"O'Day told me," said Jimmy, "that Thaddeus Rand had said something about not being worthy of the name of Rand any more. It's not surprising to learn that he changed his name."

"He kept the same initials. Isn't it queer how people do that when they change their names?"

"Not so queer, when you realize how often they have clothing and jewelry and different things marked with their initials."

Jimmy shoved his hands in his pockets and strode over to the window, to gaze thoughtfully at the street below. "I wonder if old Thaddeus Rand is still alive. Lord, Barry, this thing might be cleared up before we know it if we continue to make this progress. I tell you that fellow Mooney is a wonder. Imagine finding Marie Real, or rather Marie Rellane, as she's called now, so soon!"

"All I hope is that we're not following a blind trail to be running down Marie Rellane and Thaddeus Rand."

"Something tells me we're not, Barry. Something tells me the trail is going to lead direct from Mexico City to Chicago. When we find out what's happened in the years that Thaddeus Rand has been in Mexico, we're going to be at the root of all this mystery."

* * *

"What gets me," Jimmy said later that day as they were eating lunch, "is why Marie Rellane should refuse to tell Thaddeus Rand about my father."

"I think I can understand it," Barry said. "If she really loved Henry Rand as much as Mooney seems to think she did, she certainly wouldn't have much use for the man who broke up the affair—even if at the time it was nothing but a school kid romance."

"But if she thought so much of my father, why shouldn't she think of his happiness? Wouldn't she realize that he would like to know where his own father was?"

"Not necessarily. Like most of the other people in their little town, she probably figured that Thaddeus Rand had killed any affection Henry might have had for him. She's of the type herself, you know, that harbors a grudge for a long, long time. All she could see was old Thaddeus eating his heart out—if he could possibly relent that much—for his son. And why should she, with so much to hate him for, try to make him happy?"

"Oh well, it takes all sorts to make a world, I suppose. But if she had only told my father, things might have turned out so differently. All this"—with a vague wave of his hand—"needn't have happened."

He sighed. "If Thaddeus Rand—my grandfather—is dead, he must have died very unhappy."

Barry stood up and signaled for the waiter. "I've got another confab on this afternoon. About that damage suit. I suppose I'll have another interview with your friend, Sam Church."

He grinned. "Shall I give him your regards?"

"Yes," Jimmy said grimly. "With a piece of lead pipe."

"By the way, Jim," and Barry tried to appear casual, "have you heard anything lately from Mary Lowell?"

"Why no." Jimmy looked at him keenly. "What makes you ask?"

"Oh, nothing in particular," Barry shifted the subject. "I wish you'd take me up on my proposition of staking you to a little money until you get on your feet again."

"Nothing doing, Barry."

"Well, let me be your financial manager, then."

Jimmy laughed. "I'll agree to permit you to keep me from starving, old socks. When I'm up against it hard, I'll call on you."

* * *

Knowing that Lieutenant O'Day's rising hour was somewhere about noon, Jimmy hastened to call him by telephone and apprise him of the latest news from Mooney.

"Fine!" said O'Day. "He's a smart lad, that Mooney. Tell him if he ever needs a job there's a place waiting for him in the detective bureau here."

With Barry, O'Day agreed that it was not so strange—Marie Rellane's refusal to disclose to Thaddeus Rand the whereabouts of his son.

"If you ask me, Rand, I think the old boy had it coming to him. Punishment, you know. . . . And I think we're coming along fine now. Somethin' tells me we're going to get at the bottom of this before very long."

. . . O'Day had no idea when he said it just how wonderful a prophet he was.

* * *

"I know I'm going to win my case, Jim," Barry said when, fresh from his conference, he met Jimmy Rand again. "I think they see I've got them licked. This fellow Church made me another proposition today and it was just twice as good as the first one he gave me."

"You're getting pretty cocky, young man, aren't you? Know what they say about this man Church He doesn't know when he's licked."

"I'm not afraid of him. Matter of fact, he seemed to be a good deal worried."

"Did you see Mary Lowell, Barry?"

Barry paused to light a cigaret. From behind his cupped hands he watched Jimmy narrowly as he spoke from lips that were clamped tight on the cigaret end. "Yes, I saw her, she asked about you."

"Asked about me? No, Barry—oh, don't kid me about it."

"I'm not kidding. I say she asked about you—and she seemed greatly interested, too—a good deal more than you deserve. You're just a stubborn blockhead."

"Wait a minute." Jimmy grabbed the other's arm and stopped him short. "Stay right where you are. Now what the devil are you driving at?"

"Oh, I'll put you out of your misery. She doesn't love Sam Church. No more than you do."

"And yet." Jimmy said bitterly, "she's going to marry him."

"Wrong again, youngster. She's not going to marry him. She broke off with him some time ago."

"Barry, if you're lying I'll—"

"Yes, I know you would, Cocky. But I'm not lying. I'll swear it on a stack of Bibles as high as the Woolworth building.

"Listen." He laid a hand on Jimmy's shoulder. "Do you remember my saying to you some time ago to mark down the date in your notebook? You remember? I told you some day you'd appreciate me for the great benefactor to mankind that I was?"

"Yes, I remember. What's it got to do with what you're telling me?"

"Just this. I told Mary Lowell your story. I explained to her who Olga Maynard was. Now wait a minute, let me finish. I realized I was butting in and all that sort of thing, but you're such a darn fool, Jim."

"And what did she say?" He waited, breathless, for Barry's reply.

"She was really glad to know it, no doubt about it. You know, she had the notion, Jim, that you were in love with Olga Maynard."

"But Church—you said—"

"I just learned today that she had broken off with Church, and it was before I told her about you, too, Jim, she's crazy about you. But you're such a pig-headed fool. She wondered why she hadn't heard from you."

"Why she hasn't heard from me! Why, I didn't know all this about her and Church."

"She said she wrote to you and you never answered."

Barry seized Jimmy's sleeve. "Come, let's move along. We'll get pinched for blocking the sidewalk."

Jimmy said: "She never wrote to me, Barry. I'll swear it. God! if I'd only known—"

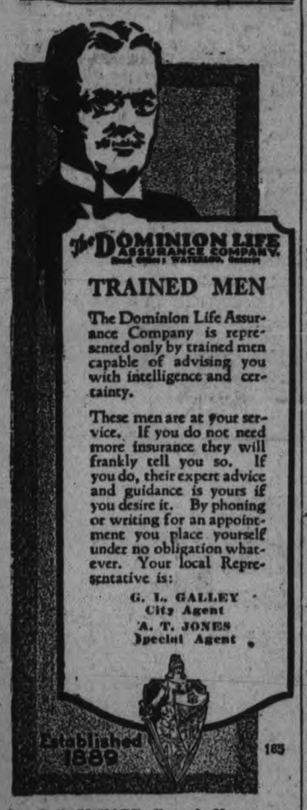
They walked along briskly. Days later, when Jimmy had time to reflect, he wondered that Mary Lowell should have appeared just as they were talking about her.

It was Barry who first attracted his attention to her. "Speaking of angels," he sighed, "here she is now."

And then Jimmy saw her. The light of recognition was in her eyes. Words formed on her lips. And just as he was about to lift his hat and greet her he spied a familiar figure about to board a street car.

He wheeled suddenly and ran like a mad man, leaving a surprise-stricken Mary Lowell and an equally flabbergasted Barry Colvin.

(To be continued.)



The DOMINION LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

TRAINED MEN

The Dominion Life Assurance Company is represented only by trained men capable of advising you with intelligence and certainty.

These men are at your service. If you do not need more insurance they will frankly tell you so. If you do, their expert advice and guidance is yours if you desire it. By phoning or writing for an appointment you place yourself under no obligation whatever. Your local Representative is:

G. L. GALLEY
City Agent
A. T. JONES
Special Agent

Established 1889 185

I. P. McNABB, Branch Manager
172 Hunter St. - Phone 72

Our Business

is mostly with particular clients. Those wanting the best, and knowing our reputation for high-grade work, place their orders here with confidence. If you want a thoroughly well made Monument, correct in every detail, we would be pleased to hear from you.

ALLAN BROS.

Lindsay Monumental Works,
11 Cambridge St. N., Lindsay.
Next Fire Hall. - 'Phone

QUICK RELIEF FROM ALL KIDNEY TROUBLE

Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Excellent for Backache, Lumbago, Gravel, Bladder Trouble, Sciatica and Rheumatic Ailments

P. E. I. man used them for pains across the back and found relief.

Tignish, P. E. I., March 19. — (Special).—Just why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular all over the Dominion is shown by the statement of Mr. J. F. Perry, a well-known resident here.

"For a couple of years I was troubled with a pain across the back. When I stooped down I had a hard time straightening myself up again. After taking a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I feel a whole lot better."

That Mr. Perry's trouble came from his kidneys is evidenced by the relief he got from Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They heal and strengthen the kidneys and put them in shape to strain all the impurities from the blood in a natural manner.

Dodd's Kidney Pills relieve kidney trouble, no matter where or in what form it is found.

POVERTY DANCE.

Keene L.O.B.A. Entertainment Was Very Successful Affair.

KEENE, March 20.—Mrs. Ferguson is spending a few weeks with friends at Toronto.

Mrs. C. Ellis of Toronto is visiting her daughter, Mrs. David Kempt.

Born.—On Saturday, March 13th, to Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Mather, a daughter.

The L. O. B. A. ladies gave a poverty dance last Friday night. Robt. Cleghorn of Peterboro acted as floor manager, which made it very enjoyable, and everybody reports a good time.

Mrs. Harry McLachlan, Worthy Mistress of L.O.B.A. No. 480, and Mrs. Joseph Thornton, Deputy-Mistress, are attending Grand Lodge at Belleville.

Mrs. James Churchill and daughter, June, of North Bay, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Churchill's father, Wm. Kemnt.

The baseball club gave a dance on St. Patrick's night, which proved a great success.

The W.M.S. ladies of the United Methodist and Presbyterian Churches met last Tuesday afternoon and elected their officers.

The best meal of the day!
The one that's served with
H.P. SAUCE

BOB THEIR OWN.

LONDON, March 20.— London hairdressers again are disconsolate. Just when business was getting good, with the bobbed hair fad and all, the girls tarted learning how to bob their own. Many of them trim their own hair now without recourse to the barber shops.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Peterboro—Toronto—Montreal
Winnipeg

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, March 19. — The weakness in export cattle this week was carried into the butchers where prices were easier by 10 to 30 cents a cwt. Shippers decided on cleaning up on Wednesday and a small run of good to choice butchers on Thursday had a much better market. A few middle-weight choice steers made $8 a cwt., but coarse steers not fat sold at $6.65 a cwt. Some good medium handyweights sold during the week at $6.50 a cwt., and common killers with a little fat sold as low as $5 a cwt. Cattle receipts this week were over 7,800 head.

Babye beeves were in good supply and the bulk were not much about $8 a cwt., although a couple of exceptionally good brought $10 and $10.50 a cwt. A load of these breedy Angus from Alberta sold on Thursday at $7.75 a cwt, but a number of them would have made excellent feeders. Butchers' cows retain their preferred position and were steady all week. A limited number of stockers and feeders sold this week at unchanged prices. For next week no heavy export steers are required. One boat for Manchester will be supplied with heifers and light finished steers.

The calf supply is gradually increasing and prices are lower by around a dollar a cwt. from two weeks ago. Buffalo only took one deck this week. Choice calves are selling at 13; good calves 11 to 12 cents, and mediums 9 to 10 cents a pound.

Very few yearling lambs are coming in and the best are selling at 14 cents a pound. Choice sheep are 8 cents a pound. Spring lambs are trickling in more freely, and choice lambs are selling at $15 each and medium lambs at $12 to 13 each.

Packers managed to get 25 cents a cwt. off hogs this week, and the quotation stands at $12.50 a cwt f.o.b. Packers say their goal is $12 a cwt. market, and will try for supplies at $12.25 a cwt. on Monday.

Current Quotations.

Choice heavy steers	$8.00	$8.25
Fair to good steers	7.25	7.75
Baby beeves	8.00	9.50
Choice handyweight butchers' cattle	7.35	7.50
Good handyweight butchers	6.75	7.00
Med. handy butchers	6.25	6.50
Com. handy butchers	5.50	6.00
Good to choice 950 to 1,000-lb. feeders	6.25	6.75
Fair to good light feeders	5.00	5.50
Choice butchers' cows	5.75	6.50
Fair to good cows	4.50	5.50
Common butchers' cows	3.50	4.25
Canners	2.25	3.25
Export bulls	5.00	5.75
Bologna bulls	3.75	4.50
Springers, choice	70.00	100.00
Springers, common	40.00	50.00
Lambs, choice	14.00
Heavy sheep and bucks	5.00	6.00
Sheep, choice	8.00	9.00
Calves, good	12.50	13.50
Do., medium	9.00	10.50
Do., common	7.00	8.50
Do., grassers	5.00	5.50
Hogs, f.o.b.	12.50	....
do. fed and watered	13.10	....
do. off cars	13.50	....

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 19 (Canadian Press).—With corn sliding down today to a new low price record for the season and with wheat shipments from Nebraska to Chicago threatening to break up any shortage of wheat here for delivery on Many contracts, the wheat market today underwent a collapse of nearly 7 cents a bushel. Wheat and corn both finished wild, wheat 4 1-2 to 6 3-4c net lower, May (new) $1.59 5-8 to $1.59 7-8, and July $1.38 7-8 to $1.39 1-8; corn 2 3-4 to 3 3-8c down; oats 1 to 1 1-4c off and provisions varying from unchanged to a setback of 22 cents.

Sudden virtual stoppage of export business had considerable effect as a contributory depressing influence in the wheat market. In contrast with European buying of North American wheat yesterday estimated at 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 bushels, the only purchase for transatlantic shipment confirmed today was 100,000 bushels of durum. Weakness of Liverpool quotations today tended further to make holders here nervous.

WINNIPEG LIVESTOCK

WINNIPEG, March 19 (Canadian Press).—Receipts, 610 cattle and calves, 62 hogs and 19 sheep.

The cattle market lacked activity this morning, but the few sales of stockers and feeders recorded were made at firm prices.

The hog market was unchanged at $12.60 for thick smooths, while the sheep and lamb market was inactive.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, March 19 (Canadian Press).—Sharp declines featured today's session of the local wheat market. Conditions were absolutely the reverse of Thursday, when advances of 4 cents were recorded, and today the close losses ranged from 4c to 5c. The October future, which closed yesterday at $1.34 3-4, was the heaviest loser dropping 5c to $1.29 3-4.

EGG PRICES

OTTAWA, March 19 (Canadian Press).—Eastern egg markets are low today. Western receipts continue heavy.

Toronto—Market is easier. Fifteen cars American eggs have arrived here this week. Wholesale fresh extras 38-39, firsts 35, seconds 30.

Montreal—Market is lower with jobbing extras 36, firsts 31, seconds 27. Prices to grocers are extras 39, firsts 35, second 30.

Winnipeg—Wholesale fresh extras 38, firsts 35, seconds 25.

STERLING RATES

MONTREAL, March 19.—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here today as follows:

Sterling demand $4.87 3-8.
Sterling cables $4.87 7-8.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND

MONTREAL, March 19 (Canadian Press).—The trade in cash grain in the domestic market was quiet, there being little demand from any source for supplies. In Canadian Western oats the feeling was weaker in sympathy with the decline in futures in Winnipeg and dealers reduced prices 1c per bushel. No. 2 C.W. being quoted at 63, No. 3 C.W. at 58 extra No. 1 feed at 58, No. 1 feed at 58, No. 2 feed at 56 and No. 3 feed at 53, while Ontario and Quebec grades were unchanged.

There was no actual change in prices for spring wheat grades of flour, but the undertone to the market was easier owing to the weakness that developed in Winnipeg for cash wheat, and the fact that prices decline 3 1-2 to 4c per bushel for contract grades. There continues to be a steady demand from foreign importers for supplies and some business was accomplished but the volume was not large and the market was quiet. The movement for domestic account was again somewhat limited, the demand being confined chiefly to small lots in mixed car orders, at unchanged prices.

The condition of the cheese market remains unchanged. Receipts today were 49 boxes.

WARKWORTH NEWS

WARKWORTH, March 22.—Mrs. Samuel Oliver has sold her home to Mr. John Isaac.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buchanan were in Peterboro on Wednesday.

Misses Hilda Garbutt and Verna Thompson are spending a few days with relatives in Toronto.

Mrs. W. J. Harper has returned after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Wolfraim, Castleton. Her little grandaughter Laura accompanied her.

A social evening was held in St. Andrew's church on March seventeenth. The program consisted of solos by Theodore Maycock, Mrs. William Grant and Mr. Joseph Topping, a reading by Mrs. James Coyle and a debate, "Resolved that the Irish are a more clever race than the Scotch." The affirmative was taken by Harry Aylesworth and James F. Freure and the negative was taken by Mrs. Clayton E. Meiklejohn and Miss E. Dorothy Wilson.

Misses Annie Haight and Marjorie Kidd, Mrs. Carman Carlaw and J. Bamber, who acted as judges, gave their decision in favor of the negative.

BLAIRTON NEWS

BLAIRTON, March 20.—Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Gauhle gathered at their home Tuesday evening and presented them with a handsome leather rocker, prior to their departure for their new home near Prenereau.

Mr. Buchanan of North Havelock spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cole.

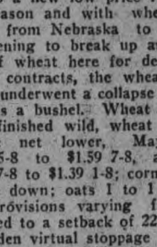
Friends of Miss Doris Robson will be pleased to learn she is able to be around again after her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec McLaughlin and daughter, Ila, have returned from Campbellford after attending the funeral of Mrs. McLaughlin's uncle, Mr. Howard Forrest.

Mr. William King is busy getting out his supply of ice.

Mr. Thomas McQuigge has returned to Havelock after spending the witner at Smiths Falls.

FOR TEACHERS AND STUDENTS



"We're all saving for one of those seven splendid Cunard Anchor-Donaldson Tourist Third Cabin Vacations."

Plymouth, Cherbourg, London, June 26, July 10, Aug. 20—Liverpool, July 2 and 30—Belfast and Glasgow, June 25, July 9.

Cunard ANCHOR-DONALDSON LINE to Glasgow

Particulars from
The ROBERT REFORD CO., Ltd. TORONTO (Phone Elgin 3471)
or any STEAMSHIP AGENT

REEVE OF DUMMER PRESENTS CASE IN FAVOR OF TOWNSHIP

Morally, Physically and Mentally Equal to City Residents.

HONEST POVERTY.

Criminal Cases Occurring in Township Perpetrated By Peterborough People.

The following is addressed to The Editor of the Examiner:

For some time past your paper has been overflowing with articles, newspaper reports and letters, which—no matter how good might have been the intention of the writer—certainly have had a detrimental effect on the reputation of the Township of Dummer and its inhabitants, and has resulted in making Dummer a byword throughout all Canada.

I ask for space in your columns to set forth a few facts relating to the Township—facts which should be known at this time.

The Township has an area of over 90 square miles and about one-third very sparsely settled. This one-third consists of an irregular wedge of non-agricultural land, commencing at the extreme East and extending across the centre of the Township.

The population is only about 1500, but, taking the population as a whole, it can safely be asserted that the citizens of Dummer compare favourably physically, mentally and morally with the residents of any other community in the County of Peterborough—even favourably in comparison with the citizens of Peterborough with its large force of policeman to keep them in order.

The Township has eight schools, taught by certificated teachers, the schools having an average of 29.25 pupils. There are also five Union Schools bordering the Township, which are attended by Dummer children. Nine churches and nearly as many Sabbath schools are found in the Township.

The Township, as a community, contributed last year nearly $1000.00 towards the support of the County House of Refuge for old people and for general charity, not to mention the works of private charity and charity disbursed by churches and benevolernt organizations.

The moral condition of the Township is evidenced by the fact that the Medical Officer of Health states that after nineteen years of practice he has found in the Township of Dummer not one case of syphilis.

In agriculture the large number of silos and up to date barns and buildings speak for the industry and intelligence of the Dummer people. In this connection it might be pointed out that the first creamery and first cheese factory in East Peterborough were established in this Township.

In the Great War the citizens of Dummer shirked no responsibility, and nearly one hundred and fifty soldier lads from this Township were part of Dummers' contribution to the common cause. Thirty-two deaths tell of Dummer's sacrifice and the beautiful monument erected in 1921, at a cost of $4,000.00, shows that the Dummer people have not lost the memory of their glorious dead. Examiner readers will admit that in this respect Dummer has shown the way to the City of Peterborough, and when the 25,000 inhabitants of Peterborough have done proportionately what the 1500 farmers and back woodsmen of Dummer have done, then, and then only, will be found a monument erected in Peterborough at a cost of over $60,000.00 to the fallen soldiers of the City.

It is not denied that in some parts of the more sparsely settled portion there is a degree of honest poverty, but even these people in Dummer are for the most part sturdy and independent in character and refrain from seeking charity, but on the other hand seek by hard work and honest toil to earn their livelihood.

A large number of criminal cases that have occurred in the County of Peterborough have been credited to Dummer. I will mention a few. The Fillion-Edwards case is brought up, but it is not mention that Fillion was not a Dummer product and that Mrs. Edwards came from the City of Peterborough. The Dwyer case is featured in the press, but that the City of Peterborough was Dwyer's home for many years is not mentioned, and the truth is not brought out, namely that Dwyer has been a resident of Dummer Township for a very limited period. The Hill cases are mentioned, as if the crime of one or more members of this family was attributable to Dummer Township, when, as a matter of fact, it was the work of Dummer people which largely lead to their conviction and punishment. The Newell case is charged against Dummer, when the facts are that Newell was a resident of another Township and his crime was committed elsewhere. The disappearance of old Mr. Hughes is charged against the Township, but no credit is given to the citizens for the unselfishness that sent large voluntary searching parties for days at a time through the woods in an attempt to find him. The Sharpe murder case of over twenty-five years ago is recalled, and it is not pointed out that the crime for which he was tried took place in another Township.

The Township of Dummer was settled largely by English and Scotch settlers who hewed a home out of the unbroken woods for themselves and their children, and today their descendants feel that they can, with honour, hold up their heads as worthy descendants of those who have gone before.

Yours truly,
JAS. HAWTHORNE,
Reeve Township of Dummer.
March 19, 1926.

An Income A Widow Couldn't Lose

"A WIDOW'S investment," say financial men when they refer to something beyond the possibility of chance. You can readily make such an investment for your dependents. The Mutual Life's monthly income insurance policy is a leader in this class. By it the beneficiary receives a stipulated amount regularly every month. Such an income for your dependents can be planned now. Any agent of the Mutual Life of Canada will go into the details so that you can decide what the amount of this monthly income is to be.

The MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA Waterloo Ontario

George Gibbons, District Manager Peterboro, Ont.
A. C. Gray, District Representative
201 Barrie Bldg. - George Street 007

NOTICE

TO FARMERS, BREEDERS, STOCKFEEDERS, AND OTHERS WHO MAY BE INTERESTED.

We have at last succeeded in arriving at an arrangement with the Assignee and creditors of the Peterborough Cereal Co. Limited, by which we own the milling plant which had been operating so successfully for years at the foot of Simcoe St., Peterborough.

Since taking it over a few days ago we have put the Feed Department, again, into A1 shape, and are now prepared to do custom grinding. We have different machines so that we can grind grain, coarse, medium or fine. We will be pleased to meet our old customers at the old mill, and at the old office.

PETERBOROUGH CEREAL Limited

We expect to start the Flour mill in about a week or ten days.

RAILWAY TIME-TABLES

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS
Canadian National Railway Time Table corrected to date. All trains daily except Sunday.

No. 96—8.10 a.m. for Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, Quebec and Portland, Me.
No. 93—8.20 a.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, North Bay, Midland and Toronto.
No. 371—8.30 a.m. for Lakefield.
No. 98—8.35 a.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville and points on main line east.
No. 92—12 noon for Port Hope, Ottawa, Toronto, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, makes connections with "International Limited" for London, Detroit, Chicago and California points also with the "National" for Winnipeg and Vancouver.
No. 100—12.15 p.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling and Belleville.
No. 372—12.20 p.m. for Lakefield.
No. 95—5.25 p.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, North Bay and Toronto, also makes connections for Detroit and Florida points.
No. 99—8.19 p.m. for Lindsay.
No. 94—8.10 p.m. for Port Hope, Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, Boston, Portland, Me.; carries through sleeper for Montreal.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.
(Corrected to date.)

GOING EAST—
11.57 a.m.—Norwood, Havelock, Bonarlaw, Tweed, Perth, Smith's Falls, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and intermediate points daily. On Sunday this train proceeds east only as far as Havelock.
8.20 p.m.—Indian River Norwood, and Havelock. Daily except Sunday.
11.55 p.m.—Havelock Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Montreal, St. John, Boston and New York. Daily except Saturday.
1.50 a. m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Ottawa.
GOING WEST—
4.55 a.m.—Myrtle, Toronto, Guelph Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago and New York Daily.
6.00 a.m.—Toronto (Yonge street), Owen Sound, Teeswater and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
7.35 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, New York Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily except Sunday.
8.15 a.m.—Bethany, Lindsay, Orillia, Port McNichol and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
3.35 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily.
6.50 p.m.—Lindsay, Toronto and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

VETERINARY

DR. W. P. McELROY, Vet. Sur., office and residence, 190 Charlotte St., Charlbond Bldg., Peterboro. Phone 1623J.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS

GORDON & O'BRIEN—Barristers Solicitors, Notaries. Money to loan on easy terms. Special attention to Patents and Trade Marks. Phone 219. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., J. A. O'Brien.

J. R. CORKERY, BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Notary Public. Office Ground Floor, 414 Water St., Peterborough. Five Doors North of Hunter Street. Money to loan at current rates on easy terms.

S. T. MEDD—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary. Office over the Dominion Bank, corner of George and Simcoe streets. Telephone No. 22. Private funds to loan at current rates upon easy terms.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office, over the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C., W. Johnson.

R. R. HALL—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Peterboro, Ont. Office, corner of Hunter and Water streets, over the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Trust Funds to loan on easy terms of payment.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public Peterboro. 'Phone 191. Money to loan. 375 Water street.

WILFRID F. HUYCKE, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public. 295 Water street. Telephone 239.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries (Office, Water street, Peterboro. Money to loan at the lowest current rates of interest. Telephone 1955. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry.

MEDICAL

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edinburgh M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist Hours 9-11 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m 'Phone 519. Office, corner Water and Murray streets.

DR. C. C. CRAGG—Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Office 295 Charlotte street, formerly occupied by Dr. Neal. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8.30 p.m. Telephone: House 1018. Office 2185.

F. T. WEBSTER, Ontario Land Surveyor, Registered Professional Engineer, formerly with Lewis and MacRostie of Ottawa. Phone 2540.

We never knew the true value of friends. While they live, we are too sensitive of their faults; when we have lost them, we only see their virtues.—Hare.

Only Fresh Tea is Good Tea

"SALADA" TEA T3

sells so rapidly it is always fresh.

CAMPBELLFORD CLOTH COMPANY COMPLAINS THAT COUNCIL SHOWS LACK OF SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION

Hints That Unless Councillors Change Attitude Plant May Be Closed.

EMPLOY 193.

Council Will Insist That the Company Supply Exact Information.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 20—At a special meeting of the Town Council last night the communication which Mayor Kingston received from the officials of the Campbellford Cloth company and of which a summary was given in The Examiner of Thursday, was read by Clerk McGregor. The clerk had written the company, on instructions from the Council, asking for a statutory statement to show the number of employees on the payroll last year. The bylaw which grants the company a fixed assessment of $50,000, stipulates that the company shall give employment to an average of 220 hands for at least 11 months of the year and that a statement, as to whether this agreement is being carried out be filed with the town annually before the first of March.

Instead of replying to Clerk McGregor the company wrote directly to Mayor Kingston, stating that there were 196 names on their Campbellford payroll last year. This figures out at 213 for the 11 months mentioned in the by-law. At considerable length, the company asserts that ever since it took over the local plant three years ago the Council has shown a lack of the spirit of co-operation which savored at times of hindrance and hinted that unless there was a change in the attitude of the councillors the company might be constrained to close the Campbellford branch of its business entirely." It added that since coming here it had spent over $100,000 in improving the Campbellford plant and in installing new machinery. The local branch, the company asserts, has been operated at a loss when work done here could have been more economically handled in their Toronto plant.

The company gave this communication the widest possible publicity as a copy of it was posted up in the plant for the information of its employees.

Superintendent J. H. Bell attended the meeting last night but stated that he was not an authorized representative of the company but came for the sole purpose of listening to the proceedings.

On motion of Deputy-Reeve Palliser and Councilor O'Sullivan it was decided to insist that the company answer the letter sent by Clerk McGregor and supply the information that was asked for in that communication. It is possible that a conference will be arranged between the Council and a representative of the company.

That B.O.T.A. Case

The matter arising out of a recent B.O.T.A. case in which a father asked for the return of the amount of the fine which he paid on behalf of his son, was dropped as a reference to the statute showed that the council had no jurisdiction in such a matter. Councilor Cole moved that the father be given a grant of $50 but this motion was not seconded.

Clerk McGregor was instructed to ascertain the cost of four steel girders for the proposed bridge at Simpson street. A number of other matters that came up will be disposed of at the next regular meeting wihch will be held on April 5th.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

SAILINGS

From St. John, N.B.
To Liverpool-Glasgow
Apr. 2 ..... Montrose
Apr. 16 ..... Montclare

To Liverpool
Mar. 26 ..... Montnairn
Apr. 9 ..... Montcalm
Apr. 23 ..... Metagama

To Cherbourg-Southampton-Antwerp
Apr. 1 ..... Minnedosa
Apr. 15 ..... Melita

From Montreal
To Liverpool
Apr. 20 May 26 ..... Montrose
May 7 June 4 ..... Montcalm
May 14 June 11 ..... Montclare

To Belfast-Glasgow
May 20 June 17 ..... Metagama

To Cherbourg-Southampton-Antwerp
May 5 June 2 ..... Minnedosa

From Quebec
To Liverpool
May 21 June 18 ..... Montroyal

To Belfast-Glasgow
Apr. 29 June 3 ..... Montnairn

To Cherbourg-Southampton-Hamburg
May 12 June 9 ..... Empress of France
May 26 June 23 ..... Empress of Scotland

Ask About Our Tourist Third Cabin and European Tours

Apply Local Agents

J. H. PARKER
Gen. Agent, Ocean Traffic, C.P.R. Bldg., Toronto

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
RHEUMATISM
BRIGHT'S DISEASE
BACKACHE
DIABETES
"4087" THE PROPRIETORS

MORNING - NOON & NIGHT

Natures Remedy Actually Improved

Our Milk is Nature's own product at its best —pure, clean, rich, and made safe and healthful by pasteurizing.

Early delivery at your homes daily. A telephone call will do.

PETERBORO MILK PRODUCTS LTD
Phone 1900. PETERBORO ONT.

WIDOW OF PETERBORO PIONEER RECALLS HAPPENINGS OF NEARLY A CENTURY OF MOST USEFUL LIFE

Mrs. James Reid Was Born in Dundalk, Ireland, in 1830—Was Daughter of Major Frood of the Imperial Guards.

CAME TO CANADA IN 1849.

Married James Reid and Lived in Douro for Nearly Thirty Years—During War Knitted Hundreds of Pairs of Socks for Soldiers.

A richly varied and most interesting life has been that of Mrs. Frances Reid, widow of the late James Reid, one of the Peterborough pioneers.

Born in Dundalk, Ireland, in 1830, she was the daughter of Major James Frood of the Imperial Guards in the reign of George III; Major Frood's father, who was court librarian to George III., was a cousin of James Anthony Froude, the celebrated historian; but on account of a political quarrel, decided to change his name, and thereafter spelled it Frood.

Major Frood's first wife was a French lady, Madamoiselle Lacoste, who was maid of honor to Queen Charlotte. Mrs. Reid still possesses a piece of brocade from one of the dresses this lady wore at court. Another most interesting possession is a piece of china—a large platter of what was known as the "Dahlia and Peacock" pattern, which has been in the family three hundred and fifty years. Major Frood was sent to County Louth, Ireland, as Adjutant of Militia. After the death of his first wife, he married Sarah, youngest daughter of Sir William and Lady Stewart, who was Mrs. Reid's mother. A son of Sir William Stewart, Thomas Alexandra Stewart, came to Canada very early in 1822, settled in Peterborough County, and became the founder of Auburn.

Mrs. Reid's father was appointed land agent to Lord Roden, and the families were very friendly so that on one occasion, Major Frood's house being under repair, he was invited to send his whole family to Lord Roden's residence, where they went with their governess and maids. The house was large and old, and the children delighted in playing hide and seek over it; and one day discovered the housekeeper in a room they had never seen before. Out of this room opened another, the door being flush with the wall and no handle or anything to indicate an entrance. They coaxed the housekeeper to open it for them, and found a small, dark room only large enough to contain a bed, and in this bed William of Orange had slept the night before the Battle of the Boyne.

Mrs. Reid's elder sister tore off a small piece of the bed curtain, and kept it, a treasured possession, till the day of her death.

At about eight years of age, Mrs. Reid's father died, and the family were scattered, some of them going to Howth where Mrs. Reid's most vivid recollection is of a terrific storm from the sea, when she was tied on a man's back and the man crawled on hands and knees to a place of safety; and that the next day the garden was covered thick with sea foam as if with snow.

The next move was to Drynam, a very old house, said to have been built in the time of Queen Elizabeth. It was in a good state of preservation, and between two rooms there was a wall nine feet thick. Here the tradition was, there had been a secret room, and there was a ghastly tale of two priests who had taken refuge there at one time, and had been walled up. She also remembers with affection, an old ruined church, at a place called Oughterard, where she was fond of going to sit and read, and from whose tower seven counties could be seen.

In 1849 Mrs. Reid and her sister afterwards the wife of Templeton Brown, came to Peterborough to their uncle, Thomas Alex. Stewart. Two years afterward, she married her cousin, James Reid, and lived on a farm in Douro for nearly thirty years. She was the mother of seven children, three of whom survive.

Mrs. Reid is 96. Her sight is nearly gone and her hearing dulled by the passage of so many years. But her mind retains its keenness, her manner is kind and gracious, and there still remain remarkable evidences of the great beauty that was hers in younger years. She has hosts of devoted friends, and enjoys the respect and affection of all who know her.

During the years of the Great War 1914-18) Mrs. Reid knit hundreds of pairs of socks for the soldiers on active service, and since the armistice she continued to knit for the Labrador Mission until just recently. She supplied the material for every pair of socks she knit.

SPRING! SPRING! BEAUTIFUL SPRING TO-MORROW IS OFFICIAL OPENING

March 21 Is Date of Vernal Equinox—Day and Night Equal.

NOT SPRINGLIKE.

Date Calendar Sets Comes Sometimes With Very Wintry Weather.

(By Frank Russell)

Tomorrow—Sunday, the twenty-first day of March in this year of grace will—or rather should, be the first day of spring. In other words it will be the commencement of the vernal equinox when the length of days and nights is for a short time equal, the days gradually extending in duration, and the nights decreasing in length until the summer solstice, on June 21, when the days begin to decline until Dec. 21, which is commonly known as "the shortest day." The autumnal equinox occurs around Sept. 22, when again the days and nights are of equal length.

Spring! Spring! Beautiful Spring!

I have written, advisedly too, I venture to think, that the twenty-first day of March "should" be the first day of spring. At least it is so in the calendar, but practice is a very different proposition to theory, and it remains to be proved what the day will be like. At the time of writing—not many hours before the publication of this article the outlook, as regards spring is not very encouraging it is dreary; snowing, dull, cold, with a low temperature, and a generally wintry appearance.

The Bear and His Shadow.

Now, some people believe in superstitions, or folk-lore, or whatever you, good reader, may be pleased to consider it. Therefore, let me remind you that on February the second, the badger or the bear, crawled out of his hole or den. If he saw his shadow he went back for another six weeks, for he knew there was a long winter spell before him. As a matter of fact last Candlemas Day (Feb. 2), was a bright day and the shadow could be easily seen. Six weeks brought u to March 16th and then it was "sloppy," a state of things no respecting quadruped cared for—nor did the biped. Five days after that comes the first day of spring.

Harbingers of Spring.

In the Motherland the first day of spring is eagerly looked forward to. Many, many children, as well as adults, will, if the day be fine and genial, be searching the woods and hedgerows for violets, daisies, primroses and similar other early blossoming wild flowers. The violets, which Shakespeare says are 'sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes,' impregnate the atmosphere with their fragrance, and it is amazing what a distance the perfume is borne on the air from the spot where they grow and but for thus betraying themselves, the places where they nestle would not always be found. Though frequently called the 'wood-violet,' it is more often found on sunny embankments, or under the shelter of a hedge, than in the woods. It is commonly called the "blue violet," although the colour approaches nearer to purple.

The Ancient Daisy.

The daisy is one of the earliest known of our old English flowers that still retains its Saxon name. It originally was the day's-eye. A quaint old writer says "it is such a wanderer that it must have been one of the first flowers that strayed and grew outside the garden of Eden." Chaucer appears to have been the first to discover that the daisy slept, for he tells us how he went out—

"To see this flower, how it will go to rest
For fear of night, so hateth it the darkness."

Spring is Mating Time.

Spring is considered as particularly the season of the year. Of course, as every one knows the year is divided into four nearly equal seasons, viz., spring, summer, autumn, winter. In "Spring" is the springing time, when vegetation rises or shoots.

In a descriptive poem in blank verse written by James Thompson, A.D. 1726-1730, and known as "The Seasons," the poet describes the general features of spring, and its influence on the animal and vegetable world. He pictures the garden as a harem of flowers, a grove with an orchestra of song-birds, making melody in their love, the rough world of brutes, furious and fierce with their strong desire, and, lastly, man, tempered by its infusive influence.

The Marrying Time.

Spring is naturally the mating time. Birds, beasts and fishes pair off; the young man and the young woman likewise pair off and fall in love, marriages are arranged, many taking place between Easter and the first of May, for it is popularly considered unlucky to be married in Mary's month, i.e., May. That month over, then June—usually a genial month—contributes a large quota of weddings. Love, like nature, seems to have sprung up with the advent of this lovely season of the year.

Looking Backward.

"And the fox and the hare,
And the badger and bear,
And the birds on the greenwood tree
And the pretty little rabbits,
So engaging in their habits—
Ah! they all have a mate but me.

Yes! there are I venture to say, some among the readers of this feature article who may sigh and examine themselves: "Is it my own fault that I have no mate? Have I wilfully cast away opportunities I might have had, but for my own obstinacy, my own conceit, my own self-love, my own ideas that so and so was not good enough for me, either in social position or in worldly goods or because I have conceitedly, or coldly, held would-be admirers at arm's length, and so lost all my chances? And now, when middle age has wrinkled my face and has robbed me of most of my good looks and attractions, and time has sprinkled my hair with more or less grey, do I not often wish that I had but one more chance?" And then, in the majority of cases, comes the cry, made to the five foolish virgins of old—"Too late, too late, ye-cannot enter now."

There are Some Charming Old Maids.

But do not let it be thought for a single moment I wish to belittle old maids—or rather unmarried ladies. Many of the most interesting, charming and worthy women I have ever known have been unmarried. "Blessed be the 'old maid' for she is the queen of workers," says a man who has made a study of women workers in the U.S. government service for, he says also, the start of a woman's efficiency rises as the thought of marriage passes. But, alas! the elderly single women have frequently sharp, bitter tongues, and a generally disappointed manner about them which is so intensified in some cases as to make them a by-word.

The Spring Moon's Influence.

The age of the moon on the twenty-first day of March decides the date of Easter and of all the other moveable feasts of the Church throughout the year and for this reason. Since the advent of Christianity, Easter-Day, on which all the rest depend, is always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens upon, or next after the twenty-first day of March and if the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter-Day occurs on the Sunday after. This year, viz., A.D. 1926, the full moon occurs on Monday, March 29th, consequently Easter Day falls on the following Sunday, viz., April the fourth. This has been hitherto the ruling: but it is likely that, by the general consent of the authorities of the three Catholic Churches, viz., the Anglican, the Greek and the Roman, Easter day will, within a comparatively short time, become like Christmas—a fixed festival. That is so far fixed that it will be the nearest Sunday to some definitely fixed date, so as to avoid the shifting about each year of all the Church Festivals, now known as Movable Feasts. Advent Sunday, the first of the Church's holydays, for instance, is always the nearest Sunday to the Feast of Saint Andrew, whether before or after and Saint Andrew's Day occurs on November, the thirtieth.

(Copyright by Frank Russell.)

FURNACE EXPLODES KILLING NINE MEN

Three of Dead in Alabama Foundry Are White—Many Injured.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 20.—(United Press.) — Nine persons were killed and about 14 injured today in an explosion at Blast Furnace No. 2 of the Woodward Iron Company, located about seven miles from here. Three of the dead were whites.

Many of those injured are believed to be critically hurt and may die. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

WORLD OFFENDED BY SECRET PARLEYS

Asquith Says Parliament Should Demand Full Disclosures.

GLASGOW, March 20. (United Press.) — The conscience of the civilized world has been "offended" by the secret manoeuvring of the diplomats at the recent League of Nations meeting, according to the Earl of Oxford and Asquith of Great Britain.

In a speech here he said that he hoped the British parliament would demand "complete disclosures of the secret parleys at the League meeting, which recalled the worst days of old diplomatic procedure."

Build Dollar by Dollar

DON'T neglect to open a savings account because you may have no large amount of money to deposit. The Dominion Bank will accept deposits of $1.00 and upwards.

Open an account now and add small amounts regularly. You will be surprised to see how rapidly your savings will grow.

THE DOMINION BANK

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH,

JOHN CRANE, Manager.

Help tide over a cramped period by availing yourself of our Confidential Credit. The small weekly payments are real STEPPING STONES to securing what you need in

EXCLUSIVE LADIES' AND MISSES' READY-TO-WEAR
Hats, Fine Footwear, Hosiery, Underwear
Corsets, Gloves, Lingerie, Housefurnishings

Use them while you pay. Our plan makes it easy.

B. Chesler 392 George St.

THE HORTICULTURAL PREMIUM LIST

A Few Suggestions As To How To Best Handle the Different Plants Offered as Options to Members.

The option list of the Horticultural Society is creating considerable comment, and the special representative in his house-to-house campaign, is asked a lot of questions, some of which he has difficulty in answering. The first two items, Gladiolus bulbs, are the ones that are of special interest this year, on account of the coming show and convention of the Canadian Gladiolus Society, and the fact that a section of the prize list is reserved for members of the Peterboro Horticultural Society only. Gladiolus should be planted in the open garden for best results in a trench 3 to 4 inches deep, or more if soil is sandy. Bulbs do best 4 to 6 inches apart, but can be planted much closer if space is limited.

The perennial roots are for permanent planting and will remain in the ground unprotected for years, and, if kept cultivated and fertilized, will get better and finer each year. Such plants as Canterbury Bells, Delphinium, Coreopsis, Aquilegia, Dianthus (Pinks), English Cowslips, Pyrethrum (Painted Daisies), Oriental Poppies, Golden Marguerites, Baby's Breath, Hardy Aster, Chelone (Shell Flower), Foxglove Gaillardia, Hibiscus, Red Hot Poker, Sweet William, and dozens of others are included in the 50 varieties available to members. The Iris roots offered are named varieties, and the member may have 4 of them if he, or she, selects No. 5 as their premium. They do well in a sunny border, do not want manure close to the roots, and are one of the earliest Spring flowers as well as some of the most gorgeous under cultivation. The same treatment for the two peonies offered as that given for the Iris, will give best results—keep fertilizer away from immediate contact with the roots, and fork the soil up well each year.

The Asparagus offered is home grown, and is enough to start a nice permanent bed for home supply of this fine delicacy. Make the bed as rich as possible and plant the crowns 2 to 3 inches below the surface. A good covering of well rotted manure spread on the surface will also help, as this vegetable is a rank feeder. Every spring a good liberal application of salt helps the plant and keeps down weeds. The small fruits need no comment as it is only necessary to get their roots under ground without delay, to be almost sure of the plants or bushes living and yielding their lucious crop of fruit every year. The Shrubs, which are Canadian grown, and acclimated, are also sure to do well wherever planted if the situation is at all favorable.

Deep holes, filled in to give the new roots a chance to reach out, and assure a strong, quick growth is the first essential, and a sunny position will of course be best.

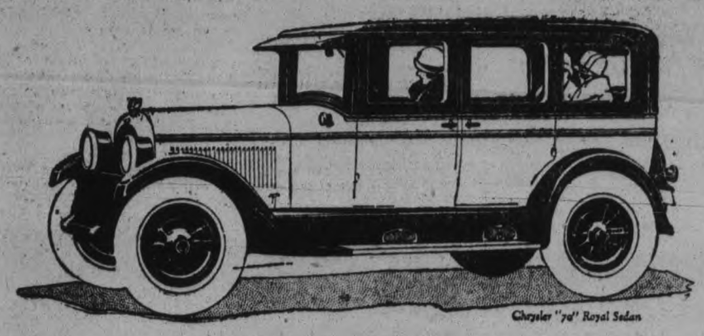
This covers about half the premium list, and the remainder will be given a brief explanation in a few days. Help the campaign by handing in your membership early. One thousand members are absolutely essential this year.

Throat sore? -here's prompt relief!

Inside—Absorbine, Jr. diluted, destroys the germs and relieves irritation. Outside—it relaxes the tension of the muscles and breaks up congestion. Use Absorbine, Jr. at the first sign of sore throat.

At the better druggists, $1.25 a bottle
W. F. YOUNG, Inc.,
Lyman Bldg. Montreal

Absorbine Jr.
THE ANTISEPTIC LINIMENT



Chrysler "70" Qualities Have Set Today's Motoring Standard

CHRYSLER "70" — Phaeton $2135, Roadster $2555, Coach $2225, Coupe $2740, Sedan, 2595, Imperial $3055, Crown Imperial $3205, Brougham $2850.

CHRYSLER "58"—Coach $1495, Sedan $1585.

All models equipped with balloon tires.

Prices delivered Peterborough, all taxes paid, and include extra tire, tire cover and lock, front and rear bumpers.

Discriminating men and women are refusing to accept less than Chrysler "70" gives.

70 miles, and more, per hour .... 5 to 25 miles in 6¼ seconds .... 24 miles to the gallon .... air-cleaner .... oil-filter .... thermostatic heat control .... Chrysler no-side-sway-springs .... pivotal steering .... hydraulic four-wheel brakes .... low center of gravity .... Watson Stabilators .... luxurious closed bodies.

Chrysler "70", alone, combines all these and scores of other attributes joined to a superiority of design and fineness of quality and workmanship, heretofore thought possible only in cars of twice the Chrysler price.

We are eager to demonstrate Chrysler "70's" outstanding qualities to you. Then, and only then, will you understand why Chrysler performance, Chrysler smoothness, Chrysler riding ease and Chrysler roadability have become the new measure of motor car excellence.

CHRYSLER "70"

GILLESPIE GARAGE
Phone 950 378 Aylmer St.
DEALERS—W. E. Ball, Millbrook. W. S. Wiggins, Campbellford. Nelson Wellman, Norwood.

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Misses Margaret and Josephine Allen, of Lakefield, attended the reception at Mount St. Joseph yesterday. Their cousin, Miss Rosamond O'Keefe, made her first vows.

* * *

Invitations are out for the "Springtime Dance" of the C.G.E. Ladies' Softball Club, to be held on April 9. On the committee are Misses G. McCarthy, A. Burns, M. Vincent, L. Simmons, F. Greer and M. McLaren, and Messrs. W. Hodgson, J. O'Brien and W. J. Nelson.

* * *

Mr. Leonard Patrick, accountant in the Income Tax at Belleville is in the city today on business.

* * *

Mr. Stanley Shaw is spending the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw in Omemee.

* * *

Messrs. Bob and Bill Cormack of Toronto University are spending the week-end at their home here.

* * *

Miss Gladys White left this week to enter the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto as a nurse-in-training.

* * *

Miss Greta Godfrey is spending the week-end with friends in Omemee.

* * *

Among the bridge and tea hostesses of the week were Mrs. H. M. Yelland, who gave three bridge parties; Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. A. A. Haskell, Mrs. James Skinner, and Miss Ethel Richardson.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT THE THINGS THAT INTEREST THE BUSY WOMAN OF 1926.

SCARFS.

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, March 20.—(United Press).—Smart women continue to wear scarfs in spite of the fact that everybody seems to own one. There are scarfs and scarfs and ways and ways of wearing them which help in bringing out their individualities

The well-dressed woman isn't wearing those cheaply printed scarfs of chiffon or crepe de chene of which we see so much in the stores. She searches for a scarf which has just the desired color contrast required for the gown with which it is to be worn. She wants good material and beautifully blended colorings. Therefore she chooses taffeta, radium or a heavy crepe de chene for day wear. Small choker lengths are quite popular at present and due to their shortness they must be worn correctly if smartness is achieved. Usually these chokers have embroidered or printed ends. They may be worn tied in a double knot at one side of the neck or folded and worn as a stock with the tailored suit. Radium islk has a stiff texture similar to taffeta and is much softer about the neck than taffeta.

Large taffeta squares of plaid design are quite new and these can be worn loosely about the throat, tied on one shoulder or worn as little fitted capes about the shoulders with ends knotting at a V-shaped front neckline. Some women are wearing men's handkerchiefs in gaily printed silks in the same manner.

For evening, the scarf takes on large square proportions in imitation of the Spanish shawl. Vivid velvet squares bordered and lined in silver of gold cloth and painted in floral or modernistic designs are among the newest of evening wraps. A green velvet square, for instance, is bordered in silver and printed in silver and black design. The young Miss about town wears large square shawls of chiffon, georgette, lace or tulle which she throws over her chair while dancing. Her heavier wrap is removed before she enters the dining room. Such a square of black lace has bands of rose chiffon adorning the underneath side in border effect. The black square is bordered with tulle ruffles. Worn over a flesh-toned chiffon frock the effect is very stunning.

Three hundred women physicians from all parts of the United States are expected in Dallas in April to attend the meeting of their national association.

Sweet are thoughts that savour of content;
The quiet mind is richer than a crown. —Greene.

"Let the Clark Kitchens help you"

13 Delicious CLARK'S SOUPS

INCLUDING
Tomato Julienne
Oxtail Consommé
Vegetable Chicken

Very concentrated, one tin gives 3 or 4 servings of nourishing flavory soup.

At all dealers

W. CLARK LIMITED, MONTREAL
ST. REMI, P.Q. AND HARROW, ONT.

Packers: Clark's Pork and Beans etc.

6-26

ECLIPSE FASHIONS

Exclusive Patterns by Hazel Bryan

1284

Bloomer Frock for Any Hour of the Day

Adapted to the little girl of 2 to 8 years of age, and very easily laundered is this smart little frock for general wear, closing at center front under its scalloped edge from collar to hemline. The short kimono sleeves are finished with little scalloped cuffs, and two patch pockets trim the front. The bloomers are gathered into bands at the knees and finished with elastic at the top. No. 1284 is in sizes 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. Size 4 years requires 1⅛ yards 39-inch material for the dress, and 1 yard additional for the bloomers. Price 20 cents.

Our new Fashion Book contains many styles showing how to dress boys and girls. Simplicity is the rule for well-dressed children. Clothes of character and individuality for the junior folks are hard to buy, but easy to make with our patterns. A small amount of money spent on good materials, cut on simple lines, will give children the privilege of wearing adorable things. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Pattern Purchase Coupon

Address Fashion Department, Evening Examiner

No. ..... Street .....

Name .....

Pattern Number ..... Size ...

Town .....

Province .....

Amount Enclosed .....

Price 20 cents each—coin preferred

Menus for the Family

By Sister Mary.

Breakfast — Tangerines, bacon in cream gravy on toast, bran and raisin muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon — Toasted vegetable sandwiches, baked rhubarb, plain cake, milk, tea.

Dinner — Stuffed calf's heart, steamed rice, carrot timbales, stuffed celery, maple custard pudding, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

Since children under ten years of age should not be allowed to eat the dinner meat a nourishing dessert is planned making the usual protein dish of meat unnecessary for them.

Left-over vegetables are reheated in a cream sauce to which cheese is added. The creamed vegetable is served between crisp triangles of hot toast and a "toasted vegetable sandwich" is the result.

This stuffed calf's heart is a savory dish that is worth trying during the spring months.

Stuffed Calf's Heart.

One calf's heart, 1-2 pound lean veal, 3 slaves bacon, 4 tablespoons stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 2 eggs, salt and pepper

Wash heart through several waters and remove veins and arteries. Let stand in cold water to more than cover for two hours. Drain and dry. Put veal and bacon through fine knife food chopper several times. Mix with bread crumbs, parsley, onion salt and pepper. Very little salt will be needed since the bacon is salty. Add eggs and mix thoroughly. Fill heart with this forcemeat and sew. Sprinkle heart with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown quickly on all sides in a hot frying pan. Put into a deep casserole, add boiling water to half cover, cover casserole closely and cook two and one-half hours in a slow oven. Add more water if necessary. Make a gravy with the liquor in the casserole and pour over heart on a deep platter.

To serve slice down through the heart cross-wise like a jelly roll.

Statistics gathered in a recent official survey in Ohio showed that more than 87 per cent. of the farm women in that state drive their own automobiles.

HER OWN WAY

A GIRL of TODAY

MAN MEETS MAID

"What are you laughing at, Judy?"

"At you."

"And what's the matter with me?"

"I don't suppose you've looked at yourself, Jimmie, but they certainly wouldn't let us in that restaurant." Again I laughed.

"Why not? I've got plenty of money."

"Didn't you know that there were some things that it's hard for money toc over up just as there are some things that money can't buy? Just at present you've got a gorgeous green and red and blue eye on one side of your face."

Jimmie quickly put up his hand to his face. As he did so he winced.

"Ouch! So I have. I guess, Jude, we'll have to go to some other quieter joint and leave the ritzy places for some other time."

"I think that would be better. It seems strange to me though that every chap I've been with lately manages to get a black eye. The last time I saw Charlie Becker he left me with a discolored optic."

Again Jim stopped.

"Did you give it to him, Judy? What did he do to you?"

"Now, look here, Jim Costello. I'm too hungry to go into details. As you say, we've been walking miles, and I think if I go two or three blocks farther I shall faint."

Just then a young man passed us quickly, went a few steps in advance, turned swiftly and came back and planted himself in front of us.

"Hello, Jim. I've been looking for you. Didn't you tell me you'd meet me tonight at the Beaux Arts Restaurant?"

"Yes, and I tried to make it, Jerry, but they just wouldn't let me. They gave me this, so Judy and I got out and we're just going somewhere else to eat. Julia, let me present Jerry Hathaway, a pal of mine. Jerry this is Miss Dean."

I raised my face to see Mr. Hathaway's eyes full of interest upon me.

"Judy is a girl from back home, Jerry. Come on and eat with us if you don't mind sitting down with a loser. That's what everyone will think my black eye indicates."

"Yes, I see you have got a rather messed-up face, but then I don't mind, you know."

Hathaway turned to me.

"I know where I've seen you. You were at the Beaux Arts Restaurant at the hat counter."

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW: A Promise of Help.

ORCHESTRA ROUNDS UP ITS SEASON

Reach High State of Efficiency, and Announce Last of Series of Three Concerts Wednesday Next.

After a highly satisfactory and successful season, the Symphony Orchestra, being now in a high state of efficiency, are announcing the third and last of their series of three concerts, for the evening of Wednesday, March 24th.

Originally intended to have been completed in February, the setting of the date had to be constantly delayed owing to the many counter attractions, and this date is the first one left open that could be secured. Ticket holders will welcome the announcement, as the first two events were particularly enjoyable ones, and this one promises to be the crowning success of the series.

Miss Mathilde Masson, the talented young Peterborough soprano, will be the assisting artist. Another group of entertainers may also be announced before the evening arrives,

Mr. Gliddon is quite enthusiastic about the present proficiency of the orchestra, and naturally pleased with the result of his persistent training and guidance of the work of this most creditable musical organization.

A practically capacity house greeted the orchestra at the last concert and this will most likely be repeated on Wednesday evening.

A Boon to Mothers

Mothers everywhere who realize the danger to delicate little stomachs of too much dosing appreciate the value of Vicks in treating croup and children's colds.

With Vicks there is nothing to swallow—you just rub it on. The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Turpentine—in the form of vapors which carry the medication directly to the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Colds go overnight, croup is generally relieved within 15 minutes.

VICKS VAPORUB

OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Lamps

By Annette Bradshaw

Well Placed Table and Floor Lamps Are Essential Aids to Comfort.

Have you ever entered a room where the sole light is suspended from the centre of the ceiling? And have you noticed how bare, and cheerless the room seemed, the longer you remained in it?

Now, enter another room, where there are two or three, or even more lamps, artistically placed, and perfectly shaded and see the difference. It's Home There's a spirit of hospitality and cheer that make you loath to leave.

In the illustration above are pictured four very good models, which will grace any room and enhance its livableness.

At the right is a lamp of Chinese may be used in the living room or hall. The base and lantern frame are of wrought iron and the lantern is softly shaded with amber glass. Just the thing for the dark corner of the hall or to light up an otherwise gloomy corner of the living room.

Next to it is a table lamp of glazed pottery in soft tones of blue and green with a striped silk shade of orange and gold.

The tall lamp would be more suitable for a bedroom. However, if the living room is exotically furinshed with Italian furniture, the lamp would fit in perfectly. It is of Spanish porcelain in brilliant coloring of green, blue and yellow, with a parchment shade that matches the design of the base.

At the right is a amp of Chinese porcelain in the blues that only the Chinese can achieve, with an orange parchment shade, decorated with borders also matching the base.

Any of these lamps will fit in most any room, care, of course, being taken that the colors do not clash with the general color scheme of the furnishings. The shades should never be of a cold, glaring hue The soft orange and yellow lining will give a warm, comfortable light, and one which will rest the eyes. Where the shades are parchment, these, too, should never be in blues or greens, for these colors seem cold and uninviting.

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

WORD OR SO

"We soon will hear of mothers promising their daughters diamond bracelets or wrist watches if they refrain from smoking until they are 21, just as in the old days sons were given gold watches if they attained the age of majority without puffing the briar." So writes Edith Johnson in an article entitled "To Smoke or Not to Smoke."

* * *

The aim of Parisian designers is at least one new hat design for every week of the year. Again commercialism explains the H. C. L.

* * *

Under the spray of Niagara Falls this spring an Indian girl who was baptized in the waters of the falls, 16 years ago and named Au-paw-chee-kaw - paw - qua - Keokuk will choose whether she shall return to the religion of her ancestors or "stay Christian." We find this Indian way of letting the adult child choose very likeable.

* * *

A baby buggy company president wails that the industry has failed because of automobiles and the practice of birth control by the working classes. Also the example, perhaps of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth toting her infant Paulina about in a market basket.

CHATS WITH THE GIRLS

"Until a woman can march into a public place and check her hat and coat with the same frankness that a man does, she has not obtained equal rights. You see women all huddled up in their coats everywhere. They are not cold. They are shy and aloof and self-conscious. Checking by women would rid them of a complex of reserve and shyness." So says Margalo Gilmore, young actress.

ABOUT WOMEN

The post-flapper girls are making a dent in the writing world this spring. I have spoken before of Sylvia Thompson, aged 24. Now comes Elswyth Thane with her "Riders of the Wind." She is 26.

"Girls of 25 know more about life today than did the graybeards of yesterday," say the critics.

* * *

A special lounging room has been fitted up for the women members of the British House of Commons. When Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma, was in our own House, she complained that whereas male members had smoking rooms galore, there was nothing but a public lobby for the congress-women.

OPERA LORE

"We live in a little town which will never, as long as it exists, hear an opera. We do not even have a library, but you have told in your column how one may get books from the state travelling library. Can you suggest some books about the opera for which I could ask?" reads an inquiry.

"Books of Operas," by Krehbiel; "Story of Opera," by Lee; "Standard Operas," by Upton; "Grand Opera Singers of Today," by Lahee.

GLAD RAGS

Spring stockings continue grayish and nudish. Shades known as grey-beige, apricot-tan, field mouse and sunset are popular.

* * *

Scarfs as gay as tropical butterflies take the place of evening wraps at Palm Beach and on Atlantic City's winter boardwalk.

"IT'S BEING DONE!"

If a girl who is to be married is an orphan her nearest male relative issues the invitation in his name. If he is married, in the name of himself and wife, of course. Thus:

"Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their sister
Ruth Marie

Declaring that the present-day artists' models are much to "lean and skinny," the artists in Paris are discussing whether to continue painting nude women.

Miss Rose E. Squire, who has just retired after 30 years' service in the Home Office, was one of the first women to secure a position in the British civil service.

THE EVENT OF THE SEASON

McNabb's Spring Fashion Revue!

A Magnificent Panorama of the New Spring Styles in

Suits - Coats - Dresses

Displayed by Seven Mannequins

MILLINERY -
By courtesy Mrs. Wilson

SHOES -
By courtesy D. C. Grant

MANNEQUINS' COIFFEUR
Madame Merriam

At the Capitol Theatre

MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY EVENINGS

The J. A. McNABB Co., LTD.

MEDICINE TIME

Whenever a youngster is ailin' a bit, and needin' a doctor's advice, you always kin know, 'twil be throwin' a fit—fer medicine isn't so nice.

The glass on the table, with spoon o'er the top, is ne'er half as bad as they make it. But e'en though the dose they must down is a drop, they always will fuss when they take it.

That bottle of brown stuff makes little tots fret. Those pills 'er so hard to get down. And yet they are given for tummys, upset, when medicine time comes aroun'.

Of course there are youngsters who never fret—much, but most kids a real fuss are makin', whenever it's time for the tablets and such, that every four hours must be taken.

It may be that havin' to stick to the bed, away from the school work, is slick, but when lots of medicine youngsters are fed, it isn't much fun bein' sick.

"BOB-COVERS" IN EVENING, NEW YORK'S DECREES NOW—WOMEN ARE IN LOVE WITH BEAUTY

American Women Simply Dying to Know How to Improve Their Looks—Bobbed Hair Here to Stay, But Must be Waved or Fuzzed.

CANADIAN WOMEN ARE BEST CUSTOMERS AT BROADWAY AND FIFTH AVENUE BEAUTY SHOPS

New York this week held a monster beauty culture show, and the commodious ball room and annexes of the Hotel Commodore were too small to hold the 2,000 delegates from all America and Europe, and the myriads of fair New Yorkers anxious to learn the latest wrinkles to banish wrinkles.

One of the Canadian pilgrims to this beauty shrine was Madame Merriam and she came home convinced that New York and America are deliriously beauty mad. Christian science never swept this continent as beauty science is sweeping it. Charles Nessler, the Nestor of beauty culture, the man who invented the first waving machine and was considered mad, as Mahomet was at first considered mad, was acclaimed by this great invention as one of the greatest geniuses of modern times.

Madame Merriam was amazed at the fervor of the feminine devotees of this new religion. They almost knelt at the little booths as in the chapels of a cathedral. They palpitated for pulchritude and hungered for loveliness.

"It was obvious," said she, "that American women are simply dying to know how to improve themselves. It is no jesting matter with them. They came in mobs and asked questions—serious questions. The throng was worse than that of the grandstand in front of the exhibition. There was scarcely room to move during a single minute of the two days."

Americans are supposed to be sensitive on the point of criticism, yet Gotham's beauty seekers, such was their eagerness for beauty truth, listened humbly and with bowed bobbed heads to a Frenchman's rebuke of their deficiencies.

NEED ENSEMBLE.

"He was the editor of Le Coiffeur of Paris," said Madame Merriam, "and he gave a striking address. He praised North American hair dressing and facial culture, but he found fault that these were not blended with other details of attire to make an ensemble. He said, 'You lack, you American women. The European woman with her hair and her face and her shoes is beautiful, yes, yes, but the American woman, no, no. She is a beautiful frame with no picture. She neglects her shoes.'"

This French aesthete thought that beauty should begin from the ground up. Shoe polish should harmonize with face polish. He drew the color line at black shoes and white stockings, and if the seam of the stocking were not straight it would spoil the symmetry of the most perfect limb or marcel wave.

And the right color of rouge and the right use of the lipstick were most important. The French woman put on her make-up artistically in private and did not dab it on as a species of after-thought in public. She used rouge, not as paint, but as shading to lower the cheek bones or to fill up the hollows of cheeks. She employed the lipstick, not to make a labine splash, but to give form to the mouth, to enlarge it or to narrow it as need might be to suit the general contour of the face and the general color scheme. He spoke home truths, but his audience never winced, so anxious were they for the last refinements and subtleties of the art of beauty.

"One of the outstanding features of the show, in addition to the wonderful display of novelties," said Madame Merriam, "was the exhibition of hair dyes. They were of every possible color to suit every possible complexion."

SEASON OF RAINBOW CURLS?

In short, if the decrees of this beauty synod carry any weight on this continent, we are in for a season of rainbow curls. No damsel need distress herself over the question of tinted tresses. It will be "comme il faut" to dye your locks to suit your frocks.

Madame Merriam also found convincing proof that bobbed hair is here to stay. "There is no doubt about it," said she, "it is bobbed hair. But it must have a permanent or marcel wave. Straight hair is out of vogue. And the 'monkey-bob' is completely gone."

What was the monkey-bob?

To take New York's word for it, the style of bobbed hair is to be such as will completely differentiate a girl from a boy. The hair is to be fluffed up into great ocean waves and feminine furbelows, not slicked down a la sheik.

But the makers of wigs and artificial hair who once thought that the shingle shears were their guillotine have reason for great rejoicing. New York demands more hair for formal occasions.

"It was a significant fact," said Madame Merriam, "that the ladies were requested to put on 'bob covers' for the grand banquet with which the convention concluded. And there $300.00 in prizes for the best 'bob covers'."

EXTRA HAIR FOR EVENING WEAR.

What was a "bob cover"?

A "bob cover" is just as it is spelt, and means more hair to puff out and bolster up the bob.

"The bob by itself," said Madame Merriam, "was pronounced all right for every day and for athletics, but there is to be extra hair for evening wear."

So all the "Janes" now will be Januses. They will have two heads. A girl will be able to be her own 1926 self by day and her grandmother or great-grandmother by night, if she puts on one of the new wigs that are all the rage in Paris, a "roach" or a "Titania."

There was not only a "bob cover" competition, there was also a big permanent waving contest with $500.00 in prizes and 5 gold and silver medals. It was a corkscrew course as ardous as a steeplechase, for each competitor had to do two heads, and 35 curls in each, and also to finish within a time limit.

Let it not be thought that this convention was much ado about nothing. The President of the American Hair Dressers' Association declared in his address that the beauty culture business is at present the second largest business in the United States.

A BASIC INDUSTRY.

It is a basic industry. It comes next to radio, and in a few years will exceed it. Last year the 30,000 beauty parlors, which were in 1915 only 10,000, and their 170,000 attendants did a business of $1,500,000,000, and this year, if it keeps on the crest of the wave, it is expected to reach the two billion mark. There are fortunes in faces.

"The growth of the business has lately been ever more rapid in Canada," said Madame Merriam. "Our women started in a little later than the Americans, but the amount of beauty culture in Canada has doubled in the last three years."

Though Canadian women were slow starters, they were brisk finishers. A Fifth Avenue cosmetologist told Madame Merriam that they were so far from being a fifth wheel to his coach that they were actually his best customers.

"Our Canadian visitors," said he "are a gold mine to us. Few of them go out without spending $5, $10 or $15."

This lavish expenditure of Canadian beauty money in New York suggested a problem for the Canadian customers. How could the customs stop this smuggling of beauty across the border? If a woman neglected to declare what she had purchased in the United States, an officer could not very well seize her face.

MOST BEAUTIFUL AT NOON.

Madame Merriam brought back another idea from New York, namely, that the beauty hour is not the twilight hour, but the luncheon hour. Man is said to be at his ugliest and surliest, and to be ready to go hammer and tongs at everything and everybody at the breakfast hour. But woman is at her beautifulest and sunniest at noon. Many choosing to be beautiful, though hungry, spend their noon interval seraphically in the beauty parlors, and their tongs hour is not their hammer and tongs hour.

All told, this Peterboro pilgrim found this all-American beauty congress most inspiring. The city of Mammon had just as ecstatic a worship of the perfect woman and of the perfect wave as of the golden calf.

RED ROSE "is good tea" TEA

You've been intending to try Red Rose sometime. Why not now?

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

I am writing this on Monday. Almost everybody I talked to today spoke about "blue Monday." A few admitted "feeling mighty blue."

Why should you feel blue any day, and, if you are in the habit of being blue, why are you likely to be blue on Monday?

It is the accepted idea today that the mental state is likely to reflect the physical condition. A torpid liver, a fermenting intestinal canal and a persistent heartburn will break down the most cheerful mind. You just can't be happy if your internal organs are miserable.

"I want to be happy!
But I can't be happy
Unless you are happy too."

You can sing that to your "innards" any day you have the blues. You just can't be happy if your digestive organs are on strike.

The physical forces are at lowest ebb about 3 o'clock in the morning. Did you ever wake up at that hour and imagine the direst and worst things in the world? Everything looks black then.

In the morning, after a stimulating bath and a cup of coffee, your outlook on life is so changed that you can hardly imagine yourself the same person. What a difference just a few hours make?

The reason you have the blues on Monday is because you didn't live right on Sunday. You permitted yourself to wake up two or three hours later than usual. Then you strained your eyes by reading three or four great big Sunday papers in bed.

You had a wonderful breakfast of sausage, griddle cakes, coffee and doughnuts. Before that had digested you had a holiday dinner at about two o'clock. After that you felt so sleepy you took a nap in a close room.

In the evening you indulged in one or two "suppers," smoked several black cigars and slept miserably. Life wasn't worth living on Monday morning.

Is it any wonder you have the blues on Monday? What else could you expect? Mother Nature won't let you be happy on Monday if you abuse her on Sunday.

Holidays are dangerous days. They mean ice cream, lemonade, cigars in excess and all sorts of indiscretions. They are sure to create physical conditions which will upset your mental state.

Whenever you are blue, and without apparent reason, make a survey of your immediate past. If you are crabbed and cross, short and snappy, feeling out of sorts with the world, study the life you have led for the preceding few days.

When you live right your mental processes will be saner and happier.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

A READER: Q.—Do you advise Turkish baths for nervous indigestion?

A.—While a Turkish bath might tone up the general system, I do not think it would aid your digestion. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

* * *

INVALID JOE. Q.—What would cause me to turn deathly sick at times, lasting for perhaps a minute or so?

2.—What is the cause of severe pain in the head, especially when stooping over? The outside o the head is so sore I can hardly touch it.

3.—What would cause the hands to swell when walking for any distance?

4.—What causes a ringing in the ears?

A.—Indigestion is probably responsible. Correct your diet and be sure to overcome any tendency to poor intestinal elimination. For further particulars send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

2.—This may be due to poor circulation or high blood pressure. Have your doctor advise you after examination.

3.—This symptom may be due to either a heart or kidney condition. A careful examination will determine the cause and then proper treatment may be advised.

4.—This is probably due to a catarrhal condition. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

(Copyright, 1926.)

SEA SERPENT LIKE TELEGRAPH POLE?

And This is the Closed Season For Sea Serpents.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., March 20 Canadian Press).—The sea serpent is no myth but a real fact.

Reports were prevalent throughout last summer of the strange monster inhabiting the waters near Prince Rupert and on Tuesday Captain C. J. House, of the Government fishery protection boat Clerar, confirmed its existence.

While cruising near here on Tuesday, Captain House and members of his crew witnessed the antics of the serpent. It raised its head thirty feet above the surface of the water, and remained in that position for half a minute. It looked, according to Captain House, almost like a telephone pole, except that the head was wider than the body. It was seen just opposite Turtle Point, the body coming up spirally just like a snake. The head looked about 18 inches wide, two and one-half feet long, and was of greenish gold color.

A TIRED FEELING IN SPRINGTIME

Not Sick, But Not Up to the Mark—You Need the Help of That Sterling Tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—They Give New Vitality.

With the passing of winter many people feel weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks the vital force and energy pure blood alone can give. In a word, while not exactly sick, the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon them. A blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic is needed to give renewed health and energy. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round blood builder and nerve tonic, but are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood, and with this new blood returning strength, cheerfulness and good health quickly follow.

If you are pale, easily tired, or breathless at the least exertion, if your complexion is poor or you are troubled with pimples or eruptions, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just what you need to put you right. If you have twinges of rheumatism, are subject to headaches and backaches, if you are irritable and nervous, if your sleep does not refresh you, or your appetite is poor, you need the treatment Dr. Williams' Pink Pills alone can give—you need the new blood, new strength and new energy this medicine always brings. Mrs. Emma Fraser, Thessalon, Ont., says: "Two years ago my nervous system was in such a condition that life seemed a burden. I could neither work, eat or sleep well. I tried several medicines, but did not get any relief. Indeed my condition seemed to be growing worse. Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention and I decided to try them. After using a few boxes there was no room to doubt that they were helping me. I continued their use until I had taken eight boxes, when I was completely restored to health, and I have not any time since had a symptom of the trouble. When I began the use of the pills I weighed only 96 pounds, while under their use with my renewed health I now weigh 125 pounds. I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

Keep Your System Toned Up.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion or nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

'SWORTH IT!

There comes a time in each man's life when he will pick himself a wife, and meet the fate that's in his cup. He settles down— and settles up.

He meets the girl who seems the one and then the act is said and done. He seeks the cheer that marriage brings —and gets a lot of other things.

No man desires to live alone. He wants a home all of his own. It pays to have the marriage thrills. And then he starts in paying bills.

It cheers a lot when tots are 'round. Therein real happiness is found. So pep a plenty's soon turned loose when kids are raised—who raise the deuce.

There's eight hours' work and eight hours' play, and eight hours' sleep, so people say, but year by year the work time grows, so pop can keep the tribe in clothes.

The dream man has of marriage bliss in many ways can go amiss, and though his guess is missed a mile— he'll still admit, it's well worth while.

FOR KING'S YACHT.

Mast of Pine 106 Feet Tall.

COWES, Isle of Wight, March 23 (Canadian Press).—A mast of pine, 106 feet high, will be the new feature of King George's yacht, "Britannia," now undergoing alterations here. Work is proceeding rapidly, and it is expected the yacht will be placed in commission May 1. The new fig mast will be "stepped" so the boat may carry an increased sail spread.

The King is planning to race the "Britannia" in the principal regattas around the coast this season.

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

Temple Manning

WHERE A MAN BUYS HIS BRIDE WITH GIFTS TO HER FATHER

They say that daughters are not welcome arrivals in a Japanese family For the daughter must have a dowry when she grows up and she must be supported, while her brothers are a source of income to the family.

But in the island of Samoa things are otherwise arranged. There the birth of a daughter is the signal for rejoicing, for the more daughters a father has the wealthier will he be in his old age.

He does not have to worry about providing a dowry for his daughter when she reaches a marriageable age. Rather, he will have to provide his sons with the price of a bride.

Of course, the purchasing of a bride is not a matter of buying and selling, like the exchange of products. The prospective groom does not approach the father of the girl of his choice and say "I will give you so much for your daughter." He sends his most trusted servant or his father in charge of a gift-bearing retinue to the home of his chosen bride.

The Retinue Carry Gifts.

The gifts may consist of livestock, of jewels, of grain or of gold. It may consist of all these things. Whatever may be the actual components of the gift, it is sufficiently valuable to be a severe tax on the wealth of the suitor.

If the girl's father approves of the match he will accept the gifts; otherwise he must refuse them. If he accepts them the retinue of servants and the groom's father, if he has come, too, make merry at the home of the bride-to-be. They may make quite a visit there before returning to give th word of his success to the eager suitor.

Thus it is that the Samoan father looks forward to the advent of many daughters, for they will not only be the pride and joy of his household, but a source of comfort and wealth to him in his advanced years.

This custom may seem mercenary to us, but to the Samoan it is merely the thing to do. And if we look at the matter without bias we can readily see that it is no more mercenary than the custom of providing the bride with a dowry that she may bring her husband.

(Copyright, 1926.)

The ORACLE

This day we fashion Destiny, our web of Fate we spin —Whittier.

Fixed fate, free will, foreknowledge absolute. —Milton.

L.L.M.—You have a generous, warm-hearted, affectionate nature, and a strong, active body. You should cultivate your natural cheerfulness at all times and exercise diplomacy in dealing with others. Cleverness, rightly applied, will get you what you want in life. You should always be surrounded by clean, neat, tidy people and things, as order and harmony exercise a great influence over you. You are inclined to be a little too outspoken and frank at times, and should be careful of what you eat and drink. You are fond of travel and change of scenery is good for you. Do not find fault with others, follow out your own original ways of thought and when you are tired, get out of doors. Nature is your best medicine. Marry a man born in March, May or August, and commence important undertakings in February or November, and preferably on Wednesday. Wear a ring with an opal or a water pearl and ress in colors that range from yellow and orange, or rose, to misty blue, all the variations of flame. You were born on Monday. The day you ask about, a Tuesday, is one for taking advantage of every opportunity offered you.

Marie.—You have a very nice disposition, naturally strong and virtuous, that is, if you do not spoil it by over-indulgence in frivolity and things that are not really worth while Although you are not shy by any means, you have a certain element of reserve in your makeup and a little feeling of withdrawal from your companions that should not be cultivated at all. The world is just what you make it and you have a fine heritage behind you of culture and artistic expression, in blood that once ruled the world. You have a proud, practical nature with a quick temper that does not, however, harbor resentment for any length of time. You are inclined to [illegible] at all times and have your own individual way of doing things. Your chief business at present is the attempt to settle yourself in life. You will make an excellent wife and mother and a fine housekeeper, but be careful who you marry. April, August or November are good months for your mate to be born in. February and June are your lucky months, Thursday your lucky day. Always maintain your own individuality and strive for self-control and the faculty of not seeing little things that annoy. Do not give way to anger, jealousy or hate. They will mar your pretty face. You were born on Sunday. The day you ask about is past. Your colors are red and brown.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY, MARCH 21, 22.

Sunday's horoscope is not a very favorable one and recommends that quiet be preserved and the affairs of the spirit engage the attention. Those in the employment of others should be careful of their positions.

Those whose birthday it is should take things quietly, and safeguard the employment. A child born on this day may have a rather quiet career.

Monday's astrological forecast is a discouraging one for important undertakings and urges the importance of great care with all manner of writings and enjoins caution in making new contracts.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to use great caution with regard to contracts and all documents. Affix the signature with greater care. A child born on this day should require early training in the matter of truth and general integrity. It should be taught that honesty is the best policy.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothes and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

LOCAL SCOUTS HOLD BIG RALLY

Provincial Executive Officer Visits Peterborough Troops.

MANY PRESENT.

Peterboro's Boy Scouts welcomed Assistant Provincial Commissioner Frank C. Irwin at a combined meeting in All Saints' Parish Hall last night. Games and stunts, an instruction period in charge of Mr. Irwin, and a camp fire session comprised the evening's programme. Dr. Murray Fraser was in charge.

Dr. Fraser took the first part of the programme. A game served to break the ice, and then Mr. Irwin took charge, giving the boys some talk about animal tracks and their meaning, the instruction being made even more interesting by the novel game he employed to teach it.

Stunts were then put on by the different troops, and an artificial camp fire, arranged by Scoutmaster Hully, was made the centre for the latter part of the programme. Rev. I. D. Paterson welcomed the various troops on behalf of the parish of All Saints', and his words were echoed by A. Hore. Both speakers promised to do all in their power to help the movement.

The rhyme about the little dog on the way to Dover, who jumped over the fences which crossed his path, was used by Mr. Irwin for a short talk to the boys. He urged them to copy the dog, who knew where he was going, was not discouraged or held up by obstacles, and who reached his destination. He expressed the hope that the name of Peterboro would soon be put in its proper place in the list of cities where scouting is flourishing, and that the Scouts would be honest-to-goodness Scouts.

Dr. Fraser, District Scoutmaster, also said a few words. There were about seventy boys present, belonging to five troops: 1, All Saints', Frank Hully, scoutmaster; 2, St. Luke's, W. Hepburn, scoutmaster; 3, Y.M.C.A., Frank Taylor, scoutmaster; 4, Community, Clarence Corbett, scoutmaster; and 5, Community, B. Walker, scoutmaster made of perfect whole grains of wheat— Delicious with butter, cheese or marmalades

Crisp, Tasty, Nourishing TRISCUIT

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, March 20.—Mrs. E. Rolleston Tate is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Martin in Peterboro for a few days.

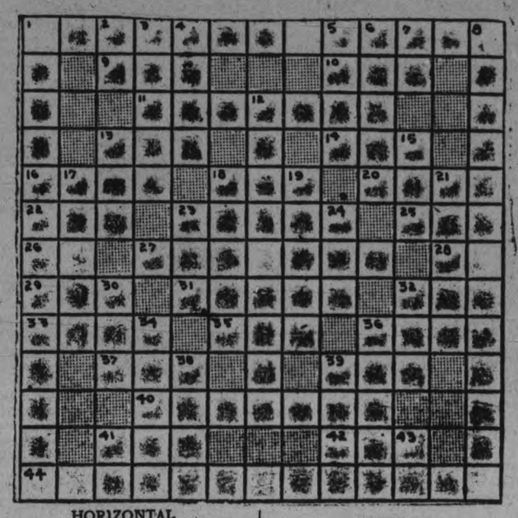
Miss Jessie McGregor of Toronto is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Northey.

Mrs. H. J. Stuart and Miss Lilian Stuart spent Tuesday with friends in Peterboro.

Mrs. J. H. Sherin is visiting friends in Toronto for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. W. W. Leonard was the hostess of a delightful little bridge party on Monday evening. Mrs. Gordon Northey won the first prize.

THE EXAMINER CROSSWORD PUZZLE



HORIZONTAL

1. Amusement.
9. Native metal.
10. Snake-like fish.
11. Revision.
13. Wooden tray for carrying mortar.
14. Inlet.
16. Drop of fluid from the eye.
18. To fondle.
20. To stuff.
22. Rodent.
23. Dug in a coal pit.
25. Collection of facts.
26. Bone.
27. To include.
28. Neuter pronoun.
29. To place.
31. Plant raised for its aromatic seeds.
32. Bird similar to an ostrich.
33. Hook-shaped projection.
35. One in cards.
36. South African farmer.
37. Property settled upon wife at marriage.
39. Cooking utensil.
40. Farcical.
41. Devoured.
42. Feline animal.
44. One who adheres literally to the Bible.

VERTICAL

1. Cinematographs (instrument).
2. Toward.
3. Mistake.
4. Long grass.
5. Close.
6. Lyric.
7. Deity.
8. Magician.
12. Same.
13. Headgear.
15. Constellation.
17. Bar for slackening threads in a loom.
18. Large bivalve mollusk.
19. To harass.
21. Copal or resin.
23. Extinct flightless bird.
24. To perish.
30. Thick shrub.
32. Age.
34. Animal similar to the raccoon.
36. Trite.
38. Pace.
39. Central American rodent.
41. Measure of area.
43. Seventh note in

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

DAVID HAS A CHAT WITH MR. RHINOCEROS.

"Goodness me!" David exclaimed as he caught sight of the great big animal behind the fence in the zoo. "You certainly are a big fellow."

"Big and ugly, I know," chuckled the prisoner. "Well, we can't all be good looking. Fact is, I don't believe I've ever seen a real good-looking rhinoceros, have you?"

"Come to think of it, I don't believe I ever did see a real good-looking one," replied David. "But if one is good one don't need to be pretty to be liked, you know."

"I'm a pecaeful fellow now," chuckled Mr. Rhinoceros, "but before I came to this zoo I was a mean fellow. Most rhinoceroses are ill-tempered and will fight a man at the drop of the hat. I'll never forget when they cut off my horn. They ——"

"My! Didn't that hurt you?" asked David.

"No, it didn't hurt much," replied Mr. Rhinoceros. "You see, our so-called horn is nothing more than a mass of fibre matted together—just a growth from the skin. They take a pocket knife and cut it out. You see, it's made of such strong material it's used in making ramrods, clubs and things like that. Yes, if they try, it will polish beautifully, and then they make it into drinking cups."

"It's a good thing your hide is thick and tough," laughed David. "I'll bet you didn't have to worry about your enemies sticking their claws into you, did you?"

"I'll say I didn't," replied Mr. Rhinoceros. "Not even a shot from a hunter's gun would make any impression on it. I heard a man say yesterday that I must be at least twelve feet long and almost that big around."

"You're the largest I have ever seen," mused David. "But tell me, you're so big and heavy, didn't you find it hard to run from your enemies?"

"I certainly can run, sonny," chuckled Mr. Rhinoceros, "and there's nothing going to stop me when I start. Why, I just tear down the trees that are in my way. But one thing that always helped me a great deal was a tiny little friend of mine, Mr. Buphaga Africana. He was just a bird, but I let him rest on my back and catch flies, so, in return, he always gave me warning when there was any danger. You see, I always slept in the mud in the daytime. Sometimes I'd lie down, sometimes I'd stand up and sleep."

"I'm a Peaceful Fellow Now."

"I should think it would take more than a bird to keep the flies from such a big broad back as you have," laughed David.

"It would, if I didn't wallow in the mud and cover myself with a coat of clay," replied Mr. Rhinoceros. "Well, if you'll excuse me now, I'll go back to sleep. Come and see me again."

David promised and bidding Mr. Rhinoceros good-by, he hurried on to visit the other animals of the zoo before closing time.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

ADM:TS SAFE BLOWING.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17. — Admitting a theft of more than three years ago, Reuben Walker, 23, colored, has been ordered held for further investigation. Police say he confessed to having broken into a filling station and to having stolen a small safe from which he took $140. He carried the safe to a secluded spot and blew it open, he said.

It is fortune, not wisdom, that rules man's life.—Cicero.

A Sure Relief for Women's Disorders—10 Days Treatment Free

Orange Lily is a certain relief for all disorders of women. It is applied locally and is absorbed into the suffering tissue. The dead waste matter in the congested region is expelled, giving immediate mental and physical relief; the blood vessels and nerves are toned and strengthened; and the circulation is rendered to normal. As this treatment is based on strictly scientific principles, and acts on the actual location of the disease, it cannot help but do good in all forms of female troubles, including delayed and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, etc. Price $2.00 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. A Free Trial Treatment, enough for ten days, worth 75c, will be sent Free to any suffering woman who will send me her address. Enclose 3 stamps and address, MRS. LYDIA W. LADD, Dept. 12, Windsor, Ont. Sold by leading druggists everywhere.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NUMBER SIXTEEN—MARKY LEARNS A LESSON

Marky Muskrat, or I should say Mufty Musqush, since he had changed his name, went down the path that led from Scrub-Up-Land to the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming.

No one would have known him— not even his own mother—with his blue body, pink tail, yellow head, red legs and green and black feet.

Yes, that's what had happened to him in Scrub-Up Land. Poor Rubadub was not to blame. It was entirely Marky's. I mean Mufty's, own idea.

At last he reached the little secret bush that marked the place where Scrub-Up-Land ended and the Spring Country began.

It looked a lot like the same old meadow and the same old woods and the same old hollow and the same o'd pond. But now it was getting so green that it really couldn't be quite just the same place.

No, Marky, I mean Mufty, was sure it wasn't. Much had happened in the short time he had been in Scrub-Up Land, not only to him but to the country itself.

The pussy willows were out, and the grass was green. Clover was out in thick patches and all sorts of early plants were growing near the pond. There was a lot of skunk cabbage with its pretty swirls of green.

"I'll bet you that old crow is around somewhere," thought Marky uneasily. "He always flies over from the seashore about this time of year. I'll have to look out. And that greedy owl, no doubt, thinks he belongs here, too! To say nothing of that old chicken hawk, who likes muskrat quite as well as chicken, and Reddy Fox, too! Oh, well, I've always kept out of their way. I don't need to be afraid now. Besides they'll not know who I am!"

Suddenly he heard a sound that made him shiver. It was a faint flapping of wings that came nearer and nearer.

At last it was quite close. And Mister Hawk's hateful voice called down from a tall beech tree, "Hello there! Who are you? I saw you a whole mile away."

"A whole mile!" gasped Marky. "Did you really?"

"I should say so," said the hawk. "You're as bright as a circus poster. What's your name?"

"M-M-Mufty Musqush!" said the little muskrat sneaking away into some tall dead grass. Then as soon as he was out of sight, he ran for all he was worth.

"Hi, there! Stop and say a civil word, can't you," said another voice suddenly, close to his ear. "I've been chasing you for half a mile. I thought I'd never catch up."

It was Reddy Fox this time. The little Muskrat boy shivered harder than ever.

"Could you see me that far?" he gasped.

"See you?" laughed Reddy. "You may as well ask me if I could see the sky. Of course anyone can see you with all those colors. Didn't you know it? What's your name?"

"M-M-Mufty Musquish," said Marky faintly. Reddy looked puzzled and not quite so greedy. Mufty hoped he had fooled him.

It was the same everywhere. He simply could not hide. Everyone saw him and called to him.

"Dear me! Wasn't I silly?" he almost wept. "As long as I was mud-colored, no one could see me and I was safe. That's what I get for being unhappy and vain. I'm going back to Scrub-Up Land and see if I can't be turned into myself again."

Mr. Rubadub got all the paint off with magic turpentine and that's the end of the story.

Marky is mud-colored to this day.

(To be continued.)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

D	E	C	A	M	P		R	E	L	I	E	F
E	R	A	S	E	R		A	V	E	N	G	E
P	O	R	K		I	R	K	E	D		O	N
O	D	D		S	N	E	E	R		T	I	C
S	E		A	C	T	E	D		B	A	S	E
E	D	I	F	I	E	D		C	A	R	T	S
		R	O	O	D		R	A	N	I	T
S	P	O	O	N		R	E	P	A	S	T	S
C	E	N	T		P	A	N	E	L		R	E
H	A	S		G	A	I	T	S		P	A	W
E	L		A	L	I	N	E		H	I	D	E
M	E	A	N	E	R		R	O	O	T	E	R
E	D	D	I	E	S		S	H	E	A	R	S

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'E CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Safe Speedy Relief from PAIN

Neuralgia ~ Headache
RHEUMATISM
Neuritis ~ Lumbago ~ Sciatica

Get a 50c or $1 box of Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. Sold and recommended by 3000 Canadian druggists. Send 10c for booklet and sample to Templetons, 122 King W., Toronto 2.

T-R-C's T41

TEMPLETON'S RHEUMATIC CAPSULES

Enjoy a beautiful Garden from STEELE, BRIGGS' SEEDS

Leaders Since 1873

For the largest nursery gardens, for the smallest city back-yard, the quality of the seeds you sow is equally important. Beautiful blooms in glorious variety, a bounteous crop of tasty vegetables and green, velvety lawns are assured by using Steele, Briggs' Seeds and a little ordinary care in cultivation.

Sold everywhere in Canada. Send for illustrated catalogue.

"Your Garden Needs Steele, Briggs' Seeds"

STEELE, BRIGGS SEED CO. LIMITED
"CANADA'S GREATEST SEED HOUSE"
TORONTO - HAMILTON - REGINA - WINNIPEG

Collections Abroad

WITH over 800 branches in Canada and 120 abroad, we are able to offer direct collection facilities for both domestic and foreign business.

A highly organized Exchange Department and a system of direct wires between the chief commercial centres in Canada and the United States are features which appeal particularly to exporters and importers.

Much valuable information covering data on markets, tariffs and confidential credit reports is furnished through our special departments created for this purpose. Our specialized service is at your disposal.

The Royal Bank of Canada

Peterborough Branch • V. Eastwood, Manager

CLASSIC RACE IS NEXT SATURDAY

Oxford and Cambridge To Race Before Million People.

ODDS SHORTEN.

LONDON, March 20. United Press. — One week from to-day the Oxford and Cambridge crews will row their classic race on the Thames while upwards of 1,000,000 persons view the major, inter-collegiate contest of the year from barges, skiffs, river banks and roofs.

The odds evened to-day after a gradual shortening during which Oxford steadily improved its prospects to revenge itself for last year's humiliation, when its special shell was swamped during the race. Both crews are unusually far advanced.

PRESS CONFERENCE IS BEING ADVANCED

Date of Preliminary Meeting of News Agencies is Set.

GENEVA, March 20 (Canadian Press)—The projected international press conference proposed by the Chilean League of Nations delegation was advanced a step yesterday when the League selected Geneva as the place and May 31 as the time for a meeting of representatives of newspaper agencies.

The meeting of agency representatives is to be followed by gatherings of newspaper proprietors and working journalists. Each group will study problems especially interesting to it, and the general committee of all groups will frame the final agenda of the international press conference to be held at Geneva in September.

FURNITURE ON CREDIT

Here's your opportunity to furnish your home complete from attic to cellar and

SAVE 25 to 35%

Furniture of all kinds—beds, bedding, carpets, rugs, stoves, floor coverings, baby carriages, floor lamps, etc. sold on to suit you. Prices guaranteed lowest in city.

EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS

$1.00 opens and account with us

Home Furnishing Co.

208 Charlotte St.

WE POSITIVELY SAVE OUR CUSTOMERS

25% to 50%

of the price they would pay elsewhere for

BEDS SPRINGS AND MATTRESSES

It will pay to buy now to furnish an extra room or summer cottage Your credit is good if necessary.

MILLINERY AND LADIES' READY-TO-WEAR

at special reduced prices. A small deposit will hold any garment till wanted.

M. FINE

427 GEORGE STREET

COMING!

ALBERTA COAL

We have a quantity on the way and will book orders now for delivery as soon as it arrives.

COKE SOLVAY AND OTO-Nut, stove, range, per ton $16

WOOD Best hard and mixed, cut and split to order at lowest current prices.

Peterboro Fuel and Transfer Co.

KELLY BROS.

Phone 370 & 362 - 134 Aylmer St.

Peterborough Exhibition wants you as a member!

A TRAFFIC CURE LONDON'S GOAL

Handling of Millions Daily Puts Burden on Transportation.

NOW INADEQUATE.

LONDON, March 20.—London is worried about its rush hour. Probably no other city in the world has so serious traffic problems. Every morning several million people, several times the population of Detroit, move toward the business districts of the city. All about at the same hour in the evening expect to be carried to their homes.

Like everything else in the world's largest city, the transportation system has gradually grown up. The narrow crooked streets, laid out centuries ago and changed little since, were unsuited for surface railways, so omibuses came into general use. The English people prefer them because they are readily adapted to the needs of traffic and they thread their way through the mazes of thoroughfares with a minimum of noise.

But the demand for rapid transit brought into existence the tubes, and the undeground railway system of London is unexcelled. Lastly, a system of surface street railways has been provided to supplement the two others, but still the need for added facilities is keenly felt.

Burden Increases.

How rapidly this demand increases may be learned from statistics recently published comparing transportation figures of the present with those of pre-war days. "Greater London" is thought of as an area extending 15 miles in every direction from the famous Charing Cross.

Records show that on an average in 1913, every inhabitant of that great circle traveled 301 times a year. That seemed a pretty good basis for support of transportation investments, but conditions from that point of view have improved immensely since. Statistics now show that the number of journeys taken annually average 450 for every person living in Greater London. When it is considered that the population upon which this calculation is base is 7,670,218, some idea of the magnitude of the transportation problem is gained.

In 1913 the number of passengers traveling by bus in Greater London was 736,000,000; in 1924 1,485,000,000, and in 1925, 1,600,000,000. Coming now to complicate this already difficult situation, is the vast increase in the number of privately-owned motor cars.

Period Of Unrest.

There is every indication that the population, not only of Greater London, but of densely-peopled areas which for miles surround the metropolis, is to be even more mobile in future. Sir Henry Maybury, who, as director-general of roads under the Ministry of Transport, may be considered an authority, lately expressed the opinion that a great unrest had come upon the people of England since the World War.

"It is noticeable in recent years," said Sir Henry, "that a large part of our people want to be almost continually on the move. This fact has made our transportation difficulties, but it may also be regared as an opportunity. There are enough people traveling and they have money enough to justify vast improvements in our transportation systems.

There has been a good deal of criticism of our street railways. It is said they are not providing profitable investments, and some have said, "Why not scrap them?"

Vital Necessities.

"But we cannot afford to part with them. They are serving a very important purpose, and they are absolutely essential to the movement of large numbers of people. Last year the surface lines carried 989,000,000 passengers, many of them at unremunerative fares.

"Neither can we afford to solve our problems by widening and straightening our streets. Such a plan would involve the expenditure of untold millions and could not be completed for years."

The plan which Sir Henry proposes is quite heroic, in view of the fact that these transportation concerns, with the exception of the street railways, are owned and managed by private corporations. Nevertheless, the director of roads asserts the diverse interests must be made to operate with the primary aim of the best service to the public.

"I look forward to the formulation of some scheme for the coordination of all the systems. We must have extensions of the tubes, electrification of our suburban railways, and elimination of waste, including that due to competition.

"Every form of transport is necessary in its proper place, but we cannot boost one form of service until it congests our streets, nor can we let one of these services operate to the detriment of others and thus to the inconvenience and loss of the public.

"There is business enough to warnat the extension and improvement of every one of these services if they are not permitted to destroy each other by ruthless competition. We aim at a pooling of receipts, a competent unified management, expert technical direction, all working for the efficiency of service."

Sir Henry called attention to the fact that the tube construction now costs from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 a mile. To attract capital to so large investments, it will be necessary to provide conditions under which the tubes can yield reasonable returns. Unitey of management would make possible putting limits upon competition.

ORCHESTRA GIVES GOOD PROGRAMME

George Street Sunday School Musicians Do Fine Work.

The Sunday School orchestra of George Street United Church gave an excellent account of itself last night in a programme presented under its auspices in the Sunday School rooms, attended by a crowd of between three and four hundred people, who accorded enthusiastic applause and encores in every instance to the fine, varied programme prepared by the orchestra and assisting artists. Rev. J. E. Todd acted as chairman and referred to the orchestra as one of the most effective instruments in maintaining the excellent esprit de corps manifested in the various Sunday School organizations.

The orchestra itself and its renditions of pleasing music was one of the most attractive portions of a well-chosen entertainment. This aggregation of careful players does some very good playing. They get an excellent volume of tone from their varied instruments, playing with a vim and vigor and a bright cheerful, free type of music that is very interesting and paying attention to details of attack and release in a manner very creditable to themselves and their conductor, Mr. W. H. Cunningham. Their selections were very pleasing, and included an opening number, "The Copper King," March, an Overture, "Enchantment," "Youth and Riches" the latter a fine melodious selection, the always popular "In a Monastery Garden" number, and, as a final offering, "The Golden Gate Commandery." Hearty applause greeted each number, the orchestra responding with a couple of bright encores.

Vocal solos on the programme were much enjoyed. Miss Daisy Murray's fresh, clear soprano was heard to excellent advantage in "The Swallows" and its encore, "The Little Brown Owl"; Miss Elma Coon sang in excellent voice "Supposin'" and an encore in "Irish Eyes of Blue" and Mrs. T. E. Curvin's well-modulated tones were demonstrated in "A Song of the Southland" and its encore "A Basket of Old-Fashioined Roses." Mrs. Curvin's accompaniments were played by Mr. J. H. Renwick, Miss Laura MacFarlane playing accompaniments for the other soloists and the orchestral selections.

Instrumental numbers that were very pleasing were the Hawaiian guiltar music by a trio composed of the Misses Mildred and Hazel Trethewey and Mr. A. V. Lillow, who played "The Mocking Bird" and "Hawaiian Dreams" Waltz. Later, the Misses Trethewey played, in duett, a Honolulu melody and the Twin Waltz.

Quite outstanding in its excellence when the age of the youthful performer is considered, was the violin solo contributed by Stanley Northrop. This small boy plays with an ease and freedom that gives an air of maturity to his fine music, and his mastery of technical difficulties on the king of instruments is really surprising. He played, entirely from memory, a tricky Concerto by de Beriot, and an encore, in the famous "Souvenir." Accompaniments were played by his brother, Harry Northrop.

A violin duett arranged for Arnold Spencer and Roy Rome was changed owing to the former's unavoidable absence, and Mrs. J. Foster kindly consented to take his place at the last minute. Mrs. Foster and Roy Rome played with pleasing tone Dancla's "Symphonie Concertante" and Mozart's "Minuet"

Another interesting contribution to the programme was the music on the mouth organ played by Mr. C. S. Thompson, who demonstrated just how much real music can be drawn from this instrument, showing great skill with his performance on a regular-sized mouth organ and its tiny replica. Mr. Thompson received much applause for his rendition of "Home, Sweet Home" and "Old Black Joe" with variations, an encore being the pretty "Mother Machree" number.

Miss Eva Outram, in a comic costume and feathered hat, gave several humorous readings which pleased her audience immensely. She gave a lecture on Woman, "By one of the Sex," an encore, "The Best Place to Hold the Fair,' and came back for second appearance in "Bobby Reads the Newspaper," with an encore in "How to Get Rid of an Agent."

The Male Quartette, composed of Messrs. C. S. Thompson, A. V. Lillow, George Biggs and W. H. Cunningham, also delighted their hearers with some well-chosen selections, including "My Wild Irish Rose," with solo by Mr. Lillow, and a brief encore, and "Under Southern Skies," in which the solo was taken by Miss Daisy Murray.

During the entertainment, an encore to the orchestra included the presentation to the leader, Mr. W. H. Cunningham, by little Joy Walker, of a large red tulip, attached to the stem being a pair of gold cuff links.

At the conclusion of the programme, the Cheerful Workers' Bible Class of the church entertained the orchestra and assisting artists and their friends, in the basement of the church, where refreshments were served. Mr. H. G. Walker and Mr. J. H. Renwick thanked the musicians for their efforts and Mr. Cunningham acknowledged with thanks the gift to himself. Three cheers and a tiger were given for the popular leader of the orchestra.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: Violins: Mrs. J. Foster, the Misses Myra Baird, Mary Kennedy, Mrs. Layfield, Mrs. Wellwood, Miss Margaret Walker, Miss Boorman, the Misses Thelma Paxman, Eva Outram, Stanley Northrop, Roy Rome, Mr. Russell, Don Munro, George Biggs, B. Rushton. Clarinet: Mr. Janeway. Cornets: Messrs. Trethewey, Boorman, Forde. Trombone: Mr. John Miller. Bass viols: Messrs. W. F. Skitch and W. H. Cunningham. Pianist: Miss Laura MacFarlane.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY 4B MEMBERS

One Act Comedy Put On at Literary Society Meeting.

GREAT SUCCESS.

On Friday afternoon the bi-weekly meeting of the P.C.I. Literary Society was held. The programme was in the hands of the boys of 4B. As their part in the annual inter-form stunt competition they presented a one-act comedy called "The Jolly Climbers."

The play went off with great success, each actor playing his part well. The musical part was furnished by Alex. Morrison and Milton Mesley, playing on guitars, and Howard Pammett and Delbert Gardiner on mouth organs. The class sang four songs: "Clap Hands, Here comes Charley," "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue," "That Certain Party," and "Show me the Way to Go Home."

"The personnel of the cast was as follows:

Casey the Warder—Alex. Morrison.
Bert Dascher—Gordon Richardson.
Jim Roland—George Rishor.
Jack Rawlins—Winter Ecobichon.
Bill Green—Robt. Sturgeon.
George Grumis—Stuart Hagerman
Bob Underwood—Milton Mesley.
Herb Spencer—Jack Hall.
Stephen Stanhope—Arthur Robinson.
Will Kindle—Howard Pammett.
Frank Kendle—Delbert Gardiner.
Dave Durham—John Hutchinson.
"Tubby" Barrett—Alex. Rogow.

Miss Isabelle Couper acted as pianist for the singing.

At the close of the play Charles Levine, president of the 4B Literary Society, presented Miss Couper with a bouquet of roses for her kindness in acting as pianist.

COAL ENTERED FREE BY CUSTOMS ERROR

Inspector Was Father of the Coal Broker.

OTTAWA, March 20 (Canadian Pess)—The tale of a dutiable coal shipment from England which was entered free on the customs entries although the duty had been paid to a broker, was unfolded before the customs committee Friday afternoon, through the testimony of business men and through the files of the Department.

In October, 1922, a glass company brought a ship load of bituminous coal to Montreal. They paid a duty of $2,639 to a customs broker, Antonio Giroux.

Later, the glass company found a shortage of 450 tons. This stirred up an investigation, and for some time no entry form could be found in the customs office. Finally an amended entry form was found showing that the coal had been entered free through the mistake of Inspector Giroux, father of the customrs broker. It was nearly two years later that the mistake was discovered, and the final duty was adjusted in February 1924.

R. L. Calder, K.C., counsel for the committee will pursue this case further during the hearing of the committee next week. Several witnesses in connection with the case will also be called to the stand. Mr. Calder will also have as witnesses, officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who have been stationed in Montreal.

During the afternoon session W. S. Weldon, collector of customs in Montreal, spoke of the many years of difficulty with his subordinates when they made him feel as though he was not wanted in the position During the last six months there had been a notable improvement.

RIOT ACT READ TO OTTAWA LIBERALS

Snap Vote Always Possible —Must Be Nearby.

OTTAWA, March 20.—Although a Liberal caucus that met Friday had been summoned previous to Thursday night's reverse in committee of supply, the gathering was featured by a "reading of the riot act" to the faithful, and a demand that, whether or not they like it, they should "stick around" and prepare for such occurrences. Ministers, however, were as culpable as any one else in being absent at the snap vote. It was pointed out that such manoeuvres may be expected any time when the House is in supply, and that there is no warning division bell in committee. Therefore it was the duty of Government supporters and auxiliary services to be in the Chamber or within hollering distance.

Otherwise, the caucus exchanged views on the sessional legislation, which is now practically all before the House except the budget. It is promised right after Easter and some counsel as to its form was given. The impression is that, in regard to the tariff, there will not be much doing this session.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT

Seed Cleaning Demonstration Train

WILL STOP AT PETERBORO C. P. R.

MONDAY, APRIL 5TH

The train will consist of three cars, as follows:

Car No. 1—Power and Hand Seed Cleaning Machinery in operation.

Car No. 2—Exhibition material, demonstrating benefits from proper seed cleaning.

Car No. 3—Lecture Car. Special lectures at 2.30 p.m. each afternoon.

Open to public 9.30 to 5 p.m.

Everybody Welcome

3d-20-27-2-775

SOVIET TO BUILD MORE RAILWAYS

Plans Artery of Trans-Siberian Line to Link Up Cities.

INCREASE MILEAGE.

VLADIVOSTOCK, Siberia, Mar. 20.— (Canadian Press.)— Soviet Russia has embarked upon an ambitious programme of railroad construction in Siberia. The Government's plan is to have the great Trans-Siberian line feed another artery and link up a number of cities.

This will be accomplished by the building of branches which will increase the total mileage of the Trans-Siberian railroad to more than 6,210 miles.

The work is to be completed within ten years.

EGGS PLENTIFUL.

Sell From 30 To 37 Cents a Dozen at Local Market.

Eggs were plentiful on the farmers' market this morning, but butter was scarce. Eggs sold all the way from 30 to 37 cents a dozen and butter ranged in price from 45 to 53 cents a pound, and hens 25 cents.

Potatoes were $3 a bag on the open market with reports of a scarce quantity from the vendors. McIntosh apples were 35 cents a peck and Tolman Sweets 40 cents a basket.

Beef was 10 and 12 cents a pound, pork 21 and 23, with pigs' heads at 50 cents apiece. Live white piglets were selling at $15 a pair.

Plymouth Rocks were selling at $1.75 and $1.50 each. Hay was $15 a load.

In the lower entry were a trio of small collie pups, one pure white one getting much attention from its admirers.

COMEDY DRAMA AT MARK ST. CHURCH

Large Audience Applauded Presentation of Young People's League.

A comedy drama in four acts, "I Can't Afford It," was presented in Mark street church last evening, before a large audience, by the Young People's League of the church. The play received much applause and was put on in very excellent fashion. The plot centres about the efforts of a rural minister to get his flock to contribute towards efforts for the betterment of their community. He hasn't much success, but after several of the farmers who "can't afford it" have been bitten by a sharper selling fake stock, they come to realize that he is right and agree to do better. Announcements for the specialties between acts were made by Mrs. I. Weir. These interludes included songs by Miss Berenice Cain and Arthur Mills, and instrumental numbers by Mrs. S. Purdy and Miss Miriam Purdy.

The cast was as follows: Mark Farmer, (Rev. R. T. Richards); John Farmer, his son, (Arthur Mills); Mrs. Farmer, his wife (Miss Beatrice Casson); Angelina Beaver, a fourteen year old girl, (Bernardine Graham) Rev. Thomas White, the minister (Cleveland Robb); Mrs. White, his wife (Miss Winnie Fuller); Biddy McPhail, an Irish girl (Miss Helen Throop); Andrew Bonehead, a farmer, (Cyril Agnew); Mrs. Bonehead, his wife (Miss Myrtle Currie); Jim Coulson, a farmer (Harry Agnew); Miranda Coulson, his wife, (Miss Grace Currie); Harry Coulson, his son, (Wand Throop); Jim Hartley, a friend of the minister (Bruce Sargent); Eliza Catnip, an elderly maiden (Miss Mabel Reynolds).

SPRING IS HERE

Thousands of People Need Calomel.

That is why you have sallow complexion with a dull tired heavy feeling, no pep, indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, terrible kidney pains, biliousness, no appetite. These are all well known signs that your liver is out of order, that your system is full of poison. There is only one drug that acts upon the liver and that is calomel called tanol calomel which has no bad after effects, perfectly harmless to take, no salts or seidlitz are needed next morning. Get a few of these tablets from Weber's Drug Store, Peterboro; take according to directions. They will make you eat better, look better, work better, and your brain will be much clearer, full of pep and vigor ready for a long day's work.

LYONS SAYS HIS FIRM SUPPLIED ROAD MATERIAL

Sold Cement and Gravel To Contractors For Paving Street.

SUPPLIED ROOFING.

Knows of No Commission Paid Contractors For Buying Materials.

TORONTO, March 20 (Canadian Press). — Replying to questions asked by W. E. Raney, Progressive leader, Jmaes Lyons, former Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ontario Government, said at a meeting of the public accounts committee of the Legislature last night that his firm, the Lyons Fuel and Supply Company, of Sault Ste. Marie, had supplied cement and gravel to McNamara Brothers for their contract in building the roadway on Wellington Street, Sault Ste. Marie. The Provincial Government through the Northern Development Branch, which came under Mr. Lyons as minister, provided a portion of the cost of the road. The total contract was $52,000 and the material supplied by the Lyons firm amounted to $32,000.

The Lyons firm also supplied roofing material cement and steel sash for the new aerodrome in the Sault.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was the contractor and bought material from the Lyons firm. The 'drome was built for the Provincial Government.

"Did you not see any risk as minister of carrying on business through your firm for such companies?" asked Mr. Raney.

"As far as I was concerned there was no risk. I won't let business influence me," replied Mr. Lyons.

Mr. Lyons said he knew that the Lebarge Company of Sudbury had secured the road contract by tender for $59,000, but had assigned or sublet it to McNamara Brothers for a consideration, the amount of which Mr. Lyons did not know. Mr. Lyons said he had absolutely had no knowledge of any commission ever being paid the contractor for buying his materials from certain people. Mr. Lyons read figures to show that his firm in Sault Ste. Marie sold goods to several retail hardware merchants in that city in the regular way of trade and that some of these resold to the Northern Development Branch of the Government.

The committee will meet again on Monday night when McNamara Bros. will give evidence.

LADIES RECEIVED INTO SISTERHOOD

Impressive Ceremony Conducted Yesterday at Mount St. Joseph.

ELOQUENT ADDRESS.

Sacred Heart Chapel, Mount St. Joseph, was the scene of a very impressive ceremony on Friday morning when four young ladies received the holy habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph and twelve Sisters pronounced their perpetual vows. At nine o'clock, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was offered by Rt. Rev. M. J. O'Brien, D.D., assisted by Rev. J. Finn and Rev. P. Butler. Present also in the santuary were: Rt. Rev. Mgr. McColl, Rev. J. J. O'Brien, Rev. P. Costello, Rev. J. McAuley of Ennismore, Rev. P. J. Quinn, C.S.S.R., Rev. Dr. McRae of St Francis Xavier Seminary, Rev. J. Guiry, Rev. G. Maher, Rev. J. McGuire of Bracebridge, Rev. J. Maloney. The altar was tastefully decorated with white lilies and pink roses, whose beauty was accentuated by the glow of colored lights interspersed among them.

In a brief but eloquent address, Rev. Father Quinn enumerated the advantages of the religious state and paid tribute to the nobility of so high a calling. He congratulated the young ladies who had responded generously to the appeal the Master made to His apostles: "The harvest indeed is great but the laborers are few." He spoke also of their great privilege in having as model of their virginity His own blessed Mother who, at so tender an age, left her father's home to consecrate herself to the service of God in the Temple. In conclusion, he stated that while self-abnegation epitomizes the religious life, those who embrace it enjoy a lasting peace in this world and have the promise of reward a hundred-fold and life everlasting.

At the conclusion of the ceremony His Lordship spoke briefly in appreciation of the Catholic homes in which the Sisters had received a true outlook on life and had been inspired with high ideals of generosity and self-sacrifice.

The young ladies who were received into the Community were: Miss Mary Gribbin of Phelpston, in religion, Sister M. Anastasia; Miss Geraldine Harrington of Ennismore, in religion, Sister M. Alma; Miss Agnes Harrington of Ennismore, in religion, Sister M. St. Kevin. The Sisters who made final profession were: Sister M. Joseph-André, Sister M. St. Gilbert, Sister M. Fidelma, Sister M. Kathleen, Sister M. Annunciata, Sister M. Macrena, Sister M. Celine, Sister M. Yvonne, Sister M. Laurina, Sister M. Faustina, Sister M. Cecile, Sister M. Giovanni.

At an earlier Mass eleven Sisters pronounced their First Vows.

DEMONSTRATION AT CHEVROLET GARAGE

Mechanical Engineer Explains Working Parts of Car.

A capacity audience greeted the speaker, N. Myhre, B.Sc., mechanical engineer, in the show-rooms of Howson's garage, Simcoe Street, last night.

With a chassis demonstration, Mr. Myhre, who is a Norwegian by birth, explained the various working parts of the Chevrolet and explained to the audience that the Chevrolet now is the quality car in the light car field. The product is backed by the General Motor Corporation, the largest in the industry, which enables the low-priced Chevrolet to be equipped with Fisher closed bodies, the finest closed bodies on the market. Mr. Mayhre also mentioned the General Motors proving ground, 1,125 acres in extent, where stock cars are tested and driven for 50,000 miles or more before a new model is put on the market. This gives, he said, an absolute guarantee that there are no faults in the car before put on the market, and that it means a real improvement.

The Chevrolet has always been noted for a very powerful, economical and dependable motor, said Mr. Myhre, and this year, by slight changes in the motor design, still more power has been added to a smooth and vibrationless operating motor. In conjunction with the added power of the motor, the brakes are considerably larger, giving the utmost safety in driving.

George Sherry was in charge of a ticket-drawing contest. William Gillman drew the first prize, a motor rug; L. Heath, the second prize, a pair of washing brushes, and William Stanley, the third prize, a bottle of polish.

W. J. Mullen, the district representative, was also present.

MARCH WEATHER DANGEROUS TO BABY

On Account of the Very Sudden Changes in Temperature.

Our Canadian March weather—one day bright, but sloppy, the next blustery and cold—is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep the little ones indoors. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against these colds and to keep the baby well till the better, brigher days come along, a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach sweet and his bowels working regularly.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the stomach and bowels and thus relieve colds and simple fevers and keep baby fit. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

25 DAYS' TOUR TO ALASKA

Once Alaska was identified with the gold seeker. Today it is as closely linked with tourist traffic, for men have found that there is more sheer gold in one Alaskan sunset that ever came out of the rockbound mines. It is a land of strange contradictions and never-ending surprises. It is the desire of every tourist to visit this enchanted country, the land of the midnight sun.

The Kerr-Bryson tour via the Canadian National Railways offers you the desired opportunity under most advantageous auspices and at a minimum cost. The tour embraces Jasper National Park, the famous Triangle Tour, the Pacific Coast, Alaska, and the Great Lakes Trip on the return journey.

Write for full information and descriptive booklet to Mr. A. E. Bryson, 44 Silverthorn Ave., Toronto, 9, Ont., or Mr. Martin Kerr, 4 Beulah Ave., Hamilton, Ont.

3d-6-20-31

ENGLAND DEFEATED.

Scotland Victors in the Annual Rugby Match Held at Twickenham.

LONDON, March 20 (Canadian Press).—Scotland defeated England in their annual rugby match at Twickenham today by 17 points to 9.

McGill University

MONTREAL

Faculty of MUSIC

Annual Local Examinations in Music

Theoretical Examinations will be held on or about May 5th, and Practical Examinations during May and June at various centres throughout Canada.

Through these examination—open to the pupils of all teachers—the standing of a student may be ascertained and progress tested. They are also preparatory to the diploma and degree courses in Music, which taken from McGill, a truly National University, are recognized everywhere as of the highest standing.

Further information regarding the different grades, music to be prepared, fees, etc., and application forms may be obtained by applying direct to the Secretary of the Faculty of Music of McGill University or to the local Secretary, F. G. Mann, 186 Dublin street.

Entries for the examinations should be sent before April 1

MOVING WEST

M. Rawlinson, Limited, established over forty years, frequently ship consolidated household furniture cars to Winnipeg and west to the Coast and to California. Write 610 Yonge street, Toronto, for reduced rates.

FEATHERS

Feather Mattresses or Down Comforters Made From Your Own Feathers.

Drop a card to DOMINION FEATHER MATTRESS CO., 374½ WATER ST., PETERBORO

Our Agent will call. Highest Price Paid for Feathers.

m.w.s.-80.

Dr. T. W. H. YOUNG

Physcian and Surgeon

Graduate of London, Edinburgh and Glasgow

Office Hours: 8-10; 2-4; 6-8.

305 Stewart St. - Phone 347

ORDER NOW

NUT SIZE COKE

JAMICO COAL

THOS. A. REHILL CO.

210 Wolfe St. - Phone 245

Prompt Service

Our Specialty

S

GOOD EVERY DAY

STOCK'S BREAD

Quality

Purity

Service

At Your Grocer's or Telephone 630

A Page for the Radio Fan and the Auto Owner

INVENTOR LEERS AT KING STATIC· MAKES NEW SET

Five Stages of Radio Frequency Placed Before the Detector.

TWO FOR AUDIO.

Discounts Statement That Multi-Tube Sets Increase Howls.

By ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor NEA Service.

Heretofore engineers have feared to put any more than two stages of radio frequency amplification before the detector. Some, perhaps one or two, have ventured on the application of three stages.

But that ended it with the argument that the slightest static would be picked up and amplified tremendously, that distortion would result, that altogether the receiver would suffer from so much amplification before detection.

Along comes William H. Priess, well known for his invention of the reflex principle, and puts no less than five stages fo radio frequency before the detector, defying the elements and practically overthrowing the theories of his brother engineers. He has fashioned an eight-tube receiver, with five tubes for radio frequency amplification and only two for audio.

Yet, lo and behold, there is no more static than you'd find in the ordinary five tube set, and perhaps even less. There's considerably more distance reception because of the five tube radio.

There's better pick-up of the low power station, for the same reason. There's an all-around greater efficiency in reception, in sensitivity and in selectivity.

Loop Is Advantage.

Priess offers several reasons for the success of his product;

First of all, he attributes it to the loop, for antenna. The set is made just for such reception that loops offer — greater selectivity, less static.

Professor J. H. Morecroft, former president of the Institute of Radio Engineers, and head of the electrical engineering department of Columbia University, says all fans prefer loop receivers. But, he adds, the set needs a couple of stages of radio amplification to give as strong a signal with a loop as with an outside antenna.

"Tubes cost money," he adds. "Furthermore, tubes themselves give noise due to electrical irregularities in their behavior and when excessive amplification is used in a multi-tube set, these noises sound much like static."

Denies More Tube Noise.

And here's the reply from Priess:

"Noises in a radio set from tubes are due almost entirely to the detector tube, which is the same in all sets, whether antenna or loop, and the amounts of audio frequency amplification following this tube. They are not due to any noise which might be present in a chain of radio frequency tubes prior to the detector."

As for cost of tubes, this of course balances with the cost of antenna installation.

Priess also boasts of the amount of amplification he has been able to obtain by the five radio frequency tubes, and the circuit by which they're installed. The average set he explains, gets a voltage amplification of only about 300. The superhet's voltage amplification is about 1500. That of the Priess set is said to be about 3,000.

Since the detector is said to operate best when receiving loud signals, five stages of radio amplification put enough power into it to make it operate at its highest efficiency. And likewise with the audio system. The result being highest possible efficiency, says Priess.

USE FLY CUTTER.

A fly cutter is the correct instrument for making large holes in panels, but many experimenters find it difficult to adjust it so holes of the desired diameter are produced. The only way to "be sure, then go ahead" is to try it out on a piece of wood and measure it.

BLAMES RADIO FOR BREAKING GLASS.

FALLS CITY, Ore., Jan. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Joady Rhodes, of this city, blame vibrations from a radio loud speaker for breaking a large glass window.

At the time, the set was tuned for KFI, of Los Angeles, and just as one of the well-known Clark Sisters took a big "C" the glass split from top to bottom. The window was located 12 feet away from the radio set.

CLASSICS FADE.

"Classics may fade out of the air but jazz music never,' says an Ohio radio fan. "I have one complaint to make of my set. When it is tuned for a little symphony orchestra it sometimes fades and one of those infernal jazz bands creeps in. It never loses a jazz band; instead fading jazz becomes plainer and plainer."

DEFINITION OF "HALF PEOPLE".

A headline reads "statistics show an automobile for every four and one half people in this city." Probably the "half people" are the pedestrians who have been run over.

HOW TO MAKE A GASOLINE MEASURING GAUGE.

It is difficult to make a measuring gauge for a round or oval gasoline tank. But a very easy method is to empty the tank, then pour in two gallons of gasoline at a time, measuring and marking the stick for each two gallons. This requires but little trouble and is worth while.

TIPS—AND TAPS.

CLEANING COMMUTATOR.

When the commutator becomes worn and dirty, it may be smoothed by taking a strip of fine sand cloth, same width as a commutator. Place this strip driectly under the brush (not to one side), make it encircle the commutator as far as possible, and then pull it back and forth until the commutator is clean and smooth. It must be held firmly. Don't try to hold the sand cloth with finger or with a block of wood while the armature is rotated; this would cause an uneven surface, and the brushes will not fit properly.

After sanding, carefully clean off all grit and dust, being sure to clean very thoroughly between the copper segments, then drop a small quantity of oil on a cheese cloth and polish.

PREVENTING CARBON.

A mixture of 85 per cent kerosene and 15 per cent denatured alcohol, if used regularly, will keep the cylinders clean. Warm the engine and pour a few tablespoonfuls of the mixture into each cylinder. Turn the engine over a few times by hand and then allow it to stand over night. The next morning start the engine in the usual manner.

The above method is not effective unless it is begun with a clean engine and repeated at frequent intervals, according to condition of engine.

Short Cuts

To increase volume use a Daven or similar power tube in the last step of audio amplification. Leave out the rheostat and incorporate a C battery of a size compatible with the B voltage used. The so-called hi-mu tubes will produce more volume when resistance-coupled amplification is used.

As socket prongs require lifting occasionally to insure good contact, cut a piece of panel material one-half inch wide and notch one end with a file so it may be slipped over the prongs when you want to bend them upward.

Howling or other microphonic noises usually are traced to audio tubes. Try shifting tubes about, closing the cabinet lid to shut off sound waves from the loud speaker or covering the offending tube with a piece of felt.

A combination drill and counter-sink is convenient when drilling panels, as the sink is located on the drill bit, doing its work after the drill has passed through the panel.

Keep batteries away from radiators or other sources of heat, as the blotting paper in the cells likely will dry up and cause an internal short.

BIG MUSICAL LIBRARY.

Equipping a musical library to meet the demands of aerial entertainment is a large task. The library of station KDKA represents an investment in excess of $5,000.

LAUDER BROADCASTS.

Harry Lauder is the latest artist to be won over by radio. Recently he broadcast a concert from station 2LO, London. Lauder sang for a half hour to the largest audience he has ever performed for.

WHADDYE DO SUNDAY?

Six nights a week the KFI, Los Angeles, radio operators are busy with their work at the station. Recently it came to light that they were spending their free nights in the technical rooms of other stations. Remember the old story about the motorman who rode around with his relief on his day off?

HIGHEST RADIO FEE.

Chaliapin the world-famous Russian basso is said to have received the largest sum ever paid a person for broadcasting a concert. The fee which Chaliapin received amounted to $5 250 when he broadcast an hour's concert from station 2LO London.

RULES OUT CHARGERS.

The city council of Zanesville O., has passed a law against the use of a battery charger of the vibrator type between the hours of 6 p.m. and 5 a.m. This ordinance was passed to prevent radio interference from that source.

RADIO COMMUNICATION.

Radio proved a boon in the flooded areas of Europe recently. When the inhabitants of Cannes, France, were cut off from the world 36 hours their only means of getting communication from the outside world was by listening to radio reports.

MUSICAL FIREMEN.

Many persons associate firemen with music only in connection with those two immortal ditties, "Fireman, Save My Child," and "Oh, For the Life of a Fireman." It's all wrong. Musical firemen in Milwaukee are now broadcasting regularly from station WHAD.

UNDERGROUND AERIALS.

Frank Schmidt and Harry Glover are conducting experiments to eliminate static by use of underground aerials and receivers. They have set up a complete radio receiving set in a cave near Tucson, Arizona, and have succeeded in reducing static about 50 per cent.

Good news to the DX hounds comes from station WRNY, New York City. A late hour program will be broadcast each Sunday morning from 1 to 2 a.m. Prominent artists will be featured each week.

The Radio Congressional Forum that was inaugurated at station WRC, Washington, in January, has proved to be an excellent method of introducing members of Congress to the citizens in all parts of the United States. The Forum is conducted every Saturday night and is broadcast by WRC and WJZ, New York.

Biographical Sketches

"We read our future history in the history of the past. Let us live, therefore, so that those who come after us will say that we did our best—and no man can do more.

"Those lives are noblest which are a record of plain and simple duties simply done. The most valiant of swimmers may fail to reach the ship, but his success lies in trying, and we rejoice at his example and in the fine quality of his courage. They only 'succeed' who play the game of life fairly, win or lose, and only on the wings of well-doing reach their place in the sun. Money cannot buy what poverty can win.

"Those whom fortune favors exceedingly owe that debt to fortune. Only the humble are truly great." —Grotius.

No. 4.
LIEUT.-COL. J. W. MILLER.

Malperghi, the Jew, said that men did not live ong enough but too long. He argued that but a small minority of humanity was well disposed, the great majority doing far more harm than good dur ng their lives and that the time would come when the selfish strain in man would demand pay for doing good and glory for being kind. Has the paid uplifter fulfilled this prophecy? Are we, after all, actuated by a humble desire to do our part and to do what good we can or by a business instinct which tells us that it pays? Unquestionably the argument is constantly put forward that it pays better to reform he prospective criminal than to punish the actual one. The sum total of human benevolence is developing into a theory of force, of compulsion and of commercial results.

In these days,

"He did good by stealth,
And blushed to find it fame"

is as much out of place as the statement of Christ that there is no way under Heaven by which men can be saved but by Him. But in the chaste and strictly modern language of the cover-page of The (Anglican) Churchman of a few years ago, "It is a lie to say that man cannot improve himself and lift himself up by his own efforts and by his own will and conscience." Men and women will be their own saviours nowadays. Our older people lived under a different sky and in a different atmosphere. It is reflected in their lives and activities.

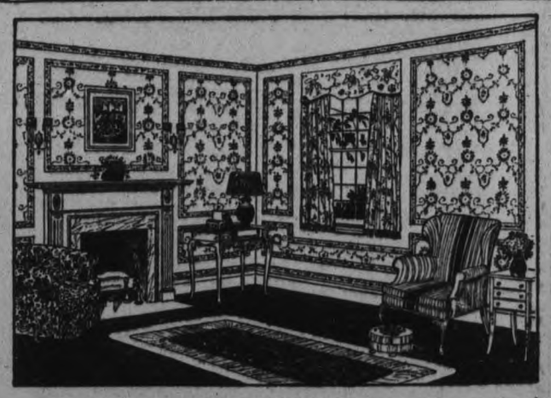
John Wesley Miller was born at Bowmanville, Ontario, 81 years ago. His father, John Miller, of County Donegal, married Mary Mills of County Dublin, Ireland, and migrated to Canada, establishing himself at Bowmanville where, as contractor, he built many of the churches of the district. The subject of our sketch was in the United States when the Civil War broke out and joined the Sixth United States Cavalry, of which he became ultimately senior non-commissioned officer. He saw a great deal of active service in the war and was in many of the chief and deciding battles. His first experience was at the first battle of Bull's Run. The troops on both sides were a bit new at the business and were by no means as steady as they might have been and some actually "ran." This fact, however, contrary to general supposition, has nothing to do with the name of the battle which derived its name from the fact that it was fought on the farm of a man by the name of Bull and along the banks of a creek called, in local parlance, a "run." So that the battle of Bull's Run was a contest that took place along the banks of a "run" on the farm of one, Bull.

The second battle of that name was a much more serious affair. After Antiebam, which the colonel pronounces with the accent on long "e" and not on the "i", as most of the uninitiated do, came Gettysburg,a tremendous and deciding battle, raging about a city of that name set in a valley with mountains on each side. Here, in a cavalry charge, Miller got his first serious wound, resulting from a sword-blow on the left side of the top of his head which would have resulted in his death had not the brass "eagle" that fastened the cap somewhat broken the force of the blow which knocked him off his horse. As it was, he had to spend a time in prison for he was then taken prisoner and a longer time in a military hospital into which he had been exchanged. His experience of the infamous Libby prison was a short one as it was full to overflowing and he was moved on. The battle of Fredericksburg was a "terrible one," as the colonel called it, but it is not so well known as others. When along opposite banks of the Rapahannock and in the absence of officers the soldiers of the north and south fraternised across the stream by giving tea and sugar for tobacco, &c. But that did not prevent an awful slaughter when the battle began. Similar things happened in the Great War at Christmas, 1914, until forbidden by the authorities. Virginia is a sandy state and when the troops were ordered into winter quarters it was not on account of the cold or the snow but because rains made the highways impassable. All army wagons were drawn by six mules and these were driven by a single rein, not by two or more.

An interesting fact and one which may explain some things is that the southerners "conscripted" their men, taking them by force after the manner of a press-gang, whereas in the north the "draft" was the method employed, men being taken as the drawer "drew" them. The latter was largely of a voluntary character, although neither army was made up and recruited by the volunteer system. His time having expired in 1864, Q. M. Sgt. Miller received his discharge, returning to Canada and entering the shoe-shop of Mr. Samuel White, Peterborough, going later into Mr. James Stenson's employ and finally setting up for himself. Lt.-Col. Miller has been a very active man in Peterborough life, becoming O. C. the 57th Regiment, with headquarters here, and District Grand Master of the Oddfellows, a society of which he has been a very energetic member.

The "colonel," as he is generally known, was, for four years, an alderman of this city and for many years a member of the Board of School Trustees. Few men have been more widely known by all classes and creeds throughout the district, and it is doubtful if any man has been more "popular" in the best sense of that term.

The Return of Panels



By ELIZABETH S. BRENNEN
Director of the Niagara Decorators' Service Bureau.

Panels have been a popular form of wall decoration for generations, but due to their tremendous expense when formed out of wood, only royalty could afford them in the early heyday of European monarchies.

Their scope of use was somewhat widened during the 18th Century when Watteau and Boucher were decorating the homes of the rich with beautiful, hand-painted scenic panels mounted in wooden frames. Gradually the cost has been reduced through economical evolution until now wallpaper paneling is the most popular decorative style of today.

This sudden increase in popularity is due to the introduction of the Applique Panel System, whereby a strip of combination stile and border are put over a wall completely covered with design. This greatly simplifies the work of paneling a room, and makes a flexible, versatile foil for the beautifying of almost any type of room, regardless of furnishings or construction.

With a little care and forethought, the average home-maker can now plot out her panels to fit her furniture with the assurance that it can easily be accomplished. There is only one rule—If you have some pieces of furniture of distinctive size or shape, be sure that your panels are so arranged that these outstanding pieces are centered on a panel.

Panels are a great boon to a room containing only a few pieces of furniture for they make the wall of sufficient interest to balance the furniture shortage. Take the illustration above—what a cold, formal room it would be without the panel treatment! As it stands, it seems tastefully and completely decorated, despite the fact that its furniture is scarce and unobtrusive—the panels have made the room live!

A new daily feature has been added to the programs of KPO, San Francisco. Henry Halstead and his orchestra are conducting a daily dance program which is broadcast by this station.

Mind moves matter.
—Vergil.

AUTO OF FUTURE TO BE SMALLER, MORE POWERFUL

Present Day MotorVehicle Shown To Be Imperfect and Inefficient.

NEED SUPERCHARGER.

May Develop Small Engine To Operate on Heavy Fuel Oil.

By ISRAEL KLEIN
Science Editor NEA Service.

How utterly inefficient and far from perfect the modern automobile is, has been brought out as never before, at the recent annual meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers at Detroit.

There, engineers stripped the automobile of its glamour and prestige and revealed a canon need of many refinements and improvements to make it a comfort and pleasure in driving.

Some of the topics discussed at this meeting are included in the following paper presented at Detroit:

1. A supercharger for automobile engines, which would not only increase the power of the engine, but will result in higher engine torque at low speed, providing greater power from the same piston displacement, greater flexibility and therefore improvement of the present transmission system.

Possibility of Heavier Fuel.

Size of the engine could be reduced to that required for normal conditions on level roads, with the supercharger assuring the necessary reserve power for hill climbing and acceleration. The engine could be run at maximum efficiency speed and the heat generated by the compressor, with the centerfugal and pulverizing effect of the air blast on the fuel, would result in better mixture distribution with the present motor fuel and the possibility of using heavier fuels successfully.

2. Operation of cars at low temperatures is being studied at the Dodge factory, where a special refrigerated laboratory has been built.

3. Different summer and winter fuels were suggested by J. O. Eisinger of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, to obtain about the same engine starting performance in cold as well as in warm weather.

4. Color harmonies are being studied, and the somber black and dark blue finishes are being replaced by lifelike, yet dignified, hues.

Small Heavy Fuel Engine.

5. Squealing brakes are being replaced by drums of more durable type and an adjustment that gives more uniform clearance, for quiet action.

6. Permanent, fadeless pigments for auto paints are being tested by various paint manufacturers, for better car coloring.

7. Development of a small, light weight engine to run on heavy fuel oil, instead of gasoline, was announced at the Detroit meeting of the S. A. E., by A. C. Attendu, a consulting engineer of Montreal. One of these experimental engines is being tested by the U. S. Navy Department for aviation.

8. Vapor, or constant temperature, cooling—otherwise termed steam-cooling—is seen shortly to reduce engine cooling troubles.

Thus we may expect an entirely different type of automobile in the near future, from the kind we're use to driving around these days. An automobile that will give us much less, if any, trouble, that will save fuel costs, that will be much easier to control, more comfortable and more durable.

It will have power and speed—especially power at the low speeds, where power is most needed. It will be smaller. And it may not cost as much as the present car, with all its crudities.

WHAT BROADCASTERS ARE DOING.

S. L. Rothafel, popularly known as "Roxy" to thousands of radio fans, played a farewell concert to his radio audience from station WEAF, New York City. "Roxy and His Gang" will not be heard again by radio until the opening of the Roxy Theater next autumn.

Referee Toby Irwin stopped the fight because of the latter's holding tactics.

SINCLAIR LAIRD ISSUES CHALLENGE

Dean Sinclair Laird of MacDonald College has agreed to back up his recent statement to the press that persons desiring can make a comprehensive trip across Canada and back for no more than $330 by chartering a special train for the purpose of accommodating all those who may be inclined to accept his challenge. He avers that the trip, which provides for stop-overs at all points of interest between Toronto and Victoria, westbound via the Okanagan Lake and eastbound by the main line, including rail and water transportation, meals, accommodation and all other expenses can be made as comprehensive as could possibly be desired, and he is prepared to accept the amount stated, $330, as a blanket charge for all expenses.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, which is interested in several all-expense tours this season, is acting as his booking agent. Dean Laird plans to leave Toronto July 19. The route he has planned is via Port Arthur and Fort William, Winnipeg Beach, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Banff, to Windermere across the

The Greatest Electric Range Improvement ever made—the New Element—SPEEDIRON

HERE is an achievement which gives the McClary's Electric Range undisputed leadership over all Electric Ranges.

diron Element overcomes all the weakon to open elements and combines the f protected elements.

Removed tantly

s new Element—an be removed in two—no bolts, re connections to lift it up—that's smooth top cooking surface without s or exposed wires that water or grease or "muck up."

use the smooth top of a McClary's ge with Speediron Elements just as you d-fashioned cook stove—it cannot be pots or pans or knocks or spills.

Lifetime Service Coils—Easily Renewed

As durable as iron protection can make it, with coils that last much longer than coils in open elements, because they are not exposed to accidents and can be easily and inexpensively replaced should they burn out.

In a moment, by removing one bolt in the unit, the burnt out coil is exposed and may be replaced—almost as easily as a burnt out bulb in a lamp socket.

Come and See It

If you have an Electric Range you will want to see this new, splendid improvement, because you know all about Electric Range troubles now. If you are going to buy an Electric Range you should see the Speediron Element in McClary's Electric Range—the trouble-proof Element. The Speediron Element is now on view at all leading dealers. Come and see it—today

The Protected Element Now Perfected

Trouble-Proof—Spill-Proof—Damage-Proof

—Removable
—Renewable —Durable
—Reliable
—Simple
—SPEEDY

McClary's Electric Range

SPEEDIRON—the Element without an "if"

101

For Sale by Utilities Commission, City Buildings Simcoc St.

MONTREAL TEAM IN PITTSBURGH FOR FIRST GAME

First Encounter in N. H. L. Elimination Finals This Evening.

BOTH TEAMS FIT.

No Odds Either Way — Teams Even on a Season's Hockey.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 20 (Canadian Press)—The seat sale indicates that Duquesne Gardens will be jammed to the rafters tonight when the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Montreal Maroons play the first game of their series for the right to contest the National Hockey League championship series with the Ottawa Senators. The second game will be played at the Montreal Forum Tuesday, total goals to decide the winner. Cooper Smeaton and Jerry Laflamme will officiate.

Interest in tonight'rs contest is intense, with even money ruling among those who would speculate on the outcome. In their six league games the teams have won three each, two on home ice and one away. There is no advantage in their scoring records, which show they have each scored ten goals against each other.

Although playing their first season in professional company, the Pirates harve acquitted themselves like veterans and the local supporters are confident they will take the measure of their more seasoned opponents. However, the Pirates are not strange to championship playoffs, having seen considerable service as the Yellow Jackets in the United States Amateur League.

Arrived Friday

On the other hand, Eddie Gerard, veteran of many Stanley Cup campaigns, who arrived with his puck chasers from New York yesterday is equally confident that the Maroons will secure an advantage in goals tonight, and cinch the series in the game at Montreal. The Montreal team were reported in good condition, and sufered no disastrous effects from the Donnybrook in Madison Square Garden on St. Patrick's night. Captain Duncan Munro has benefitted from his layoff owing to illness, and will be back in the line-up.

The regular sextettes will be in position when the teams face off. Clint Benedict, another Stanley Cup veteran, will guard the Montreal net, with Munro and Reg Noble in front of him. Nelson Stewart, voted the league's most valuable player, and also the leading sharpshooter will be a centre, flanked by Punch Broadbent, of world's series fame, and Babe Seibert.

Worters, the diminutive goalie, will start, and the local defence will comprise Lionel Conacher and Roger Smith. Hib Milks will face off with Stewart and Darragh and Drury will be on the wings.

Both teams have a plentiful supply of substitutes.

The records of the teams this season:

Montreal at Pittsburgh, Montreal won, 4-2.

Pittsburgh at Montreal, Montreal won, 1-0.

Pittsburgh at Montreal, Montreal won, 4-1.

Montreal at Pittsburgh, Pittsburg won, 2-1 (overtime).

Montreal at Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh won, 1-0.

Pittsburgh at Montreal, Pittsburgh won, 4-0.

U. S. WOMEN'S TEAM.

Chosen For Wimbledon Tennis Meet.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 20 (Canadian Press) — Selection of a United States women's team consisting of Helen Wills, Elizabeth Ryan, Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup and Mary K. Browne to compete in international matches in England and France this summer was announced Friday by the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, Eleanor Goss, of New York, is named as alternate.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn soft corn or corn between the toes, and foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

BASEBALL SCORES IN TRAINING CAMPS

EXHIBITION GAMES
(By Canadian Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19—The score:

Pittsburgh (N.)	8	7	1
San Francisco (Coast)	3	7	2

Brown, P. Morrison and Smith, Spencer; Williams, Lang, Crockett and Yell, Agnew.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—The score:

Minneapolis (A.A.)	5	9	2
San Antonio (Tex.)	5	11	4

Malone, Moon, Harros and Krueger, Byler; McCall, Ward and Wirts, Mitze.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 19.—The score:

St. Louis (N.)	9	7	2
Houston (Tex.)	4	7	4

Mails, Rinehart and O'Farrell, Vick; Pipkin, Steily, Coggin, Robinson and Burns, Goff, Walker.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 19—The score:

Washington (A.)	8	12	2
Philadelphia (N.)	7	12	1

Ogden, Marberry, Morrill and Tate; Decatur Munn, Ulrich and Jonnard, Wendell.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19.—The score:

New York (A.)	6	14	0
Boston (N.)	6	14	1

Twelve innings.

FORT MEYERS, Fla., March 19—The score:

Buffalo (I.)	4	14	0
Philadelphia (A.)	5	10	2

Brice, Chase and Useman, Hill; Pate, Romell, Willis and Cochrane.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 19.—The score:

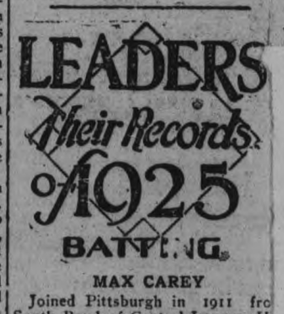
Cleveland (A.)	1	9	0
Cincinnati (N.)	3	9	2

Shaute and L. Sewell; Mays and Hargrave.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 19.—The score:

Chicago (A.)	9	15	3
Forth Worth (Tex.)	8	13	1

Thomas, Edwards, Connally and Grabowsky; Walkup and Moore, Smith.



Who Is Your Favorite?

Boys! Here's your chance!

Here's a competition you can all get in.

Write two hundred words about your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey Team, Champions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The prize winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given to the team in recognition of its splendid work this season.

This is the idea. The Petes have brought to this city the first Senior Championship it has ever had. They deserve all kinds of credit. Every boy on the team did his share. But you have your favorite—maybe you think he plays smarter hockey than the others; or he may skate better; or he may be merely better looking. Whatever your reason, write it out in not more than 200 words, and send it to "The Contest Editor, The Examiner," observing these simple rules:

(1) Open only to boys of 17 or under.

(2) Accuracy, penmanship, composition and neatness count.

(3) Contest closes at midnight, March 27.

(4) Pictures of the players will be run every day, without names. Clip out the picture of your favorite and paste it on a sheet of paper with his name written carefully under it. Pin this to your 200 word story or essay.

(5) A coupon, properly filled in and signed by a parent or guardian, must accompany every entry.

A committee of prominent citizens will be asked to decide the winner, and in case of dispute the Editor's decision will be final.

The date of the banquet will be announced later.

Clip out this Coupon and attach it to your essay.

FAVORITE HOCKEY PLAYER CONTEST

My Name .....

My address .....

My Favorite Hockey Player.....

The above contestant is.....years of age.

.....(Parent or Guardian)

AL TYSON WILL HELP NEW YORK

Manager McGraw Also Regards Pitching Staff Stronger This Season.

GROH LOOKS GOOD.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 20 (Canadian Press) — Fortified with stronger pitching and the addition of Al Tyson in the outfield, the New York Giants face the 1926 National League campaign with excellent pennant prospects, in the opinion of Manager John McGraw.

"Pittsburgh, of course, is the team we will have to beat," said McGraw, "but I regard the St. Louis Cardinals as a contender."

"We are stronger in pitching than we were last year," the veteran Giant chieftain continued, "and for that matter stronger than for many years past. Tyson, the Louisville centre fielder, will help us.

"These two factors sum up our added strength so far as I can count with an certainty. Our team should at least be as stout this year as last. Jackson seems to be all right. His knee has given him no trouble at all so far in training. Groh looks good this year. His bad knee seems to have come around. He is giving Lindstrom a close battle for the third base position. I have not yet made up my mind who will play the bag. Groh, with his experience, will, of course, have the edge, if his knee is strong."

"The most promising young pitcher I have in camp is Fay Thomas, the college boy from Southern California.

"Kelly will play first straight through."

CURLING NEWS.

LAKEFIELD, March 20. — The following game was played on Thursday, March 18th, when the four Harrys challenged any other rink to play:

Harry Rink.	All Stars.
Harry Kidd	J R Northey
Harry Wannamaker	R Murduff
Harry Fitzgerald	B Q Dench
Harry Armstrong	J J McFadden
Sk..... 9	Sk..... 7

Inside Sporting Dope

By A Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, the hockey grind is all over and we'll halfta to be satisfied with the senior Ontario championship and the reputation of being the best team in the O.H.A. for this season, which is a neat bunch of laurels for any man's team. Me and the rest of the bunch is not sorry it's finished, because we're getting a chance to get acquainted with our families again, meet the new folks which has come to town in the past couple of months and catch up with the community scandal. What with travelling and a hockey match every other night, some of the boys are beginning to forget the names of the streets here, and if Doc Holloway hadn't of made a pilgrimage to some of the games it's likely they would have failed to remember who is Mayor of Peterboro.

The Petes went down fighting in this Varsity serious. They was all in, some of them sick, and they never had no chance to win, but anyway, they refused to throw up the sponge anywhere along the route, and the town oughta to be proud of them. The stoodents is a great team. Of course, any guy with 2 sound legs looks good in a race with a bird on crutches, but making all allowances for that, them collegians sure have class everywhere. This fiery headed Mister Porter which is built on the general lines of a lighthouse swings down the ice so fast that you imagine you smell smoke as he goes by, and Mister Plaxton and Mister Trottier on the forward line is real hockey players every ounce of them.

WHAT MIGHTA HAPPENED.

What woulda happened if the Petes and the stoodents had collided 2 weeks ago? I don't know the answer to that, but I do know that I sure woulda liked to have seen them 2 games. They'd been full of hockey fireworks, and it's a safe bet Mister Louie Hudson wouldn't have had no time to pull his prima donna stuff.

The 2 games this week was refereed by remote control by Mister Lou Marsh. Mister Marsh called them as he seen them, but the trouble was he didn't see many to call, but anyway, you gotta hand it to him. He had a coupla columes write up of each game, which is a real stunt for a guy which didn't see none of the play.

By the way, Mister Sporting Editor, did you think you could sell for me a French dictionary cheap. You see, when there was a chance that the Petes might play in Montreal I started brushing up my French, thinking I might need it down there. It would be a bitter disappointment for a guy to wonder into a place and find the soda fountain clerk didn't savey any English. Still, they say they ain't no reason why a fellow should die of thirst in Montreal even if he didn't know no French.

A UNFAIR SCHEDULE.

They is a lotta discussion about the way the Allan Cup schedule worked out this season. It don't seem a fair shake for them collegians to step in fresh as paint against a team which has had to battle all the way down the stretch. The Petes never had a chance in this serious, and by the same token the O.H.A. champions is going to be handicapped every year just the same so long as the Intercollegiate serious is just a romp for its winners, while the Ontario schedule is a long steady grind. A O.H.A. team to come through and capture the Allan Cup is going to need about 12 good players instead of a bare 8 or 9, and even them is going to be at a disadvantage.

It's been a long, hard season for the boys, which has been playing hockey since the end of November, and there ain't no 1 in the bunch which ain't glad the strain is over. The Petes was the cock of the walk in the O.h.A. this season, and for the 1st time in the old town's history the senior championship was won, so that it can be wrote down as 1 of the best campaigns in history, and the honours which the City Council is preparing has been earned.

Anyway, the ball players will be tossing the pill round in a few weeks, and it's time to put away the skates and hang up the hockey outfits. The Peterboro Central Leaguers is beginning to look longingly at the old mit again, and 1 of these days, if there is a bare spot of ground anywhere, you is liable to see Mister Jimmy Hall and Mister Jeff Hardill out there with a baseball. Them birds is so keen to get at it that they'll go out on snowshoes soon if the snow don't melt.

THE BASEBALL OUTLOOK.

So far the Central League has only 3 teams. Oshawa, which found a Kitty-bar-the-door reception from the T.A.B.a., has not done nothing since, but they may yet be found back in the old loop, while Belleville and Kingston is getting ready for the fray. Mister Dainty is located in Kingston and Mister Oulette is in Belleville, whether attending business college or not ain't yet been announced. Mister Al. Tyson has taken himself from Oshawa to Galt and Mister Toots Ward is a Kitcheneret now. Otherwise the Central roosters look about the same as ever.

All the disappointments in Florida is not found in real estate. Mister Frankie Whitehouse, which has been eating oranges fresh from the tree, catching tarpon fresh from the sea and mingling with ball players fresh from the sticks as a member of Mister Johnny Dunn's Baltimore Orioles, has been let out by the International Leaguers. The Peterboro youngster thus finds himself out of baseball because, of course, he cannot come back into the amateur ranks. It was a tough break for the young lefthander.

Well, Mister Sporting Editor, they ain't much left to say, but reservoir just now.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

D. AND O. LEAGUE HAS GOOD TEAMS

Strong Entries Being Made By Various Lakeshore Clubs.

COBOURG, March 20.—It looks as if the Durham and Ontario Baseball League will have a strong League the coming season. It is rumoured that the Oshawa Central League club which was refused admittance in the Toronto groups, will make an entry in the Durham and Ontario League, probably as the "Red Sox."

Bowmanville Baseball Club has made application to the League to be known as the "Bowmanville Canadian Nationals". They have raised about $200 by public subscription, and the team will be in good shape financially.

With the other lakefront entries it appears as if the D. and O. League will be a strong one the coming season.

N.H.L. FINAL STANDING.

Result of Season of Thirty-six Games.

MONTREAL, Que., March 20 (Canadian Press) — The following official standing of the teams of the National Hockey League at the end of the playing season is given out by President Frank Calder:

	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.
Ottawa	24	8	4	77	42	52
Montreal	20	11	5	91	73	45
Pittsburgh	19	16	1	82	70	39
Boston	17	15	4	92	85	38
New York	12	20	4	68	89	28
St. Pats	12	21	3	92	114	27
Canadiens	11	24	1	79	108	23

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

JIM BARNES—PRACTICE FIRST WITH MASHIE

The best results will be obtained by the beginner if he will start with a mashie, playing short chip shots first, and maybe doing a little practice with the putter. Lessons along th's line ought to be kept up two or three times a week for at least two months.

My belief is that in this way the player acquires a better sense of distance and hence better control. Also he is more likely to acquire a smooth swing than he would if he starts trying to play full shots from the first.

I have noticed that players who begin by trying to play full shots may acquire some skill in hitting the ball with wooden clubs, but they are almost invariably bad when it comes to anything like control, and this applies both as to distance and direction.

There is another angle. In spite of the important part the short game plays, the average golfer takes a much keener pride in his long game, and if he neglects the shorter shots in starting, he will find it harder and harder to concentrate on the shorter shots. The ball may often run up to the hole very prettily—and stop outside.

(Copyright, 1926.)

SOCCER NOTES

QUAKERS TO ENTER

At a special meeting of the Quakers Soccer Club last evening held in the plant building, a resolution was carried "That the Quaker Football Club enter the senior league of the P. and D.F.A.; also a special meeting of all soccer fans be held next Wednesday to elect officebearers for the ensuing season." The Quakers are the Peck Cup holders. The above resolution upsets the rumor that they would not have an eleven this year.

LOSE GAME BUT CAPTURE ROUND

Port Arthur Cup Holders To Represent West in Finals Again.

BEAT REGINA.

PORT ARTHUR, Mar. 20 (Canadian Press)—Coming through last night one of the toughest gruellings of their career, the Port Arthur hockey team are again champions of Western Canada and once more qualified to play in the Allan Cup finals. Their position was made secure when they held the Regina team to a 2 to 1 score, which added to the figures for the first game gave them the round by a total of 7 to 5.

The game developed into a tough battle for the reason that the ice was soft and sticky, thereby preventing the Ports from using their customary system and at the same time giving the big and husky Regina team an opportunity to drive home a slap bang offensive that required little care from a defensive point because it was for them a case of risk everything to win all.

With a three goal lead from the first game the Ports from the opening played a careful style of hockey and it was noticeable in the first period that they practically never went over the blue line but contented themselves with hurling shots at Cunning from outside the defence.

HOCKEY SCORES.

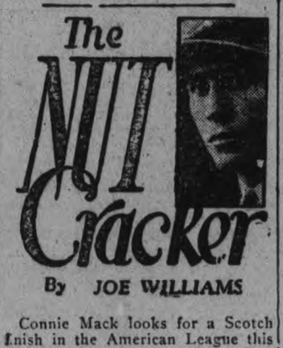
Hockey games played on Friday resulted as follows:

Allan Cup Semi-final

Regina 2; Porth Arthur 1.
(Pt. Arthur wins round 7 to 5)

Junior Western Canada

Calgary Can. 3; Winnipeg T. T. 3.
(Calgary wins round 6 to 5)



Connie Mack looks for a Scotch finish in the American League this year .....In other words, a close race.

Tris Speaker's hair is getting grayer and grayer every day .....

Pretty soon he'll be eligible for Landis' job.

Mr. Charles Hoff, the Norwegian pole-vault champion, wants to be a sports writer .....A man has to be crazy to be a pole-vaulter, or a sports editor, either.

Despite the fact that it will cut deep into his dancing, Harry Greb, we note, has agreed to take another shot at Tiger Flowers.

One of the mysteries of he age is how Palm Beach ever got to be a fashionable center when it is too hot to wear raccoon coats there.

Mark Marquette of Milwaukee postcards this one: "Say, nut, has our mutual friend, the Pie-Eyed Kapper told you yet about the canny Scot who paid 10 cents for a scorecard at a football game and ended his life when the game resulted in a scoreless tie?"

And Dr. Maxmillian Wiseman, well known in tony medical circles, sponsors this one:

Guest in a hotel goes to the phone and asks the girl if Red Grange is in the house.

"Who?" she asks.

"Red Grange," he repeats. "Send him up. I need some ice."

They have a great sense of humor in Florida....Rocky Kansas was introduced to a Tampa fight crowd the other nights as the lightweight champion of the world and everybody applauded.

It is not hard to recall the day and date of Custer's last fight, but who can remember Dempsey's last one?

John D. Rockfeller cut six strokes off his score the other day....This indicates either his counting or his golf is improving.

Babe Ruth is chasing flies in the spring camp with an eye shade on

....That's nothing, we've seen players chasing 'em who looked as if they had blinders on.

As the reformers write it: "A woman is only a woman but a good cigar is a crime."

THREE PERIODS OF OVERTIME IN CAMPBELLFORD WERE SCORELESS

Hydro and Outlaws, Town League Finalists, Battled 90 Minutes.

SCORE WAS 4-4.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 20. — The Hydro and Outlaws played ninety minutes of thrilling, and at times, spectacular hockey, at Covert's Arena Thursday night, and the tired and leg-weary athletes left the ice with the Town League championship still undecided.

The score was 4 to 4, with all the goals scored in the regulation playing time; neither team was able to register in the thirty minutes' overtime.

There was little to choose between the teams. They appear as evenly matched as possible, and in the four games they have faced each other, three of them have resulted in tie scores, the Hydro getting the decision in the other in overtime. The Hydro were without Cecil Watt, who was injured in the last game, and the Electric boys missed the clever wing player. Jack Cowell came on the ice with his face swathed in bandages, the result of sulphuric acid burns while refilling a fire extinguisher, and when Cowell and Blue collided at the end of the first overtime period, Jack was carried off the ice, and was unable to return.

After a rather bad start both goalers settled down and made many sensational saves, when a score looked certain. Defensively, the Hydro pair, Art Brown and Badgley, had a margin over Sargin-son and Jack Brown, on the Outlaw defence, but the persistent backchecking of Blue, McArthur and Copperthwaite offset any advantage the Hydro had there. Up in front, the Outlaws failed to take advantage of their superior speed. They roamed all over the ice, and never attempted combination, while the Hydro forwards took advantage of every opportunity for a raid on the Outlaw net, and their shooting was better. It would be hardly fair to pick out any particular star in a game where every man gave all he had, but Johnston's performance was brilliant. He had as much speed as any man out there, backchecked every Outlaw in possession of the puck, and was very dangerous on the attack.

The largest crowd of the season (they are getting larger every game) was kept in a frenzy by the spectacular rushes of the players of both teams. Little combination was attempted on either side, and the checking was very close. The Outlaws were the first to score, Copperthwaite shoving the puck across the blue line, after a scrimmage in front of the Hydro net.

Cowell evened up shortly after, when he raced down the left boards and shot from the side. Art Brown put the Hydro ahead when he broke up an Outlaw rush, carried down the centre, and beat Stewart from twenty feet out. Brown repeated the same play a minute later, and the Hydro were two goals up. Just before the period ended Jack Brown beat Saunders from the blue line, and it looked like a bad night for the goalers, but they settled down in the second period, and goals were very scarce for the rest of the game. Johnston was waiting in front of the net for Cowell's nice pass and tipped it in for the Hydro's last goal. Half-way through the period, McArthur counted for the Outlaws, and the period ended 4 to 3 for the Hydro.

The Outlaws evened the score five minutes after the third period got under way, on a clever individual effort by Blue. He raced down the right boards, circled the net, and slipped the rubber in between Saunders' skate and the post.

Both teams cut out a fast pace to secure the winning goal, but the players checked very close, and the goalies refused to be beaten. The three overtime periods were a repetition of the last regular period, although the last five minutes of the final overtime was very tame. The boys of both teams had skated themselves into exhaustion, and the end of hostilities was very welcome to all. The game was clean, despite the close checking, the Hydro drawing seven penalties and the Outlaws four, all for minor offences.

The teams:

Hydro—Goal, Saunders; r. defence, Badgley; l. defence, A. Brown; centre, Nesbitt; r. wing, Johnston; l. wing, Cowell; sub., Beatty.

Outlaws—Goal, Stewart; r. defence, Sarginson; l. defence, J. Brown; centre, Blue; r. wing, Copperthwaite; l. wing, McArthur; sub., Coulter.

Officials—Reynolds and Ingram

WORTH IN SPORT KNOWING

Paul Berlenback, light heavyweight champion, started his professional ring career in fitting fashion.

In his first 23 battles Berlenbach won 19 by knockouts, the 10 initial ones coming in a row. Five came in the opening round. He was twice held to draw, once by Augie Ratner, the other time by Young Stribling. Johnny Gill fought him 10 sessions in no-decision affair.

Berlenbach met his only reverse against Jack Delaney. The French-Canuck kayoed Paul in four rounds, much to the surprise of the fistic fraternity. The defeat came a few months after Berlenbach had turned pro in 1923.

WATER SUPPLY IS FOUND PURE

Fears of Campbellford Citizens Are Set at Rest.

PECULIAR TASTE.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 20. — When the new High school was completed the Board of Education, in order to get an adequate supply of drinking water for the pupils, drilled a well through solid rock, a distance of 35 feet, and the water so obtained was piped into all parts of the building.

Some citizens, who have attended entertainments in the auditorium o fthe school and who refreshed themselves at the drinking taps, complained that the water had a peculiar taste and questioned its purity, although the teachers and students had been drinking it without physical injury for nearly two years.

In order to set all doubts at rest, Chairman O'Sullivan of the Board of Education, asked John Gay, chairman of the Board of Health, to have a sample of the water analyzed and this was done.

G. Murray Fraser, director of the branch laboratories at Peterborough, who made the analysis, has sent in a report which says the sanitary quality of the water as indicated by the test is good so that any one may drink it with perfect safety.

In order to maintain this sanitary condition, the water is not allowed to stagnate in the pipes, but is kept in constant circulation by a contrivance that was invented by the caretaker, James Massie.

NORWOOD NEWS.

NORWOOD, March 20.—Miss Martha Dickson of Peterboro was a guest at the home of Mrs. Hugh Robb on Thursday.

Mr. Robert Lennox of Lakefield was in the village through the week attending the funeral of his aunt, the late Mrs. James Ross.

Mrs. H. Hartle who has been vistiing friends in the village left on Tuesday to spend a few days in Minden, before leaving for Florida, where she will reside in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram (nee Geogie McLean of Campbellford were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. E. McLean.

Mrs. D. N. King of Peterboro is the guest of her daughter, Miss Katie Edwards.

Mrs. Isaac Puffer visited in Havelock with her son during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Buchanan of Toronto were recent guests of Norwood friends.

Mr. and Mrs. P. McInroy of Ivanhoe were in the village during the week, attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. Ross.

Mr. John Parker has rented his farm in Dummer to Mr. Mossum Golloher and has taken up his residence on King street, Norwood.

Mrs. Towns of Peterboro is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Golloher.

Miss Gwen Colbone of Toronto spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Roxburgh.

Miss Madeline Ferguson was the guest of Havelock friends over the week end.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Travel the "NATIONAL"

TORONTO
WINNIPEG
and all Western Points

WITH the unique service, modern equipment and fast schedule, is it any wonder that "The National" gives an entirely new conception of railway travel.

Make your next Western trip via "The National", leaving Toronto every evening at 8.45 for Winnipeg and the West.

Compartment—observation—library car, (Radio equipped)—standard and tourist sleeping cars.

Information and reservations from

J.B. DORAN
324 George St. Phone 259
Depot Phone 136

CAPITOL THEATRE

Last Times Tonight, 7 and 9

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in

"DON Q" - Son of Zorra

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

McNABB'S SPRING FASHION SHOW

Evenings Only

Fashion's Latest for Milady, Charmingly Exhibited by Charming Models

SPECIAL MUSICAL SETTING

Added Attraction

BLANCHE SENIOR

Lyrica Soprano, in Songs of the Day

Matinees and Evenings

—ALSO—

CAPITOL POPULAR PRICES

Moviegraphs

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20—"I'd rather be a good villain than a bad leading man," epigrams William Powell, home-wrecker, heart-breaker and general bad man of the movies. He is the wicked baby who makes flappers shriek for the safety of their beloved heroes.

Just as the Boy Scout has his daily good deed, so does Powell have his daily bad one. This actor actually enjoys his bloody villainy. He is not pining for the day when he will be the hero and have a waxen-haired mamma lolly-popping on his shoulder. Bill tried hero-ing once and it didn't appeal to him.

Because of the delicate suavity with which he plots crimes while picking his teeth Bill is elevating cinema villainy into the fine arts division. No other crusader in behalf of the bad-men has done so much to ennoble this profession.

* * *

Some of the outstanding heavy characterizations rebound to Powell's credit. He brought George Eliot's immortal and infernal "Tito" to the screen in the film interpretation of "Romola." This was the outstanding part of the picture which was slated to contribute further laurels to the dizzy halo encircling Lillian Gush, pardon me, I mean Lillian Gish.

In "The Beautiful City" Powell made the star, Richard Barthelmess, look like a minor player struggling to get a foothold in the film world. Powell has also sprinkled a liberal potion of menace in "The Bright Shawl," "Sea Horses" and "Desert Gold."

The latter picture has just been finished by Paramount and will soon be released. Powell believes that he has outvillained himself in this one. As Chaplin, Barrymore and Ingram would say: "It is by this one that I wish to be remembered—until I make another one."

* * *

Alice Calhoun is the only motion picture star who invests the money she earns from acting in the exhibiting end of films. She owns and manages two theaters in Hollywood and is planning to build a third.

* * *

Ethel Clayton and Theda Bara, old-time stars, are coming back—coming back but not in the pomp and glory to which they are rightfully entitled. Short-skirted flappers have pushed them aside and a fastidious public has adopted them as the reigning thing.

Ethel and Theda are working in slap-stick comedies at the Hal Roach studio. There was a time, and not so long ago, when it would have been blasphemy to have even offered two such stars a job in comedies. But now they are glad to get such an offer.

* * *

A nickel's worth of lead—a cheap bullet from a 32—ended, at least temporarily, two million-dollar careers. An impulsive chauffeur with a hero-complex took a plunk at Edna Purviance's escort, Courtland Dines, one night at a party. Mabel Normand, the cinema goat, happened to be there, too. The scandal which resulted from this target practice by the chauffeur stopped both careers of these stars in the prime of their million-dollar apex.

* * *

Earle Metcalfe, decorated for bravery by America and France during the World War, when he was wounded by shrapnel while leading the 69th New York Infantry against the enemy, was recently cast in the rôle of a lame war veteran in "Love's Blindness." On the day Metcalfe was to have started his part he developed a limp from the old shrapnel wound and was sent to bed by his doctor.

"I'm glad I wasn't cast in a part in which I had to die," grinned Metcalfe as he was taken from the studio set.

THE J. M. GREENE MUSIC CO. LTD.

Authorized Westinghouse Dealers

Westinghouse Radiotrons

Radio tubes need renewal just like the oil or spark plugs in your motor. The New Westinghouse Radiotrons give greater volume and improved tone. Made for every type of Socket.

ASK YOUR DEALER

Made in Canada by CANADIAN WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY Hamilton, Limited Ontario

We handle a full line of Westinghouse Receiving Sets

DUFFUS MOTOR SALES

Water & Charlotte Sts. - Phone 1760

This sufferer literally covered with skin disease—15 years of suffering—then his whole body cleared off in 45 days—a new skin grows—no pain, no itching, no irritation.

This story seems incredible as do hundreds of other cases relieved by the powerful liquid for the treatment of skin diseases.

The first $1.00 bottle relieves you or your money back. Try D. D. D. soap, too.

McDermid & Jury, Druggists.
McDermid Drug Co., Ltd.
J. P. Bond, Druggist.
A. G. Harris.

A SLIPPERY SIDEWALK

Has nothing to do with a sluggish liver, but Parke's Livertone will correct this trouble by toning the liver in a healthy, normal action, and it is a great stomach medicine, relieving indigestion and keeping your stomach in good condition! 31 per bottle — Bond's Drug Store, George and Hunter Sts.

FORMER BAKER BEATS CHAMPION

Johnny Risk Batters Paul Berlenbach For Ten Rounds.

NOTHING AT STAKE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 20.—(Canadian Press).—Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, who pulled his hands out of a dough pan and pushed them into a pair of boxing gloves not so long ago, to-day threatens to put them back into dough of a greenish hue. The former baker, who considered himself too fat to fight for years, last night battered the light-heavyweight boxing champion, Paul Berlenbach, almost into insensibility in a ten-round scuffle at Madison Square Gardens. There was no championship at stake, but the contest was important in that Berlenbach was trying his art on the heavyweight ranks for the first time with the announced intention of reaching for the crown now owned by Jack Dempsey.

Berlenbach lasted through the fight with difficulty.

BOWLING

MERCANTILE LEAGUE.

At the Water street alleys last night Brintons put Bell Telephone out of the running by taking two out of three. Leo Martyn broke his own hight three record with 743 and also put in the league record single with 344. Shaughnessy had 702, with three games over 200. Lush had 677 for three.

Brinton Carpet—
Martyn	177	222	344	743
Killbrick	173	206	134	513
Leether	115	261	164	540
Shaughnessy	202	264	236	702
Anderson	175	172	105	452
Total	842	1125	983	2950
Bell Telephone —
White	144	114	175	433
Whitney	196	136	134	466
Long	158	164	121	443
Lush	263	204	210	677
Elliott	242	189	152	583
Total	1003	807	792	2602

CITY FIVE-PIN LEAGUE.

Skeeters put the fat in the fire at the Water Street alleys last night when they took two from the League leading Johnsons, and put Cressmans and Freeman very much into the running for the second series. Leo Martyn had high three with 643 and high single of 258.

Skeeters—
Jobe	133	139	140—	403
Williams	160	231	198—	589
Curtis	154	164	191—	509
Cripps	172	159	152—	483
Martyn	258	186	199—	643
	877	879	880—	2636
Johnson—
Holyman	171	136	139—	446
Metherall	144	205	96—	445
Jones	154	218	181—	553
Forler	171	234	175—	580
Green	161	177	240—	578

Freeman took three from Canadian Woollens at the Water Street alleys last night. Fox had high three with 745, and high singles were: Cordery 212, Hopkins 213, Curvin 210 and 246, Gimblett 215 and 237, Freeman 217 and 232, Fox 290 and 259.

Freeman—
Routley	154	147	153—	454
Fox	290	196	259—	745
Freeman	111	217	232—	560
Gimblett	215	120	237—	572
Curvin	210	246	168—	624
	980	926	1049—	2955
Canadian Woollens—
Weese	106	138	110—	354
Yeaman	170	146	186—	502
Hopkins	213	160	132—	505
Cordery	212	199	144—	555
Dummy	125	125	125—	375
	826	768	697—	2291

LADIES' MATINEE.

At the Water Street alleys yesterday Mrs. Niven started off the League with two wins from Mrs. Shaughnessy. Mrs. Niven had high three with 467, and Miss Fisher high single with 187.

Mrs. Niven—
Miss Fisher	100	148	187—	435
Miss Kimberly	122	99	156—	376
Mrs. Bredin	126	117	113—	356
Mrs. Niven	154	174	139—	467
	502	538	594—	1634
Mrs. Shaughnessy—
Mrs. Hayes	148	142	125—	415
Mrs. Fisher	147	94	81—	322
Mrs. Ferguson	124	143	156—	423
Mrs. Shaughnessy	131	105	128—	364
	550	484	490—	1524

AT K. OF C. ALLEYS.

At the Knights of Columbus' bowling alleys last evening, the ladies playing scheduled games were the Owls (Miss Katherine McDonald, captain), who took two games out of three from the Bluebells (Miss Gertrude Doyle, captain), and the Buttercups (Miss Margaret O'Toole, captain) who won two games from the Daisies (Miss Geraldine Collins, captain).

Of the Bluebells' team, Mrs. J. Legros had scores of 153 and 171, Miss Lynch 156 and Miss F. Winn 150. On the Owls' team: Miss Bogue 177, Miss Thomas 163 and Miss G. Kelly 160. Miss C. Kennealley of the Daisies' team made 164.

A REAL RECORD.

Grover Alexander of the Cubs has never had a losing season, though he's been pitching in the majors since 1911.

NORMALS WIN IN FINAL GAME

Score 18-17, But Time Is In Dispute—May Be Replay.

CUPS PRESENTED.

A large crowd gathered in the Y.W.C.A. Gymnasium last evening to witness one of the most exciting games of basket ball ever played at the "Y." The Normal School and the "Y" Seniors were competing for the Gordon and Harvey trophies, representing first and second place in the Ladies' Basketball League. The score stand; at 18—17 in favor of the Normals. Owing to a slight indecision as to time being called this may, however, result in another game being played.

Both teams showed fine sportsmanship and played a good hard game. Laura Cook, Enid Jones and Margaret Hopkins scored for the Normal team and Gertrude Gimblett and Dorothy Graham for the "Y" Seniors. Defence and centre players on both sides worked hard for their teams, and many times the defence saved a score being made. W. Perks was referee and A. McLeish and J. Baten umpired. The line-up was as follows:

Normals—Laura Cook and Enid Jones, forwards; Mary Breeze, centre; Rachael Arksey, side centre; G. Rablen and Marjorie Baker, defence; Margaret Hopkins, sub.

"Y" Seniors.—D. Graham and G. Gimblett, forwards; Irene Chambers centre; N. Francis, side centre; H. Jackson and V. Graham, defence.

After the game rousing cheers were given for both teams. The players and all members of the other teams in the league and the guests of the evening were then entertained by the girls to refreshments in the Green Room. Mrs. T. Cruikshank and Mrs. E. E. Harvey poured coffee at a table prettily decorated in green and white, yellow daffodils and St. Patrick's novelties. Misses M. Jory, M. Harvey, M. Turner and the "Y" Seniors assisted in serving.

Mrs. Cruikshank then spoke, complimenting both teams, and called on Mayor Holloway to present the cups. The Mayor mentioned that it was the first game of girls' basketball he had ever witnessed and how much he had enjoyed it. The Mayor thought the girls could easily win in even a game with the referees who were experts with the whistles.

In the Junior basketball series, the cup, donated by the De Lavals, Westclox and Canadian Woollens, was won by the girls of the Westclox, and Mayor Holloway called on Miss G. McIlwain, captain of the team, to receive it last night. Miss McIlwain thanked the league, and said how much the girls had enjoyed the games, and next year they hoped to be able to compete against the Normals.

Miss Cook, captain of the Normal team, spoke in appreciation of the friendship of all teams. Miss C. Littlefield, physical director of the "Y" also spoke, and announced a game between the "Y" Seniors and the Oshawa girls for Saturday at 8.30 in the Y.M.C.A.

MAN KILLED IN PAPER MACHINE

Hand Caught in Winder, Drawing His Head in After.

AT THOROLD.

THOROLD, March 20 (Canadian Press).—Thomas Joseph Rowan was instantly killed at the Beaverboard Factory, near Thorold, yesterday afternoon. He was employed as a back tender, and was putting paper through the winder on a board machine when his hand was drawn in, his head following. He died within three minutes after the accident. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. T. Rowan, and four small children.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Friends of Miss Hazel Wallbridge Bring Many Gifts.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. Allan Walbridge on Thursday evening of last week, when a miscellaneous shower was held for their daughter Hazel.

A large number was present, coming from Stanwood, Havelock, Blairton, Bonarlaw and Marmora. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts.

The evening was spent in cards and playing games.

The young couple who have the best wishes of all will reside in Marmora.

DEPEND ON GUTHRIE.

Ohio State is depending to a great extent on its sensation all-round star George Guthrie, in track and field competition this season. Guthrie is one of the best hurlers in the country and shines in some of the other events as well. He's captain of the Buckeye brigade.

SANTAL MIDY

PAIN of Bladder Weakness Relieved by SANTAL MIDY

Be sure it is the Genuine Look for the word "MIDY"

Sold by All Druggists

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 20 (Canadian Press).—Results in the semi-final round of the Scottish Football Association Cup competition played to-day were:

Aberdeen 1, Celtic 2 (played at Edinburgh).

St. Mirren 1, Rangers 0 (played at Glasgow).

Scottish League—First Division.

Celtic-St. Johnstone, not played.
Dundee U. 1, Airdrieonians 1.
Falkirk 1, Cowdenbeath 1.
Hibernians 2, Raith Rovers 0.
Kilmarnock 5, Hearts 1.
Morton 3, Hamilton Acads. 1.
Motherwell 2, Dundee 0.
Queen's Park 4, Clydebank 1.
St. Mirren-Rangers not played.
Partick 3, St. Johnstone 1.

Second Division.

Alloa 1, East Stirlingshire 0.
Bathgate 3, Clyde 7.
Bo'ness 2, Armadale 1.
Broxburn U. 1, Arthurlie 2.
Dumbarton 1, St. Bernards 0.
Dunfermline 2, Ayr United 1.
East Fife 4, Arbroath 0.
King's Park 3, Third Lanark 3.
Nithsdale W. 3, Stenhousemuir 1.
Queen of South 3, Albion R. 3.

English League—First Division.

Arsenal 1, Manchester City 0.
Aston Villa 2, Sheffield U. 2.
Bolton W.-Birmingham not played
Burnley 5, Sunderland 2.
Leicester C. 1, Cardiff C. 2.
Leeds U. 2, Blackburn Rovers 1.
Liverpool 1, Huddersfield Town 2.
Manchester United 0, Everton 0.
Newcastle United 0, Bury 0.
Notts County 0, West Bromwich 0.
West Ham U. 3, Tottenham H. 1.

Second Division.

Fulham 1, Hull City 1.
Middlesboro 3, Southampton 0.
Oldham Ath. 1, Clapton Orient 1.
Portsmouth 5, Notts Forest 1.
Preston N.-E. 6, Blackpool 4.
The Wednesday 0, Port Vale 2.
South Shields 2, Darlington 1.
Stockport County 0, Chelsea 0.
Stoke City 1, Barnsley 2.
Swansea T. 1, Bradford City 0.
Wolverhampton 2, Derby C. 0.

Third Division—Northern Section.

Accrington Stanley 2, Barrow 0.
Bradford 2, Doncaster Rovers 0.
Chesterfield 3, Southport 0.
Durham City 0, Ashington 0.
Grimsby Town 1, Wrexham 0.
Halifax T.-Nelson not played.
Hartlepool U. 0, Wiganboro 0.
Rochdale 2, New Brighton 1.
Rotherham U. 2, Coventry City 1.
Tranmere R. 2, Crewe Alexandra 0
Walsall 0, Lincoln City 0.

Third Division—Southern Section.

Bournemouth 0, Millwall 0.
Bristol Rovers 0, Bristol City 1.
Charlton A. 3, Northampton 3.
Exeter C. 0, South-End U. 1.
Gillingham 0, Aberdare Ath. 1.
Luton Town 4, Brentford 2.
Merthyr T. 0, Brighton & Hove 1.
Newport County 3, Watford 3.
Queen's Park Rangers 1, Crystal Palace 3.
Reading 2, Norwich City 0.
Swindon T. 2, Plymouth Argyle 0.

DREADED BOWLERS REVIEWED BY HOBBS

England's Cricket Hero Who Set Run Record Names Men He Feared to Face.

When J. B. Hobbs made cricket history in England and became the national hero last Summer with his marvellous record of centuries, the public probably would have scoffed had any one suggested that he was afraid of any bowler. However, in the Cricketer Annual, he writes an article entitled, "The Bowlers Whom I Have Dreaded." He says in part:

"The quality of the bowlers I have faced from time to time during my career in first-class cricket must, to some extent, be a matter of opinion, but I know the bowlers whom I found most difficult to play, and the one I place at the top of the list will no doubt surprise some people. He is Mr. J. W. H. T. Douglas, the Essex captain.

"Mr. Douglas has no great spin, but he has a swing either way which only reveals itself at the last moment that has always had a disturbing efefct on me. It is true that I have at times got quite a lot of runs when Mr. Douglas has been bowling, but, speaking from memory, I should say that few bowlers have got me out so often.

"Now, we hear a lot about the old spinning bowlers, and the lament that there are so few today in comtion, but I confess that I have always found the swinging bowler far more difficult than any 'spinner.' You get to know when a ball is being spun and which way it is being spun, and once you know that you can play accordingly and the bowler loses much of his sting.

"The difficulty with the swinging ball is that it 'ducks 'only at the last moment of its pitch, and there is nothing in the action of the bowler to tell you which way the delivery is going to swing. We have more swinging bowlers these days than spinners, but none has give me such tremors as Mr. Douglas, whose bowling is fastish and so well pitched up that you are afraid to make a stroke, as the ball either 'ducks' in or swings away at the last moment. For a considerable time with a new ball you simply dare not attempt to hit Mr. Douglas through the covers. Caught in the slips is the usual verdict. The swinging bowler also, generaly speaking, keeps a better length than the spinner.

"Other bowlers who used to trouble me considerably were Colin (Charlie) Blythe of Kent and E. Arnold of Worcestershire. No bowler is, of course, so deadly as the left-hand spinner on a rain-softened pitch, and Blythe, who had splendid command of spin, had many triumphs under such conditions. But what I think many people did not realize was that Blythe could not only spin and swing the ball but was remarkably clever in 'flighting' it, and to this I ascribe the fact that the Kent slow bowler was almost equally effective, compared with other bowlers, on a good hard wicket. On soft wickets he was sometimes unplayable. Arnold was one of the best fast medium bowlers of his day, and in some other teams where he would have been better supported his merits would have been more generally recognizd.

"We know there were great bowlers before this century came in, probably better than most of the best we have seen since. But Sydney Barnes, the greatest bowler of my time, was so great indeed that I can think of none to challenge comparison with him. He was superexcellent on any wicket and under any conditions. I have seen him perform such feats on the shirt-front wickets of Australia as to amaze the old-time cricketers of Australia who have played against the best bowlers we had sent with earlier teams, and I think if a plebiscite were taken of Australia cricket opinion qualified to judge, Barnes would take first place among all the bowlers seen down under.

"Maurice Tate may not be the equal of Sydney Barnes, but he is a very fine bowler, and he has arrived at a fortunate moment for England. He was, unquestionably, the best bowler that appeared in last Winter's Test matches in Australia, and if—as I believe—Australia takes a less hopeful view of the outcome of the Test matches next Summer, it is largely because our cousins in the Antipodes dread the effectiveness of the Sussex man."

TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT.

Ted Moore Given Decision Because of Norfolk's Holding Tactics.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 20 (Canadian Press).—Ted Moore, English middleweight, won a technical knockout over Kid Norfolk, negro light heavyweight, in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-found bout here last night, when Referee Toby Irwin stopped the fight because of the latter's holding tactics.

SINCLAIR LAIRD ISSUES CHALLENGE

Dean Sinclair Laird of MacDonald College has agreed to back up his recent statement to the press that persons desiring can make a comprehensive trip across Canada and back for no more than $330 by chartering a special train for the purpose of accommodating all those who may be inclined to accept his challenge. He avers that the trip, which provides for stop-overs at all points of interest between Toronto and Victoria, westbound via the Okanagan Lake and eastbound by the main line, including rail and water transportation, meals, accommodation and all other expenses can be made as comprehensive as could possibly be desired, and he is prepared to accept the amount stated, $330, as a blanket charge for all expenses.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, which is interested in several all-expense tours this season, is acting as his booking agent. Dean Laird plans to leave Toronto July 19. The route he has planned is via Port Arthur and Fort William, Winnipeg Beach, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Banff, to Windermere across the Rockies by auto, to Kootenay Landing thence by steamer to Nelson and through the Doukhabour country to Hope and Vancouver. The return from Victoria will be made via the Selkirks and Rockies and stop-overs have been arranged, among other places, at Lake Louise and Devil's Gap Camp, Kenora. A trip across the Great Lakes to Port McNicoll, thence rail to Toronto will terminate the excursion.

Dean Laird contends that this trip will not be an experiment as he has made two previous trips of like nature as organizer of teachers' tours. This trip he is throwing open to all and sundry, the only stipulation being that members of the special train party be chosen as being compatible with the whole.

Apply Dean Laird, MacDonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, or any Canadian Pacific Agent.

3d-13-16-20

VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT

PETERBORO ROTARY CLUB

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

TWO NIGHTS—APRIL 5 AND 6

THE BIGGEST AND MOST VARIED PROGRAM EVER PRESENTED IN THE CITY

Featuring

MADAME HELEN FARNUM
Dramatic Contralto

KATHERINE McINTOSH
Lyric Soprano

Little ARCHIE HARDYMENT—Violinist
The 12 Year Old Boy Wonder

SIX MERRY MAIDS and "THE OTHER" in a dance symphony

HAROLD BRADLEY—Pianist
Hambourg Conservatory, Toronto

COLLEGIAN BOYS' ORCHESTRA

Prices—$1.00, 75c, 50c, 35c (tax extra)
Subscribers List Now Open ($1.00 seats only)

TICKETS ON SALE DAILY AT

Jack Primeau's	Barrie's Limited
Greene Music Co.	Hooper's Confectionery
Juby's Grocery	Kingan Hardware
Dominion Express	McClelland's Jewellery
Empress Hotel	Capitol Theatre

Fred Roy's Photo Gallery

AND ALL MEMBERS OF THE ROTARY CLUB

ROTARY CLUB

RESERVED SEAT PLAN OPENS SUBSCRIBERS—APRIL 1st
GENERAL SALE - APR. 3

Theatre

AT THE CAPITOL.

BEAUTY CONTEST WINNERS ALL MAKE FOR HOLLYWOOD

Film Center Now Known as the City of Beautiful Young Women

If you don't believe Hollywood to be the ultimate goal of every beauty contest winner, just make a trip to the Capitol theatre and see Hobart Henley's production of "The Auction Block" when it opens on Monday in conjunction with McNab's Spring Fashion Show.

Hollywood, the city of beautiful girls, has seldom seen such a galaxy of beauties as were secured by Mr. Henley for a sequence in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

There was a reason for the beauty, too. The scene represents the banquet given in honor of the beauties gathered from all the states in a nation-wide beauty contest, and every girl selected had won a beauty contest of note.

First and foremost, there is Eleanor Boardman. Eleanor plays the leading feminine role in the picture, and is the winner of the national contest. Miss Boardman was selected from among thousands of girls possessing the greatest possibilities for screen fame, by Robert B. McIntyre, former casting director of the M-G-M studios, and brought to the studios in Culver City to be "groomed" for stardom.

Then there is Gwen Lee, who first got her start in pictures by winning a beauty contest in Missouri; Viviane Wilch, another beauty, and Molly McKay, who has one of the most perfect figures and faces in pictures.

Charles Ray is playing opposite Miss Boardman in "The Auction Block."

FASHION SHOW.

A very interesting addition to the regular picture programme at the Capitol Theatre for the first half of next week will be a Fashion Show, in which the J. A. McNabb Company will exhibit the very latest ideas in advanced spring and summer styles, with gowns from Montreal and Toronto, and a wind-up in a special showing of French frocks. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday these models will be shown before the feature picture commences, and will be accompanied by hats from Mrs. J. Wilson's millinery parlors and shoes from Grant's shoe store. Accompanying the show will be vocal solos by Miss Blanche Senior, soprano, of Toronto.

COUNTRY GIRLS SCREENED FAITHFULLY IN NEW FILM

"The Auction Block" Shows Them as Not Different From City Sisters.

It is up to the country girls of the land to give a rising vote of thanks to Hobart Henley, for he is the first director who has ever "done right by them."

A majority of the scenes in Henley's production of "The Auction Block," which is coming to the Capitol Theatre, take place in the little town of Palmdale, South Carolina, and the girls and boys of the place are pictured as real people, and not the popular movie conception of American yokels.

Henley believes that for too long the movies have dealt with country boys and girls as the hicks of twenty-five or thirty years ago while in reality there is little difference between them and their metropolitan cousins. The movies have probably done more than any other one thing to change this condition, and it is now up to the movies to admit the fact publicly.

Eleanor Boardman and Sally O'Neil play small town girls in "The Auction Block," while Charles Ray, contrary to custom, is seen as a "man from the city."

SAVE THE BABY CHICKS

Make them strong, sturdy, productive, EGG-LAYING Pullets, with Pratts Baby Chick Food. It costs a trifle more but is CHEAPEST in the end, judged by results. The extra chicks you save and raise, more than pay for all the Pratts Baby Chick Food you use. Ask your dealer—there's one near you.

Pratts Baby Chick Food

Write for Pratts Poultry Book—FREE

PRATT FOOD CO., OF CANADA, LTD. 328 Carlaw Ave., Toronto

AT THE REGENT

"HIS SECRETARY"—A CHARMING FILM.

Is Most Intensely Human of all Hobart Henley Productions.

Hobart Henley believes that he has another picture that is as human and delightful as "The Gay Old Dog," the picture that has always been the favorite of all he has ever directed.

"The Gay Old Dog" was produced several years ago and though not at the time a great box office success, Henley believes that if it had been produced now it would have been a sensation.

However, he has in "His Secretary," the picture coming to the Regent Theatre on Monday, one of the most charming stories ever written. It is that of a plain stenographer, plain merely because she doesn't realize her beauty. Norma Shearer plays the girl, and has given one of the most interesting portrayals of her career.

Her employers are played by Lew Cody and Willard Louis, as the law firm of Colman and Sloden. Other members of the cast are Mabel Van Buren, Karl Dane, Gwen Lee, Estelle Clark and Ernest Gillen.

The story was written by Carey Wilson and adapted to the screen by Hope Loring and Louis B. Lighton.

Regent

NOW PLAYING

TODAY

Last Chance to see ROD LA ROCQUE in

BRAVEHEART

HERE MONDAY

NORMA SHEARER with LEW CODY in

"His Secretary"

Monday opens Chuckle Week at the Regent—add a few by seeing Norma Shearer and Lew Cody in this fine comedy-drama.

Coming Soon

BETTY BALFOUR

in her latest picture

"SATAN'S SISTER"

from the story of the same name.

LOCALS

DR. T. P. McCULLOUGH

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, 166 Brock St. Phone 36W

NORTH END BARBER SHOP

Barber Shop in connection with Brault's Grocery, at corner of Water and Hilliard Streets. Two Barbers. No Waiting. Ladies' Haircutting, Shingling, Etc. Phone 475W for appointments. 2d, 68, 1117

PHONOGRAPH REPAIRS

All makes; springs a specialty. T. Griffin, 146 Park St. N., opp. C.G.E. Phone 2163w. Work guaranteed. 13d-25,25,27,2,4,6,9,11,13, 16,18,20,23-656

DRY WOOD FOR SALE

Heavy Hemlock Slabs, Mixed and Body Hardwood, Hardwood Slabs, Close Prices at Thompson's. Phone 2260 or 1026J. 6d-10,11,13,16,18,20-651

G.W.V.A. EUCHRE AND FREE LAMP DRAW

On Wednesday night at 8 p.m. followed by a Dance for those attending the drive only. Proceeds are for relief. Come and win the lamp. The chance on it is free. 3d, 70, 786

TEACHERS' MEETING

The Peterboro Anglican Teachers' Association are holding their Regular Meeting at St. George's Church, Tuesday, March 23rd. All teachers and officers are requested to be present. 1d, 68, 781

RUMMAGE SALE

Will be held by the Unity Club of George Street Church, Tuesday, March 21st, in the Store just north of Grand Opera House. Also a Made-in-Canada Sale. Doors open at 9.30 a.m. 1d, 68, 785

RADIO.

Radio sets built, altered and repaired by expert. Ten years' experience. Comnlete line of tubes and batteries. Tubes tested and reactivated. — Roy White, 444 Mark Street. 'Phone 1165-M. 8d-15,17,20,23,27,30,3,6-1016

NEW REO BUS ORDERED

Cooney & Jopling have placed an order with Brewer Motor Sales for Reo 176" wheelbase, low-slung bus chassis, and expect to have same in operation complete with up-to-date body within ten days. 1d, 68, 777

GET THIS ONE

Ordinary Ice will not heat, but Sanitary Ice WOOD.
All Kinds
Body Hardwood; Hardwood Slabs and Soft Wood. Phone 147. Sanitary Ice Supply. dtf

UMBRELLAS REPAIRED AND RECOVERED AT TAYLOR'S.

Clipper plates and clippers sharpened. Every pair we do are tested. Saws filed and set. Scissors, knives and razors sharpened. All our grindstones run in water. 45 years' practical experience. Wm. Taylor, the Sheffield Cutler, 219 Hunter street west. t.t.s.

DO YOU NEED AN ACCOUNTANT?

If you want your books audited or adjusted; if not satisfied with your book-keeping system; if you want your income tax return prepared for this or other years, or want some dispute adjusted.—H. K. Middleton, 'Phone 1353. Office, 202 Charlotte Street. dtf

VISIT POSTPONED.

The visit to Peterboro of J. Cameron-McInnes, the baritone singer, who was announced to sing in Trinity Church to-morrow (Sunday) is indefinitely postponed, owing to a sudden attack of la grippe, which will confine him to his home for a time. His coming to Trinity Church at the earliest possible date will be duly announced.

NOTICE

Simpson, Copping Co. regret to announce that, owing to the continued illness of Mr. Simpson the store at 460 George Street will not opened on the 22nd, as hoped. Mr. Simpson is having his share of hard luck just now, and he requests the patience of his customers for another week or two. 4d, 68, 778

BARACA NOTES.

The interest in the auto speed contest is growing steadily, but it is forgotten in the pleasure of the class discussion of the topic for the day. Mr. Richman concentrates his best efforts on making the subjects as full of interest as possible, and have all take a share in the debate. Don't miss a Sunday, boys—every one means a step up in mind improvement.

CARD OF THANKS.

The family of the late Mrs. Catharine O'Connell sincerely thank all the many kind friends who called at her home to pay their last tribute of respect to those who assisted at the funeral, to the many who gathered at the church to attend her requiem mass and to all who sent spiritual and floral offerings. 1d-68-1153.

DANCING.

The dances that are run at the W.O.W. Hall Friday night will be run at Victoria Hall. Euchre and dance, Friday, March 26. Special prizes. Chest of silver. Admission 35c and 40c. Remember the good time on the 17th. 1d68 788

Isn't this a pretty Hat?

It is only one of many illustrated in Hallam's Spring Fashion Book, which shows the latest Paris and New York styles for Spring and Summer, in coats, dresses, millinery, furs, shoes, at such low prices that I believe cannot be equalled anywhere.

Send for your copy to-day—it's free.

Hallam Mail Order Corporation, Limited
41 Hallam Building TORONTO
In business for over 35 years.

Diamonds Loose

Have you had your Diamond Rings examined lately? If not bring them in to us and we will let you know at once if the stones are loose or claws badly worn.

Many a Diamond is lost every year by not having them examined to see if they are loose.

WARNE BROS.
349 GEORGE STREET
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880.

FRANC SINKS LOWER.

Lower Level Set By Franc at the Exchange To-day.

PARIS, March 20.— (Canadian Press.)— The Franc continued its downward trend to-day to a new low record at 28.13 to the dollar and 137.85 to the pound stirling.

MAN STABS WIFE AND DEFENDER

Infuriated When Plea For Reconciliation is Spurned.

WOMAN MAY DIE.

DETROIT, Mich., March 20 (Canadian Press)—Woodward Avenue and State Street, this city's busiest corner, was a place of pandemonium for several minutes today after Edward Stuart, 25 years old, had stabbed his twenty year old wife, Laura, and Leonard Sole, 23, who sought to defend her. The stabbing occurred in the basement of the Kresge store where Mrs. Stuart is employed. The store was filled with shoppers and several women fainted when Stuart, spurned in his plea for reconciliation with his wife, whipped a butcher knife from beneath his coat and plunged its point six times into her abdomen, wounding her possibly fatally.

Sole sprang to Mrs. Stuart's aid and received a knife thrust from the infuriated husband. Sole's condition is serious.

A customer then overpowered Stuart.

Mrs. Stuart in a statement from her hospital cot said she was married to Stuart four years ago in Cartier, Ontario, and left him last November. There is a three year old daughter.

A few days ago, she said, he theatened to kill her but offered to let her go if she would give him money. She gave him three dollars, all she had, she said. Sole was unable to make a statement.

By Marjorie Howe Dixon.

You have heard the story of the little boy who was traveling across Canada, collecting dirt in each province in a bottle. When asked why, he replied that he had discovered that his geography was all wrong. On the map, it showed a blue province next a pink province and it wasn't so—ada he held up his bottle of dirt to prove it.

A map is a thing of joy to an imaginative chap, who only need study it to go on long voyages of discovery and delight. What a bore it would be to a matter-of-fact person, who would see in it just the short hand for cities, towns, rivers. In an old map such a person would delight in finding all its quaint inaccuracies.

At any rate, whatever important thing it indicates, maps are very popular and much in demand. They are used in a variety of ways, and generally inhabit the living room or the library. Framed maps are the most common, lovely old decorative affairs, with much scroll work about the title and a few angels perhaps, and a very elaborate compass to show directions.

Use a Circular Frame.

The usual frame is rectangular, but a map showing a hemisphere often has a circular frame. One of these may hand over a desk, while on the desk lies a handsome portfolio with a map on its cover, and below the desk stands a metal oval waste basket with a map on its side, glazed to protect it from wear.

Maps have a pleasant capacity for fitting in, in so many places. They seem to belong especially to our interiors, together with sextants, old lanterns and prints of clipper ships. And besides prints of ships, one may choose a ship model to harmonize with the general nautical scheme of things.

Do you know these lines of W. S. Gilbert's?

Oh to be wafted away
From this black Alcedama of sorrow
Where the dust of an earthly today
Makes the earth of a dusty tomorrow!

Use of Imagination.

A ship model can take a fellow travelling as far as the further rim of the horizon—and beyond, for his imagination should never be limited by mere horizons. And it is his imagination that supplies the necessary "fair winds" and "lovely tropic isles" so popular with arm chair mariners.

Spanish galleons seem to win general favor, perhaps because so many of us have not grown up, and still have a secret yearning to be a pirate bold. Besides their gay color appeals to us, on the flying pennons, the painted sails, the decks and port holes. Besides there are the wicked looking rows of wooden cannon.

As always, the younger mode reflects the grown-up mode in its general trend, but it has many distinctive points of smartness especially designed to set off Miss three to ten in a manner most suitable to her.

For the very young miss, the one-piece dress, rather full and with the fullness gathered into a round neck, is quite a leader. These dresses have raglan sleeves as a rule, but sometimes a tiny puff sleeve is introduced for variation. Another style which has been found particularly becoming is a frock with a snugly fitted rather short-waisted bodice and a very full skirt. These are especially popular in dimity "party" dresses.

The two-piece dress is especially becoming and is seen in many charming models from the ages of three on. These two-piece frocks are sometimes a sweater blouse with a matching woolen skirt.

Favor Plaid Ginghams.

Plaid gingham—especially when it has matching bloomers, is an especial favorite of the younger set for playtime. These little frocks are frequently finished with white collars and cuffs embroidered in one of the tones of the plaid.

A new idea is a very fine sateen with a gay chintz pattern. This sateen is unusually durable and makes a quaint but very gay little frock.

Dainty little dimities, some printed in floral designs and some in white, will be very popular for summer parties. Natural pongee trimmed with gaily-colored ruffles is another attractive frock, a little dressier than playtime gingham.

Coats and hats in matching sets are the young one's idea of an ensemble and will be seen in many high-colored versions this spring.

Brother and Sister Sets.

Some clever little sets consist of a frock for a little girl with a matching Oliver Twist suit for little brother. Some sets carry the idea further and have a matching dress for big sister. This idea of matching up the family in this way is very smart and new. Little girls are almost always dressed alike while the boys can only stay in line until they graduate from Oliver Twists into real boys' suits.

HOW TO MAKE A LONG SPOUT OIL CAN.

Take an ordinary oil can, fasten a cork over end of the spout, not to obstruct the opening, then stick a wire of desired length into the cork, directly below the spout opening. The oil will flow along the wire to the farther end.

QUEBEC MAYOR-ELECT

Dr. Valmont Martin, Mayor-elect of Quebec City, who was the victor over ex-Mayor Joseph Samson in one of the warmest and closest campaigns in the citadel city's history.

Financial News and Views

Latest Comment on Grain and Industrial Markets | Closing Quotations on the Principal Active Stocks

Quotations Over Stobie, Forlong and Co. wire.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High	Low	Close
Atchison Rly	125⅝	124⅝	124⅝
American Can.	285	283	283
American Loco	145	144¾	145
Smelters	124	122	122
Baldwin	106⅜	106¼	106¼
Balt. and Ohio	88⅞	88	88⅛
Cast-Iron Pipe	172	171	171
Ches and Ohio	132¾	131¾	131¾
Cal. Petrol.	36⅛	35⅛	35¼
Chrysler	36⅛	35⅜	35⅞
Dupont De N.	214½	210	211¾
General Motors	124¾	121¾	122
Hudson Motor	98	92	92
Int. Harvester	118⅛	118	118¼
Inter. Nickel	35¼	35¼	35⅜
Coca-Cola	135⅞	134	134
Mack Truck	118	115½	115½
Marland Oil	55¾	54½	54½
U. S. Rubber	70⅛	69	69
Mont. Ward	69	68	68
White Motors	73⅝	72⅞	73¼
U. S. Steel	124⅛	123⅜	123¾

MINING STOCKS

Gold

	Asked	Bid
Argonaut	32½	31
Baldwin	3¼	2⅞
Chaput Hughes	18	17
Con. West Dome	20½	19¾
Dome	1850	1830
Goldale	33¼	32
Hollinger	1885	1870
Keora	11½	10¾
Kirkland Lake	103	100
Lake Shore	1035	1025
McIntyre	2500	2450
Newray	38	35
Nipissing	605	600
Teck Hughes	308	302
Vip. Con. Mines	162	159
W. Hargraves	840	830

Silver

Beaver	71	70
Castle	165	162
Crown Reserve	18	16
La Rose	21	17
McKinley	20	19
Mining Corp.	385	376
Peterson Lake	4	2½

CHICAGO WHEAT

May	160⅛	156¼	157⅝
July	139¼	137⅜	138⅛

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

May	149½	146½	147⅝
July	146½	144⅜	145⅜

CHICAGO RYE.

May	87½	85½	86¾
July	89¼	87¼	88⅛

Wheat Takes Drop To-day Despite Favorable Reports

CHICAGO, March 20 (Canadian Press).—With reports telling of exceptionally favorable domestic wheat conditions, grain values suffered fresh breaks today despite a show of new strength at the start.

Chicago opened unchanged to 7 cents higher. May (new) $1.60 1-4 to $1.60 1-2 and July $1.38 1-4, and was followed by a fall to $1.57 3-4 for May and then by rapid fluctuation in which much of the loss was overcome.

Corn gave way with wheat and established a new low price record for the season.

After opening at 1-8c off to 1-8c up, May 73 3-8c to 73 3-4c corn soon weakened, but later recovered.

Oats moved within narrow limits, opening unchanged to 1-4c up, May 39 3-8c and later keeping nearer to initial range. Provisions averaged lower.

Trading Slightly Active On Toronto Stock Exchange

TORONTO, March 20 (Canadian Press)—Brazilian and Smelters were the only stocks in which trading was even moderately active on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. With a decrease in the volume of trading an uncertain tone was shown with the majority of changes slightly downward.

Smelters strengthened 1 1-4 at 204 1-2, while Brazilian lost one-eighth at 98 7-8. Steamships preferred eased 3-4 at 60 1-4, and Atlantic Sugar a half at 25 1-8. Massey Harris sold unchanged at 55. Dome Mines eased 10 cents at 18.49.

Hudson Takes Slight Drop Features To-day's Market

NEW YORK, March 20 (Canadian Press).—Another sharp drive against motor shares, which carried Hudson from an early high or 98 1-2 to 91 1-4, a new low record for the year, featured today's irregular stock market. Prices showed a tendency to advance on short covering in the early trading but when trading quieted down on the rally, selling pressure was renewed against the motors, and some of the high-priced industrial specialties. General Motors was dragged down to 121 1-2 and Dupont broke 7 points to 210; both new 1926 lows.

TO RUN FOR MAYOR.

J. B. Baillargeon Will Oppose Mederic Martin in Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 20 (Canadian Press).—J. B. Baillargeon, president of a transportation company of Montreal, last night officially accepted the candidature for the Mayoralty. He will oppose ex-Mayor Martin, who has officially made known his willingness to run.

LARGE CONGREGATION.

Last Night's Meeting of Standard Convention Well Attended.

Last night Rev. S. S. Lindsay of Belleville Ont., preached a very able and inspiring sermon to a large congregation. More delegates are arriving from different points in Ontario. Those in charge of the convention are expecting a very great day on Sunday.

Piece Of Frog Skin Used To Save Injured Eyeball

LONDON, Mar. 20 (United Press)—Nine year old Alfred Hore, of Shepperds Bush, looks out at the world through frog skin. His eye was injured by the explosion of a fire cracker and a surgeon at West London hospital grafted a bit of the skin on Alfred's eye ball. It is believed that the operation will save the eye.

THERE IS A DISTINCTIVE CHARACTER TO OUR EFFORTS

BELLEGHEM'S
FUNERAL SERVICE
PHONE 85
AMBULANCE

TO BE RELEASED.

Former Private Secretary Has Ticket of Leave From Penitentiary.

TORONTO, March 20.—(Canadian Press.)— E. Clarence Settell, former private secretary to the late Sir Adam Beck, serving a three year term in Portsmouth penitentiary for theft from the Hydro Commission, will be released on a ticket of leave to-day, it is announced on authority of Warden Ponsford, of the penitentiary, who was interviewed on the long distance telephone. Settell had served about fifteen months of his sentence.

LATE WANT ADS.

TO RENT — HEATED, FURNISHED House, 172 Adelene; apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

Phone Johnny-on-the-Spot for Coal—703

Hard Coal
(Anthracite)
Stove size $16
Solvay Coke
Nut size $15
HODGSON BROS
Dalhousie and Bethune

Hey, Fellers!
GET IN ON THIS!

D'yuh want to go to the banquet the City Council is giving the Hockey Team?

Yessir, without costing you a cent.

Turn to the Sport Page.

MANY HURT IN RIOTS IN POTOSI

More Shot By Police Than First Despatches Showed.

CHURCHES CLOSED.

MEXICO CITY, March 20.—(Canadian Press.)—Full details of the demonstration in San Luis Potos on Thursday night over the closing of the churches and limiting of the number of priests who might function there have not been received here, but unconfirmed reports indicate that the number of persons wounded when the police fired upon the demonstrators is larger than first despatches indicated.

NEW TYPE OF PLANE FOR MINING SERVICE

Canadian Company To Have Test Flight To Hudson, Ont.

NEW YORK, March 20. — Canadian Press. — The aeroplane service which is carrying prospectors to the Red Lake gold camp of Northern Ontario, is to be augmented by a new plane from New York next week.

The Canadian company, which is operating the Red Lake service, has purchased a plane here of the "Lark" type, and on Monday C. S. (Casey) Jones, the famous airman, will fly this new plane to Buffalo where it will be taken over by an airman of the Canadian company, who will fly it to Hudson, Ont., the jumping off place to the Red Lake gold camp.

IN POLICE COURT.

Three young men were brought before Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning on a charge of being intoxicated in a public place. All three pleaded guilty and were each fined $10 and costs or one month's imprisonment.

A man who claimed to be deaf and dumb appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning on a charge of vagrancy. The accused was caught soliciting alms on a Canadian National train running from Lindsay to Peterborough, and was arrested by Special Agent A. B. Harris of that company.

The accused is thought by the authorities to be a fakir, but in spite of various tests by them to prove this, he could not be made talk.

Detective Sergeant Meagher spoke to him, using the deaf and dumb language, but the accused merely shook his head as an indication that he could not read it.

He was remanded until Wednesday to enable the authorities to investigate his case.

AROUND THE CITY.

The fire brigade was called out at 9.38 p.m. yesterday to a chimney fire at 891 Water street.

HAGGIS' HOME-MADE EASTER GOODS

We are selling our beautiful, home-made Easter goods at French's store, 332 George street, until April 3rd.

Eggs of pure milk chocolate, beautifully decorated, at from 10c. to $1.00 each.

Bunnies and chickens, as natural as life, from 10c. up.

Leave orders early and have any name put on eggs free.

See card in window for guessing contest.

Two large eggs given away April 3rd.

Eggs neatly packed for mailing.

E. HAGGIS

No, She is not Disturbed

over the story she is reading, but the truth of the matter is that she needs glasses.

Very often the need of glasses makes a person cross and irritable and produces that attitude of mind wherein it is impossible to enjoy even a favorite magazine.

For such people we would suggest an examination of the eyes—now.

GOOD GLASSES IF YOU NEED THEM
GOOD ADVISE IF YOU DON'T

M. J. ROCHE
OPTOMETRIST 188 CHARLOTTE ST.

Frank H. Dawson

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Flour, Baled Hay, Straw, Salt, Mill Feeds, Seed, Etc.
Exclusive Agency for
FIVE ROSES FLOUR
BLATCHFORD'S POULTRY FEEDS
ROYAL INCUBATORS AND BROODERS
Phone 55 380 Water Street
CUSTOM CHOPPING SOLICITED

OBITUARY.

MRS. W. J. FERGUSON.

The funeral of the late Mrs. W. J. Ferguson will take place from her late residence, 254 Stewart street, on Monday, March 22 at 2.30 p.m., Rev. Wm. Allen officiating.

FLORENCE ALBERTA MITCHELL.

The death occurred of Florence Alberta Mitchell, daughter of the late Thos. Mitchell, Emily township, at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Nesbitt, Indian River, on Friday. Miss Mitchell had been ill for some time in Toronto General Hospital and about seven weeks ago came to the home of her sister.

Miss Mitchell was born in Emily township and was a member of the United church. Besides her sorrowing mother, she leaves to mourn her loss, one sister, Mrs. William Nesbitt, Indian River, and one brother, Everet, of Lindsay.

The remains were brought to the funeral home of D. Belleghem and Sons, and will be forwarded to Omemee at 5.30 Saturday afternoon. The funeral will take place on Monday at 2 p.m. from the residence of her mother, Mrs. McCaffrey, Omemee. The services will be conducted by Rev. E. W. Rowland. Interment in Omemee cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

SHADGETT. — In loving memory of dear husband and father, James Shadgett, who entered into rest, March 20, 1925:
"Father, in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now our loved one sleeping."
—His loving Wife and Family.

BIRTH.

PAYNE.—To Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Payne, 288 Brock street, on March 18th, a daughter, Violet May.

IN MEMORIAM

HANLON — In loving memory of Julia N. Hanlon, who died March 20th, 1903.

—Inserted by friends.

Another Shipment of Alberta Coal Just Arrived

Maryland semi-anthracite Coal, smokeless; the best substitute for anthracite, per ton..... $14
Genuine No. 3 Pocahontas Egg screened, per ton..... $13
Kentucky Egg Coal, per ton..... $11
Stove and Egg Anthracite, per ton... $16
Heavy Hardwood Slabs, cut 12 inches team load for..... $6
Heavy Hemlock Slabs, cut 12 inches team load..... $4.50
Steam Coal at current prices.

McCARTHY AND JOHNSTON
Phone 96

EASTER RECESS.

Premier Gives Notice of Intention To Move For Recess.

OTTAWA, March 20. — Premier King has given notice that he intends to move for an Easter recess from Friday, March 26th till Tuesday, April 6th.

ALEXANDER & HALL
ELECTRICIANS
When you have Electrical work to do, Call
P. Alexander, Phone 1755J.
W. Gordon Hall, Phone 1403w.

Harry L. Jopling

HIDES, WOOL AND RAW FURS

Having dissolved partnership with T. Brightman & Co., wishes to announce that he has started in business for himself, with office and warehouse at 217 Hunter street, Peterboro.

Highest Prices Paid
FOR HIDES, WOOL AND RAW FURS
2d-20-24

ATTEND TO THE CHILDREN'S EYES

Abnormal sight in children is a common cause of backwardness at school. This subject has been investigated in recent years, with the result that a large percentage of children have been found to possess abnormal vision. This should arouse parents to the importance of the subject. Every child whose sight is below par is fighting a handicap. Interested parents are invited to interview us.

A. A. FOWLER, Pharm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST

B. McLeod has a drug store in the same place—373 George St.

CITY TAXI 25
UP-TO-DATE HEATED CARS
SERVICE DE LUXE
DAY OR NIGHT
'PHONE 2240
Brydon Weese, Manager
26d-70-471

A CHANCE TO MAKE SOME REAL MONEY

Residence, west end, brick hardwood floors, furnace, 3 piece bath, six rooms, large lot.
Purchase price - $4800
Will sell for - $3800 (net)
if sold at once. Act quickly.
Box 981, Examiner
4d-13,16,18,20-981

THE JEAN RIDDICK YARN SHOP
shows an unusually large stock of Yarns, Hosiery, Underwear, Etc. Come and see us and save money.
WE SELL FOR LESS!

CHIROPRACTOR
M. C. GOODWIN
DC. Ph. C.
Palmer Graduate
108 Barrie Building.
Lady Attendant Phone 431
Hours 10-12 a.m., 2-4 and 7-8 p.m.
Office closed Tuesday evening, also Thursday afternoon and evening.

25c TAXI
WALTER GILLESPIE
Day or Night, Phone 480
Seven Passenger Sedans
12d-75-724

FOOT TROUBLES
N. D. FOOTE, D.S.C.
GRADUATE CHIROPODIST
107 Barr'e Bldg. Phone 1730w

"The Auction Block"
- ALSO -
McNabb's Fashion Revue
AT THE
CAPITOL - TODAY

The Evening Examiner

PROBABILITIES.
Moderate winds, ... stly cloudy to-night and Tuesday, with light rain or snow.

VOL. LVII., No. 68 PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1926 PRICE THREE CENTS

BIG RUMMAGE SALE! Balance of the Jeffries' Stock
Read Advt. on Page 8

NATIONALIST ARMY RETREATS SURRENDERING TIENSTIN CITY TO CHANG'S VICTORIOUS ARMY

Feng's Forces Had Been Concentrated in Effort to Repel Enemy.

FENG AWAY.

Subordinates in Charge of Force While He Visits Moscow.

TIENTSIN, March 22 (Canadian Press).—This city of 750,000 inhabitants was evacuated completely today by Kcominchun, or National Army troops, in their retreat toward Peking, 86 miles, before the victorious troops of Chang Tac-lin, Manchurian dictator, and those of his allies from the Province of Shangtung.

PEKING, March 22 (United Press).—Thousands of men and guns had been concentrated in Tientsin to-day by the Nationalist army commanders in preparation for further hostilities with the coalition forces of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, Wu Pei Fu and Li Ching Lin.

The train scheduled to arrive in Peking to-day from Tientsin never left the latter city because the line and available equipment had been monopolized by troop trains. The troops were pouring into Tientsin from both the northern and southern fronts.

Yaung Tsun probably will be the first major defensive point of the Nationalists now Tientsin is abandoned.

Feng in Moscow.

The Kuominichun, or Nationalist troops, usually commanded by Marshal Feng Ysu Hsiang, control the Peking area which the coalition or northern and southern militarists seek to gain. Feng was reported to have departed for Moscow via Mongolia, leaving the direction of his armies to subordinates.

It was a Nationalist effort to close the Pei River to coalition vessels that resulted in the international incident of the week before last, when the powers delivered an ultimatum to the Nationalist commander of the Taku forts demanding that the river be opened to navigation.

The importance of the Pei River lies in the fact that it connects Tientsin with the sea, and Peking's only connection with the outside world now is the railroad line between Peking and Tientsin.

Rebels Killed.

BATAVIA, Java, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press). — Thirteen Chinese rebels have been killed in a fight with a Dutch military detachment sent to Achina, Sumatra, where trouble broke out early this month.

Ministers Hold Offices.

PEKING, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The members of the Cabinet which resigned on Saturday are retaining their posts temporarily at the request of the Chief Executive, but it is assumed there will be a realignment shortly.

LADY EGAN DEAD.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—(Canadian Press.) — Lady Egan, widow of the late Sir Henry Egan, died here Sunday evening.

RUMMAGE SALE.

WILL BE HELD BY THE UNITY CLUB OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH, TUESDAY, MARCH 23, IN THE STORE JUST NORTH OF GRAND OPERA HOUSE. ALSO A MADE-IN-CANADA SALE. DOORS OPEN AT 9.30 A.M.

SPECIAL VALUES IN DRY WOOD.

12-INCH DRY PINE SLABS — $5.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-INCH DRY HEMLOCK SLABS—$7 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-IN. DRY HARDWOOD SLABS—$9.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. IDEAL FOR PRESENT USE. NO LATH TAKEN FROM THIS WOOD. BEST VALUE IN THIS CITY. DIRECT FROM MANUFACTURER TO CONSUMER. 'PHONE 545. THE PETERBOROUGH LUMBER CO., LTD.
6d71 755

CONCERT WEDNESDAY
THE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA AFTER ITS LONG SEASON'S STEADY WORK UNDER THE PAINSTAKING DIRECTION OF RUPERT GLIDDON, WILL GIVE THE THIRD OF THEIR SERIES OF CONCERTS IN CONSERVATORY HALL ON WEDNESDAY EVENING. THE ORCHESTRA IS IN FINISHED CONDITION, AND WILL BE ASSISTED BY MATHILDE MASSON, POPULAR SOPRANO. A TREAT IS IN STORE FOR ALL WHO ATTEND. TICKETS 50c.

NOW HONESTLY—

'Course we've all heard about the ups and downs of the elevator man. And we've cracked on how he gives everybody a lift, but—

Seriously speaking, he really is due for a word of praise—which he seldom gets.

Nine out of ten people who yank the handle that runs an elevator greet the occupants of their establishment with a smile. And that's worth something.

And, besides — think of the steps you're saved every day.

There's only room for one crank in an elevator—that's the lever that works the machinery.

JURY DECIDES SNIPER TO DIE

Omaha's "Sniper Bandit" Found Guilty of First Degree Murder.

TERRORIZED CITY.

OMAHA, Neb., March 22.—Frank Carter, "sniper bandit," got the death penalty Saturday by a jury which found him guilty of first degree murder while attempting to rob Dr. A. D. Searles on Feb. 17.

Carter heard the verdict without showing emotion.

"Well, I'm sorry that you lost," he said to John Baldwin, public defender, after the latter had given notice that he would file a motion for a new trial on grounds of "irregularities in the jury."

Carter still faces charges of first degree murder and robbery while attempting to rob for the shooting of William McDevitt on Feb. 14. Both crimes carry the death penalty in this State.

Judge Goss said he would defer formal sentence until after ruling on the motion for a new trial on Wednesday or Thursday.

TAKES SEAT TO-DAY.

HON. CHAS. A. DUNNING
Newly appointed Minister of Railways and Canals, who will take his seat in the House of Commons today

BRITISH PRESTIGE IN EUROPE HAS DECLINED, MACDONALD SAYS

Former Premier Blames Government and Sir Austen Chamberlain.

FEARS FOR LEAGUE.

BLACKBURN, Lancashire, Eng., March 22 (Associated Press).—Former Premier Ramsay MacDonald, referring in a speech here Saturday to the League of Nations meetings at Geneva, said:

"We have just witnessed one of the most tragic failures British diplomacy has ever met."

"It is doubtful now whether the League will survive," he continued.

He said that Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, must tell Parliament and the country the whole story. Sir Austen had tried his "free hand" and had committed suicide by it, Mr. MacDonald asserted.

In the opinion of the former Labor Premier, Sir Austen Chamberlain and the Conservative Party had made a great blunder at Geneva, which had decreased British prestige in Europe.

"It was not long since," he continued, "that Great Britain stood well in the forefront of European councils. Where are we to-day?"

He felt sorry for the awkward position of his country in Europe now. If Great Britain wanted to draw closer to European nations it must do it as a self-respecting, independent-minded country seeking justice and righteousness, and never losing sight of that goal.

Referring to the League, he feared for the life of that body. The present position was not due to Brazil refusing to vote for Germany, but to [illegible] that five or six gentlemen might use League and tried to create "a triumvirate," with disastrous results. He asked what would happen if the same men were going to try to reform the League Council.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, it is understood, has not been in the best of health for the last few days. His work at Geneva greatly fatigued him, particularly that period prior to his return to London.

Black Smallpox Kills Twenty In Two Months

SEATTLE, Wash., March 22 (Canadian Press).—Eighty-four cases of black smallpox have been reported here since January 21st, and have resulted in twenty deaths.

LINDSAY POLICE FOUND ALCOHOL IN THE FURNACE

Ollie Kellett's Home Raided During His Absence Several Months Ago.

CASE ENLARGED

Madill and Sproule Fined $200 and $125 Respectively Saturday.

LINDSAY, March 22. — The "standing room only" sign was hung out at the Police Court on Saturday when Police Magistrate Bradford took the bench to deal with a couple of liquor cases which had been enlarged from March 20. Three cases were on the docket, but a citizen named Madill (who was with another local resident named Sproule when he arrived in Lindsay from Peterboro on March 6th with a consignment of alcohol in a suit case) was tried on Thursday and was assessed $200 and costs.

Saturday Sproule pleaded guilty to the charge of having liquor in his possession for sale, and was fined $125 and costs or a month in jail. The prisoner has been in jail since March 6th, so this period of detention will be included in the month's sentence.

The second case to be dealt with was a charge preferred against Ollie Kellett of having liquor in his possession for sale. Kellett's house was visited by the officials some months ago during his absence, and a quantity of alcohol was found in the furnace. Kellett left the limits, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. He was located in a neighboring town, where he was living with his family and holding down a good position. He was remanded until Saturday next at one o'clock, when he will be defended by D. A. J. Swanson of Oshawa.

There is a great deal of sympathy for Kellett, and the fact that Mr. Swanson has been retained in his behalf means that there will be considerable fireworks when the case comes up for hearing.

POSTAL WORKERS TO GET BACK MONEY

Loss Through Reinstatement as Helpers To Be Made Up.

OTTAWA, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The postal employees who went on strike in 1924 will now receive the money lost by them, as the result of their reinstatement as postal helpers at the minimum rate of $85 a month, for July and August of that year.

This promise was given by Hon. Charles Murphy, Postmaster-General, on Saturday, to a delegation of postal representatives.

German Nationalists Demand Withdrawal Of Entry Have No Confidence In Either League Or Cabinet

(By Frederick Kuh, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, March 22.—German Nationalists today demanded in the Reichstag, that Germany withdraw her application for membership in the League of Nations.

Count Westarp, the Nationalist leader, replied to Foreign Minister Stresemann's explanation of Germany's failure to gain admission to the League last week, in a speech which declared the Nationalists' lack of confidence, in the Cabinet as well as in the League.

Westarp said Germany could not be a member of the League on an equal footing with other members until universal disarmament had been achieved.

Trust the Doctor, Close Your Eyes and Swallow Utilities Statement is what Hydro Wants Says R. R. Hall

The Chairman of the Utilities Commission said in last Thursday's issue of The Examiner: "Another manufacturing company during 1925, used an average of 131 horse-power per month and paid $2,172.60 at the rate of $16.49 per horse-power. My only regret is, that there is one pound of humbug in this showing, for every pound of power.

Humbug is always difficult to detect and where highly technical terms and calculations are involved, it is very difficult to expose to the ordinary reader. I know a manufacturer who paid on behalf of his company over five thousand dollars a year, and he told me that he could not check up his power bills, and that he had to trust the doctor—shut his eyes, open his mouth and swallow.

But, after all, this manufacturer was too lazy to study. Your readers are students, and I am sure will be interested in how humbug of the Hydro brand is worked.

The local Commission, to power users, makes a service charge of $1.00 per month per horse-power. Therefore, this manufacturer referred to above, paid $131.00 per month to start on, and for the year he paid 12 times that sum, namely $1.572. Then under the Hydro tariff he paid 1.3 cents for the first 50 k.w. hours during each month in addition to the service charge. Now that means that for the first 50 working hours each month this manufacturer paid $63.52 per month, in addition to the service charge, and for the year, 12 times that amount, viz. $762.26, making in all including the service charge of $1,572.00, the total sum of $2,334.26 per year. Now this poor humbugged manufacturer is paying the sum of $2,334.26 per year for power which, if an honest showing were made to him, would only supply him with power for five days of ten hours each per month during the year.

Now how is it worked To start on, he does not actually use 131 horse-power. He is "peak-loaded" and "power-factored" up to 131 horse-power, when in fact he uses only half that amount of real effective horse-power.

City Peak Loaded for $15,789.39

The local Commission has been "peak loading" the power users, and now we find that during the year 1925 the Hydro Commission started in to "peak load" the city itself. Most people think that this city is only paying $22.50 per horse-power to the Hydro. That was so but it is not so now. Last year, according to the local Commission's report, an extra charge was made against this City to the tune of $15,789.39, and there has not been the slightest hint from the Chairman that his extra charge has been made to this City. This bill came in since the first of the year. It is true it appears in the statement, but it is so covered up that only close examination will detect it. It is inconceivable that Commissioner Matthews did not expose it. But he is young and may be excused if a small dose of Hydro-hypnotics took immediate effect.

This means that this City is now no longer paying $22.50 per horse-power, but this City is now paying $25.85 per horse-power. In addition to that, this City paid that sum for power during the year 1925, and yet the Chairman over his own signature has the nerve to write down the words above quoted, that one manufacturer only paid last year $16.58 and another only paid $15.07 per horse-power.

How long; Oh! how long will it be, till our Chamber of Commerce, our Council, and our local members will cease to sleep on Hydro soporific humbug? We have the remedy in our own hands. Let us get busy before it is too late, and apply for and develop the water powers that Providence has placed at our doors.

It is not much credit to me, that I should know what I am writing about, because I have made a careful study of this question for upwards of 25 years and have discussed the question with the most skillful guides.

I am, some of these days going to offer a prize to the school children, to write an essay on "Hydro-lotus Eaters," and I hope in that way I may interest their parents in a question which vitally involves this city's future welfare.

R. R. HALL.

March 22, 1926.

Hold-up Men Take Toll From Greater New York

Newark.

NEWARK, N.J., March 22.—(Canadian Press)—Seven masked bandits to-day imprisoned four men making up the night force of the Mosque Theatre, and escaped with the week-end receipts, unofficially estimated at $15,000.

Broadway.

NEW YORK, March 22. — (Canadian Press).—Four robbers, each carrying two revolvers, held up Reuden's Restaurant on Broadway early today and escaped with $6,000, after knocking down two employees of the restaurant with the butts of their guns. Ten persons in the place were held at bay while the cash register was rifled.

Wife Worth Two Bottles Of Vodka To Russians

LENINGRAD, Russia, March 22 (Canadian Press).—Bartering of husbands and wives for vodka, allegedly with the sanction of local authorities, is reported from Odessa province.

A villager named Seperanko received two bottles from a neighboring farmer in exchange for his wife, while a peasant woman named Okopna turned her husband over a woman friend for only one bottle worth about 50 cents.

A fault confessed
Is a new virtue added to man.
—Defoe.

CHANGE SYSTEM ON COUNTY ROAD

County Council Follows Advice of Department—Smaller Mileage.

GOOD WORK DONE.

The County Council of Peterborough county has responded to the advice of the Highway department, and has reorganized with regards to the administration and payments under that department.

The mileage has been lessened and a committee of three appointed to work in conjunction with the county superintendent. The committee consists of Warden W. T. Curtis, Reeve J. A. Middleton of Smith, and Reeve M. E. Smithson of Otonabee.

At the recent good roads convention the department engineers told the representatives of Peterborough county that good work was being done, and the roads under their foresight were very commendable.

IT IS A FACT

That many persons continue to wear old lenses long after they should be changed and that many a person is right now suffering the penalty for neglected eyestrain. If you have been wearing your glasses longer than two years, let us examine your eyes and tell you whether your glasses are right or not. See W. H. Lacey, Optometrist, 410 George Street. 'Phone 1160.

Ignorance never settled a question. —Disraeli.

Four Men Crash To Death In Japan's Newest Plane

TOKIO, March 22 (United Press). — Japan's newest and largest all-metal monoplane crashed to-day. Three officers and one mechanic were killed.

BARN AND CROPS ARE DESTROYED IN LINDSAY FIRE

Bernard McGeough, Living on Outskirts, Loses Heavily.

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

Think Tramp May Have Started Fire—Animals Saved.

LINDSAY, Ont., March 22. — (Special).—A disastrous fire occurred this morning on the farm of Mr. Bernard McGeough, South Ops, about a mile from town, when his large barn was totally destroyed. The fire broke out in the western mow and it is believed to have been started by a tramp, as no one had been in that section of the barn for some weeks. Neighbors were able to save the horses and cattle, but the rest of the contents, which included one hundred bushels of seed grain, a large amount of hay, harness, etc., were totally consumed. The barn was a modern one in every particular, and the insurance covered will not nearly cover the loss.

A sad incident in connection with the fire is the fact that Mrs. McGeough has been bereaved by the death of her sister, Miss Annie Murphy, who passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro. Mr. McGeough is a brother of Mrs. J. T. O'Connell of Peterboro.

PEACE LOOMING IN RIFFIAN WAR

French Considering Peace Overture From Leader of Tribesmen.

MAY BE ACCEPTED

PARIS, March 22. — (Canadian Press).—Peace probably will be established in Morocco within a few days, according to information coming from quarters which generally all well informed.

Officially, the Foreign Office declares that nothing is known about the possibility of imminent peace pour parlers with the insurgent Riffian tribesmen, but Paul Painleve, Minister of War, replying to an interpellation by Pierre Renaudel in the Chamber of Deputies Army Committee, lent color to the reports of an early peace.

"You may rest assured," he said, "that the government is neglecting no serious opportunity to restore peace in the Riff."

It is reported that Abd-El-Krim, the Riffian leader, has made definite proposals through accredited emissaries and that they are now being studied by the French Ministry of War and probably will be accepted.

Meanwhile the French and Spanish military commands are understood to be preparing for a spring campaign intended to give Abd-El-Krim a knockout blow.

ONTARIO DEBT RETIRING PLAN SYNOPSIS IS HANDED OUT AND WILL BE LAID BEFORE THE HOUSE

Scheme Contemplates Wiping Out Debt in Forty Years.

NO SINKING FUND.

Million and a Half To Be Set Aside Annually From Revenue.

TORONTO, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press)—A special report on the Province of Ontario debt-retiring plan was handed out over the week end and will be laid before the house shortly by Provincial Treasurer Price.

The plan contemplates the wiping out of the provincial debt of $319,963,354 in forty years by the setting aside from current revenue of about $1,500,000 annually. Under the plan the total charge against the revenue in the forty year period would amount to $734,045,230with the total debt extinguished at the end. On the other hand without the adoption of the plan the charges against revenue in the same period will amount to $675,768,461, but this sum will include sufficient of the principle to reduce the net debt to $186,335,934. It will therefore be seen that Ontario under the proposed plan would pay $128,059,165 less in interest and principal over a 40 year period than if the plan is not adopted.

The summarized recommendations are as follow:

Future borrowings be made through instalment bonds with certain reservations.

Bonds and stock purchased by the Province to date for the account of the general sinking fund be cancelled.

Balance of debt incurred for Provincial purposes exclusive of debt incurred on account of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, inscribed stock (being retired by the present sinking fund and certificates and annuities (maturing annually) be retired out of revenue, according to a schedule over 40 years on an annuity basis, involving an equal annual charge for principal retirement and interest.

Bonds of the Province, deposited by the Hydro Electric Power Commission to date, of par value of $4,812,000 be cancelled, and credited to the commission at market value. That the balance of the commission's indebtedness to the province be paid according to a pre-arranged schedule over 40 years and that a like amount of "Hydro" debt of the Province be retired.

Surplus moneys in the hands of the commission after payments to the Province according to schedule be invested in Province of Ontario bonds and deposited with the Province.

An agreement be entered into between the Province and commission establishing a schedule of repayment of the present debt.

With regard to the bond issues guaranteed by the province, provision for the ultimate redemption of such obligations, by instalment bonds or otherwise should be insisted on as a condition of the Province's guarantee.

The report emphasizes the necessity of providing for the retirement of debt out of revenue, and stresses the fallacy of any plan of retirement by sinking fund or otherwise.

17th Century British Justice For Crime In U.S.

LONDON, March 22. — Frequent accounts which reach England of the prevalence of crime in American cities have led students of the richest and rarest storehouse of crime literature in the world, the "Black Library" of the famous Old Bailey Court in London, to suggest that the speedy, severe punishment served to English criminals during the "crime waves" of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries might serve to reduce the lawlessness in American cities.

England then had armed desperadoes as numerous as gunmen in Chicago, but hold-ups on the King's Highway were punished by death. The "Black Library" contains an account of how, at one sitting of court, nine robbers were sentenced to death. A man, tried for stealing "one basket and one cloth, value twopence, and three keys," met summary justice. Two words record the disposition of the case, "Guilty; Death." In 1780 a man was sentenced to death for stealing a pair of shoe buckles.

WILSON'S WORLD LEAGUE WANTED

Should Be Political Slogan of Germany, Says Berlin Paper.

OPINIONS.

BERLIN, March 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Discussing the breakdown of the Geneva negotiations, the Boersen Courier declares that "despite the ignominious betrayal of Germany's confidence in his fourteen points, 'back to Wilson' should be the political slogan of Germany."

Notwithstanding President Wilson's "personal failure," the bourse organ believes that his following everywhere is prepared to take up the cudgels in behalf of his international peace platform, and declares that it is up to Germany to assume the leadership by getting into the work with the League of Nations.

The incompetency of the European political line-up, and not the constitutional weakness of its organic structure, is blamed by this newspaper for the recent failure at Geneva and the heated contest for seats on the council.

While laying stress on the strategic importance attached to it, the paper asserts that it illustrates how far present day Europe is removed from Wilson's idealism.

"What President Wilson wanted was a world league," says the Boersen Courier. "What actually came into being was an alliance of the European victors, to which a few South American and Asiatic states became loosely attached for no apparent or practical reason or purpose. Even these few non-European states are numerically excessive, considering the League's radius of action outside of Europe."

It cites such an eventuality as a conflict between Brazil and Uruguay, both members of the council, in which situation the league would be impotent to act, as the Monroe doctrine would instantly intervene and ward off foreign interference.

CANADA'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY TO BE DEBATED TO-DAY

J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., Has Motion To Reject Any Obligation For Complications Resulting From Foreign Policy of Great Britain.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—(Canadian Press.)— Canadian responsibility for complications arising from the foreign policy of the United Kingdom will be debated in the House of Commons to-day. The question will be raised on a motion by J .S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg; that "Canada should refuse to accept any responsibility for complications arising from the foreign policy of the United Kingdom."

It was scheduled to come before the House a week ago, but deferred on the ground that such discussion would be inappropriate while the League Assembly was in session at Geneva. Now, with the League gatherings over, it is expected that the debate will give rise to some important declarations. It is possible that, in this connection, the Government will indicate its attitude towards the Locarno treaties. Reference to the Hamilton declaration by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, is also probable. This was that, in the event of another war, not only should Parliament be consulted but the opinion of the people should be taken in a general election before troops are sent out of Canada.

The coming week will be the last before an Easter recess of ten days —if a motion which Premier King intends to move is adopted by the House. After Easter, the principal business will be the budget. There have already been intimations that its proposals will mean a reduction in taxation.

DOWAGER QUEEN OF DANES DEAD

Heart Attack Induced by Pneumonia Fatal on Saturday.

COURT IN MOURNING

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 22 (Canadian Press). — Dowager Queen Louise of Denmark, widow of King Frederick VIII., died Saturday night. Her death was directly due to a heart attack superinduced by pneumonia. She was 74 years of age.

Several days ago symptoms of pneumonia appeared, and on Friday the heart was greatly affected. The Queen rallied to remedial treatment, but another attack, still more severe, came at four o'clock Saturday. She died shortly afterwards from heart paralysis. The organ had been weakened by the racking cough of the pneumonia and the effects of a serious illness which she suffered last year.

Queen Louise was the first sovereign of Denmark to die as dowager queen in 150 years. All of her children, except King Haakon of Norway, were at the deathbed, as well as Queen Alexandrina, Crown Prince Christian Frederick and Prince Knud.

King Christian has decreed three months' court mourning.

HILL, WEDDELL & HILLS
General Insurance Agency
ESTABLISHED 1883
Phone 14 124 Hunter Street West

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — EXTENSION TABLE; good condition, $7; 158 Edinburgh St. 3d-54-695

FOR SALE — ONE BRUNSWICK Phonograph, new; apply 209 London St. W. after 6 o'clock. 3d-69-1127

FOR SALE—ELECTRIC MOTOR, 1 horsepower; apply 173 Stewart St. 3d-71-1196

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; apply 589 Gilmour, phone 557w. 2d-71-1189

FOR SALE — STROLLER; ALSO high chair and other articles; apply 353 Simcoe. 3d-71-1194

FOR SALE — ARMSTRONG ELECtric Incubator, 65 egg; also electric brooder; both in first class condition; 21 Brown St., Brownton. 3d-69-1114

FOR SALE — BEER BOTTLES— quarts and pints; apply G. Doig, Bell Ave., phone 2505J. 3d-69-1114

FOR SALE—WRINGER AND WATer power washer in good condition; apply 462 Hunter St. 3d-69-1122

FOR SALE—EXTENSION TABLE $8, sideboard $15, 2 dressers $16, Wilton rug, 9 x 12, $6; gramaphone $20; kitchen table from $2; oak china cabinet and desk, $20; sliding couch, $4; radio stand, beds, springs, chairs, folding table $2, plates and cups, etc. 243 McDonnel St., J. Boorman. 4d-70-1128

AUTOS FOR SALE

CAR FOR SALE—FORD SEDAN— model '21 in first class condition; five good cord tires; $335 cash; Box 3626 Examiner.

CAR FOR SALE—McLAUGHLIN CAR in good condition; recently overhauled; five good tires; apply 270 John St., phone 1083w. 6d-74-1193

AUTO FOR SALE — FIRST OFFER takes this 5 passenger touring; guaranteed good shape all round; call 2460. 3d-69-1119

CARS FOR SALE—SPECIAL 6, 1920 Studebaker Touring Car, complete with spare rim and tire, just overhauled at cost of $100.00; splendid condition; a real bargain. Apply 280 George Street. 3d-71-1186

FOR SALE—A 5 PASSENGER TOURing Regal car, in good running order, cheap, or will exchange for good radio or phonograph; 545 King St. 3d-70-1147

POULTRY & EGGS

POULTRY FOR SALE—ROCK HENS and hen house for sale; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-70-1134

WANTED—LIVE POULTRY—EXTRA prices paid for good stock; phone 771 and we will call, or bring them to A. Atkins, 189 Charlotte St. 26d-73-708

WANTEL — HEN AND CHICKENS; special prices paid; phone H. F. Doig, 2097F. 26d-74-723

NOTICE

NOTICE — PHONE 1244W WHEN you want you wood cut. 3d-70-1065

NOTICE—HELP THE NEEDY WITH your cast off clothing; ring Salvation Army, 1229; we will call. 6d-73-1136

NOTICE — MOTOR TRUCKING AND moving; also heavy equipment for lumber and logs; N. Bradley, 704 Water St., phone 2227w. 12d-77-1101

NOTICE—HAIRDRESSING — HAIRcutting, shampooing, marcelling, etc.; work done evenings by appointment; Mrs. E. Johnson, 199 Hunter St. W., Bell Apts, phone 1194F. 5d-73-1192

SPECIAL NOTICE. CUT THIS OUT. it will pay. House repairs, cellar to roof; furnaces, stoves expertly cleaned, complete one-fifty, and repaired. We also have hospital for every description of broken goods, from electric irons, furniture to pair of scissors. Costs nothing to phone. Small trial will surprise you how cheap we work. Wm. J. Bull, 1086M.

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED — SIDELINE salesman for lithographed labels; pocket samples; Ontario Label Co. London, Ont. 11d-70-913

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—ONE BUGGY AND CUTter; apply 3 McGill St. or phone 411w. 3d-70-1145

FOR SALE—AT AUBURN — CORD wood, maple, $6.00 to $10.00. Phone 821J. 3d-69-1125

FOR SALE—A GOOD COOK STOVE. Price $15.00. Apply 590 Downie street, phone 2634J. 3d-70-1113

FOR SALE—A HARLEY-DAVIDSON Motorcycle; also a baswood canoe; apply 25 Lafayette Ave. 3d-70-1137

FOR SALE—SUPREME RANGE FOR coal or wood; also Tropic heater, 294 Reid. 6d-74-1174

FOR SALE—C.C.M. BICYCLE IN A1 condition; cheap; apply 478 Mark. 3d-71-1172

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED HOUSE, 2 piece plumbing, deep lot with henhouse; central; good condition. Apply Box 1178. 6d-74-1178

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; cook stove; sewing machine; fumed oak bufeft; beds and dressers, etc. 539 Gilmour St. 3d-71-1157

FOR SALE — PORTABLE FORGE and Anvil; apply 464 George street, Peterboro. 3d-71-1167

FOR SALE — 3 ELECTRIC LIGHT domes (inverted) marble effect, complete with chains and wire; $6 each; Nugent Drug Co. 2d-70-805

FOR SALE—ONE GENUINE WICKer baby carriage, cheap; also ladies' satin dress, size 36-40; and a few articles of household furniture. Phone 1639m. 3d-71-1164

FOR SALE—UPRIGHT PIANO IN good condition; also Quebec Heater and open Grate; apply 560 Water between 6 and 7 p.m. 3d-71-1150

FOR SALE—COMPLETE THRESHing outfit, 20 h.p. Sawyer-Massey steam engine, Goodson separator with feeder and blower; nearly new further particulars apply Fred Fife, Indian River, Ont. 3d-18,20,22-1093

ARTICLES FOR SALE—ONE VERY fine Persian Rug, size 5 ft. x 6 ft. 9 inches; one Wilton Rug, size 6 ft. 9 in. x 10 ft. 6 in.; one walnut gate-legged Dining Room Table, like new; apply 280 George street. 3d-71-1185

FOR SALE—DROP LEAF TABLE $3; chest of drawers $3; sideboard $8; extension table $6, chairs, rockers, parlor table, hall rack, leather rockers, easy chairs, dressers, stands, small oak wardrobe, iron beds, toilet sets, three burner oil stove with oven, baby buggy, drop head Singer Sewing Machine, crock, dishes; apply 59 Aylmer near Perry. 3d-71-1169

FOR SALE—AUTO KNIT SOCKS— price 75 cents, made from best yarn; apply 467 Downie St. 3d-70-1138

FOR SALE—THOROUGHBRED RED Cocker Spaniel Pups; baby's crib; comode chair; folding wicker sulkie; all in good condition; apply 134 Stanley Ave. 3d-70-1142

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; apply 43 Park St., Saturday afternoon and evening. 3d-69-1131

FOR SALE — B. C. RED CEDAR Shingles at lowest prices; Fred H. Rowan. Phone 851. 26d-60-828

FOR SALE—TWO BUCKEYE INCUbators; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-84-1007

FOR SALE — WALNUT FINISHED steel bed and springs; walnut vanity dresser, new; fumed oak dining room suite; hall rack; Quebec heater; baby carriage; and a number of jars of fruit; apply evenings between 7 and 8 at 245 Stewart St. 3d-48-1098

WOOD FOR SALE — PHONE 1937 for dry hardwood slabs and body hardwood; also real dry hemlock slabs on hand. W. J. Fitzgerald, 242 Perry St. 26d-79-804

BOARDERS WANTED

WANTED — LADY ROOMER OR boarder; all conveniences; apply 531 Roger; phone 1220w. 3d-71-1170

WANTED — BOARDERS; ALL CONveniences; central; phone 632w. 3d-71-1166

BOARD WANTED

WANTED—ROOM AND BOARD BY gentleman; near C.G.E. Write stating terms to Box 1160 Examiner. 3d-71-1160

WANTED — TWO ROOMERS IN private home or would give furnished rooms, heated, to a young couple; garage to rent. 578 Charlotte St. 6d-68-986

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE

FOR SALE — ROAN WORK TEAM cheap; also a young Durham cow, due April 10; 18 McGill St., phone 1903J. 3d-69-1116

FOR SALE — GENERAL PURPOSE Horse, young, sound; broke to all harness; apply 508 Elm; phone 558. 3d-71-1188

FOR SALE — TWO GOOD YOUNG Cows, a Durham and a Holstein; one is freshened and the other will freshen in about 10 days; apply Herb Rosborough, R. R. No. 4, Peterboro; phone 992 ring 6. 3d-70-1151

POULTRY FOR SALE — BRED-TOlay Barred Plymouth Rock Eggs, 251 egg strain, $1 for 15; Walter Thorn, R. R. 11, Peterboro; phone 996 r 2. 3d-19,22,26-758

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE — BULL Browndale type; Robt. Boyd, R. R. No. 1 Ida. 6d-74-1156

FOR SALE—20 STORE HOGS; APply J. R. Sleeman, Monaghan Road, near Queen Mary School, Charlotte St. 6d-74-986

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — MODERN, HEATED Apartments; apply 437 George St. dtf-1668

FOR RENT — WELL FURNISHED front bedroom steam-heated, in exclusive home; very central; for gentleman; phone 613. 3d-70-1154

TO RENT—3 BRIGHT UNFURNISHed rooms with lights, gas and bath; suitable for couple; apply 481 Aylmer St. 3d-71-1179

FOR RENT — FIVE ROOM HOUSE for rent; 48 Ware St., $15.00 per month; phone 2325J. 3d-71-1159

TO RENT—FIRST CLASS APARTment by 1st of May, corner London and Aylmer; apply A. A. McIntyre, 559 Aylmer St. 3d-70-1148

TO RENT — HOUSE, 173 ADELENE apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT — HEATED, FURNISHED House, 173 Adelene; apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT—MODERN APARTMENT ground floor; central; heated or unheated; apply 201 Brock St. 3d-17,19,22-1082

FOR RENT — TRAPPING GROUND for this season; apply 324 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1168

TO RENT OR FOR SALE — NEW 5 roomed house, lights, water, hardwood floors, garage, or exchange on a car or lot; Peters, Braidwood Ave. 3d-69-1132

TO RENT — UPPER APARTMENT and semi-detached house; new apply 265 Rubidge, phone 1405w. 6d-69-1058

TO RENT—THREE ROOMS; HEATed; conveniences; apply 168 Antrim St. 6d-70-1068

TO RENT — APRIL 1st—LOWER Apartment at 187 Stewart, phone 1219J. 3d-69-1130

TO RENT—BRIGHT COMFORTABLE house, clean; well decorated; conveniences; good location; garden; apply 183 Antrim. 4d-70-1124

FOR RENT—NO. 173 1-2 SIMCOE street, suitable for store or office; Apply 437 George street. dtf-813

FOR RENT—HEATED OFFICE ON George street. Apply 437 George street. dtf

FOR RENT — OFFICE, HEATED; Apply Bank of Toronto. dtf-3055

HOUSE TO RENT— 589 DOWNIE street. Apply 437 George street. dtf-1237

HELP WANTED—Male

WANTED — A MARRIED MAN TO work a farm, must be able to milk and understand cattle as well as operate farm machinery; house supplied free; Box 782 Examiner. 2d-69-782

WANTED — AUTOMOBILE SALESman; one with previous experience preferred; J. P. Fulkinghorn, 182 Hunter. 3d-71-1176

WANTED—A FULLY EXPERIENCed farm hand wanted for 8 months, wages $40 per month; apply to Box 34, Ballieboro, Ont. 3d-71-799

BABY CARRIAGES, ETC.

FOR SALE — CREAM WICKER baby carriage, round reed, reversible gear, as good as new. Apply 461½ George North. 3d-69-1112

FOR SALE — BABY CARRIAGE, white, round reed, roll edge, $8.00; phone 406 or call at 466 Park St. 3d-69-1133

FOR SALE — CREAM REED BABY Carriage, good condition, $15; baby coop, $4; phone 2127w. 3d-71-1161

FOR SALE—BABY'S WICKER BUGgy; baby's folding buggy; child's cot; electric fan, new; oak barrel; five gallon coal oil can; kitchen range, burns coal, wood and gas; all in perfect condition; apply 464 Driscoll Terrace. 6d-73-1146

LOST

LOST — LADIES' GOLD WRIST watch, initials on back; finder please phone 938J; Reward. 3d-71-1184

LOST — ON MONDAY, BLACK AND white Fox Terrier, female; anyone knowing her where abouts please notify 168 Lake St. 3d-70-1140

LOST — ON WATER ST.; CHILD'S red bag with wrist watch and change purse inside; phone 647m; reward. 3d-71-1173

LOST — WILL THE PARTY WHO picked up the purse in front of Hill's Grocery Store, George St., on Saturday, leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1183

LOST—10 SATURDAY AFTERNOON centre of city on Hunter St. East. Please leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1162

LOST—29 x 4.40 TIRE CHAIN; WILL finder please leave at Examiner office. 3d-71-1171

LOST — BLACK COLLIE, SHORT tail, white between fore legs, name Buster. Phone 1833J. 3d-70-1135

LOST — BLACK-FACED WALTHAM Wrist Watch luminous dial, down town, Saturday morning; finder please call 63 or 1677J.

LOST—ON 17TH MARCH BETWEEN Frederick Ave. and Opera House by way of Charlotte St., gold wishbone and maple leaf brooch; finder phone 938J. 3d-69-1121

FOUND

FOUND — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD watch; apply J. Pearson Grocery store, 196 Charlotte. 3d-71-1195

HOUSES, REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE—BEAUTIFUL HOME IN city, nine roomed brick veneer house, all improvements, excellent out buildings, lawns, large garden. Apply Box 1152 Examiner. 3d-70-1152

FOR SALE — 8 ROOMED SOLID Brick House, central location; all modern but furnace; apply A. Whitnell, Empress Hotel. 6d-74-1181

HOUSES FOR SALE—A VERY MODern house, best west end location, facing south, fine lot with garage; a snap; apply Box 1187 Examiner office. 3d-71-1187

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE—WHITE brick house and large lot; 102 Cameron St., Crawford's Grove post office; apply Bruce Johnston, phone 544 r 3. 12d-17,20,22,24,27 29,31,3,5,7,10,12-1069

FOR SALE — NEW HOUSE, DESIRably situated in the West End centre hall plan, oak floors through out and modern in every respect; easy terms to suit purchaser; apply 437 George street. dtf-3483

REAL ESTATE — FOR SALE OR rent, in East City, Mark St. 220; a new house, two years old, bungalow style, three bed rooms and bathroom upstairs, built of brick with cement foundation, cellar full size with good furnace; large porch in front, light and water on tap; apply to owner, Andrew Fairbairn, 362 Lakefield, Ont. 3d163-680

try PEP
the CEREAL CHILDREN LOVE
Watch them pep up. They love PEP. Contains bran. For pep eat PEP.
Kellogg's PEP
THE PEPPY BRAN FOOD

HYDRO GLIDER TO CROSS OCEAN

Exhaustive Tests To Be Made Before Trip is Tried.

"CALLED "SEA FLEA."

MARSEILLES, France, March 22 (Canadian Press).—Exhaustive tests will be made in the neighborhood of Marseilles before the hydroglider, called the sea flea, is ready for its proposed attempt to skim the ocean surface from Oran, Algeria, to Dakar, Senegal, on the west coast of Africa, and thence to Buenos Aires. The hydro-glider has been designed by M. De Gasenko, aviator, engineer and inventor.

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED — 2 BOYS WANT work to learn trade; apply 284 Brock St. or phone 632w. 3d-71-1165

WANTED

WANTED—BY 1ST MAY OR SOONer, an up to date 5 or 6 roomed house, with yard and garage, central; all conveniences; will take year lease on same if suitable. Box 1144 Examiner. 3d-70-1144

WANTED — AT ONCE; A SMALL well furnished apartment with private bath; must be central and reasonable. Phone 60. 2d-70-1190

WANTED TO BUY—SECOND HAND child's sulky; phone 2607J. 3d-71-796

WANTED—FOUR OR FIVE ROOMS on bathroom flat or small apartment by May 1st; phone 1206m. 3d-71-1191

WANTED — MOTOR CARTING; ALL kinds, long or short hauling; Beatty Bros. 'Phone 2169-991r2.

WANTED—1,500 MEN AND WOMEN to join Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Coupon on another page. dh

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—APPRENTICE TO LEARN dress and mantle making; phone 899w. 3d-70-1143

WANTED — MIDDLE-AGED HOUSEkeeper for small family, no children; write Box 1163 Examiner. 3d-71-1163

WANTED — GIRL TO DO HOUSEwork; apply Mrs. Rogow, 440½ George. 3d-71-1177

WANTED—YOUNG LADY OF NEAT appearance with sales ability, good hand sewer and trustworthy; apply 163 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1175

WANTED — EXPERIENCED COOK for summer season at Bewdley; state wages desired and if possible give references; Box 746 Examiner. 4d-69-746

In Peterborough Churches

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

Yesterday, Passion Sunday, marking the commencement of the last fortnight of the Lenten season, was solemnized in the Roman Catholic churches of the city by the draping of the side altars and the statues in a sombre pall of deep purple, which will remain in place until Easter Sunday.

His Lordship, Bishop O'Brien, speaking at the morning Masses at St. Peter's Cathedral, emphasized the need of keeping free from worldly distractions and pleasures during the next two weeks and of turning the mind to consideration of the soul's welfare.

"He that is of God heareth the words of God. Therefore you hear it not, because you are not of God," were the words of Christ to the dissenting Jews. The man who is in reality a Christian hears the words of God, no matter how they are addressed to him. "It is not only a confession of faith that will save our souls, but in working out in our lives as the words of God."

"Each man carries his own condemnation about with him. If he refuses to listen to the words of God, he condemns himself. But, "if any man keeps My word, he shall not taste death forever." We must be guided by and strive to fulfill the word of God, by living up to the precepts of the church. God does not force us to save our souls, nor can Satan force us to lose them. We are all controlled by our own wills, and the man who is free to offend Almighty God, and yet refrains from evil, that man is near and dear to the heart of Christ."

At the Cathedral last evening, a special sermon was reached on the lives of Fathers Brebeouf and Lalement, two of the Jesuit martyrs of Canada.

STANDARD CHURCH CONVENTION.

Rev. G. L. Monahan, president of the Standard church, preached in the afternoon and at night to large congregations. The discourse in the afternoon was on Naama the leper. It was clearly shown how leprosy was typical of sin. All Naaman's usefulness was spoiled by one thing —leprosy. Many people's influence and usefulness is spoiled by one thing—sin. Sin affects the whole man.

The little maid represented the real Christian under even adverse circumstances, looking for a chance to do good even to her enemies. She tells where Naaman can be healed. The need to-day is practical Christions preaching Jesus, the great healer divine, in every walk of life, and under all circumstances.

The Syrian King directing Naaman to the King of Israel made a mistake that many make, by getting the message twsted some way and looking for help from the wrong source. The King of Israel acknowledges it will take a God to heal such a disease; also this is that Naaman is seeking a quarrel. Those who know of the great remedy for sin are likely to treat penitent souls the same way when they are seeking deliverance from sin.

Naaman goes to God's prophet but because the messenger and the sage were not what he expected he would not receive it. God's ways are not our ways. We have to lay aside our preconceived notions and submit to God's will and way. Naaman prefers an easier way. The Jordan looks dark and muddy to him, and he asks why not wash in the rivers of Damascus. The prophet of the Lord does not change the message to suit the congregation. Naaman gets angry but finally concludes that he will comply with the conditions, and received a definite experience. Regeneration is as real and is done just as quickly as Naamen was healed when penitent souls meet the gospel conditions and plunge by faith into the fountain opened for sin. The president preached for about one hour.

The discourse at night was on the judgment. The difference was shown between the mercy seat of Christ and the judgment seat of Christ. We may or may not appear at the mercy seat but all must appear at the judgment seat whether read or unprepared. All who do not find salvation from all sin at the mercy seat will be obliged to meet their sins unrepented of at the judgment seat.

There will be no lack of evidence in each case; each life will be reproduced. The sentence or award will be according to the deeds done in the body whether good or bad. He who is now our Saviour and advocate will then be our judge. Those who have become personally and savingly acquainted with Him, who have followed, served and loved Him, will not fear the consequences of the judgment.

There was very great attention given to the message. It was a clear, strong and persuasive message. Many were heard to say that this one sermon was worth the expense of the whole convention.

Many homes were open to freely receive the delegates from different parts.

The meetings will continue every night this week, except Saturday night, in the Standard Mission over 173 1-2 Simcoe street.

Rev. G. L. Monahan, president, will preach to-night.

MANY HEAR ALLENBY.

Victor of Palestine Greeted By Large Audience in Toronto.

TORONTO, March 22 (Canadian Press). — Filling Massey Hall to capacity and with hundreds unable to gain admission, the citizens of Toronto on Saturday night paid tribute to Viscount Allenby, great British soldier whose strategic genius enabled the Allies to drive the Turks out of the Holy Land.

Lord Allenby reviewed his campaign in Palestine, in an address which give the chief credit to the cavalry and infantry. He leaves for Ottawa tonight.

WOMAN SUICIDES.

Leaves Note Asking Burial in Clothes She Had On.

TORONTO, March 22 (Canadian Press).—"Bury me in the clothes I have on," read a note which was signed "Sylvia," along with a bottle which had contained carbolic acid, found beside the unidentified dead body of a woman found near Riverside Drive, on Saturday afternoon.

The woman was of fair complexion, about 40 years of age.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
In the Estate of Patrick B. Sullivan, Deceased.

All persons having claims against the estate of Patrick B. Sullivan, late of the Township of Douro, in the County of Peterborough, and Province of Ontario, Lockmaster, who died on or about the Sixteenth day of February, 1926, are hereby notified to send in to the undersigned Solicitors for the Executors on or before the Twenty-fourth day of April, 1926, full particulars of their claims. Immediately after the said Twenty-fourth day of April, 1926, the assets of the deceased will be distributed amongst the parties entitled thereto having regard only to claims of which the Executors shall then have notice.

Dated at Peterborough this Twentieth day of March, 1926.

Edward Sullivan and Patrick P. Young,
Executors

Hall, Hall and Stevenson of 116 Hunter St., Peterborough, Ontario, Solicitors for the said Executors.
4d-22,29,5,12-792

FOR SALE
$2300.00 buys a good brick house, 8 rooms, partly modern, large lot, centrally located, good terms.
$4500.00 buys a fine brick residence, 7 rooms, modern, large lot; a nice location in the north end, good terms.

FOR EXCHANGE
An apartment house, very centrally located, containing 4 apartments, large lot with double garage, owner would exchange for a farm.

FOR RENT
100 acres of good farm land, all working land, well fenced; very comfortable frame house, frame barn, log barn and straw barn, immediate possession, rent ...$325.00
For further particulars and inspection of the above, apply

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
136 Hunter St. W.
Office phone, 376. Residence, 1589.
A. Mills, agent, phone 1493w.

Too Many Amateur Actors Professionals To Protest

LONDON, March 22.—(Canadian Press.) — Professional actors in Great Britain are complaining bitterly of competition from amateurs, and a meeting is to be held to consider the situation. Sir Johnston Forbes Robertson, famous actor, will preside.

There are said to be 400,000 amateur actors in the country, every big store and company having its dramatic and operatic club.

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT
Seed Cleaning Demonstration Train
WILL STOP AT PETERBORO C. P. R.
MONDAY, APRIL 5TH
The train will consist of three cars, as follows:
Car No. 1—Power and Hand Seed Cleaning Machinery in operation.
Car No. 2—Exhibition material, demonstrating benefits from proper seed cleaning.
Car No. 3—Lecture Car. Special lectures at 2.30 p.m. each afternoon.
Open to public 9.30 to 5 p.m.
Everybody Welcome
3d-20-27-2-775

Telephone 790 When You Want Your
Piano or Organ Tuned
Player Pianos a Specialty
All Work Guaranteed
W. H. CUNNINGHAM
560 Weller Street

B. C. SHINGLES
I handle the best grades of British Columbia Shingles at best prices. Roofing and roofing materials our business.
FRED. H. ROWAN
607 Weller St. Phone 851

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy Teaches Biscoffs' New and Beautiful Work in CHINA PAINTING

In Memoriam

Memories are a great heritage; they help to cheer the way over life's cobble-stone roadway; memories of mother, father, wife, husband, daughter, son, sister, brother or friend.

To assist its readers in the preparation of memoriam notices The Examiner has available a selection of two hundred verses, appropriate for all occasions.

If you are interested, all possible help will be given on enquiry at the Editorial Department.

Boots and Her Buddies

"BRINGING UP FATHER" — Geo. McManus

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY, LTD.
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE ST. PHONE 40

4% INTEREST, compounded Half-Yearly, Paid on Deposits

One Dollar opens an account. Special facilities afforded Depositors for the convenient transaction of their business, and accounts are subject to cheque withdrawal.

For Sums of $100 and upwards this Company's Debentures are issued in terms of one to five years, bearing special rates of interest, depending upon the term of investment.

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.
435-437 George Street
Peterborough

TUXIS BOYS GIVE BANQUET TO GIRLS

Were Hosts at Entertainment for Members of Sunday School Class.

MADOC, March 22. — On Thursday evening the boys of the Tuxis Square entertained the members of Mrs. Foster's class at the United Church. A short time ago the young ladies of that class had given a snow shoeing party for the Tuxis boys and on Thursday evening the boys returned the compliment with a very successful banquet.

The early part of the evening was made enjoyable with games and contests and about half past nine thirty guests sat down to a table groaning with good things. When all had done justice to the delicious menu, lemonade was poured for a long list of toasts and many clever little speeches were made by the young people.

The toast to "The King" was proposed by Archie Ashley and responded to by the singing of the National Anthem; to "The Empire," proposed by Donald Whytock, and responded to by song "O Canada;" "Our Government," proposed by Rev Mr. Foster and responded to by Misses C. Demille and G. Wilson. "Madoc" proposed by T. Nickle and responded to by Mr. J. B. Hough and Miss M. Nickle; "The Church and Sunday School," proposed by J. B. Hough and responded to by Misses E. Harris and J. Demille; "Our Teacher," proposed by Colin Defoe and responded to by Rev. Mr. Foster; "Their Teacher," proposed by Helen Caskey and responded to by Mrs. A. H. Foster; "Our Mothers," proposed by J. Henderson and responded to by Mrs. Foster; "The Mentor," proposed by Donald Whytock and responded to by J. B. Hough; "Our Guests," proposed by Albert Caskey, ad responded to by M. Rousehorn;" "The Tuxis Square," proposed by Margaret Spraggett and responded to by A. Ashley.

W. C. T. U. Address.

Mr. George, a W.C.T.U. worker from London, addressed the children of the public and high schools on Friday last on the evils of alcohol and the use of tobacco. Mrs. George made her explanations very clear and concise and well suited to the understanding of the pupils. Mrs. (Rev.) A. H. Foster and Mr. F. Jenkins, secretary of the school board, accompanied Mrs. George on her visit to the public school.

The play, "Clubbing a Husband," was put on in Tweed recently by the ladies who so successfully presented the play in Madoc last week. A number of town people accompanied the players to Tweed and report that the play was again splendidly staged and a good crowd in attendance.

At a meeeting of th Public Library Board held on Friday evening, March 19, Miss C. Caldwell was appointed a delegate to the meetings of the Library Association to be held in Toronto during Easter week.

Rev. Mr. Foster reported at the meeting that the usual grant of one hundred dollars had been given by the town council

The members had asked for an increase as they wished to place an encycloepedia on the library shelves, but as the estimates were not yet made the council felt that no more could be given at the present time but intimated that if finances justified the action, further consideration would be given to the request later.

INSTITUTE MEETING IN WEST SEYMOUR

CAMPBELLFORD, Marc 22. — Ladies of the Seymour West Women's Institute met on Thursday afternoon at the usual hour, at the home of Mrs. Robert McCulloch. The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

A letter was read concerning the sewing course and it was decided to begin on March 29 at the home of Mrs. Robert McCulloch, and the secretary was commissioned to write for information as to what is needed to go on with the course.

A letter was read by the president from Miss Freda Nelson, teacher at West's School, thanking the Institute for the prize money donated by the ladies, and won by the pupils of the school at the Rural Fair.

A letter was also read from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunham, thanking the ladies for the sixty roses presented to them on their 60th wedding anniversary.

The ladies discussed the matter of holding summer meetings and if it would be advisable to invite any other Institute to join them for the summer, but on a motion by Mrs. George Longmuir seconded by Mrs. West, it was decided to have a speaker and hold their own meetings and to have a picnic at the same time.

Only six ladies responded to the plan "Economical Meals for House-Cleaning Time." It was moved by Mrs. James Clark and seconded by Mrs. Douglas Rutherford, to send a plant to a sick member and the secretary was assigned that duty.

A splendid paper was given by Mrs. Howard Clark, "The Sunny Side of Life," Mrs. Cecil McCulloch gave a reading entitled "St. Patrick's Birthday," and Mrs. Reginald McCulloch led a contest.

After the programme the hostess served a dainty lunch and Mrs. Howard Clark and Mrs. Douglas Rutherford, on behalf of the ladies, tendered Mrs. McCulloch a hearty vote of thanks. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially. Twenty-nine ladies answered "Present" to the roll-call. The next regular meeting will be held on April 15 at the home of Mrs. Roy Fleming.

CAMPBELLFORD CHEESE BOARD CONSIDERS DAIRYING INDUSTRY

Debates Question of Reviving Board as Selling Point.

NO DECISION.

District Representative Gives Address on Testing Cows.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22.—A meeting of the cheese board was held here Saturday afternoon, when matters of interest to the dairying industry were considered. The organization of this Board has been preserved intact although no cheese was sold on it last season. The question of reviving it as a selling point was debated Saturday, but nothing was decided, the majority of the members present apparently being satisfied with conditions as they now exist.

The chief speaker at the session was District Representative Smith of Brighton, who dealt with the testing of dairy cows, provision for which has been made by the Ontario Department of Ontario. This system will be of special benefit to the owners of grade herds as it will assist in the sale of the cows as purchasers will know the worth of each as a producer of milk.

The dairy instructor of the district will make the tests, the cost of which will be 25 cents for each cow for a single test and 50 cents for the season. A record of these tests will be kept in the office of the district representative and at the end of the season the department will issue certificates to the owners. All the extra equipment required by the dairyman who avails himself of this system is a set of bottles to hold the samples of milk and scales with which to weigh the milk.

Growing Alfalfa.

Mr. Smith urged the farmers to go more extensively into the growing of alfalfa. Some of them may have tried it without success in the past, but in most of these cases the failures were easily explained. Only the seed that has been raised in the northern climate should be used and this should be innoculated before it is sown. A free sample of the material required for this treatment can be secured at Ottawa, after which it can be obtained in bulk at 50 cents a barrel. Alfalfa, Mr. Smith said, is the best and cheapest hay that the farmer can raise as it can be produced at a cost of $10 a ton and for feeding purposes a ton of it is equal to a ton of bran.

Mr. Smith said that the farmer can do little to regulate the price of the commodities which he has for sale and for that reason he should strive to increase his production and to cut down his expenses.

Mangels, the speaker said, can be used as a substitute for turnips as a food for dairy stock, as these vegetable do not taint, while they increase the flow of milk.

Farmers were urged to sow only the best quality of seed and Mr. Smith advised them to club together and secure a seed cleaning machine, if it could not be obtained in any other way.

Chance to Win Prizes.

J. L. Irwin, the official grader, reminded the audience that last year two of the prizes offered for the best kept cheese factories in Ontario had been by makers in Northumberland County. This year prizes of still greater value are offered, and a special effort should be made to bring home some of the money.

J. A. Murray, dairy instructor, said that the prospects are good for another prosperous season in the dairy business. He read the same figure with regard to local conditions as he had given at Workworth at the meeting held there on Thursday.

Alfred Merrill, president of the Beaver cheese factory and district director, said that the dairymen in his section were in favor of having their cheese graded at the station here as was done last season.

The shippers believe that the C.N.R. should furnish a man to help load the cheese something that the company refused to do last year. Mr. Irwin stated that this help is provided by the railway at Belleville and Picton, and he sees no reason why an exception should be made in the case of Campbellford.

District Representative Smith promised to take this matter up with the proper officials.

It was stated at the meeting that there is pending Dominion legislation which if given effect, will make uniform in size all the cheese turned out in Canada, the object being not only to facilitate shipping but to give another distinctive feature to the products of this country. If the bill becomes law every box of Canadian cheese will weigh 84 pounds. At present the boxes in this district weigh 90 and in the Madoc and Belleville districts from 100 to 110 pounds, and there is a difference all over the country.

District Markets

Prevailing prices in towns and villages in The Examiner's territory at the end of the week.

AT ROSENEATH

ROSENEATH, March 22—Prices in the Roseneath stores on Saturday were as follows: Dairy utter 44c a pound, eggs 27 to 33c a dozen; head lettuce 2 for 25c celery 25c bunch, graulate sugar $7 and brown sugar $6.50 a hundred. Clover honey 5-pound pail 50, bananas 50c a dozen, roast of beef 12c a pound, stewing beef 10c a pound, pork fresh 25c a pound, sausage 25c a pound or 2 pounds 45c, lard (not farmers') 25c or 3 pounds 70c, flour (pastry) 25 pounds $1.15, Manitoba flour, 25 pounds $1.25, bread 22c a loaf, buns 18c a dozen, bran $1.75 a hundred, shorts $1.90 a hundred.

AT CAMPBELLFORD

CTMPBELLFORD, March 22 Farmers in this vicinity are receiving the following prices for their produce on the local market: Apples 25 cents a peck, eggs 30 to 32 cents a dozen dairy butter 45 cents a pound, potatoes 60 cents a peck and $3 a bag; hay, loose, $10 a ton and when baled it retails at 1 cent a pound; wheat is $1.20 a bushel; straw, loose, $5 a load, bailed $10 a ton; oats 60 cents a bushel; barley from 85 to 90 cents a bushel; hogs $13 a hundred live weight, and prime beef $10 a hundred by the carcass.

AT STIRLING

STIRLING, March 22. — Apples $1; butter, dairy, 40c a pound retail, creamery, 47c to 50c a pound; eggs 23c to 28c, potatoes $3 a bag, Cheese 30c a pound retail, beans 4 pounds for 25c, beef 8c to 13c by the quarter hogs $13 a cwt, pork 18c, wood $10 a cord, hay $10 a ton.

AT WOOLER

WOOLER, March 22.— Market prices for the week: Butter 42 to 45 cents; eggs, firsts, 29c, seconds 25c; cream 47c a pound, milk 10c a quart, bread 20 cents a loaf, beef by the quarter, 11c hind quarter, 10c front quarter; hogs, dressed, 18c a pound; lambs, yearling, 24c and 26c a pound, hay $10 a ton.

AT LAKEFIELD

LAKEFIELD March 22.—Dairy butter is 43 cents a pound and creamery butter 49 cents, eggs are lower this week and are 30 cents and coming in increased quantities. Cheese is 32 cents a pound. Sugar retails for $6.80 a hundred. Potatoes are $3.65 a bag and scare at that, while apples are plentiful, spies of first quality selling for 50 cents a peck, and less choice varieties for less money. Very fair apples sold for 15 cents a peck this week, cream remains firm at 60 cents a quart. Chickens are 33 cents a pound, lamb is from 22 to 40 cents a pound, beef 15 to 30 cents, and pork 23 to 30 cents a pound, salt herrings are selling 4 pounds for 25c and a limited quantity of haddie at 3 pounds for 25c.

AT BETHANY

BETHANY, March 22—Eggs are plentifull at 30c a dozen; Butter, dairy, 42c a pound; cheese, 32c a pound; chickens, dressed, 30c a pound, undrawn, 28c; potatoes are scarce and not as good a quality as is generally found in Manvers, they sell at $2.75 a bag locally; apples have been plentiful all winter owing to the splendid apple crop last year and can be had for $1.50 a bag; hogs are $12.75.

AT KEENE

KEENE, Mar. 22 — Egg prices dropped considerably during the past week owing to the heavy production. Butter remained about the same as last week. Following are the prices prevailing on Saturday: Eggs, 24 to 30 cents a dozen; butter, 36 to 40 cents a pound; hogs, $14.50 a hundred pounds live weight; wood, $8 to $12 a cord; Veal Calves, 11 to 13 cents a pound; Sheep 10 to 12 cents a pound.

AT NORWOOD

NORWOOD, March 22.—Prices in Norwood at the end of the week were:

Butter, creamery, 50 cents, dairy 45 cents; eggs 33 cents; Meats: beef 12 to 25 cents a pound; pork, 20 to 28 cents a pound; potatoes, $2.50 a bag; cream, 25 and 30c a pint.

AT WARKWORTH

WARKWORTH, March 22. — Butter 38 and 40 cents a pound; eggs, 26 and 28 cents a dozen; cheese, 30 cents a pound; onions, 4 pounds for 25 cents; bread, 18 cents a loaf; beef, 10, 15 and 18 cents a pound; pork, 25 cents a pound; Northern Spy apples, good quality, $1.25 cents a bushel; shorts $1.85 a hundred.

AT MARMORA

MARMORA, March 22. — Prices in Marmora stores on Saturday were: Beef, sirloin 25 cents a pound, roast, 20 cents a pound, stew, 8 and 10 cents a pound; veal, 25 cents a pound; lamb, 25 cents a pound; pork, 28 cents and 30 cents a pound; sausage, 25 cents a pound; eggs are lowered to 32 cents a dozen; butter, 45 cents a pound; lard, 25 cents a pound; potatoes, slightly increased to $3.25 a bag.

Cabbage, 10 cents a pound; apples, 30 cents a peck; sugar $7 a hundred; honey, 15 cents a pound.

AT OMEMEE

OMEMEE, March 22—The price of dairy butter in Omemee on Saturday was 40 cents a pound. Eggs have taken a drop to 28 cents a dozen.

Cabbage is 10 cents a pound; head lettuce 15 and 20 cents and celery 25 cents a bunch; green onions are 5 cents a bunch and ripe tomatoes 35 cents a pound.

Live hogs dropped 50 cents a hundred and brought $12.75 last week.

The cattle market was very slow and dull and an over supply was on hand. The price for butcher cattle was 6 and 7½ cents a pound while calves brought from 10 to 13 cents a pound.

eggs are down a little in price at 30c a dozen; bacon, best brand, is 50c a lb., peameal back is 50c, and smoked back 55c a lb.; cheese is still 35c, and sausages, best brand, 28c a lb.

Leaf lettuce is 5c a bunch and head lettuce 15c; green onions are 5c a bunch, and cooking onions five pounds for 25c; grape fruit (large) are 15c each; California prunes, two pounds for 35c; carrots are 30c a peck; celery is 30c and 35c a head; tomatoes are 30c a pound; chickens are 25c a pound.

Sirloin steak is still 25c a pound, and round steak 22c; beef roasts are 1c, 20c and 22c a pound; veal cutlets are 30c and veal roasts 22c to 25c; pork is 28c; salmon, sliced, 18c in the piece, 15c a pound; lard is 25c a pound; fresh herring are 1c a pound; fillets 25c a pound, and finnan haddie 20c.

AT LINDSAY.

LINDSAY, March 22 (Special).—The following are the week-end quotations in the local stores: Butter, creamery 50c a pound, choice dairy 45c a pound; eggs, 33c and 35c a dozen; lard, 25c and 28c a pound; clever honey, five pounds for 80c, in sections, 35c and 25c each; potatoes 60c a peck; cooking onions, four pounds for 25c; Spanish onions, four pounds for 25c; apples, 30c to 40c a peck.

The grain market: Bran, $1.70; buckwheat, 65c; oats, 45c; wheat, goose $1.15, fall $1.25, spring $1.15; shorts, $1.80; rolled oats, $3.50; flour, best pastry $4, Manitoba $4.50; timothy hay and clover hay, $13 a ton; straw, $6 and $7 a ton.

The cattle market: Cattle, selects (heavy export), 6½c to 7½c; common butchers, 5½c to 6½c; sheep, 3½c to 5c; choice yearlings, 7c to 8c; spring lamb, $9 to $12; hogs, best quality, 13¼c; selects, heavies 4c to 7c; calves, choice, 5c to 10c.

OBITUARY.

Miss SARA MATCHETT

BETHANY, March 22.—Quite a large number of relatives and friends of the late Miss Sarah Matchett attended her funeral service at the United Church on Wednesday at noon. The service was in charge of the Pastor, Rev. A. Poulter, who spoke on the words of St. Paul; "I have fought a good fight; I have finished my course; I have kept the Faith." Mr. Poulter said these words fitted the departed as those who knew her best could testify. Mrs. Poulter sang a solo, "Saved by the Grace." Flowers from relatives, the W.M.S., and the Ladies' Aid covered the casket. Interment was in the 9th Line Cemetery, Cavan.

Among those present noticed were Miss Viola Staples, Mr. Colin Arnott, Mrs. Morrison, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matchett, Archie Matchett, Mr. Fred Matchett Mr. and Mrs. Syer of Cavan, and many others.

ROBERT COLE.

MARMORA, March 22. — The death occurred in Timmins Thursday evening of Robert Cole, who, prior to taking up residence in that town some sixteen years ago, was a well-known resident of Cordova. Deceased was about 60 years of age, and death was due to heart trouble. Besides his widow, he leaves to mourn his loss, three sons, Charles, Manley and Richard, all of Timmins, and three daughters: Mrs. Dan. Osborne of Cordova, Mrs. Carl Eyre of Timmins and Margaret at home. Other children predeceased him in recent years. His widow is a sister of Mr. Philip Sopha of Marmora.

He was a member of the United Church and also of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows. The remains are being conveyed to Marmora for interment in the local cemetery today.

MRS. JOHN McGUIRE.

DOWNEYVILLE, March 22.—The funeral of the late Mrs. John McGuire was held from the family residence on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock to St. Luke's church, where requiem high mass was said by Rev. Father Galvin. The church was crowded by a host of sorrowing relatives and friends and the many spiritual bouquets received showed the high esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. McGuire, whose maiden name was Margaret Burns, was born in Ops township 49 years ago and after her marriage resided in Emily. By the death of Mrs. McGuire the community and parish have lost a valued member. She was an ardent church worker, was president of the Catholic Woman's League and treasurer of the Altar Society for a number of years, and in all church work she was always ready to help.

Deceased is survived by her husband and six children, Dorothy, Helen, Paul, Mary, Jean and Agnes, one brother, Hiram Burns, of Lindsay, three sisters, Mrs. Jas. O'Reilly and Mrs. O'Loughlin, of Lindsay, and Mrs. Brady of Chicago.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Dennis C. Scully, Patrick Harrington, Robert J. Winn, Elmer Mahood, Patrick N. Winn and Vincent O'Connell.

The services at the cemetery were conducted by Rev. Father Galvin. The sympathy of the community goes out to the sorrowing relatives in their bereavement.

MRS. ROBERT JONES

The death occurred on Sunday after a short illness of Mrs. Robert Jones at the age of 70 years. Mrs. Jones was born in the township of Cavan and has resided in that vicinity all her life.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Robert Jones. The remains will be forwarded from the funeral chapel of D. Belleghem and Sons to Omemee on the 5.30 C.N.R. train on March 22.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 1.00 p.m. from the home of Richard Post, Rev. E. W. Rowland officiating. The interment will be held in Omemee cemetery.

AT MILLBROOK.

MILLBROOK, March 22.—Prices prevailing this week-end are: Potatoes 50c a peck; creamery butter, 48c and dairy butter, 43c a lb.;

Does That Cough Stick On Your Lungs?

Mr. Islay MacNab, Bognor, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with a terrible cough that I could not get rid of, and my doctor told me that I had a slight touch of bronchitis. Nothing I took seemed to give me any relief until I got a bottle of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

I got such relief by using it that I would advise all those who are subject to bad colds or coughs to keep a bottle of this remedy in their homes all the time."

You don't experiment when you buy "Dr. Wood's" as it has been a household remedy for the past 37 years.

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DECLINES POST.

Henry Rosevear Cannot Accept Position as Organist.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22. — Henry Rosevear of Toronto, who was offered the position of organist in St. John's Church, has notified the music committee that he cannot accept as he has taken a similar position in Toronto. The committee will now make a selection from a number of other candidates.

I.O.O.F. AT HOME

Oddfellows and Rebekahs Held Entertainment at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22. — The members of the Campbellford Lodge and Loch Lomond Rebekah Lodge I.O.O.F. held a successful At Home in their lodge rooms on Thursday evening, and a good crowd was present to enjoy a social time. The programme was interesting and varied and included readings by Mrs. D. A. Montgomery, Miss B. McConnell, and S. A. Maguire; a duet by Miss Gladys Plumpton and Mrs. Victor Hay piano solo by G. W. Lucy, and solos by Miss Emma Meiklejohn, G. W. Lucy and Robert Dunk. Mr. Lucy and Godden's String Orchestra provided music throughout the evening. Thomas Craighead was chairman of the programme. After lunch, cards and dancing were the attractions for the rest of the evening.

SPRING IS HERE

Thousands of People Need Calomel.

That is why you have sallow complexion with a dull tired heavy feeling, no pep, indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, terrible kidney pains, biliousness, no appetite. These are all well known signs that your liver is out of order, that your system is full of poison. There is only one drug that acts upon the liver and that is calomel called tanol calomel which has no bad after effects, perfectly harmless to take, no salts or seidlitz are needed next morning. Get a few of these tablets from Weber's Drug Store, Peterboro; take according to directions. They will make you eat better, look better, work better, and your brain will be much clearer, full of pep and vigor ready for a long day's work.

BETHLEHEM STEEL COMPANY'S REPORT

Big Improvement in Operations and Earnings.

NEW YORK, March 22 (Canadian Press).—Pronounced improvements in operations and earnings of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation in 1925 is shown in the annual report Sunday, the outstanding feature being the increase in volume of shipments and deliveries by subsidiary companies, amounting to $273,025,320, compared with $243,904,266 for the preceding year.

"The year 1925 was in many ways the most remarkable in the history of the steel industry in this country," the report said. "Approximately 44,187,000 tons of steel ingots were produced, establishing a new record and exceeding the previous record, made in 1917, by approximately 568,000 tons."

U. S. STEEL REPORT.

Nearly Billion and Half in 1925.

NEW YORK, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The volume of business transacted by the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiary companies in 1925 reached the enormous total of $1,406,505,195, exceeding the previous year's operations by $142,793,726, the annual report disclosed Sunday.

Net income for the year amounted to $109,451,785 in contrast to $104,221,974 in 1924, with a balance of $4,801,800 carried forward to undivided surplus, which aggregated $521,863,109.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wood spent a couple of days in Toronto this week.

Mr. L. A. Denike of town and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Causby of Norham were in Stirling on Thursday attending the funeral of the late Walter McCutcheon.

William Collard is spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Captain Hearst of Toronto spent a few days of this week with her friend, Miss Beatrice Collard, Simpson Street.

Edward Frederick had the misfortune to injure his hand while at his work last week.

Wesley Stevens left on Friday for Montreal, where he will spend the next few days.

The clothes moth does all of its eating while in the larve stage.

Tenders for School Building

Tenders are solicited for the building of the Apsley Consolidated School in the Village of Apsley, Ont., according to architect's plans and specifications, which may be examined on application. Tenders must be in the hands of Secretary not later than April 10th, 1926.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Address:
MR. ROY BROWN,
Secretary Apsley Consolidated School,
Apsley P.O., Ontario.

3d-19-22-24-756

FEATHERS

Feather Mattresses or Down Comforters Made From Your Own Feathers.

Drop a card to DOMINION FEATHER MATTRESS CO., 374½ WATER ST., PETERBORO

Our Agent will call. Highest Price Paid for Feathers.

m.w.s.-80.

Herbalist Here--

ARE YOU SUFFERING FROM ANY DISEASE?

Mr. Murfin, the proprietor of the Canadian Herb Gardens and expert in herbs, will be at the

Empress Hotel, Peterboro

ONE DAY ONLY

TUESDAY, MARCH 23rd.

ALL DAY and EVENING

CONSULTATION FREE

Nervous Diseases — Rheumatism — Bladder Troubles — Diabetes — Bright's Disease — Stomach — Liver — Kidney — Neuritis — Neuralgia — Blood Pressure — Heart Troubles — Constipation — and All Diseases.

THERE IS A HERB FOR EVERY DISEASE

Remember the Date, Tuesday, March 23rd., Only

CANADIAN HERB GARDENS

133 GARFIELD AVENUE - LONDON, ONT.

We Sell the Herbs the Juice Comes From

Name every feature you want in a spring and you describe the Slumber King

If you wrote down everything you could desire in a bedspring, wouldn't your list read like this?

Luxurious ease in every sleeping position. Two people cushioned as comfortably as one. No sagging edges or centre. Quiet. Box spring height. Easy to keep clean. No sharp corners to tear bedclothes. Lifetime service. Most value. Low price.

It may be hard to believe that such a perfect bedspring could exist. But it actually does—the Slumber King. Prove it yourself. Study the features of this matchless spring, at any store.

To get the full luxury from your Slumber King, of course you will want the mattress it deserves—the finest cotton mattress and biggest value in Canada for more than 30 years—the Ostermoor. Sold everywhere in the Dominion at one low price, only $25.

SIMMONS
Slumber King
BED SPRING

The Evening Examiner

PHONES—Editorial 1661. Business Office, 1660. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening, by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office, 416 George Street. $6.00 per year, delivered in city; out-of-town subscribers, by mail, $4.00 a year.

The Weekly Examiner, published every Thursday. Subscription price $1.50 a year.

J. S. REPRESENTATIVES

Special U. S. Representatives—W. H. Stockwell, 629 People's Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.
New York—Chas. F. Miller, 286 Fifth Avenue.
Advertising Rates on application.
R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1926.

SPEEDING UP THE PROCEEDINGS.

Hon. W. E. Raney's objection to speeding up the proceedings in the Legislature will not be generally shared.

The man on the street welcomes any sign of business principles in the transaction of public affairs, and is inclined to grow impatient over long and profitless debates, hair-splitting and unnecessary criticism.

So long as the business of the Province is not neglected in the speeding up process, the majority of people favour a short session, realizing that it is what is done that counts and not the number of days it takes to do it.

The usual complaint is that too much time is wasted by all our public bodies, and unfortunately that complaint is well founded.

There is no sound reason why by strict attention to business the proceedings could not be considerably expedited, and Mr. Ferguson's efforts in this respect will be appreciated by most people who have given a thought to the question.

THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT.

The reviving interest locally in the Boy Scout movement should be welcomed by the whole community.

There is so much benefit to be derived from the work of this organization that citizens generally should be glad to extend a helping hand.

The "gang" spirit that exists in every boy must have an outlet, and nothing offers such a sure safety value as does the Boy Scout organization.

The idea that this movement is militaristic in nature has surely been dispelled by this time, save in the minds of Agnes MacPhail and a few other people.

Boy Scouts are not brought up to be soldiers; they are, however, brought up to be good citizens and good Canadians, and no boy can be a member of such an organization for any appreciable length of time without feeling the benefit of the training and passing it on to other boys around them.

The citizens who have allied themselves with the movement here are doing a real community service, and the interest they are showing in the work should have splendid results.

THE SIZE OF THE CATCH.

The cutting down of the size of a day's legal catch of bass from eight to five is a step taken by the Ontario Government to check the rapid depletion of the Provincial waters.

Whether it will have any great success in that direction is problematical.

Undoubtedly in the past there has been among the numerous visitors at Ontario's fishing resorts a large number of the genus commonly known as "fish hogs."

Everybody has come across a specimen or two, men who catch fish by the boatful in order that they may go home and boast to their friends about the size of their catch.

Stories of heaps of rotting fish left behind by such visitors when they break camp are too common to leave any doubt of the authenticity of at least some of them.

These "fish hogs" have pointed no attention to the old limit of eight bass per day, and it is too much to hope that the smaller limit now decided upon will have any effect upon their wholesale fishing.

The only thing that would do that would be a stiff fine for the offenders whose unsportsmanlike conduct is, the Examiner is sure, as much resented by their fellow-visitors as it is by Canadian sportsmen.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

The scheme of old age pensions as proposed by the Federal Government really passes the buck on to the Provincial Legislatures, inasmuch as it will only come into effect in those Provinces whose Legislatures adopt the plan, and in such cases half of the expense will have to be met by the Province.

There are several angles in connection with old age pensions.

On one side is the ease of mind they give to hard-working citizens who can look forward with confidence to the future knowing that should illness or financial disaster overtake them they will not be left penniless in their old age.

On the other is the undoubted fact that old age pensions put a premium upon extravagance and shiftlessness.

While one man with an eye to the future denies himself many luxuries in order to put by enough money to take care of him when his working days are over, another may say to himself that he might as well have a good time in his younger days because when he grows old the state is going to look after him.

This factor enters into the situation beyond a doubt, and will have to be taken into consideration no matter what plan of old age pensions is adopted.

THAT IRISH "BOMBING."

The public sense of what is important is a curious study in psychology. Yesterday, for example, hundreds of words were cabled across the Atlantic telling how two harmless pieces of fireworks were thrown into two Irish dinners held in London, attended by Premier Baldwin and the Prince of Wales. The far vaster thing, namely, that the Prince Minister of Britain, and the heir apparent to the throne of Britain, were the chief guests at these Irish dinners, was not thought worthy of comment. The mad prank of perhaps one unbalanced Irishman—if he was an Irishman at all—is magnified into a new Clerkenwell explosion; the history-making event of Celts and Saxon Prime Minister and Prince uniting to honor Ireland's Day is passed over in silence.

Yet to those of us whose memories go back only to the late nineties and the early nineteen hundreds, the presence of the Prince of Wales and of England's Prime Minister at a St. Patrick's Day dinner is a tremendous thing. Fifteen or even ten years ago, such a thing would have been regarded as impossible. In Parnell's day, and even in the days of John Redmond, members of the Irish Party, although popular in the House of Commons, had practically no social intercourse with the English people. John Morley, in his "Recollections," recorded as something worthy of particular notice that he occasionally had some of the Nationalist leaders to dine with him; and when Parnell was induced to speak from the same platform as Gladstone on the occasion of the opening of the "Eighty Club," the newspapers featured the incident as a most remarkable event.

Only a generation separates St Patrick's Day, 1926, from those dark times. Only half a decade separates it from bitter days when Englishmen and Irishmen were shedding each other's blood. Yet, so healing is the power of good-will, so great the power of justice, that the reconciliation of 1922 has brought eight-century old foes into fraternity and concord. That, surely, is a fine thing to dwell upon, an historic vindication of the potency of goodness — something challenging reflection. Yet, so topsy-turvy are the times, so accustomed have we become to the rapid sweep of events, that a milestone in the relations of two great peoples is subordinated to the pranks of an evidently irresponsible individual.—Ottawa Journal.

THE EMBARGO PROPOSAL.

Speaking in Parliament the other day Mr. T. L. Church of Toronto suggested "an absolute embargo on American coal." It is a curious suggestion, and one which no Government is likely to adopt.

Canada annually imports from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons of coal. Over 97 per cent. of this tonnage comes from the United States. To reduce this percentage by the importation of Welsh coal and to reduce the total of imports by the transportation of Canadian coal to non-coal-producing Provinces, is a sound and businesslike policy, in so far as it can be accomplished without unduly enhancing the cost to the consumer. But to suggest, as Mr. Church does, that the Canadian consumer shall be absolutely deprived of United States coal and forced to depend upon coal mined in Canada or Great Britain is to propose something not at present feasible.

The first thing to do is to demonstrate that Canadian or Welsh coal, or both, can be laid down in Central Canada at a price which will compete with that of American coal of similar grade, so that the cost to the consumer will not be enhanced. With that demonstrated, and the quantity as well as the price of such coal ensured, the situation will take care of itself.

In the meantime talk of an embargo is harmful. While the people of Mr. Church's home town are aware that things which pop into his head often pop promptly out of his mouth—while they will recognize his embargo proposal as one of those loose suggestions he is accustomed to make—a statement made in the House of Commons is apt to be taken more seriously elsewhere. And some time when Canada seeks more coal from her neighbor (as she has done before now on occasions of scarcity) these embargo suggestions may be quoted against her by States of the Union which would like to secure Canada's share. The fact is that Canada is in no position to embargo American coal, and that no one in authority in any of the political parties would advocate an embargo.—Toronto Star.

NOT A NEW THING.

Extended discussion appears to be an unavoidable preliminary to the attainment of any great object or the execution of any great project. Before the Suez Canal was dug or the peninsula of Panama ditched, years of discussion ensued. In this country, before the Rideau Canal was navigated, either the Intercolonial or the Canadian Pacific Railroads built, Niagara harnessed or a bridge thrown across the St. Lawrence at Quebec, there was much speculation, controversy and talk. And the same has proved true in the case of the Hudson's Bay Railway, to forward the completion of which, in accordance with the sessional programme of the Government, Parliament is being asked to make an initial grant of $3,000,000.

People there are who seem to consider this Hudson's Bay Railway as something new, a question which never before has confronted the Commons. They know not their Manitoba history. Nearly half a century ago there went to Winnipeg from the county of Oxford a certain Hugh Sutherland, who embarked in the lumbering and contracting business in the then town and who conceived the idea ten years later of a railway eventually to reach the shores of Hudson's Bay. He talked about it and wrote about it, using the same arguments which are now uppermost, and the result of his agitation was the incorporation in the year 1887 of a company known as the Winnipeg & Hudson's Bay Railway Company and the construction of the first 40 miles which led from Winnipeg in a northerly direction. If we remember that the North-west Rebellion occurred in the year 1885, we may the more readily estimate the age of the undertaking. As early as the year 1894 Mr. Sutherland contributed to one of the magazines an article bearing the familiar title, "Nature's Outlet for the North-west," and at a later date, at his solicitation and argument, the firm of MacKenzie & Mann extended the railway to Le Pas. Thence its further extension northward was begun under the Laurier administration, the then Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. George P. Graham, turning the first sod and having a silver spade to commemorate the occasion. The project was considered feasible by that Government, and it was considered just as feasible by the succeeding Government which pushed steel forward until the line had attained a length of 332 miles, over which trains began to operate. Had not the war intervened and rendered a stoppage of work, advisable in view of the necessity for concentration of effort upon a greater task, the probability is that the railroad would have been fully completed and trains would have been long since running into the terminal at Port Nelson, there to discharge their freight of grain and other Western products and to bear back to "the front" the timber and minerals of the Northland.

It will thus be seen that the Hudson's Bay Railway is by no means a new project. Indeed, it is almost as old as the Province of Manitoba, and it has been debated times without number in Parliament and out of Parliament.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTE SAND COMMENT.

It looked yesterday, at least, as if Miss Spring had arrived right on scheduled time.

A community drive on the slush on the sidewalks would seem to be in order.

The Ontario Government lost $8,000 in connection with its apple selling scheme last autumn. In view of the splendid name won for Ontario apples in England through this effort, the people of the Province will feel that the expenditure was well worth while.

Fumes from a cargo of New Zealand cheese rendered two sailors unconscious. That should be ripe enough to satisfy the most ardent lover of antique cheese.

— RADIO — PROGRAMS

BEST PICK.

WTAM (389.4) Cleveland, O. 6—Orchestra. 8—Concert. 9—Vocal. 10—Classical. 11—Dance tunes.

WBAP (475.9) Fort Worth, Tex. 6—Orchestra. 7:30—Quartet. 9:30—Orchestra. 11—Entertainers.

KFI (467) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Barn dance program. 8—Orchestra. 9—Vocal. 10—Studio.

WEAF (492) New York City. 10—Grand opera, "Nozza de Figaro."

EASTERN TIME.

WEAF (492) New York City. 4—Helene Forker, soprano. 4:15—Pearl Beards, pianist. 4:30—Paul Winnell, baritone. 4:45—"Poets I Have Met," by Walter Yust. 5—Vincent Lopez and orchestra. 6—Dinner music. 7—Columbia University lecture. 7:20—Raymond G. Parker, tenor. 7:30—"The Lullaby Lady." 8—"Pop Concert." To WOO (508.2). 9—A. and P. Gypsies. To WEEI (476), WCAP (469), WWJ (352.7), WJAR (305.9), WOO (508.2). 10—Grand opera, "Nozza di Figaro." To WOO (508.2), WCAE (461.3), WJAR (305.9), WCAP (469), WTAG (268). 11—Ben Bernie and orchestra.

WTIC (348.6) Hartford, Conn. 5:50—Trio. 9—Entertainers. 9:30—Orchestra. 10:30—Classical.

WCX (516.9) Detroit, Mich. 6—Orchestra. 8—Studio.

WWJ (352.7) Detroit, Mich. 6—Orchestra. 8—Dance tunes.

WCAP (469) Washington, D. C. 6—Variety.

WCAE (461.3) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 7:30—Vocal. 8—Concert. 9—Studio. 11—Orchestra.

KDKA (309) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 9—Light opera.

WBAL (246) Baltimore, Md. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:30—Organ. 8—Musical varieties.

WBZ (333.1) Springfield, Mass. 6:30—Ensemble. 7:30—Organ. 8—Orchestra. 8:30—Concert.

WADC (258) Akron, Ohio. 6:30—Concert. 1—India Owls.

WGY (379.5) Schenectady, N. Y. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:45—Musical.

WCAU (278) Philadelphia, Pa. 7—Vocal and instrumental. 9:30—Variety. 10:30—Orchestra.

CKAC (410.7) Montreal, Can. 7:15—Concert. 10:30—Orchestra.

WRNY (258.5) New York City. 7:20—Musical. 9:30—Instrumental. 10—Orchestra.

WHAS (399.8) Louisville, Ky. 4—Concert.

WBBM (226) Chicago, Ill. 4—Musical varieties. 6—Vocal and instrumental.

WFAA (476) Dallas, Tex. 4:30—Instrumental and vocal.

KFAB (340.7) Lincoln, Neb. 5:30—Concert. 8:30—Orchestra.

WKRC (423) Cincinnati, Ohio. 6—Popular. 9—American Legion program. 12—Frolic.

WCCO (416.4) St. Paul-Minneapolis. 6:15—Concert. 8:30—Musical.

WOAW (526) Omaha, Neb. 6:20—Songs. 6:30—Orchestra. 9—Classical.

KFNF (266) Shenandoah, Ia. 7—Concert.

KSD (545.1) St. Louis, Mo. 7—Vocal. 9—Piano.

WLW (422.3) Cincinnati, O. 7—Concert. 8—Variety. 10—Orchestra.

WSM (282.8) Nashville, Tenn. 7:15—Orchestra. 8—Vocal. 10—Orchestra.

KPRC (296.9) Houston, Tex. 7:30—Orchestra. 8:30—Vocal.

WHO (526) Des Moines, Ia. 7:30—Musical. 8—Variety. 11—Orchestra.

WDAF (365.6) Kansas City, Mo. 8—Vocal. 11:45—Frolic.

WEMC (286) Berrien Springs, Mich. 8:15—Studio.

KTHS (374.8) Hot Springs, Ark. 9—Orchestra. 9:45—Ballads. 10—Novelty orchestra.

MOUNTAIN TIME.

KOA (322.4) Denver, Colo. 6:30—Concert. 8:30—Musical. 9:30—Orchestra.

KSL (300) Salt Lake City, Utah. 8—Studio. 10—Musical.

PACIFIC TIME.

KGW (481.5) Portland, Ore. 6—Concert. 8—Vocal and instrumental.

KPO (428.3) San Francisco, Calif. 6:40—Orchestra. 8—Organ. 9—Variety. 11—Orchestra.

KNX (337) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Feature. 10—Orchestra. 11—Orchestra.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Earl Carrol says a minister wouldn't have been shocked at his party, but he doesn't say what minister.

When you kiss a girl in a quiet spot, it's quiet only because she can't very well talk while being kissed.

One of the best ways to make little things count is to get a job as a thir grade arithmetic teacher.

She—Is bookkeeping easy?
He—Yes—unless the people you borrow from have good memories.

Our philosophy is that the world ends every night and starts out new again every morning.

Birds building their nests seem happy. They don't try to make them larger than they did last year.

Spring clothes look fine on slender people but don't feel so well on slender incomes.

One of the most important parts of an auto is the nut that holds the wheel.

The worst lie I ever heard tell of was the golf ball that landed in the middle of a newly plowed field.

'Sfunny about a telephone girl. She has to make both ends meet or she can't hold her job.

This thing has puzzled me for year,
So tell me, if you can,
Why Solomon, with his hundred wives,
Was called the wisest man?

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FOLLOWING AN EASY COURSE

There is one thing that makes human beings accomplish things, progress steadily, have a desire to do bigger things — actually do bigger things, and that is — Enthusiasm.

When you go through a day utterly devoid of enthusiasm, you are just like a sluggish little stream of muddy water, flowing its easiest downhill course.

Many seaweeds extract iodine from the water in their life processes.

Fellowship of Prayer

MONDAY.

Responsibility Repudiated.

Read Jn. 15:222-27. Text: 15-22. But now they have no excuse.

Meditation—Such words as never man spake fell upon their ears. They saw the mighty works he did. They were content to receive and not to give again. He required that they who were born of Abraham should validate their sonship in Israel by living as Abraham lived, and they would not. Because his gospel demanded sacrifice of what they had received they hated both him and his Father. Greater is the obligation of our generation, more truth, power, privilege has been ours than in all the ages before. Greater our condemnation if as stewards of the oracles of God we are content to appropriate the riches of his grace and to refuse the obligation of our spiritual stewardship.

Prayer—O thou who didst first love us and didst give Thyself for us, forgive because we have been ready to receive and have rejected our obligation to give and to serve. Teach us that only he lives most who serves best. Purge us from all subtile and corrupting selfishness, lest we refuse the cross. Amen.

(Copyright, 1926—F. L. Fagley.)

LADIES' AID ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Reports To Annual Meeting Show Very Successful Year.

LAKEFIELD, March 22. — The Ladies' Aid of the Regent Street Church held its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the church. After the usual opening devotional exercises, the business was proceeded with. It is customary at the March meeting to elect officers for the ensuing year, and this year practically the entire slate of officers were returned.

The following is the list: President, Miss Webster; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Nugent; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. U. Payne; Secretary, Mrs. Walter Hamblin; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Wm. Purdy; Treasurer, Mrs. S. S. Spence; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Nixon; Treasurer Flower Fund, Mrs. F. H. Richardson; Organist, Mrs. Percy Spence; Auditors, Mrs. Wagar and Mrs. Higgins.

During the past year the Ladies' Aid has carried on its usual work, including the annual Thanksgiving dinner and the Christmas fair. Both met with greatest success, as did the smaller efforts of the committees. The apron committee held an 'At Home' in April at the home of Mrs. I. H. Payne, which was most successful; the fancy work committee ran a refreshment stand on the 13th of July, and the woollen committee gave a concert in September. All these efforts netted a creditable sum of money to the treasury of the Ladies' Aid.

A clipping taken from a Newcastle paper, referring to the play put on recently by the choir of the United Church has a great deal of local interest, as the paper gives a great measure of credit to Mrs. Lilian Sutton, who is well-known in Lakefield, where she made many friends during four years' residence as the wife of the manager of the Sterling Bank.

"The play, which was entitled 'Receiving the Parson, a Tantalizing Tangle,' was a complete success and too much cannot be said of the faithful work of Mrs. Lilian Sutton, the wife of our popular banker. She is a trained singer, and has had considerable experience in directing amateur theatricals and musicals, and threw her whole soul with unbounded energy into directing the rehearsals as well as taking a leading part in the play."

The Tag Day held last Saturday under the direction of the Catholic Women's League, was most successful, the total receipts being $73.94. The ladies in charge and their corps of assistants were highly gratified at the generous response. The winning team among the taggers was Misses Margaret Allen and Margaret Bissonette.

Wednesday being the feast of Saint Patrick, was specially observed in St. Paul's Church.

It was observed by all the children and grandchildren of the Emerald Island by wearing the national emblem.

MARMORA NEWS.

Mrs. Robert Scott, President of Women's Institute.

MARMORA, March 22. — Local disciples of Orpheus are keen on resurrecting the town band. A meeting of a preliminary nature was held in the council chambers on Thursday evening. Several of the bandsmen put in an appearance and youthful aspiring musicians were also represented. Eventually Mr. Orvil Leonard was voted to the chair for the evening's business. Messrs. R. Bonter, W. Archer and N. Mitchell were appointed as a committee to confer with Dr. Crawford, W. F. Bowen and J. P. Marion of the Booster Club with a view to getting that organization's valued support. It was movel by Mr. W. Archer and seconded by Mr. Robert Bonter, that Mr. J. P. Marion be president and Dr. H. Crawford and Mr. W. F. Bowen the two vice-presidents, the motion carrying unanimously.

Upon the motion of Mr. R. Bonter, seconded by Mr. J. E. Gehan, Mr. W. Archer was appointed conductor. Mr. J. E. Gehan received the appointment of secretary upon the motion of Mr. Orvil Leonard, seconded by Mr. J. Laird. Mr. R. Bonter moved and Mr. W. Archer seconded the motion, whereby Mr. N. Mitchell received the treasurership. Mr. R. Bonter was appointed band sergeant.

The next meeting in all probability will be held in the same chambers next Tuesday evening, when equipment of band and drawing up of regulations will be among the main matters of business.

Another old resident, in the person of Mrs. Richard Compton, is in a state of ill health at present.

Several townsfolk attended the sale of the farm and household effects of Mrs. Ethel Paek, of Madoc township on Thursday afternoon.

Miss McCrae, of Durham, has been engaged by the Public school trustees as teacher for the new room, which is being opened in the C.O.C.F. hall after the Easter vacation.

Mr. Alex Mitchell, of Toronto, is renewing acquaintances around town.

Mrs. Archie Jones is on a visit to relatives in Belleville.

A number of young folks of the United church Sunday school are practising for a play shortly to be produced.

Deloro Minstrels.

A well packed house greeted the Deloro minstrels on their re-appearance in Deloro hall on the evening of St. Patrick's Day. A highly pleasing programme was put on by the dusky entlemen, for whom Mr. R. A. Elliott acted as interlocutor. Songs receiving great applause were given by Messrs. F. Neal, F. Melvaer, T. B. Cheeseman, E. Bennett and A. V. Yates. The latter's song boosted the Safety First movement. During the intermission, the latest acquisition to the troupe, Mr. Earl Bennett, distributed chocolate bars among the children. The event was staged under the auspices of the local Women's Institute.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Peterboro—Toronto—Montreal Winnipeg

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, March 21 (Canadian Press).—The export trade in grain in the Montreal market was again reported dull Saturday, there being few firm bids received from foreign buyers for supplies in any position. The demand from domestic buyes was also limited, sales being confined to odd cars, and prices were unchanged.

The tone of the butter market was firm and prices showed no change, but the volume of business was small owing to the somewhat restricted demand. Sales were made of Townships No. 1 pasteurized at 47, Western No. 1 pasteurized creamery at 46 1-2, and Australian No. 1 pasturized creamery at 45 1-2 to 46 cents per pound. Receipts on Saturday were 1,536 packages.

The market for cheese remains unchanged, business in all directions being generally quiet but the tone was steady with Western fancy white and colored quoted at 25c; Quebec 20-pound cheese at 21 1-4, and winter made goods at 19 to 19 1-2c per pound. Receipts Saturday were 46 boxes.

On account of the large number of supplies arriving from foreign sources and owing to the continued small production in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario the market for eggs closed with a much firmer undertone and prices for fresh firsts and seconds were 1c to 2c per dozen higher. The demand continues heavy and sales of fresh extras on Saturday were made at 40 to 41, firsts at 35, and seconds at 32 to 33 cents per dozen. Receipts on Saturday were 1,117 cases.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 20 (Canadian Press).—Immense liquidating sales in which houses with eastern connections took the lead, resulted today in forcing the wheat market to go 10 1-2 cents a bushel under the week's best prices, but corn proved stubborn and finally scored gains. Leading eastern holders of wheat were said to have closed out their accounts, influenced a good deal by exceptionally favorable demestic wheat crop conditions.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 3-8c to 2 1-2c net lower, May (new) $1.57 3-8 to $1.57 5-8 and July $1.38 to $1.38 1-8, with corn at 1-8 to 5-8c advance; oats, unchanged to 1-4c higher, and provisions varying from 27 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

DRAWING GASOLINE FROM THE TANK.

If a gasoline tank is not equipped with a drain cock, the following idea is of value when gasoline is wanted for priming or other purposes. Get a piece of metal tubing a few inches longer than the diameter of the tank. Insert the tube in the tank with thumb held securely over the outer end of the tube. Withdraw the tube and the gas which has entered it will be withdrawn.

Only 1 out of 4 is Selected!

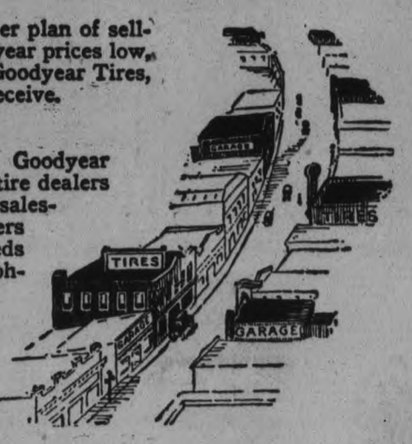
THE Goodyear Selected Dealer plan of selling tires helps to keep Goodyear prices low, helps to increase the quality of Goodyear Tires, and improves the service you receive.

In two ways.

First, it reduces selling costs. Goodyear sells to only 2500 of the 10,000 tire dealers in Canada. Goodyear needs only salesmen enough to call on 2500 dealers instead of 10,000. Goodyear needs only billing clerks and stenographers and shippers enough to handle the business of 2500 dealers instead of 10,000. So Goodyear saves immense sums of money which help to keep Goodyear prices low or go into tire improvements.



Second, it enables us to select the best dealer out of every four. Because Goodyears are the largest selling tires in Canada, most dealers would like a Goodyear franchise. But there are strict standards to be met. Every Goodyear Selected Dealer must be a good business man, running his business efficiently so that he does not need an exorbitant margin of profit. He must appreciate the savings to be made by concentrating on Goodyear Tires and so reducing his investment. He must pass these savings on to his customers in the form of service—advice on the care of their tires, help in getting the most mileage from those tires.

This* service is available to you from your nearest Goodyear Selected Dealer.

Goodyear means Good Wear

GOODYEAR
MADE IN CANADA

Magee's Garage
211-213 Hunter Street,
Phone 1050.

Selkirk & Elliott
171-173 Hunter Street
Phone 98

Full Line of Goodyear Tires J. W. WATSON Tire Service 446 George St.

Handiest thing in the house
FOR BURNS AND SCALDS
Burns and scalds are inevitable in the kitchen. Keep "Vaseline" Jelly handy. Soothes and heals. Pure. Safe. Famous for two generations.
Chesebrough Mfg. Company (Consolidated)
5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal
Vaseline
TRADE MARK
PETROLEUM JELLY

GREAT INTERNAL LOAN PROPOSED BY PARIS PAPER

"Matin" Broadcasts Plan as Solution of French Finance Problem.

PAY TWO PER CENT.

Reduction of Interest Would Provide Several Billion Francs.

PARIS, March 22. — (Canadian Press).—A vast internal loan issued by the Government, bearing two per cent. interest, but offering attractive inducements to investors, is suggested by the Matin as a solution for the problem of France's internal and external debts and a means for revivifying the franc.

France, says the newspaper, is now paying out more than two-thirds of its revenue in interest on accumulated debts. The reduction of interest payments, which such a loan would make possible, according to the Matin's calculations, would provide several billion francs each year. This could be further used in the process of financial regeneration to compensate the buyers of the bonds for the low rate of interest.

The Matin suggests that the bonds be free from taxation and not subject to inheritance dues and that they be received as payment on all taxes.

The Matin's proposal was broadcast throughout France, and outlines of it appeared in the newspapers of every city to-day.

SIMPLE RITES AT FUNERAL OF PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S FATHER

Body in Grave on Bleak Vermont Hill—Cortege in Sleighs.

NO HYMNS SUNG

PLYMOUTH, March 22.— Amid the flakes of a dying snowstorm the body of Colonel John C. Coolidge was buried Saturday, while his son, the President of the United States, stood beside the grave with bared head.

The grave was in the hill cemetery, adjoining the farmlands which Colonel Coolidge and his ancestors have cultivated for a century. Simplicity marked the final rites. The deepest reverence was shown by those who gathered for the services, but no eulogy was pronounced.

The Episcopal service was read at the home and at the grave. The Chief Magistrate of Plymouth Notch was buried as unostentatiously as had been his departed neighbors before him. The only difference was that the President of the United States, the first lady of the land and his grandson were among the mourners. Neighbors and friends sat in the little farmhouse home with the chief mourners and members of the President's official family.

No Hymns or Music.

The Rev. John White, an Episcopal clergyman, officiated. He carried out the wishes of the dead man, omitting hymns and music, and read only the prescribed funeral service and a selection from the 121st Psalm, which contained this appropriate sentence:

"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills whence cometh my help."

As the little clock in the living room of the Coolidge farm house struck 2 o'clock, the minister began the service reciting in a clear voice which could be heard by those who stood outside in the snow-bound road.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge sat near the coffin which was covered by Easter lilies sent from the White House conservatory. The cortege to the cemetery was composed of sleighs and was followed by a group of fifty or more persons. A squad of State militiamen led the procession.

The most solemn scene of the day was that in the cemetery. The President, Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, stood by the side of the open grave with the minister in front of them. Behind them were grouped relatives. There, amid banks of snow high above the road passing the graveyard, the burial service was read, while the drone of a passing airplane carrying photographers to the metropolitan cities mingled with the voice of the clergyman.

Guardsmen Bear Body.

The only bit of color in the sombre picture was imparted by the soldier bearers. Six commissioned officers and privates of the Vermont National Guard in khaki carried the body from the little white cottage to the hearse, marched behind it to the cemetery and bore it from the road up the steep incline to the grave beside that of Colonel Coolidge's second wife.

Only the President, Mrs. Coolidge and their son, a few relatives from Plymouth and Proctersville and Attorney General Sargent stood at the open grave. Other mourners and those of the cortege remained on the roadway below the elevated site where John Coolidge, the original settler of the town, and his descendants for five generations are buried.

The President stood with bowed and uncovered head although a wet snow was falling. Movie cameras recorded the scene of a nation's chief paying a son's tribute to his father.

Neighbors and friends trudged through the deep drifts to pay their last respects, braving the sleet and snow that fell all day, adding dreariness to the bleak landscape.

AUCTION SALES AT DOWNEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch and Edward Clancy Are Selling Out.

DOWNEYVILE, March 22. — A very successful auction sale was held on Friday of farm stock and implements of Mr. Joseph Lynch, George and Ted Jackson, of Port Perry, were the auctioneers and sold everything for high prices. Cows sold from $70 to $95.00, horses from $125 to $165, two year old cattle $45 and yearlings at $25; calves at $10 and $12 each. A brood sow brought $80 and young pigs at $8 each; also a bunch of hens went at $1.35 each. Implements also sold high and it was a splendid sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch nad family are moving to Huntsville where they intend to reside. They are another of the many families leaving this place.

Mr. Edward Clancy intends holding a sale of his entire stock, implements, etc., next week.

Film Biography Of King Edward VII Is Proposed

LONDON, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The approval of the British Government is being sought for a "film biography" of King Edward VII., the intention having been to preserve the picture as a historical document for future generations. The project has given rise to discussion of possible film biographies of all great men.

"We shall not do as the Americans perhaps would be tempted to do—make a romance of the life of the late King," said the director of the company which is negotiating with the Government officials. "We shall, instead, treat the subject with absolute regard for the truth, without elaborations. Such scenes as those at the coronation and various state functions will be truthfully but picturesquely portrayed."

WEDDING BELLS

ARMSTRONG—REYNOLDS.

BETHANY, March 22. — Miss Clara Reynolds, daughter of Mr. Charles Reynolds, Sr., was quietly married to Mr. Sidney Armstrong of Springville in Toronto on Monday. The best wishes of the community go with the young couple.

The largest topographic map in the world is in California, measuring 600 feet by 18 inches.

A machine has been designed that digs, cleans, grades and delivers potatoes in a single operation.

RE-ELECTED.

Rev. W. L. Laurence, of Sault Ste. Marie, who has been re-elected grand master of the Orange Grand Lodge of Ontario west.

after eating Too Much take some Pep-O-mint
LIFE SAVERS
THE CANDY MINT WITH THE HOLE they help digestion

"always good taste"

SENATOR HURT.

Senator J. G. Turiff, who was injured when struck by a street car in Ottawa on Sunday.

DOURO PERSONALS.

DOURO, March 22.—The many friends of Mrs. Richard Condon are glad to hear she is recovering.

The auction sale of stock and implements held by Mr. Frank Kennedy was largely attended.

Miss Colette Shannahan of Prescott is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Heffernan, accompanied by Mrs. M. McKiever, left on Monday for White Plains, N. Y., where they intend to make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Allen of Peterboro attended the auction sale held by Mr. Frank Kennedy.

A large number attended the 17th of March concert in Peterboro and report a good play.

Mr. Frank O'Brien, 5th line, entertained a number of young people on the 17th of March, the evening being spent in music and dancing.

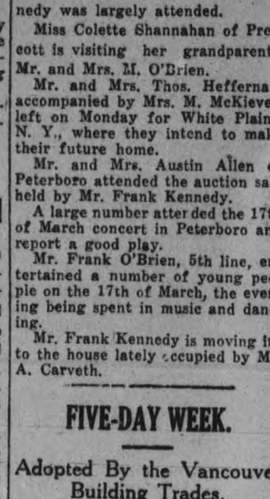
Mr. Frank Kennedy is moving into the house lately occupied by Mr. A. Carveth.

FIVE-DAY WEEK.

Adopted By the Vancouver Building Trades.

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 22.—(Canadian Press). — Carpenters, stone masons and bricklayers of Vancouver, through their unions, have notified contractors of the city that they will work on the five-day-a-week plan after May 1. They will ask for no change in pay. Plasterers of the city already have adopted the five-day-a-week plan.

Plumbers and contractors are still negotiating a new wage scale, the men asking $9 a day, and employers allowing $8.



The tonic and laxative effect of Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets will fortify the system against Grip, Influenza and other serious ills resulting from a Cold.
The box bears this signature
E. W. Grove
Price 30c. Made in Canada.

16 METAL WORKERS INSTANTLY KILLED BY FURNACE EXPLOSION

Hundreds of Tons of Molten Metal Engulfed Employees of Woodward Iron Company of Birmingham, Alabama—One of Worst Accidents in Industry.

SCORE INJURED AND SOME MAY DIE.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 22—Four hundred tons of molten metal, slushing and sputtering in all directions when No. 2 furnace of the Woodward Iron Company, ten miles west of Birmingham, exploded Saturday, caused the instant death of sixteen workers and brought injury to nearly a score of others. Some of the injured are not expected to live.

The eighty-foot ore-melting device gave way without warning and the whir and swish that came with the downpour of metal told those outside the flaming area what had happened. A number of workers were struck by the molten iron and died instantly. Those not directly in the path of the fiery shower were caught in its scattered sheets. Some were gravely injured, others were not so seriously hurt.

The explosion wrecked steam and water pipes and sent their contents into the mass. The mixing of water with the metal and burning coke added to the havoc.

The accident was one of the most unusual in the history of iron making in this district. The cause of it has not yet been determined. The furnace was heated full blast and blew up just before time for the cooling process to begin.

"She broke off at the third ring just where the waterpipes go in,' declared an old iron maker who was standing nearby. The furnace was nineteen feet in diameter and was heavily lined with firebrick.

Rescue crews, quickly formed, began the task of removing the injured and then the dead. More than an hour was required for the metal to cool. It had run in a great mass for some distance then trickled off in lesser streams, making wierd figures about the plant.

Several of the bodies were burned under the wrecked plant and it was several hours before they were sighted.

The top of the furnace was lifted and hundreds of tons of molten metal spread over an area of several hundred feet. The men who caught the force of the flaming cloud had no chance to escape. Scores of other employes were working just outside the area covered by the scattered metal.

Frank Creckard, President of the company, said that he was at a loss to explain the accident, as the furnace was in first-class condition, and so far no reason has been found for it giving way.

Two fatalities occurred March 4 in a similar explosion at furnace No. 1 of the same company.

SLAYER AND HIS GANG ADMITTED BIG GEM THEFTS

Escaped Murderer Arrested in New York Tells of $385,000 Lost.

EIGHTH CAPTURED.

Bandits Specialized on Jewel Robberies—Suspected of Five Murders.

NEW YORK, March 22—Richard Reese Whiteemore, 28-year-old escaped murderer from Baltimore; his 24-year-old wife, Margaret, known in Baltimore as "the Tiger Kid," and six members of his band of robbers were accused by the police Saturday of seven spectacular holdups within the last year, in which the loot totalled nearly $500,000. Whittemore and his companions, according to the police, admitted six of the robberies, amounting to $386,000, but denied a $63,000 bank robbery last October in Buffalo, where two guards were killed by the bandits. The Whettemore gang is now suspected of five murders.

Police Commissioner McLaughlin issued a statement attacking the character of some of the night clubs in New York as a result of the round-up. Pointing out that Whittemore and others of his band had made the Chantee Club at 132 West Fifty-second Street a rendezvous, Mr. McLaughlin said gangs of criminals made a practice of spending their booty and plotting new crimes at various night clubs.

Detectives Are Promoted

Commissioner McLaughlin promoted Detectives John Cronin and Edward Tracey to first-grade rank, increasing their salary from $2,700 to $3,300 a year, and commended Detectives Walter Sullivan and Thomas Horan, who already had first-grade rank, for their share in rounding up what the police characterized as the most desperate and best-organized gang of criminals that has operated in this country for years.

The eighth member of the gang was arrested Saturday by Detectives Horan and Tracey. This man was Anthony Paladino of 396 St. Mark's Avenue, Brooklyn. In his room the police found two pistols, a blackjack and fifteen pairs of hand cuffs, supposed to have been intended to bind victims of jewel robberies.

Paladino admitted he had acted as a lookout in the hold-up of Albert S. Goudvis and Emanuel S. Veerman, jewelers, at Fifth Avenue and Forty-eighth Street on Jan. 11 last. Participation in this robbery was admitted also by Whittemore, Milton Goldberg and Jack and Leon Kraemer, who were arrested on Friday.

Stolen Gems Put at $150,000

It was learned that the jewels stolen in the Goudvis affair, all unset diamonds, were worth $150,000, instead of $100,000 as at first reported. Whittemore and Paladino revealed that they had sold the diamonds through the Kraemer brothers to a New York "fence" for $100,000, and that Whittemore received $15,000 and Paladino $7,500 as their share of the proceeds. Paladino said the gang had pooled $30,000 from this robbery, and had "salted" it away as "fall" money to be used to engage lawyers and pay bondsmen in case any of the "mob" was arrested. It is not likely to do them much good now, as their confessions to so many crimes will make it difficult for them to get bail.

Whittemore admitted he and his companions had robbed the Lindhous Jewelery Company at Thirteenth Street and Sixth Avenue, of $75,000 worth of jewels in a hold-up on Nov. 25 last. A gold watch that had been stolen in this robbery was found in a bag owned by Goldberg, one of the gang.

Another big robbery admitted by Whittemore was that of the Ross jewelry store at Grand and Forsythe Streets last fall, when $60,000 worth of jewels were stolen.

The gang leader also confessed to the theft of $50,000 worth of jewels in a hold-up of the Stanley Jewelry Company, 125th Street and Seventh Avenue, last November. A watch identified as part of the loot from the Stanley store was found in Paladino's room.

WILL NOT APPEAL.

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 22.—(Canadian Press).—No appeal will be made by the four officials and brokerage houses of the Nash Fruit organizations until after a conference in Minneapolis on March 29, it was announced Saturday.

In a single year more than fifty acres of spruce trees are felled to supply the United States with pulp for postage stamps.

Our national forests cover approximately 157,000,000 acres.

A food to study on, to play on
SHREDDED WHEAT
Children like its crispness

FAREWELL MESSAGE TO OLD RESIDENTS

Surprise Party For Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rowland Held at Millbrook.

MILLBROOK, March 20.—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rowland were made the recipients of a handsome silver tea service, when a surprise party visited their home this week previous to their removal to Cedar Valley to reside, Mr. Rowland and his brother, Mr. Charles Rowland, having purchased the mill property there from Mr. H. McLeod.

Sixty or more of the friends and neighbors were present, and during the evening, Mr. T. H. Aiken read the following address, Mr. Willis Lang making the presentation:

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rowland:

Dear Friends.—We, your friends and neighbors have gathered tonight on the eve of your departure from our midst, to express our regret that you are about to leave us.

You have been ready at all times to help us with whatever we have requested of you; you will be greatly missed from this neighborhood.

We wish you the greatest prosperity in the step you are now undertaking. We also wish you the best of health and happiness for years to come, and as tokens of our love and esteem, we ask you to accept this silver tea service, not for its intrinsic value, but in memory of the good times we have spent together.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends,

Mrs. David Lunn and Mrs. Willis Lang.

Mr. Rowland, on behalf of his wife and himself, made acknowledgment of the gift, and the programme of games, music, etc., was proceeded with. Byam's orchestra was present, together with Mr. J. Rusk, violinist, and Mr. C. Thorndyke, with his saxophone.

The committee in charge served a bountiful supper and the gathering did not break up until sometime after the midnight hour.

Mrs. R. L. MacFeat, Secretary of the Irish Free State legation, is the only woman member of the foreign diplomatic corps in Washington.

AUNT OF MRS. WEST COMING TO INQUEST

Mrs. William Ingleby Has Written For Full Particulars.

WARKWORTH, March 22—Mrs. William Ingleby, who resides at Freeman, a short distance west of Toronto and who is an aunt of Mrs. West, who perished in a fire two weeks ago, has written to a friend here for particulars of the tragedy and these have been sent her. Mrs. Ingleby has visited her niece on several occasions and the person to whom she wrote was one of those whom she met on her visits here.

Mrs. Ingleby has replied that she will likely come to Warkworth to attend the inquest which will be held at 2 o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

TEACHER OF SURGERY

Dr. Clarence L. Starr, head of the department of Surgery, of the University of Toronto, who is taking charge of that department at Harvard University during the absence of Dr. Harvey Cushing, who is to deliver the Cameron lecture in Scotland.

A million mothers vote for this builder of Sturdy Health
That good cod-liver oil is the richest available source of body-building, growth-promoting and disease-resisting vitamins, has been proved not only by thousands of tests by doctors and scientists, but by millions of mothers the world over.
Every lot of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil has been tested and proved to be rich in the health-giving vitamins and in the element that prevents and cures rickets.
A single pint of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is richer in Vitamin A than 1,200 pints of grade A whole milk, than 400 pints of heavy cream, than 100 lbs. of the best creamery butter. And milk products next to cod-liver oil are, it is admitted, the richest sources of this vitamin.
In ordinary cod-liver oil the vitamin content may soon be lost through exposure of the oil to air during the process of its preparation and packaging.
But Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is prepared by an exclusive Squibb process which not only preserves the Vitamins, but renders the oil more palatable. When kept on ice and taken cold Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is practically tasteless.
Insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil at your druggist's.

SQUIBB'S
COD-LIVER OIL
E. R. SQUIBB & SONS OF CANADA, LIMITED
107 Duke Street, Toronto
Manufacturing Chemists to the Medical Profession since 1858

Reasonably Priced Within the Reach of All!

QUALITY plus Convenience reasonably priced—that's the reason why Shirriff's Marmalade is served on breakfast tables in thousands of Canadian homes every day in the year.
Quality—because the ingredients are pure. Finest Seville oranges imported direct by us from Spain and pure cane sugar skilfully blended in spotless kitchens to produce that rare Shirriff flavor which comes from a fine old recipe.
Convenience—because your grocer has the size best suited to households whether large or small. There's the dainty individual jar, 12-oz., 1-lb., 2¾-lb. container and the big 4-lb. tin, sealed air-tight—the same high quality in every size.
Within the reach of all—because public confidence has created such a demand for this good product that we are enabled to keep the quality up—the price down.
Orange-juice benefits children. Shirriff's Marmalade has real food value as well as tempting flavor. Give your hungry youngsters all they want.
Shirriff's is economical and good for you. Serve it to the family every day in the year.
"Makes Better Breakfasts"
Established 1880

Shirriff's MARMALADE

THE GRACELINE MODELS IN

SIMMONS STEEL BEDS

Have you seen the new Simmons' Graceline Beds that are being so widely advertised?

The Simmons' Bed has always merited its reputation for quality. These new 1926 models are even better than anything they have hitherto put on the market.

In our Housefurnishing Dep., on the Third Floor, you will find a good assortment of Simmons' Beds, Springs and Mattresses, which you can buy feeling confident that the price is right and that your getting the most satisfactory Beds made.

SIMMONS BED OUTFIT
Bed, Spring and Mattress

Strongly built steel frame Bed in walnut finish; Simmons' well made, sanitary Mattress, covered with fancy patterned ticking; comfortable, strongly favored Coil or Wovenweld Springs. Sizes 3' 3", 4' and 4' 6". Complete in any of the sizes $24.50

Complete Bed Outfit. Good Quality and Low Price.

Another real value in Simmons' Complete Outfit. Has strong steel frame Bed in walnut finish; comfortable Mattress, covered with good quality ticking in chintz pattern; strong Coil or Link Springs. Size 4' and 4' 6". This is a bargain, complete at.. $19.50

Slumber King Spring.

Its 26 ribbon strips of flexible steel are suspended by long strong steel coils and joined by four rows of smaller resilient coils. Special construction prevents sagging edges. No other Spring is so easily kept clean. No other Spring can match it in value. You can see it in our Housefurnishing Department on Third Floor. Selling at..... $12.00

Bright Coloured Chintz

A serviceable cloth in a good weight. These come in dark grounds with various small or spreading pattern developed in bright contrasting tints In spite of its low price, it is good cloth for comforters, draperies and the upholstering and cushioning of verandah furniture. All are 36-inch widths, and a good investment at, per yard..... 45c

Real English Chintz

Printed on a strong thick cotton, these cloths are equally useful for draperies or upholstering. They are here in a well assorted pattern range, in both medium and dark colorings. All are truly pleasing and artistic designs. These were bought to sell at $1.50. Our price, per yard..... 98c

IN OUR UPHOLSTERING DEPARTMENT

If your chairs, chesterfield, couches or porch hammocks should need recovering; if you are looking for a cosy lounge chair or a comfortable new chesterfield and want the very best workmanship—you can get satisfaction without paying a big price at the Hall Store. Phone 1781 for particulars.

Special Shade Contracts

Whether you are in the market for special Shades of any color or color combination—Shades for the house, store or hotel window, Plain Shades or Lettered Shades—we can supply and fix them for you as well, and at as low a price as any one in the business.

If you wish some one to measure windows and give you an estimate of cost, phone 1781.

LINOLEUMS
In All Patterns

Suitable patterns for all rooms in the house. Several color effects. Mostly in the tile and conventional designs. In stock in both 2-yard and 4-yard widths. Priced, per sq. yard 95c

Lace Trimmed Shades

These are stocked in white, green and cream. They are 36 by 72 inches in size and trimmed with 3-inch white or cream insertion. All are Oil Colored Shades and all first quality. Price..... $1.29

Combination Shades

They are here in white, combined with a serviceable medium green color. Size 37 by 72 inches. An Oil Colored Shade that sells at..... $1.35

Kirsch Curtain Rods

The best Rod for fitting all windows. We stock them all kinds—Rods for sash curtains, bay windows, portieres, etc. We guarantee to fit any window with Kirsch Rods. Priced from..... 8c to $1.05

New Spring Curtainings

Curtainings for all rooms, all tastes and to suit all purses. Here are Scrims for kitchen and bathroom windows, strong Marquisettes, fine Filet and Nottingham Nets, dainty Madras and Silk Curtain Materials, Nets by the yard and novel Panel Curtains.

White and Cream Scrims	12½c and 18c
Strong Marquisettes	25c and 39c
Dainty Filet Net	39c and 49c
Soft Madras Muslins	39c and 49c
Lovely Silk Nets	$1.25 to $2.00
Filet Net Panels, each	$1.50 to $2.98
Beautiful Silk Panels	$5.25 to $7.50

HALL STORE

ST. PATRICK'S TEAS.

MILLBROOK, March 22. — The Saint Patrick's Day concert, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, given in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, was well attended, and provided a programme which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. J. R. Eakins, district secretary, occupied the chair, gracefully welcoming those present on behalf of the Institute, and announcing the various numbers as the programme progressed.

Miss Myrtle Russell, Miss Kathleen Sutton, Mrs. H. W. Johnston, and Mrs. T. H. Ingram were the accompanists of the evening.

The "Ebony Sextette," heard in Millbrook for the first time, certainly made a "hit," and its future appearances will be looked forward to with eagerness.

The old-fashioned stage furnishings, and the equally old-fashioned costumes worn in the one-act play, 'Mrs. Jones Entertains the Women's Institute,' added quaintness and interest to the production, the audience being kept busy guessing "who's who" as the various characters came in.

The sub-title, "How a business meeting should not be conducted," was well exemplified by the ludicrous manner in which decisions were arrived at and declared carried, voting taking place after the president had insisted: "Get that in the minutes, Mrs. Secretary," the latter's protest, "How can I keep my books properly if there is neither mover nor seconder for the resolution?" meeting with no consideration.

The roll-call, "every member to respond with a household hint, or a helpful thought, those failing to do so to pay a fine of five cents," the mix-up in the singing of the opening Ode, the difficulty of making the deaf lady understand the proceedings, the young bride's repeated references to "John says," and the anxiety of Mrs. Rorke to use the telephone "to see if the baby's teeth is there yet," were among the many features which provided amusement and made the comedy the success it undoubtedly was.

The programme included the following items:

Solo—"I live down at the Viaduct," by Mr. Fred Wells; encore, "My Molly Malone."

"Day 'down upon the Swanee Ribber," by the "Ebony Sextette, from Midnight Alley"—Jack Byam, Kenneth Skitch, Walter Sayles, Lawrence Rowland, Piercy Pitt and Bob Larmer; encore, "Carry me back to Ole Virginny."

Solo—"Mother Machree," by Mr. C. Thorndyke; encore, "Pat O'Reilly."

Male quartette, "When I first met you," by Messrs. W. H. Coombe, H. W. Johnston, M. McDowell and V. C. Lambert.

Play, "Mrs. Jones Entertains the Women's Institute." Characters:

Mrs. Jones, President—Mrs. V. C. Lambert.

Mrs. Rawlinson, Secretary—Mrs. Wilbert Thorne.

Ellen, the Maid — Miss Martha Lunn.

Mrs. Higginson, the Bride—Mrs. Will Armstrong.

Mrs. Thorpe—Mrs. R. J. McKnight.

Mrs. Steele, the minister's wife—Mrs. W. G. Rowland.

Mrs. Dr. Browning—Mrs. T. Ingram.

Mrs. Jameson—Mrs. H. J. Armstrong.

Mrs. Hatley, the Methodist minister's wife—Mrs. P. Stinson.

Mrs. Johnston, the deaf lady — Mrs. T. H. Aiken.

Mrs. Dearborn Allen, very aristocratic—Mrs. H. Lang.

Miss Dinwoodane — Mrs. T. G. Harkness.

Mrs. Lee—Mrs. Chas. Thorndyke.

Mrs. Arnold—Mrs. C. C. Garside.

Miss Chantler—Mrs. W. West.

Mrs. Dunning—Mrs. G. W. Sayles

Mrs. Agnew—Mrs. John Rowland.

Mrs. Brovey—Mrs. R. Brown.

Chorus—"When You and I were Young, Maggie," by the members in the play.

Paper—"Woman's Rights," by Mrs. Hatley (Mrs. P. Stinson).

Recitation—"Caleb's Courtship," by Mrs. Dearborn Allen (Mrs. Lang).

Solo—"Dreaming of You," by Mrs. Dunning (Mrs. Sayles).

Quartette—"We All Take Tea," by Mrs. Sayles, Mrs. F. P. Johnston, Messrs. W. H. Coombe and V. C. Lambert.

"Good Night, Ladies," by the characters in the play.

National Anthem.

The total receipts were over $60. Mrs. C. Thorndyke is president of the local Institute, and Mrs. Wilbert Thorne secretary.

BLACKHEADS

Blackheads simply dissolve and disappear by this one simple, safe and sure method Get two ounces of peroxine powder from any drug store—sprinkle it on a hot, wet cloth, rub the face briskly — every blackhead will be gone

Africa has an estimated water power of 169,000,000 horse power.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Chicago, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he finds Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Chicago and later is attacked by two men, but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—he as one of his assailants, she as the man who got the stub. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks her engagement and writes Jimmy about it but the office boy forgets to mail the letter.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. Her disappearance becomes a newspaper sensation. O'Day then tells Jimmy that he found a picture of Henry Rand in Olga's apartment.

Barry Colvin tells Jimmy that Mary Lowell has broken with Sam Church. They are walking along the street. They see Mary Lowell approaching. Just as Jimmy is raising his hat he spies a familiar figure running for a street car. He wheels suddenly and runs like a mad man.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVI.

The smile died on Mary Lowell's mouth. She bit her lip and stared, uncomprehending, at Jimmy's vanishing form.

Barry Colvin, his hat in his hand, called crazily, "Jim! Oh Jim!" He mumbled words vaguely at Mary, not realizing she was not near enough to hear: "He's crazy. I'll catch him—see what's the matter with him."

But Jimmy was not crazy. He had recognized, in the man who was boarding the street car, none other than Kid Divis.

There was no time for explanations. Everything else could wait—would have to wait.

"I'll not let him get away this time," he snarled.

He swung aboard the car, just as the conductor was closing the door. He glanced swiftly about him, his head lowered, his eyes peering. . . . He Thought, "I mustn't take any chance of being recognized."

Divis had moved up in the car. Jimmy saw a newspaper lying on the rear platform. He picked it up, slid into the seat nearest the conductor, from where he could observe Divis' back, and shielded his face with the paper.

He wondered what he would do—what his plan of action would be—if Divis should see him and leave the car.

"Grab him, that's all," he told himself, and sat, hoping that there would be no such action needed.

It wasn't Divis he wanted, he told himself. It was Jensen. Divis, if arrested, would only lie again about Jensen's whereabouts. Perhaps he was going to see Jensen now. . . .

Once Divis glanced nervously toward the rear of the car. Jimmy, his face exposed, shifted the paper quickly in front of his eyes, striving for an outward show of nonchalance that he did not feel.

But Divis had not seen him—or, at least, had not recognized him—for he turned slowly around again and stared out of the car window.

The car rolled on—block after block. Passengers left at nearly every stop, and now a new fear struck Jimmy—that if they rode much further he and Divis would be alone on the car. In which event, he knew, he must be recognized.

Minutes passed—to Jimmy, nervous, apprehensive, they seemed like hours.

The car, with fewer stops to make, rushed along at swaying, dizzy speed.

Jimmy, still behind his newspaper, saw the passengers gradually thin out until there were only three remaining besides himself and Divis.

"Good night!" he said to himself. "Is this man going to the end of the line?"

Another passenger left. The car moved on.

"End of the line," sang the conductor. "All out."

Divis had risen from his seat, was walking down the aisle toward the rear platform. Jimmy saw that Divis would pass him.

He thought, "I can't follow him out. What can I do? If I trail after he he's bound to recognize me."

Struck with a sudden inspiration, he closed his eyes and gently tilted his head back, letting the paper fall against his face and completely hiding it from Divis' view. The other two passengers preceded Divis out of the car. Divis, with an amused glance at the sleeper in the rear seat, swung down off the step.

"Hey in there, end of the line," yelled the conductor. He gave Jimmy a none too gentle push. "Want off here?"

"Huh?" Jimmy was acting for the benefit of Divis. If he were still within earshot, he thought, his ruse might work. He said, in a voice disguised and husky, "Hell, I rode past my stop. I'll stay on an' ride back."

A fog had been gathering. It was thick, for which he thanked his lucky stars, but he could see Divis as he rounded the front end of the car and crossed the tracks.

The conductor lifted his hand to ring the bell.

"Wait a minute," cried Jimmy, checking him. "I've changed my mind. Let me off here. Just thought of a man I wanted to see that lives out here."

"Your friend might as well live at the north pole as out here," observed the conductor. His humor was none too good. He opened the door with a bang and let Jimmy out.

The fog had closed so densely that Divis' rapidly walking figure was an indistinguishable blur up the street.

Jimmy saw that he was in a sparsely settled district. Houses—those that could be seen in the foggy murk—were few and far between . . . . No paved streets . . . cinder paths instead of sidewalks.

Ahead of him, just barely discernible, was Divis, still walking. Then, keeping a safe distance between them, Jimmy followed the dim figure up the street.

If the car ride had seemed to Jimmy to last for hours, the walk seemed like ages. Stretches between houses grew longer and longer.

The damp air was raw. He shivered, and buttoned his overcoat tightly around his throat. But he was cold not alone from the chill atmosphere but from his surroundings. . . . To be trailing Divis down this lonely path. . . . What was to be the outcome?

He walked noiselessly, on rubber heels, but unconsciously he lengthened his stride. A minute or two later he checked himself, seeing that the distance between him and the man he was following had narrowed. . . . He was afraid that Divis might suddenly turn around and wait . . . Then what? He felt sure that Divis was armed. . . .

Barry Colvin had told him that Mary had broken off with Sam Church. He revolved it in his mind and found the thought pleasant. . . .

But Mary had said she had written him a letter. What could have happened to it? . . . And Barry said she still cared for him. . . . He felt singularly uplifted—and then he came down to earth again.

He shook his head, muttered: "Must keep my mind on what I'm doing. That can all wait. . . . Wonder where in the devil this Divis is going. He's taking me way out in the country."

The disconcerting thought struck him that perhaps Divis might have recognized him, after all, and was merely leading him on . . . to some trap.

He said, trying to allay that sudden fear: "That's a crazy idea. Mustn't lose my nerve. This fellow would be scareder than I am if he knew I was following him."

And still Divis walked on.

The fog grew thicker. Jimmy allowed himself to approach a great deal nearer. Once Divis stopped, and Jimmy had a horrifying moment. He dropped suddenly to the ground, flattened himself out on the cinder path.

But Divis did not turn around. He had only stopped to shift a bundle from one arm to the other. . . . Jimmy noted with relief that he was striking out ahead once more.

Along a parallel street a block away Jimmy could see dimly an automobile shooting along at a furious rate and bumping crazily over the uneven road. He wondered what mission its passenger or passengers could be on to warrant such reckless speed.

Divis observed the auto too. The roar of its motor seemed strangely far away in the fog, although only a short block separated them. Jimmy saw Divis stop again, his head moving slowly as he followed the car with his eyes.

Jimmy thought: "Wonder what Mary thought, seeing me run away like that? Looked as if I was trying to avoid her . . . . Must clear that up soon's I get back. . . . Wonder what Barry thought? . . . Good old Barry. Wish he were here."

He felt the need of someone near him. . . . Not help, so much, as companionship. He debated briefly on the advisability of entering one of the hourses that he passed so infrequently, explaining his plight and asking for someone to come with him—with a gun.

But he put the thought aside. "Might lose him," he said. "Only thing to do's to stick to him to see where he's going. Thousand dollars to one now he's going to see Jensen. Maybe they've got Olga. . . . God, what a lonely place! Hide anybody here. Nobody within hailing distance all day long."

Again Divis stopped and again Jimmy flattened himself on the ground, but again it was only to shift a bundle.

"Must be heavy," Jimmy said. "Wonder what's in it? Lord, if only somebody were here—Barry, O'Day, anybody."

Straight ahead, and some distance back from the street, a light glowed dimly. As he drew nearer, Jimmy could see that it came from the basement of a house whose outlines he could barely make out in the screen-like fog.

There was no glint to the light, as there had been to those in some of the houses he had passed. Jimmy concluded it must be shining from behind a drawn shade.

And then he saw his man turn sharply to the left. Dropping down to the ground once more, he saw Divis, head still straight ahead, walk toward the house with the dim light.

Growing a little bolder, he got to his feet and trotted, sure that he was unobserved.

It was a long walk from the cinder path to the front door of the house—an interminably long walk, he thought as he watched Divis.

Then he saw Divis descend the steps that led to the basement entrance. He was out of sight now, but Jimmy, listening intently, heard two distinct raps on the door.

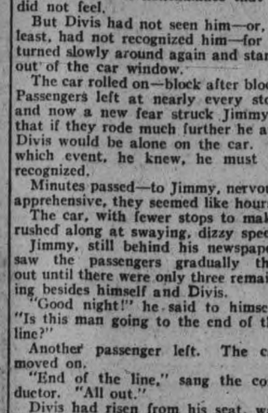
Silence followed.

Then cautiously, his heart pounding a thunderous tatto against his ribs, he slowly made his way up the walk to the house.

What lay ahead?

(To be continued.)

During working hours in Copenhagen the streets are alive with cyclists and in one day as many as 514,826 were counted in various sections of the city.



John J. Dixon, new president of the Canadian National Exhibition.

The Real Cause Of Constipation Is A Bad Liver

Mrs. Jean Bocheir, Nelson, B.C., writes:—"For many years I have been troubled with my liver, and suffered terribly with constipation.

I HEARD ABOUT

Milburn's

LAXA-LIVER PILLS

and have been greatly improved since I started to take them.

I cannot recommend them too highly to any one who is troubled with their liver."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are not a new and untried remedy. They have been on the market for the past 32 years; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Electric block signals, such as those used on railroads, have been placed on the principal toboggan slides in Germany.

RAILWAY TIME-TABLES.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Canadian National Railway Time Table corrected to date. All trains daily except Sunday.

No. 96—8.10 a.m. for Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, Quebec and Portland, Me.

No. 93—8.20 a.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, North Bay, Midland and Toronto.

No. 371—8.30 a.m. for Lakefield.

No. 98—8.35 a.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville and points on main line east.

No. 92—12 noon for Port Hope, Ottawa, Toronto, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, makes connections with "International Limited" for London, Detroit, Chicago and California, points also with the "National" for Winnipeg and Vancouver.

No. 100—12.15 p.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling and Belleville.

No. 373—12.30 p.m for Lakefield.

No. 95—5.25 p.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, North Bay and Toronto, also makes connections for Detroit and Florida points.

No. 99—8.19 p.m. for Lindsay.

No. 94—9.10 p.m. for Port Hope, Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, Boston, Portland, Me.; carries through sleeper for Montreal.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY. (Corrected to date.)

GOING EAST—

11.57 a.m.—Norwood, Havelock, Bonarlaw, Tweed, Perth, Smith's Falls, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and intermediate points daily. On Sunday this train proceeds east only as far as Havelock.

8.20 p.m.—Indian River Norwood, and Havelock. Daily except Sunday.

11.55 p.m—Havelock Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Montreal, St. John, Boston and New York. Daily except Saturday.

1.50 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Ottawa.

GOING WEST—

4.55 a.m.—Myrtle, Toronto, Guelph Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago and New York Daily.

8.00 a.m.—Toronto (Yonge street), Owen Sound, Teeswater and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

7.35 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, New York Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily except Sunday.

8.15 a.m.—Bethany, Lindsay, Orillia, Port McNichol and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

3.35 p.m—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily.

6.50 p.m—Lindsay, Toronto and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

VETERINARY

DR. W. F. McELROY, Vet. Sur., office and residence, 190 Charlotte St., Charlbond Bldg., Peterboro. Phone 1623J.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS

GORDON & O'BRIEN— Barristers Solicitors, Notaries. Money to loan on easy terms. Special attention to Patents and Trade Marks. Phone 219 Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., J. A. O'Brien.

F. R. CORKERY, BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Notary Public, Office Ground Floor, 414 Water St., Peterborough, Five Doors North of Hunter Street. Money to loan at current rates on easy terms.

A. T. MEDD—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary. Office over the Dominion Bank, corner of George and Simcoe streets. Telephone No. 22. Private funds to loan at current rates upon easy terms.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office, over the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C., W. Johnson.

F. R. HALL—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Peterboro, Ont. Office, corner of Hunter and Water streets, over the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Trust Funds to loan on easy terms of payment.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public Peterboro. Phone 191. Money to loan. 375 Water street.

WILFRID F. HUYCKE, Barrister, Solicitor Notary Public. 395 Water street Telephone 239

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Office, Water street, Peterboro. Money to loan at the lowest current rates of interest Telephone 1950. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry.

MEDICAL

DR. HUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edinburgh M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist Hours 9-11 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m Phone 519 Office, corner Water and Murray streets

DR. C. C. CRAGG—Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Office 295 Charlotte street, formerly occupied by Dr. Neal. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8.30 p.m. Telephone: House 1018. Office 2185.

F. T. WEBSTER, Ontario Land Surveyor, Registered Professional Engineer, formerly with Lewis and MacRostie of Ottawa. Phone 2540.

SPEAKER URGES CONSIDERATION FOR IMMIGRANTS

Dr. Lavelle Pleads For Better Treatment For Newcomers.

ADDRESSES ROTARY.

Peterboro Hockey Champions Congratulated Upon Their Season.

An eloquent plea for more sympathetic treatment of immigrants in this country was made by Dr. A. E. Lavelle, executive secretary of the Ontario Parole Board, at to-day's luncheon of the Peterboro Rotary Club.

Members of the Peterborough Hockey Club, Senior champions of the O.H.A., had been invited to be Rotary's guests upon this occasion, but unfortunately all the players were unable to accept the invitation. The club was represented by Irvin Bailey, Bruce Cox, J. J. Duffus, president, and Dr. E. H. Wood, the club's physician.

Rotarian Dr. A. W. McPherson, on behalf of the Rotary Club, warmly congratulated the Peterboro players upon their splendid feat in capturing the Senior championship of the O.H.A., and upon the sportsmanship way in which they had conducted themselves in their series with the University of Toronto. He for one was not satisfied that the better team had won that series, and he expressed his appreciation of the fight against odds made by the Petes.

Rotarian Chris. Graham, as an old player, remarked that it was a long time between championships, and added his congratulations, referring to the strain of going through to a championship.

Reference was made to the splendid way in which the Peterboro team had stood by "Shorty" Burgess.

Edward G. McNutt, composer of the famous war song, "We'll never let the Old Flag Fall," was the guest of Rotarian Fletcher to-day, and delighted the gathering with a recitation, "The Umpire."

The speaker of the day was introduced by Rev. Jas. Gordon, who paid a warm tribute to Dr. Lavelle as a many-sided Canadian.

Dr. Lavelle's address was an earnest plea on behalf of the newcomer to Canada. Giving several stories from his experiences as a member of the Parole Board as the foundation for his remarks, the speaker pleaded that the people of Canada should consider immigrants in the light of the history of their respective countries and the contributions each had made to the welfare of the world. It was not enough that we should want these newcomers to become good Canadians, but we should recognize the desirability of them, looking back at the nation from which they came. In that way Canada would gain much from her immigrants.

Dr. Lavelle declared that it would soon not be necessary for Canada to advertise for new citizens. They were bound to come here, and the problem was what kind of reception they were going to get. He deprecated the general tendency to look down upon new citizens, and deplored the habit Canadians had of forgetting what the world owed to the countries from which these citizens came. That should always be kept in mind in dealing with immigrants, and the result would be a wonderful benefit to this country.

Rotarian V. J. McElderry expressed the appreciation of the Rotary Club for Dr. Lavelle's fine address.

SNOW PLOUGH HERE.

Department of Highways Truck Came Through From Toronto.

One of the Department of Highways snow plough trucks was in the city on Saturday, having made the trip from Toronto. The plough was delayed for some time at Scott's Corners by the heavy drifts on that section of the highway, but succeeded in making the return trip without mishap.

A deputation from the local branch of the Ontario motor league waited on W. H. Bradburn, M. P.P., regarding snow fences for the Peterboro-Port Hope Highway, with the result that the Department has definitely proposed to have them erected in time for next winter.

BUYS PICTURE RIGHTS.

Fred Whitcroft To Show Pictures of Prince Through West.

Mr. Fred Whitcroft, formerly of Peterborough, bought the western rights for the showing of the moving pictures of the tour of the Prince of Wales.

He also purchased the South American rights, and is leaving shortly for South America to dispose of same.

BARACA CLASS NOTES

Baraca class of Murray street Baptist church are congratulating themselves on the manner in which they are progressing.

"Our Boys" was first staged in the Vaudeville Theatre, London, on January 16th, 1875, and was performed for 150 consecutive nights, after which it enjoyed an international popularity for over a quarter of a century.

It differs from such favourites as "Charlie's Aunt" in so far as it has nothing farcical to it, but the dialogue is "snappy" and full of fine, clean humour, with just a touch of pathos. The plot is always interesting and many of the newer comedies are based upon smilar "motif."

Mr. A. D. Clark, who has charge of the production, is familiar with every "set" in the play, and is rapidly drilling a clever cast into fine acting unit.

OIL CITY IN DANGER.

Many People Flooded Out By Rising of the Allegheny.

OIL CITY, Pa., March 22. Canadian Press. — Industry was at a standstill, the principal markets of the city closed and several hundred people had been driven from their homes here to-day as the result of flood conditions, which followed the partial movement of the 25 mile series of ice gorges in the Allegheny river last night.

The river was rising and the weather forecast of rain for to-night and to-morrow gave the situation a still more serious aspect.

Financial News and Views

Latest Comment on Grain and Industrial Markets | Closing Quotations on the Principal Active Stocks

Quotations Over Stobie, Forlong and Co. wire.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High	Low	Close
Atchison Rly.	126⅜	125½	126
American Can	289	283½	289
American Loco	101¾	99¾	103¾
Smelters	124	123½	124
Baldwin	108⅜	106½	108⅜
Balt. and Ohio	90	88¾	90
Cast-Iron Pipe	175	171¼	175
Ches. and Ohio	132½	131¾	132½
Cal. Petrol	36¼	35¾	36⅜
Chrysler	36½	35¾	36⅜
Dupont De N.	216	211¾	216
Fleischmann	44¼	43⅜	44¼
Ceneral Motors	125⅜	122⅝	124
Hudson Motor	92¾	89¼	92¾
Int. Harvester	120¼	118½	120
Inter. Nickel	36¼	35⅝	36¾
Coca-Cola	134⅜	133¼	134½
Mack Truck	118⅜	115¾	188⅜
Marland Oil	55⅞	55¼	55¾
U. S. Rubber	71	69⅛	70½
Mont. Ward	70	68¾	70
White Motors	74¾	74¼	74⅝
U. S. Steel	124¼	123⅜	124¼
Yellow Cab	28	27⅜	28
Youngs. Tube.	76½	75½	76½

MINING STOCKS

Gold

	Asked	Bid
Argonaut	32¼	31
Baldwin	3	2¾
Chaput Hughes	18	17
Con. West Dome	21	19
Dome	1850	1840
Goldale	34	30½
Hollinger	1900	...
Keora	12½	11½
Kirkland Lake	104	101
Lake Shore	1065	1030
McIntyre	2510	2480
Newray	40	35¼
Nipissing	610	600
Preston	7	7
Teck Hughes	307	300
Vip. Con. Mines	163	159
W. Hargraves	840	830

Silver

Beaver	69	66
Castle	163	159
Crown Reserve	17¾	16¼
La Rose	17	15
McKinley	19½	19½
Mining Corp.	380	378
Peterson Lake	4	2½

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	High	Low	Close
May	160	154¾	155
July	139	134½	135

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

May	149	145¼	145¾
July	146¾	142¾	143

CHICAGO RYE.

May	88	85¼	85⅝
July	89¾	86⅞	86⅞

Failure Of Bear Attacks Strengthens Stock Market

NEW YORK, March 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Rallying tendencies became more pronounced in to-day's stock market after bear traders had failed in attempt to unsettle the general list by a renewal of attacks on Hudson Motors and Ward Baking issues, which were driven to new low levels for the year. Recovery was stimulated by the widespread belief that the market was entitled to at least a technical rally after the sustained decline of last week and by the decision of the United States' Supreme Court to grant a review of the Doheny oil lease case. In an early flurry of selling, Hudson was driven down to 89, but quickly snapped back to around 92; Ward Baking A broke five points to 135, the B dropped four to 37, and the preferred sagged a point to 100. Steady accumulation of oils reflected the publication of additional favorable 1925 earnings reports and merger talk.

Leadership Was Divided Toronto Stock Exchange

TORONTO, March 22.— (Canadian Press.)—Trading was extremely light on Toronto stock exchange this morning, with Brazilian and Consolidated Smelters dividing the leadership with the newly listed McKinnon stock. McKinnon common sold up to 1 1-2 from opening at 25, while preferred sold at 92. Smelters advanced three and a quarter points at 206 and Brazilian advanced three-quarters at 90 1-2. British Columbia Fishing strengthened five-eights at 69, Twin City seven-eighths at 71 1-2 and Nickel a quarter at 36 1-4.

Firmer Tone Shown To-day On the Standard Exchange

TORONTO, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press) — While trading remained light in volume on the Standard Mining Exchange today. Much firmer tone was shown on the market. No changes of any substantial nature were recorded. McIntyre firmed 15 at 24.90, Keora 1 1-2 at 12 1-2. Columbus Kirkland 1 1-2 at 6 1-2 and Canadian Lorrain 1 1-2 at 82. Teck Hughes sold down four at 301, Noranda 20 at 12.95, Ex Rights and Beaver 2 at 67.

Chicago Prices Increase Due To Foreign Buying

CHICAGO, March 22.— (Canadian Press.)—Foreign buying of future deliveries of wheat here, together with the unexpected higher quotations at Liverpool gave an upward tilt to the Chicago wheat market to-day. On the advance here, however, commission house selling increased and with the Minneapolis market showing relative weakness Chicago prices reacted somewhat. Favorable weather in the southwest and reports of ideal conditions for the domestic winter crop tended to offset foreign strenth, which was coupled with the smallness of world shipments and w ith indications that the consumer demand abroad had improved. Chicago opening figures 1-8 to 1 3-8c. up, May 158 3-4 to 160, and July 138 1-2 to 139 were followed by setbacks from initial top figures, but also by subsequent rallies.

Liberal receipts of corn and speculative selling made corn and oats easy; shiping call for corn was slow. After opening unchanged to 1-4c. higehr, May 74 to 74 1-8, the corn market receded to below Saturday's finish.

Oats started unchanged to 1-4c. up, May 39 3-8, but later underwent a sag.

Provisions averaged a little higher, despite weakness of hog values.

MOVING PICTURE

To Be Taken of Trent Canal By Government.

The Provincial Government has decided to make a complete moving picture of the Trent Valley Canal to be used for the purpose of attracting tourists.

This was secured by W. A. Fraser, Mayor of Trenton, who is a director of the Trent Waterways Development Association.

TWO NOMINAED IN MIDDLESEX

Elliott and Elliott To Battle in By-election on Monday.

CAMPAIGN OPENS.

STRATHROY, Ont., March 22. —(Canadian Press.)—Hon. John C. Elliott (Liberal), Minister of Labor in the Dominion government, and Thos. Elliott (Conservative) were nominated here to-day as expected, for the by-election in West Middlesex on March 29. Nominations closed at 2 o'clock and the public meeting was then opened. In addition to the candidates, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Liberal organizer, and Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion (Conservative) addresesd the meeting.

John L. Stansell, (Conservative), Norfolk-Elgin, and other members of that party are here to take part in the campaign. Premier McKenzie King will speak at a meeting in this town on Saturday next. West Middlesex is very much a rural riding and the country roads are in bad condition, following the recent thaw. It is expected that both sides in the contest will make considerable use of long distance telephones and radio to reach their constituents. Meetings will be held in most of the towns and villages reached by railroad.

SEVEN CHILDREN PERISH IN FIRE

Mother Had Left Them Alone in Home For Short Time.

CAUGHT ASLEEP.

MONTREAL, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press)—Word that seven children of Mrs. D. St. Germain were burned to death during a fire in their home at Bellevue, near Sorel, Que., over the week end reached the city this morning. The mother had left the children in the home for a short time and when she returned the house was in flames. The children were apparently trapped by the flames while asleep.

KENORA PEOPLE WANT RAILROAD

To Connect Town With Red Lake Gold Field.

TORONTO, March 22 (Canadian Press).—A deputation from Kenora, Ont., headed by Col. A. H. C. Machin, former member of the Ontario Legislature, was to-day assured by Premier G. Howard Ferguson and Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, that no special legislation was necessary for the construction of a railroad from Kenora to the Red Lake mining field.

Reports of applications for charters to build railroads to Red Lake had caused apprehension in Kenora, the deputation pointed out, as Kenora was the nearest large town to the gold fields, and desired the railway from that point.

No definite steps to construct a railroad to Red Lake, either in this province or Manitoba, have yet been taken, the Premier told the deputation, and they might go ahead with any plans they might have.

ART STUDY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Women's Art Association Branch Entertained By Mrs. Sangster.

At the recent meeting of the Art Study Club of the Women's Art Asociation, held at the home of Mrs. W. Sangster, an interesting paper on "Sargent" was given by Mrs. H. W. Morphet. The response to the roll call was a quotation from Longfellow's works.

The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday evening, March 30th, at the home of Miss B. Beatty, Weller Street, when a paper on Claude Monet will be given by Mrs. J. H. Seels, and the response to the roll call will be the naming of the favorite artist of each member, and the reason for the choice.

Mrs. Morphet gave an entertaining and thorough outline of the life and work of the famous painter, John Singer Sargent, who was born in 1856, and died on April 15th 1925. Although Sargeant was born in Florence, he was of strictly American parentage, his father for many years having practised medicine in Philadelphia. The son, who received much of his early education in Italy and Germany, was first placed in the Florence Academy of Arts, then went to the Parisian studio of Carolus Duran, journeying later to Spain and Holland. In Spain, he imbibed much of the influence of Velesquez, shown in the stately, dignified type of his pictures, with their grand and subtle impressions, and in Holland, he gathered from a study of the work of Franz Hals, a skill in modelling faces and in the use of firm, strong touches of color. He was a very tall stature, dignified and reticent in bearing but of simple, modest demeanor.

He was in his day one of the foremost of portrait painters and was besieged at all times by people who wished to have their portraits painted. He had very keen powers of deduction and was quite frank in imparting to canvas the outstanding characteristics of his sitters.

The mural work done by him for the Boston Public Library was among his most noted. In this, he was associated with the Englishman, Abbey, who was commissioned to do the decorative work on the delivery room, and with the French, Puvis de Chavannes, who had the commission for the staircase. Sargent had the top floor, and here are his wonderful murals, painted on the theme of "The Law and the Prophets," in which the figure of the Prophet Isaiah is considered one of the very finest of his work.

He was also commissioned to do some work on the dome of the rotunda in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, in which the work is partly classical and partly emblematic.

Among his most well-known works are the portraits of his master, Carolus Duran, "The Girl With a Rose," Lady Playfair, Henry G. Marquand, Joseph Chamberlain Edwin Booth, Joseph Jefferson, Ellen Terry, Robert Louis Stevenson, "Carmencita," President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay, Robert Louis Stevenson, James Whitcomb Riley, Woodrow Wilson and Lady Phillips. He was an expert worker in water colors also, but left very few of these behind. Of his oil paintings, many are already beginning to crack badly.

The Toronto Art Gallery holds two of the smaller examples of Sargent's work—a portrait of Lord Byng and one of Sir Arthur Currie. These have been purchased by the Canadian National Gallery.

CLOSED

ALL DAY TOMORROW

Getting ready for the greatest Sale on record.

Merrell & Meredith

Dissolving Partnership!

WATCH TOMORROW'S PAPER

Exhibition Boosters!

This is today's list of persons joining Peterborough Industrial Exhibition for 1926:

J. McCann. 109 Romaine St.
R. E. Layfield, 763 Water St.
W. Williamson, No. 3 Peterboro
Byron Williamson, No. 3 Peterboro
J. Simons, 230 Charlotte St.
Dickson Davidson, 387 Reid St.
Fred Overend, 314 London St.
L. L. Maguire, 457 Gilmour
H. W. Cressman, 499 Homewood Ave.
Mrs. Turner, Water St.
W. Webster, No. 7 Peterboro
Fred Clark, No. 1 Cavan
W. H. Telford, 784 George St.
Claire McDonald, 2 Crescent St.
E. A. Stinson, 197 Brock St.
George McDonald, Quaker Oats Co.
Geo. Savigny, 235 Wescott St.
R. Ford, 421 Sheridan St.
Leonard Clancy, No. 6 Peterboro
W. Breckenridge, No. 11 Peterboro.
W. H. Elmhurst, No. 1 Indian River.
E. Barrigan, 501 Bolivar St.
Mr. McDermid, druggist
F. J. Redpath, 641 George St.
Rev. J. V. McAuley, Ennismore
M. J. Crough, Ennismore
Frank Scollard, Ennismore
Chas. Lacheur, Postmaster
Jno. Howland, Butcher
A. A. Fowler
A. J. Greer
Harry Gainey
George Campbell
Wm. Grady
Walter Nugent
W. Lunn, Park St.
M. T. Deck
E. W. Wood
A. Kent
Mr. Gross
Walter Finnie, No. 1 Bailieboro
A. H. Stratton
E. J. H. Vanstone.

NEW HOCKEY ARENA.

Plans Prepared For Erection, Says C. H. Ackerman.

In connection with the rumoured new hockey arena for Peterboro, C. H. Ackerman stated to the Examiner to-day that negotiations were now well under way for the erection of a new arena. The proposed building, he said, will have a seating capacity for 4000 people and the ice surface will measure eighty feet by one hundred and ninety feet.

BIG GAME HUNTERS

The wolf hunt recently undertaken in the Lake Temiskaming country of Northern Quebec by Frank Doudera and Joseph J. Sartori, of Brooklyn, is not the first expedition they have made into Canada seeking to kill and capture big game and take films of wild animals. The above photographs, obtained from the personal notebook of the hunters, were taken on these previous hunts. In the oval on the left Capt. Doudera is shown with a grizzly that fell to him in the Canadian Rockies. Top centre shows Capt. Doudera, left, and Mr. Sartori, right, as they appear when at home. Below this Mr. Sartori is shown with a species of mountain sheep killed in British Columbia. On the right, Capt. Doudera is seen holding a wolf pelt. In 1922 Capt. Doudera won a wager of $1,000 by shooting a timber wolf in the country east of Fort William.

Pictures that pay

Your mind registers hundreds of pictures every day. Faces on the street, people in a doorway, a tray of watches in a window, ribbon on a hat. Interesting or amusing, maybe . . . but of what actual value are most of them to you?

Yet a vast number of pictures that can affect your daily living are waiting for your glance. Advertisements show you better things to ride in, eat, wear, enjoy—honestly pictured for you. Pictures that pay! Such pictures make you familiar with the newest, most improved things you can buy. The soap, hosiery, fountain pen that can mean most to you. Familiar with their color, way they are wrapped, name on the package. You can recognize them at once, link them at once with their advertised facts, know all about them before you buy. You don't have to test them. They have been tested for you. The watch widely advertised ticks in thousands of pockets. The skillet on the printed page is used on a thousand stoves. Pictures in advertisements are pictures of good things enjoyed in countless homes.

Look at advertisements and their pictures. They let you choose the best

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Mr. MacFreeman, 532 Patterson Street, has been promoted and transferred to the Dominion Bank branch at New Toronto.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Thompson of Toronto are guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. an Mrs. Hooper, Dalhousie street.

• • •

Mrs. Frank Fowler has returned home after spending a week with relatives in Toronto where she attended the concerts of the Mendelssohn Choir and Cincinnati orchestra.

• • •

Miss Olga Fowler speent the week end with friends in Toronto.

• • •

Miss Dorothy Moffat of the Oshawa basketball girls' team, was the guest of Miss Gertrude Gemblett over the week-end.

• • •

Mrs. J. Ozias de LaPlante has returneed from a visit with her mother in Toronto.

• • •

The players on the Oshawa Girls' Basketball Team, who played at the Y.M.C.A. here on Saturday, were entertained in the evening at an enjoyable small dance at her home by Miss Gertrude Gimblett.

• • •

Mrs. A. Heltler of Detroit, is visiting her father, Mr. N. T. LaPlante, Lock street.

• • •

Miss Rosamond O'Keef's name was omitted in the notice of the ceremony at Mount St. Joseph on Friday last. Miss O'Keefe received her holy habit and took the name of Rose Marie.

• • •

The girls of the Oshawa and Peterborough basketball teams were entertained after the game on Saturday night at the home of Miss Gertrude Gimblett, captain of the Peterborough team.

• • •

Mr. Lorne Bell and Mr. Percy Beatty left for Detroit this morning.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT THE THINGS THAT INTEREST THE BUSY WOMAN OF 1926.

FASHION NOTES.

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, March 22.—(United Press).—The smart French woman is wearing hats which turn upwards in front? One sees more off-the-face models in Paris than anything else. Beret tams are much smaller than they wore a month ago being nothing more or less than small turbans cleverly draped.

Short skirts demand short hair and long skirts demand long hair?

It is much smarter to be dressed in one color from shoes to hat than to be dressed in contrasts? The smart woman even matches her beads and handkerchief to her costume.

Light colored shoes and stockings will be worn to blend with pastel frocks and suits this Spring?

Bracelets are the most popular jewelry accessories this season?

Flowers made of feathers trim some of the smartest imported hats for Spring?

Capes and cape-coats will be the outstanding styles of 1926?

For wear with boyishly bobbed hair round combs are designed which extend about the back of the head being covered with tinsel leaves or flowers which form sprays over the ears?

Red is a favorite color for the evening wrap or for the lining of an evening wrap?

Hosiery of pinkish beige tones still rules supreme for day wear.

Linen or pongee slippers are worn for sports wear? Sometimes they are colored to match the frock.

Vey few flowers are worn on the shoulders of evening frocks these days?

One-sided hats are very smart this season? Usually the left brim is short or is turned up and the right brim is projecting.

Nightgowns of flowered georgette or flowered crepe are popular with smart women?

Below-the-knee garters are getting to be a thing of the past?

Grandmother Knew

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burnt and blistered. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia.)

The Musterole Co. of Canada, Ltd. Montreal

MUSTEROLE WILL NOT BLISTER

Better than a mustard plaster

ECLIPSE FASHIONS

Exclusive Patterns by Hazel Bryan

1264

New Frocks Follow Flared Lines

The new frocks are all a-flutter with flared skirts and sleeves, and this lovely frock of printed crêpe brings new motion to the silhouette—a graceful, youthful motion, flatteringly interpreted by circular panels, with the lower portion of plain crêpe in harmonizing tone. The foundation of this model is straight and in one piece, the panels of the skirt being finished separately, and sewn to the dress across the top and for a short distance down either side. The flare in the sleeves is arranged differently, being set right into the sleeves before they are seamed. This flare may be omitted, and a dart taken in the sleeves, giving a plain tailored effect. Smart is the set-in vestee with attached collar that may be worn high or low. No. 1264 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 5¾ yards 36-inch, if made all of one material; or 5⅛ yards figured material, with 1⅛ yards plain contrasting to make frock as illustrated. Price 20 cents.

Our Fashion Book, illustrating the newest and most practical styles, will be of interest to every home dressmaker. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Pattern Purchase Coupon

Address Fashion Department, Evening Examiner

No. ..... Street .....

Name .....

Pattern Number ..... Size .....

Town .....

Province .....

Amount Enclosed .....

Price 20 cents each—coin preferred

Menus for the Family

(By Sister Mary.)

Breakfast—Wine-sap apples, cereal, thin cream, broiled cottage ham, creamed rice, bran toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Lentil soup, croutons, carrot and cottage cheese salad sandwiches, ginger bread, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled white fish, scalloped potatoes, mold of spinach with hard cooked eggs, new onions and radishes, apricot whip, whole wheat bread, plain cake, milk, coffee.

A salad sandwich is always acceptable for luncheon. It saves dishes and simplifies serving as well as being quite a full meal in itself for the average adult. Grated new carrots are combined with cottage cheese. The cheese should be quite dry. The mixture is made moist with a well-seasoned salad dressing and served on a crisp lettuce leaf placed on a slice of bread and butter. A tiny pickle or olive can be used as a garnish if needed.

Lentil Soup.

One cup lentils, 1 onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, coarse celery leaves, 6 cups water, 1 1-2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper.

Wash and pick over lentils. Let stand over night in cold water to more than cover. In the morning drain and put into a kettle with water. Bring to the boiling point and simmer until tender. Add water as necessary. Wash coarse leaves from head of celery. Mince. Mince onion and parsley. Add to lentils when they are about half cooked. When all the vegetables are tender rub through a sieve without draining. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add soup to thickened milk, season and bring to the boiling point. Serve at once.

Tomato juice can be used in place of milk if preferred.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

A joke's a very serious thing.
—Churchill.

HER OWN WAY

by

A GIRL of TODAY

A PROMISE OF HELP.

Jerry Hathaway made his declaration so positively that I was a hat-check girl at the Beaux Arts restaurant that I contented myself by briefly saying "yes."

Mr. Hathaway then turned to Jim with a grin.

"So you're the person who knocked Sellers down at the Beaux Arts. Good for you, old chap. It's worth that black eye. And I heard that he was much worse off than you are. That guy has had it coming to him for some time and I almost wish that I had been the one to do it. I came into the restaurant a few minutes after you had gone and heard everyone talking about the fracas.

"I was looking for Syd Alston. Have you seen him anywhere, Jim?"

"No. I've not seen him for two or three days."

"Well, I guess I won't look for him any longer. When you said you were going to dine, I just remembered that I hadn't anything to eat since breakfast, so if you people don't mind I'll just edge myself in on your party."

We were just in front of a little Italian place and we filed in after I had said that I liked spaghetti.

Then Mr. Hathaway had to be told the whole story from beginning to end, and of course Jim said:

"Judy has lost her job."

"Well," said Jerry Hathaway, "I don't think she'll have much trouble getting another."

His eyes expressed almost more and warmer admiration than would make me quite comfortable.

"There's one thing, however, that I can do, and that is to make that gang of cutthroats return that money to Miss Dean that was stolen from her at the Beaux Arts. They can't tell me that you were trying to flim-flam them out of a dinner. No one would think that to look at you. I've heard something of this kind a couple of times about the place and if they don't look out, it'll get a bad name.

"Don't you worry, Miss Dean. I'll have your money for you by tomorrow night."

Jim's face broke out in smiles.

"I tell you, Judy, I'm glad you have Jerry on your side. He'll get your money for you, never fear."

Looking up, I saw a peculiar expression pass between the two men. It was as if Mr. Hathaway was telling Jim to keep his mouth shut about something.

"I'll be awfully glad to have my money back of course, Mr. Hathaway, but I don't want you to subject yourself to any annoyance."

"Don't you worry, Miss Dean. It will not be me that will be subject to annoyance. You see those men sized you up as alone and friendless in a big city or they would not have dared to do as they did. Tomorrow will be a different story."

Tomorrow: An Embarrassing Question.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe

SHE DESCRIBES A SMART SPRING FROCK

"Girls, do come in and see the stunning new laces I've just bought!"

This invitation floated out from the inner office, obviously from Madame, who has been making extensive tour of the buying districts lately.

Madame is awfully nice about showing her newest materials and ideas to the manikins who work for her, and we repay the courtesy by redoubled interest in the garments we show for her.

We all trooped in and found Madame, a pile of laces overflowing from a box on her desk. By her side was Gaby, arrayed in a new gown on which some of the smartest lace had been used.

"Gaby, you look adorable!" I exclaimed.

"It's not me, it's the frock," Gaby replied modestly.

"Well, I must admit such a frock would be a help to anyone's looks," I replied.

"Walk away, and give us a look Gaby," one of the other girls requested.

Gaby put on her best manikin air, and sauntered to the end of the small room and back.

The material of the frock was wool-crepe, a lovely soft quality, in one of the prettiest reds I have seen lately.

"Heavenly shade!" I commented.

"Isn't it?" returned Madame.

"The dull red is perfect with that deep ecru lace," I added.

Madame went on to explain that the lace was so heavy and almost wool-like in texture that it had inspired her to choose the soft wool-crepe to go with it.

"Besides," she added, "I've always liked heavy laces combined with unusual materials. And you must admit wool-crepe is rather unusual when it appears in combination with lace."

I liked everything about the frock, from the fitted bodice section to the flared cuffs, and the wide movement of the slightly circular skirt.

Gaby had on a little darker red felt to top it, and I finally turned my attention from her to the new laces.

Heavy Ecru Lace Trims This Red Wool Crepe Daytime Frock.

ATTENDING CONFERENCE.

Above is one of the most recent photographs of the Duchess of Athol, parliamentary under-secretary of the British department of education, who will attend the national conference on education to be held in Montreal 5 to 10.

A man is not a wall, whose stones are crushed upon the road; or a pipe whose fragments are thrown away at a street corner. The fragments of an intellect are always good. —Sand.

Force and not opinion is the queen of the world; but it is opinion that uses the force. —Pascal.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

NOVELTIES FOR COOK'S APPROVAL.

For many years food faddists have been telling the housewife to throw away the frying-pan because fried foods were not healthful. Anyway, the evolution of the frying-pan has gone right along. And each season sees some new point about them that shows that they must be still in demand to receive so much attention from inventors and manufacturers.

The new frying-pan and griddle is made on the new unified heat plan. The pans heat quickly and cool slowly. The reason is in the construction of the utensils. The outer pan has a galvanized iron base lined with chamfered copper with an air space between that and the aluminum lining. A uniform heat is spread all over the pan, which it holds, sometime after the fire is out, so that the foods keep warm from a half to three-quarters of an hour. The frying pans are made without the familiar lip at the side.

There is no use saying that pancakes, or even waffles, are out of fashion. Tea rooms and restaurants have steady demands for them, and small electric grills have little fitting griddles and waffle irons for family use. There are new perforated pancake turners, and nickel dish covers to keep the cakes hot until served, if one needs any more proof.

Among other conveniences that are useful at this season of the year are the little aluminum pudding moulds. The moulds are individual and shaped like the big ones. If carefully greased, the puddings slip out more easily than from the heavier tin ones. Easily cleaned, they are quite a joy to own.

LADY EGAN DEAD.

Widow of Philanthopist Dies Soon After Husband.

OTTAWA, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press)—Lady Egan, widow of the late Sir Henry Egan, philanthropist and lumberman of international repute, died at her home here late yesterday, only a few months after the death of her husband.

The Home Kitchen

By Jeannette Norton

THE HEALTHFULNESS OF GREENS AND EARLY SALADS

Greens and early salad plants were very highly thought of by old-fashioned housewives, who considered them valuable Spring medicines. City marketers meet but few dandelion, field lettuce or lambs quarters, beet tops, upland cress, and in some places peppergrass.

In the country, however, those who like the freshly grown things and know where to hunt them can find many. Wild endive or chicory is a plant that smells like licorice. The root of the plant is used for a salad.

Yellow dock is another plant used for greens; curly, narrow-leafed dock, not to be confused with the "horse dock," which is not fit for such use; in fact, considered mildly poisonous. The tops of horseradish, when very young, may be used as greens or in salads.

The young shoots of milk-weed, or milk-vetch, when but a few inches above ground, make excellent greens, and, like the young poke-weed shoots, may be tied in bunches and cooked like asparagus. The white broad leaves of young mustard plants make excellent early salads. French dressing is best with this salad. The black mustard leaves are much stronger and induce tears to flow unbidden if used alone without lettuce or some other salad ingredient.

In some sections, only pig-weed is esteemed for greens. Purslain is used as greens and also for salad; the whole plant is used after careful washing. Shepherd sprouts is a plant that has clusters of long ragged leaves, growing much like the dandelion. It is fit for use as greens until it sends up a blossom stalk, after which it becomes bitter. Do not provide too liberally as it does not lose bulk in cooking. The tender stalks of angelica are still used as a flavoring in salads, though in most places they are candied for a confection and the seeds are used as cordial flavoring.

The leaves of sweet basil are used as a salad flavoring, also they are dried for Winter use among the sweet or savory herbs. The young leaves or borage (the leaves are wrinkled, rough and downy in appearance and smell a little like a cucumber), are used like spinach or as salad. Brooklime is a plant that grows in damp localities; it has a smooth and tender stem with small fibrous roots growing at the joints. It makes a tasty addition to early salads. Chervil leaves are excellent in salads, having a flavoring as pronounced as anise-seed, highly esteemed by both French and English cooks. Calamus, or sweet flag, is another flavoring agent worth getting acquainted with.

Watercress may be thoroughly washed and trimmed, then cooked for greens like spinach, as well as used in salad. After cooking five minutes, the water should be thrown off and fresh added. It cooks as quickly as spinach and if seasoned and panned in the same way it makes an acceptable change.

Women Secure

against lost charm this new way of solving oldest hygienic problem

SHEER gowns and ill-timed social or business demands hold no terror for the modern woman. The insecurity of the old-time "sanitary pad" has been ended.

"KOTEX," a new and remarkable way, is now used by 8 in 10 better class women.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus stops ALL danger of offending.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

KOTEX

No laundry—discard like tissue

QUICK RESULTS.

Corns can be quickly removed from the feet by a few applications of

CHICAGO. CORN PAINT

It is a painless treatment of corns and callouses.

25c per bottle

BOND'S DRUG STORE

Corner George and Hunter Street

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

Cruel customs officers seize a lady's $36,000 diamond necklace because she bought it from another lady who had never paid the $22,000 duty due on it. Do you feel dreadfully sorry for her? Neither do we. We do permit our sympathy glands to work, however, over the tale in the same day's news of the foreign mother whose child was not permitted to enter this land because of malnutrition.

TWO-THING SPREADS.

"Our club can only serve two things besides water and toothpicks," a worried social butterfly writes me. "And the other 'two things' have been served so often. Any new hunches?"

For a "two thing spread," no combination so fills the bill as either a sheer dessert course of ice-cream or ices or sherbet and cakes, or sandwiches and a drink. Malted milks, milk shakes, tea with lemon, could vary the usual coffee or cocoa. And so many kinds of sandwich possibilities! Cream cheese celery and hard boiled egg, preserved ginger.

HANDS.

"I notice hands before I do faces." How many times have you heard that bromide? Will yours bear the ogling glance? Yes, I know manicures cost. But how about at least one evening a week when you do your own? Bowl of soapy water, file, manicure scissors, buffer, polish, cuticle remover and orange stick are needed. Soak the nails in the water. File and round. Don't make talons. Put some cotton on your orange stick and dip into the cuticle remover. Push back the cuticle. Dip nails in water again. Dip buffer and polish and give them the glow re-splendent.

DON'T BE A GOOP!

Don't neglect to speak to a person thrown right at you under the roof of your mutual hostess just because you haven't been introduced. You should have been, of course, unless the rabble was especially thick, but a joint hostess really makes an introduction and only a bump on a log will act like cold mutton because the words "may I present?" haven't been spoken.

THE BOOK.

We have gone about singing rhapsodies for the past several years on two books by English women writers. We said that the descriptions in Storm Jamieson's "Pitiful Wife" put Oscar Wilde, Thomas Hardy and Edna St. Vincent to shame. And we said that "Joanna Godden," by Sheila Kaye-Smith, was one, if not the greatest novel ever written. Now we're afraid to read Sheila's reprinted "Starbrace" and Storm's "Three Kingdoms" for fear of losing an idol or two.

THE SECRETS OF CHARM

By Lucrezia Bori.

What difference in a woman's appearance can be brought about by graceful posture!

If you want to be convinced of this stand before a long mirror. Look at yourself carefully when you stand with drooping, slightly rounded shoulders, which is, unfortunately, the way so many women stand before they put careful consideration on the matter.

Now make your back straight by putting your shoulders back, your chest out and your chin in. If you do this, your stomach will be held flat without your even thinking of it, and your figure will be in a graceful straight line, with your head held proudly erect.

When you are walking take care of the same points. Remember to keep your shoulders back, your chest out and your chin in. Breathe regularly and deeply.

When you are seated you will do well to remember a little trick I have discovered which helps me a lot. Now my little secret is to put my two feet flat on the floor under my desk. In this position I find it much easier to sit erect than otherwise, and I am sure you will too.

If you want encouragement to make yourself persevere, in these beauty ways I have mentioned, just take pains to see how much better you look in your clothes. A good-looking dress gives its wearer twice the amount of individuality and charm if she knows how to wear it well, and one of the first steps is to stand and walk gracefully. It makes such a difference in the becomingness of your clothes!

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

RUMMAGE SALE

In accordance with an agreement with Messrs. Botnick Bros., who have leased the Jeffries store, we are able to retain the store until Wednesday night, March 24th.

We still have about $3,000 worth of the Jeffries' Bankrupt stock on hand and will sell it in one grand Rummage Sale to-morrow and Wednesday, March 23 and 24.

So be on hand to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. We are not giving the goods away, but if our prices were any lower, it would cause a riot.

The following prices will give you some idea of what a real forced sale means. Everything must be sold to the bare walls by Wednesday night.

About 1,000 yards of fine Silk and Satin Ribbons; almost every shade you could think of.

500 yards of beautiful lace. Hundreds of yards of collar tabing, neckwear jabots.

Silk Night Gowns, Belts, Gloves, Corsets, Silk Slips, Sweaters, Underwear, women's and children's Dresses and various other items too numerous to mention. Just come and rummage. There will be something in the lot you can buy for a mere fraction of its cost.

500 CHILDREN'S SOX
In a variety of colors in fine lisle, silk finish, and lisle finish. All 50c value. Rummage Sale..... 19c

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL HOSE.—Reg. 59c. Rummage Sale..... 25c

CHILDREN'S COTTON HOSE. Pair..... 9c

WOMEN'S HOSE, PURE SILK OR WOOL.—Regular $1.35 to $1.50. Rummage Sale..... 49c

WOMEN'S PURE THREAD SILK HOSE.—Harris knit. Rose, Onyx and Silingee. Reg. $2 to $2.50. Rummage Sale..... 79c

REG. 69c SILK HOSE.—Rummage Sale..... 25c

SILK SCARVES—Reg. up to $7.50 in the store. Rummage Sale..... $1.89

HUNDREDS OF OTHER SILK SCARVES AND TIES ALL PRICED AT A MERE FRACTION OF THEIR COST

TWO DAYS ONLY. SALE STARTS TOMORROW MORNING AT 9 O'CLOCK.

CUDMORE SALES CO.

NOW SELLING THE JEFFRIES STOCK

378 George Street - Peterborough

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It is a gratifying fact in human experience that when once an idea has been given to the world, there will be found somebody to develop and improve upon it. Inventions which in the beginning were too expensive to be useful, have been developed by later investigation until they are the common possession of all mankind.

I have heard my father tell with some pride that he was the first man in his State to have a kerosene lamp. In that remote day the oil cost seventy-five cents a gallon, about three dollars probably in the depreciated money of the present.

Today kerosene costs but a few cents a gallon, and did not gas and electricity wipe out their use, coal oil lamps would be very inexpensive luxury. Likewise the gas and electricity have been cheapened tremendously by improved methods of production and distribution.

It was not long ago I told you about the value of ultra-violet rays of light as a means of promoting health. I explained that ordinary window glass filters out of the sun light these healing rays. In consequence the closed windows of Winter time have excluded one of the most beneficial qualities of the sun.

Quartz glass does not denature the sunlight. Through panes of this glass the ultra-violet rays find their way without restraint. Somebody was good enough to supply the childrens' ward of Johns Hopkins Hospital with a window set with fifteen panes of this expensive glass, worth a thousand dollars per pane.

Fifteen thousand dollars is a lot of money for one window, and in consequence only a dozen or two of rickety children could be benefited, while millions were deprived of the treatment.

But along came a kind-hearted and investigating kind of person. He found that ordinary transparent wrapping paper, such as is used on candy boxes, will do almost as well as quartz glass at a thousand dollars a pane. Prof. A. Herman Ffund, if we may depend upon the press dispatches, says that 60 or 70 per cent of the ultra-violet rays will pour through paper as well as through quartz.

Cellulose is the substance from which such paper is made. This is the substance which gives form and stiffness to plants. It is one of nature's wonderful building materials. For health's sake it would be an acceptable substitute for silk in the clothing manufacture of the future. Permitting the ultra-violet rays to penetrate it, it is an invaluable product.

Let us hope the paper experimentation will continue. If everything proceeds satisfactorily, the peorest family can provide the children with a health-giving treatment. These rays are essential to growth and vigor.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

H. G. Q.—How can I reduce?

A.—By eliminating from your diet as far as possible sugars, starches and fats. Eat plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables. Exercise daily in the open air.

* * *

E. R. J. Q.—How can I gain weight?

A.—Eat your meals at regular intervals, eat plenty of fresh eggs, milk, cream. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

* * *

W. L. Q.—Does bobbing the hair tend to make it thin?

A.—No, it has not this effect.

(Copyright, 1926.)

Reginald Frank Stone

St. Catharines, Ont.—"During my first expectant period I was in very poor health, was very nervous, suffered from morning sickness, had backache and abdominal pains. I was as miserable as could be. Thru a friend I learned of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and after I began taking it I got along fine; it relieved me of the morning sickness, pains and distress thru my back and sides and I grew well and strong. Was able to do my own work the remainder of the time. I experienced very little suffering and had a fine healthy baby, who has never had a day's sickness except slight colds. I was very glad to know of a medicine so valuable as the 'Prescription' proved to be."—Mrs. Reginald Stone, 68 Haynes Ave. All dealers.

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont., if you wish a trial package of tablets.

LACES ARE FASHION

At the Left is a Dinner Frock of Gold Lace Edged with Gold Beads. At the Right is a Dance Dress of Ecru Lace and Pleated Net.

By ANNETTE BRADSHAW.

A recent fashion exhibit exploited lace frocks of all types. Filmy lace, coarse lace, lace dyed in bright hues and lace of pastel tints held sway. The effectiveness of this medium for all times of day was ably demonstrated.

Perhapa the most attractive frocks of the collection were those for dinner and dance occasions. Two of these types are sketched here. Preference for long and short sleeves is about evenly divided, the long-sleeved dinner gown with decollete neckline being one of the newest departures.

A gold lace dinner frock of this design is shown at the left. The semi-fitted bodice ends in irregular scallops, the bodice dipping so that it is longer at the back than in front. The wide skirt drops in many irregular points, and all the different layers are edged with gold beads.

The frock at the right is of ecru lace, combined with finely pleated net of the same ecru tint. The neckline is rounded at the back and front alike, and an added smart feature is seen in the wide gypsy girdle, which fastens with two buckles of gold beads at the back. A gold bead choker is worn at the neck.

Laces are dyed all colors, and we see frocks of brilliant jade green, as well as the softer periwinkle blues and delicate pink tints. Bois de rose is a favorite color for lace frocks as well as for sports costumes.

FEWER PEOPLE

high batting average was incidental. Then he got the bug to bat .400. Three years ago he went after it hard.

Although he led his league with an average of .393, Ruth did not get his wish. Maybe he would have done it had the 1926 model sacrifice-fly rule been functioning then.

No player in baseball hits a higher, longer fly than the Big Pamboo. Again, we can only guess how many of his flies advance a runner from first to second or second to third.

Ruth, by the way, looks mighty peppy and ambitious this spring even though he hasn't started to hit, and he may get that .400 mark if he goes after it right through the season.

TENNIS IN RAIN.

Miss Wills Shares in Doubles Victory.

CANNES, France, March 22. — (Canadian Press.) — Miss Helen Wills, the American tennis champion, and her French partner, Henri Cochet, won the finals in the mixed

By Blanche Silver

DICKY MEETS SOME LITTLE SAILOR BABIES.

One day while Dicky was out roaming through the marshes that skirted the pond, he discovered a dear little bird running through the weeds.

"Oh, please, little boy, don't shoot me," cried the little bird. "If you do my wife and family will certainly die."

"Bless me," laughed Dicky, "I wouldn't harm you for the world. What is your name? Mine is Dicky."

"And I am Daddy Dabchick," laughed the little brown bird.

"What a cute name," laughed Dicky, Dabchick! And where is your wife? Do you live in these cattails?"

"Goodness no," chuckled Daddy Dabchick. "We have a dandy house. We don't live on land, you know. We're sailors."

"Sailors!" laughed Dicky. "I should have known that when I looked at your feet. They're webbed like Mrs. Duck's. Are you cousins of the duck family?"

"No, I don't believe we are," replied Daddy Dabchick. "We are cousins of the Divers. Why I can dive and swim as fast as they. I'd like to have you meet Mama Dabchick, if you'd care to."

"I certainly would," replied Dicky.

"I Am Daddy Dabchick."

"This pond belongs to my Grandpa and I know most everyone that lives around here."

Daddy Dabchick chuckled to himself and running out to the edge of the pond called in a soft voice. rom the other side of the tall cattails came a big, dark object. As it neared the shore, Dicky could see it was a rude raft-like nest built of sticks, weeds and grass. In the center of it, dangling one foot over in the water sat the proud Mrs. Dabchick. Dicky laughed when he saw her pushing the rude nest across the waters by one leg.

"Why, what's the matter my dear?" questioned the astonished Daddy Dabchick. "How did you come to be over there?"

"Didn't you see those boys with guns over their shoulders?" asked his wife. Out from under her wings popped five little fluffy heads. Mama Dabchick assured them it was perfectly safe. Out they tumbled and before you could blink an eye, into the water they dived.

"Well, of all things!" Dicky exclaimed. "You surely deserve the name of sailors all right. Who taught those youngsters to dive that way?"

"No one," laughed Daddy Dabchick. "As soon as they were hatched out of the eggs they tumbled into the water."

"Yes, and I was almost frightened to death," laughed his wife. "I thought surely they would drown or be eaten by those four legged creatures who wade in here to wash their feet and drink."

"My dear," laughed Dicky. "Cows won't harm your babies."

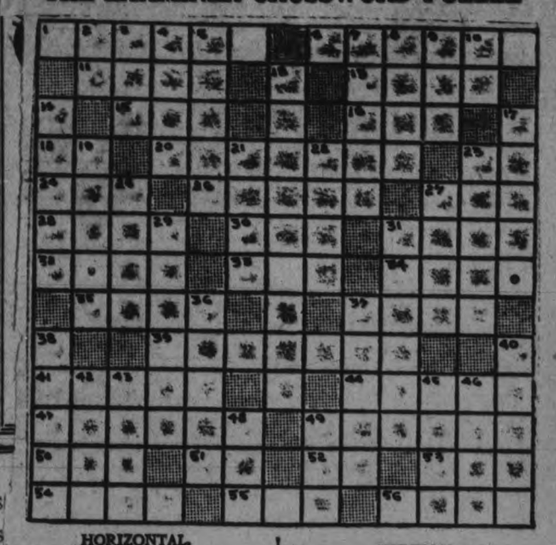
"Well, you see, I didn't know that then," chuckled Mama Dabchick. "Now I know better. Now it's the hunters that annoy me."

"I'll have that stopped, too, friends," said Dicky. "I must run in to dinner now. I'll tell Grandpa and he'll keep them out."

Bidding his friends good-by Dicky ran back to the house and after dinner he and Grandpa tacked up signs all over the grounds, Mama and Daddy Dabchick couldn't read what they said, but they were never frightened by the hunters again.

(Copyright, 1926.)

THE EXAMINER CROSSWORD PUZZLE



HORIZONTAL.

1. Puppies or cubs.
6. To agree.
11. Melody.
13. Plant used for a bitter drug.
15. Recent.
16. Two fives.
18. Correlative of either.
20. Slandered.
23. Yellow Hawaiian bird.
24. Peak.
26. Benumbed.
27. To make a mistake.
28. Exclamation of sorrow.
30. Lair.
31. Auction.
32. Loaned.
33. Bird similar to the ostrich.
34. Stepped upon.
35. To pierce as with a knife.
37. Kind of coarse file.
39. To wander aimlessly.
41. Heron.
44. Strip of leather.
47. Lent.
49. Arid district.
50. Work of skill.
51. Behold.
52. Preposition of place.
53. Snake-like fish.
54. Twelve months.
55. Part of a lock.
56. To kill.

VERTICAL.

2. Exclamation of laughter.
3. Sea eagle.
4. Uttered a falsehood.
5. Beat the ground with the forefoot.
7. Satiated.
8. Coaster on runners.
9. Age.
10. Point of compass.
12. Overwhelming wonder.
14. Sum.
17. Perforated.
19. Parts in a drama.
21. To lose color.
22. Bill of fare.
23. Lowest deck of a ship.
25. To breathe heavily.
27. External organs of hearing.
29. Pistil.
31. Commences.
36. Peppernut.
37. To change a diamond setting.
38. Relief supply of horses.
40. Readily.
42. To pierce with tusks.
43. Polynesian chestnut.
45. Roll of film.
46. Region.
48. To put on.
49. Flat fish.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I know somebody who needs spring cleaning very much indeed," said the March Hare to the Twins when Marky Muskrat was out of the way at last.

"Who?" said Nancy and Nick together.

"Billy Beaver," said the March Hare. "His name is Builder, you know, but he's called Billy for short."

"Why, he lives in the water," said Nick. "How could he need to be spring cleaned?"

"Just like Marky Muskrat," said the March Hare. "He gets full of mud, and besides after living in his underground house all winter, he is all tangled up. Yes, Billy Beaver certainly needs to be spring-cleaned. Come on. Let's get him."

So off went the three of them to the place on Ripple Creek where Billy and his relations had made a dam of mud and logs across the water, causing the creek to back up into a sort of little lake.

And there on the edge of the bank sat Billy himself.

"Hello!" he called. "Are you coming to see me? Mom and Pop aren't home. They've gone on a trip into the woods to hunt some new birch trees. I'm just playing a game with my friends, the Gazookumses."

For the first time the visitors noticed three very tiny little boys with long sharp ears, sitting on the bank beside Billy Beaver.

The March Hare frowned and looked very much upset, for everyone knows that wherever Gazookumses are, there is trouble also. The worst thing aobut Gazookumses is, you never know what they are going to do next. The next worst thing is that they always go about in threes and it is very hard to get ahead of them.

When Billy mentioned them, the three Gazookumses got right up and tipped their hats and bowed very politely saying, "We are very much pleased and delighted and obliged to meet you we're sure."

But everyone knew they didn't mean it. What everyone did know was that they meant, "We are cross as three bears at you for coming here just now. Because we were just playing a trick on Billy Beaver and if you hadn't meddled, it would have been over by this time and Billy would be ours."

All the March Hare did when the Gazookumses made their long speech was to say, "What does all this mean? Billy? Do your mother and father allow you to keep such company in their absence?"

Billy looked worried now. "I don't know," he said. "I never saw them before. But they asked me to play such a nice game I thought it would be fun."

"What was it?" asked the March Hare.

"It was a game called 'Jumble, jumble, who's got the bumble?'" said Billy. "You play it with stones."

"How?" asked the March Hare sharply.

"Why the three little Gazookumses sit in a row," said Billy. "Then they put their hands behind their backs, and then they take a pink stone and pass it along from one to the other. Then I guess who has the stone. If I guess right I win and if I guess wrong I lose."

"I see," said the March Hare, looking at the Twins as much as to say, "There is crooked work here. We will see this thing out."

Then he turned to Billy. "I suppose you haven't won much yet, have you?"

"No," said Billy. "I've been losing. I've lost my ears and my tail."

(To Be Continued.)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble.

TUESDAY, MARCH 23.

A very lively and auspicious state of affairs is predicted from the astral activities of this day. There is augury of a sudden change which should bring decided benefit, but nothing should be undertaken with rashness or without sufficient consideration. Those in the employment of others should find reward for applicational industry.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of excellent promise both in employment and in new ventures. Old obstacles may be removed to make room for new opportunities, involving change of environment. But the auspicious circumstances should not be nullified by impulsive and tempestuous conduct. A child born on this day may be inclined to be impulsive and turbulent, but should make a splendid success both in employment and in any industrial capacity. It may have a rather spectacular career, with much change.

AN EXAMPLE

Ol' Petey Pat was a queer sort of guy, who ploughed through each day without batting an eye. His job wasn't sweet, but he never went lame, 'cause he knew there was fun in his toil, jes' the same.

It made little diff'rence whatever his work as long as his spirit knew not how to shirk. He'd turn into good all the sides that were bad through making the best of whatever he had.

He never sat down just to worry and fret, but he tackled his task so he'd always be set to stave off the failure, the fizzle and flop, which stand in the way of your reachin' the top.

And why do I mention this guy, Petey Pat? It's likely you'll wonder about it, at that. It's just in the thought that you'll all get the hang, of the tip that he gives to the rest of the gang.

FABLES IN FACT

FABLES IN FACT.

THIS CONCERNS MOST ANY MOTHER AND MOST ANY LITTLE CHILD PERIOD THE MOTHER HAD THE CHILD ON HER KNEE AND WAS HANDING OUT ONE OF THOSE SWEET LECTURES PERIOD CONVERSATION WENT ON SOMETHING LIKE THIS COLON QUOTATION MARK YOU HAVE BEEN A VERY BAD CHILD PERIOD EVERYTHING I TELL YOU TO DO COMMA YOU DON'T COMMA AND EVERYTHING I TELL YOU NOT TO DO COMMA YOU DO PERIOD I SIMPLY CAN'T MAKE YOU, MIND PERIOD QUOTATION MARK AND THAT'S HOW THE CHILD FOUND OUT WHAT A FAILURE THE MOTHER WAS PERIOD

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Happy the man, and he alone,
Who, master of himself, can say
"To-day at least hath been my own,
For I have clearly lived to-day."
—Francis.

Good men can more easily see through bad men than the latter can the former.—Richter.

ICE JAM FEARED IN ST. LAWRENCE

River Men Make Hurried Survey of Channel at Ogdensburg.

MELTING ABOVE.

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., March 22 —(Canadian Press).—Fear that an ice jam of stupendous proportions was forming below this city in the St. Lawrence River was expressed last night by river men who made a hurried survey of the channel between Ogrensburg and Morrisburg, Ont. With the ice field above rapidly melted and breaking up in small spots, a repetition of the Morrisburg jam of three years ago was foreseen. At that time buildings along the river section were destroyed, streets were flooded and huge property loss averted only after a week of stubborn battling against the elements with dynamite.

Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried,
Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel;
But do not dull thy palm with entertainment
Of each new-hatch'd, unfledg'd comrade.
—Shakespeare.

Penny wise, pound foolish.—Burton.

YOU POOR KID WHY ARE YOU SO SKINNY?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Extract will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that in just a few weeks she can help you get back your appetite—make your body stronger—your feet nimble, and your mind keener. Tell her if they don't help greatly in thirty days she can get her money back.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamines and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask McDermid and Jury, James Lynch, Bond's Drug Store or any good druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets as easy to take as candy—60 tablets—60 cents.

BOY DROWNED.

Falls Through the Ice on the Humber River at Weston.

WESTON, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The ice jam on the Humber River claimed a victim yesterday afternoon, when George Lenehan, 12-year-old son of John Lenehan of Toronto, broke through the ice and was drowned.

REMINGTON-NOISELESS TYPEWRITER MODEL 6.

The Remington-Noiseless Typewriter does its work perfectly and it does it in silence.

Wouldn't you like to exchange your present equipment for Remington-Noiseless Typewriters! We will take your old machines as part payment. For particulars, sign and mail this advertisement to us.

Name.....
Address.....

REMINGTON TYPEWRITER COMPANY OF CANADA LIMITED

187 Charlotte Street, Peterboro.
J. A. Wright, Provincial Manager.
S. J. Black, Peterboro Manager.

JUST ONE MORE WEEK TO WIN

$100.00 IN GOLD AND 49 OTHER VALUABLE PRIZES

ASK YOUR NEAREST DEALER

SEE OUR PREVIOUS ANNOUNCEMENT

What Are The Eight Points Of Excellence In The Fischman

INNER SPRING MATTRESS
GUARANTEED FIVE YEARS

See a Fischman Inner Spring Mattress at your nearest dealer's (name below) and ask him to tell you why the Fischman is Superior to all other mattresses.

Then write and tell us in as few words as possible what the eight points of excellence are in the Fischman Inner Spring Mattress.

Prizes are to be awarded for the statements which are considered by the judges to be the best for advertising purposes. Write on one side of the paper only—all answers to this contest become the property of the Fischman Spring Company, Limited, and the decision of the judges is final.

Do not send any money—just a short, concise statement of what you consider to be the eight points of excellence in the Fischman Inner Spring Mattress.

FISCHMAN SPRING CO. LIMITED
KITCHENER, ONT.

Fischman Inner Spring Mattresses may be seen at the dealers listed below.

A. COMSTOCK
McBRIDE & FRANKS

HASTINGS I.O.D.E. CHAPTER DISBANDS

Members Find It Difficult to Carry on the Work.

HASTINGS, March 22. — The Hastings chapter of the I.O.D.E. held a meeting on Thursday evening at the home of the Regent, Mrs. P. M. Howard. The meeting was called for the purpose of obtaining the opinion of its members as to whether the Chapter would carry on its work or disband.

The Regent, Mrs. Howard, has held the office for six successive years and felt it was impossible for her to do so any longer. Gradually, for no reason in particular, the work had become an indifferent matter among many of the members.

The Chapter was first organized in 1914 early in the year before the Great War had commenced. The war work carried on by the Chapter was wonderful in many ways. Each of the soldiers overseas received a parcel regularly, and when they returned they were accorded a reception in which showed the high appreciation in which their sacrifices were held.

Another Chapter I.O.D.E. was formed, called the "Dorontal Chapter." Each of these Chapters worked and raised funds for the beautiful granite monument erected on the north bank of the Trent, where all who pass may know that Hastings soldiers are not yet forgotten by their kindred.

The "Dorontal Chapter" disbanded about a year ago, and at the recent meeting of the "Hastings Chapter" it also decided to disband.

A letter was read from the provincial secretary sending regrets that the Chapter found it a difficult task longer to carry on the work.

WOULD TAP FIELD.

Winnipeg Men Ask For Railway Into Gold Fields.

WINNIPEG, March 22 (Canadian Press).—A committee of Winnipeg business men will be formed to press the immediate construction of a railway into the Central Manitoba mining field with connections, if feasible, with the Ontario Red Lake mining district.

IN the handling of fine fabrics, particularly silks, satins and crepes, it is very easy to pull a thread and damage a dress in the making.

Dress-makers tell us the exclusive use of Lux as a household soap keeps the hands soft and white, the skin smooth, so that they can handle the most filmy and delicate of things, without danger to the fabric.

You will appreciate the gentle efficiency of Lux, even though you do not do your own sewing.

For the whole family wash, for dishwashing, bathing and shampooing, Lux has no equal. And Lux is as safe to use as soft water.

Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto
L-530

E	N	T	E	R	T	A	I	N	M	E	N	T
L	O	R	E			F	E	E	L		H
E			R	E	V	I	S	A	L		A
G	H	O	D			R	I	A		V
T	E	A	R		P	E	T		C	R	A	M
R	A	T		M	I	N	E	D		A	N	A
O	S		C	O	N	T	A	I	N		I	T
S	E	T		A	N	I	S	E		E	M	U
C	R	O	C		A	C	E		D	O	E	R
O		D	O	S		A		P	A	N		G
P		A	T	E	L	L	A		N		I
E		A	T	E		C	A	T	S
S	C	R	I	P	T	U	R	A	L	I	S	T

SOLUTION OF SATURDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Varsity 5, Ottawa Gunners 4 - Maroons 3, Pirates 1 - Kingston Juniors Win Round 5-4

KINGSTON JUNIORS ELIMINATED FORT WILLIAM 5 TO 4 ON ROUND; ALL GOALS IN FIRST 8 MINUTES

Score was 2-1 in Rough Game Saturday Night on Soft Ice.

IN FINAL ROUND

First Game Was Three-All Tie—Fans Threaten Referee.

FORT WILLIAM, March 22 (Canadian Press). —Kingston defeated Fort William 2 to 1 here Saturday night, and won the semi-final round in the play-off for the Canadian Junior hockey championship. The game was the second of the two game series, and as the first game resulted in a 3 to 3 tie, Kingston won the round 5 to 4.

The ice was extremely soft for Saturday night's game and this condition favored the hefty crew from Kingston which had quite a weight advantage over the locals.

The first period witnessed all the scoring of the game.

Every goal was scored in the first eight minues, with Kingston having a very slight edge on the play. The period began with a rush down the ice by all, but the defence relieved and presently Kingston was pressing on the Fort's net. They mixed matters up close to the Fort William goal and the first counter was put in by Patterson in four minutes and thirty-five seconds. From the face-off, Fort William took the offensive and pushed the play back into the visitors' territory, and in three minutes Hogg took the puck on a high pass from McLeod and hit the twine. The tie was broken in five seconds when, right from the face-off, Hartley broke through and beat Strang with a close-in shot and scored what proved to be the winning goal. McLeod, who roughed matters up a bit during the game, was penalized for bunting, and shortly after he left the box the period closed.

Game Became Rough

The second period opened with both sides fighting hard, but the Kingston boys had the advantage of the exchanges, and a noticeable element of roughness began to creep in. Mitchell, who was handling the game in company with Alex. Gray, kept close tab on offsides but seemed to fail to note some of the heavy bodying and bunting.

The third period was marked by rough play on both sides, with the Fort William boys making desperate but fruitless efforts to cut the lead down and again tie the score. Hogg played a whale of a game as did McLeod, while Reid and Patterson starred in the early part of the period for the visitors. Patterson was handed two penalties for bunting soon after the beginning of the play and then McLeod had a spell in the box for the same offence. Kingston then staged a desperate attack and Strang had to stop close-in shots that came thick and fast. Again Fort William suffered at the hands of the referee, all getting a minute off for slashing, and Daley joining him. In spite of this, Fort William managed to keep the puck from the net. As the period drew to a close the game grew rougher and rougher, and Mitchell began to hand out penalties much to the disgust of the Fort William fans, who accused him of partiality. McLeod and Patetrson were sent to the box together, Patterson having hit McLeod, and McLeod retaliating. Cardinal was put off for a poke at Voss, and Lockhart was also penalized.

Struck at Referee.

When McLeod and Cardinal came out, the referee sent them back and the most unfortunate incident of the game occurred when McLeod, irritated by Mitchell, made a pass at him and was again put off the ice. Then pandemonium began to reign and the game was finished amid a storm of protests and catcalls at the referee. When the bell rang and the game was declared for Kingston, the crowd surged on the ice, but Referee Mitchell managed to leave the rink unmolested. He required police protection on the way to the hotel.

For the winners Patterson, Voss, McKelvey and Reid were conspicuous. The goal tending of Strang for Fort William was phenomenal. The locals were without their captain, Holhill, who had been hurt in the previous game, and was not permitted to play, having a badly bruised leg. The visitors really deserved their victory on the form displayed in spite of the fact that the last two periods were goalless.

The line-up:

Kingston.—Taugher, goal; McKelvey and Voss, defence; Reid, centre; Hartley and Patterson, wings; McPherson and Molson, subs.

Fort William. — Strang, goal; Coombs and Lockhart, defence; Hogg, centre; McLeod and Daley, wings; Cardinal, sub.

Summary

First Period:
1.—Kingston, Patterson 4.35
2.—Fort Wiliam, Hogg from McLeod 3.00
3.—Kingston, Hartley 0.05
Second Period:
No score.
Third Period:
No score.
Penalties:
First period—McLeod.
Second period—McKelvey, McLeod, Lockhart.
Third period—Paterson, McLeod Hall, Daley, Patterson, McLeod, Cardinal, Lockhart, McLeod.
Shots on goal.—On Strang, 26; On Taugher, 18.

HOFF AGAIN BROKE POLE VAULT RECORD

Tenth Time Since His Coming To U.S.A.

NEW YORK, March 22 (Canadian Press)—Charles Hoff, the Norwegian pole vault marvel, and De Hart Hubbard, former University of Michigan broad jumper, shattered the world's indoor records in their specialties at the post office clerks' games in the 102nd Engineers armory Saturday night.

Hoff soared to a dizzy height when, for the tenth time since the start of his American invasion, he surpassed the world's indoor mark with a leap of 13 feet 7 1-2 inches, half an inch higher than the mark set by him in the Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

Hubbard, holder of the world's outdoor running broad jump record, bettered the existing indoor mark with a leap of 24 feet 7 1-4 inches on his first attempt. The former record of 23 feet 7 3-8 inches was made by Hoff Tuesday night.

VICTORIA GAINS TWO GOAL LEAD FROM EDMONTON

Eskimos Weakened After Early Pressure in First Western Game.

COUGARS RALLIED

Had Bigger Share of Game and Won By 3 to 1.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 22 (Canadian Press) — Victoria Cougars gained a two-goal lead in the first game of the finals for the Western Hockey League championship here Saturday night by defeating the Edmonton Eskimos, 3 to 1. It was a fairly open game with Victoria holding the edge except in the early part of the first period. The second game of the series will be played in Vancouver tonight.

Edmonton had the Cougars all at sea in the first ten minutes. The fast three-man rushes of the Eskimos proved a source of trouble for the Victoria defence and Holmes was well tested half a dozen times. The speed of the visitors in getting in after rebounds was something the Cougars had not thought of, and Holmes made two brilliant saves to keep Sheppard from scoring.

Half way through the period Victoria finally got going and the Eskimos' defence had to check hard and fast to keep the blue sweaters out. Four times Stuart had to flash his best form to prevent a score.

In the second period the Cougars hit their stride. Foyston netted the opening goal following a thrilling rush by Loughlin. The Victoria captain had a shot, got the rebound and fooled the Edmonton defence by passing out fom behind the net to Foyston who shot a beautiful goal. Before the period ended, Stuart was fooled by a weak shot by Halderson. Stuart moved his leg just enough to let the tired puck get into the net. Edmonton was not often dangerous, the Victoria defence shutting down like a clam.

The third period foud the restless Cougars once again on offensive array. They raced in and out and, finally, Hart put them three up on a wicked shot. Right afterward Halderson scored on a pass from Fredrickson. Edmonton protested vigorously and won out, Referee Ion refusing to allow a goal. This turn of events unsteadied Victoria team and they allowed Stanley to romp through for Edmonton's only goal on a pass from Gagne.

Line-up:

Victoria		Edmonton
Holmes	goal	Stuart
Loughlin	defence	Shore
Fraser		Stanley
Walker	r. wing	Gagne
Frederickson	centre	Keats
Hart	l. wing	Sheppard
Meeking	sub	Sparrow
Foyston		Anderson
Oatmanm		McIntyre
Halderson		Benson

Referee—Mickey Ion.
Judge of play—Carl Battell.
Summary:
First Period
No score.
Second Period
1—Victoria, Foyston from Loughlin 4:45.
2—Victoria, Halderson, 7:15.
Third Period
3—Victoria, Hart from Loughlin, 2:20.
4—Edmonton, Stanley from Gagne, 10:05.
Penalties:
First period—Fraser, 2 minutes; Gagne (twice), 2 minutes.
Second period—Keats, Anderson, Fraser, Sparrow, Hart, 2 minutes.
Third period — Sparrow (twice), Shore, Keats, Foyston, Fraser, all two minutes.

VARSITY MINUS TWO REGULARS DEFEAT OTTAWA

Porter and Trottier Down With 'Flu—Odd Goal on Fluke.

SCORE WAS 5-4

Second Game in Allan Cup Playoffs in Toronto Tonight.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 22 (By Canadian Press)—After one of the most exciting struggles of the local hockey season, Toronto Varsity defeated Ottawa Gunners at the Auditorium Saturday night by 5 to 4 in the first game of a home and home series for the Eastern Canada Amateur Hockey Championship. The second and final game of the series will be played on Toronto ice tonight, and the Students have a one-goal margin to work on in the return engagement.

Lady Luck laid a heavy hand on the chances of the local team and it was a fluke goal that gave the big blue team the margin on the evening's scoring. With the score deadlocked and three minutes to go, there was a face-off inside the Gunner red line. Moran and Hueson both batted at the puck. Hudson missed, but Moran connected, and in attempting to pass it back to his own men, he clubbed it straight into the Gunner net, giving the Varsity team the odd goal in nine.

The turn of fate was a bad blow to the Gunners, who had met the famed "T" team stride for stride throughout the sixty minutes and at least deserved a tie on the night's play. Showing no respect for reputations the Shrapnels hopped right into the argument from the opening whistle.

Flu Hits Varsity

Consideration must be made for the fact that the Toronto team took the ice badly handicapped through sickness and neither Trottier nor Porter were in uniform. The latter was taken to a local hospital after arrival in the city on Saturday with ear trouble and a bad case of the flu, while Porter's condition prohibited him making the trip to Ottawa. However, the rest of the team showed a real good game throughout. Jess Carrick did not accompany the team, but Trottier's illness here prompted a wire being sent to Toronto and Carrick arrived on a late train and was in uniform before the first period was very long under way.

The line-ups:

Varsity		Gunners
Sullivan	goal	Seed
Wright	defence	T. O'Neill
Kirkpatrick		Rockburn
Plaxton	center	Halliday
Hudson	r. wing	H. O'Neill
Richards	l. wing	O'Connor
Park	sub	Wagner
Carrick		Moran
Mueller (goaler) sub

Referee: Bobby Hewitson, Toronto.
Summary:
First Period
1—Gunners, O'Connor, 4:30.
2—Varsity, Plaxton (Hudson) 11:30
Second Period
3—Varsity, Plaxton, 6:21
4—Varsity, Richards (Plaxton) 2:39
5—Gunners, O'Connor, 3:21
6—Varsity, Kirkpatrick (Plaxton) 2:00.
Third Period
7—Gunners, H. O'Neill (Halliday) 5:30.
8—Gunners, Halliday, 8:48
9—Varsity, Hudson, 4:09.
Final score: Varsity 5; Gunners 4.
Penalties:
First period—H. O'Neill, Plaxton and Kirkpatrick, 2 minutes.
Second Period—Plaxton, O'Connor, Richards and Rockburn, 2 minutes.
Third period—Richards, Carrick, H. O'Neill and O'Connor, 2 minutes.

Peterborough Exhibition wants you as a member!

Crowd of 50,000 Saw Scotland Beat England At Rugby; King George Received Ovation At Classic

LONDON, March 22 — In the presence of King George and amid scenes of tremendous excitement, a crowd of 50,000 saw Scotland defeat England at Twickenham, just outside of London, Saturday afternoon, by the score of 17 to 9, in the greatest of British annual Rugby football events.

Great numbers of Scotsmen travelled Londonward to see the game, many wearing kilts and tam o'shanters, and they brought numerous bagpipers, who played wild skirls of triumph when Scotland won.

Saturday night London was filled with Scottish revelers delightedly celebrating their victory.

King George, who is an ardent football fan, received a great ovation from the crowd when he appeared at Twickenham, whither he also went recently to see the English Rugby team beat the crack team representing France. The King chatted with several players and officials before the game began.

MAROONS HURLED BACK OPENING OFFENSIVE OF PIRATES AND WON FIRST OF N.H.L. PLAYOFFS BY 3-1

Pittsburgh Burned Themselves Out in Sustained Attack for a Lead.

12,000 PACKED RINK

Montreal Yielded One Goal Then Forged Ahead in Second Period.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 22. — Canadian Press. — The "Marauding Maroons" of Montrela by virture of a well planned and systematic form of attack, have stolen a two goal march on Pittsburgh in the playdown for the National Hockey League championship.

With the use of stategy in combatting the Pirate force that was looked for by the majority to win, Eddie Gerard led his maroon clad holders of second position in the league to an honestly earned 3 to 1 victory against the locals on Saturday night.

It was a rip-tearing battle from the start with youthful corsairs tearing about like maddened dervishes, and the Montreal men answering with their machine like charges and iron-clad defence. More than 12,000 jammed Duquesne garden for the fray; another 2000 were tearing away but owing to lack of seating space, but the seats sold were little used for it was the sort of battle that keeps the gallery on its feet.

In this city the local swashbucklers were favored by as much as 5 to 3 to win.

Captain Dune Munro, defending cog in the regular Maroon assemblage, was missing because of illness So too was Fobie Kitchen, one of Gerard's mightiest reserves.

Pace Terrific.

For the first peri the Pirates sent charge after charge into the Montreal territory. The Maroons were thrown on to the defensive and the whirling Pirates literally poured rubber in the direction of the Montreal goal cage. Manager Odie Cleghorn, seein gthe advantage, maintained a fresh forward line with the constant use of reserves, and the pace was kept at a feverish pitch. Four minutes from the period's end, the gruelling efforts of the "canary sweatered" six finally bore fruit when Roger Smith, lanky defense pillar, slammed in the opening goal of the game. The Montreal team had been playing with exceptionally strong tactics around their tottering citadel but to the onlooker it seemed they would be forced down before the superior speed of Cleghorn's charges.

Maroons Cut Loose

With the coming of the second period however Gerard sent his men in to fight the pirate crew with their own weapon—lightning like speed. Nels Stewart, the centre pin of the Maroon attack, led his wings on trip hammer rushes far into the Pittsburgh goal zone. The Pirates fought back viciously but the bruising they had received at the hands of the maroon colored backs in the opening stanza had effectively weakened them. Most of their dash was gone, and they willingly fell back to the defense of their cage. But the Montreal bombardment was not to be denied and after fourteen minutes of the heated charges Reg. Noble, the veteran Maroon back, tore through alone to drive a high one past Roy Worters. Only one minute and 45 seconds more had been ticked off by the Garden clock when "Punch" Broadbent and Charlie Dinsmore, the latter doing substitute duty, rushed with a smooth working combination, and the second Montreal tally was registered. The goal went to Dinsmore on a hammering shot from close in.

Sub made it Three.

The final twenty minutes of play was nearly a repetition of the second period, only the ruling hand of Gerard appeared even stronger. The "finish" goal of the contest went to Billy Phillips, the spectacular forward line reserve, after one of the prettiest pieces of stick handling of the evening. Capturing the puck away from Conacher near centre ice with a poke check, the diminutive sub went squirming through the slashing Pirate opposition to send a choppy back hander behind Worters from close in.

Both teams left for Montreal Saturday night where at the Forum on Tuesday they will clash in the final game to decide who shall meet the Ottawa Senators for the N. H. L. championship and the Prince of Wales trophy. The goal advantage run in by the Maroons gives them a wide edge on the swashbucklers for the total score of the series is the deciding factor.

The line up:

Montreal. Benedict, goal; Noble, r. defence; Holway, l. defence; Stewart, centre; Broadbent, r. wing; Stewart, l. wing; subs, Rothsch , Carson, Phillops, Dinsmore.

Pittsburgh: Goal, Worters, r. defence, Conacher; l. defenc , Smith, centre, Milks; r. wing, D. ragh; left wing, McCurdy; subs, Cotton, Drury, Lowrey, Spring, Berlinouette.

Referee: Cooper Smeaton, Montreal.

Associate referee, Dr. Jerry Laflamme, Toronto.

Goal umpires, John McCartney and Lou Yeager, Piittsburgh.

The summary:

Frst period: 1 Pittsburgh, Smith, 16:20.

Second period: 2, Montreal, Noble, 14.00.

3, Montreal, Dinsmore, 1.45.

Third period: 4, Montreal, Phillops, 5.34.

Penaltics:

First period: Stewart, Minor, Broadbent, Minor. Lowrey, Mnior.

Second period: Stewart, Minor, Lowrey Minor, McCurry, Minor.

Third period, Broadbent, Minor.

The First Period.

Conacher was away from the initial face off but his shot was short. Siebert and Noble rushed together, but Milks broke up their attempt close to centre ice. McCurry drove through to close in, and Benedict caught his hot shot on the shoulder. Noble made a neat rush, circled behind Worters unhindered but his pass out to Broadbent went awry. Conacher raced in and had only Benedict to beat. The Maroon goalies saved with a contortionist-like sprawl on the ice. The play was lightning fast with the Pirates forcing the issue. They were compelled to work individually however, owing to the heavy checking of the Montrealers. Noble pierced the entire corsair line, and Worters was brought far out to take his burning drive. Milks answered with a dazzling rush behind the Maroon front line. There he circled and passed to Darragh, but Harold's shot was wide.

Stewart and Broadbent rushed together and Broadbent's drive caught the upper cross bar. Conacher raced the length of the arena and brought the crowd to their feet with a threatening shot, but it was high. Cleghorn sent his reserve forward line in after eight minutes. Drury, Lowery and Cotton worked a neat short passing game up to the secondary Montreal defence only to have their attempts shattered there. Stewart drew the opening penalty for tripping Smith, Conacher and Drury went through on double barreled try. Drury's shot bounded far off Benedict's chest and Cotton tried with a rebound but his drive was wide.

Drury and Conacher pierced in again and Broadbent tripped Drury as he set to shoot. "Punch" went to the pen for two minutes. Stewart had not completed this penalty yet, and the Corsairs bombarded Benedict visiously, but with the abbreviated team thrown entirely around the citadel, the Maroons absorbed the shock without damage until the offenders returned to the game. McCurry drove in close and a scramble around "Bennys" cage followed. From out of it Darragh whacked the puck to Smith as he waited in front of the net and "The Rajah" scored with a low one between the lanky goalie's legs. Lowrey tripped Stewart and went to the box shortly before the bell rang.

Who Is Your Favorite?

Boys! Here's your chance!

Here's a competition you can all get in.

Write two hundred words about your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey Team, Champions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The prize winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given to the team in recognition of its splendid work this season.

This is the idea. The Petes have brought to this city the first Senior Championship it has ever had. They deserve all kinds of credit. Every boy on the team did his share. But you have your favorite—maybe you think he plays smarter hockey than the others; or he may skate better; or he may be merely better looking. Whatever your reason, write it out in not more than 200 words, and send it to "The Contest Editor, The Examiner," observing these simple rules:

(1) Open only to boys of 17 or under.
(2) Accuracy, penmanship, composition and neatness count.
(3) Contest closes at midnight, March 27.
(4) Pictures of the players will be run every day, without names. Clip out the picture of your favorite and paste it on a sheet of paper with his name written carefully under it. Pin this to your 200 word story or essay.
(5) A coupon, properly filled in and signed by a parent or guardian, must accompany every entry.

A committee of prominent citizens will be asked to decide the winner, and in case of dispute the Editor's decision will be final.
The date of the banquet will be announced later.

Clip out this Coupon and attach it to your essay.

FAVORITE HOCKEY PLAYER CONTEST

My Name .....

My address .....

My Favorite Hockey Player.....

The above contestant is.....years of age.

.....(Parent or Guardian)

BASEBALL SCORES IN TRAINING CAMPS

(By Canadian Press)

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 21
Score:
Boston (A) 3 6 2
New Orleans (A) 0 6 2
Lundgren, Zahniser and Gaston Stokes; Roy, O'Brien and Lingle, Dowie.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—
Score:
Pittsburgh (N).... .... 2 10 2
San Francisco Mission (C.L.) 3 6 4
Yde, Culloton and Smith, Spencer; Christian, Bryan and Walters.

SAN ANTONIO, March 21.—
Score:
St. Louis (N).... .... 1 4 0
San Antonio (Tex.).. .... 0 6 1
Rhem, Keen and O'Farrel, Warwick; Owens, Jennings, Paulson and Wirts, Mitze.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Score:
Toronto 1 7 0
Detroit 7 8 1
Whitehill, Satterfield Doyle and O'Neill, Williams; Stoner, Barfoot and Manion.

SARASOTA, Fla.—Score:
New York (N).... .... 4 9 1
Washington (A).... .... 3 9 1
Davies, Clarkson, Barnes and Hartley; Coveleski, Bush Thomas and Ruel Tate.

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Score:
Chicago (A).... .... 5 11 3
Fort Worth (Texas) 4 8 0
Lyons, Cook and McCurdy; Head, Bird and Smith.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Score:
Philadelphia (N) 1 6 1
New York (A).... .... 6 13 0
Carlson, Willoughby Crumpler, and Jonnard; Jones, Pennock, Thomas and Bengough.

U. S. SOCCER SCORES.

At Philadelphia—
Philadelphia 3, New York Giants 2
At Boston—
Boston 3, Fall River 3 (tie).
At New Bedford, Mass.—
New Bedford 4, Indiana Flooring 0
At New York (Sunday)—
Indiana Flooring 2, Fall River 0.
Cup-Tie Soccer—Eastern Final.
At Providence—
Bethlehem Steel 3, J. & P. Coats 1

HOCKEY SCORES.

Hockey results of Saturday games
Allan Cup Semi-Finals.
Varsity 5, Ottawa Gunners 4.
O.H.A. Memorial Cup Semi-Finals.
Kingston 2, Fort William 1.
(Kingston wins round 5 to 4).
N.H.L. Play-Offs.
Montreal 3, Pittsburgh 1.
Western League.
Victoria 3, Edmonton 1.
L.O.H.A. Finals.
Toronto Pats 4, Ottawa Rowing 0.
U.S.A. H.A. Central League.
Duluth 7, St. Paul 1.
Minneapolis 4, Eveleth 2.
Exhibition.
Canadiens 8, St. Patricks 2.

MINOR LEAGUE BALL PROPOSED

Kingston Plans to Have Midget or Bantam Series.

TO JOIN O.B.A.A.

KINGSTON, March 22 (Special to The Examiner).—If present plans are successful, Kingston will have a Midget Baseball League this summer. There is plenty of good baseball material in the city, and all it needs is development. "Matt" Coyne, a veteran local ball player, has been asked to take up the proposition. The Bantam League would be a great asset to the sport in this city. It is proposed to have the league affiliated with the O.B.A.A., the winning team to compete with the winners of other cities.

HOCKEY

LAKEFIELD, March 22. — On Wednesday evening the Grove beat the M.M.M. team in a fast game, the score being 3-0. The line-up:

Grove—Goal, Hedley; right defence, Dawson I.; left defence, Macrae; centre, Owen; right wing, Dawson II.; left wing, Elmsley; sub., Carson I.

M.M.M.—Goal, Stuart; right defence, T. Leonard; left defence, J. Leonard; centre, Dever; right wing Kemp; left wing, G. Wannamaker; sub., Jewell.

Referee—R. Stenner.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

GENE SARAZEN—VOLUNTARY SLICE.

It is one thing to be able to slice a golf shot and another to control the slice. The average beginner, failing to keep the elbows close to the body, is prone to cut across the ball, which invariably produces a slice.

That isn't the kind of sliced shot I was after. What I set out to develop and what I needed was the kind of slice that had a slight fade-away to the right.

I decided to change the position of the ball instead of the position of my feet.

I moved the ball to and fro until I had located the right spot, almost opposite the heel of my left foot. In other words, I found that by playing the ball more off the left foot than the right, and by cutting across the ball slightly, I got the results I desired. I play most of my shots with the ball almost opposite the center of my stance.

Finding I could slice a ball playing in the manner described above, I practiced and practiced on the shot until I had it perfected. One wrong shot can ruin you in a tight match.

(Copyright, 1925.)

PILES DISAPPEAR

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McDermid and Jury, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

HOUSE

To let, six rooms; conveniences; central; LOW RENT.
Also Store and Apartment to let.

A. LOW & CO.
385 BETHUNE ST.
Phone 607 - Nights & Holidays 1027

BILLY EVANS SAYS

JOE BUSH TRAVELS JOINS FIFTH CLUB VETERAN PITCHERS

Joe Bush certainly believes in seeding America first via the baseball route.

Bush, recently traded by St. Louis to Washington, will be playing with his fifth American League club when he joins the champions.

Like a lot of other stars, Bush was discovered by Cornelius Mack. He cost Sir Connie all of 800 iron men. One of his scouts, wandering around Missoula, Mont., saw Bush pitch and immediately bought him.

Bush spent five years with Mack, who passed him on to the Boston Red Sox. His next ticket read New York, where he tarried for three years, taking part in two world series. He pitched great ball in 1923, the year the Yankees beat the Giants for the world title.

Deserting the east for the west, Bush spent last season in St. Louis. Now he comes back as a member of the Washington team, which completes his tour of the eastern end of the circuit.

• • •

Bush, during the first six years of his major league career, won fame because of his great speed. He was known as "Bullet Joe" Bush.

• • •

After his transfer to the Boston club, Bush was of little use, due to an injury to his pitching arm.

Unable to baffle the batter with the old-time blinding speed, Bush resorted to cunning in an effort to prolong his career.

Not being called upon to do any pitching, Bush spent hours experimenting with freak deliveries. He mastered what he called the fork ball. Incidentally the long rest (he was out an entire season) brought back much of his old-time speed.

Bush has a rather peculiar hand his fingers are so widely separated that it was possible for him to grip the ball between the first two fingers and then deliver it in such a way that it breaks much after the manner of a spitball.

Bush came back strong. In fact looked so good that the New York Americans, desirous of strengthening the pitching staff, paid Owner Harry Frazee of the Boston club a fancy price for his services.

• • •

So effective was the fork ball that a number of American League pitchers experimented with it. Few met with much success because of the difficulty in controlling it.

• • •

In securing Bush, Manager Harris of the Washington club is continuing his policy of depending on veteran pitchers.

Coveleskie and Reuther came through for him in great shape last season. They should win plenty of games this year.

Bush, who broke even last season with 14 wins and as many defeats, should help Harris in his effort to land another pennant. While he hasn't the burning speed of old, his fast ball still hops a bit and he's smart.

They say youth must be served in sport but that doesn't go for the Washington pitching staff. Of the four regulars, Johnson, Coveleskie, Bush and Reuther, the last named is the youngest, 32 years of age.

• • •

Experience is a great asset in pitching and there is no question but that the Washington staff has plenty of it.

Nova Scotia produces about 2,000,000 barrels of apples annually.

With only three wheels instead of the usual four, a roller skate which weighs only 15 ounces has been invented in England.

Canadian Pacific

to ALASKA

By the tranquil Inner Passage ... 1000 miles of restful, carefree voyaging ... past thousands of wooded islands ... through narrow vividly colored gorges ... miles of luxuriant wilderness with a glimpse now and then of untamed wild game. Then the totem poles of the Pacific Coast Indians.

A Never Forgotten Vacation

See Indians ... traders and trappers ... fur stores ... gold mines ... vari-colored glaciers and spring flowers. Spacious, satisfying accommodations aboard the yacht-like Princess steamers from Vancouver. Delightful shore programs with interesting guidance makes for a real vacation in a new and different land. See Alaska this year.

ROUND TRIP FARE $90 MEALS & BERTH INCLUDED
UPWARDS

For further information apply to
Mr. J. Skinner
City Passenger Agent
Peterboro, Ont.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Starts To-night Evenings Only

ON THE STAGE

McNabb's Spring Fashion Revue!

Suits - Coats - Dresses

Displayed by Seven Mannequins

(All members of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E.)

MILLINERY - By courtesy Mrs. Wilson

SHOES - By courtesy D. C. Grant

MANNEQUINS' COIFFEUR Madame Merriam

FURNITURE By courtesy Comstock's

SPECIAL MUSICAL SETTING

Added Attraction—BLANCHE SENIOR

Lyric Soprano, in Songs of the Day

Matinees and Evenings

ON THE SCREEN

Rex Beach's

"THE AUCTION BLOCK"

WITH

CHARLES RAY - ELEANOR BOARDMAN

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

NO ADVANCE IN PRICES

RICHARDS DEFEATS TILDEN FOR CROWN

Won Southeastern Tennis Final in Five Sets.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 22.—William Tilden, national champion, lost another tennis title here Saturday afternoon, when he went down to defeat before the brilliant volleying and steady chopping of Vincent Richards, New York, Americas number three player, in five bitterly fought sets, 6—8 14—12, 4—6, 6—0, 6—4, while defending his title in the singles final of the Southeastern tennis tournament.

Richards, at the top of his form, earned his victory, matching the champion's drives with his chop stroke. The match consisted largely of a baseline duel with Tilden driving steadily and Richards returning acurately for long rallies.

Tilden weakened visibily in the fourth set and after Richards ran up a four-love lead, tossed away the remaining two games rather than attempt to overcome it.

Both Tilden and Richards slammed over first service balls for many aces. Neither resorted to lobbing except when forced to the stroke on tries for dificult shots. Both were deadly overhead.

SEVEN RULED OFF KENTUCKY TRACK

Four Jockeys and Three Owners and Trainers Out.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 22.—(Canadian Press).—Kentucky's turf scandal has resulted in the ruling off for life of seven persons—four jockeys and three owners and trainers—by the Kentucky State Racing Commission.

The four jockeys "ruled off the turf for life and denied all privileges," are Harry Stutts, Grover Noel, James Wallace and Bert Harvey. The owners and trainers are P. J. and R. D. Williams brothers; and Tom Devereaux.

The commission also refused to accept the stewards' recommendation, that Jockey Donald Mergler be restored to good standing.

Mergler is the rider who, when questioned about his ride on Bumpkin in a race at Latonia last October, confessed that he was given $1,000 to pull the horse. J. A. Mooney, another jockey, gave him the money, he said. The confession was the starting point of the commission's attempt to clean up racing in Kentucky. At a December meeting the commission ruled Mergler and Mooney off for life.

The commission merely stated its rulings were 'for the good of the sport."

NEW MOTOR RECORD.

CULVER CITY, Calif., March 22 (Canadian Press).—Bennett Hill won the 250-mile automobile race on the Culver City speedway Sunday, smashing the record for the distance with an average speed of 130.59 miles an hour. His time was one hour 51 minutes 53 4-5 seconds.

OSHAWA LADIES WIN CLOSE GAME

Defeat Peterboro' "Y" Seniors 15-14 in Return Match.

BETTER BALANCED.

The Oshawa Girls' basketball team defeated the "Y" seniors by the close score of 15 to 14 on the Y.M.C.A. floor Saturday evening.

The Oshawa team was the better balanced outfit, with several good shots in Miss Mason, Miss McLaughlin and Miss Fulton. The locals only marksman was Gertie Gimblett, and she did all the scoring for them. However, the "Y" Seniors' defence pair, Hazel Jackson and Gert Graham, checked well throughout, and the whole team played a clever combination and unselfish game.

The game was close throughout, with Oshawa nearly always a few points in front. The first half showed the better and faster basketball, and at the end of half-time the score stood 13 to 11 for Oshawa. The line-ups:

Oshawa—Mason and Butler, forwards; McLaughlin, centre; Alger, side centre; Fulton and Lick, defence.

"Y" Seniors—G. Gimblett and D. Graham, forwards; I. Chambers, centre; N. Frances, side centre; H. Jackson and G. Graham, defence; E. Jones, D. Cooper and I. Cooper subs.

Umpire—A. McLeish.

SPORTSMAN MISSING.

French Tennis Player's Voyage Overdue.

PARIS, March 22. — (Canadian Press). — Parisian sportsmen are considerably alarmed over the safety of Alain J. Gerbault, noted French tennis player, and daring yachtsman who, sailing alone around the world in a small yawl, is long overdue at Tahiti, the largest of the Society Island group in the Pacific. He left the island of Galapagos more than two months ago, and should have reached the Society Island within forty days.

Gerbault first attracted yachting attention in 1923 when he sailed alone across the Atlantic in a small, poorly equipped sloop.

NEW HURDLES MARK.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., March 22 (Canadian Press). — Herbert Meyer, of the Newark A. C., and former Rutgers College captain, raced to a new world's record in the 60-yard low hurdles race on Alexander field in Union College's first annual invitation meet Saturday.

Disqualified in the first two races of the hurdles series, Meyer negotiated the 60-yard event in seven and one-tenth seconds, three-tenths of a second faster than the former record. Carl Christierson, of the Newark A. C., won the series.

M'KECHNIE SAYS PIRATES STRONG

Should Repeat World's Championship Triumph This Year.

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 22.—(Canadian Press.)— Bill McKechnie, veteran pilot of the Pittsburgh "can see no reason" why his club should not repeat this season its triumphal March of 1925 through the National League and again capture the world's championship.

"Our chances for winning another championship are extremely bright," McKechnie said yesterday. "In addition to the same players who defeated Washington in the last world's series, the club has been strengthened greatly by the addition of Paul Waner and Hal Rhyne from San Francisco.

"Waner is a wonderful hitter and will be in left field on opening day, replacing Clyde Barnhart. Rhyne has shown exceptional ability at second, third and short. Even if he should not crowd out Eddie Moore at second base, he will make a valuable utility infielder.

"In the pitching department, Sheehan has shown enough to warrant saying he will be of great service this season. Of the newcomers, Crowder and Songer give every indication of being major league timber."

OSHAWA TEAM IN NEW LEAGUE

Joins Lakeshore League, Which is Asking For Senior Rating.

FOUR CLUBS.

OSHAWA, Ont., March 22 (Special)—With representatives present on Saturday from the Goodyear Tire Company and Anaconda Brass Company both of New Toronto, Mimico and Oshawa General Motors, the Lake Shore League which held a frachise in the intermediate section of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association and won the Ontario honors last year decided to re-organize and apply for senior rating with the four teams represented at the meeting to constitute the league and the following officers to guide the affairs of the coming season: Honorary Presidents, R. H. McLaughlin, Oshawa; Dr. Forbes Godfrey, M.P.P., Mimico; A. H. Quigley and E. H. Koken of New Toronto; President, F. G. Edwards, New Toronto; 1st Vice President, R. W. Harris, Mimico; 2nd Vice President, C. R. McIntosh, Oshawa; 3rd Vice President, M. S. Moss, Mimico; Secretary, P. B. Stevenson, New Toronto; Treasurer, P. C. King, New Toronto; Executive committee to be composed of one member from each club. Representatives to the annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association to be held in the Carls-Rite hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, April 3rd, are president F. G. Edwards, New Toronto, and C. R. McIntosh of Oshawa. The fees to the league were fixed at $20 from each team and a marked cheque for $25.00 as a guarantee from each team that it would finish the schedule as drawn up by President and Secretary and the same to be in the hands of the secretary by Saturday, March 27th. It was decided to operate a triple schedule with the opening games on Saturday, May 15th, with a double header on the Goodyear diamond the first game between Mimico and Anaconda to start at 2 o'clock and the second fixture Oshawa Motors vs. Goodyears to begin at four. On Saturday, May 22nd, Goodyears will play at Mimico while Oshawa's first home game will be on the holiday, May 24th, with the Anaconda Brass Co. team playing in the Motor City. The league decided to play under the National League rules and adopted the Spalding ball. All Saturday afternoon games will be scheduled to start at 3.15 while twi-light fixtures will be billed for six o'clock standard time. Umpires are to be appointed by the president and allotted game dates at the same time the schedule is issued.

MISS RYAN TAKES U. S. TENNIS TITLE

Beats Mrs. Jessup, Champion of the Last Two Years.

BROOKLINE, Mass., March 22. —(A.P.)— New national indoor tennis champions were crowned in women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles Saturday afternoon in the final round matches of the nineteenth annual tournament at the Chestnut Hill covered courts.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan of Santa Monica, Cal., distinguished internationalist, came from behind to catch and overcome Mrs. Marion L. Jessup, of Wilmington, Del., in a brilliant three-set match, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Jessup had held the single title for two successive years, while it was Miss Ryan's first attempt to win the indoor championship.

Miss Ryan later helped Miss Mary K. Browne, of New York, to win the women's doubles championship by beating Mrs. Jessup and Mrs. George W. Wightman of Boston, 6-1, 6-3. That match saw on the same court three of the four members of the American Wightman Cup team, as well as the donor of the famous international trophy of the courts.

BIG BALL YEAR FOR MOTOR CITY

Oshawa Has Teams in Every Series on O.B.A.A. List.

CHOOSE DELEGATES.

OSHAWA, March 22 (Canadian Press).—With the banqueting of the Oshawa Motors Junior team, champions of the Junior section of the Durham and Ontario of 1925, the baseball season for the 1926 season was opened, as during the evening a general survey of the activities of the Motor City was outlined and it was given out that teams would operate in the Senior, Intermediate, Junior, Juvenile and Midget series of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association. In the Senior division, Oshawa Motors will be in with the Goodyear Tire Co., Anaconda Brass Co., and Mimico, as the Lakeshore League. In the Intermediate series, Oshawa will be grouped with Brighton, Colborne, Cobourg, Port Hope, Orono, Bowmanville, and Whitby, in the Durham and Ontario League; while in the Junior section of the same league, Oshawa, Orono, Port Hope and Cobourg will be grouped together. The Oshawa Church Baseball Association will operate Senior, Junior, Juvenile and Midget series. Representatives have been appointed for the annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association which will be held in the Carls-Rite Hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, April 3, when Secretary N. W. Thompson of Belleville and Past President E. Parsons of Oshawa will represent the Central Ontario League in the Senior section of the East: President Geo. V. Strong of the Durham and Ontario League, Intermediate section, and Fred D. McTavish of Oshawa the Junior section. F. G. Edwards, of New Toronto and C. R. McIntosh of Oshawa will represent the Lakeshore Senior League, while on Wednesday evening, of this week the Oshawa Church Baseball Association will meet to choose its delegates.

MAJOR LEAGUE RACES CLOSER

Training Camps Hold Out Promises of Keener Pennant Fights.

PIRATES DOMINANT.

NEW YORK, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The promise of close and exciting races this year in both major leagues is held forth in reports from the training camps, where observers are convinced that at least four and probably five clubs will be in the thick of each pennant hunt.

Not only will the American League witness something of a free-for-all, where last season the Senators and Athletics made it a "two-horse" race, but the Pittsburgh Pirates will occupy far from the dominant position conceded them after their world's series triumph last fall.

If the pitching staffs of the Athletics and Senators come up to expectations, these two well-balanced clubs will be hard to beat in the junior circuit, the critics agree. At the same time, both the Tigers and Browns give promise of greatly improved showings with added strength in several departments. The White Sox, too, if they solve their short-stop problem, are expected to be dangerous factors, but the correspondents have not become enthusiastic as yet over the chances of Cleveland, the Yankees or the Red Sox. In spite of Babe Ruth's expected comeback and the addition of several high-priced infielders, the Yankees have not impressed their followers.

So far as the Pirates are concerned, their rating as favorites remains unchanged among the experts but particular stress is laid on the added strength apparent in the line-ups of their principal rivals.

Improvement in the pitching corps of the Giants, the addition of Wally Pipp, Christensen and Emmer to the already well-equipped Cincinnati cast and the spirited attack of the St. Louis Cardinals under Horns by's leadership all have served to boost the pennant prospects of these clubs. In addition, the sensational showing by the Boston Braves has convinced their followers that their late season rush in 1925 was no flash in the pan, and that they will be factors from the start of the coming campaign.

Of the remaining National League clubs, Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia all are experiencing difficulties.

BOROTRA'S VICTORY.

Defeated O. G. N. Turnbull in Tennis Tourney.

PARIS, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The Paris tennis players triumphed over the London team, twelve matches to nine, in the international three-day team contest on the covered courts, which closed on Sunday. The leading players of the two countries appeared in the final of the singles. Jean Borotra, the French star, defeated O. G. N. Turnbull, after a hard fight, 9-7, 6-3. Borotra and Brugnon, France, also defeated Turnbull and C. H. Kingsley, in the doubles, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

The London players led in the tournament until the closing matches.

SACRIFICE FLY RULE MAY BOOST THE .400 CLASS

Baseball Amendment Has Already Come Up For Discussion in Camps.

EFFECT ON SPEAKER.

Grizzled Veteran May Be In Select Company If Clouting Continues.

FORT MEYERS, Fla., March 20. —Will the amended sacrifice-fly rule, now operative in the big leagues, add to the batsmen who club their way into the ultra-select .400 class? That question has developed chinning bees in Florida this spring.

In the first three practice games played by the Athletics, the new rule popped up just twice. Perkins, in the first senior-junior fuss, advanced Pool from second to third with a long fly to French.

Frankie Marshall, the chubby little Trentonian who batted for all the pitchers, was credited with a sacrifice fly in the third interclub battle. His loft to Miller advanced Bates from second to third.

A batsman who lifts a sacrifice fly of the 1026 model is not charged with an official time at bat. This may materially increase the batting average of a club swinger who can hit 'em high and deep.

Two sacrifice flies of the latest variety in three games is not a high average. But when the boys get settled into the long pennant drive, the play may come up more often.

The player who may benefit considerably by it and one who wants to turn in one .400 average before he quits the active pastiming is Tris Speaker, the manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Spoke alwas has been a toppy batsman. He has a life-time average of .352, covering nineteen major-league campaigns. But the mighty Texan never has hit .400.

That .389 average last year was Speaker's highest. Previously he batted .388 in 1920; .383 in 1912, and .380 in 1923.

Would Spoke have entered the ultra-select division of club swingers last year had the amended sacrifice-fly rule been in force?

Spoke Likely Was .400 Hitter in '25

Just for fun, let's see what might have happened had the sacrifice fly amendment been operative in 1925. Speaker will provide a good illustration. He was in 117 games, was official at bat 429 times and pounded out 167 hits.

Do you think that Speaker advanced one of his employees from first to second, or second to third, eleven times last year by knocking a long, deep fly to an outfielder.

That preceding sentence is put in the form of a question because this reporter doesn't know and has no way of finding out how many runners did sprint ahead one base after a fly from Spoke's bat had been caught.

However, if Speaker did hit eleven flies of the kind now to be called sacrifices, he was a .400 hitter in 1925—or would have been one officially with the latest model scoring rule in vogue.

If our pencil runs true (we're never quite sure about it), Speaker would have been so close to a .400 average with eleven fewer times at bat and the same number of hits that they would have given him the mark.

Anyhow, make it a dozen sacrifice flies of the 1926 model and the Cleveland manager's batting average would have been safely over the .400 line.

It is our private and personal opinion that Spoke advanced runners a dozen times with long flies in 1295. The Indians played that kind of free-swinging baseball.

And b.b. cranks will hope that the popular Speaker lofts himself into the .400 set with the amended rule in 1926.

Only Hornsby Hit .400 for 1925

There was only one utra-select batsman in the majors last campaign. He was Rogers Hornsby, the National League champion, whose average was .403.

Hornsby was at bat 504 times and made 203 hits. He was credited with sixteen sacrifices. The ten or fifteen additional long ones that he knocked would have been sacrifice flies according to the new rule would have boosted his figures handsomely.

As the genuine b.b. cranks know, Hornsby has batted .400 three seasons. He and Cobb are the only moderns, playing ball this year, who have accomplished that feat.

If the new sacrifice fly helps Cobb to club baseballs for a fourth .400 average, it is pretty sure to do as much for the manager of the St. Louis Nationals.

In the two big leagues, there are only four players laboring this year who have clouted their way into the .400 set. Cobb and Hornsby lead.

George Sisler, boss of the St. Louis Browns, has been a .400 batsman twice. Harry Heilmann, the giant Tiger, has been in the ultra-select division once.

There are several others—notably Earl Combs, of the Yankees, who batted .400 flat in 1924, appearing in twenty-four games—who are not listed as ultra-select hitters because they were not regulars when they grabbed the high average.

Babe Ruth is another prominent club swinger who covets a .400 average more than any other thing on this earth.

New Rule May Aid Bambino.

Ruth was above the .300 line in batting each of his major years up to the last campaign when, due to illness and one thing or another, he dropped to .291.

The Babe started out to be a home-run king exclusively. His high batting average was incidental. Then he got the bug to bat .400. Three years ago he went after it hard.

Although he led his league with an average of .393, Ruth did not get his wish. Maybe he would have done it had the 1926 model sacrifice-fly rule been functioning then.

No player in baseball hits a higher, longer fly than the Big Pamboo. Again, we can only guess how many of his flies advance a runner from first to second or second to third.

Ruth, by the way, looks mighty peppy and ambitious this spring even though he hasn't started to hit, and he may get that .400 mark if he goes after it right through the season.

TENNIS IN RAIN.

Miss Wills Shares in Doubles Victory.

CANNES, France, March 22. — (Canadian Press.) — Miss Helen Wills, the American tennis champion, and her French partner, Henri Cochet, won the finals in the mixed doubles of the Cannes tennis tournament Sunday, defeating Miss Jean Radcliffe and Captain Bernard Meyer, 7-5, 6-1

The match was played after a drenching downpour of rain. The clay courts were heavy, and the muddy balls soggy, while approaching twilight made the light baffling.

Only the most loyal tennis followers, numbering less than fifty, saw the match.

Miss Wills will meet Miss Joan Ridley, of England, in the singles finals to-day.

BOWLING

LEAGUE STANDINGS AT THE WATER STREET ALLEYS.

Mercantile.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Brinton Carpet ...	20	7	.741
Nashua Paper	17	7	.708
Quaker Oats	19	8	.704
Bell Telephone ...	16	8	.667
Westclox	11	13	.458
Examiner	12	15	.444
Lock Works	12	15	.444
De Laval	12	15	.444
Cressmans	10	14	.417

City Five-Pin League.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Cressmans	22	5	.815
Johnson	19	5	.792
Freeman	21	6	.778
Lawn Bowlers	17	10	.630
Skeeters	15	9	.625
C.N.R.	10	11	.476
Can. Woollens	11	16	.407
LeBarrs	9	15	.375
London Life	9	15	.375
Groceterias	8	16	.333
K. of C.	8	19	.296
Adams	2	22	.040

Ladies' Mercantile.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Cressmans	15	6	.714
Can. Packing Co..	15	6	.714
Insurance	12	6	.667
Westclox	10	8	.556
Rebeccas	10	8	.556
Quaker Oats	11	10	.524
Teachers	6	12	.333
Others	6	15	.286
Examiner	2	16	.111

Bankers.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Nova Scotia	14	10	.583
Montreal (George).	13	11	.542
Montreal	9	9	.500
Royal	9	12	.429
Commerce	9	12	.429

City Ten-Pin League.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Lawn Bowlers	14	4	.778
De Laval No. 1 ...	16	5	.762
Brintons	8	7	.533
King Pins	11	10	.524
De Laval No. 2 ...	7	14	.333
Sparks	4	20	.167

Dr. J. Green broke all known high records at the Water Street Alleys this week with singles of 320, 400 and 217 for a grand total of 937. In the 400 game Jack had nine consecutive strikes, and in the three games made 22 strikes and 5 spares and only had a single frame without a count. This is a real mark for some of the high rollers to aim at.

LEAGUE GAMES AT WATER STREET ALLEYS THIS WEEK.

City League.

Mon., Mar. 22: Cressman's vs. London Life.

Tues., Mar. 23: Law Bowlers vs. Can. Woollens.

Tues., Mar. 23: Groceterias vs. LeBarr's.

Wed., Mar. 24: Johnson vs. Adams

Wed., Mar. 24: Freeman vs. Groceterias.

Thur., Mad. 25: Adams vs. Skeeters.

Thur., Mar. 25, Johnson vs. C. N. R.

Fri., Mar. 26: C. N. R. vs. LeBarr.

City 10 Pin League.

Mon., Mar. 22: Sparks vs. Brintons.

Tues., Mar. 23: De Laval No. 1 vs. DeLaval No. 2.

Thur., Mar. 25: Lawn Bowlers vs. King Pins.

Ladies' Mercantile.

Tues., Mar. 23: Examiner vs. Teachers.

Wed., Mar. 24: Quaker Oats vs. Insurance.

Thur., Mar. 25: Westclox vs. Cressman's.

Fri., Mar. 26: Westclox vs. Rebeccas.

Comedy Feature

A BANKRUPT HONEYMOON

and

Fox News Reel

NORMA SHEARER

with Lew Cody in

HIS SECRETARY

Norma Shearer has done it again! This beautiful star you loved in "Lady of the Night" and "A Slave of Fashion" now shines in a role of even greater appeal and charm.

IT'S A PICTURE YOU WON'T FORGET !

Ken Blood's Orchestra in Latest Musical Hits

Ladies' Matinee.

Tues., Mar. 2: Miss Allen vs. Mrs Shaughnessy.

Weed., Mar. 24: Mrs. Fox. vs. Mrs. Shaughnessy.

Thur., Mar. 25: Mrs. Niven vs. Mrs. Fox.

George Street took all three games from the Woollens, aided by Curvin's great run of 772, made up of good single of 280, 269 and 214. Other good singles were Nels. Routley's 214 and 206.

George Street—
Pratt	119	171	163—	453
Routley, Nels. ..	206	214	146—	566
Outram	174	138	132—	444
Curvin	269	214	289—	772
Routley, Nor. ..	127	136	121—	384
	895	873	851—	2619
Woollens—
Montgomery ..	177	125	106—	408
Hillman	157	142	170—	469
Weatherstone ..	197	248	167—	612
Herrick	126	142	177—	445
Dummy	120	120	120—	360
	777	777	740—	2294

ANGRY CROWDS SEEK REFEREE

Mitchell Needed Police Escort After Game at Fort William.

APPEALING GAME.

FORT WILLIAM, March 22 (Canadian Press).—At the conclusion of the Kingston-Fort William Junior hockey game, local feeling ran so high against Mitchell, the Eastern umpire, that he had to be escorted under police protection to the Y.M.C.A. with the crowd pelting him with ice and snowballs.

Later he was taken out of the building through an entrance in the rear of the basement and escorted to his hotel. Local fans were of the opinion that he had given the Fort William boys the worst of the penalties and had allowed the visitors to hold and trip without penalizing them. Manager Hine of the Fort William team is quoted as saying that the series with Kingston will be appealed on the grounds of "inefficient refereeing and short time in the last period of Saturday's game."

HOCKEY

The Anthony Aristocrats and Austin's Whirlwinds clashed again in the return game of the series at the Brock street rink on Friday night, the Aristocrats met their first defeat of the season when they went down by the combined efforts of the referee and the team. The game was slow, compared with the other games as the ice was soft. Both teams were without goals at the middle of the session but both scored 10 minutes after the final session opened. The Whirlwinds got the last goal of the game with only ten minutes to go, but the referee was talking to the opposite sex and failed to see the 15 foot offside that scored the goal.

The final score was 2-1 which ties both teams on the round.

Aristocrats: Goal, Babe Anthony, defence, Fuller, Legros; centre Mein; wings, Anthony and Fowler. subs, Miller and Foy.

Austin's: Goal, A. Delahaye; defence, Corb Henry, Woods; centre, Mahood; wings, Maudsley, Gray, subs Young, Chambers.

These teams meet to-night at 7.30 at the Brock street rink.

Scotsmen who are endeavoring to ban the bagpipes as a public nuisance are probably aware that the thing is not a purely Scottish invention, although long associated with that country in the public mind. The instrument was, as a matter of fact, used by the ancient Greeks and Romans, and Nero is said to have played the bagpipes even before he knew how to fiddle.

Most Urgent Wants

There's a world of interest in the Want Ads. They reflect the urgent desires of various businesses, households and individuals.

The Wants tell what is most needed. If the cook has left, if a worker is needed in the office or factory, if an article of value is lost or found, if there is urgent necessity to sell a piece of property, secure tenants, roomers or boarders—all such conditions are expressed and met in the Want Columns.

The Wants are close to the heart interests of hte people. It is interesting to watch them carefully.

Y.W.C.A. ACTIVITIES

Foreign Work—

All members having envelopes for the Y.W.C.A. foreign work are asked to bring them in this week. The foreign bulletin at the Y shows the house girls' subscriptions to head the list and the elementary gymnasium class to be second. All classes and clubs are requested to do their best to reach their full objective. To mark the close of the foreign campaign a special moving picture evening will be arranged for next week. All members and friends are asked to watch for further particulars and enjoy this evening.

Sewing—

The Y.W.C.A. appreciate very much the help of committees and friends in connection with the sewing and look for their continued interest.

Monday—
- 2.00—Sewing.
- 4.30—Intermediate Gym.
- 8.00—Elementary Gym.

Tuesday—
- 10.00—Ladies' Gym.
- 4.15—Junior Cooking.
- 7.00—Bible Study.
- 7.30—Leaders' Gym.
- 8.00—English Literature.
- 8.00—Advanced Gym.

Wednesday—
- 2.00—Sewing.
- 4.15—Boys' Gym.
- 4.30—T.M.T.M. Club.
- 4.30—Junior Home Nursing.
- 4.30—Intermediate Cooking.
- 5.30—Junior Dancing.
- 8.00—Kumjoynus Club.
- 8.30—Badminton.

Thursday—
- 7.00—Senior Dancing.
- 8.00—Ladies' Gym.

Friday—
- 2.00—Sewing.
- 4.15—Senior School Girls.
- 5.30—C.O.S. Club.
- 7.00—Intermediate Dancing.
- 7.45—Senior Gym.
- 8.00—Elementary Gym.

Saturday—
- 9.30—Junior Gym.
- 10.30—Story Hour.
- 10.45—Babies' Gym.
- 1.30—Ever Bright.
- 1.30—Sunshine Club.
- 4.00—Badminton.

1d-69-803

Theatre

AT THE REGENT

LOST FORTUNE BROUGHT NORMA TO THE SCREEN

Chance did not Bring Norma Shearer, who comes to the Regent in her latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "His Secretary," to the screen, but rather circumstances.

Miss Shearer's parents were wealthy residents of Montreal, her father a prominent business man, but due to an unfortunate turn of events most of the family fortune was lost in a business deal.

Norma did not consider working a disgrace nor the stage and screen opportunities to be dismissed at a thought, so she made a desperate attempt to get into pictures. With her family she and her sister went to New York, where they were going to attempt to refill the family coffers.

Norma's sister soon dropped out of the race by marrying so this made it all the more necessary for the one remaining girl to make good. She haunted agencies, casting offices of both stage and screen, and let no opportunity pass her without first grasping for it and testing its reliability.

Met Mayer.

She met Louis B. Mayer on one of his trips to New York and he was immediately impressed with her beauty, a type that was new to the screen.

He was at that time in search of new faces and consequently had tests made of every possibility. Miss Shearer's test was more than successful—it was a revelation. She was put under contract to the Mayer organization and brought to the Pacific Coast.

THRILLING CRICKET.

KINGSTON, Ja., March 22 (Canadian Press).—The final Test match between the all-Jamaica Cricket Club against the English eleven ended Saturday in a draw. The Englishmen compiled 510 runs for six wickets, the partnership of Holmes and Astill being a wonderful exhibition of thrilling cricket. Holmes scored 244 and Astill 156.

You made it 36,000— Now make the 1,500!

SOAP WEEK AT PAYNE'S DRUG STORE

Big Bargains in Soaps all This Week. Come Early and Get a Free Cake. Open To-Night. See Our Windows

LOCALS

DR. T. P. McCULLOUGH

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, 166 Brock St. Phone 36W

BOOTS' MELOIDS

Will cure a cough or heal a sore throat. 25c per box, at The McDermid Drug Stores. 1d 69, 797

G.W.V.A. EUCHRE AND FREE LAMP DRAW

On Wednesday night at 8 p.m. followed by a Dance for those attending the drive only. Proceeds are for relief. Come and win the lamp. The chance on it is free. Admission to drive 25c. 3d-70-786

GET THIS ONE

Ordinary Ice will not heat, but Sanitary Ice WOOD.
All Kinds
Body Hardwood; Hardwood Slabs and Soft Wood. Phone 147. Sanitary Ice Supply. dtf

DO YOU NEED AN ACCOUNTANT?

If you want your books audited or adjusted; if not satisfied with your book-keeping system; if you want your income tax return prepared for this or other years, or want some dispute adjusted.—H. K. Middleton. 'Phone 1353. Office, 202 Charlotte Street. dtf

THE WEEK AT ST. JAMES'

Monday.—Pastor's Study Class at 7.15.
Tuesday—Talent Tea, under auspices of King's Own B.C., at home of Mrs. Wesley Mealing, 529 King Street, at 8 p.m.
Wednesday.—Choir Rehearsal at 8 p.m.
Friday.—Young Men's Club meets.

TALENT TEA

Ladies' Aid of Knox Church are holding a Talent Tea at the home of Mrs. R. Foster, 218 Wolfe, Wednesday, afternoon, March 24, from 3 to 6 p.m. 1d, 69, 794

MAPLE SYRUP

Choicest quality of Maple Syrup in one-gallon tins — Any quantity. Write for prices, and get your order in now. K. Arkell, Eldorado, Ont. 1d, 69, 800

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Clarke, Omemee, desires to thank the attending doctor, friends, relatives and neighbors for kindnesses shown during her recent sad bereavement.

MOIR'S CHOCOLATES

The McDermid Drug Stores have just received a shipment of Moir's Chocolates. Try the new Acadia Package, selling at 75 cents. 1d, 69, 798

DANCING.

Euchre and dance Victoria Hall, Friday, March 26th. Special prize, chest of silver, and others. Ladies 35 cents; Gents, 40c. 2d71 809

RUMMAGE SALE

Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Church are holding a Rummage Sale about the middle of April. Anyone having articles, please leave at Sunday School Hall or phone 1414W or 2151. 1d, 69, 801

MINSTREL SHOW AND PLAY 50 PEOPLE

Under the Auspices of Eastern Star, L.O.B.A., No. 525. In Victoria Hall, Wednesday, March 24, at 8.15 p.m. Adults 25c, Children 15c. 3d, 71, 860

Diamonds Loose

Have you had your Diamond Rings examined lately? If not bring them in to us and we will let you know at once if the stones are loose or claws badly worn.

Many a Diamond is lost every year by not having them examined to see if they are loose.

WARNE BROS.
349 GEORGE STREET
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880.

C.W.L. RUMMAGE SALE

The Catholic Women's League will hold their Rummage sale in St. Alphonsus L.'ccum, .1 Wednesday, April 7th. d69 808

ORCHESTRA PRACTICE

Symphony Orchestra will hold the final rehearsal tomororw night for the concert on Wednesday, March 24.

ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A.

The meeting to be held Tuesday night, March 23, will be postponed till Thursday, March 25. 1d-69-815

W. O. W.

Weekly Euchre and Dance Tuesday evening, March 23, at 8.15. Good prizes and good orchestra. Admission 25c. 1d-69-810

BY AIR MAIL.

Rate In Plane Is 25 Cents an Ounce—Extra To Usual Postage.

With reference to the charge of 25c. to cover the special aerial fee for letters carried by the special air mail service operating between Rolli.g Portage (Hudson, C.N.R.) and the Red Lake Mining District, the post office says that this charge covers the aerial transmission between Rolling Portage and the Red Lake District of a one ounce letter. Should persons desire to send heavy articles paid at letter rate of postage, those operating the air service have been granted permission to charge for aerial conveyance at the rate of 25 cents an ounce. This is in addition to the regular postage.

PAPER CHARGES NATIONS BUYING WAR MATERIAL

Daily Mail Says That Eastern Europe is Hungry For Arms.

ORDERING RIFLES.

German Firms Flooded With Orders and Secret War Stocks Sold.

LONDON, March 22 (Canadian Press).—The Daily Mail to-day make no reference to a story to which its Sunday edition weekly despatch gave prominence, concerning extraordinary secret negotiations for the purchase of arms and munitions and plants for their manufacture, by several European countries.

The weekly despatch represented the arms hunger as being colossal. It said that Russia for some time has been buying huge quantities of rifles, which were shipped to China and Persia as soon as they were obtained and that she was still seeking more. It also declares that Greece had placed an order for 200,000 rifles in Italy, that Jugo-Slavia was trying to obtain 400,000 rifles, and that Finland, Lithuania, Poland and Rumania and other Balkan states all were urgently seeking supplies. German armament firms were being flooded with orders and secret German war stocks, hidden in near-by countries, were being sold wholesale and shipped as fast as possible to China and Turkey.

The newspaper added that persistent efforts had been made to place orders in England, but they all failed.

MAN AND WIFE DIE FROM FIRE

Woman Fatally Burned When Candle Ignites Her Clothing.

SHOCK KILLS MAN.

STOUFFVILLE, March 22 (Canadian Press).—Within 36 hours of one another, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burwash, both aged 73 years, died at their residence here.

On Friday, Mrs. Burwash accidentally ignited her clothing from a candle she was carrying.

Her screams brought her husband from the barn and with his coat he managed to smother the flames, but Mrs. Burwash never regained consciousness.

Later in the evening, Mr. Burwash fell in the woodshed and expired, death it is believed, having resulted from the shock caused by the accident to his wife. Mrs. Burwash died on Sunday morning.

LAMP HAS BURNED CONSTANTLY FOR PERIOD EXTENDING OVER TWO CENTURIES IN CONVENT

Placed Before Statue of Our Lady of Great Power

EXPRESSES ESTEEM.

Has An Exceedingly Touching History Says Provincial Government Archivist.

QUEBEC, Que., March 22.—(By Canadian Press).—For more than two hundred years a lamp has been burning night and day at the base of the statue of Our Lady of Great Power in the Ursulines convent at Quebec, writes Pierre Georges Roy, Provincial Government archivist in "Le Bulletin des Rescherches Historiques."

That lamp, "which never goes out," has an exceedingly touching history. A resume of it, gleaned from the old "recit" of the Ursulines Institute, is as follows:

Marie Jeanne Madeline Le Gardeur de Repentigny, daughter of M. Pierre Le Gardeur de Repentigny and Madame de Repentigny, nee Agathe Saint Per, one of the most illustrious families of New France, was born on Jan. 31, 1698. At an early age, her parents sent her to the convent of the Ursulines at Quebec, where, displaying unusual talent she completed her "cours" within a few years. She then returned to her family in Montreal.

Shortly after her arrival in Montreal, Mlle de Repentigny made her debut into society, where she achieved great success. One of her distant cousins, an officer in the marines, was destined as her husband. Suddenly she received announcement of the death of him whom she already considered her fiance. Mlle. de Repentigny seemed almost crazed and for months refused to be consoled. Wishing to forget the death of her fiance she plunged once more into pleasure and celebrations but failed to find solace there. Finally she decided to request entry into the novitiate of th Ursulines at Quebec, hoping that the cloister would yield the peace she had sought vainly in the outside world.

"Hardly had she arrived at Quebec," says the old "Recit" of the Ursulines, "when Marie Jeanne de Repentigny was assailed with the most violent temptations for resistance of her vocation; the devil, outraged by her flight from the world and from the traps he had set for her soul, pursued her bitterly, unfolding before her eyes the most sombre picture of the future she was making for herself.

"Mlle. de Repentigny battled courageously. One day when the temptation tortured her more than usual, she entered th chapel of the Saints, and keeping threw herself at the feet of th statue of Our Lady of Great Power 'Good Virgin Mary,' she implored with extraordinary fervor, 'if it be the will of your Son and your own will that I remain within the cloister I beseech you, deliver me from my cruel anguish.' On the instant, showing the admirable effect of limitless confidence, all the temptation of the young novice melted away and a heavenly joy filled her soul. For ever she was freed from her troubles."

Then it was that Marie Jeanne Madeleine de Repentigny took the resolution to place at the spot where she received such signal favors an expression of her esteem toward her divine Mother. Thus came the lighting of the "lamp which never goes out." That was in 1724.

The old "Recit" adds that Monsieur de Repentigny committed himself to pay the donation of his sister for the maintenance of a lamp in perpetuity before the statue of Our Lady of Great Power, in the Chapel of the Saints. Mother Marie Jeanne Madeleine de Repentigny de Saint-Agathe tok her vows some months later and lived until Feb. 25, 1739.

GOOD PROGRAM AT ART ASSOCIATION

Mrs. J. E. R. Munro Presents Paper on Study of Old Masters.

A well-attended meeting of the Women's Art Association was held in the studio at the Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon, when an interesting talk on "How to Study the Old Masters," was given by Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, and a pleasing musical programme provided, unique in the fact that it was given by four talented members of one very musical family. The opening number was a trio of violin, piano and clarinet, "At Sunset," with encore in the "Song of Love" from "Blossom Time," played by Miss Margaret Widdess, piano, Stuart Widdess, violin, and Billy Widdess, clarinet. Mrs. W. R. Widdess sang "When Shadows Fall," with violin obligato by Stuart Widdess, and an encore, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve." Stuart Widdess played the violin arrangement of the "Londonderry Air," and Miss Margaret Widdess gave a pianoforte suite that included Debussy's Arabesque," Meyer - Helmund's Serenade" and Beethoven's German Dance. The various numbers were beautifully rendered.

At the conclusion of the programme, tea which was in charge of members of the Interior Decoration Club, was served from a table effectively centred with a silver vase of spring flowers; daffodils, hyacinths, tulips and narcissus, with yellow candles in silver holders. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. M. McCulloch and Mrs. H. A. Connolly, assisted by Mrs. E. R. Shirley, Miss S. A. Tomkins, Miss Mayme Montgomery, Miss Geraldine Glover, and the Misses Margaret McCulloch, Margaret Borbridge and Ruth Sutton.

An interesting addition to the afternoon's entertainment was the description given by Captain G. A. H. Trudeau, at present in the city in connection with a special six months' course of instruction in Infantry work at the Armories, of "Turnberry Castle," the subject of the picture which was one of the two presented to the Women's Art Association recently by Colonel and Mrs. Herbert Cox of Toronto. Captain Trudeau spent much time in the vicinity of this castle before the Great War and gave some interesting sidelights on its history. The picture itself is an old one, painted by the Rev. John Thomson, who was born in 1778 at Ayr, in Scotland, and shows the ruined castle which is the reputed birthplace of King Robert Bruce of Scotland and was actually, according to Captain Trudeau, his residence for many long years. Across the sea to the Arran Islands, famed in song and story, and shown dimly in the right background of the picture, King Robert often made his way, and the "King's Pass" is remembered to this day in connection with his frequent trips. In the left background is Ailsa Craig, home of the ancient monastery. Smuggling operations were extensively carried on in the days of the castle's prominence and are still known to be a part of the activities of that neighborhood. It may perhaps be a party of red-scarfed smugglers who are pictured in this painting, pulling up a small boat to the shore of a rocky cove in the southern lowlands of Scotland. According to Captain Trudeau, only a mound remains now of what was at one time the noted "Turnberry Castle."

Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, the speaker of the afternoon, gave a very scholarly and interesting discourse on "How to Study the Old Masters," illustrating her remarks by showing many good reproductions of famous paintings of the Old World. An idea of the vast difference in two schools of art was given in the comparison of the work of Rembrandt and Fragonard. The speaker said that pictures are not hung in galleries according to color scheme, but according to schools of art, and said that the loveliest Corot would look sweet and insipid when placed beside Claude Monet. The effect of Rubens' fat, foreshortened figures was ludicrous when his pictures were hung in a position too near the beholder, but when placed at a proper distance, the general effect was much better. The huge pictures of Veronese and Tintoretto also required distance to prevent the beholder from imagining that the figures were falling out of the frame. Allowance should always be made for lack of distance, improper lighting, framing and placing.

The energetic labours of the cleaners and restorers were also referred to as having a great effect on the original work of the artist. Leonarda da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" has suffered much from the hands of the cleaners, and Titian's famous "Assumption" has been almost solidly repainted. Rembrandt's "Night Watch" has also been almost completely ruined by restoration.

The poor pigments used by some of the Old Masters is responsible for much of the deterioration of their paintings. Many Romneys and Reynolds suffer from this, and Turner, who yearned for vagueness in his delineations, and who used sometimes on the same canvas many different media, such as oil paint, India ink, water color and white of egg, has achieved now more of the vagueness than he himself desired. Again, a picture of an artist who used a chequered floor as a background and painted in a woman later, now shows the old effect of the floor visible through the lady's skirt, the pigment in this article of apparel having faded through the years.

Line and form, color and composition, should be looked for in the Old Masters, and the design which they never neglected. They had individual traits, such as the soft draperies of Botticelli, the mysterious, deep shadows of Rembrandt and the colored air and light of Claude Monet's impressionistic work, the latter perhaps not being true to nature in every instance, but true to the artist's interpretation of nature, in a decorative sense. Sometimes the individual who looks upon the canvas has not sufficient powers of interpretation to realize the artist's viewpoint.

Many of the painters did not choose strictly beautiful subjects for their pictures, but they imparted to them a sense of vitality and reality that made them memorable. In this, the peasants of Millet in his notable works, "The Angelus" and "The Gleaners," are remarkable. To his canvases, Millet transferred, not the beauties of nature, but the sad, heartbroken feeling which animated much of his own life.

Although perfect in form, light, shade and color, pictures may often lack conviction, and the greatness of any painting may be reckoned in direct proportion to the amount of design the artist has placed in it, or the way in which he has delineated on canvas the characteristics of his subject, as in Franz Hals' "Laughing Cavalier," Romney's "Lady Broughton," where the delicate draperies are offset by the dark shadows at the rear, and Rembrandt's "Dutch Lady," in which the hands express so much of the individuality of the subject.

Mrs. Munro spoke of the use of a circular and semi-circular effect, as tending to draw the eye, and of the use of light colors for the same purpose. Anton Mauvee's "Spring" and "Autumn" were excellent examples of the art of the painter in suggesting the contrasting seasons by different methods of treating light and shade, foliage and sheep.

"We must try to see with the artist's eyes and estimate his work, not for what it does not contain, but for what it does. We must see pictures as the feelings of other minds. Nature needs a lover to interpret her, and we must be lovers."

Frank H. Dawson

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Flour, Baled Hay, Straw, Salt, Mill Feeds, Seed, Etc.
Exclusive Agency for
FIVE ROSES FLOUR
BLATCHFORD'S POULTRY FEEDS
ROYAL INCUBATORS AND BROODERS
Phone 55 380 Water Street
CUSTOM CHOPPING SOLICITED

Hey, Fellers!

GET IN ON THIS!

D'yuh want to go to the banquet the City Council is giving the Hockey Team?

Yessir, without costing you a cent.

Turn to the Sport Page.

Annual Stock-Taking Sale of Groceries!

YOU SAVE MONEY—
WE SAVE WORK, WORRY AND TIME

Goods Will Be Sold at Cost and Under Cost To Reduce Stock!

Bargains for Everybody - See Tuesday's Examiner

The Groceteria Stores

429 George St. . Cor. Smith and Reid
Corner Rubridge and Sherbrooke
Corner George and Antrim
Market Arcade

G. A. Borland DRUGS

SPRING TONICS

Rid yourself of the winter's clutches and put yourself in Ar shape with one of these popular tonics.

Burdock Blood Bitters.....$1.20
Gallagher's Blood Purifier.....$1.00
Syrup Hypophosphates.....$1.00
Clarke's Blood Mixture.....$1.25
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, $1.25 and many others.

G. A. BORLAND
PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMIST
228 Charlotte St. near Aylmer
Phone 274 - Fast Auto Delivery

NEW PRESIDENT.

Col. Walter Denison, D.S.O., newly elected president of the Canadian Military Institute.

Song Recital
DOROTHY ALLAN PARK
Soprano
assisted by
Maurice Park, tenor
and
Mary Agnes Logan, pianist.
Conservatory Hall
Next Monday evening
8.15 p.m.
Tickets—50 cents
3d-71-793

DEATH.

McNAUGHTON.—At his home, Cleveland, Ohio, on Saturday, March 20, D. J. McNaughton, brother of Mrs. J. P. Cunningham and Mrs. Wm. Montgomery, Peterborough.

The wretched hasten to hear of their own miseries.—Seneca.

For Easter Photographs
A New Vogue
"Silk Portraits"

We are introducing a new effect in Photography known as "Silk Portraiture."

It is new and it is decidedly beautiful.

The price is very little higher than for ordinary photographs.

You are invited to visit our Studio while we are showing these new prints.

The ROY Studio
140½ HUNTER ST.
Photographers and Picture Framers

ALEXANDER & HALE
ELECTRICIANS
When you have Electrical work to do, Call
P. Alexander, Phone 1755J.
W. Gordon Hall, Phone 1463w.

CITY TAXI 25
UP-TO-DATE HEATED CARS
SERVICE DE LUXE
DAY OR NIGHT
'PHONE 2240
Brydon Weese, Manager
26d-70-471

THE JEAN RIDDICK YARN SHOP
shows an unusually large stock of Yarns, Hosiery, Underwear, Etc. Come and see us and save money.
WE SELL FOR LESS!

CHIROPRACTOR
M. C. GOODWIN
DC. Ph. C.
Palmer Graduate
108 Barrie Building.
Lady Attendant Phone 431
Hours 10-12 a.m., 2-4 and 7-8 p.m.
Office closed Tuesday evening, also Thursday afternoon and evening

25c TAXI
WALTER GILLESPIE
Day or Night, Phone 480
Seven Passenger Sedans
12d-75-724

FOOT TROUBLES
N. D. FOOTE, D.S.C.
GRADUATE CHIROPODIST
107 Barrie Bldg. Phone 1730w

AROUND THE CITY.

The Unemployment Bureau reports 40 new applicants on the lists, 27 placements and 113 names still on the lists for the week ending March 20.

The fire brigade was called at 4.47 p.m. yesterday to a chimney fire at 430½ George street. The alarm went in saying the fire was at the garage of Harold Gibbs, 421 Water street.

James Brown reports robins in the lane between Pearl and Maitland avenues.

MADOC NEWS

MADOC, March 22.—Miss Jennie Wright of New York is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Wright.

Miss Hazel Keller of Enterprise has returned to town to re-open her millinery store for the spring season.

Mrs. G. Fraser is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. William Nugent was in Belleville last week.

Misses Grace Phillips and Lenore Vandervoort spent the week-end in Colborne.

Mrs. Frank Kelly, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Higgs, of Port Perry, has returned home.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBINSON—In Loving Memory of our dear Mother, who departed this life on March 22, 1921.
Oh, dear Mother, how I miss you
In the years that have gone by.
You have left me sad and lonely
For a home up in the sky.
Heaven now contains my treasure
Earth the lonely casket keeps.
But oft I linger midst tears and flowers,
Where my darling mother sleeps.
—Ever remembered by Son, Daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Howard James and family.

"The Auction Block"
- ALSO -
McNabb's Fashion Revue
AT THE
CAPITOL - TODAY

The Evening Examiner

PROBABILITIES.
Easterly winds, cloudy and unsettled with light rain or wet snow, followed by a little lower temperature.

VOL. LVII., No. 69 — PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1926 — PRICE THREE CENTS

BIG RUMMAGE SALE! The Jeffries' Bankrupt Sale Ends Tomorrow Night The Cudmore Sales Co.

CONSERVATIVE ACCUSES LABOR MEMBER OF TRYING TO STIR UP DISCONTENT BY COMMONS RESOLUTION REJECTING RESPONSIBILITY IN BRITAIN'S AFFAIRS

Woodsworth Currying Favor With "Group of Agitators of Whom Canada Should Be Ashamed," Says W. W. Kennedy, of Winnipeg.

HON. MR. MEIGHEN DRAWN INTO DISPUTE.

Woodsworth Declares Himself An Anti-Imperialist—Partnership With Britain Should Be One of Limited Liability, He Suggested.

OTTAWA, March 23 (Canadian Press).—J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg North Centre) yesterday afternoon asked the House of Commons to approve a resolution declaring that "Canada should refuse to accept any responsibility for complications arising from the foreign policy of the United Kingdom."

The subject was one on which there might be considerable difference of opinion, said Mr. Woodsworth. For some years there had been a tendency to pass lightly over questions of foreign policy. However, now that the war hysteria had died down, the time had arrived to give some attention to this subject.

In Canada there was a tendency to be "More British than the British." Some Canadians imagined that Canada was not big or wise enough to consider matters or foreign policy for herself. They thought the Dominion should accept without demur the decisions of the Mother Country on matters of foreign policy. With this view he did not agree said Mr. Woodsworth. The time had come when, if Canada was to enter into any action, she should do so of her own free will.

Relations With U.S.A.

Mr. Woodsworth pointed out that Canada must maintain very intimate relations with the United States 365 days in the year. Therefore she should be free in regard to her relations with that country. Again, supposing a war should break out between Great Britain and France. This country would be placed in an extremely delicate position. In Western Canada there were people coming from other European countries, with which countries it was always possible that Great Britain might become embroiled. What would Canada's position be in such an eventuality. Canada's trade with the Orient was developing rapidly, and her relations with the Far East were becoming more and more extensive. It was important that she should be free to develop these relations as she saw fit.

The Dominion had been involved in the last Great War, which was largely a European struggle, said Mr. Woodsworth. This country was still under the burden of debt accumulated during that war. What about the next war? he asked. It might be said that there would not be another war for a long time, but already the Chief of the Canadian General Staff was informing the Anglican Fellowship in Ottawa, that the next war might come for the adjustment of frontiers among the European countries.

With reference to this, Mr. Woodsworth said he wished to protest against a Government employee engaging in propaganda on a subject on which there was a wide divergence of opinion in the House of Commons.

Question of Autonomy.

It had been said that if Canada asked for complete autonomy, no obstacle would be put up by Great Britain. Mr. Woodsworth suggested that there would be no objection either to the Canadian House of Commons discussing now whether or not it wanted autonomy. It would remain for Great Britain to say, when the Canadian Parliament had decided on the point, whether she wanted to grant it, or not.

"Our legal status has not kept pace with our constitutional development," said Mr. Woodsworth. He pointed out that the British North America Act contained no provision that Canada must be recognized as a nation co-equal with any other part of the British Empire. Nor was there such a provision in the Canadian constitution similar to that in the Bill of Rights of the Irish Free State providing that all authority in the Dominion was derived from its people, and that final decision for any participation in imperial complications rested with the Dominion. Mr. Woodsworth pointed out that the imperial privy council recently dismissed an appeal from the Province of Alberta on the ground that an act passed in that province was not sound in law, and adding the comment that "Royal assent cannot give validity to an act which is void by virtue of an imperial statue." (1865).

Partnership by Consent.

Mr. Woodsworth wished to endorse the opinion uttered by an imperial statesman recently that "partnership by consent" should be the code on which to base the relationship between the component parts of the British empire. Sir Robert Borden during the war had expressed the conviction that Canada should have an adequate voice in the foreign policy and the foreign relations of the Mother Country. Mr. Woodsworth submitted that it was not possible that the representatives of the Canadian people or the Canadian Government could today take such an active part in British politics that it could secure to itself that "adequate voice" in complicated questions which were continually arising in the field of British foreign policy.

Mr. Woodsworth contrasted the utterance by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in 1922 that Canada's answer to a call should be "Ready, Aye Ready," with the opinion expressed in Mr. Meighen's Hamilton speech of last December.

On the latter occasion, Mr. Meighen had said that the people of Canada should be consulted through the medium of a general election before any troops left our shores. In this, Mr. Woodsworth thought, Mr. Meighen "had gone too far." He doubted if it would be feasible to follow such a course. He thought it would be far better to discuss the question now, and settle the principle on which Canada would act in a future emergency.

Enemy of Britain's Enemy

He would like to draw Mr. Meighen's attention to an incident arising out of the Locarno treaty. Just before that treaty was concluded, Sir Austen Chamberlain, answering a newspaper man, had said that the British Dominions would be bound under the treaty only if they ratified it of their own free will and accord. But later, said Mr. Woodsworth, so high an authority on constitutional questions as Lord Parmoor had pointed out that no general election nor any vote of the Canadian Parliament could alter the Locarno pact. All the Dominion could do was to refuse to send troops. But the Dominion could not escape some of the results of these obligations. If Great Britain went to war the rest of the Empire went to war. The Dominions would remain the enemy of Britain's enemy.

Mr. Woodsworth urged that Parliament should "Now serve notice that our partnership is one of limited liability."

He denied that he was anti-British, he declared that he was "anti-imperialist." Mr. Woodsworth quoted statements by Mr. Ponsoby and other members of the British House of Commons which, he said, showed that they would "Welcome such a declaration as that contained in my resolution before the House."

There was German imperialism, and French imperialism which had threatened Europe; Italian imperialism which strutted in the person of Mussolini, and there was American imperialism which was perhaps more of a menace to Canada than the British imperialism.

(Turn to Page 9, Please)

NOW, HONESTLY—

Pardon me if I laugh at the fellow who thinks he gets by on bluff.

Why shouldn't I? All the rest of the world laughs at him.

That's the funny part of it—when a man has so little sense as to travel along on brag, exaggeration, egotism and the like, you can't expect him to have sense enough to know that he's not fooling anybody but himself.

But—someday he wakes up to find that the road he has traveled leads only to the well-known place called No Place.

It's a kindly tip to all heading that way—DETOUR!

SPECIAL VALUES IN DRY WOOD.

12-INCH DRY PINE SLABS — $5.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-INCH DRY HEMLOCK SLABS—$7 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-IN. DRY HARDWOOD SLABS—$9.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. IDEAL FOR PRESENT USE. NO LATH TAKEN FROM THIS WOOD. BEST VALUE IN THIS CITY. DIRECT FROM MANUFACTURER TO CONSUMER. 'PHONE 545. THE PETERBOROUGH LUMBER CO., LTD.
6d71 755

Third Set Of Teeth Coming To H. C. McQuarrie, Aged 68

SASKATOON, Sask., March 23 (Canadian Press).—H. C. McQuarrie, a Prince Albert business man, is cutting his third set of teeth. The new molars, which appear to be sound, are pushing out the old ones. McQuarrie is 68 years old.

BRITAIN CANNOT DEFEND CANADA SAYS BOURASSA

Lord Fisher Told Him Some Years Ago, Says Independent.

CANNOT DO IT.

Will Never Shoot One Gun To Protect Canada From States.

OTTAWA, March 23. — (Canadian Press.) — Britain will never take any steps to defend Canada against possible aggression from the United States, the late Lord Fisher, former head of the British Navy, told Henri Bourassa some years ago, Mr. Bourassa, Independent member for Labelle, told the House of Commons last night of a conversation which he had with Lord Fisher, during which the question of Canada's position in the event of war between Great Britain and the United States came up.

Great Britain "will never spend one penny, nor shoot one gun, at the United States in defense of Canada in such an eventuality," Lord Fisher was quoted as saying to Mr. Bourassa.

"We simply cannot do it; it is just as well you understand that," Lord Fisher had added.

DAIRY PRODUCTS HELD IN STORAGE

Less Butter Than Last Year —More Cheese and Eggs.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS.

OTTAWA, March 23 (Canadian Press). — Approximately 3,265,965 pounds of creamery and 156 763 pounds of dairy butter were in cold storage in Canada on March 1st last. Creamery butter in storage, according to the Dominion bureau of statistics, shows a decrease of 73.49 per cent from last year, and 40.74 per cent from last month. Dairy butter shows a decrease of 59.84 per cent from last year and an increase of 99.71 per cent over last month.

Cheese stocks on the first of the month totalled 15,101,638 pounds. This amount represents an increase of 118.16 per cent over last year.

Cold storage eggs showed an increase of 259.42 per cent over last year.

MAKE STATE LOAN IN PLACE OF SUBSIDY

Government Plans Different Type of Assistance To Coal Industry.

London, March 23. — Canadian Press. — The Government's policy with regard to coal mines, says the Westminster Gazette, will be directed towards assistance financially of coal pits considered worthy of such assistance. This will take the form of an interest bearing state loan replacing the existing government subsidy. It will be repayable over a term of years from trading profits.

Such an arrangement would be conditional on acceptance by both mine owners and workmen of the findings of the Royal Commission recently made public. Among the recommendations of this commission were temporary reductions in wages.

A Gloucester city, N. J., woman found an unpolished diamond in a chicken's gizzard. The stone was valued at $80.

No Weeping Verdict In My Court, Says Judge Has Jury Locked Up When Plaintiff Starts To Cry

CHICAGO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Sympathies wrung by feminine tears will have no part in evaluating heart balm for Marie Grischeau, who is suing Dr. Leonard Ensminer, Indianapoils, for $50,000 for breaking his promise to marry her, Superior Judge Timothy Hurley ruled yesterday.

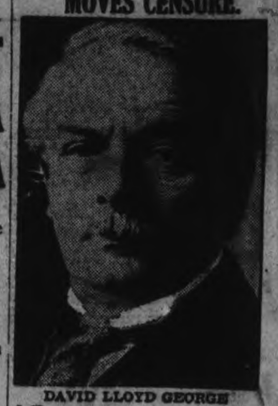
"Lock up the jury," the judge ordered, when Miss Grischeau brust into tears while relating the story of her love affair.

"We are not going to have a weeping verdict in my court," Judge Hurley told the woman's attorneys after the jury was taken out.

"Neither can a lot of sentiment be injected into the case to influence the jury. Unless your client controls her emotions in the presence of the jury, I will dismiss the case."

The case was resumed, and Miss Grischeau wept no more.

MOVES CENSURE.



DAVID LLOYD GEORGE
Who criticized the actions of Sir Austen Chamberlain at Locarno.

TIRPITZ SPEAKS AGAINST PACTS

War Admiral Makes First Speech Since War, Opposing Locarno.

VOTE CONFIDENCE.

(By Frederick Kuh—United Press Staff Correspondent).

BERLIN, March 23. — Admiral Von Tirpitz, who ordered the sinking of the Lusitania, and created the situation which finally brought the United States into the Great War, spoke in the Reichstag to-day for the first time since the war in an effort to torpedo the Locarno treaties.

The Nationalists suddenly introduced a misconfidence motion against the Government in an attempt to rescind Germany's application for the League of Nations membership and to nullify her signature on the Locarno treaties.

The Reichstag to-day expressed confidence by a rising vote in the Government's policy with respect to the League of Nations. Foreign Minister Stresemann had been careful in asking for confidence not to seek approval of domestic as well as foreign policies. The vote today merely was an expression of confidence in Stresemann's actions at Geneva and the Government's participation in the Locarno agreements.

The debate preceding the vote of confidence developed into an oratorical duel between Von Tirpitz and Luther. Excitement swept the deputies as Von Tirpitz finished and Luther arose to reply with a defense of the government and an argument for Germany's adhesion to the League.

"It would be impossible for Germany to withdraw her application for membership into the League," said Luther.

"Such a move would announce to the world that we do not desire to reap the harvest of Locarno."

A roar of protest came from the extreme right where Von Tirpitz sat among the Nationalists.

Luther, angry, turned and shouted, "Then show another way."

RANEY INSISTS ON LEARNING CONTRACT PRICE

Clashes With Finlayson in Session of Public Accounts Committee.

NOTHING FROM LYONS.

Highway Engineer Had Orders To Buy Nothing From Minister's Firm.

TORONTO, March 23. — There was a clash between William Finlayson, the chief government counsel and W. N. Raney, the Progressive leader, at a meeting last night of the Public Accounts Committee.

Mr. Raney insisted upon George McNamara of the McNamara Construction Company, telling the committee what his firm pain to Fred Lebarge of Sudbury for his contract to build the Creighton-Copper Cliff Highway last year for the government.

Mr. Finlayson thought the question was highly improper as it dealt with private business and was strictly acording to business ethics.

Mr. Raney contended that it was vital to the inquiry to get an answer and told Mr. Finlayson that he could put nothing over him.

Mr. Finlayson reported that Mr. Raney was getting angry because the inquiry was "falling down," as a great advertisement.

Eventually Mr. McNamara said that he paid Lebarge $1500 for the contract and agreed to purchase all materials for him by taking over the contract.

"Mr. Raney expected it would be a million," interjected Col. John Currie.

Garrett Lamb, a district engineer for the Department of Lands and Forests, at Sault Ste. Marie, read a letter that he had received last year that he must cease buying materials from the James Lyons Fuel and Supply Company, of which James Lyons, the former Minister of Lands and Forests, was the president. He had never purchased any material from that firm afterwards, and said that he had lost money for the department by not doing so, as there were then no competitive prices.

The two McNamara brothers, Geo. and Howard both emphatically denied that they had ever been influenced in contracts or that they had ever approached the minister. Mr. Lyons. The inquiry will proceed on Wednesday morning.

WORLD COMMUNICATION.

See No Difficulty in 'Phoning To Any Point on Earth.

NEW YORK, March 23.—(Canadian Press.)—The complete annihilation of space so far as human communication by voice is concerned, is the ultimate aim of the engineers now perfecting commercial trans-atlantitc telephone service. They see no insuperable difficulties in the way of ultimately being able to talk between any two points on the face of the earth.

America Has Gone Too Far With Prohibition Laws Concludes London Paper From Recent Straw Vote

LONDON March 23 (United Press).—Judging from the results, the recently concluded newspaper poll of prohibition in the United States, The Evening Star concludes today that "America has bitten off more than she can chew," in the matter of legislating against alcohol.

The Star explains to its readers that the poll was the most comprehensive of its kind ever taken in the United States. "The United States is beginning to realize," says The Star, "That you cannot legislate far in advance on the wants and tastes of a people. A great silent majority has been discovered. It is one thing to put a law on the statute books, and another to enforce it.

"The poll seems to show that even the most ardent promoters of prohibition see that too high a price may be paid for national benefits."

WALTER FISHER MARKET CLERK FOR NEXT YEAR

Offer of $1,000 for Tolls Without Gasoline Pump is Accepted.

SCALE OUT OF ORDER

Complaints About Present Clerk Discussed by Property Committee.

Walter Fisher's tender of $1000 for the market tolls without a gasoline tank and pump was accepted by the Property Committee at a meeting last night and Mr. Fisher will take over the duties of Market Clerk from Walter Stocker on April 1.

Three men tendered for the tolls. R. Killen offered $720 without the pump; W. Stocker offered $1025 with the pump; and W. Fisher offered $1000 without the pump and $1025 with the pump.

Considerable discussion about the satisfaction given by Market Clerk Stocker preceded the decision.

Signed Own Petition.

A petition signed by a number of patrons asked that Mr. Stocker be not hired again, and interest in this was heightened by the fact that Mr. Stocker had signed it himself. Alderman Denne referred to complaints that had been made. Alderman Fife said that certain people were after Mr. Stocker, and that he wanted definite information that Mr. Stocker was not capable, has had been charged, of weighing. Alderman Hancock said that Mr. Stocker had let the water run into the scales and Alderman Denne said that the farmers took their hogs down to the Canadian Packing Company to have them weighed without first having weighed at the market.

Alderman Fife said that Mr. Fisher was a good man but that he wanted justice done Mr. Stocker. Aldeman Ackerman said that any criticism he had heard had been in the committee room, and Alderman Denne said that he could ask any reliable man and that he personally would not accept the weight on anything Mr. Stocker weighed.

Alderman Fife asked about complaints from last fall, claiming that nothing could be said about the weights during the winter as the Government inspector had found the scales wrong yetserday when he examined them.

Alderman Denne said that a man should be obtained who would build up the market, and Alderman Phelan said that there were people who said that Mr. Stocker was a good man.

Mayor Holloway asked about specific complaints and Alderman Hancock named several men who had animals or hay weighed and found the weights wrong. Alderman Greene said that they were just recent ones and that the scales had been out, and asked for other complaints.

Alderman Hancock said that he hadn't been chairman of the committee last year and could give none, but that he had complaints about dirt, cold, and overcharges. This led to a discussion of tolls, as some of the aldermen said that women brought fowl in a sugar sack on top of a basket of butter and then spread them out taking up two or three spaces and wished to pay for only one basket, at two cents. Alderman Green suggested marking the tables and charging so much for each space occupied but it was said that this could not be done under the provincial act.

To Alderman Ackerman's suggestion that Mr. Stocker had a big investment in the gas tank Alderman Greene recalled that it was in opposition to taxpayers.

A motion had previously been moved by Aldermen Phelan and Ackerman that Mr. Stocker's tender been accepted and Alderman Denne and Greene then moved that Mr. Fisher's tender of $100[illegible] for the tolls without a gasoline pump be accepted. The amendment carried, being supported by the Mayor and Alderman Hancock. Aldermen Phelan, Ackerman, and Fife were opposed.

Alderman Hancock was given authority to have the scale repaired at a suitable time.

ENGINEER KILLED.

Railroad Employee Instantly Killed When Train Was Derailed.

BUFFALO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—The engineer of train No. six, on the Nickel Plate road, Chicago to Buffalo, was killed yesterday when the train was derailed at Athol Springs, ten miles west of here. Split rails were believed by the railroad officials to have caused the wreck.

Buenos Aires was established in 1535.

Exclusion Of Orientals To Be Moved In Commons

OTTAWA, March 23.—(Canadian Press.)— H. J. Barber, member for Fraser Valley, intends to move in the House of Commons to exclude future Oriental migration to Canada.

NATIONAL ARMY LEADERS CRYING FOR END OF WAR

Attacked on All Sides and Short of Munitions, They Urge Peace.

TO SAVE COUNTRY.

Governor of Shantung Offers Million Dollars For Feng's Head.

PEKING, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Leaders of the Kuominchun, or National Army, are crying for peace, giving as their reason desire to save the country further bloodshed. An official declaration of the new policy was broadcast to-day, coupled with a plea for the other belligerents to follow the example.

The move is thought by foreign observers to be really due to the exhaustion of supplies, of munitions and enemy victories on all fronts. Thus far, the retreat of the National army has been orderly. They are expected to evacuate everything beyond the Nankow Pass. Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, Kuominchun leader, is reported at Urga.

Wants Feng's Head.

SHANGHAI, March 23 (Canadian Press). — The Shanghai Evening News says the Military Governor of Shantung has offered a reward of $1,000,000 for the head of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, leader of the Kuominchun.

CLAIM MINERALS ON COMPANY LAND

Manitoba Suit Against Hudson's Bay Company.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23.—(Canadian Press).—A case of national importance, and one in which the province of Manitoba is vitally interested, now is pending in the Supreme Court of Canada concerning differences of long years' standing between the Dominion Government and the Hudson's Bay Company as to the ownership of precious metals on the company's lands. All provinces of the Dominion have been advised of the forthcoming suit, and the case will involve the question of ownership of all the gold and silver, precious metals and other royalties in the Province of Manitoba.

In entering the suit, Manitoba will claim that the minerals in question belong to this province, asserting that all precious metals, gold and silver, found in the province from July 15, 1870, belonged to and were invested in His Majesty the King in the right of the Province of Manitoba. An interpretation of the North American Act will be necessary to decide this claim.

APPLY FOR PROBATE.

Administrators of Hobson Estate Make Application For Letters.

TORONTO March 23.— (Canadian Press.)—The Toronto General Trusts Corporation and Mrs. Mary A. Hobson are making application for letters of probate of the last will and testament of Robert Hobson, who died at Hamilton on February 25th last.

Under this will the late Mr. Hobson disposes of an estate valued at $633,674.67. The will provides for the payment of certain legacies to his nieces and bequeaths to his widow a life interest in his residuary estate. The remaining interest in the estate passes to his brother and sisters in equal shares.

Of nearly 10,000 girl applicants for positions as operators in the British telephone service last year, only 1,550 were able to qualify.

The usual life of an airplane engine is estimated at from 400 to 800 hours.

MOVIE NIGHT.
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF GEORGE STREET CHURCH, IN THE LECTURE HALL, AT 8 P.M. A GOOD PROGRAMME OF PICTURES. 25c AND 15c.
1d70 822

ARTIFICIAL ICE RINK APPROVED BY CITY COUNCIL

Committee of Whole Agrees to Lease Company Part of Park.

STREET RAILWAY

Position of City if Hydro Stopped Operations is Discussed.

Alderman Ackerman's proposal that the Council lease part of James Stevenson park to a company for the purpose of erecting an artificial ice rink was received favorably by the Committee of the Whole Council at a meeting last night and the City Solicitor will be asked to draw up a lease and a bylaw authoirzing it. The lease will be for forty years, the rental to be $1.00 a year for twenty years and then to be fixed by arbitration. This will be subject to the sanction of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board.

Mr. Ackerman explained the plans of the company which is to be formed and showed the aldermen blueprints of the rink it was proposed to erect. He said that the site at the corner of Burnham and Hunter streets had been one of a number considered and that it had been considered best for the purpose. Entrance would be off Hunter street into an eight foot concourse around the top of the rink from which the patrons would pass into the seats. The rink would seat four thousand people and the ice surface would be 190 by either 85 or 90 feet. Dressing rooms would be provided under the seats on the north and south sides and the ice making plant would be under the seats at the west end. There would be eight exits.

The objections that might be raised to the scheme were thoroughly canvassed. A mutual arrangement might be made with Mr. R. H. Turner so that the Sanitary Ice Supply and the rink project might be consolidated. It was said that there might be some objection to the city leasing the land for a commercial purpose

(Turn to Page 5, Please)

QUEBEC STOPS POWER EXPORT

Bill Prohibiting Export of Power To U. S. Passed Unanimously.

ON THIRD READING.

QUEBEC, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Premier Taschereau put through in third reading in the Legislative Assembly yesterday his bill on prohibiting the export of Hydro-Eelectric power developed in this province to the United States.

The bill went through unanimously, the Conservatives acclaiming it as a Conservative measure.

COMMUNISTS HOPE TO CAUSE TROUBLE

Will Stir Up Agitation Among Negroes and Farmers in U.S.A.

MOSCOW, Mar 23 (United Press) —Russian Communists hope to take advantage of the negro problem and agricultural dissatisfaction in the United States to further the interests of their party in that country, it was indicated to-day during the meeting of the Executive of the Communist Internationale.

The Executive adopted a resolution urging the American Workers' Party to more intensive agitation among farmers and to pay more attention to the negro problem.

LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE MEETING, FRIDAY, MARCH 26TH, 1926, KING EDWARD HOTEL, TORONTO, RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN AND HON. G. H. FERGUSON WILL ADDRESS THE EVENING MEETING. CONSERVATIVES INVITED TO ATTEND. 3d72 826

POSTPONED.
OWING TO THE SERIOUS ILLNESS OF MATHILDE MASSON, WHO WAS TO HAVE BEEN THE ASSISTING ARTIST AT THE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT ON WEDNESDAY EVENING, THE EVENT HAS BEEN POSTPONED TO A DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER. 2d

HILL, WEDDELL & HILLS

General Insurance Agency
ESTABLISHED 1883
Phone 14 — 124 Hunter Street West

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED — 2 BOYS WANT work to learn trade; apply 284 Brock St. or phone 632w. 3d-71-1165

BOARDERS WANTED

WANTED — LADY ROOMER OR boarder; all conveniences; apply 531 Roger; phone 1220w. 3d-71-1170

BOARDERS WANTED — ALL CONveniences; apply 718 Water or phone 1742w. 3d-72-1204

WANTED — BOARDERS; ALL CONveniences; central; phone 632w. 3d-71-1166

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — EXTENSION TABLE; good condition, $7; 158 Edinburgh St. 3d-84-695

FOR SALE—ELECTRIC MOTOR, 1 horsepower; apply 173 Stewart St. 3d-71-1196

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; apply 589 Gilmour, phone 557w. 3d-71-1189

FOR SALE — STROLLER; ALSO high chair and other articles; apply 352 Simcoe. 3d-71-1194

FOR SALE—EXTENSION TABLE $8, sideboard $15, 2 dressers $16, Wilton rug, 9 x 12, $6; gramaphone $20; kitchen table from $2; oak china cabinet and desk, $20; sliding couch, $4; radio stand, beds, springs, chairs, folding table $2, plates and cups, etc. 243 McDonnel St., J. Boorman. 4d-70-1128

AUTOS FOR SALE

CAR FOR SALE—FORD SEDAN—model '21 in first class condition; five good cord tires; $335 cash; Box 1636 Examiner.

CAR FOR SALE—McLAUGHLIN CAR in good condition; recently overhauled; five good tires; apply 270 John St., phone 1083w. 6d-74-1193

CARS FOR SALE—SPECIAL 6, 1920 Studebaker Touring Car, complete with spare rim and tire, just overhauled at cost of $100.00; splendid condition; a real bargain. Apply 280 George Street. 3d-71-1186

FOR SALE—A 5 PASSENGER TOURing Regal car, in good running order, cheap, or will exchange for good radio or phonograph; 545 King St. 3d-70-1147

POULTRY & EGGS

POULTRY FOR SALE—ROCK HENS and hen house for sale; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-70-1134

WANTED—LIVE POULTRY—EXTRA prices paid for good stock; phone 771 and we will call, or bring them to A. Atkins, 180 Charlotte St. 26d-73-708

WANTEL — HEN AND CHICKENS; special prices paid; phone H. F. Doig, 2097F. 26d-74-722

NOTICE

NOTICE — PHONE 1244W WHEN you want you wood cut. 3d-70-1065

NOTICE—HELP THE NEEDY WITH your cast off clothing; ring Salvation Army, 1929; we will call. 6d-73-1136

NOTICE — MOTOR TRUCKING AND moving; also heavy equipment for lumber and logs; N. Bradley, 704 Water St., phone 2327w. 12d-77-1101

NOTICE—HAIRDRESSING — HAIRcutting, shampooing, marcelling, etc.; work done evenings by appointment; Mrs. E. Johnson, 199 Hunter St. W., Bell Apts, phone 1194F. 5d-73-1193

SPECIAL NOTICE. CUT THIS OUT, it will pay. House repairs, cellar to roof; furnaces, stoves expertly cleaned, complete one-fifty, and repaired. We also have hospital for every description of broken goods, from electric irons, furniture to pair of scissors. Costs nothing to phone. Small trial will surprise you how cheap we work. Wm. J. Bull, 1086M.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—ONE BUGGY AND CUTter; apply 3 McGill St. or phone 411w. 3d-70-1145

FOR SALE—A GOOD COOK STOVE. Price $15.00. Apply 590 Downie street, phone 2634J. 3d-70-1113

FOR SALE—A HARLEY-DAVIDSON Motorcycle; also a baswood canoe; apply 25 Lafayette Ave. 3d-70-1137

FOR SALE — LARGE SOLID OAK silent salesman show case; phone 2148. 3d-72-1208

FOR SALE — CONGOLEUM RUG IN good condition, size 9 ft. by 9 ft. Apply 134 Rubidge St. or phone 2163J. 3d-72-1209

FOR SALE—AUTO KNITTING MAchine, in splendid condition, with full instructions to operate; apply to 559 George St., city. 3d-72-1199

FOR SALE—SUPREME RANGE FOR coal or wood; also Tropic heater, 294 Reid. 6d-74-1174

FOR SALE—C.C.M. BICYCLE IN A1 condition; cheap; apply 478 Mark. 3d-71-1172

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED HOUSE, 2 piece plumbing, deep lot with henhouse; central; good condition. Apply Box 1178. 6d-74-1178

FOR SALE—3-4 SIZE VIOLIN, FINE tone, bow and case, phone 45F, 263 Hunter St. 3d-72-817

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; cook stove; sewing machine; fumed oak bufett; beds and dressers, etc. 539 Gilmour St. 3d-71-1157

FOR SALE — PORTABLE FORGE and Anvil; apply 464 George street, Peterboro. 3d-71-1167

FOR SALE — 3 ELECTRIC LIGHT domes (inverted) marble effect, complete with chains and wire; $6 each; Nugent Drug Co. 2d-70-895

FOR SALE—ONE GENUINE WICKer baby carriage, cheap; also ladies' satin dress, size 38-40; and a few articles of household furniture. Phone 1639m. 3d-71-1164

FOR SALE—UPRIGHT PIANO IN good condition; also Quebec Heater and open Grate; apply 560 Water between 6 and 7 p.m. 3d-71-1180

ARTICLES FOR SALE—ONE VERY fine Persian Rug, size 5 ft. x 6 ft. 9 inches; one Wilton Rug, size 6 ft. 9 in. x 10 ft. 6 in.; one walnut gate-legged Dining Room Table, like new; apply 280 George street. 3d-71-1185

FOR SALE—DROP LEAF TABLE $3; chest of drawers $3; sideboard $8; extension table $6, chairs, rockers, parlor table, hall rack, leather rockers, easy chairs, dressers, stands, small oak wardrobe, iron beds, toilet sets, three burner oil stove with oven, baby buggy, drop head Singer Sewing Machine, crock, dishes; apply 59 Aylmer near Perry. 3d-71-1169

FOR SALE—AUTO KNIT SOCKS—price 75 cents, made from best yarn; apply 467 Downie St. 3d-70-1138

FOR SALE—THOROUGHBRED RED Cocker Spaniel Pups; baby's crib; comode chair; folding wicker sulkie; all in good condition; apply 134 Stanley Ave. 3d-70-1142

FOR SALE — B. C. RED CEDAR Shingles at lowest prices; Fred H. Rowan. Phone 851. 26d-80-828

FOR SALE—TWO BUCKEYE INCUbators; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-84-1007

FOR SALE — WALNUT FINISHED steel bed and springs; walnut vanity dresser, new; fumed oak dining room suite; hall rack; Quebec heater; baby carriage; and a number of jars of fruit; apply evenings between 7 and 8 at 245 Stewart St. 3d-48-1098

WOOD FOR SALE — PHONE 1937 for dry hardwood slabs and body hardwood; also real dry hemlock slabs on hand. W. J. Fitzgerald, 242 Perry St. 26d-79-804

SALESMEN WANTED

SALESMEN WANTED — SIDELINE salesman for lithographed labels; pocket samples; Ontario Label Co. London, Ont. 11d-70-913

FOUND

FOUND — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD watch; apply J. Pearson Grocery store, 196 Charlotte. 3d-71-1195

FOUND—SMALL SUM OF MONEY; owner may have same by proving property and paying for this advertisement; apply 309 Reid St. between 7 and 8 p.m. 1d-70-1205

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE

FOR SALE — GENERAL PURPOSE Horse, young, sound; broke to all harness; apply 506 Elm; phone 858. 3d-71-1188

FOR SALE—20 STORE HOGS; APply J. R. Sleeman, Monaghan Road, near Queen Mary School. 3d-22,24,26-1158

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE—ONE DURham Cow, also one Jersey, both young; phone 1903J. 3d-72-1202

FOR SALE — TWO GOOD YOUNG Cows, a Durham and a Holstein; one is freshened and the other will freshen in about 10 days; apply Herb Rosborough, R. R. No. 4, Peterboro; phone 992 ring 6. 3d-70-1151

POULTRY FOR SALE — BRED-TOlay Barred Plymouth Rock Eggs, 251 egg strain, $1 for 13; Walter Thorn, R. R. 11, Peterboro; phone 996 r 2. 3d-19,23,26-758

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE — BULL, Browndale type; Robt. Boyd, R. R. No. 1 Ida. 6d-74-1156

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — MODERN, HEATED Apartments; apply 427 George St. dtf-1868

FOR RENT — WELL FURNISHED front bedroom steam-heated, in exclusive home; very central; for gentleman; phone 613. 3d-70-1154

TO RENT — A FURNISHED HALL over 425 George St. at reasonable rates for single meetings or by the month or year; apply 376 Rubidge St. 6d-20,23,25,27,30,1-1141

TO RENT — 5-ROOMED APARTment. Apply 60 Hunter street East. 'Phone 2065W. 6d-12,16,19,23,26,30-665

TO RENT—3 BRIGHT UNFURNISHed rooms with lights, gas and bath; suitable for couple; apply 481 Aylmer St. 3d-71-1179

FOR RENT—HOUSE AND 10 ACRES of land on High St.; apply 219 Park. 6d-75-1201

GARAGE TO LET — 573 ROMAINE street. 3d-23,25,27-1213

FOR RENT — FIVE ROOM HOUSE for rent; 48 Ware St., $15.00 per month; phone 2325J. 3d-71-1159

TO RENT—FIRST CLASS APARTment by 1st of May, corner London and Aylmer; apply A. A. McIntyre, 559 Aylmer St. 3d-70-1148

TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE; CONveniences, Mark St.; apply 577 Water street. 3d-72-1206

TO RENT — HOUSE, 172 ADELENE apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT — HEATED, FURNISHED House, 172 Adelene; apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT—CORNER STORE, HOUSE and heated apartment; apply 451 Water St. 12d-81-1198

FOR RENT — TRAPPING GROUND for this season; apply 324 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1168

TO RENT—THREE ROOMS; HEATed; conveniences; apply 168 Antrim St. 6d-70-1068

TO RENT—BRIGHT COMFORTABLE house, clean; well decorated; conveniences; good location; garden, apply 183 Antrim. 4d-70-1124

TO RENT—IF YOU WANT TO RENT a house; if you want to buy a house; if you want to buy a market garden, or exchange a farm for city property, apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-818

FOR RENT—NO. 173 1-2 SIMCOE street, suitable for store or office; Apply 437 George street. dtf-313

FOR RENT—HEATED OFFICE ON George street. Apply 437 George dtf

FOR RENT — OFFICE, HEATED; Apply Bank of Toronto. dtf.-8055

HOUSE TO RENT— 589 DOWNIE street. Apply 437 George street. dtf-1537

WANTED

ROOMER WANTED—ALL CONVENIences, use of phone; apply to Box 1197 Examiner. 3d-72-1197

WANTED—BY 1ST MAY OR SOONer, an up to date 5 or 6 roomed house, with yard and garage, central; all conveniences; will take year lease on same if suitable. Box 1144 Examiner. 3d-70-1144

WANTED TO ADOPT—LITTLE GIRL or boy; apply Mrs. Griffin, 16 Ontario Place, Toronto 2. 3d-72-1207

WANTED — AT ONCE; A SMALL well furnished apartment with private bath; must be central and reasonable. Phone 80. 2d-70-1150

WANTED TO BUY—SECOND HAND child's sulky; phone 2607J. 3d-71-736

WANTED—FOUR OR FIVE ROOMS on bathroom flat or small apartment by May 1st; phone 1206m. 3d-71-1191

WANTED — MOTOR CARTING; ALL kinds, long or short hauling; Beatty Bros. 'Phone 2168-991r2.

WANTED—1,500 MEN AND WOMEN to join Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Coupon on another page. dh

LOST

LOST — LADIES' GOLD WRIST watch, initials on back; finder please phone 938J; Reward. 3d-71-1184

LOST — ON MONDAY, BLACK AND white Fox Terrier, female; anyone knowing her where about's please notify 168 Lake St. 3d-70-1140

LOST — ON WATER ST.; CHILD'S red bag with wrist watch and change purse inside; phone 647m; reward. 3d-71-1173

LOST — WILL THE PARTY WHO picked up the purse in front of Hill's Grocery Store, George St., on Saturday, leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1163

LOST—10 SATURDAY AFTERNOON centre of city on Hunter St. East. Please leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1162

LOST—29 x 4.40 TIRE CHAIN; WILL finder please leave at Examiner office. 3d-71-1171

LOST — BLACK COLLIE, SHORT tail, white between fore legs, name Buster. Phone 1833J. 3d-70-1135

LOST — BLACK-FACED WALTHAM Wrist Watch luminous dial, down town. Saturday morning; finder please call 63 or 1677J.

HOUSES, REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE—BEAUTIFUL HOME IN city, nine roomed brick veneer house, all improvements, excellent out buildings, lawns, large garden. Apply Box 1152 Examiner. 3d-70-1152

FOR SALE — 2 SMALL HOUSES; cheap, with all conveniences; terms if desired; apply Box 1211 Examiner. 3d-72-1211

FOR SALE — 8 ROOMED SOLID Brick House, central location; all modern but furnace; apply A. Whitnell, Empress Hotel. 6d-74-1181

REAL ESTATE — 34 ACRES FOR sale or rent; close to city; good buildings and land all under cultivation, lot of fruit; apply 282 George St. 6d-75-1215

HOUSES FOR SALE—A VERY MODern house, best west end location, facing south, fine lot with garage; a snap; apply Box 1187 Examiner office. 3d-71-1187

REAL ESTATE—IF YOU HAVE MOney to loan on city or farm property, guaranteed property valuation equal to double the amount of the mortgage; no commission to pay. Apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-819

FOR SALE — NEW HOUSE, DESIRably situated in the West End centre hall plan, oak floors through out and modern in every respect; easy terms to suit purchaser; apply 427 George street. dtf-3483

REAL ESTATE — FOR SALE OR rent, in East City, Mark St. 220; a new house, two years old, bungalow style, three bed rooms and bathroom upstairs, built of brick with cement foundation, cellar full size with good furnace; large porch in front, light and water on tap; apply to owner, Andrew Fairbairn, 362 Lakefield, Ont. 3d163-680

READ THE WANT ADS.

NEILLS' SCHOOL SHOES

FOR CHILDREN WHO ARE HARD ON FOOTWEAR

The toughest materials obtainable are used in these Shoes and they are made on comfortable lasts, that are neat and stylish, yet strong and sturdy, at prices that are most reasonable.

The following are only a few of the many lines to choose from:

Misses' Golden, Brown or Black Elk Oxfords, with solid leather soles and rubber heels. Made on the best fitting "Nature" last. Sizes 11 to 2 .... $2.35
Children's Sizes 8 to 10½ .. $1.95

(Exactly as above)

Infants' Sizes, 5 to 7½ $1.70
Misses' Patent Leather Oxfords, with solid leather soles and rubber heels, made on the "Nature" last:
Sizes 11 to 2 ..... $2.35
Children's sizes, 8 to 10½ $2.00
Misses' Patent Strap Slippers, made exactly as above lines:
Sizes 11 to 2 ..... $2.15
Children's sizes, 8 to 10½ $1.75
Infants' Sizes, 5 to 7½ $1.55
Boys' Black Calf Bluchers, made on the up-to-date lasts, and with double toecap, solid leather sewn soles and rubber heels. Sizes 1 to 5½ $3.75

Boys' Black Calf Bluchers, made with double toecaps, solid leather soles and rubber heels:
Sizes 1 to 5½ $3.15
Youths', as above, Sizes 11 to 13½ $2.56
Lads', as above, Sizes 8 to 10½ $2.15
Boys' Box Kip Bluchers, on the regular wide-fitting last, and solid leather throughout:
Sizes 1 to 5½, $2.90; Youth's, as above, Sizes 11 to 13½, $2.50
Lads' as above, Sizes 8 to 10½, $2.00.

See Our Window Displays of New Spring Footwear.

R. NEILL, LTD.

350-354 GEORGE STREET

BOARD WANTED

WANTED—ROOM AND BOARD BY gentleman; near C.G.E. Write stating terms to Box 1160 Examiner. 3d-71-1160

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED—APPRENTICE TO LEARN dress and mantle making; phone 899w. 3d-70-1143

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL housework, 4 days a week, to sleep out; apply evenings, 531 Homewood Ave. 1d-70-1210

WANTED — MIDDLE-AGED HOUSEkeeper for small family, no children; write Box 1163 Examiner. 3d-71-1163

WANTED—FIRST CLASS COOK, A kitchen girl and upstairs girl wanted at once; apply Grand Hotel. 3d-72-1213

HELP WANTED—APPLY NICHOLL'S Hospital. 3d-72-816

NURSES—PUPIL DIPLOMA IN TWO years, board, laundry, cash allowance provided; Chicago Hospital, 811 E. 49th St., Chicago, Ill. 3d-23,25,27-1200

WANTED — GIRL TO DO HOUSEwork; apply Mrs. Rogow, 440½ George. 3d-71-1177

WANTED — MIDDLE AGED LADY for housekeeper to family of two; one who could go home nights preferred; apply 364 Simcoe St. 1d-70-1208

WANTED—YOUNG LADY OF NEAT appearance with sales ability; good hand sewer and trustworthy; apply 163 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1176

Glory is like a circle in the water
Which never ceaseth to enlarge itself
Till, by broad spreading it disperse to nought.
—Shakespeare.

Advertise in The Examiner

BABY CARRIAGES, ETC.

FOR SALE — CREAM REED BABY Carriage, good condition, $15; baby coop, $4; phone 2127w. 3d-71-1161

FOR SALE—BABY'S WICKER BUGgy; baby's folding buggy; child's cot; electric fan, new; oak barrel; five gallon coal oil can; kitchen range, burns coal, wood and gas; all in perfect condition; apply 464 Driscoll Terrace. 6d-73-1146

HELP WANTED—Male

WANTED — AUTOMOBILE SALESman; one with previous experience preferred; J. P. Fulkinghorn, 182 Hunter. 3d-71-1178

WANTED—A FULLY EXPERIENCEd farm hand wanted for 8 months, wages $40 per month; apply to Box 34, Bailieboro, Ont. 3d-71-799

MALE HELP WANTED — STEADY home employment at silver plating, nothing to buy or sell; no experience required; write for particulars; address Silver, 173 Macdonell Ave., Toronto. 5d-74-1123

SALESMAN WANTED — SHIRT salesman wanted for Peterborough and surrounding towns to sell high quality made-to-order shirts at popular prices. Liberal commission and sole agency to the right man. Excellent opportunity to obtain a profitable line. Please state experience. John Budd Company, 315 Bay Street, Toronto. 2d-23,25-820

ORDER NOW

NUT SIZE
COKE

JAMICO COAL

THOS. A. REHILL CO.

210 Wolfe St. - Phone 245
Prompt Service
Our Specialty

HOUSE

To let, six rooms; conveniences; central; LOW RENT.
Also Store and Apartment to let.
A. LOW & CO.
385 BETHUNE ST.
Phone 607 - Nights & Holidays 1027

Dry Wood

UNDER COVER

Hard and soft. Cut and delivered. At moderate prices. Prompt delivery.

Also manufacture to order any style
INTERIOR TRIM, SASH AND DOORS, ETC.

CANADIAN ALADDIN CO.
Phone 952 — Evenings 2080j

Telephone 790 When You Want Your
Piano or Organ Tuned
Player Pianos a Specialty
All Work Guaranteed
W. H. CUNNINGHAM
560 Weller Street

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy Teaches Biscoffs' New and Beautiful Work in CHINA PAINTING

In Memoriam

Memories are a great heritage; they help to cheer the way over life's cobble-stone roadway; memories of mother, father, wife, husband, daughter, son, sister, brother or friend.

To assist its readers in the preparation of memoriam notices The Examiner has available a selection of two hundred verses, appropriate for all occasions.

If you are interested, all possible help will be given on enquiry at the Editorial Department.

BUILD A THERMOS HOME

Save Two to Five Tons of Fuel per year. Get our prices on Thermos Homes, large or small. Insulation, the solution of fuel cost.

A. B. CUNNINGHAM,
Builder and Contractor,
331 REID STREET

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Notice of Removal

The Imperial Life Assurance Co. will occupy their new ground floor offices at 387 Water Street, in rear of Bank of Commerce office about May first.

3d-20,23,25-780

Office "To Let"

Attractive suite of offices in Bank of Toronto building with possession about April 15th. Apply Imperial Life Assurance Co.

3d-20,23,25-779

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY, LTD.

Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE ST. — PHONE 40

4% INTEREST, compounded Half-Yearly, Paid on Deposits

One Dollar opens an account. Special facilities afforded Depositors for the convenient transaction of their business, and accounts are subject to cheque withdrawal.

For Sums of $100 and upwards this Company's Debentures are issued in terms of one to five years, bearing special rates of interest, depending upon the term of investment..

TORONTO SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.
435-437 George Street
Peterborough

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

100 acres of choice rolling land in the Township of Alnwick, all in good state of cultivation and a quantity in hay and pasture, well watered and very comfortable buildings, immediate possession. This farm can be sold at a greatly reduced price on reasonable terms and if not sold will be rented.

Anybody requiring said property should act quickly.

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
136 Hunter St. W.
Office phone, 376. Residence, 1359.
A. Mills, agent, phone 1495w.

FOR SALE

70 foot lot, with house, on George street, close to market square, make good business property, great bargain for quick sale; inquire.

6 room, new, all modern Brick house, west side $4000

7 room all modern Brick, west side, good location $4000

4½ acres good Brick house, barn, hen house, fruit, close to bus line, exchange for house; inquire.

10 acres, Brick house, barn, 80 apple trees, plums and cherries, mile from city $3600

40 acres good land all clear, good buildings, 5 miles from Belleville for $3600

Number of good Houses to Rent.

P. E. Rutherford Agency
282 George Street - Phone 142

FOR SALE

$5,500 will buy new bungalow; all conveniences. West side.

$4,000 will buy new dwelling; all conveniences. South side.

$2,800 will buy brick dwelling in good condition.

Several dwelling to rent also. Farms for sale in different parts of the county.

See our list if you are in the market to buy.

W H TAYLOR
163 Hunter St. W., or Phone 1462.

FOR SALE

$4800—7 roomed Brick, all modern, garage, central, see this.

$4300—6 room Brick, all modern, north end.

$2600—6 roomed red Brick, 3 piece plumbing, garage; a snap.

$3600—6 roomed red Brick, all modern, except furnace; extra lot.

$4000—6 roomed red Brick, all modern, hardwood floors, would take lot.

$2500—6 roomed Frame house, 3 piece bath, large lot, easy terms.

50 acres close to city, good buildings, would exchange for house in city.

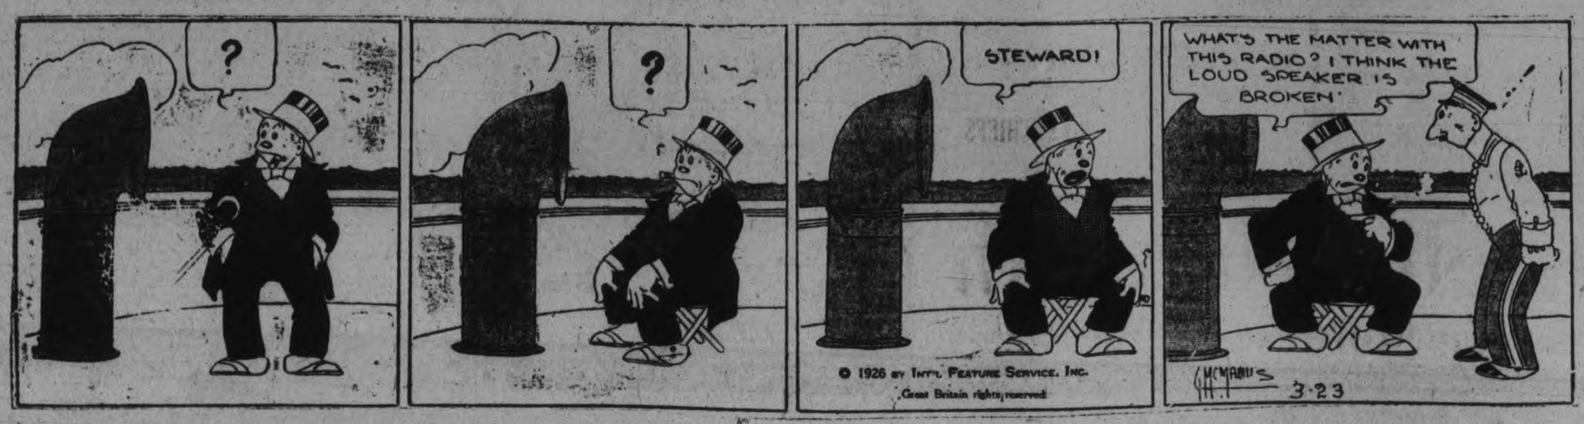
Several choice farms for sale or exchange on city property.

All kinds of insurance written.

J. CHAMBERS & CO.
292 Water Street
Office 241.
Residence 'Phone 1594W
G. Adams, agent, Res. phone 197m.

Boots and Her Buddies

"BRINGING UP FATHER" — Geo. McManus



Notice

Store closed all day Tuesday to mark down prices. Opens Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. with a rush.

SUITS

First longs. 19 only. Sizes 33 to 36 .....

$4.95

$11.95

MERRELL & MEREDITH

Announce that by mutual consent they will dissolve the long existing partnership between them. The change makes it absolutely necessary to reduce the heavy stock of Men's Clothing and turn a large part of it into cash, within the next few weeks. Facing the necessity of making the adjustment quickly, the firm are putting on a Sale that will SMASH ALL RECORDS IN VALUE GIVING.

DISSOLUTION

OF PARTNERSHIP

This Sale will not last long. Those who want to profit by it will have to move quickly. Store will be closed all day Tuesday for preparations, and doors opened at 9 a.m. Wednesday morning for the opening rush. This is the Sale everybody will appreciate. WONDERFUL SAVINGS, ASTONISHING VALUES, in Men's and Boys' Wear. That means we throw our $75,000.00 stock open to the mercy of the buying public. ALL PRICE CUTTING ECLIPSED. It's a case of MUST with us—we positively must raise $20,00000 from our stock in the next two weeks.

$20,000 MUST BE RAISED AT ONCE

Notice

GOODS RESERVED

We will reserve any article on payment of a small deposit.

POSITIVELY NO CREDIT

COATS

Spring and fall. Good for work .....

$3.90, $6.90

COATS

Young men's. Small sizes, 34 to 37. Form fit. Just right for the big boy .....

$5.00, $8.00

EVERY ARTICLE IN THE STORE NOT SPECIALLY MENTIONED IS OFFERED AT ONE-FIFTH OFF THE REGULAR PRICE. LOOK FOR THE RED TICKETS. THEY DENOTE EXTRA SPECIAL VALUES.

SUITS Men's and Young Men's 62 Only Sizes 34 to 40 $14.00

SUITS Men's and Young Men's 71 Only Sizes 34 to 40 $18.00

SUITS Men's and Young Men's 103 Only Sizes 35 to 44 $23.00

SUITS Men's and Young Men's 88 Only Sizes 36 to 42 $27.00

SUITS Men's and Young Men's 56 Only Sizes 36 to 44 $32.00

SUITS BOYS' BLOOMER SUITS Sizes 30 to 35 $3.95

SUITS - $5.95, $6.95, $8.95 BOYS' BLOOMER SUITS Sizes 29 to 33

BOYS' SUITS - $10.50, $12.50, $13.50 All Sizes New Spring Shades All Our Better TWO-BLOOMER SUITS Are in This Lot

OVERCOATS Men's and Young Men's Winter Weight All Our Better Coats Are Here $14 - $18 - $23

OVERCOATS Boys' and Youths' Sizes 24 to 35 $5.95 - $6.95 $8.95

BOYS' BLOOMERS 141 Pair All Sizes $1.29

WHITE SWEATERS Colored Roll Collar Fancy and Plain Regular $3.50 and Up $2.39

Men's Felt HATS 1.49 1.95 3.19

Men's Boys' CAPS 39c : 79c

CAMBRIC AND MADRAS SHIRTS 98c $1.39 $1.89

SWEATERS Fancy and Sport V Neck $1.95, $3.19

Men's No Collar, Light Weight SWEATER COATS $1.69

No goods brought in for sale purposes. A genuine Sale of our regular stock, including all our new spring arrivals. Everybody knows how good M. & M. Clothing is, but nobody ever saw it offered at such astonishing prices before.

BOYS' SWEATER COATS ...$1.49
BOYS' GOLF HOSE 59c
BOYS' HOSE 49c, 69c, 79c
BOYS' COTTON JERSEYS 39c
BOYS' BLOUSES 39c, 79c
MEN'S NIGHT GOWNS, FLANNELETTE $1.89, $1.39
MEN'S PYJAMAS $1.89, $2.39
MEN'S DRESS GLOVES $2.19
MEN'S WOOL GLOVES 89c
MEN'S GLOVES, LINED $1.69
MEN'S BLUE STRIPE OVERALLS $1.39
PURE SILK TIES 39c, 49c, 77c, 99c

CASHMERE HOSE 39c, 3 Pairs for $1.00
SILK AND WOOL, 49c
BELTS, 29c

Men's Odd Pants
$2.39 $3.19
$3.59 $3.98

BOYS' SWEATERS $1.19
BOYS' OVERALLS, 19c, 59c, 95c, $1.19
WHITE LAWN HANDKERCHIEFS 6 for 40c

MEN'S SUSPENDERS 39c, 59c
BOYS' SUSPENDERS 19c, 29c
BOYS' JERSEYS 85c
SILK AND LISLE HOSE 2 Pairs for 95c
MEN'S COMBINATION SUMMER UNDERWEAR $1.19
BOYS' PYJAMAS $1.19, $1.39
BLUE WORK HANDKERCHIEFS 11c

WOOL WORK HOSE 29c, 39c, 19c, 35c, 59c
MEN'S WORK SHIRTS 69c, 89c, $1.19
BOYS' FINE SHIRTS Some Have Separate Collars 89c, 95c, $1.19
BOYS' WORK SHIRTS With Collar Attached 69c
FANCY HOSE Cashmere, Silk and Wool Regular $1.25 and $1.50 98c
DRESSING GOWNS
Small Sizes $3.90
All Sizes $7.90
BOW TIES, 39c

Merrell & Meredith
Men's Wear Store - George Street

FLOOD INVADES BUSINESS CENTRE OF OIL CITY MAROONING WORKERS GIRLS CARRIED FROM BUILDINGS

Allegeheny River Dammed By Ice Pack, Flooding Valley Towns.

CITY LIGHTS OUT.

Telephone Girls Transported To Office in Boats—Most Stores Closed.

OIL CITY, Pa., March 23. Canadian Press. — The flood threat to Oil City, Franklin and other towns in the upper Allegheny River Valley, approached a crisis last night. The great ice gorge that has menaced the district for weeks continued to hold fast as the flood waters backing up behind the pack crept beyond the low lands and into the districts hitherto untouched.

Early on Monday the very heart of Oil City's business district was invaded. The flood waters rising at an unprecedented rate, rushed in Water street, forcing scores of the workers to flee. Many girls were carried from business buildings by firemen, policemen and others, who went to their aid when they were trapped.

Many sections of the city were under from three to five feet of water. Business was at a standstill. Boats formed the only means of transportation on the two main thoroughfares, Seneca and Center streets. All the power lines were prostrated, and the railroads were threatened.

City in Darkness.

To-night the city faced the prospect of being without light and power indefinitely. The first flood weeks caused the officials to hook up with lines were carried away yesterday afternoon and the officials said it would be impossible to restore them at once.

The city power plant was put out of commission on Sunday night.

Extra policemen sworn in for the emergency, were patrolling the streets together with national guardsmen and members of the American Legion.

While practically all business houses were closed the telephone exchange remained in operation. The telephone girls were carried to their work in boats. The city was without a newspaper. The building of the Oil City Derrick was in the flood district, and the publisher announced it would be several days before the plant could turn out an edition.

FRENCH FINANCE MINISTER BARES TAXATION PLAN

Three Billion Francs Required To Balance Budget, Peret Reports.

CABINET APPROVES.

Sixth Finance Minister To Propose Scheme of Indirect Taxation.

PARIS, March 23 (Canadian Press). — The new government's measures to balance the budget, which were presented Monday to the finance committee of the chamber, by M. Peret, minister of finance, stick to the principle that indirect taxation shall furnish the bulk of the required sums amounting to about three billion francs, in addition to the taxes voted just before the fall of M. Doumer. M. Peret estimates the deficit at five billion francs, of which two billion are covered.

Of the balance, the minister proposes to raise 500,000 000 francs by a poll tax ranging from 40 to 2,000 francs levied on the same principle as the income tax, and 2,500,000 by a tax on production or an increase in the tax on business turnover from 1 3-10 per cent to 2 per cent.

The cabinet yesterday approved M. Peret's projects.

Must Adopt Tax

M. Peret is the sixth finance minister to face the problem on the same principle—indirect taxation preferably to direct imposts—as caused the downfall of his predecessors.. His viewpoint, according to those close to him, is that there is no longer any room for debate on this question, and that an increase in the tax on business turnover or an additional tax on production is the only means of meeting the situation and must be adopted despite the strong arguments against it.

This has been, with little variation, the argument of all the ministers of finance who grappled with the problems. The Socialists are against indirect taxes and they will either vote against a tax on production or an increase in the business tax, or abstain from voting. The Moderates and Conservatives, if they adhere to their policy, will vote against such a tax, because they feel it is the majority that should vote unpopular laws.

M. Peret will acordingly have to find his majority among the Radicals and the groups from the Centre which is possible, though it is considered by experts an extremely difficult task.

"SPARKS NEITHER SNAKE NOR SKUNK"

Quebec Member Causes Furore in Commons Regarding Probe.

OTTAWA, March 23. — Something in the nature of a furore was created in the Commons Monday afternoon when J. F. Pouliot, Liberal member for Temiscouata, rose to a question of privilege, and was subjected to several interruptions by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the official opposition.

"I have reference," said Mr. Pouliot, "to the quotation in the Montreal Gazette, dated March 10th, of certain remarks made by the man on the street, the man on Sparks street —Mr. R. P. Sparks. His remarks were I think repeated in Toronto at a later date. He said in effect that organized bands of crooks paid out out of the dominion exchequer hoped that the enquiry of the customs committee into smuggling would be a fiasco. If Mr. Poulict hopes so, said Mr. Sparks further, he will have lots of company. I made a speech on the previous Saturday in the course of which I advised my listeners at the Montreal Reform Club to undertake to use counter propaganda against the odious charges of Mr. Stevens. I said that the Tory propaganda would be an immense fiasco. But I had nothing to say about the customs probe. It depends on how Mr. Sparks behaves.

Mr. Meighen rose to object that Mr. Pouliots remarks went far afield of a question of privilege.

Right of Denial.

"I have a word to say regarding Mr. Sparks," persisted Mr. Pouliot, "I ask your ruling, Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Meighen.

"The honorable gentleman," ventured Mr. Speaker, "has finished his quotations. I suppose he is now coming to his answer."

"He has referred already to all references to himself," said Mr. Meighen. "He is at liberty to deny the words—nothing more."

"What is the question of privilege?" asked Mr. Speaker.

"I will say," said Mr. Pouliot, "that the reason Mr. Sparks said these things is because he went to see the prime minister and asked for further protection of his own goods, and didn't get it. (Cries of order.)

"To use parliamentary language," continued Mr. Pouliot, amid further cries of order, "I would say that Mr. Sparks is neither a snake nor a skunk but has the higher qualities of both."

The incident ended amid loud laughter and further cries of "order."

ANSWER TO MEMBER WOULD COST $21,000

And Require Three Years and a Half To Prepare.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 23.—(Canadian Press.) — One return asked for in the House of Commons this session will probably not be produced.

"It would take three and a half years to complete the return and the wages involved would be over $21,000, said Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, Monday afternoon, looking reproachfully across the chamber at G. D. Nicholson, Conservative member for East Algoma, who had asked for the information.

Mr. Nicholson's request was for a copy of all correspondence, documents, etc. In relation to claims arising out of the war, he was told that over one hundred thousand letters had been written in connection with these claims which numbered more than 10,000.

"I will confer with the Hon. Minister," said Mr. Nicholson after Mr. Lapointe's remarks.

"Stands for conference," declared Speaker Lemieux, from the chair, and the House passed on to other business.

PURSE FROM FRIENDS.

To Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Gordon Honey, of Dartford.

DARTFORD, March 23. — Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Honey, who after a long residence in this vicinity are moving to Dundonald, were tendered a surprise party when a large number of their friend and neighbors called at their residence and presented them with an address and a well-filled purse. The address, which was read by W. H. Nelson, contained expressions of good will and best wishes for the continued prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Honey in their new home. John Jewell presented the purse after which the evening was spent in dancing and card playing.

MANITOBA SOCCER.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23. — (Canadian Press.)— Opposition to the suggestion that professional soccer teams be permitted to play against amateur was voiced by delegates attending the annual meeting of the Manitoba Football Association. The proposal, which emanated from the Quebec Association, was voted down.

John Easton was re-elected as president of the local governing body while the remaining executive was returned without change.

The Evening Examiner

PHONES—Editorial 1461. Business Office, 1666. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening, by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office, 419 George street. $6.00 per year, delivered in city; out-of-town subscribers by mail, $4.00 a year.

The Weekly Examiner, published every Thursday. Subscription price $1.50 a year.

J. S. REPRESENTATIVES

Special U. S. Representatives—W. H. Stockwell, 639 People's Gas Building, Chicago Ill.
New York—Chas. F. Miller, 225 Fifth Avenue.
Advertising Rates on application.

E. E. GLOVER, Managing Director.

TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1926.

RETIRING THE DEBT.

The proposed plan of retiring Ontario's public debt in forty years, as recommended by the committee which has been studying the question for some time, is full of interest.

The report dismisses the idea of retiring the debt by means of a sinking fund which was the scheme originally contemplated, and strongly urges providing for taking care of the debt out of revenue.

Briefly, the scheme contemplates the setting aside out of current revenue of $1,500,000 each year, and the finding of the financial experts who comprised the committee that it will cost the Province only $58,276,769 more to wipe out its entire net debt of $819,000,000 in forty years than it would to continue to pay interest for the same period at the end and retain the debt.

Under the plan as proposed the total charge against revenue during the 40-year period would amount to $734,045,230, with the debt extinguished at the end.

On the other hand, with no such provision for debt retirement the charges against revenue would amount to $675,768,461, or only $58,276,000 less, but at the end the Province would still have a debt outstanding of $186,335,934.

"FILMING" THE TRENT.

Valuable publicity will be given the Trent Canal, and this whole district will share in the benefit, as a result of the decision of the Ontario Government to have its motion picture department "film" the entire waterway.

While some sections have been photographed for the motion picture screen, the filming of the whole canal is a noteworthy development, particularly as the Ontario Government's educational and scenic films are now in great demand, and a picture of the Trent waterway is assured a wide circulation.

It is felt that no section of the continent contains a more beautiful stretch of lakes and rivers, and that the depicting of the most charming portions of the Trent waterway on the screens of motion picture theatres in many cities will undoubtedly lead to more tourist traffic for this portion of Ontario.

The beauty spots of the Trent are accessible not only to motor boat owners, but to automobile tourists as well, while those who desire to spend their holiday in a long canoeing and camping trip will find no better opportunity.

Attention will be concentrated on these opportunities by means of the film which will be taken early in the summer.

CONSIDERATION FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Canadians everywhere need a good many addresses such as was given by Dr. Lavell of the Ontario Parole Board before the Peterboro Rotary Club yesterday.

The secret of the successful assimilization of the immigrant lies in more kindly treatment of the newcomer in the light of the history of his nation and its contribution toward the welfare of the world.

To attempt to hold a position of proud isolation and to look down upon new citizens from the lofty plane, upon which Canadians are inclined to mistakingly place themselves, is merely to make ourselves more or less ridiculous and at the same time make it unnecessarily difficult for immigrants to feel at home here.

The feeling of superiority toward European immigrants that is innate in most native citizens of this country is not only based on a false sense of values, but it is a positive detriment to the development and progress of the Dominion.

New citizens must be treated with sympathy and consideration, given every chance to make good and dealt with in an understanding of how much their respective countries have done for humanity.

There is far too much of a tendency to label newcomers as 'Dagoes" or "Bohunks" or "Chirpers"—a tendency that is a decided handicap not only to immigrants but to the whole country.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

One feature of the street railway problem that is as clear as spring water is the almost unanimous opposition of the citizens of Peterboro to the proposal that the city should purchase the present system from the Ontario Government.

If the proposition ever got as far as the submitting of a bylaw—and there is little chance of that because the members of the Council are not out of touch with public sentiment on this question—this measure would be overwhelmed beneath a heap of adverse votes.

True, the closing down of the system would create a transportation problem, but as one well-known citizen put it yesterday, "the law of supply and demand will take care of the situation."

Undoubtedly there would quickly be a request from private motor bus companies for a franchise here and a bus service would be immediately available.

For the present the Council might well consider how such a request would be handled, whether or not an exclusive franchise would be given to any particular motor bus company, what safeguards would be required to ensure a satisfactory service, and other questions of a similar nature arising out of the possible suspension of the present combined street car and bus service.

THE NEW SETTLERS.

Under the auspices of various Governments and of the transportation and other companies, a number of selected new settlers are now reaching Canada. For the most part, these people are destined for agricultural areas, the majority of them going to the Western Provinces. Of some 409 arriving in the next few days, Nova Scotia is to get two, New Brunswick one, Quebec 41, Ontario 20, and British Columbia five, making a total of sixty-nine. The balance, or over 300, are to go to the Prairie Provinces. That is what the lure of the wheatfields and the success of such careers as that of Hon. Charles A. Dunning do for the West. Mr. Dunning was once a factory hand in Lancashire. Now he is a leading Saskatchewan farmer, and is Minister of Railways for the Dominion of Canada after being Premier of his own Province. He has been a good advertisement for this country.

No one will find any fault with the desire of immigrants to get on the land on the Prairies, but the paucity of immigrants for the Maritime Provinces is a matter of concern for Canada. These Provinces have done their share in meeting the cost of the immigration schemes of the past, schemes few of which have been of any real benefit to them. At the same time the drainage of their manhood and womanhood to the United States has been out of all proportion. Only a short time ago the Maritimes were urging that more attention be given to their special needs and requirements, and an emissary sent to the other Provinces made out a good case for them.

Now that the flow of immigration has been turned toward our shores the Provinces by the Atlantic should not be forgotten. Immigration plans which do not contemplate the requirements of that part of the country are ill-conceived. Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia also have correlated problems in this connection which ought not to be overlooked. The immediate need in these districts is not so keen, however, as it is in the Provinces by the sea.—Brantford Expositor.

A PROGRESSIVE SUGGESTION.

The recommendation of the Agricultural Committee of the Legislature for the establishment of a Co-operative Council to represent the various co-operative associations now in existence in the Province is a progressive step in the marketing of farm products. Such a body could bring to the farmer organizations the benefit of knowledge gained through a wide study of distribution requirements, and could prove of decided value in giving Ontario proper recognition in the markets of the world.

The report of the committee states that in a short time, as more Ontario buttermakers turn their attention to expansion in the British market, they may outdistance other sections of the Dominion in contributing to export value. Probably the same encouragement could be promised for other products of the farm. Ontario cheese, poultry and fruit are entitled to a foremost place, but, according to the committee, Quebec gets credit for Ontario exports because shipment is made through Montreal. This could be remedied by the adoption of a brand for the Province, which is essential, in any event, in establishing a reputation for Ontario produce. Even though it were desirable, as the committee recommends, to have a Canadian brand for butter, cheese, bacon and prime beef, a distinguishing Provincial mark should be adopted if for no other reason than to develop a healthy rivalry and to fix in the mind of the purchaser abroad something of the country's geographical extent and broad productiveness.

Standardizing of product and package, careful grading, large-scale co-operative marketing, reduction of much of the speculative element through the assistance of an Advisory Council would go far toward increasing Ontario's farm exports, while such tangible benefits as have been gained for the farmer elsewhere through scientific merchandising should accrue to the farmers of this Province. If an Oregon creamery association can increase its net price 20 per cent., the California fruit growers reduce the sales cost per box from thirty-five cents to seven cents, the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Association reduce selling expenses by more than 50 per cent., the Ontario producers can also profit by modern methods.—The Globe.

PARLIAMENTARY REFORM.

Supposing, as is probable, that after some future election the result should be in doubt, as it was until recently at Ottawa, says the London Advertiser. What should be done? No one who is not an absolute slave to partisanship would like to see a repetition of the time-wasting performance which ended a few weeks ago. If the reputation of our institutions is not to suffer, some means must be devised by which the House of Commons can function no matter how small the majority for the Government may be. Even those of us who favor the two-party system must be willing to recognize that there may be occasions when it does not work out satisfactorily, and that there ought to be some provision against the enforced idleness of 245 or more members of the House of Commons. Mr. John W. Dafoe, the distinguished editor of the Manitoba Free Pree, says that at present we are getting only twenty per cent. value out of Parliament; and he is evidently referring not to the present abnormal situation alone, but to Parliament at all times.

The other branch of Parliament labors under a similar disadvantage. The Senate has very little to do in the early days of the session, and its work is crowded into the closing days. Most plans for reforming the Senate do not take account of this defect. They usually relate to the mode of appointing Senators, or to curbing the power of the Senate to block the legislation of the House of Commons. This may be necessary and it may become a vital issue if there is unwarranted interference with the popular will. But another necessary reform is to give the Senate more to do. It ought not to be a mere brake. As a matter of fact the House of Commons is seldom rash or even radical in its legislative measures, and a brake is seldom required. It is a waste of time for one House to enact laws and another to annul them or even amend them, perhaps at so late a period in the session that it is difficult to come to an agreement.

The problem is to find work for the Senate that will not be obstructive but constructive. The problem of finding more work for the House of Commons is even more important. The number of those who take part in framing laws or debating is relatively small, and we have no doubt that because of this a great deal of ability is wasted. The members would be happier with more to do, and the country would be benefited by setting them to work.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

According to more than one citizen, what Peterboro needs on some streets just now is not bus accommodation, but a ferry service.

Canada's customs preventive force will soon be larger than our standing army.

Belleville man thought he had found a snake in an egg, but examination proved the substance to be discoloured albumen. In justice to Corbyville, it should be explained that the product of that famous plant did not cause the delusion.

Varsity may yet find, as did the Peterboro team, that the "flu" is more doughty opposition than a mere collection of hockey players.

Join the Exhibition!

— RADIO — PROGRAMS

BEST PICK

KGO (361.2) San Francisco, Calif. 6—Concert. 8—Musical. 9:10—Minstrels. 10—Dance music.

WBAL (246) Baltimore, Md. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:30—Variety. 9—Band. 10—Musical.

WLW (422.3) Cincinnati, O. 7—Variety. 7:30—Piano. 8—Old time review. 9—Concert.

WRC (469) Washington, D.C. 7:30—U.S. Marine Band. 10:30—Orchestra.

KPRC (296.9) Houston, Tex. 7:30—Orchestra. 8:30—Studio. 9—Novelty.

EASTERN TIME

WEAF (492 New York City. 4—Lecture-recital on "India" by James E. Hudson. 4:30—Women's program. 5—Vincent Lopez and orchestra. 6—Dinner music. 7—Alan Harris, singing with banjo accompaniment. 7:10—Columbia University French course by D Thatcher Clark. 7:30—R. Huntington Woodman and assisting artists. 8—Musical program. 8:30—"The Gold Dust Twins." WEEI (476), WFI (395), WCAE (461.3), WGR (319), WWJ (352.7), WOC (484), WJAR (305.9), WCCO (416.4), WEAR (389.4), WLIB (302.8), KSD (545.1). 9—"Eveready Hour." To WEEI (476), WFI (395), WCAE (461.3), WGR (319), WWJ (352.7), WOC (484), WJAR (305.9), WCCO (416.4), WSAI (325.9), WTAG (268), KSD (545.1), WEAR (389.4), WGN (302.8). 10—"Moment Musicale." WEEI (476), WFI (395), WWJ (352.7) WGR (319), WCAE (461.3), WTAG (268), KSD (545.1), WEAR (389.4). 10:30—Vincent Lopez and orchestra. To WEEI (476), WFI (395), WCAE (461.3), WGR (319). WTAG (268), WEAR (389.4). WWJ (352.7). KSD (545.1). 11—Ross Gorman and orchestra.

WCX (516.9) Detroit, Mich. 6—Ensemble. 11—Red Apple Club.

WREO (285.5) Lansing, Mich. 6—Concert. 8:15—Band.

WTAM (389.4) Cleveland, Ohio. 6—Orchestra.

WWJ (352.7) Detroit, Mich. 6—Concert.

WIP (508.2) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:15—Orchestra. 9—Old songs. 10:30—Orchestra.

KDKA (309) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 8:30—Sacred songs. 11:35—Concert.

WCAE (461.3) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Orchestra. 11—Theater program.

WGY (379.5) Schenectady, N.Y. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:45—Marine Band. 9—Variety.

WADC (258 Akron, Ohio. 6:30—Concert. 8—Orchestra. 9—Studio.

WBZ (333.1) Springfield, Mass. 6:45—Ensemble. 7:15—Orchestra. 8—Studio.

WCAU (278) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:45—Vocal. 9—Variety. 10:30—Orchestra.

WJR (517 Detroit, Mich. 7—Orchestra. 9—Orchestra and soloists.

CKAC (410.7) Montreal, Can. 7:15—Concert. 8:30—Variety. 10:30—Orchestra.

WRNY (258.5) New York City. 7:45—Orchestra. 8:15—Variety. 10—Vocal.

WJZ (455) New York City. 8:30—Musical.

CENTRAL TIME

WHAS (399.8) Louisville, Ky. 4—Concert. 7:30—Concert.

KFAB (340.7) Lincoln, Neb. 5:30—Concert. 8:30—U. of Nebraska program.

WMAQ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 6—Organ. 6:30—Orchestra. 9:20—Vocal.

WOAW (526) Omaha, Neb. 6—Instrumental. 6:50—Orchestra. 9—Classical.

KYW (536) Chicago, Ill. 6—Musical. 8—Variety. 10—Studio. 1—Insomnia Club.

WBAP (475.9) Fort Worth, Tex. 6—Orchestra. 7:30—Piano. 9:30—Concert.

WFAA (476) Dallas, Tex. 6:30—Orchestra. 11—Vocal. 12—Piano.

WMBB (250) Chicago, Ill. 7—Semi-classical. 9—Orchestra and soloists.

WQJ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 7—Orchestra and soloists. 10—Variety. 1—Ginger hour.

KFNF (266) Shenandoah, Ia. 7—Studio.

WHO (526) Des Moines, Ia. 7:30—Musical. 8—Variety. 11—Orchestra.

KLDS (440.9) Independence, Mo. 8:15—Classical. 12—Popular.

WBBM (226) Chicago, Ill. 8—Orchestra and soloists. 9—Variety.

WCBD (344.6) Zion, Ill. 8—Vocal and instrumental.

KTHS (374.8) Hot Springs, Ark. 9—Orchestra. 10:15—Variety.

WJAZ (322.4) Chicago, Ill. 9—Musical.

WOC (484) Davenport, Ia. 10—Musical.

WSM (282.8) Nashville, Tenn. 10—Frolic.

WKRC (423) Cincinnati, Ohio. 10—Orchestra. 10:30—Organ. 11—Entertainers.

WDAF (365.6) Kansas City, Mo. 11:45—Frolic.

MOUNTAIN TIME

KOA (322.4) Denver, Colo. 6:30—Concert.

KSL (300) Salt Lake City, Utah. 9—Orchestra.

PACIFIC TIME

KGW (481.5) Portland, Ore. 6—Concert. 10—Dance music.

KPO (428.3) San Francisco, Calif. 6:0—Orchestra. 8—Studio. 9—Feature. 0—Orchestra.

KFI (467) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Orchestra. 8—Vocal. 9—Trio. 10—Variety.

KNX (337) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Feature. 8—Studio. 10—Orchestra.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THINK SERIOUSLY OF THIS ONE

The great trouble with most of us is that we will not accept example as education. We will not listen to lessons. Personal experience is the only thing that will teach us. We have just got to try a wrong thing in our way to be satisfied.

Sometimes I think it is an advantage to be ignorant, for ignorance never goes very far.

I am sure it is more difficult to unlearn our errors than to gain knowledge, and here is my reasoning: In error, we must retrace our steps, and this requires a journey back befoe we can begin again. It takes twice the travel.

But why make so many blunders while we have thousands educating us by their examples?

Just take a look all about you and see the many men who are on the wrong road and ask yourself this question: Shall I get my education from their experience, or is it necessary for me personally to repeat their mistakes in order to know?

Old English Recipe For Foot Troubles

For troublesome bunions—hard, horny callouses — and sore, tired, tender, aching, burning feet—there is nothing in the world that gives such swift and certain comfort as the cooling, soothing, pain-killing touch of Geero Wormwood Balm!

No rags, pads or plasters — no burning acid liquids — no greasy, "smelly" salves to stain and muss you up—Geero Wormwood Balm is clean and pleasant, and like a Vanishing Cream "rubs in" almost instantly to give quick and satisfying relief. All good druggists, guaranteed.

Hands and arms were always stiff

QUICK EASY WAY TO HELP STIFF JOINTS

Tailor tells how to overcome stiffness in hands

A Philadelphia tailor has found a quick way of getting rid of stiffness in the hands and arms caused by constantly using a hot iron.

"I have been using liniments for a long time," he says, "but I find that Sloan's Liniment is the best. It always gives me instant relief." (Name and address given on request.)

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried—Sloan's will help you. Just pat it on lightly, without rubbing. Right away Sloan's sends a healing tide of fresh, new blood right to the stiff, aching joints. The first thing you know the aching and stiffness are gone. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Doctor find high heels are making hoofs of women's feet. That's fine. Horseshoes are cheap.

* * *

Man paid $106,000 for a Gutenberg Bible. That's cheap. Any Bible is worth more than that.

* * *

In Berlin, they are catching a kind of an itch from matches. Naturally it is an inflammation.

* * *

The chief grounds for a famous divorce filed recently is that they have been married since 1925.

* * *

Lenroot wants an investigation of milk. We want to know when cows started giving vanishing cream.

* * *

Prince of Wales made a speech at the British Industries Fair without scaring a single horse.

* * *

We all know what we would do this spring if we had the money.

* * *

The man who laughs at his wife when she has a bad cold should be arrested for attempted suicide.

* * *

My sympathy is divided equally between the man who was arrested for stealing silverware right after the doctor told him to take two teaspoons after each meal.

* * *

Most people can remember what hotel they stopped in by looking at the name on the soap.

* * *

OFFICE BOY—Say, boss, you gotta cut down on my work. I've been pluggin' 16 hours a day—just like a machine. I can't go forever.

BOSS—Oh, yes, you can, sonny—next Saturday!

* * *

Any time you find a counterfeit coin, pick it up. You can get pinched for passing it.

* * *

Novel way for a farmer to find out how many cows he has is to count all their feet and divide by four.

* * *

 A girl lost her glasses and   thought she had to be examined   all over again. But she didn't **
 —just her eyes. **

* * *

'Sabout time we're playin' riddles again. Awright, le's go: When is a fellow who follows the medical profession not a doctor? Correct answer: When he's an undertaker!

* * *

You all can have your quail on toast,
The tramp was heard to holler.
But, when yer servin' me, I'll take
An eagle on a dollar.

A NATURAL FLAVORED

Ginger wine can be easily made by adding sugar and water to a bottle of Parke's Ginger Wine Essence. No trouble or muss, and the wine is delicious. 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Bonds' Drug Store, corner George and Hunter streets.

FABLES IN FACT

ONCE THERE WUZ A LADY WHO WAS AFRAID TO LIVE IN HER HOME ALONE COMMA SO SHE BOUGHT A DOG PERIOD THE PURP CERTAINLY COULD BARK COMMA BUT THAT DIDN'T PROVE THAT HE WAS A GOOD WATCH DOG COMMA AND THIS IS THE VERY THING THE LADY WAS ANXIOUS TO KNOW ABOUT PERIOD HOWEVER COMMA A TRAMP CALLED ONE DAY AND STOPPED AT THE OUTER GATE PERIOD QUOTATION MARK DOES YOUR DOG BITE QUESTION MARK QUOTATION MARK HE ASKED PERIOD QUOTATION MARK THAT'S WHAT I WANT TO FIND OUT COMMA QUOTATION MARK REPLIED THE LADY COMMA QUOTATION MARK COME ON IN PERIOD QUOTATION MARK.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service Inc.)

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Peterboro—Toronto—Montreal
Winnipeg

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, March 22—Trading, especially in butchers' cows, was quite brisk. Good cows were in excellent demand, from $5.50 to $6 a cwt., and cows for kosher purposes sold at $7.50 and $8 a cwt. Good butchers' went in bunches at $7 and $7.25 a cwt., and odd heavy steers and heifers for the local trade were taken at $8 a cwt. Medium mixed butchers' were about $6.50 a cwt., and the best of the common butchers' sold at $6 a cwt. Eight well finished heavy steers sold at $8.25 a cwt. Two loads of nicely finished baby beeves fed by William Clifford of Wallaceburg brought $9 and $9.50 a cwt. Three loads of light Western heifer stockers sold at $4.50, $4.75 and $5 a cwt.

Calves are coming in fewer than expected, and the market was quite steady with choice calves 13 to 13½ cents a pound. One load of medium calves, light, sold at 10½ cents a pound.

Good lambs were 14 cents a pound today. Sheep were firm, the choice handy-weights bringing 8 cents a pound. A few spring lambs sold steady at $15 each for those around 50 lbs. each.

Packers are only bidding $12 a cwt. f.o.b. for hogs, but the run is very small and expected to keep so with the break-up of the roads. Those with supplies this morning feel confident of getting $12.50 a cwt.

Current Quotations.

Choice heavy steers	$8.00	$8.25
Fair to good steers	7.25	7.7
Baby beeves	8.00	9.50
Choice handyweight butchers' cattle	7.35	7.50
Good handyweight butchers	6.75	7.00
Med. handy butchers	6.25	6.50
Com. handy butchers	5.50	6.00
Good to choice 950 to 1,000-lb. feeders	6.25	6.75
Fair to good light feeders	5.00	5.50
Choice butchers' cows	5.75	6.50
Fair to good cows	4.50	5.50
Common butchers' cows	3.50	4.25
Canners	2.25	3.25
Export bulls	5.00	5.75
Bologna bulls	3.75	4.50
Springers, choice	70.00	100.00
Springers, common	40.00	50.00
Lambs, choice	14.00
Heavy sheep and bucks	5.00	6.00
Sheep, choice	8.00	9.00
Calves, good	12.50	13.50
Do., medium	9.00	10.50
Do., common	7.00	8.50
Do., grassers	5.00	5.50
Hogs, f.o.b.	12.50	....
do. fed and watered	13.10	....
do. off cars	13.50	....

MONTREAL GRAIN AND

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 22—There was some demand from foreign buyers on the Montreal market today for low grade Manitoba wheat and as prices were in line with exporters' views sales of several loads were made for nearby shipment. The export trade in oats and barley was reported dull.

The receipts of butter were 510 packages, as compared with 30 for the same day last week, and 522 for the corresponding day a year ago. The feature of the trade was the easier feeling that developed in the market and prices scored a decline of 1-2c to 1c and the fact that more was offering for sale by the importers with the result that sales of some fair sized lots of Australian No. 1 pasteurized creamery were made at 45c per lb and Western No. 1 pasteurized creamery was quoted at 46c per lb. The arrivals of Australian butter Saturday and today amounted to 2,000 packages.

The receipts of cheese were 75 boxes, as against 130 for the same day last week, and 14 for the corresponding day a year ago. The trade was without any new feature to note, business being generally quiet, the demand being only for odd small lots of Western fancy white and colored at 25c per lb., and Quebec 20 lb. cheese at 20 1-2c to 21c per lb.

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, Ont., Mar. 22—Heavy egg receipts are reported from practically all sections of Canada and the inward storage movement has started in British Columbia.

Toronto — Unchanged. Country shippers report increasing receipts. Paying extras 28, firsts 26, seconds 20 and making ales extras 35, firsts 32, seconds 25.

Montreal — Local receipts light. Ten cars states arrives today. Market active, paying country dealers extras 33-34, firsts 34-36, seconds 31-33. Retailing extas 47-50, firsts 40-42, seconds 35-36, poultry market steady. Frozen chickens wholesale 31-38, fowl 26-30, turkeys 40-42.

Winnipeg — The egg market is steady with receipts showing increase for the week. Country shippers are making sales extras 28, firsts 24, seconds 18, cases returned. Prices to retailers extras 35-37, firsts 30, seconds 25. Three pool cars are rolling to Montreal costing extras 33-33½, firsts 28-29, seconds 23-25½ f.o.b. Winnipeg. Poultry receipts are light. Live fowl 13-17, dressed fowl 18-22.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Mar. 22—Flour unchanged to 10 cents lower at $9.15 to $9.25 a barrel. Shipments 34,918 barrels.

Bran—$23.00.

Wheat—No. 1 northern $1.51 3-4 to $1.54 1-4; May, $1.48 3-4; July, $1.43 1-8.

Oats — No. 3 white, 35 1-4 to 35 1-2c.

Flax—No. 1, $2.27 to $2.31.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, aMrch 22—Something like a selling stampede took place today near the end of the board of trade session and prices plunged to the lowest level since November, 1925, for wheat, with corn tumbling to a new bottom record for the season.

Super-excellence of field conditions both for United States winter wheat and for spring crop seeding as well had much to do with the overthrow of wheat values, whereas piling up of 20,000,000 bushels of corn in Chicago went far toward breaking corn values down. The wheat market closed nervous, 1 7-8 to 3 1-4c net lower, May (new) $1.54 3-4 to $1.55, and July $1.34 7-8 to $1.35. Corn finished at 1 1-2 to 2 1-4c loss; oats 1-4 to 5-8c off, and provisions showing seven to 30 cents decline.

STERLING RATES

MONTREAL, Que., Mar. 22—Sterling exchange rates were quoted here today as follows:

Sterling demand—$4.87 1-4.
Sterling Cables—$4.87 3-4.

Her Nerves Were "All Broken Up" She Could Not Sleep

Mrs. David Gallougher, 37 Lyndhurst Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes: —"My nerves were all broken up and I could not sleep at night, and I would have to get up out of bed and walk the floor for hours at a time.

After Using a Box of

MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS

I Began To Feel Much Better, and after using a few more boxes I could enjoy my rest as well as ever I could."

H. & N. Pills have been on the market for the past 32 years; your nearest druggist sells them; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Fellowship of Prayer

TUESDAY.

The Place of Persecution.

Read Jn. 16:1-6. Text: 16:1.

These things have I spoken unto you that ye should not be caused to stumble.

Meditation—The Master would not comfort them for the moment by an understatement of the cost of discipleship. They who really follow Him will be sure to suffer persecution. We imagine that life is happy in proportion as it is smooth and comfortable, but he who tries to live in the spirit of Jesus will at times be unpopular and set upon. He insisted that such sufferings constituted the road to true happiness. The faith we hold is not joy producing because we have not suffered for it; because we do not take religion in earnest and have failed of its gladness.

Prayer—O God of Eternal Love. Thou dost chasten all whom Thou lovest. We remember the word of the Psalmist, "Before I was afflicted I went astray." The love manifests itself in the hard facts of the way and not in the soft and easy ones. We must not ask to fly from the cross Thou sendest. Teach us to despise the pain for the glory which is its goal. Lord hold thou Thy cross before our eyes that we refuse not what Thou ordainst for love of us and of our fellows. Amen.

(Copyright, 1926F. L. Fagley)

TURRET

MILD VIRGINIA

CIGARETTES

It's almost too good to be true,
When you hold up such hands as these two;
—A "straight flush" to get
And this choice cigarette—
Dame Fortune sure smiles upon you.

20 for 25¢

SAVE THE POKER HANDS that are packed with Turret Cigarettes

Mail your "Poker Hands" to Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited
P.O. Box 1380, Montreal, Canada.

BAKE YOUR OWN BREAD
ROYAL YEAST CAKES
STANDARD OF QUALITY FOR OVER 50 YEARS.
HOME-BAKED BREAD IS BEST OF ALL

RICH CHINESE HANGED FOR MURDER OF HIS WELSH WIFE AND TWO DAUGHTERS

Shot Them During Celebration at His Home in Liverpool, Then Called For Police—Insanity Defense Failed in Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, England, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Lock Ah-Tam, "the beloved murderer," known to the Chinatowns of New York, San Francisco, and many other cities of the world, indeed, wherever his people are gathered, was hanged this morning for the murder of his Welsh wife and two beautiful daughters, Cecelia, 17, and Doris, 20.

Lock Ah-Tam was so benevolent that he was loved by his countrymen in the seven corners of the globe, but at the end some change took place in him and, in the midst of a celebration at his home, he shot down, seemingly without reason, his wife and daughters, whom he had surrounded with all the luxuries of life, and then calmly telephoned for the police.

Tam, a man of fifty-two, came to England from China twenty years ago. He became naturalized, married a Welsh girl and prospered greatly in business. He was rich, powerful and mysterious. Whether he was prominent in some big Chinese society is not clear, but his influence reached many countries. He befriended thousands of his needy countrymen.

Chinese in all parts of Europe and America subscribed a huge fund for his defence, and Sir Edward Marshall Hall, one of the distinguished lawyers of England, defended him, receiving for this service what was declared to have been a record fee.

The defence pleaded that Lock Ah-Tam's mind was unbalanced by business worries, and that he was not responsible for his act.

He was found guilty, however, by the jury, and the courts sustained that verdict.

PARSON OBSERVED DRY LAW FAILURE

Disguised Himself and Mingled With Rum Men.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Wearing various disguises, Rev. Dr. James Empringham, general secretary of the Church Temperance Society, obtained first-hand knowledge of prohibition by mingling with bellboys, bootleggers and members of the underworld in a dozen cities, he said Sunday.

From the pulpit of St. Luke's Episcopal Church Dr. Empringham said his investigation convinced him that prohibition had failed.

He also reiterated his recent statement that a majority of the members of the Church Temperance Society favored prohibition modification. Dr. Empringham's first statement to this effect drew denials from many members of the society and from leading Episcopal clergymen, who said the society had been practically extinct since prohibition began.

G. P. GRAHAM HEAD OF TARIFF BOARD

Has Accepted the Chairmanship, Ottawa Rumors.

OTTAWA, March 23.—The proposed advisory committee on the tariff, which the Government is going to appoint, is expected to be announced this week.

It was reported among his friends Monday that Right Hon. George P. Graham had accepted the chairmanship of the board and that the other members will be Joseph Daoust, of Montreal, shoe manufacturer, and Roderick MacKenzie, Jun., of Winnipeg, representing the Canadian Council of Agriculture. The Board is to work in conjunction with technical experts, who either are now in the Government service or will be engaged for the purpose. All tariff questions will be submitted to them for advice, although the ultimate responsibility of the government and Parliament is not to be delegated.

Hungry as a hunter

A GOOD appetite usually denotes good health, yet how often you hear people say that the sight of food sickens them or complain of indigestion or gas after eating. These symptoms are often Nature's warnings that the body is in a run down condition.

Medical research has definitely proved that one of the causes of a run down condition of the body is a shortage of certain mineral elements, including iron, potassium, calcium, sodium and phosphorus, and until a sufficient supply of these minerals is restored to the body, good health is impossible. Wincarnis contains every one of these elements in addition to other health giving ingredients, and in a form in which they are most rapidly absorbed into the blood and carried to every part of the body to be converted into vital force.

Wincarnis has been recommended by over ten thousand physicians in cases of nervousness, anaemia, sleeplessness, and the general debility that accompanies a run down body. For fifty years this strength giver and nerve restorative has brought new life and happiness to weakened men and women.

Buy a bottle of Wincarnis today from your druggist. Try it and see the difference just a few days will bring.

Wincarnis
Builds Health
Coleman & Co. (Canada), Ltd.
67 Portland St., Toronto

Wild Geese Arrive With Spring On Manitoba Farms

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23 (Canadian Press). — Spring is here, judging from all prevalent signs. There was a bright sunshine Monday, the temperature is high, farmers are reported on the land, the larks are back from the south, and the wild goose is en route north, two flocks passing over the city on Sunday.

If the good weather continues hundreds of farmers will be on the land this week, and seeding is expected to start early this year. In many sections of the West the plowman is busy today, while reports of harrowing and discing have been received. The land is reported to be in excellent condition.

DEAD BANDIT WAS CANADIAN YOUTH

Recognized in Pittsburgh By Ottawa Stepfather.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 23 (Canadian Press).—The body of a man, previously identified as one of three bandits who held up the saloon of Fritz Roehler last week, was claimed yesterday by Robert J. Finan, of Ottawa, Ont., as that of his eighteen-year-old stepson, Donald Rogers.

The saloonkeeper identified Rogers as one of the robbers when the latter appeared at a hospital for treatment for wounds. Finan took the body to Ottawa.

Roehler was robbed of $550 by three men who fled after a pistol battle, during which Rogers was fatally wounded.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medicl discovery with two-fold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed, membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Cremulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Limited. Toronto, Ont.

SLAYER COLLAPSED AS TRIAL OPENED

Costa Rican Accused of Killing Nurse.

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 23 (Canadian Press). — The trial of Benito Pasquale, Costa Rican, charged with the murder of Anne Roedde, nurse in the General Hospital here, on the night of December 20 last, was abruptly halted on Monday in the Assize Court. Pasquale collapsed shortly after the trial opened, but was revived by physicians. Within 20 minutes he again collapsed, and Mr. Justice Murphy ordered him taken to the cells and adjourned court until 2 o'clock. Doctors said that the collapse was due to fright.

When asked to plead, accused declared:

"I do not know what I did."

Mr. Justice Murphy ordered a plea of not guilty to be entered.

CONFERRED ON HEALTH

Dr. J. A. Amyot, deputy minister of health of Canada, who with Dr. service, conferred with United J. H. Page, chief of the quarantine States health officials.

If you are feeling weak!
BOVRIL
will strengthen you by putting
BEEF INTO YOU
18

LEAGUE'S FINAL NOTE TO RUSSIA

Appeal To Participate In Disarmament Conference in Geneva.

SUPPORTS SWISS.

GENEVA, Switzerland, March 23.—(Canadian Press).—The text of a letter embodying a final appeal to Soviet Russia from the League of Nations Council to participate in the disarmament studies in Geneva was made public Monday. It shows that the council upholds the attitude of the Swiss Government that Moscow should not expect different treatment from that accorded to the representatives of the other countries invited. The letter emphasizes that Switzerland has promised every measure of protection for the Soviet delegates, thus seeking to remove fears that Geneva might be the scene of incidents similar to that in Lausanne in 1923 when Vaslav Vorovsky was assassinated.

It points out that Russian military, naval and aerial experts can sit on a footing of equality with the members of the league's permanent military committee, and concludes by voicing the hope that Russia's previously expressed desire to collaborate in reducing the burden of world armanents will find a practicable expression in a decision to send representatives to Geneva.

SEVEN CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Parents Were Visiting Nearby Neighbour in Quebec.

MONTREAL, March 23 (Canadian Press).—While their parents were visiting neighbors a short distance away on Friday evening, the seven children of Emile and Madame St. Germain were burned to death when their home at Saint Robert De Richelieu, near Sorel, Que., was destroyed by fire. Their ages ranged from two years to thirteen.

The children who died were: Rita, two years; Marie-Aimee, three; Marie-Jeanne, five; Gervaise, seven; Lomer, nine; Gerard, ten, and Roland, thirteen. The fire was noticed by neighbors, but was so far advanced that nothing could be done to save the children, who had apparently been trapped by the flames while asleep on the top floor of the house, which was of frame construction. Mrs. Germain, who arrived at the scene while the flames were raging at their worst, was painfully burned endeavoring to get into the building. Both parents had to be forcibly restrained from attempting to save their children. The house and barns attached to it were completely destroyed. Only charred remains of the children's bodies were found in the ashes.

STOLE 14 CARS.

Seven Juveniles Arrested in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Seven juveniles, including two girls, were under arrest Monday following an intensive police campaign against "joy ride" automobile thieves. Out of a total of 14 cars stolen during the week-end, 11 have already been recovered. The youngsters were handed over to the juvenile court authorities.

DURING THE TEENS
Healthful progress of a child depends upon the foods utilized during the age of growth and through the teens.
Scott's Emulsion of pure cod-liver oil is a vitamin-rich food that favorably influences growth and strength. It is a food-tonic of special value during the "teen-age".
Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont. 25-27

FATALITIES FROM SPRING MOTORING

Fifty Deaths Reported—More Than Hundred Injured.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Arrival of spring brought motorists out in force on the highways, and the inevitable trail of death and injuries was left.

Week-end motor fatalities reported to the United Press from 15 cities totalled 50. The injuries aggregated more than twice that number.

Chicago, with 12 dead, and New York, with eight, led the list. Other cities to report fatalities were: Detroit, two; Salem, Mo., two; Wilmington, two; Miami, one; Des Moines, one; Oklahoma City, three; Kansas City, two; Toledo, two; New Bay Village, Ohio, two; Harrisburg one; Pittsburgh, one; Cleveland, two; Los Angeles, two; Philadelphia, four; and Grand Rapids, Mich., one.

U. S. GRAIN EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, March 23—Exports of grain from the U. S. during the week ending March 20 totaleld 1,122,000 bushels as against 715,000 the week before.

United States grains in transit in Canada totalled 1,865,000 against 2,605,000. United States and Canadian wheat flour in transit amounted to 155,000 barrels as aaginst 109,000.

Red Flag To Replace Union Jack in Suburb of London

LONDON, March 23.—(Canadian Press).—Bermondsey, a London borough largely inhabitated by working class people, has decided to fly the red flag over its town hall instead of the Union Jack, thus following the example of its sister borough, Battersea. The town councillors, most of whom belong to the labor party, have decided that the new red flag will show the arms of the borough in the upper left hand quarter.

J. A. W. Douglas, secretary of the council, said no disrespect was intended toward the Union Jack. There is a growing tendency for boroughs to fly their own flags and as the old Union Jack was worn out, Bermondsey decided to buy a new red flag.

DUNNING TAKES SEAT.

New Minister of Railways and Canals.

OTTAWA, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Hon. Charles A. Dunning, newly appointed Minister of Railways and Canals, was introduced to Mr. Speaker Lemieux in the House Monday.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King performed the time honored ceremonial of presenting Mr. Dunning to the chair, as the duly elected member for Regina. Mr. Dunning entered the Chamber with the Prime Minister, and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, on either side of him. Prolonged applause from the Liberal benches followed the entrance of Mr. Dunning.

DELORO COMPANY IS CONGRATULATED

On Records in Plant Safety Made by Association.

MARMORA, March 22.—In a letter recently received by F. A. Bapty, secretary-treasurer of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company from T. F. Sutherland, chief inspector of Mines, the following interesting information is contained.—

"I was very much interested in the report of your Safety Association and wish to congratulate you on taking this step. The results are already noticeable, because in making up statistics for the year 1925, I found that your company and the Teck Hughes Gold Mines of Kirkland Lake, have the lowest number of compensatable accidents per thousand employees in the province. That is, of course, next to the Port Colborne Plant of the Canada Cement Company, which has a perfect record."

ELLIOTT AVERS PROFIT HONEST IN TRANSACTION

Liberal Nominee Made $38,400 in Sale of Land to Government.

FOR JAIL SITE.

Turned Over To Saskatchewan Administration in Three Months.

STRATHROY, Ont., March 23. — Sensation characterized the proceedings of the West Middlesex post-nomination meeting at Strathroy on Monday, when Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, speaking on behalf of Thomas Elliott, the Conservative candidate, read a telegram from Thomas Boys, Conservative M. P., at Ottawa.

The telegram was in the form of a query. Mr. Boys drew attention to a transaction on November 22, 1912, in which one John Campbell Elliott, barrister, Glencoe, Ont., purchased through his friend F. J. Robinson, then a prominent Liberal worker at Saskatchewan and Sid Porter, Liberal organizer, a section of land six miles from Regina, for a cash payment of $9000.

Within three months and five days on Feb. 27, 1913, the said land was transferred to the Saskatchewan Liberal government for a jail site, Mr. Elliott receiving his $9000 cash payment back and in addition $38,400 cash profit. Dr. Manion asked if this was the same J. C. Elliott who was now seeking re-election in West Middlesex.

Hon J. C. Elliott rose to say that he was the same man. He said he had purchased land on the outskirts of the city of Regina. On some of the purchases he had made profits, and on others he lost money. The transaction mentioned by Hon. Dr Manion was according to Mr. Elliott investigated by a Royal Commission and no irregularity had been found.

"Political capital was made of this at the time, at a highways investigation," said Mr. Elliott, "charges were made in regard to this and other transactions. There was an investigation by a committee of judges, of which Chief justice Haultain was chairman. Everything I was connected with was there found to be regular, correct, honest and square, and I was not called upon to testify. While Chief Justice Haultain was a Conservative he was not engaged in dirty political warfare like some of my friends here this afternoon."

Welcome Personals

There have been a number of sales in the vicinity. On Wednesday Mr. F. Bamsay had a sale.

Want sparkling teeth, gums like coral?

Here's simple new way to gain them

Please accept full 10-day tube free. Note the great difference in the color of your teeth and gum firmness when dingy film is removed as dentists urge

• • •

RESTORING dull, off-color teeth to polished whiteness is a recent dental achievement.

It's been found that dingy teeth come simply from a film that forms on teeth. A stubborn film old-type dentifrices did not successfully clear off. That's why brushing fails you.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel that film now—a sort of slippery coating. Beneath it are the dazzling white teeth you envy.

It keeps your smile unattractive because it absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. It invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea because it breeds bacteria by the millions.

Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, a scientific combatant has been found. Leading dentists widely urge it. All druggists have it. Works wonders on dingy teeth. 10-day test sent free.

FREE Mail Coupon for 10-Day Tube to
THE PEPSODENT COMPANY
Sec. CC-2072, 191 George St., Toronto, Ont., Canada

Made in Canada
Pepsodent
The New-Day Quality Dentifrice
Endorsed by World's Dental Authorities

Name
Address
Only one tube to a family. 2072 Can.

ARTIFICAL ICE

(Continued from page one.)

that would conflict with the business of another taxpayer. The legal aspects were also considered, and it was suggested that the Railway and Municipal Board might order a higher rental to be charged.

Some of the Aldermen suggested a delay until the company had been organized but Mr. Ackerman asked that something be done right away while interest in hockey was still at its height. He said the company would not ask for a fixed asessment but would pay taxes on the assessment and business value of the property. He also spoke of the possibility of next year's Peterborough team representing Canada at the Olympic games in 1928.

The Street Railway.

Nothing could be done about the street railways as no price had been set by the Hydro Electric Power Commission, prices on railway and gas plant, separately or together, being promised after the next meeting of the commission. Alderman Cotton asked what position the Council would be in to provide transportation if the Hydro stopped operations Alderman Green called attention to the damage being done to the brick work between the rails by frost and water. Alderman Cotton said that the Council would be criticized if there were no transportation, and Mayor Holloway said that the citizens who had been invited to hear Mr. Robertson explain the situation had not been sufficiently interested to come. Alderman MacDonald said that the aldermen would be blamed so that they should do as they saw fit.

Alderman Green said that the expenditure of a large sum of money on the tracks would be necessary for street car service and the Mayor said that for buses a large expenditure on pavements would be needed. Alderman Phelan said the buses were cutting up the roads.

Alderman Hancock said that the city would be disorganized without some means of transportation, but Alderman MacDonald said that other cities of the size of Peterboro got along without street cars.

Alderman Fife said that the question before the Aldermen was whether or not they would buy the railway and Alderman Phelan said that he wouldn't take it for nothing. Alderman Hancock said to let the Hydro stop operations and put it to a vote of the people three months later.

Alderman Fife asked that the aldermen give consideration to a by-law requiring the citizens to clean the sidewalks in front of their homes.

The PROTECTOR of CHILDHOOD!

In those first months when baby is put on artificial food on Doctor's orders Eagle Brand is indeed the guardian of the little one's very life! But it can be relied upon, absolutely, if feeding instructions are carefully followed. For three generations Eagle Brand has been the first thought of Mothers unable to nurse their child. Its guaranteed purity, absolute uniformity and the ease with which it is digested by baby make it a perfect food.

Mothers will appreciate a copy of our Baby Welfare Book and our Baby Record Book. Both free on request. Write The Borden Co. Limited, Montreal. 84-26

Borden's
EAGLE BRAND
(CONDENSED MILK)

PROVINCE PAID $52,666 TO TRY JARVIS-SMITH

W. N. Tilley, K.C., Received $20,000 For His Work in Cases.

BRIEF SESSION.

Monday in Legislature Confined Largely to Answering Questions.

TORONTO, March 23.—The prosecution of Aemelius Jarvis, Sr., Peter Smith and Andrew Pepall, arising out of alleged offenses in connection with transaction in Provincial bonds, including the costs of attempting to extradite Pepall from the United States, cost the province $52,666, according to an answer given in the Legislature on Monday by the Attorney-General to R. H. Kemp, M.P.P.

Of this amount W. N. Tilley, K.C., had been paid $20,000. Mac-

RAILWAY TIME-TABLES

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS
Canadian National Railway Time Table corrected to date. All trains daily except Sunday.

No. 96—8.10 a.m. for Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, Quebec and Portland, Me.
No. 93—8.20 a.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, North Bay, Midland and Toronto.
No. 371—8.30 a.m. for Lakefield.
No. 98—8.35 a.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville and points on main line east.
No. 92—12 noon for Port Hope, Ottawa, Toronto, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, makes connections with "International Limited" for London, Detroit, Chicago and California points also with the "National" for Winnipeg and Vancouver.
No. 100—12.15 p.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling and Belleville.
No. 373—12.30 p.m. for Lakefield.
No. 95—5.25 p.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, North Bay and Toronto, also makes connections for Detroit and Florida points.
No. 99—8.19 p.m. for Lindsay.
No. 94—9.10 p.m. for Port Hope, Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, Boston, Portland, Me.; carries through sleeper for Montreal.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.
(Corrected to date.)
GOING EAST—
11.57 a.m.—Norwood, Havelock, Bonarlaw, Tweed, Perth, Smith's Falls, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and intermediate points daily. On Sunday this train proceeds east only as far as Havelock.
8.20 p.m.—Indian River Norwood, and Havelock. Daily except Sunday
11.55 p.m.—Havelock Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Montreal, St. John, Boston and New York. Daily except Saturday.
1.50 a. m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Ottawa
GOING WEST—
4.55 a.m.—Myrtle, Toronto, Guelph Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago and New York. Daily.
8.00 a.m.—Toronto (Yonge street), Owen Sound, Teeswater and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
7.35 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, New York Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily except Sunday.
3.15 a.m.—Bethany, Lindsay, Orillia, Port McNichol and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
3.35 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily.
8.50 p.m.—Lindsay, Toronto and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

VETERINARY

DR. W. P. McELROY, Vet. Sur., office and residence, 190 Charlotte St., Charibond Bldg., Peterboro. Phone 1623J.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS

GORDON & O'BRIEN—Barristers Solicitors, Notaries. Money to loan on easy terms. Special attention to Patents and Trade Marks. Phone 218. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., J. A. O'Brien.

J. R. CORKERY, BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Notary Public. Office Ground Floor, 414 Water St., Peterborough. Five Doors North of Hunter Street. Money to loan at current rates on easy terms.

S. T. MEDD—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary. Office over the Dominion Bank, corner of George and Simcoe streets. Telephone No. 22. Private funds to loan at current rates upon easy terms.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office, over the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C., W. Johnson.

R. R. HALL—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Peterboro, Ont. Office, corner of Hunter and Water streets, over the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Trust Funds to loan on easy terms of payment.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public Peterboro. 'Phone 191. Money to loan. 375 Water street.

WILFRID F. HUYCKE, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public. 395 Water street. Telephone 239.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office, Water street, Peterboro. Money to loan at the lowest current rates of interest. Telephone 1950. E. A. Peck, F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edinburgh M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London. Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist Hours 9-11 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 519. Office, corner Water and Murray streets.

DR. C. C. CRAGG—Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Office 296 Charlotte street, formerly occupied by Dr. Neal. Hours—9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., 7-8.30 p.m. Telephone: House 1018. Office 2185.

F. T. WEBSTER, Ontario Land Surveyor, Registered Professional Engineer, formerly with Lewis and MacRostie of Ottawa. Phone 2546.

COUNSEL IN BIG FRUIT TRIAL

Above are shown some of the counsel engaged in the trial in Vancouver in which fifty-three fruit brokerage firms are charged with conspiracy. The upper row, left to right, shows J. C. McRuer of Toronto, crown counsel and special commissioner, who conducted for the Dominion Government the investigation which resulted in the charges; J. H. Senkler, K.C., of Vancouver, for the defense; W. S. Lane, crown counsel. Lower row, left to right: A. McLeod Sinclair, K.C., of Calgary, for the defense; J. F. Frawley, of Edmonton, assistant crown prosecutor; H. B. Robertson, K.C., defense counsel.

Gregor Young had also received a stated sum which was included in the Home Bank prosecutions. The Attorney-General could not say what amount of Mr. Young's fee could be charged against this phase of his work. Several other lawyers in Kingston and Ottawa received small fees for work in connection with the case.

J. Widdifield was informed that 16 beer permits had been issued in Windsor. The applications had come through the mails in hundreds, and it was impossible to say how many the Windsor member had recommended.

Beer Prosecutions.

Mr. Raney's questions as to whether or not there were any magistrates in the province before whom it was difficult to get a conviction for breaches of the O.T.A., was answered with an emphatic "No" from the Attorney-General. R. H. Kemp (Lincoln) was informed that J. H. Birmingham was the head of the Ontario Government Dispensaries. His salary was $5,500; he was responsible to the License Commissioners and the Attorney-General.

The Attorney-General was complimented by Mr. Raney on his French pronunciation when he read a lengthy list of those firms who have sold supplies to the Ontario Liquor Dispensaries. The list included the names of firms in France, Italy, Holland, England, Scotland, Ireland and West Indies and Canada. Before Mr. Nickle had got half through the task of reading the list members suggested that it should be taken as read and filed with the clerk for the information of those who were interested.

Mr. Raney: "We were just admiring the French pronunciation of the Attorney-General."

Mr. Homuth: "The appreciation would be more valuable if it came from one who could judge the relative merits of the brands dealt in."

No Fault to Find.

Replying to a question by Sam Clarke, Liberal, Mr. Nickle said that R. Leighton Foster, superintendent of insurance, was paid $4,500 per annum, and did not receive any other fees or remuneration. He was under the Attorney-General's department. Foster had a quasi-judicial position, Mr. Nickle agreed, and he had no fault to find with Mr. Foster's 1924-25 public speeches. He did not think Mr. Justice Riddell's decision in re Ontario Insurance Act and General Accident Assurance Company reflected on the manner in which Mr. Foster had discharged his duties.

A bill making minor changes in the traffic laws passed through committee, although there was some objection to a clause giving the police the right to seize an auto abandoned on a road or private property. Several members thought that the police were being given too much power. It was explained by Hon. Geo. S. Henry, the Minister in charge of the bill, that "abandoned" meant cars with their license plates gone, and not merely cars standing by the roadside. With this explanation the bill went through without amendment.

UPKEEP SLIGHT.

Ministers Without Portfolio Cost $1,999 Since 1921.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 23 (Canadian Press)—The cost of upkeep of ministers without portfolio in the Federal Government is very slight. Answering a question in the House of Commons Monday, it was stated that of the five ministers without portfolio who have been members of the Federal Government since 1921, only one has charged up secretarial or other office expenses, and these for the entire period totalled $1,999.

The five ministers referred to in the question were Hon. Senator Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate, Hon. H. B. McGivirin, Hon. Herbert Marler, Hon. Vincent Massey and Hon. J. H. Sinclair.

KEENE NEWS

KEENE, March 23.—Mrs. Starke and baby of Norwood spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gainor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rennie entertained Mr. Rennie's Sunday school class to tea on Thursday evening last. After tea the balance of the evening was spent in old time reminiscenses.

Mrs. Albert Frick and baby, of the week end at the home of her parents.

Mrs. John McLaughlin of Toronto and daughter of Montreal spent a few days at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. McLaughlin last week.

Mrs. Thomas Brown and son of Toronto are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Connell.

Mrs. Hewie has fully recovered from the fall she had recently.

The official board meeting of the Methodist United church will be held on Wednesday afternoon at two thirty o'clock.

Cannon Points To Austria In Monument For Tyrol

ROME, March 23 (United Press)—A cannon pointing in the direction of Austria has a prominent place in Premier Mussolini's sketch would symment to be erected at Bolzano, in the South Tyrol.

The monument is to be commemorative of the Italian victory over the Austrians and Mussolini's skeach would symbolize the inviolability of all Italian territory. Statutes of Italian patriots hanged by Austrians form decorative detail in the sketch.

LIBERALS WILL DISCUSS 'PROGS'

Conference of Manitoba Party To Be Held in Winnipeg.

MENTION ALLIANCE.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 23. —(Canadian Press).—Manitoba Liberals will meet in conference here Wednesday for a full discussion of the affairs of the party and its position in Provincial politics. An outstanding question which will be discussed, according to the tentative agenda of the conference, made public last night, will be the attitude of the party toward the Progressives. It is rumored that a resolution will be brought forward covering the question of an alliance with the Progressives, both Provincially and Federally. On the programme, space is provided for a discussion of "our attitude to the Progressives."

Every section of the Province will be represented at the conference. Other matters listed for discussion include, Provincial revenue and expenditure, simplification of government, the "maladministration of the liquor law," a Liberal press and how to establish it.

ROSENEATH NEWS

ROSENEATH, March 23.—The Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church is holding a bazaar in the village on Saturday afternoon, April 3rd.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mouncey, on March 9, a daughter.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Luther Payne, on March 15, a daughter.

The Women's Institute held a social evening on St. Patrick's night which was fairly well attended. The programme consisted of music, Irish songs, Irish jokes and contests. This was thoroughly enjoyed, but not any more than the lunch which followed and was both good and wholesome.

Owing to the spring-like weather spoiling the roads, the farmers are busy drawing their wood and preparing for the coming of spring.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Leach when about 60 young people gathered to enjoy a good time. Cards and dancing were enjoyed by all until midnight, when luncheon was served. Dancing was then continued until the wee small hours in the morning.

Mrs. A. McHendry and little daughter of Mimico have been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Murphy.

Mrs. Delbert Brisbin is in Peterboro with her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. Curtis.

Mr. Arthur Tucker is confined to the house with a heavy cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite entertained a few friends on Monday evening in honor of her sister, Miss C. Moir, Campbellford.

We want you to make this test

We want every weak, puny, fagged-out man and woman in America to make this test; buy one bottle of Tanlac at your druggist's, take it according to directions for one week and see how quickly you get started back to full strength and vigor.

We know what we are talking about. Tanlac has helped millions. In our files are more than 100,000 letters of praise from grateful users.

Don't confuse Tanlac with ordinary patent nostrums. It is Nature's own tonic and builder, compounded from roots, barks, and herbs that we gather at great expense from the four corners of the earth.

Tanlac goes straight to the seat of your trouble; cleanses and purifies the blood stream; puts your digestion in proper shape. First thing you know you have an appetite like a starved child. You rest at night and your whole body begins to feel the stir of strength and energy.

Don't you be discouraged. Don't put off testing Tanlac another day. Get a bottle now and in a week you should notice signs of real improvement. Then you will feel like your old self again. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation.

Thanks Tanlac for Renewed Health

"My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded. Splitting headaches, nervous indigestion and insomnia shattered my health. I lost the ability to rest quietly, day or night. Now my nerves are steady, appetite keen and I enjoy life as of old."

Henry Sholer
173 Edinburgh St.
Peterboro, Ont.

The Groceteria Stock-Taking Sale

Means Bargains for you and a big saving to us in time, work and worry in listing our tremendous stock in five stores.

VISIT OUR STORES AND SEE THE SPECIAL CLEARING PRICES

COCOA, TEA AND COFFEE

ROWNTREE'S COCOA
1 lb. tins, regular 50c, for 40c
½ lb. tins, regular 25c, for 20c

CHASE AND SANBORN COFFEE
Packages, whole or ground.
Regulars 60c for 50c lb.

CEYLON TEA
Special lot bought before the advance. Worth 60c for 50c lb.

BARRINGTON HALL COFFEE
A soluble concentrated coffee, made instantly in the cup.
Regular 60c for 40c

WAX AND POLISH

2 IN 1 FLOOR WAX
Large pound tins.
Regular 50c for 38c

LIQUID VENEER
Regular 50c for 38c
Regular 25c for 19c

HAW'S LEMON OIL
The best furniture Polish.
Regular 25c for 19c

SUNDRIES

LOMBARD PLUMS
No. 2 tin
Regular 15c for 10c

CANNED PINEAPPLE
No. 2 tin
Regular 25c for 17c

SURPRISE SOAP
5 bars 25c

GRANULATED SUGAR
10 lbs. for 64c

SCOURING AND WASHING MATERIAL

LUX
Regular 12½c for 9c

BABBITT'S CLEANSER
Cleans everything.
Regular 12½c for 8c

NEBB (SOAP FLAKES
Regular 10c for 7c

TOP NOTCH
Hand Cleaner.
Regular 12½c for 9c

O BOY! HAND CLEANER
Regular 10c for 7c

PURE ITALIAN CASTILE SOAP
Nothing finer for the skin.
Regular 20c bar for 16c

VEGOL TOILET SOAP
Regular 8c for 5c

IVORY SOAP FLAKES
Regular 12½c for 9c

AMMONIA POWDER
Regular 10c—3 for 20c

JELLIES, CUSTARDS, ETC.

HARRY HORN CUSTARD
Pound tins
Regular 30c for 22c

FOSTER CLARK CUSTARD
English make
Regular 10c packet for 7c

CEREBOS BLANC MANGE OR CUSTARD POWDER
Regular 15c for 10c

CORN STARCH
Yellow package put up by Harry Horn.
Regular 10c—3 pkt. for 20c

EXCELO CAKE MIXTURE
Lemon, Vanilla, Chocolate.
To make just add water.
Regular 20c for 12½c

DU-KO
For Pies or Puddings
Regular 25c tin for 19c

CEREALS, FLOUR, ETC.

ROMAN MEAL
Regular 35c for 25c

CORN FLAKES
Reg. 2 for 25c now 3 for 25c

FRESH ROLLED OATS
10 lbs. for 38c
5 lbs. for 19c

WHITE BEANS
Hand picked.
5 lbs. for 25c

PASTRY FLOUR
24 lb. sack 95c

SUNDRIES

SHELL MACARONI
Regular 20c for 12½c

KHOVAH HEALTH SALTS
Regular 20c for 15c

BETTY MARMALADE
Fresh arrival — 3 pound quart jar.
Regular 50c for 39c

SNIDER'S CATSUP
Large bottle
Regular 30c for 23c

DADDIES' SAUCE
Put up by H.P Sauce makers
Regular 20c for 15c bottle

DAINTY LUNCH MAYONNAISE DRESSING
Regular 25c size for 19c
Regular 35c size for 27c

HIP-O-LITE
Marshmallow Creme
Pint bottle regular 30c for 20c

HORSE RADISH
P. and D. brand—very choice.
Regular 20c bottle for 15c

AYLMER PORK AND BEANS
No. 3 tin, regular 25c for 17c

VAN CAMP'S PORK & BEANS
No. 1 tin, regular 15c for 9c

Our Stock-Taking Prices are good until end of month, providing the goods are in stock. At these prices many lines will be picked up quickly.

The Groceteria Stores

429 George St. - Corner Smith and Reid Sts.
Corner Rubridge and Sherbrooke Streets
Cor. George and Antrim - Market Arcade

MILLBROOK NEWS

MILLBROOK, March 23.—Mrs. G. Howson, Senior, of Peterborough is visiting her son, Mr. George Howson.

Mrs. S. Hetherington and Miss H. Cruickshanks of Peterborough, were week end guests of Misses Emma and Nellie Hetherington.

The formal re-opening of the United church, following the extensive impovements which will be completed this week, will take place on Sunday, March 29, when Rev. T. E. Holling, B.A., of Cambridge street church, Lindsay, will preach morning and evening. Special music by the choir at each service, and an hour's song service will be given at the conclusion of the evening worship.

Mrs. Richard Vance, of Franklin, spent the week end the guest of Mrs. J. A. Vance. As an official in the local Rebekah Lodge, Mrs. Vance took an important part in the initiation ceremony on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Howden, Eighth Line, Cavan, were guests of Reeve Stuart and Mrs. Fallis, Fallis Line, last week.

Mr. J. A. Vance was a visitor to Franklin over the week end.

Mrs. F. Donaldson, of Brockville, President of the Rebekah Assembly and Mrs. B. Watt, Past President, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Bentley during their stay in town. Mrs. Donaldson was remaining over Sunday with Mrs. Watt and would pay her official visit to Havelock Lodge on Monday.

Mr. E. Unitt, organist of the United Church, Port Hope, with several members of his choir, will give a recital in the United Church, Millbrook, on Monday, March 29, assisted by local talent. Mr. Unitt is leaving the same week for his new position as organist of Simcoe street church, Oshawa. The Monday concert is in connection with the re-opening ceremonies of the United church.

DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Bank, Together With Residences, Totally Destroyed in Devonshire Village.

LONDON, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Fire in Moreton Hampstead, a Devonshire village, destroyed the bank, co-operative store and 20 cottages last night. There was no loss of life.

R. C. HEARD

379 Water Street

Agency for the Renfrew Cream Separator.

TRUCK SCALES AND RANGES

Get Your Spring Supplies Now.
Wire Fence of All Kinds.
Steam and Gas Engines
Threshing Machinery.
A Small Lot of Winter Goods to Clear.
One 2½ I.H.C. Gas Engine, second hand, and 3 Second hand Plows.
REAL ESTATE OF ALL KINDS
Phone 1329

The Evening Examiner Picture Page

CANADIAN SOLDIER

"A Canadian Soldier," the painting by the distinguished English artist, Augustus John. It was painted during the war as one of the war records and is regarded as a characteristic work of the great artist. This reproduction is by permission of National Gallery of Canada, to which the picture belongs.

ON STAGE AND SCREEN

No. 1 picture above is Teddy Locke and No. 5 is Hil Palmer, both pretty and talented Canadian girls who are now playing with the "Three Little Maids," the all-Canadian musical comedy, which is at present touring the maritime provinces. No. 2 shows Maice, the dancer of many partners, and his latest partner, who is also his fiance, Miss Eleanora Ambrole. The screen sheik, Rudolph Valentino, is seen in picture No. 3, arriving from Paris after his divorce. He is accompanied by his brother, Alba Gugliemi, who he will introduce in the movies, and his nephew, Jo, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Albe Gugliemi. No. 4 shows Queen Thomas, the popular British actress, leaving for New York to fulfill important screen and stage engagements.

HIS FIRST COON COAT

Lord Willingdon, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to Lord Byng as governor-general of the dominion, is shown above with Lady Willingdon, with whom he arrived in Canada last week. He is shown wearing a coon-lined coat for the first time, and apparently quite enamored by the sartorial revelation. Lord Willingdon is on his way to China on a mission for the foreign office in connection with the Boxer indemnity. He has been governor of Bombay and of Madras, and is lord-in-waiting to His Majesty King George.

OPPOSE LLOYD GEORGE

Vigorous opopsition to Lloyd George's land policy is naturally coming from the large landowners of Britain. Above are six of the largest estate owners. Top, left to right: The Duke of Portland, 183,000 acres; the Duke of Sutherland, one million acres; Lord Lonsdale, 175,000 acres. Bottom, left to right: The Duke of Devonshire, 186,000 acres; the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, 400,000 acres; and the Duke of Northumberland, 169,000 acres.

PICTURE BY CORREGGIO

Study of "The Head of a Bearded Man," by Antonio Coreggio (Renaissance), done in crayon. From the J. P. Morgan library collection. The study has been loaned in Canada for exhibition purposes.

MOVIE STAR HAS LIBRARY

Pola Negri, who is reported to have said that she has a library of 5000 volumes, is partly responsible for side tracking Michael Arlen into moving pictures.

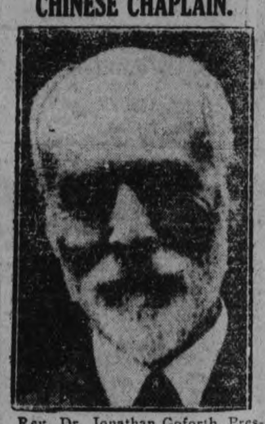
MARITIMES O.K.

J. K. Flemming, foner prime minister of New Brunswik, who declares that the maritim provinces, despite their economic grievances, are not "going to rack ad ruin." Society

WELSH MUSICIAN

Sir Henry Walford Davies, chairman of the national council of music for Wales, who has contributed largely to the great revival of interest in music in the Old Country, is to be one of the speakers at the third triennial national conference of education in Montreal next April.

CHINESE CHAPLAIN.



Rev. Dr. Jonathan Goforth, Presbyterian missionary to China, now home on furlough, who leaves Toronto for China to join the army of General Feng Yu-Hsiang as chaplain. He will continue to represent the Presbyterian church in China.

CONFERENCE SPEAKER.

Dr. J. H. Finley, editor of the New York Times, who is to be one of the speakers at the third triennial national conference on education to be held in Montreal next April.

ENGINEERS' PRESIDENT.

George A. Walken, M.E.C., who was elected president in succession to Dr. Arthur Surveyor, of Montreal, of th Engineering Institute of Canada. He is now managing director of the Vancouver Machinery Depot, Limited, and is also interested in other companies. During the Great War he rendered distinguished service with the Royal Engineers. He is a member for Point Grey in the British Columbia Legislature.

ADDRESSED CONVENTION.

A. H. Richardson, M.A.M.F., in charge of the reforestation division of the Ontario forestry branch, who addressed the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association at the annual convention in Winnipeg.

CONDEMNS SYSTEM.

Rev. I. M. Moyer, of Port Colborne, a delegate to the Ontario Prohibition Union convention, declared that the present liquor export system along the section of the international border near Port Colborne tended to promote unfriendliness between Ontario and the United Stataes.

EXPLORER'S NAMESAKE.

Jacques Cartier, La Presse, Montreal, namesake and descendant of the famous explorer, elected president of the newly formed Canadian Association of Broadcasters. Other officers are: Vice-president, Main Johnson of CFCA, Toronto Star, and secretary-treasurer, A. R. McEwan, Canadian National Railways radio system.

MONUMENT FOR OTTAWA

The magnificent monument which is to be erected in the Plaza, Ottawa, to commemorate Canada's sacrifice, sufferings and triumph in the world war, is shown above. The design is by Vernon March of Godden hue, Farnborough, Kent, England, and was selected in a competition comprising over 100 designs. The memorial is of bronze, on a stone base; the base being 26 by 24 feet, and the whole memorial 45 feet high. Through the arch a group of soldiers are charging and beyond is the artillery. The cost of the memorial will be $100,000.

HANSOM TAXI

A taxi, modeled after the once-popular one-horse power hansom cabs, returns in Paris as the latest contribution in automotive power.

EVEN THE COLOURS OF THE SPRING FLOWERS ARE OUT DONE IN OUR

NEW CHIC SPRING MILLINERY

Everyone visiting our Millinery Dept. is delighted with the variety of colours we are showing. And the shapes are even more varied than the colourings.

Hundreds of Hats have arrived—more are coming almost every day. Here are Hats for little folk, Hats for misses, Mother and Grandmother, Hats for everybody.

WE CAN SHOW YOU SMALL HATS, MEDIUM SIZED HATS, EVENWIDE BRIMMED HATS. THE SHOWING INCLUDES TURNED-UP NARROW BRIM, CRUSHED CROWN, SMART TAM CROWN, ITALIAN CROCHETED STRAWS, RIBBON HATS, PRETTY HATS OF SILK FAILLE, MOHAIR, TAGEL STRAW, HERRINGBONE STRAW, ETC. OUR VALUE CANNOT BE BEATEN. PRICES RUNS UPWARDS FROM $3.90

Bright Colored Hats for Easter

A good display of bright colored Easter Hats, made of crochet straw, Italian straw, corded silk, taffeta, etc. All distinctive styles—some with wide brims, others tiny rolled brims, creased crowns, soft crushed crowns, and many other smart styles. All attractively trimmed, and priced to sell at $6.75

Smart Fancy Straw Hats

Hats in the small and large side of Easter mode. All exceptionally good looking Hats in pretty shades of new Italian blue, Chartreuse green, rosewood, meerschaum, together with many other bright spring colors. Some plain, others combination ideas. Priced at $5.50

An Outstanding Value

In these attractive Spring Hats in variety of jaunty styles. Flower and ribbon trimmings in smart arrangements. Ranging in colors from light pastel to the brighter spring colorings. A reasonably low priced at $4.50

Black Taffeta

This rich, One of spring's leading more attractive than a smart Bl.... dress. Here in stock in b.... Selling at the low price $2.25

Heavy Flat Crepe

Demand is this heavy quality Greatly favored for dresses of distinctive style. Flat Crepe in twenty of the prominent Here in the light tints to the dark spring shades. A real special, per yard $2.50

Donegal Tweed

Tweed is strongly favored for spring coats, suits, etc. Here in heather mixtures of grey, brown and tan. Comes in the popular 54-inch width. Selling Wednesday at the low price, per yard..... $1.69

New Spring Voiles

Real Normandy Voile with pretty stencilled small and spreading patterns. In such pretty shades as orchid, rosalind, Italian blue, maize, powder blue, and many others, including navy and black. A real value at the price, per yard..... 85c

Black Sateen Aprons

Very practical Aprons in all-over style. Made of a strong, firm quality sateen with bright sheen. Neatly trimmed with chintz. A real value for Wednesday selling at..... $1.50

Heavy Twill Middies

Made of serviceable, heavy white middy twill with blue flannel detachable collar and cuffs. These are very practical for school wear. Sizes 6 to 14 years. Selling on Wednesday at..... $1.49

Children's Rompers

Made of fine quality lustrous finished broadcloth. Colors of sand, blue, pink, etc. All pretty little styles. Trimmed with fancy braids in contrasting colors. Sizes 2, 3 and 4 years. Priced at.... $1.39

Pillow Cotton

Heavy quality, round thread weave, pure white Circular Pillow Cotton. These are mill ends and come in assorted lengths. In 40 to 44-inch width. A regular 65c value. Selling Wednesday for..... 33c

Fancy Ginghams

Fancy checks and interesting plaids, in the firm practical weave, in a good assortment of light and dark color combinations. Serviceable for women's and children's wear. 32-inch width. Price, yard.. 25c

Cuff Silk Gloves

Milanese Silk Gloves for spring with brilliantly colored cuffs in almond, sand and Long Beach. Sizes 6 to 7½. Priced at..... $1.59

Fancy Gloves

Among the latest arrivals are these Suede Gloves in the swagger cuff style, with novelty cuff, embroidered in contrasting colors. In sand and beige shades. Sizes 6¼ to 7. Price..... $2.75

THE HALL STORE

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Chicago, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he finds Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Chicago and later is attacked by two men, but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—she as the man who got the stub, he as the one of his assailants. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks her engagement and writes Jimmy about it, but the office boy forgets to mail the letter.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. Her disappearance becomes a newspaper sensation. O'Day fills Jimmy's mind with new doubts by telling him he found a picture of Henry Rand in Olga's room.

Jimmy, walking with Barry, suddenly sees Kid Divis, a known intimate of Jensen, boarding a street car. He runs in pursuit, swings aboard the car. When Divis gets off, at the end of the line, Jimmy follows him through lonely streets and dismal fog. He sees Divis enter a house, and, after the door closes behind him, he approaches the house himself.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVII.

Jimmy, a gloom-shrouded figure in the fog, his pulses racing madly—whether from fear or excitement he did not know—slowly approached the house where he had seen Kid Divis disappear.

He stood now just in front of it. A short flight of steps led up to the front door, another short flight down to the basement entrance.

It was the basement entrance which Divis had used and Jimmy made his cautious way down the steps. He stood just outside the door, his ear pressed against a panel. But he heard nothing and for just a brief second he debated whether to try the door and see if he could slip in unheard and unseen.

But he had a change of mind. "Better look around first," and his voice, a low whisper, was eerie-like in the fog.

Again he was suddenly cold, his blood running chill. An involuntary shiver shook him as he stood in the basement entrance trying to decide on some plan of action that would enable him to see inside the houses without himself being discovered.

Fleeting memories came of boy-hood nights before the fireside with thrilling detective fiction. Surely, he thought, none of it was more hair-raising or perilous than this—and this, strangely, was real life. It was impossible, and yet it was true.

He knew, instinctively, that inside this house was the secret to those mysterious warnings he had received; to Olga Maynard's fate; to Jensen's whereabouts; even to his father's murder.

"If only this place wasn't so far from nowhere," he complained. "Foolish to try anything alone. Even more foolish to take the time to get police out here. They might clear out."

He thought of running to the nearest house and asking for help. But the nearest house was a good quarter of a mile away and, besides, how was he to know whether it would be friend or foe living there?

He climbed the stairs again and found himself at the front basement window. He peered at the darkness within, but saw nothing, and the silence was oppressive and fearful.

Slowly he made his way around to the side—the side whence he had seen the light shining down the road. The light was still there, casting a dull glow through a drawn shade. Jimmy bent down and looked.

He thought: "If anyone comes between the light and the window, I'll see his shadow."

He could detect a low murmur of voices, but they seemed far away. And no one moved between the light and the window. There was just that dim, unfriendly glow through the shade.

He strained forward, listening, and suddenly he thought he heard a voice rising on a note of anger. And, while he listened, the voice ceased. There was a brief silence, and then from the room came the sound of a woman's scream. . . .

He checked the cry that sprang to his own lips. The voice was Olga Maynard's.

He turned around helplessly. Should he run for assistance, or should he try to enter the house alone? Would it do any good? It seemed so foolhardy, and yet—God!—Olga had cried out for help. She needed him.

As if in answer to his question, the cry came again. This time it was not a scream, but a low moan.

"God help us!" he cried. "I'm going in," and he ran as swiftly as he could around to the front entrance.

Before the door he paused. Should he try to rush boldly in—maybe by breaking a window—and trust to the value of a surprise attack? Or should he try by stealth?

"Hurry, hurry. Do something." His voice was a desperate whisper.

He cautiously tried the knob of the door that had opened in answer to Divis' knock. He was somehow not surprised to find that it turned. Divis had not locked the door behind him.

He stealthily turned the knob all the way, and then, with a silent prayer that the door swing open without a betraying squeak, he slowly pushed it open until there was enough space for him to push his body past.

Carefully he closed it behind him, felt the latch click home with only a faint sound, and stood in semidarkness in a hallway.

To his left, the door swung open, was an unlighted room. Jimmy judged that it might be a living room or, more probably, one of those old-fashioned basement "parlors."

Just ahead of him, and to his right, was a flight of stairs with thin carpet nearly worn through. And a little farther down the hall, and to his left, a door stood ajar, letting a broad beam of light sift into the darkness.

He judged it was the room through whose window he had first seen the light and outside which he had just been listening. He heard voices—a man's heavy bass, another man's voice, higher pitched.

He had heard that first one. It was Jensen. And he heard the labored, catchy breathing of a woman trying to suppress her sobs.

Then carefully, his hand supporting him against the wall, he tiptoed down the hall and peered into the room, taking pains to keep clear of the beam of light.

There, sitting in a chair, his back to the door, was Kid Divis. He had taken off his coat, but his cap still perched on the back of his head. Directly opposite Divis was Olga, likewise sitting in a chair. Her head was down on her breast. Jimmy could not be sure, but he thought her position indicated she was held in the chair, possibly by a rope around her arms.

And Jensen was standing. He held in his hand a heavy glass tumbler, half filled with whisky, or what Jimmy took for whisky. He drained it and set it down. He turned to Olga, his face brutal with drunkenness.

"Stop your snifflin'," he growled. He raised a heavy paw threateningly.

Jimmy stiffened. If he should strike her he would cast everything to the winds and rush blindly in. It was more than he could bear.

But Jensen changed his mind. His hand fell to his side and he shrugged, poured himself another drink.

"Go easy, Ike," said Divis. "Ain't ya had enough yet?'

"Aw shut up!" came from Jensen, thickly. "Y' make me sick."

Jimmy retreated slowly along the wall. He found himself again before the door that opened on the living room. His foot—luckily, it made no noise—came in contact with a hard object on the floor. He reached down for it, half groping, for he could not distinguish it in the darkness.

He picked it up, and to his touch it felt like a heavy, round metal knob, with a crudely fashioned handle. Holding it up toward the light that sifted from the other room, he beheld what apparently was the broken-off end of a heavy brass andiron.

Then he carefully set it down again and pulled off his overcoat and hat. These he laid on the floor just inside the front room. He picked up the broken andiron again and held it firmly in his right hand.

He stood there in the hall, wondering what he should do—what he COULD do. He wished for Lieutenant O'Day's powerful presence. Strange thoughts flashed through his mind . . . the heroes of those boyhood detective thrillers . . . how feeble and incompetent he looked beside them . . . he was scared—scared stiff—yet he knew that if Jensen laid his hands on Olga again he would dash madly, blindly, into that room and strike out with the crude weapon that he held in his hand.

He grasped the broken andiron more firmly. From the room came Jensen's drink-thickened voice again, his words an indistinguishable blur as they floated through the hall.

Then another sound—from upstairs. He jumped nervously. Loud and clear it came to his ears, the ringing of a telephone bell. It sounded strangely foreign to this old house. It came again, an insistent, long ring.

He heard a chair scrape in the room where he had seen Jensen and the others. Then Jensen's voice:

"Damn telephone. Naw, sit still. Kid, I'll answer it. . . . Probably the big feller wantin' to talk to me. Damn nuisance, the phone's upstairs."

Jimmy heard Jensen's heavy footfalls, saw his shadow move out into the hall and lengthen fantastically on the carpet.

He stepped quickly into the friendly darkness of the front room. Should he swing the andiron as Jensen passed to go up the stairs? Swing at his head with all his might and then leap madly in at Divis?

He decided against it. There was that telephone call. He wanted to know who was calling—whom Jensen had referred to when he spoke of the "big feller."

He stood where he was and let Jensen pass. He could have taken two short steps and reached out with his hand and touched him as he turned to mount the stairs. A sudden plan flashed through his mind as he saw Jensen's broad back moving upward. . .

He waited until the man had reached the floor above, heard him grunt "hello" into the phone, then, his muscles taut his nerves tense, he softly tip-toed, toward the lighted room.

Divis was still seated in the chair with his back to the door, his feet comfortably propped on the bare table. He was sipping slowly from the heavy tumbler that Jensen had been using.

As silently as a cat Jimmy moved. He could stil, hear Jensen's voice, muffled by the distance, at the phone.

And now he stood framed in the doorway. There was Olga, her head drooping wearily. She was tied in the chair, Jimmy saw. He took one cautious step toward Divis and saw Olga suddenly look up, saw the frozen horror on her face as she beheld him.

And Divis—Divis saw it, too. He set the glass down on the table, slowly moved to turn his head. . . .

And then Jimmy sprang forward, raising the hand that held the broken andiron.

(To be continued.)

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Do not use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can not possibly injure the hair.

BETTY COMPSON
Whose growing popularity and beautiful hair are movie topics

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

$170 ROUND TRIP

"These Cunard, Anchor-Donaldson Third Cabin Vacations are a veritable boon to people with moderate incomes."

7 Sailings, Plymouth, Cherbourg, London. June 26, July 10, Aug. 20. To Liverpool July 2, July 30. To Belfast and Glasgow June 25, July 9.

Cunard ANCHOR-DONALDSON LINE to Glasgow

Particulars from The ROBERT REFORD CO., Ltd. TORONTO (Phone Elgin 3471) or any STEAMSHIP AGENT

2

STIRLING NEWS

STIRLING, March 22.—Mrs. Bissonnette is visiting her son, Donald, in Toronto.

Mrs. Norah Wescott spent the week-end with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Harpe Rollins visited her mother at Bunbrae for a few days this week.

Miss Myrtl Spencer is a guest of Campbellford friends.

Mr. John Marshall, manager of the bacon factory, is attending a cheese box conference, staged by the Dominion Dairy Commission in Ottawa this week. The chief object of this conference is to discuss the advisabilty of making cheese of uniform size for export . .

GREAT REJOICING BY RHEMATIC CRIPPLES

If So Crippl You Can't Use Arms or Legs, Ieuma Will Help You or Nothing to Pay

Get a bott of Rheuma today and wear a satisd smile on your face tomorrow.

It's a remly that is astonishing the whole untry, and it's just as good for go, sciatica and lumbago as for rheutism.

It drives he poisonous waste from the jots and muscles—that's the secret oRheuma's success.

But we dot ask you to take our word for it;o to McDermid & Jury or any drudst and get a bottle of Rheuma tod; if it doesn't do as we promise ge your money back. It will be ther waiting for you.

I.O.O.F EUCHRE PARTY.

Norwood Lodge Holds Very Sucessful Social in Hall.

NORWOD, March 23.—Norwood Lodg I.O.O.F. held a very successful pogressive euchre party in the lodgerooms on Friday evening. Miss Dienel was successful in winning the irst prize for ladies and Mrs. J. S. Weir won the second prize. Mr. J S. Weir won the first prize for the gentlemen and Mr. George Graham won second prize. There were fourteen tables played.

Mrs. Mortimer Clarke spoke to the Woman Missionary Society of the United church in Tweed on Thursday evening. She addressed a meeting held in the United church, Havelock.

WELCOME W.M.S. ANNUAL MEETING

Officers For Coming Year Are Elected—Reports Read.

WELCOME, March 23.—The annual meeting of the Welcome W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Elford on Thursday, March 18.

The president, Mrs. E. H. Martyn presided.

Mrs. E. J. Symons read the devotional lesson, followed by a leaflet, "Answered Prayer" read by Mrs. Crossley. Mrs. J. Pearce gave a reading, "The story of the first Easter Sunday."

Reports were heard from the corresponding secretary regarding the literature ordered, and from the treasurer, regarding the money raised. The different superintendents reported on their various departments. The group leaders then gave their reports.

Group "A" served lunch at three meetings and gave voluntarily. Amount, $20.30.

Group "B" had two meetings, gave a missionary tea and birthday money. Amount, $26.17.

Group "C" had two meetings, had a concert and gave birthday money. Amount, $26.86.

It was decided that the three vice-presidents be group leaders for next year.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. E. H. Martyn.
First Vice-Pres. — Mrs. E. J. Staples.
Second Vice-Pres.—Mrs. F. Little.
Third Vice-Persident— Mrs. A. Lewis.
Recording Secretary— Mrs. W. Symons.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. D. R. Clare.
Corresponding Secretary — Miss Thyra Martyn.
Treasurer—Mrs. Clare Symons.

The superintendents are to be appointed at the next meeting.

Mrs. E. H. Martyn, Mrs. D. R. Clare and Mrs. A. Lewis were the delegates appointed to attend the Presbyterial in Cobourg on April 20th. A dainty lunch was served by Group "C."

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

Red Rose Orange Pekoe is extra good. Won't you try it this time?

WELCOME NEWS

Rev. D. R. Clare was in Toronto this week.

Mrs. Graham of Peterobor is visiting her mother, Mrs. Fanning.

Miss Heien and Master Jack Brown entertained their friends at a masquerade party on Wednesday night. The costumes were both pretty and varied. The evening passed pleaasntly with contests and games. Later, waltzing and the old-fashioned square dances were indulged in.

On Friday Messrs. W. and A. Lewis attended Mrs. Moore's sale in Hamilton township.

Mrs. D. R. Clare spent the week end with her parents in Omemee.

Mrs. P. Andrews, who has been sriously ill with pneumonia, is slowly improving.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE BACKACHE DIABETES
4087 "THE PROPRIETORS"

FURNITURE ON CREDIT

Here's your opportunity to furnish your home complete from attic to cellar and

SAVE 25 to 35%

Furniture of all kinds—beds, bedding, carpets, rugs, stoves, floor coverings, baby carriages, floor lamps, etc. sold on to suit you. Prices guaranteed lowest in city.

EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS

$1.00 opens an account with us.

Home Furnishing Co.
208 Charlotte St.

Money-Saving Day in Cressman's Bargain Annex

SOMETHING NEW FOR THOSE WHO WOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF AN OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE MONEY

A Surprise Special

Will appear in our South George St. Window every day until the end of the month, and selling for one day only. Just occasionally will this Surprise Special be advertised. It will pay you to come and see this window every night. The values are truly exceptional. Monday we sold 50c Wabasso Circular Pillo wCotton for 34c, and today we sold Ladies' 50c Art Silk Hose, all perfects, for 29c. Wednesday it will be Graniteware.

A GREAT VALUE IN English Colored Bath Towels

Wednesday 49c Each

Large size, heavy quality, colored striped centres and borders, with fringed ends. Mostly values that show a saving of one-third to one-half of regular prices. Come sharp at nine o'clock for best selection.

Cressman's—Street Level and Bargain Annex.

9 A.M. TO 11 A.M.—TWO HOURS ONLY WEDNESDAY MORNING

Largest 12-4 Size Klondyke Flannelette Blankets

$2.19 Pair

A just-arrived shipment of Klondyke Flannelette Blankets selling for one day only—Wednesday. Less than wholesale cost of this excellent quality Canadian-made line. All are white with pink or blue borders.

Bargain Annex Only, Fourth Floor

A JUST-ARRIVED SHIPMENT OF 40-WATT

Tungston Lamps 19c

Selling in the Bargain Annex Wednesday.
No phone orders. Limit four Lamps.

Cressman's—Fourth Floor

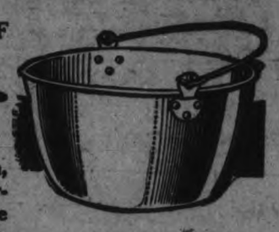
9 A.M. TO 10.30 A.M.

ONCE AGAIN A NINETY-MINUTE SALE OF

Ladies' Balbriggan Bloomers, Wed'y 25c

Ladies' Fine Quality Balbriggan Bloomers in white and an assortment of colors. Good sizes.
No phone orders. Limit of four garments.

Cressman's—Bargain Annex, Fourth Floor



Bargain Annex Surprise Special For Wednesday!

A GREAT DAY'S SELLING OF THE WELL-KNOWN FIRST QUALITY

"HESPELER GREY"

Granite Ware

Any Article 63c

This is a new shipment of splendid wearing utensils. Strongly made to withstand the rough usage usually given pots, pans and other articles about the kitchen. In the shipment are Dish Pans, Round Roasters, Straight Sauce Pans, London Kettles, Preserving Kettles, Water Pails and Potato Pots.

WEDNESDAY, ANY ARTICLE 63c

ON SALE FOURTH FLOOR ONLY—NO PHONE ORDERS

WE FEEL CONFIDENT YOU WILL APPRECIATE THESE

Wednesday Bargain Annex Values

34-INCH HEAVY QUALITY FLANNELETTE 23c
LADIES' ART SILK HOSE (SUBSTANDARDS) 33c
LADIES' SILK STRIPE VESTS AND BLOOMERS 39c
GOOD QUALITY WHITE STEAMLOOM 17c
FOUR-STRING CORN BROOMS (NO DELIVERIES) .. 29c
SPECIAL SELLING OF WASH GOODS AND GINGHAMS, YARD 25c

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

"The Store of Smiling Service"

BUY

Hemstitched Pillow Cases

IN THE BARGAIN ANNEX WEDNESDAY

24c Each

A new March shipment of Hemstitched Pillow Cases. Plain or stamped for embroidery. Full size. On Sale in the Bargain Annex only.

Cressman's—Fourth Floor

WEDNESDAY IS 19c HOSIERY DAY IN THE BARGAIN ANNEX

Ladies' 50c Mercerized Lisle Hose

ALL PERFECTS IN COLORS OF GREY AND BROWN. SUBSTANDARDS IN COLORS OF BLACK, BROWN AND SAND

19c

And Boys' and Girls' Fine Ribbed Cotton Hose (some imperfect) in colors of black and sand. Nearly one thousand pairs in all and all priced for the Bargain Annex Biggest Hosiery Day. Wednesday, 19c.
No phone orders.

Cressman's—Fourth Floor

OUR SPECIAL 25c HEAVY QUALITY

Yard-Wide Factory Cotton

19c

There is only a limited quantity, and the regular selling price is 25c, so we urge you to come early. Selling one day only in the Bargain Annex and Street Level. Wednesday, 19c.

Cressman's—Street Level and Bargain Annex.

RUBBERS

On Sale in the Bargain Annex Wednesday

For the next few weeks our streets will no doubt be quite wet most of the time. Many a serious illness comes from wet feet. Come Wednesday and procure a pair of these first quality Rubbers. Priced according to size.

WOMEN'S, BLACK OR BROWN 95c
MISSES' AND YOUTHS', SIZES 11 TO 2 .... 84c
CHILDREN'S, SIZES UP TO 10 ..... 69c

Cressman's—Bargain Annex, Fourth Floor

CONSERVATIVE ACCUSES LABOR MEMBER OF TRYING TO STIR UP, ETC.

(Continued from page one.)

Mr. Woodsworth wondered "If our flagwagger in Canada will follow the British lead so closely with Labor and Socialist ideals again prevail there."

Woodsworth's Motive.

W. W. Kennedy (Conservative, Winnipeg South Centre) asked what the motive was behind Mr. Woodsworth's resolution.

"I submit that this resolution deserves nothing better than to be buried by this House without bell, book or candle. It deserves short shrift," he said.

When had the Mother Country ever demanded that Canada participate in Empire wars? Mr. Kennedy asked. Canada, it was true, had entered into some of the Empire wars, but her entry had been by her own choice and by that alone. There had been no compulsion. She had answered the call of the national need, and the call kith and kin across the water. He hoped that she would do so again.

"Why declare that we will not do something which we are not bound to do?" asked Mr. Kennedy. He hoped that nothing would be done that would not add to our stature as Canadians.

Mr. Kennedy repeatedly clashed with Mr. Woodsworth.

What was behind the resolution? again asked Mr. Kennedy. He did not think it was a "sincere desire on the part of the hon. member to help Canada."

"I say his purpose is simply to gain a little kudos," said Mr. Kennedy, "with a certain little group of agitators in this country of whom we as Canadians should be ashamed."

Mr. Woodsworth immediately asked for a withdrawal. His sincerity, he said, was questioned.

Mr. Speaker remarked that all members of the House were supposed to be "honest and sincere." He hoped that Mr. Kennedy would be kind enough to make a withdrawal.

Mr. Kennedy replied that on the ruling of the chair he would withdraw his remarks regarding lack of sincerity. He now, however, questioned the motive of Mr. Woodsworth in introducing the resolution.

Anthem Incident.

He recalled an incident which occurred on the night of the adjournment. Mr. Woodsworth had only a few days ago risen to a question of privilege in connection with newspaper accounts of this incident. In his explanation to the House Mr. Woodsworth stated that he had not risen to his feet when the National Anthem was being sung, partly because he was not aware of the fact and partly because he did not particularly approve of the circumstances and conditions under which it was sung.

Mr. Kennedy desired to draw attention to another incident in which Mr. Woodsworth had not risen to his feet when the National Anthem was being sung. Subsequent to the general election and prior to the convening of Parliament, the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining Metallurgy had held a dinner. Mr. Kennedy was present in addition to Mr. Woodsworth and A. L. Heaps (Labor, Winnipeg North). On that occasion, although all three were guests, Mr. Woodsworth and Mr. Heaps had remained seated while the King was being toasted.

Mr. Woodsworth again jumped to his feet. This statement, he declared, was "absolutely untrue." Mr. Heaps also denied the statement.

Mr. Speaker ruled that Mr. Kennedy should withdraw.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, pointed out that Mr. Kennedy had himself been present on this particular occasion. Surely he was in as good position as Mr. Woodsworth to observe what transpired.

Mr. Kennedy remarked that apparently under the rules of the House he could not question Mr. Woodsworth's sincerity. Mr. Woodsworth, however, evidently could characterize a statement made by him as untrue.

Speaker Lemieux ruled that the statement should be withdrawn.

"I defer to your ruling," said Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. Woodsworth asked for a withdrawal.

"I reneat it is true," heatedly retorted Mr. Kennedy.

Speaker Lemieux again intervened to ask for a withdrawal.

The Winnipeg Strike.

Mr. Kennedy referred to the Winnipeg strike. Mr. Heaps, Mr. Kennedy said, had been "clever enough to be acquitted when he was tried following that strike." But, added Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Heaps and his confrere, Mr. Woodsworth, "were the prime movers in that strike."

Mr. Woodsworth declared that he had not arrived in Winnipeg until the strike was in progress. He could not therefore have been a "prime mover" in the strike.

Mr. Woodsworth was continuing to speak further when objection was made by Mr. Meighen.

Mr. Meighen stated that Mr. Woodsworth could not "under the shield of privilege" deliver another speech.

Mr. Woodsworth repeated that he denied that he had been a prime mover in that strike.

Entitled to Explain.

Mr. Meighen, persisting in his objection, the Speaker ruled that Mr. Woodsworth was entitled to make an explanation on a question of privilege. "If I was accused of being an arch conspirator behind the Winnipeg strike, I would feel that I had a right to explain on a question of privilege," said Speaker Lemieux.

Mr. Woodsworth explained that he did not arrive in Winnipeg until the strike had been in progress for three weeks, when an Order-in-Council had been passed by the Government of which the leader of the Opposition was the leader, depriving certain people of their right of trial by jury——

Mr. Meighen intervened on a question of privilege. "We have got where I expected," he said. "Now I want to make a speech on that." He said that the legislation referred to by Mr. Woodsworth had not been passed by the Government of which he was head. Also it did not deprive anyone of his right of trial by jury.

Mr. Meighen was going on when, as a number of members shouted for order, Speaker Lemieux again intervened. The Speaker ruled that there could not be a long explanation on a question of privilege.

"I yield to your ruling," said Mr. Meighen. "It is entirely right." He would only ask that it be applied to Mr. Woodsworth.

Mr. Woodsworth continued his explanation and again Mr. Meighen rose.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, rose simultaneously on a point of order. There was much pounding of desks and crying of order as the three members all tried to get a hearing.

Speaker Lemieux asked that the members respect the rules of the House. He declared that he was satisfied with the statement of Mr. Woodsworth that he was not one of the chief movers in the Winnipeg strike and that this statement must be accepted by Mr. Kennedy.

"I bow to your ruling," said Mr. Kennedy. Then he turned again to Mr. Woodsworth. "Were you one of those who assisted in forwarding the strike in question?" Mr. Kennedy asked.

Repeats Statement.

Mr. Woodsworth said that after the legislation which he referred to had been passed, and after a British subject whom he knew had been "threatened with deportation by the hon. gentleman who leads the Opposition"——

"I rise to a point of order. That statement is absolutely false. I demand it be withdrawn," interrupted Mr. Meighen.

The Speaker asked for a withdrawal.

"What am I to withdraw?" asked Mr. Woodsworth.

The Speaker explained that Mr. Meighen had denied the statement just made.

"Very well, Mr. Speaker, I withdraw until such"——

"Withdraw absolutely," shouted a number of the Conservative members.

The Speaker said that the withdrawal must be made absolutely, and Mr. Woodsworth agreed.

Mr. Kennedy continued. He said that Mr. Heaps had stated earlier in the session that he had never heard of a precedent being broken but it gave him pleasure. He charged that behind the resolution was the purpose of stirring up the country into dissension and discord.

Fatten on Discord.

"Discord and dissention are the meat and drink upon which these Labor members from Winnipeg fatten," declared Mr. Kennedy. They were more concerned with keeping alive the small discontents of Labor than in the solving of the real problems. "If the Winnipeg Labor members are the true representatives of Labor in this country, then God help Labor," he declared.

The Government had been saved early in the session by a majority of three votes. Two would have been sufficient to change the decision. The Government had, in fact, been maintained in office by these two Labor members from Winnipeg.

Mr. Lapointe rose to a point of order and declared that three-fourths of Mr. Kennedy's speech had been out of order and irrelevant to the subject.

Mr. Kennedy concluded that Canada was the senior member of the Empire partnership. She would be in the future, as in the past, prepared to accept her responsibilities.

Henri Bourassa.

Henri Bourassa (Independent, Labelle) said nothing would be gained by minimizing the problem of Imperial relations.

Mr. Bourassa declared that the present was the proper time to consider the subject matter of the resolution. The Empire was at peace, and careful study should be given in a serious manner before the next Imperial Conference.

BOYS ARE GUESTS AT C.G.I.T. BANQUET

Girls Entertain Members of C.S.E.T. Squares—Lakefield News.

LAKEFIELD, March 23.—Mrs. (Rev.) S. A. Kemp and the C.G.I.T. group of the Regent street church entertained the Katchewanooka and Star squares of the Tuxis Boys and Trail Rangers at a unique and most enjoyable party on Wednesday night in the basement of the Regent street church. The large room was decorated with green and white and the tables were laid in the oblong form and were decorated with green streamers, shamrocks and other symbols of Saint Patrick's day. The two long tables were centred with cleverly designed pens of green pigs, each in charge of a green clad swineherd. The shorter tables were each centred with harps, the national musical instrument of Ireland. Shamrock cutouts hung from the white streamers on the electroliers and even the bountiful and delicious "eats" carried out the idea of the day.

About seventy were present, including twenty-seven girls of the C.G.I.T. group, wearing their uniforms consisting of navy shirts, white middies with blue collars trimmed with white braid and the C.G.I.T. monogram on the left sleeve. The girls looked neat and trim and many compliments were paid to their appearance by the boys. One boy remarked, "I wish girls would dress that way all the time, they look so nice."

After a programme of games and promenades supper was served by a committee of ladies and to the abundant repast the young people did full justice. Among the adults were Rev. and Mrs. Kemp, Rev. P. L. Jull and Mr. A. B. Burrows, Mentors of the Star and Katchewanooka Squares respectively, and Mrs. Burrows. Brief speeches were given and the following medals were presented in connection with the recent bond selling campaign: to Russell Payne and Harry Sherin, silver medals and to Donald Kidd, Ivan Crowe, Lemuel Pammett, Gordon Porter, Ted Leonard Jack Leonard, Stanley Darling and Sam Spence, bronze medals.

The evening was most enjoyable and marks an epoch in the history of young people's work in the village.

The Mission Band of the Regent street church held a very successful concert on Tuesday evening in the basement of the church, Rev. S. A. Kemp presided and in his address he stressed the value of training the young in the knowledge of missions and of giving the children a definite part in church life. Those engaged in this work have both a responsiblity and a privilege.

Each number was well given and well received by the audience which was large and appreciative.

The following is the programme: Chorus, the Mission Band; prayer; chairman's address, Rev. S. A. Kemp; recitation; Earl Robinson; recitation, Isobel Brown; solo, Thelma Bullock; recitation, Gray Kemp; solo, Donald Smith; piano solo, Evelyn Grant; recitation, Ralph Darling; solo, Mila Bogue; recitation, Robert Spence; Teddy Bear drill; recitation, Douglas Smith; duet, May and Emily Payne; recitation, Vivian and Jack Hendren; Orchestra selection; piano duet, Marion Wagar and Mildred Purdy; chorus, "Be Happy"; play, "Inasmuch," C.G.I.T. group; duet, Evan and Jack Hendren; Orchestra selection; drill, Canada and her Provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Payne entertained a few friends on Tuesday in honor of Mr. Payne's seventy-first birthday. Mr. Payne, who is an ardent devotee of the sport of Isaak Walton, was presented with a beautiful fishing rod accompanied by many good wishes for a lucky catch.

A lucky number night was held on Wednesday at the rink. Miss Mary Johnston, with number 36, was the winner of the prize.

A sign of spring is the appearance and popularity of ice cream cones at the rink. Mr. H. J. Brown, who has the refreshment stand, has done a thriving trade in cones for the past week. Cones have supplanted the hot dogs so popular in mid winter.

A building 250 feet higher than the Eiffel tower is proposed in New York City.

CHEMONG ROAD BAD AT PRESENT

Number of Accidents Are Reported During the Week End.

LOADS OVERTURNED.

The effects of sun and rain on the country roads are reflected in the large number of mishaps that have taken place on Chemong Road during the past few days. A load of wood, that had been overturned, lay all week end on Sanderson's hills. Another unfortunate teamster had the mortification of seeing his load overturned twice within a quarter of an hour. Still another on the Fourth Line of Smith upset his rig and his load, which consisted of hogs, disported themselves in lively fashion among the snow until they were all recaptured.

REBEKAH HEAD VISITS BRANCH

Sister F. Donaldson Pays an Official Visit to Millbrook.

MILLBROOK, March 23.—The official visit of Sister Francis Donaldson, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, to Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge No. 176, on Friday evening, was an event of special importance.

Sister B. Watt, Past President of the Assembly, accompanied Mrs. Donaldson, and two candidates, Sister Lila White, and Brother Harold Rowan were initiated into the Rebekah Degree, the ceremony being under the supervision of the Degree Captain, Brother P. I. Bentley, P.G., with Sisters Mina Bradley, P.N.G., Irene Fallis, P.N.G., Ethel Vance, P.N.G. and Mabel Fallis, P.N.G., in the respective chairs.

At the conclusion of the business session the president gave an inspiring address, explaining the progress and ideals of the Order in a most helpful manner leaving all present with a desire to cooperate more fuly with the privileges of Oddfellowship, and the opportunities which are possible through this connection.

Sister Watt, who is always warmly welcomed in the local Lodge, also spoke briefly, her description of the I.O.O.F. Home in Toronto inspiring pride in the work which the institution is so worthily accomplishing.

Adjournment was later made to the dining-hall which was appropriately decorated for the occasion, shaded lights, streamers, etc., in the Rebekah colors, while vases of marigolds added to the attractiveness of the well-laden tables. The social committee of the Oddfellows Lodge, under convener Brother F. N. Alcorn, had kindly looked after the supper preparations so that none of the Rebekahs need miss the session during the president's visit.

A toast list followed the banquet, Brother P. I. Bentley, P.G., being toast master.

Following the toast to "The King," the list included: "The Grand Lodge," proposed by Brother V. R. Hunter, P.G., Sister Donaldson, president of the Rebekah Assembly, responding; "The Home on the Hills," proopsed by Brother Wilbert Thorne, and responded to by Sister Watt, Past President of the Rebekah Assembly; "Our Order", proposed by Brother H. A. Fallis, P.G., and to this Brother R. I. Fallis, Noble Grand of the local I.O.O.F. Lodge, was to have responded, but owing to his absence through illness Bro. Bentley took his place; "The Ladies" proposed by Brother T. H. Bradley, P.G., Sister B. P. Burnham responding.

The attendance was smaller than the importance of the occasion warranted but because of the unfavorable state of the roads many from the country were unable to be present; between seventy and eighty sat down to the banquet.

Sister Watt intimated that the degree team from one of the Toronto Lodges is to visit Golden Links Rebekah Lodge, Peterborough, in May, and invited the local Lodge to be guests of its sister organization on that evening. As it will be possible by that time to travel by motor, and as the Millbrook Lodge has spent several very pleasant evenings with the Lodge in Peterborough, it is porbable that a considerable number of the members will gladly accept the invitation.

OBITUARY.

JOHN CRAIGHEAD

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23.—Ernest and William Craighead of the English Line have returned from Alpena, Mich., to which city they were called by a telegram announcing that their brother, John, had been accidentally killed. When they reached Alpena they learned that their brother had been struck by one of the automatic cars that are operated in connection with the stone quarries and that death must have been instantaneous. These cars are run without a motorman and the unfortunate man was dragged a considerable distance, his body being badly mutilated.

The late John Craighead was born in Seymour Township, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Craighead, but had resided in Alpena for about 30 years. He is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter. Ernest and William Craighead of the English Line, and Thomas of Saskatnoon are brothers. The sisters are Mrs. William Hay and Mrs. Fred Strollery of Seymour, and Mrs. Miles Wilson of Yarker.

ARRESTED FOR DESERTING WIFE

Toronto Man Also Charged With Abducting His Daughter.

COUNTER CHARGES.

WINDSOR, Mar. 23 (Canadian Press)—Wanted at Toronto on a warrant said to charge him with wife desertion and abduction of his five year old daughter, Dr. Max Mayer, 32 years old, was arrested at Leamington yesterday morning by Constable Athol White, of the Provincial Police.

Taken to Windsor police headquarters, Dr. Mayer refused to give up possession of the child. He said he wanted to prefer counter charges against some members of his family.

MAN'S FALL FATAL.

THREE RIVERS, Que., March 23.— Rev. Sister Francois-Xavier, 60, Mother Superior of the Ursulines Convent, was instantly killed here Monday, when she fell from the top of a stairway.

Grippe

Now when the germs of Grippe abound, physicians advise keeping the bowels open. Constipation poisons the blood, lowering your resistance to the germs of infectious diseases.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time.

Ask your druggist for Nujol.

Nujol FOR CONSTIPATION

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Mrs. L. D. Crowe of Kingston and her little nieces, Bernice and Doreen Quinn of Calgary were guests of Miss Helen Quinn, 32 Cricket Place, for the past few days.

* * *

Visitors in the city for the reception at Mount St. Joseph were Mr. R. I. Quinn, Miss Genevieve Quinn, R.N. of Detroit, also Miss Geraldine Moran of North Bay, who were guests of Miss Helen Quinn, 32 Cricket Place.

* * *

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Mary Carey, 529 Albert street, last Tuesday, before her departure for Moose Jaw, where she has been transferred from the local branch of the Barrie Limited to the Moose Jaw branch. During the evening she was presented with a handsome hat box from the members of the Park street Sunday School, of which she was a member. The address was read by Mrs. Richardson, and the presentation made by Mrs. Deyell. She was also presented with a silk parasol from the "Lucky Seven Club," an address being read by Miss Wilson and the presentation made by Miss Rose Williams. The evening was spent in games and dancing.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT THE THINGS THAT INTEREST THE BUSY WOMAN OF 1926.

SUITS.

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, March 23 (United Press).—The suit is coming into it's own again. For several seasons suits have been flitting in and out of style in various ensemble disguises. This spring, however, we shall see the little two-piece suit which takes it's lines from the popular jumper frock parading in all it's glory.

Practicality and smartness are combined in the new short jacket ensemble. The frock beneath the short jacquet is sleeveless or short-sleeved so that it is practical for sports or an afternoon bridge or tea. The jacket is of jumper length, generally blousing a bit over a low-placed belt of self fabric. When the jacket is worn one has a smart street suit ready for any day occasion and then the jacket is removed it remains for the blouse portion to say whether it's a tea time or sports frock.

For dressy occasions the blouse may be made of silk crepe matching the shade of the woolen suit fabric. It may be embroidered or trimmed with gorgeously colored sleeves, etc. While for sports wear the upper portion of the frock is generally V-necked, short-sleeved and made of the same material as the jacket.

On some dressy models the coat matches the trimmings of the dress rather than the dress itself. Thus the coat may be of solid embroidered material matching the embroidery used on the frock.

Twill or tweed with a sleeveless bodice portion of silk crepe is both practical and comfortable for early Spring. Greens, blues and bois de rose shades are those which will be popular as Spring advances.

Bolero jackets worn with frocks which have colorful bodices are smart on slender persons. One sees many of these in the Misses' departments. Some are simple affairs of navy twill or light weight worsted worn with white silk bodices with Eton collars and red string ties. Skirts may be pleated or circular.

TRIAL COSTS $6,000.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 22. — (Canadian Press.)—The preliminary hearing of Joseph X. Hearst, who is being tried on charges of fraud, arising out of the failure of the Hearst Music Publishers of Canada, Ltd., has cost the Government $6,000 to date, according to Hon. R. W. Craig, Provincial Attorney-General. The hearing has been proceeding since the middle of December, 1925. More than 120 witnesses have been examined and about 1,100 exhibits filed.

Man is created free, and is free, even though born in chains.—Schiller.

Fine for catarrh when melted in a spoon or snuffed up the nose and vapors inhaled.

Head and Chest Colds Relieved In a New Way

A Salve which Releases Medicated Vapors when Applied Over Throat and Chest.

Inhaled as a vapor and, at the same time absorbed through the skin like a liniment, Vicks VapoRub reaches immediately inflamed, congested air passages.

This is the modern direct treatment for all cold troubles that is proving so popular in Canada and the States where over 17 million jars are now used yearly.

Splendid for sore throat, tonsilitis, bronchitis, croup, head and chest colds, catarrh, asthma or hay fever.

Just rub Vicks over throat and chest and inhale the medicated vapors. It quickly loosens up a cold.

VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

ECLIPSE FASHIONS
Exclusive Patterns by Hazel Burgess

1246

The New Costume Blouse

Fashioned of a lovely printed and bordered material, is this over-blouse of Russian influence that is almost a dress, so long in length is it. Fine tucks define the hips, and create just enough fulness to give the new bloused effect at the sides. Note the smart arrangement of the tie collar at neck, and front opening back to form a V. A sleeve extension is joined to the kimono shoulders and gathered into bands at the wrists. No. 1246 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 2⅝ yards 40-inch all plain material, or 2¼ yards 54-inch bordered material as illustrated. Price 20 cents.

The secret of distinctive dress lies in good taste rather than a lavish expenditure of money. Every woman should want to make her own clothes, and the home dressmaker will find the designs illustrated in our new Fashion Book to be practical and simple, yet maintaining the spirit of the mode of the moment. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Pattern Purchase Coupon

Address Fashion Department, Evening Examiner

No. ..... Street .....

Name .....

Pattern Number ..... Size .....

Town .....

Province .....

Amount Enclosed .....

Price 20 cents each—coin preferred

Menus for the Family

(By Sister Mary.)

Breakfast—Orange juice, cereal cooked with dates, thin cream, crisp graham toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Creamed sardines, lettuce sandwiches, whipped fruit jelly, walnut crackers, milk, tea.

Dinner—Boiled mutton, caper sauce, steamed brown rice, turnips in lemon sauce, head lettuce with combination salad dressing, rhubarb custard pie, bran bread, milk, coffee.

Children under school age should be served a poached egg on toast in place of the creamed sardines on toast. However, the sardines are so "tasty" that the recipe follows. This is a good chafing dish concoction.

Creamed Sardines.

One box large sardines, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1-2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, triangles of crisp toast, 2 hard cooked eggs, parsley.

Remove skin and bones from sardines. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. When mixture boils add salt, paprika and lemon juice. Add whites of eggs finely chopped and sardines, whole or broken as preferred. Keep hot over hot water. Arrange toast on a hot platter, cover with creamed fish and sprinkle with yolks of egg forced through a ricer. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve.

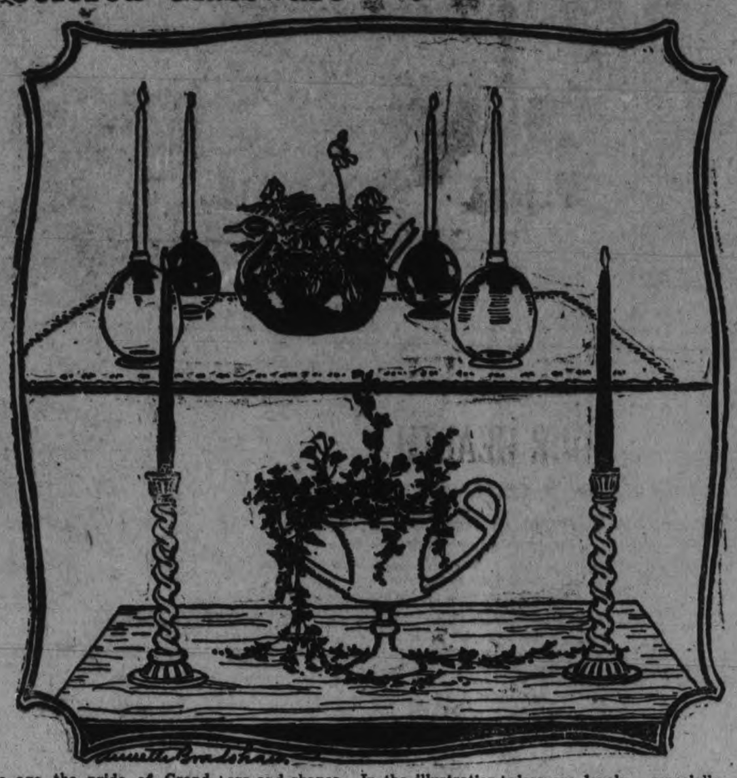
This makes a most attractive looking dish as well as an unusually delicious one.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

CANADIAN PACIFIC TRAIN SERVICE, TORONTO-TWEED.

Toronto-Tweed— Effective April 1st, training leaving Toronto 5.10 p.m. daily except Sunday, operating Toronto to Havelock, will operate through to Tweed, arriving at 10.20 p.m. Commencing April 2nd, train for Toronto now leaving Havelock 6.40 a.m. daily except Sunday, will be operated from Tweed leaving at 5.30 a.m.

Colored Glassware -:- By Annette Bradshaw



Years ago the pride of Grandmother's life was the colored glassware with which she decorated the "sideboard" and china closet, and it was only on special occasions that it was brought out for use. Then fickle Dame Fashion decreed that only glassware of the purest crystal was correct, and the lovely colored glasses went into the discard. But the pendulum has swung back and now attics and antique shops are being searched for the old time glasses and bottles and dishes of colored glass.

The lovely venetian glassware can be had in the most wonderful colors and shapes. In the illustration above, the centre-piece is a flower dish shaped like a swan, in a rich crimson glass, with crystal bill and tail. The candlesticks are old wine bottles of the same shade. These are used in place of the more formal silver and add a charming note of color to the table.

In the lower illustration, the centre-piece chosen is an urn of creamy Italian pottery. The twisted candlesticks are also of pottery and the effect was adorable, as the urn had been filled with ivy and the candles matched the green of the ivy.

Where a low centre-piece is desired, the low, flat bowls of colored glass are lovely, especially when they have one or two of the artificial lotus blossoms floating on the surface, or several short stemmed roses in a glass frog, or one can fill the dish with pansies or violets.

Where one does not care for the highly colored glassware, there is a wide choice of iridescent glassware that is altogether charming.

The use of the colored glass need not be confined to the dining table. Candlesticks, bowls, flower vases and dishes, even aquariums are to be had in color that will give a restful note of harmony to the living-room. But like everything else, don't overdo it, because "enough is plenty."

HER OWN WAY
by a Girl of Today

AN EMBARRASSING QUESTION.

Although I didn't know why, Jerry Hathaway inspired me with confidence. I wasn't nearly as blue as when I came into the restaurant. I felt as though I had a host about me, for with Mamie and Jimmy and now Mr. Hathaway, I knew that at least I had someone to go to if I got into trouble.

I trusted Jerry Hathaway immediately, and I could see that Jimmy thought he was about all there was in friends.

"I'm really glad I'm out of the place, Mr. Hathaway," I said. "I hated it from the first, but it paid good money and I presume if something like this had not happened, I would have stayed there a while longer.

"I don't believe I'm as cocky, Jimmy, as I was when I left home, and that weekly pay check from the Beaux Arts stood between me and starvation."

"Judy," said Jimmy Costello, seriously. "Do you realize that you've got on awfully well? Think of the girls that have been turned out on the streets as you might have been. When I think of that outfit over there and how they treated you and will probably treat other girls as they come, I just want to go and wipe up the floor with all of them. As it is, you found a good friend in Mamie Riley who took you into her home and heart. And, just when you couldn't stand it any longer I came onto the stage and now Jerry'll get you back your money tomorrow and that'll make you easy until you get another job."

"Why didn't you take Miss Dean into your office, Jim?"

Jimmy Costello reddened.

"She's not a stenographer," he stammered by way of explanation.

"Oh," was Mr. Hathaway's comment, and by his tone I knew that Jim had girls in his office that were not typists.

I confess I was angry and hurt. What was there about me that made it impossible for James Costello to take me into his office? I made up my mind to ask him the moment Mr. Hathaway left us. I was glad that our spaghetti came in at that moment for it gave me a chance to be silent and I was afraid if I spoke I would burst into tears.

Jim noticed that I was very quiet and he knew why but he refrained from making any comment.

Jerry Hathaway excused himself when the coffee appeared. He, too, felt the coldness of the amosphere.

"Where will I bring your money, Miss Dean?" he asked.

(To be continued.)

SUING CAROL

The above photograph shows a recent study of Zizi Lambrino, first wife of the ex-Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, and her little son. Prince Carol's marriage to Zizi Lambrino was annuled by the Rumanian courts. Now that he has renounced his rights to the throne his ex-wife, Zizi, has brought suit against him in France, where Carol is now.

FLAPPER FANNY says

You don't have to be a taxidermist to stuff a chicken.

When two Abyssinians have a dispute they ask the first intelligent man they see to act as judge, and his decision is accepted as final.

Cuticura Soap Shampoos Keep The Scalp Healthy

Regular shampoos with a suds of Cuticura Soap and hot water, preceded by light applications of Cuticura Ointment, are most effective. They do much to cleanse the scalp of dandruff, allay irritation, stimulate circulation and promote the healthy condition necessary to a luxuriant growth of hair.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address Canadian Depot: "Bienhouse, Ltd., Montreal." Price, Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c.
Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

ADVICE TO GIRLS
By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young girl in my teens and am coming to you for advice.

I met a young man over three months ago at a dance and I seemed to like him real well, but just thought that he was another fellow that would pass out of my mind in a short while. But instead of that he made a date with me before the dance was over, and I accepted it, and went with him steady until about two weeks ago.

Dear Annie, there is another girl. It is the same girl that introduced me to him that he took out before I met him, and when I started to go with him he told me not to go out with her that I was a better girl than she was, and I promised him I wouldn't. I see that now he is taking her out himself, but he didn't want me to know it, but I found it out just the same.

We are of different religion, and his people did not like the idea of him going out with me either, so do you think that this is why he takes this other girl out? I really believe he loves me as much as I love him.

Hoping to see my letter in the Examiner as soon as possible.

BROKEN-HEARTED.

BROKEN-HEARTED: I may not be much consolation to you to tell you this, but you are only one of thousands of girls who get into such triangular situations. It is a pity that you took this young man so seriously. After warning you about this other girl, and giving you the idea that she was not as good as you, he goes back to her again. He may have had a quarrel with her and told you this to get even with her, or he may have wished to prevent her from telling you all that she knew about him by making you break off acquaintanceship with her, or again, you may be too quiet for him and he has gone back to a different type of girl. Figure it out for yourself, but do not forget in any case that he is not of the highest type of man.

If the religious aspect has cropped up, and his people object to you on account of difference in creed, you have another problem to face altogether, and, again, if he has not stamina enough to stick by you against their wishes (as you say that he loves you) he is once more showing the yellow streak. After all, the world is very wide, and there are hundreds of people in a city like this who will be better friends to you than either of these. As you are in your teens, I advise you to shake your life free from both of these people and go your own way, apart from them entirely. They are not worth the trouble they are giving you, and you will come in time to realize that this love is merely a shadow of the real thing. A real affection does not regard religion or anything else. It steps around such things and goes straight ahead.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

TOOLS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To speed up kitchen work time and labor-saving tools must be at hand. In most families two regular meals are served each day, with, in the average home, a light luncheon.

A conveniently arranged kitchen is the first necessity, with plenty of hot water, modern plumbing, an up-to-date stove, plenty of daylight and electric light, good ventilation and sunlight. In the porcelain sink a three-sided white enameled strainer saves steps while preparing dinner, and a step-hinge garbage bucket saves bending one's back when clearing up after dinner.

The meat grinder should be washed and dried and put in its box after each using and not allowed to remain screwed to the table, where it is in the way and gets dusty as well. If a coffee mill is used it also should be covered when not in use. All kitchen cutlery should be washed, sharpened and returned to the drawer in perfect condition after each using. Meat saw, small cleaver and chopping knife should be kept bright and sharp.

Almost anything can be used as a mold, bowls of various sizes and little after-dinner coffee cups make splendid individual molds for jellies in an emergency. It is foolish to collect a lot of stuff that is seldom used unless pantry room is plentiful.

Among the kitchen basting spoons don't forget the ladle which is so very handy at serving time, for it holds just enough soup for a serving. The ladle and spoons should hang within easy reach of the stove. Good-sized squares of cheesecloth are very handy when cooking to use to handle things that are likely to drip. They wash out so easily and save the temptation to use dish towels for the purpose.

SCOLARS ENTERTAINED.

Annual Treat For Pupils of Deloro Sunday School.

MARMORA March 23.—Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Blake, the scholars attending the Deloro Sunday school were given their annual treat on Friday evening. Ladies of the village rendered generous assistance so that an enjoyable ttime was spent by the children. The prize distribution is laid over till a forthcoming Sunday.

It is the Flavor that Counts

"SALADA" TEA

has the largest sale in North America.

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

TABLESPOON O' NEWS

Divorce to the tune of 7 to every one marriage is vigorously lambasted by Bishop William T. Manning of New York City.

"Departure from the ideal of monogamic marriage is not progress but reversion to barbarism."

The bishop cites the 57 divorces in all Canada in 1916 and the 112,036 in America the same year.

* * *

It seems that man must pay a little more, thus reversing the old tale of the woman who pays and pays and pays. Friends of Lord Craven demand censorship of "Ashes," the play by Vera Cathcart. Craven's friends claim that the play is the story of Vera's elopement with the earl. Sort of a case of locking the barn after the pony's stolen, isn't it? Thought everyone knew all about it now, anyway!

* * *

Lady Cynthia Mosley of London, touring our nation's industrial world, is "amazed" at the high living standard of American workmen. She isn't the only one. Most of us know John Smiths with a monthly income of $150 who have auto, radio, piano, overstuffed furniture, and a gorgeous grocery bill!

* * *

Christabel Pankhurst, English militant suffragist of yore, is being boomed for the House of Commons. Lady Astor and Viscountess Rhondda even offered her their own seats in the house, which Christabel has declined, saying that she will run for herself.

CLOTHES

"Women in the '80's with their bends and bustles didn't even look bright. Women who wore 'rats' back then have no right to criticize today's styles. Women then looked like perpendicular camels. If we had had trolleys in those days women would have electrocuted themselves with their bustle wires." Spake by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of Chicago.

BUYING THE HOUSE O' DREAMS

If you pay a sixth of your income for rent, you can afford a fourth of it for buying a home, as the home is an investment, too. You should have, experts say, down payment for at least one-fifth. It is best to borrow the balance from a building and loan association, with a first mortgage on the house.

BUNK ADVICE

It is not considered the very best form to permit the children to whittle the furniture, although I know one clever mother who permits her offspring to carve their monograms at their own plates and thus save the price of monogrammed napkin rings.

THE PROGENY

"Where in the world can I find a book to give me ideas on how to keep the children amused on Saturdays? I have my baking and cleaning and they drive me wild!"

Ask your librarian for Beard's "Jolly Book of Boxcraft;" "Little Folk's Handy Book;" Boyd's "When Mother Lets Us Cut Out Pictures," and Lutz's "What to Draw and How to Draw It."

CHINESE TEA

Our Chinese friends make it like this. Level teaspoon of tea to a cup of water. Heat water until it barely boils. Pour into teapot, keep covered three minutes, and pour.

YOU MUST READ!

"Three Kingdoms," by Storm Jameson. Story of swashbuckling modern girl, feminine enough, too, to get what she wants from this world o' men. She has husband, baby, and satisfying job, getting away with all "three kingdoms" in a most convincing manner.

The Home Kitchen
By Jeannette Norton

SMOKED CANNED AND SALTED FISH DISHES

Fish is not only wholesome, reasonably priced, and excellent with which to vary the home menu, but it is a human health necessity. It contains in addition to the proteins and fat a certain content of phosphorous, sulphur, chlorine, iron and iodine. All these things have their place in the balanced diet that cares for bodily needs. Fresh fish, or properly prepared fish, if well cooked, is easily digested by nearly all people. Make sure in buying smoked fish that they are sweet and in good condition. Buy canned fish of the best brands and remove it from the can as soon as it is opened. Be sure the salted fish is in perfect condition, well boxed or wrapped. Keep the prepared fish in a cool place but not on ice.

Broiled Finnan Haddie.

With sharp shears snip off the tail and fins of a thick Haddie that weighs around two to two and a half pounds. Place the fish in a deep sauce pan and cover it with boiling water. Allow this to stand for five minutes then strain and cover it with fresh boiling water and let stand eight minutes. Drain, lay on a well greased broiler and broil the meat side. Place a hot plate, skin side down, dust with a little pepper and dot thickly with butter. Garnish with lemon quarters and parsley.

Smoked Halibut and Salmon.

Both smoked halibut and salmon may be flaked and allowed to stand for five minutes in hot water, then may be drained thoroughly and slipped into a good cream sauce. Serve on toast garnished with parsley. Or the fish may be very thinly sliced and used for sandwiches. Or the fish may be sliced in thick slices and after being brushed over with butter may be broiled delicately. The fish may also be escalloped for baking.

Salt Cod.

Salt cod must be well soaked in cold water, the water changed frequently until the salt is well soaked out. Then it may be bröiled, or flaked and creamed, or coarsely flaked and baked in crumbs, seasoning and cream, or made into fish cakes. The fish may also be stewed gently after being coarsely flaked, drained, when done and cooled. The fish is then ready to marinate in French dressing for an hour, then be made into a salad with celery, onion, diced hard boiled egg and mayonnaise dressing made without mustard. The creamed fish and the fishcakes carefully made are highly recommended for the nursery table. Oysters combine well with the fish when creamed, or scalloped.

Today's Fashion
By Vera Winston

Smart Frock of Ecru Georgette and Lace With Cape Back.

All the natural and ecru tints are considered very good for the Spring season. They are seen in wool crepe and jersey, and are most effective in the thin materials that are especially appropriate for afternoon.

The smart little frock above is of the latter type, being developed in ecru georgette and lace. The tunic skirt is edged with lace, and there is a circular lace cape at the back, a continuation of the tiny sleeves.

The same model would be attractive in pale pink or pale yellow, with lace dyed to match.

Was Nearly Crazy From Headaches

Miss E. Brill, 579 Redwood Ave., Winnipeg, Man., writes:—"I was troubled with such severe headaches that some times I was nearly crazy with them.

One day a friend told me about, and advised me to use

Burdock Blood Bitters

so I tried it, and it has done me a world of good. I just took two and a half bottles, and I haven't had a headache for a long time, now."

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

WHY BILLY BEE NEVER VISITS COLUMBINE INN.

"Oh, come on," coaxed Johnny Bumble Bee, "I'm dreadfully hungry. Let's go over to Columbine Inn and have a sip of Honey-wine."

"Is that the name of the new blossom down by the edge of the pond?" Billy Bee asked his friend. "She has had a crowd around her inn ever since she opened up. Sure I'll go."

Away the two friends flew, until they reached the lovely wild Columbine Inn with its host of beautiful yellow and red blossoms.

Johnny Bumble Bee buzzed up to one of the blossoms, and when his great, heavy body touched the petals of the flower, its petals flew open and Johnny Bumble Bee, standing upside down, ran his long, slender tongue down the pretty well and sipped the honey.

"Come on, Billy Bee," he stopped long enough to coax his friend.

"I'm sorry," spoke up the keeper of the Inn, "but I'll have to ask your friend, not to stop here. It's against my rules to serve to the honey bees."

"Why, how's that?" asked Johnny Bumble Bee. "Billy Bee is a good friend of mine. He would make a lovely customer of yours. Billy Bee is never too tired to carry pollen for anyone."

"I'm dreadfully sorry," replied Mrs. Columbine. "I just wish I could let him help himself. But you see, in the first place, his body is so light, it wouldn't pull the petals of my flowers down and his tongue isn't long enough to reach the honey well. You can try it if you wish."

Billy Bee hopped upon the petals

"Your Honey Is Not For Me."

of the blossom, but he was so light the petals wouldn't bend.

"Oh, you'll have to almost stand on your head," laughed Mrs. Columbine. "My petals are like Mrs. Larkspur's, and Dutchman's breeches. To be able to get my honey a fellow must almost be an acrobat."

"I guess you're right," buzzed Billy Bee. "Your honey is not for me. I never in the world could stand on my head that way. But look at my feet! They are covered with pollen."

"Good," laughed Mrs. Columbine. "These lazy Bumble Bees like my honey all right, but they're not fond of carrying pollen. Put it back if you don't care to carry it away for me."

"Goodness no," laughed Billy Bee. "I don't mind. You'll find I'm a pretty good sort of a fellow, Mrs. Columbine. I know my friend Johnny Bumble Bee doesn't like to carry pollen, so I'll carry this for the honey he gets."

"Thank you," said Mrs. Columbine sweetly and she dusted her golden pollen all over Billy Bee's little brown coat. "I'm sorry I don't cater to you small bees. But I have my hands full taking care of the bumble bees. I'd like to have the butterflies and moths, too, but their legs are too weak to bend down the petals."

"That's all right," buzzed Billy Bee merrily. He filled all his pockets with pollen and sailed away to deliver it to Mrs. Columbine's relatives.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24.

According to this day's lunar transits all that pertains to commercial and professional activities should thrive. It may be a good time for bargaining and selling, for arranging new contracts or for negotiating with advertising concerns and publishers, but it is probably not auspicious for making changes of importance or for traveling. In social and affectional matters the utost circumspection is enjoined.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an active and successful year in business affairs and may safely launch into new arrangements providing they do not involve change of environment or travel. Discretion in all personal associations is enjoined. A child born on this day should be talented, versatile and active but may have a nervous and easily moved temperament. It should have early discipline in being self-contained.

LET 'ER COME

Bring on the summer that's achin' ta come. Bring on the season when spirit's ahum. Sidetrack the winter that's been here so long, an' free all the birds so they'll burst into song.

All of us long for the session that's near. All of us wish for the best time of year. We can put fresh air and sunshine to use. All that we need is the chance. Turn us loose.

'Magine an auto atotin' a load, blazin' the trail down an old country road. Think o' the feeling that's shy of all care, out in the open breathing fresh air.

Winter's all right, but a wee bit too gruff. Come on warm weather, start struttin' your stuff. Fill us with pepper and make us all laugh. That's what we want—and you ain't heard the half.

Yea, from the grown-up, to wee little child, everyone's cravin' to start runnin' wild. Whadda we care where yer bringin' it from—bring on the summer that's achin' ta come.

Join the Exhibition!

HEAD-ON COLLISION

The above layout graphically depicts the head-on collision between two C.N.R. freight trains in a narrow cut on the Beaverton line near Todmorden, Ont., recently. William Sharp, of Hamilton, an engineer, jumped before the crash, but was crushed beneath a piece of one of the telescoping freight cars.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe

SHE DESCRIBES A TRIM DAYTIME FROCK

Before Madame began planning the clothes for her Spring showing she made a concentrated study of the newest tendencies to decide what things she would like to give special prominence to.

"Of course, my designs are entirely my own and independent," she explained to a client only this morning. "But at the same time I endeavor to keep in step with the new things Paris is showing."

This is strictly true, for Madame goes to Paris for materials and deiversion only. Her designs are made when she returns, inspired by the lovely clothes she has seen in the meantime.

The result is that I spend much time during the day donning trim little navy blue frocks and showing them to eager clients.

There is one particular frock that I am really getting quite attached to. I put it on many times a day and invariably the client says:

"What a charming frock, and how well it suits you!"

Now, there is so much appeal in this "how well it suits you" idea. I maintain that any woman would rather have that said to her than simply "what a charming frock," for the former means that the frock must be charming and, furthermore, that she has chosen it well.

The model is of navy blue rep and the collar and cuffs are of heavy wool lace in a delicate cream tint. That's all there is, except a slender oval buckle of cream bone at the front. The frock is perfectly tailored, and for each client that chooses it the model is made with equal success, for, as Madame explains:

"The way I achieve individual distinction for each customer is by changing small things about the model chosen so it will be becoming to them in the highest degree."

Navy Blue Rep with Wool Lace Collar and Cuffs Fashion This Frock.

THE SECRETS OF CHARM

By Lucrezia Bori.

Common sense is becoming more evident in beauty every day. I refer, at the moment, to the passing of the vogue for thinly plucked eyebrows.

This rage, which came in with such vehemence and left so many faces almost guiltless of eyebrows, has died a slower death than it should have. Nevertheless, it has just about breathed its last.

Artists and those who should know said in the beginning it was a mistake, because a too-evident thinning of the eyebrow lines wipes away softness from the features and leaves them harsh, even hard.

The young seekers after beauty who thought a rigorous plucking of their eyebrows would give them the penciled lines famous in song and story were sadly mistaken. This delicate, arched eyebrow line can be induced to some extent, but it is more often born than made.

Now, the most successful of beauty seekers still use their tweezers, but they use them judiciously. By this I mean they pluck out a few of the straggling hairs that may stray down too low over the eyelid or too high above the line of the regular eyebrow. But they never, never thin the eyebrow line till it is thin and harsh and lonesome looking.

I mention this partly as a warning. For after the eyebrows have been plucked and plucked they often refuse to grow in again. Their roots are near the surface and are sometimes destroyed by plucking. For this reason I advise you not to use your tweezers in too wholesome a manner, even when you feel in a hurry. The time may come when you want to grow in eyebrows where you have destroyed them, and the time may come too late, for the roots will be gone.

An excellent treatment for your brows is to brush them each night with a very narrow eyebrow brush dampened in warm olive oil. This tends to make them rich and glossy and will help them to stay in the direction in which you brush them. Brush up and out and you will doubtless have success in training them into the beauty arch which the tweezer users long for and never successfully achieve.

(Copyright, 1926.)

By Barbara Bayne

FAMOUS FORTUNES

"DAN" REID AND "BILLIE" LEEDS —THE TIN PLATE KINGS.

Of the four men who became known as the "Rock Island Group," Daniel G. Reid, William B. Leeds, Judge William H. Moore and J. H. Moore, this sketch deals with the first two.

"Dan" Reid and "Billie" Leeds, both born in Richmond, Indiana, were pals from boyhood days. "Dan" began his career by sweeping out a bank and became its president. "Billie" began as a rodman on the Pennsylvania Railroad and became a branch superintendent.

The tin-plate industry—one of the youngest branches of the steel trade—had a number of small plants in the country and in 1890 these two young men of vision and initiative swept them all together and the great "tin-plate trust," was born, in which the Moore brothers played an important part. Six years later the American Tin Plate Company had absorbed 278 mills, including rail-mills, pig-iron furnaces and sheet-steel plants.

Reid, who helped in the formation of the United States Steel Corporation, became a director on its executive committee.

The "Western Clique" as they were called went into Wall Street and, backed by James Speyer and the First National Bank of New York City, bought control of the Rock Island System. Then they began a policy of elimination and expansion. Drake, Gates and others dropped out. Finally four men, Reid, Leeds and the Moores stood out conspicuously as the "Rock Island crowd."

When Wall Street realized the calibre of this picturesque group of men there was a lusty scramble to "nail down" every railroad within their reach for fear that they might think they wanted it.

"Dan" Cleaned in a Bank.

Leeds, within a space of ten years had acquired a fortune greater, it is said than that left by Jay Gould. He was the first victim of this strenuous, money-mad age and died as the result of a stroke of paralysis during the panic of 1907.

Reid has since been associated with the late Henry C. Frick and John D. Ryan in various industrial enterprises, among which are the American Can Company and the Tobacco Products Company. His association at one time with the picturesque John W. Gates often made Wall Street wince.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D., Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Last Sunday I had dinner in a beautiful home in Washington. My charming hostess looked across the table at her equally charming granddaughter and said:

"If I don't live to be a hundred I shall be ashamed of myself!"

There is a lot in the will to live. If you care todo it you can sit down and almost wish yourself into the grave. You can be gloomy and miserable and by your very attitude of mind prepare the way for the germs ever ready to attack and destroy you.

To desire to be a hundred and to be ready to sacrifice the tendency to self-indulgence, is half the battle. You must have the spirit.

But my hostess does better than merely wish to be a hundred. She orders her life so well that I shall be astonished if she doesn't realize her ambition.

This lady is a vegetarian. She buys no meat and has none served in her home. But at her table nobody misses meat. There are so many tempting dishes of vegetables, fruits and cereals, that you leave the table satisfied. Indeed, you are more than satisfied—you have the delicious sensation of having had exactly the right quantity of exactly the right foods.

Meat, that is, lean meat, is almost pure protein. Almost everything we eat contains some protein, but meat is the chief source of protein supply for the average person.

You must bear in mind, however, that you need less protein than you do all the other food stuffs. Four ounces a day is enough. If you have eaten three or four ounces of protein already, you can see that a quarter or a half a pound of meat in addition will cause you to exceed your supply by a whole lot.

It isn't good for you to consume too much protein. All you eat in excess of the required quantity must be eliminated. It cannot be stored up in the body as the excess quantities of sugar, starches and fat are. All these go to make fat and to add to your weight. But there is no provision for keeping the extra protein, so it must be gotten out of the system.

The kidneys are speeded up to do this. The meat taken in excess of the building and repair needs, will call upon them to do two or three times as much work as they are normally intended to do. If this demand is made every day, day after day, it must be expected that trouble will follow.

As a matter of fact, inflammation of the kidneys will result. This condition is what we know as "Bright's disease." Nobody can hope to live to be a hundred, if the kidneys are abused.

So, you see, my hostess of the other day has paved the way for living to be a hundred. She is not abusing her organs by making unreasonable demands upon them. I believe she will live beyond the century mark and I pray that she may.

Answers to Health Queries.

Hazel. Q—(1) How much should a girl weigh who is 19 years of age and 5 feet 2¼ inches tall?

(2) How can I reduce without harming myself?

A.—(1) For her age and height she should weigh about 120 pounds.

(2) By proper dieting and exercising. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

The ORACLE

This day we fashion Destiny, our web of Fate we spin —Whittier.

Fixed fate, free will, foreknowledge absolute —Milton.

Rea.—You have quite an active, persevering disposition, but you will not make much success in life by trying to stand alone. You must always associate yourself with others in enterprises of any type. You may not want to do this, as you have a good deal of self satisfaction and poise and believe quite thoroughly in yourself and your own ideas. You are apt to undertake more at times than you can successfully manage, and prefer to let others do the work while you oversee. You have an ease and freedom of manner that establishes good fellowship with others at once and you are fond of luxurious surroundings, not being careful enough about money, with which you are rather extravagant. Your natural sphere is the business world, in a commercial position of any type. You would also make a good teacher.

Marry a man born in May, July, February or November. March and November are your good months, Tuesdays and Saturdays your lucky days.

You were born on Tuesday. Your colors are steel and purple.

M. E. F.—You have such an individual type of character that you run the risk of being an undesirable sort of female in time. You are a natural leader and will have a success in life in a commercial way if you follow out your natural bent. You will want to have everything just as you want it, as you go through the world, and a sense of dominance will cause you to disregard the rights of others and make you quite tyrannical in time, if you don't watch out. You would make a good teacher, but I do not advise you to choose this vocation in life, as it will inevitably tend to make you more domineering than ever. A business position, where your natural financial talents would have good scope and still where you would have to learn to regard the feelings and rights of others to make a success of yourself, would be admirably suited to your peculiar temperament. Do not neglect your dress and personal appearance. A woman should be attractive first and successful second. Control your temper. It will pay you to do this.

You were born on Tuesday. The date you ask about is past. Your color is flame in all it variations from gold and yellow to gas blue.

A. M. G.—You were born with a very strong bent toward scientific and business achievement, but an element of change and uncertainty has ruled your life and you have drifted with the current, rather than taken the initiative in carving out your own destiny. Perhaps it is as well. You may have lost a certain measure of success, but you have lost also a great deal of hard struggling to reach the heights. You have a good taste and good judgment and are quite a good character reader. A high degree of sensitiveness causes you much worry at times. You are a true friend, but an unrelaxing enemy. Your lower legs and ankles require great care, as rheumatism is your menace, also a tendency toward varicose veins. You have good taste in dress and like dark shades.

You were born on Sunday. Your colors are opal shades, tans and buffs.

Frank—You have a very nice nature, perhaps nicer for others than for yourself, meaning that you are apt to be too good-natured and to let others 'run' on you. However, your kindness will not be lost, even though it seems poorly repaid at times. You have unusual understanding and sympathy, and others expect much of you. You are generous, sometimes too generous, with money, and are slow in paying your bills, forgetting that others have a regard for money that you may not possess. You are always hopeful and optimistic and like the pleasures of social life. You are careless of your personal belongings and often drop and lose things. You do not return borrowed articles as promptly as you might. You are fond of praise and easily wounded by trifles. Worry and impatience will cause you stomach trouble, if not curbed. Do not worry over things that may never happen.

You were born on Tuesday. August and December are your good months, Friday your lucky day. Your color is black.

Len.—Your main trouble in life is restlessness and uncertainty. You can never make up your mind just what you want to do, and uncertainty rules all your days. You are attractive, but fickleness and changeableness mar your interest for others. If you could conquer this trait to a certain extent and stop talking so much, you would get along much better in life. You have a habit of asking questions, sometimes unnecessary ones, because you are interested in many things, and seek to acquire knowledge wherever possible. You are rather modest in your estimation of yourself and should cultivate self esteem and a belief in your own powers. You take great delight in beautifying your home and have a dislike for anything coarse or common. Try and realize the value of silence, control your restless nature and your tendency to worry, be careful of money and learn self-confidence and self-faith. Begin important undertakings in May or June, and preferably on Saturday. You were born on Wednesday. The day you ask about is past. Your color is pink.

Gord.—If you apply yourself, you should make a success in business life, as you have a very strong leaning toward business, commerce and finance. You are fond of good times, too, of singing and dancing and good cheer, leaning at times to the frivolous side of life. What you have to guard against is this fickle, changeable tendency in your nature, a trait that will do you no good in any situation, also a habit of becoming jealous over imaginary slights and of wreaking your quick temper on your closest friends, at any moment. You should consider a long while before marrying, as you are fiery rather than affectionate, and are apt to crave only for that affection which eludes you. Remember that "he who dances must pay the fiddler" and do not wreck your nerves by over-indulgence of the senses. Try to conquer indecision of character, practice silence, map out the course you wish to pursue and then march honorably forward, never take drugs or stimulants and eat plain, nourishing food. You were born on Monday. The day you ask about is past. Your color is black.

Not being a fortune-teller, I cannot answer your question about your love-affair, but my remark about craving for the affection that eludes you may apply in this case. Why worry about one woman? There are many in the world and you are not of the type that loves one only and none else. Wait for a few years and look around you in the meantime.

Ede.—You have a kind, amiable nature, charming and affectionate, but you have a certain amount of shyness to overcome and you have a tendency toward a liking for the mystic and occult things of life. You are generous and ambitious and are full of hope and enthusiasm at all times. You always finish things in a careful and competent manner and learn readily from example. You have strong emotions and great imitative ability, which causes you to exaggerate at times. When angry, you are apt to leave nothing unsaid. You like the beautiful and luxurious things of life and are fond of excitement. You have remarkable foresight and can usually be guided by your intuitions. In the buying and selling of commodities, you are very acute.

You were born on Thursday. Your colors are gold and violet. Your good months are August and December, your good day Friday.

Baby Eczema

Soon Disappears with the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment

Only mothers who have witnessed the suffering of their babies when tortured by eczema fully appreciate the remarkable soothing, healing effects of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Most babies at one time or another fall victims to skin irritations, chafing of the skin or eczema. For this reason it is a fine habit to always have at hand when bathing baby a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. You never know when roughness and redness of the skin is going to develop into something more serious. A touch of Dr. Chase's Ointment keeps the skin smooth and velvety and prevents serious skin affections.

There are scores of uses for Dr. Chase's Ointment. Once it finds its way into the home it is soon considered indispensable.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'E CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NUMBER EIGHTEEN—BILLY BEAVER'S STORY.

The March Hare and the Twins stood looking at poot little Billy Beaver and his three naughty little visitors, the three Gazookumses.

"I guess we'd better be going,' said the first Gazookums. "Come on, fellows."

"Yes, we'll come back some other time and finish our game of 'Jumble, jumble, who's got the bumble!'" said the second Gazookums.

"Let us know the next time your mother and father are away," said the third Gazookums.

And the three of them turned their tiny little bodies and started to march off.

"No you don't," said the March Hare severely. "We're going to see this thing out right now. What were you saying about this new game, Billy?"

The Gazookumses looked at Nancy and Nick and the cross old March Hare, and decided to stand still.

Billy Beaver said, "Well, you play 'Jumble, jumble, who's got the bumble' with a pink stone. The three Gazookumses sit in a row and keep their hands behind them. Then they pass the stone from one to the other and I have to guess who has it. If I guess right I win and if I guess wrong I lose. That's all."

"I suppose you've been losing mostly, haven't you?" said the March Hare.

"Yes," said Billy Beaver quickly, "How did you guess?"

"Oh, I'm pretty smart," said the March Hare. "I'm almost as smart as Gazookumses."

A this the three little Gazookumses looked very nervous. It seemed as though they would take to their heels this time for sure. But they looked at Nancy and Nick again and the cross old March Hare, and decided to stay.

As the hare said, Gazookumses are smarter than they look.

"The first time I guessed wrong," said Billy Beaver.

"Then what happened?" asked the March Hare.

"The Gazookumses said, 'That gives us his ears.'"

"Weren't you frightened?" asked the Hare.

"Humph! Not much!" scoffed Billy Beaver. "How could anybody get my ears off?"

"Then what happened?" asked the March Hare.

"The second time I guessed wrong, the Gazookumses said, 'That gives us his tail.'"

"Weren't you frightened then?" asked the Hare.

"Humph! Not much!" scoffed Billy. "How could anybody get my tail off?"

"Then what happened?" asked the Hare.

"I guessed wrong again, and that time they said, 'That gives us his egs.' But I wasn't worried. How could they get my legs off? Then the next time they said, 'There! He's lost his head.' But I only laughed harder than ever. How could they get my head off?"

"Is that all?" asked the March Hare.

"Yes," nodded Billy Beaver.

"The next time they would have said, 'There! Now he's lost his body. We'll take him right along with us for we own him all over. And beaver fur will make us nice warm coats next winter.' Don't you see, Billy, we just came in time to save you. Come along now and get your clothes cleaned up in Scrub-Up Land."

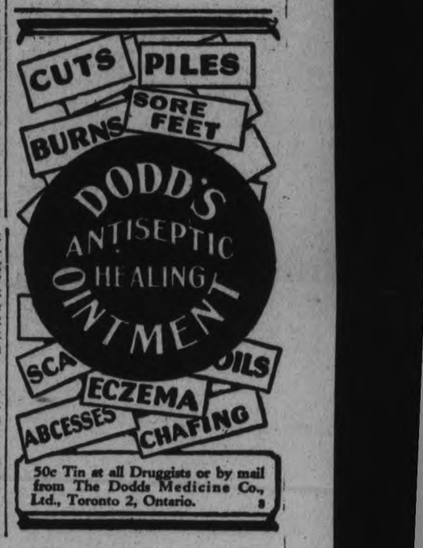
Then turning to the bad Gazookumses, he said, "As for you——"

Suddenly he stopped. There were no Gazookumses there!

(To be continued.)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

The female clothes moth lays an average of 150 eggs.



Pictures that pay

Your mind registers hundreds of pictures every day. Faces on the street, people in a doorway, a tray of watches in a window, ribbon on a hat. Interesting or amusing, maybe . . . but of what actual value are most of them to you?

Yet a vast number of pictures that can affect your daily living are waiting for your glance. Advertisements show you better things to ride in, eat, wear, enjoy—honestly pictured for you. Pictures that pay! Such pictures make you familiar with the newest, most improved things you can buy. The soap, hosiery, fountain pen that can mean most to you. Familiar with their color, way they are wrapped, name on the package. You can recognize them at once, link them at once with their advertised facts, know all about them before you buy. You don't have to test them. They have been tested for you. The watch widely advertised ticks in thousands of pockets. The skillet on the printed page is used on a thousand stoves. Pictures in advertisements are pictures of good things enjoyed in countless homes.

Look at advertisements and their pictures. They let you choose the best

LLOYD GEORGE AND MACDONALD LEAD ATTACK ON CHAMBERLAIN

Foreign Secretary Withholds From Opposition His Line of Defence.

GENEVA FAILURE.

LONDON, March 23.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary fo. foreign affairs, did not attend last night's cabinet council, which discussed procedure for the debate in the House of Commons to-day on the Geneva conference. It has been decided to allow the opposition to lead the attack on the Foreign Secretary, instead of insisting, as the opposition leaders hoped that Sir Austen would make his explanation before the House.

Former Premier Lloyd George will probably open the debate and he will be under the disadvantage of not knowing what line of defence Sir Austen will adopt. Ramsay Macdonald, the former Labor premier, will follow and then the Foreign Secretary will make his statement on the proceedings of the league assembly at Geneva.

The Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, will wind up the discussion in support of his Foreign Secretary and there is little doubt that he will take a line calculated to draw nearly the full strength of his party into the division lobby. Sir Austen Chamberlain spent the week end in the country preparing an outline of his speech.

IN POLICE COURT.

Solly Siegel and his wife, Mrs. Rose Siegel, appeared in the Police Court this morning, charged with keeping liquor for sale, contrary to the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act. J. F. Strickland represented the Crown, and J. A. O'Brien appeared for the accused.

Magistrate O. A. Langley adjourned the case for two weeks by consent of both counsel, and remanded the accused on their own bond of $500.

His Worship the Mayor visited the Court, and was asked by Mr. Langley to occupy a seat on the bench.

Both counsel and the Crown agreed that both cases be tried together, and that the evidence taken should be admissable against both the accused.

Talbert Madill, the first witness examined by Mr. Strickland, stated that he lived in Lindsay. In reply to Mr. Strickland, he said that he had been convicted in Lindsay on Friday last on the charge of having alcohol. He said that he had met Siegel once in Lindsay sometime about March 1.

Mr. Strickland: What took place between you?

Witness: I asked him if he knew where I could get some stuff in Peterboro. He gave me a piece of paper with a name on it—S. Siegel, 172 Wescott Street.

Mr. Strickland: Were you in Peterboro on March 6?

Witness: Yes. I arrived about 5.30 p.m. Mr. Sproule was with me. I called a number on the 'phone but I cannot remember it as I have lost the slip.

Mr. Strickland: Where did you keep the number?

Witness: It was on the bottom of the slip but it got torn off.

Witness stated that he and Sproule then went to Wescott Street. He went up to the house and a lady came to the door.

Mr. Strickland, pointing to Mrs. Siegel, asked the witness if she was the lady.

Witness: She looked to be an older woman than that.

Mr. Strickland: How much older?

Witness: I would judge about 40.

Mr. Strickland then asked Mrs. Siegel to remove her hat which she did. He then asked the witness if she was the lady.

Witness: She looks younger than the woman I saw.

Mr. Strickland: Did you buy any liquor from the woman you saw?

Witness: Yes. I paid $9.00 for it.

Mr. Strickland: What was it?

Witness: Alcohol.

Mr. Strickland; In bottles?

Witness: No. In tins.

Mr. Strickland: Was Sproule with you?

Witness: No.

Mr. Strickland held up the tin and asked the witness if that was it.

Witness: It is similar.

Mr. Strickland: Where were you when the transaction took place?

Witness: In the front room.

Mr. Strickland : Where was Sproule?

Witness: On the opposite side of the street.

Mr. Strickland: You're here very reluctantly.

Witness: Oh, no. I don't like to be in these places if I can help it.

Mr. Strickland: Was your recollection any clearer on March 6 than it is now?

Witness: No.

Mr. Strickland: Are you satisfied that the man sitting in front of you is the man you saw in Lindsay.

Witness: I s looks quite a bit like him.

Mr. Strickland: Did he tell you his name was Siegel?

Witness: I cannot remember the name—a fellow introduced us.

The next witness called was Henry Sproule. Examined by Mr. Strickland he stated that he lived in Lindsay and he came to Peterborough with Madill on March 6. When they got off at the C.P.R. station Madill went in and phoned. They then went to an address.

Mr. Strickland: What address?

Witness: I don't know.

Mr. Strickland: Where did you stay?

Witness: I stayed outside near a store on the corner.

Mr. Strickland—Did Madill have any parcel with him when he went into the house?

Witness—No, he did not.

Mr. Strickland — Did he have one when he came out?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Strickland indicating the tin: Did it look like that?

Witness—It did.

Cross examined by Mr. O'Brien the witness stated that he was convicted on Saturday last in Lindsay and was fined $125.00 and costs or one month.

Mr. O'Brien—Have you paid the fine?

Witness—No.

David H. Porter, license inspector for Victoria county, the next witness called, examined by Mr. Strickland, stated that he had seized the tin on the night of March 6.

Mr. Strickland— What did you do when you seized the tin?

Witness—I took six ounces from exhibit "B" which has not yet been returned.

Mr. O'Brien again objected to the question, bringing forth the remark from Mr. Strickland that "my duties do not include the wet nursing of liquir for the inspectors."

Joseph Stewart, license inspector for the county of Peterborough, stated that he knew both Mr. and Mrs. Siegel.

Mr. Strickland—Have you been at that address within the last week?

Witness — Not within the last week.

Mr. Strickland — Who lives at that address?

Witness — Siegel, his wife and small family.

This concluded the case for the Crown.

The first witness called for the defence was S. R. Pearson.

Examined by Mr. O'Brien, witness stated that he was a county constable and was bailiff of the first Division Court of Peterborough. He stated that he was at Siegel's house on March 6 and that his mission was in connection with his official duties.

Mr. O'Brien: Did you see Madill there

Witness: I did.

Mr. O'Brien: What time?

Witness: About 5.30.

Mr. O'Brien: Was there anyone with Madill?

Witness: Not that I saw.

Mr .O'Brien: Did you see anyone else?

Witness: Yes—a young man. I was discussing the matter with the young man when a knock came to the door. I then went into another room.

L. Dennis, on being examined by Mr. O'Brien, stated that he had spoken to the last witness (Mr. Pearson) at 172 Wescott street.

Mr. O'Brien: Can you identify the man in court?

Witness (pointing to Mr. Pearson) that is him.

Witness stated that Madill came to the door and asked him if he had any liquor, and that he had said "No.' Madill the witness stated, said that he would see Siegel again.

Mr. O'Brien: Was either Siegel or his wife at home at the time?

Witness: No.

Cross-examined by Mr. Strickland, witness stated that he was not working at present.

Mr. Strickland: The last time you were in this court was as a witness for Siegel.

Witness: Yes.

George F. Evans, examined by Mr. O'Brien, stated that he drove to Toronto on March 6 in Siegel's car. Mr. and Mrs. Siegel were with him, and they got into Toronto around 9.30.

Frank Newman of Toronto, examined by Mr. O'Brien, stated that he saw Siegel and his wife in the Rex Hotel, Toronto, between 9.00 and 9.30 on the night of March 6.

Frederick Wallace, night clerk of the Rex Hotel, stated that Siegel and his wife checked in about 9.30 on the night of March 6.

Mrs. Siegel, examined by Mr. O'Brien, stated that she recalled seeing Newman and Wallace, the previous witnesses. She said that she had never sold any liquor and that she had never seen Madill until to-day.

This concluded the case.

LLOYD GEORGE MOVES CENSURE

Criticizes Actions of Chamberlain and Locarno Powers at Geneva.

HOUSE CROWDED.

LONDON, March 23 (Canadian Press). — Former Premier Lloyd George initiated the Geneva debate before a crowded House of Commons to-day. He moved a reduction in the Foreign Office estimates in order, he said, to call attention to the recent League of Nations proceedings at Geneva and the action of Sir Austen Chamberlain, British representative there. This motion is equivalent to one of censure.

Mr. Lloyd George said his criticism was twofolds: first, that the Locarnist powers were responsible for the failure at Geneva, and, second, that it was a failure which damaged the machinery of peace to such an extent that many of the best friends of Foreign Secretary Chamberlain were despairing of its effect.

We sometimes see a fool possessed of talent, but never of judgment.
—La Rochefoucauld.

It is the prerogative of great men only to have defects.
—La Rochefoucauld.

Clothes Are Cause Of Most Divorces Says Judge In Book About 22 Years Dissolving Marriages

CHICAGO, Ills., March 23 (United Press) — Twenty-two years on the bench, the larger period passed as arbiter in divorce cases, has caused Judge William N. Gemil to the conclusion that clothes are upstanding subject that part the married. He has written a book "The Kingdom of Hearts" based on his experience.

"It is the duty of the dress maker," the judge writes, "to fit the filmy garments to the airy fairy Lillian, but it is the duty of her husband to fit them out of his pocket book. When he fails and throws up the sponge it is the duty of the judge."

Extraavgance, Judge Gemil recalled, is a familiar word in his court but a difficult one to evaluate. "How many new hats ought a good wife to buy per annum?" The chapter on clothes queries. "What ought she to pay for each when her husband's income is $1,000 a year?"

When you have solved that, increase his income all the way up to $10,000 and decrease it down to $400 per year and guess again.

"All these must be judciially answered or the strike won't be settled."

Other reflections include articles on "The Law of Love and Love as Law," "Alienation of Affections" and "Genuis and Eugenics."

Financial News and Views

Latest Comment on Grain and Industrial Markets — Closing Quotations on the Principal Active Stocks

Quotations Over Stobie, Forlong and Co. wire.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High	Low	Close
Atchison Rly.	127¼	126⅞	127¼
Amer. Can.	284½	280½	280½
Amer. Loco.	101¾	101¼	101¼
Smelters	124	122½	122½
Baldwin	108⅜	107½	108¼
Balt. & Ohio	90¼	89½	89⅞
Cast-Iron Pipe	176	..	..
Ches. & Ohio	135⅜	132¾	134⅞
Cal. Petrol.	36	35⅜	36
Chrysler	36⅝	36⅜	36⅜
Dupont De Nem.	215¾	212½	212½
Fleischmann	44¼	43¾	43¾
Gen. Motors	125⅛	123¼	123¼
Hudson Motors	93½	89	90⅛
Int. Harvester	119	118¼	118¼
Inter. Nickel	36¼	36¼	36¼
Coca-Cola	132¾	130¼	131¼
Mack Truck	118¼	116⅜	116⅜
Marland Oil	55⅜	55¼	55¼
U. S. Rubber	71	70¾	70¾
Montgomery W.	69¾	66⅜	66⅞
White Motors	75	74¼	74¼
U. S. Steel	125⅛	123⅛	123⅜
Yellow Cab.	29¼	28½	29¼
Youngs' Tube	78¼	78¼	78¼

MINING STOCKS

	Asked	Bid
Gold
Argonaut Gold	3¼	30
Baldwin	3¼	2½
Chaput Hughes	17	16
Con. West Dome	19¾	19½
Dome	1850	1815
Goldale	33	30
Gold Reef	3¼	2¾
Hollinger	1900	1855
Keora	13	11½
Kirkland Lake	101	93
Lake Shore	1040	1050
McIntyre Mines	2510	2430
New Ray	37	35
Nipissing	600	580
Preston	7¼	7¼
Teck Hughes	300	291
Vip. Con. Mines	162	156
W. Hargraves	840	800
Silver
Beaver	67	64
Castle	159	152
Crown Reserve	16½	16
La Rose	16	16
McKinley	20	18
Mining Corp.	380	380

CHICAGO WHEAT.

May	157¼	153⅞	157⅛
July	136¼	133⅛	136⅛

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

May	147½	144¼	147⅛
July	144⅞	142	144⅜

CHICAGO RYE.

May	87½	85	87⅜
July	88⅞	86⅝	88⅞

Stocks Take Down Turn On Standard Exchange

TORONTO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—A pronounced downturn set in on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, and the whole list was afected to some extent. McIntyre losing 40 cents at $24.60, and Noranda losing 25 at 12.50, were the weakest issues. Teck Hughes sold down eight at 293, and Tough Oakes 1 3-4 at 48 1-4. Kirkland Lake lost six at 94, Dome ten at 18.30 and Mining Corporation three at 376. Beaver lost three at 64.

Second Biscuit Merger In Canada Within Year

MONCTON, N.B., March 23. — (Canadian Press.) — Negotiations are now under way for the second merger of big biscuit manufacturing concerns in Canada within a year. The McCormick Manufacturing Company, of London, Ontario, and B. A. Marvin, Limited, of this city, together with other concerns located in Edmonton, Winnipeg and Montreal, are considering plans for a merger at an early date, according to information obtained here to-day.

Advance On Wheat Checked By Weakness Of Provisions

CHICAGO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Wheat showed an early upward trend to-day, but advances were checked by the weakness of corn and oats, both of which sold at a new low price record for the season.

Opening wheat prices 7-8 off to 1c up, May 1.55 to 1.55 3-4, and July 1.34 to 1.35, were followed by a moderate general set-back and then by gains all around.

Forecasts of more favorable weather for the corn movement had a bearish effect on corn. After opening 1-8 to 3-4 lower, May 71 5-8 to 71 3-4, corn sagged a little further and then recovered somewhat.

Oats started 1-8 to 3-4 down, May 38 1-8 to 38 3-8. Later part of the loss was overcome.

Provisions were firm, influenced by the action of hog values.

Trading Scattered To-day On Toronto Stock Exchange

TORONTO, March 23 (Canadian Press). — Light trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning was scattered among a wide list, but changes were small and not numerous. The trend was mixed. Smelters, the most active stock, touched 208, but eased back to 206 at the morning close, a gain of 3-4 of a point. Brazilian eased a quarter at 90½, and Sugar an eighth at 24 7-8. Twin City was a quarter lower at 71 3-4, and Mackinnon down one at 25, while International Nickel gained three-eighths at 36⅛. Dome Mines advanced five cents at 18.50, while McIntyre softened 25 at 24.75.

Stock Prices Slowed Down Becoming Very Irregular

NEW YORK, March 23.—(Canadian Press.)—Stock prices opened strong in to-day's market and then turned decidedly irregular when acute weakness developed in some of the mail order and merchandising issues. Sears Roebuck was hammered down to 186 a new low record for the year by bear traders. May Department Stores dropped 4 3-8 points, and Weber and Heilboner, Montgomery Ward, and Gimbel Brothers sold down.

PAROLE BOARD WORK EXPLAINED AT ST. ANDREW'S

Executive Secretary of Ontario Board Tells of System.

FEW FAILURES.

Officers Elected By Men's Association of Church After Banquet.

About fifty men were present at the men's banquet in St. Andrew's Church last night. The speaker of the evening was Dr. A. E. Lavelle, executive secretary of the Ontario Parole Board.

"What shall we do with our criminals?" was the speaker's opening question. He went on to point out the difference between crime and criminals. "In Canada," he said, "a criminal is one who has broken some part of the criminal code of our country. We consider the man a criminal but he may not be considered one in another country. Whether he is a criminal or not depends upon the prohibitory laws of that specific country. In a country like Central Africa, where there are no laws, naturally there are no criminals," said the speaker.

"A bad person, because he commits a crime, is not necessarily a criminal. We have only to look back over our own history to see that things done years ago are not considered crimes to-day, and things done to-day as crimes were not considered crimes then. In Bible history it was not considered a crime for a man to have more than one wife. To-day it is. So a man must be judged in the times he lives, and when you come to judge a man you must take into consideration the deeds, the opportunity and the environment of the man. In olden days a man was punished for three reasons. The people wanted to be reasonably sure he would not do it again; to be sure nobody else would do it, and to have the fun of getting even with him. Thus the man was usually beheaded, getting rid of the man and showing that revenge was behind all the old laws. But things have changed. We are in better times and have gone a long way ahead of the path our fathers trod. Revenge never did anybody any good.

"The man will be out again in all probability, and is going to be a free man, so it is our duty to have that man prepared to face the world as a man when he gets out. Our fathers used many fiendish punishments to stop crime but failed. If they could not stop crime with the flail, how can we stop it with a bunch of feathers?"

Dr. Lavelle believes there should be some punishment and pain endured by the criminal, but he is against the lash and recommends the strap. He also says that the punishment should not extend over a period of 15 years, but rather over a period of one month. One month is more effective as 15 years take the heart out of a man. He also believes that the time will come when the judge will be allowed to give a certain amount of corporal punishment, as in a non-support case the husband should, he said, be given five spanks a month until he supports his wife, it is really the only medicine to awaken him up.

"To-day there are three classes of criminals: those who should be put into permanent quarantine, for there are men who are a dangerous menace to society; those who have committed an offence who should get a short, sharp sentence and then sent out on a long parole; and those who require more guidance than punishment. Of the three classes of criminals, this last class is in the majority. They are men who need a friend and guardian who will keep them in their places.

"We have in Ontario a sound and solid respect for law and order. The United States will always have trouble until they educate their citizens to have a greater respect for the law of their country. Lawlessness is not increasing. We have not as many crimes to-day. Our police were never as vigilant as they are at the present time. To-day there are two offenders for every 1,000 people. In 1869 there were 860 prisoners at Kingston. Since then the population has increased five times, and now there are found 750 prisoners at Kingston.

"The superintendent at Burwash Farm told Dr. Lavelle the other day that things were going all right but he had not enough men to carry on the work.

"These conditions have been overcome by the Parole Board. Men who committed all kinds of crimes used to be put in together: five per cent. were a vicious lot and seventy-five per cent. not a bad lot, men who just needed to be jerked up a bit. No matter how good the officials were they could not prevent contamination by the few vicious ones. Then again isn't it better to send a man out into the world as soon as possible, having control over him, than to wait and kick him out when his sentence has been served?" said Dr. Lavelle.

"In Ontario to-day there are two systems of parole for men who are sentenced to two years and less. Those over two years are under Dominion parole, and the only way to get out is on ticket of leave from the Minister of Justice. The first system in Ontario is the parole system. A man is sentenced for a period and then an indeterminate period thereafter. It is in this latter period that the Parole Board functions. On this Board are eight men and one woman, and the only question asked, 'Is it in the interests of this man and the public that he should serve his time out?' The Board's highest percentage of failures has been fifteen. This is not so bad when you think of the material it has to work with. We must remember it is the failures that are advertised."

The second system is one of Ontario's own, and Dr. Lavelle is the head of this. "There are a class of men who have dependent families. If one of these men is given 12 months he costs the Government $1.25 a day, and the municipality has to keep the family. These men are taken out and put to work under competent employers and report to the jail every night. Young chaps under eighteen come under the same rule; in some places these men have to report every now and again to a deputy custodian. In five years 1,149 men have been thus let out, 49 broke the law and 33 of the 49 were again caught. All the time these men were earning wages to support their families.

"Under the parole system they do not go out broken men, but they are able to stand on their feet and are an asset to the province."

At the end of the meeting the officers for next year were elected:

President—G. H. Gillespie.
1st Vice-President—E. F. Reid.
2nd Vice-President—F. H. Dearborn.
3rd Vice-President—W. H. Dicken.
Secretary—Alex. Donnelly.
Treasurer—Bruce Fraser.

The St. Andrew's hockey team were the guests of the evening, and were congratulated on the showing made by them in the Junior City Hockey League by G. H. Roper.

A vote of thanks was moved to the speaker of the evening by G. H. Gillespie.

Douglas Carlisle presided over the meeting.

NOBODY HURT IN COLLISION

Engineer and Fireman Leap From Engine Before Crash.

CARS SMASHED.

WOODSTOCK Ont., March 23. —(Canadian Press.)—The engine of a west-bound Canadian National Railway passenger train, in charge of Conductor Connelly, of Toronto, crashed into the rear end of a standing freight train at Ingersoll this morning. The caboose of the freight and one car loaded with linoleum rugs were demolished entirely, while the front part of the engine of the passenger train was badly smashed. Engineer Jones and Fireman George Perrier, of the passenger engine, jumped before the crash and escaped with scratches on the face and body. None of the passengers was injured.

MANY SPEAKERS AT SUPPER HELD BY LOCAL U. F. O.

Vocal and Instrumental Music and Play Also on Programme.

SPEECHES SHORT.

Members of Chamber of Commerce and Exhibition Board Give Addresses.

Short pithy speeches, vocal and instrumental selections and a play, The Country Schoolma'am, were the salient features on the programme at the annual oyster supper of the Peterborough U.F.O. Club, held on Friday evening in the Victoria Hall.

The President of the club, E. A. Scott, in his opening remarks extended a welcome to al who were present whether from city or country. He referred to the success that had attended the recent membership drive conducted by the club and declared he felt proud of the fact that he was president of an organization that could put forward such an effort.

J. W. Fraser

J. W. Fraser, retiring president of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, stated that the organization he represented was not for the city alone, but was always ready to help the citizens of the entire country. He cited the recent essay contest in which pupils of 500 schools throughout the county took part, as an example of Chamber of Commerce activities extending beyond the city limits. The interests of city and country were inter-dependent and he thought that this fact was realized by the inhabitants of both places.

G. A. Gillespie

G. A. Gilespie, president-elect of the Chamber of Commerce, said he had been meeting the people who comprised the U.F.O. for 28 years. He had not lost his interest and pleasure in serving them; and the invitation to the oyster supper gave him pleasure. He recalled that he was standing on the platform on which he was first nominated as a candidate for a seat in Parliament.

Roland Denne

R. Denne, President of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, humorously thanked the U.F.O. for an invitation to a good square meal, which the townsmen did not often get. As president of the exhibition board, he urged the U.F.O. to send resolutions to the members for East and West Peterborough calling for the establishment of a Government representative with an office in Peterborough for the purpose of disseminating useful information to the agriculturist. "We are not getting what Western Ontario and Prince Edward County are getting," asserted Mr. Denne, "In these places there are men who give expert advice with regard to orchards, pruning, and seeds." He was ready to go with any committee to force the hands of the Government in this matter.

He bespoke the support of the audience for the directors of the Exhibition. The Dominion had made a cut of $1 062 in the grant this year, but that would be a bagatelle, if every one present would help. "Every man," he said, "should be back of us. We are out to improve the fowl, the seed and the stock." He appealed to the U.F.O. members to join the Exhibition, pay the $2 fee, which would let them into the Exhibition every day, and would elp out the board in its work. Mr. Denne also mentioned that a seed train would be at Peterborough on April 5, and dwelt on the necessity for a seed cleaning machine for the district.

R. H. Turner

R. H. Turner, secretary of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, said that he had been induced to come to the platform on the understanding that he had merely to applaud, and would not be called upon for a speech. Work on the Exhibition Board, he said, was a wonderful experience. He felt himself a bigger and better man for that experience and he believed the same could be said of the farmer member of the board. The past success of the Fair was not due to the city folks alone. The urban dwellers had co-operated. Their help was still needed. He believed that the Exhibition would be a large one in the near future if everybody lent a hand.

In the absence of R. W. E. Burnaby, president of The Farmers' Sun, who was unable to be present, W. J. Sanderson of Toronto gave a short address.

W. J. Sanderson.

Mr. Sanderson said he was not a speaker, but he would occupy a little time in giving a few facts. The campaign of the U.F.O. to increase its membership, he said, had been very successful. During the month of January, the membership had doubled The returns for February were also away ahead of last year. During the past year, the U.F.O. had purchased a large building to the south of their premises. On the day following the purchase, they were offered for the same building $50,000 more than had ben paid for it.

It was often asked what was done with the $1 membership fee. It went as far as $1.50 would go in any other organization. He mentioned that all delegates received no salary beyond actual expenses, while the officers were ready to issue at any time a statement of finance, and in fact issued one every year.

The Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the U.F.O. had made a new departure, consisting of the broadcasting of reports of live stock, grain and produce markets. This would be done three times per week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from Station CKCL.

Rev. W. S. Edgar made a short speech congratulating the organization on the success of the gathering id expressing the hope that the U.F.O. would continue to flourish.

A very appreciative audience heard violin solos from Stewart Dawson; recitations from Miss Jessie Tully; a piano duet from Mrs. and Miss White; recitations from Phyllis Moore, and guitar duets by the Misses Petrie.

The Country Schoolma'am was acted by the Young People of Fairview United Church.

On the motion of C. E. Moore, vice-president of the Peterborough U.F.O., votes of thanks were accorded to all who contributed to the evening's entertainment.

SMASHING Hardware Prices

COMING right at the beginning of the spring season when Hardware, such as we carry, is in demand, this Special Selling is indeed an opportune one.

9 - DAYS WONDER SALE - 9

Kitchen Utensils
AT 9 DAYS' SALE PRICE

89c table of specials valued up to $1.50. Aluminum, Enamelled Ware and Tinware at specially reduced prices.

Solitary Items
FIRST COMERS GET THESE BARGAINS. ONLY ONE OF EACH.

1 ONLY HAND SAW, NO. 1 Arrowhead, a $3.50 value for $2.59
1 ONLY NO. 6 NATIONAL PLANE, $6.00 value for $3.79
1 ONLY HAND POWER WASHING MACHINE, "NEW IDEA", $25.00 value for $18.75
1 ONLY WATER POWER WASHING MACHINE, 'WHIRLPOOL' value $30.00, for $23.50
1 ONLY NEW PERFECTION, 3-BURNER COOK STOVE, with oven and cabinet, value $49.00 for $34.00
1 ONLY ALUMINUM TEA KETTLE, regular $3.85 for .. $2.89
1 ONLY UNIVERSAL FOOD CHOPPER, regular $3.50, for $2.89
1 ONLY, SET OF 5 WHITE JAPANNED HOUSEHOLD BOXES, regular $3.00, for $2.19
1 ONLY ALUMINUM COFFEE PERCOLATER, reg. $3.60, for $2.59
1 ONLY ALUMINUM TEA POT, regular $3.15, for $2.19

SHOVELS and SPADES
Long and Short Handles
PRICED LOW FOR 9 DAYS

Round and square mouth $1.19
Garden Rakes .....49c to $1.39
Garden Hoes .....59c to $1.09

ATTRACTIVELY PRICED FOR 9 DAYS
30 Per Cent Off All Silverware

Stainless Knives:
Dessert, half dozen...$2.98, $3.98
Table, half dozen $3.49
Bread Knives 47c
Slicing Knives 39c
Paring Knives .....13c, 23c and 29c
Butcher and Kitchen Knives 39c
French Cook Knives .....39c to 99c
Table Knives & Forks, black handles pair .....19c and 29c

Paints and Brushes

A limited quantity of Elephant Paint at special 9-day sale prices, to clear surplus stock: One half pints, 33c; pints, 59c; quarts, $1.09; half gallons, $1.98; gallons, $3.98.

A good general purpose Varnish in half pints and pints only, at half pints, 33c; pints, 59c.

SPECIAL- FLOOR ENAMEL -SPECIAL for inside and outside use. Pints, 69c; quarts, $1.19; half gallons, $2.19.

Sandpaper, 6 sheets for 13c
Graining Sets, each 49c
Rubberset Paint Brushes, specially priced for our 9-day sale at 29c, 39c, 49c, 79c and 99c.
Putty Knives 34c
Wall Scrapers .....19c and 79c

BROWN'S HARDWARE
171 SIMCOE STREET. Just Around the Corner from George Street

BRIDGE ACROSS CHANNEL TO PROVIDE ROADS AND CANAL ACCORDING TO NEW PLANS

Parallel Jetties From Calais To Deal Suggested By Swiss.

HARBORS AT ENDS.

Room For Ships To Pass Through Jetty Is Provided.

By CLAIRE PRICE.

Proposals for solving the longstanding problem of the English Channel by means of a $400,000,000 bridge and canal scheme have now been submitted to the Chambers of Commerce of London and Paris. Jules Jaeger, the Swiss engineer who has drawn up the project, proposes to connect the railway, road, canal and navigable river systems of England and the Continent. In contrast to his novel above-water plan, th tunnel plan, which is the classic solution of the Channel problem, proposes to link the English and Continental railway systems only.

M. Jaeger would build two parallel jetties from Calais to Deal, a distance of a little more than twenty-six miles, the jetties themselves to carry railway and road traffic and the sheltered waterway between them to extend the Calais Canal to England. He believes that the canal could ultimately be extended from Deal across the northeast corner of Kent to Herne Bay, in the estuary of the Thames, thus making London the terminus of the Continental railway, road and waterway systems. The cost of the project, he estimates, would be somewhere between $350,000,000 and $400,000,000. The cost of the tunnel scheme has been estimated at steadily increasing amounts during the fifty years since it was first proposed in its modern form. The most recent estimates are about $300,000,000.

New Harbors Foreseen.

Since the new Jaeger project is an above-water project, provision is made for the passage of up-and-down Channel traffic off both the Deal and the Calais ends. Harbor works are planned off both these ports, with ample facilities for the trans-shipment of cargo from rail and barge to steamer. Railway and road traffic is to cross both these proposed harbors on high cantilever bridges like some of the great East River bridges in New York.

Ample room for almost unlimited development of traffic is provided throughout the scheme. A thousand feet of width is provided for the canal between the jetties, and its depth would vary from 120 to 180 feet. Each jetty is planned to carry a double railway track, with a roadway for motor and other traffic superimposed. The entire structure would run in a straight line from Calais to Deal. Railway and road traffic would be diverted in a westerly direction at Deal to link with the existing rail and road systems to London, but if the canal itself were eventually extended from Deal to Herne Bay, on the lower Thames, its entire length from Calais to the Thames would be very close to a straight line throughout.

By avoiding Dover, which is the Channel tunnel, M. Jaeger adds about five miles to the length of his jetties, but in exchange for this loss he gains two advantages. He reduces the length of the proposed extension of the canal from Deal to Herne Bay, and he locates his harbor works off Deal in that anchorage ground behind the Goodwin Sands which is known as the Downs.

Plan Would Revise Deal.

Deal lies at the southern end of the Downs and owes its existence to the great use which shipping has made of the Downs, particularly in the days of sail. At present it is more of a bathing resort than a shipping point, although the Deal boatmen are still famous for the rescues they have carried out when a storm-blinded ship has been carried on to the treacherous Goodwin Sands.

In the old days Deal lived principally by provisioning outbound vessels in the Downs and by landing mails from inbound vessels, but its traditions of seamanship are now perpetuated mainly in the Deal lifeboat. There are no more thrilling sea stories anywhere than some of those that happen in real life at Deal every Winter, when the lifeboat picks up half-frozen men by searchlight as they leap from a breaking ship on the Goodwins.

The Downs is still a very fine natural roadstead, extending for seven or eight miles from Deal out to the South Goodwin lightship and protected by the natural breakwater of the Sands, and it is not impossible that M. Jaeger's proposed harbor works in the Downs may revive the old prosperity of Deal.

By avoiding Dover as the English terminus the Jaeger scheme also avoids the currents off Dover, which might be an expensive difficulty in the construction. Particularly since the completion of the Admiralty harbor works at Dover the offset currents outside the harbor have been notoriously strong, so strong that even the powerful Channel steamers from Calais are compelled to enter the harbor at almost full speed, relying on a quick full speed astern to check their way. Failure to get the astern way on in time means for captains who are less experienced than the regular cross-Channel captains either a "bumb" or a "circus" round the harbor. Those parts of the Pilots' Handbook for the English Channel which deal with the currents off Dover are lively reading.

Besides making it possible to load canal barges in the docks of London and send them through sheltered water into the Continental canal system, the Jaeger project promises to revive the Channel car-ferry traffic, which rose to enormous proportions during the war. Then the "mystery port" of Richborough, just north of Deal, mushroomed into existence overnight. While ordinary canal traffic would leave the Thames estuary at Herne Bay for Deal and Calais, thus avoiding the open sea off the North Foreland, whole trains of freight cars could be run on to car floats at Deal, to be run off on the Northern of France Railway at Calais.

Except in Spain, Portugal and Russia, the standard railway gauges of the Continent are almost the same width as the British gauge. There is a centimeter's difference between them, but the difference has not prevented the operation of car ferries in the past nor does it prevent it now. During the war the military car ferries operating between Richborough and the Continent became a very important factor in the cross-Channel lines of communication. But Richborough was sold after the war, and, although the traveler in England still occasionally sees Continental freight cars in English switchyards, the civilian car ferries of today do not compare in volume of traffic with the great traffic which poured out of the military port of Richborough during the war.

Under the Jaeger scheme car-ferry services could be operated to the Continent in sheltered water and would thus be exempt from the weather interruptions to which such services are necessarily subject in open water. In case of war, except under enemy fire, there would be similar immunity from interruption, since the jetties would protect the canal traffic from sea mines and torpedoes.

The military bearing of the Jaeger project is, in fact, its most striking aspect. As everybody knows, it is the veto of the British War Office that has kept the Channel tunnel project in suspension for nearly fifty years. The French authorities have always favored it; its only difficulties have been on the English side of the "silver streak." A certain amount of civilian opposition has existed in England as the result of the insular tradition which has been the foundation of everything English for centuries, but there seems to be little doubt that the Channel problem would have been solved some time ago if the British military authorities had not interposed and maintained their veto.

So far as is known, there are no insuperable engineering difficulties in the tunnel project. With the military veto lifted the difficulties would be financial rather than of an engineering sort, and the English Channel Tunnel Company, which is still in being, has maintained that the necessary financial suport was available.

Simpler Than Tunnel.

It is believed that there are even fewer engineering difficulties in the new Jaeger scheme than in the old tunnel scheme. Unlike the tunnel scheme, an above-water scheme could be commanded by shore batteries and warships in the Channel, and if it had to be broken for military reasons it is believed that as many destructive devices could be built into it as the military authorities required.

In fixing upon Deal as his English terminus, M. Jaeger may have borne in mind the English sensitiveness to any tampering with the Channel, for the big military depot of Walmer is only two miles south of Deal. M. Jaeger urges that instead of being a danger in time of war it would be a great military asset to England. It is easy to see that in the late war it would have been one of the greatest military assets imaginable.

It would have served as a valuable link in the lines of communication to France and it would have dammed the Channel against the German submarine bases, a feat which the British naval base at Dover never quite succeeded in doing. The navy came very close to doing it with the deep mine field which was laid down under a surface lighted with gas buoys and patrolled by trawlers, but that mine field was not laid until the war was well along toward its end. As soon as the submarine campaign began developing nothing could have been more valuable to the British Admiralty than a cross-Channel dam of the sort M. Jaeger proposes. It is easy to be wise after the fact.

The fundamental objection which the British military authorities have had to any tampering with the Channel on which England's defense system is based, has not been the difficulty of putting a bridge or a tunnel out of action in case of necessity. Such projects can easily be put out of them completely. Assuming that the British were defeated in a future war, it is held that the terms of peace would inevitably provide for the restoration of the broken tunnel or bridge across the Channel and for its operation thereafter under other than British control....

This is an assumption of the worst, but military authorities are compelled by the nature of their task to assume the worst and to prepare against it.

corns
removed at first soaking

No matter how long you may have suffered from corns or how deeply embedded they may have become, Radox Bath Salts will remove them without trouble and without pain. To cut a corn is but to prune it, and for the temporary relief you suffer increased agony a little later. A Radox foot bath is the certain way to be rid of a corn. Read what this Radox user says:

"As an agricultural worker, I have suffered agonies, and have tried all sorts of so-called cures. We got a packet of Radox, and the result was marvellous. The first soaking fetched out two large corns that nothing else would touch. One is about half an inch round, and stood out from the foot a good quarter inch like a button." A.I.

When you put your feet into a foot-bath containing Radox the salts soften the hard outer layers of the corn and the oxygen which Radox liberates enters the pores, opens them, and penetrates, further and further, carrying the corn-softening salts right to the root of the corn, which is thus loosened so that it can be lifted out bodily. This life-giving oxygen leaves the feet clean and healthy. Because it is the oxygen which carries the corn solvents to the roote of the corn, and because Radox liberates, by test, more oxygen than any other salts, it is obvious that Radox is more efficient in removing corns than any other salts. On your way home to-night, buy a package at the druggists.

60c. Half pound Pink Pkg.

Radox Bath Salts
Sole Importers: Gyde & Son, Montreal

BETHANY PERSONALS

BETHANY, March 23.—Mrs. Ferguson of St. Catharines is visiting her sister, Miss Lizzie Washington.

Mrs. Ashley of Madoc is the guest of Rev. A. and Mrs. Poulter at the parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. William McMullen of Lindsay spent a few days this week visiting friends in the village.

Several sleigh-loads of people attended a presentation at Charles Porteous' home, Dranoel, on Friday night, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Greenlaw. Mr. Greenlaw was the very efficient bandmaster of the band of this village, also leader of the orchestra of the United Sunday School, before his removal to Port Hope.

A number attended the basket social and concert in the United Church, Franklin, on Friday evening.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Geo. Jones (nee Olive Delong) of Franklin passed through the village on Friday afternoon to the family plot, Graham's Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Anson Delong of Trenton attended the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Jones, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McMahon of Peterboro attended the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Jones, on Friday.

THEY BRING ALMOST INSTANT RELIEF

That Is What Mrs. A. Mills Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ontario lady took Dodd's Kidney Pills for a weak back with very beneficial results.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., March 22.—(Special)—Short, but to the point, is the statement made by Mrs. A. Mills, who resides at 14 Green Street, Belleville. She writes:

"I have always been troubled with a weak back; especially after any extra work. I find, if I take Dodd's Kidney Pills they bring almost instant relief."

The relief that Mrs. Mills found has come to thousands of other Canadian women through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. That shows that the ache is caused by the kidneys, for Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely and simply a kidney remedy. For more than a quarter of a century Dodd's Kidney Pillsr have been a household remedy in thousands of Canadian homes.

SEEK COMMUNISTS.

Chinese To Punish Five Ringleaders.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 23 (Canadian Press).—United States Minister MacMurray reported yesterday that the Peking Government had ordered the punishment of five Communists accused of having repeatedly caused trouble in China.

The police were instructed to institute a careful search for the accused, and to use vigorous measures against Communist demonstrations in the future. New regulations forbid all public meetings.

These steps resulted from the demonstrations in Taku on March 18, in which a number were killed.

CHICAGO LOSES FIRST SKIRMISH IN WATER STEAL

Motion to Dismiss Lake States' Appeal Against Diversion Overruled.

BY SUPREME COURT.

Question of U. S. Court's Jurisdiction in Abeyance Until Case Completed.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(Canadian Press).—Wisconsin and other lake states opposing the present diversion of water from Lake Michigan by the Chicago sanitary district won a skirmish in the supreme court yesterday in what now promises to be a protracted and spectacular battle.

Illinois and the sanitary district, supported by four Mississippi valley states—Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and Louisiana, had attacked the jurisdiction of the supreme court to consider the question, asserting that Congress alone had authority over the navigation of the Great Lakes.

The lake states replied that Congress could not authorize the diversion of water from one watershed into another except to add navigation, and that any quantity withdrawn from Lake Michigan in excess of 1,000 cubic feet per second would be unlawful.

Action Deferred.

The supreme court did not decide the question of its jurisdiction Monday, but in a statement by Chief Justice Taft it announced that, in view of the difficult questions arising, it would delay action on that question until the case had been fully presented. It overruled a motion to dismiss the proceedings, but stated that it did so without prejudice to the rights of Illinois and the sanitary district to raise the question again as the case proceeded.

The action of the court means that it will go fully into the many phases of the controversy, and that it probably will be months before there is a final decision.

MISSION BAND AND CIRCLE OF OFFICERS

Societies of St. James' Church Hold Annual Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Mission Band of St. James' church was held on Monday afternoon at which the following officers were elected:

Pres.: Annie Payne.
Vice-Pres.: Dorothy Seabrook.
Rec.-Sec.: Clara Wilford.
Cor.-Sec.: Nellie Payne.
Treas.: Arthur McLaren.
Sec. of Mite Boxes: Florence Cripps.
Sec. of Palm Branch: Ivy McGovern.
Pianist: Dorothy Swanger.

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation of a Life Membership certificate to little Margaret Fairbrother.

After the meeting tea was served by the Superintendent and the honorary members of the band to about 90 children, after which Rev. Mr. Buckler, Mrs. Buckler, and Mrs. Fairbrother gave short talks which were much enjoyed by those present.

ACROSS CANADA AND BACK

Marvellous beyond conception inaptly describes the glories of Canada's Rockies. To be fully appreciated they must be seen. To start out on a trip by one's self into this unfamiliar but far-famed paradise-on-earth, to many appears quite a task. Realizing this, Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College, an experienced Rocky Mountains traveller for the third year in succession, has undertaken to conduct a party through this glorious wonderland.

A special train of dining, standard sleeping, and observation compartment cars has been chartered, to leave Toronto on July 19th via the Canadian Pacific Railway. Stops will be made at Port Arthur and Fort William, which together form Canada's greatest grain port; Winnipeg Beach, the popular summer resort for Winnipegers; Winnipeg, Canada's third largest city; Indian Head, the chief tree distributing centre of the Federal Forestry Branch; Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan; Calgary, Alberta's largest city; Banff, the world-famous mountain resort; by automobile for 104 miles over the Banff-Windermere Highway the most spectacular drive in Canada; through Kootenay Lake to Nelson, the commercial centre of Southern British Columbia; then through the Doukhobor country to Penticton; along lovely Okanagan Lake, and to Vancouver, thence by steamer to Victoria.

Returning, the trip will be by the main line of the Canadian Pacific, through the great canyons of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers, and through the Selkirks, and Rockies, affording scenery such as can be found nowhere else on earth; Lake Louise, the Pearl of the Rockies, the most perfect gem of scenery in the world; another day at Banff; Edmonton, the capital of Alberta; Saskatoon the city of optimism; Devil's Gap Camp, on the Lake of Woods, near Kenora, thence to Fort William, where one of the fine Canadian Pacific steamers will be used across Lakes Superior and Huron to Port McNicoll, then rail to Toronto, where the trip will terminate.

Everything is included in the price of $330.00, from Toronto; transportation, sleeping cars, accommodation in Hotels, and bungalow camps, meals in diners, hotels and on steamers, and sight-seeing tours at points visited.

The trip is open to all, and applications for accommodation, are being received.

Fares from other points than Toronto will be named and descriptive illustrated booklet sent on application to Dean Sinclair Laird, Macdonald College Post Office, Que.

T T—107

L.O.B.A. OFFICERS.

Peterboro' Ladies Appointed To Posts By Grand Lodge.

Following are the officers of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Eastern Ontario, L.O.B.A.:

Grand Mistress, Sister S. Clark, Cornwall; G.D.M., Sister Bevin, Ottawa; Grand Junior Deputy, Sister Lang, Ottawa; Grand Chaplain, Sister Doherty, Belleville; Grand Recording Secretary, Sister Mills, Smith Falls; Grand Treasurer, Sister Hussie, Kingston; Grand Director of Ceremonies, Sister Henley, Lindsay; Grand Secretary, Sister Eligh, Brockville; Grand Deputy Secretary, Sister Caton, Picton; Grand Deputy Secretary, Sister Staples, Peterboro; Grand Deputy Treasurer, Sister Featherston, Ottawa; Grand Auditors, Sisters Gillespie, Perth, and Burnham, Peterboro.

SOUTH MONAGHAN YOUNG PEOPLE MEET

Plan For Easter Dance and For Baseball Team.

BAILIEBORO, March 23.—The South Monaghan Young People's Club held its fortnightly meeting on Thursday evening. There were about sixty present and the vice-president, Miss Emma Tate, presided at the meeting.

Among the business items of the meeting was the planning for an Easter dance, and it was decided to hold the dance on April 7th. A committee of three, composed of Messrs. Harry Campbell, Karl Huggins and Fred Barnard was appointed to organize and prepare a boys' baseball team among the members of the club.

At the conclusion of the business meeting an excellent programme was enjoyed, consisting of solos by Miss Vera Bradshaw; violin duets by Messrs. James Wood and Clifford Emberson; community singing and a very interesting debate, resolved, "that the optimist has done more towards bettering mankind than the pessimist." The affirmative was ably upheld by Misses Helen Staples and M. M. Weir, while the negative was thoroughly argued by Misses Frances Bonneycastle and Fern Telford. The judges, who were Messrs. Harry Campbell, Fred Barnard and Roy Rutherford gave the decision, one point in favour of the affirmative.

Wilfrid Johnston gave an excellent critic's report at the close of the meeting.

NORWOOD PERSONALS.

NORWOOD, March 23.—Mrs. Norval presided at the organ in the United church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. M. Engisch and Miss Lila Engisch were in Peterboro on Saturday.

Mrs. P. M. Grover is visiting friends in Montreal.

Miss Elsie Richardson of Hastings is spending a few days in the village.

Mrs. Beverley (nee Bessie Mickle) of Toronto came down from the city on Saturday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Jas. Ross.

Mrs. R. Lees and Miss M. Lees of Peterboro spent the week end with Miss E. Waters.

Mrs. F. McAdams of Havelock was the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Nixon on Friday.

Mr. Harry Coyle and Miss Lizzie Coyle of Roseneath were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Marks on Saturday.

Mr. George Peters of Peterboro was in the village during the week on business.

Mr. Daniel Sedgwick of Peterboro visited Norwood friends during the week.

Mr. Robert Lennox of Lakefield spent a few days in the village during the past week.

Miss B. Calder was in Peterboro on Saturday

Mrs. David Starke and little daughted are visting friends at Mather's Corners and Keene.

Mr. George Lonsberry is spending a few days in Lakefield with his daughter, Mrs. A. Tighe.

Miss Annie McIntyre has returned from a short visit with friends in Perth.

Miss Olive Haig of Havelock spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. T. H. Norval.

Mr. Herman Ennis of Toronto was the guest of his father, Mr. Richard Ennis during the week.

Miss Bertha Dienel of Ottawa rendered a solo in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday evening.

TRAILING ACTRESS FOR MURDER CLUE

Los Angeles Attorney Still Working on Taylor Slaying.

CHICAGO, March 23.—(Canadian Press.) — District Attorney Asa Keyes, of Los Angeles County, California, was here to-day trailing a motion picture actress in his determination to solve the mystery surrounding the slaying of William Desmond Taylor, picture director, in 1922.

The District Attorney, who has been in New York, Boston and Detroit, is following many clues.

SEEKS MABEL NORMAND.

DETROIT, Mich., March 23. — (Canadian Press.) — Mabel Normand motion picture actress, will be summoned to his office for a questioning in connection with the murder of William Desmond Tayor, picture director, as soon as he gets back to Los Angeles, Asa Keyes, prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles, said yesterday.

Deaths

Scotland Yard is protesting the "help yourself" fashion of wearing pearl and diamond necklaces with strings down the lack, now the craze in London.

DR. MURINE NIGHT & MORNING KEEP YOUR EYES CLEAN CLEAR AND HEALTHY
WRITE FOR FREE EYE CARE BOOK. MURINE CO. CHICAGO

LET US REPAIR
Your Rubber Footwear, including
RUBBER BOOTS
and we'll return them practically as good as new.
AT MODERATE PRICES
DAWSON & JOHNSTON
Phone 2123 Cor. George and McDonnel

Let Us Help You
Re-Decorate Your Home!

Painting isn't a difficult job when you have our interest, to help you. Even an amateur can produce surprising results.

That old chair can be re-finished. You can paint your own car, floors or even the house at a low cost. Our stock is complete and includes:

MOORE'S ECONOMY HOUSE PAINTS
HAMILTON'S RUBBER-SET BRUSHES
RONUK ENGLISH FLOOR POLISH
MURESCO FAMOUS WALL FINISH
White Lead, Oil, Turpentine, Wall Paper.

Consult Us on Your Re-Decorating Problems—

Colman Bros.
PAINT AND WALL PAPER STORE
445 GEORGE STREET
4 DOORS NORTH OF BROCK ST.

Who'll Be The Lucky Lad?

...liner

...home town chronicle of the world's ...gs. Dozens of special features ...eally family journal. The Examiner ...t can always be depended on to ...tinctly high class job.

Who'll be the lucky ...
Perhaps you'll be ... Examiner's guest at ... borough's Senior Onta... sit beside the player y...
At least you stan... hundreds of boys who ...
All you have to do ... Peterborough team, w... reasons for your selec... Contest Editor at The...
C'mon gang! Let ...
Who'll be the luc... Coupon and partic...

GET WHAT YOU WANT THROUGH A WANT AD

Anything to sell—Help wanted, House to rent, Lost or found, Notice, House to sell, etc. Any want that someone else can supply, you get it through our want ad column. Phone 1600—We will send for your copy.

...er Tells It in Over ...00 Homes

Lost! By Juanita Hamel.

There's a time in every man's life when he finds himself lost in the forest of Doubt and Uncertainty. He wanders through the maze of bewildering paths and blind roads, searching down every clue that seems to point to the goal—the goal of Love and Happiness which he is seeking.

And Dan Cupid watches his aimless wanderings and when Mr. Man has about given up hope of ever finding the right path, presto! he finds himself confronted by the One about whom his dreams and hopes have centred. And he realizes that all his wanderings have been for the purpose of eventually leading him to his heart's desire. And then he is truly Lost—lost to Love. And Dan Cupid enrolls another willing victim.

COBORNE TEAM TO BE ENTERED

Will Take Part in Eastern Group of D. and O. League.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

COLBORNE, March 23.— The Colborne Baseball Club has entered a team in the Durham and Ontario Baseball League and expects to be grouped with Brighton, Cobourg and Port Hope, these teams to form one group, and Bowmanville, two Oshawa teams and Whitby another group.

Colborne baseball enthusiasts met on Thursday night and reorganized for the season as follows:

President—Robert Coyle.
1st Vice-Pres.—A. E. Donaghy.
2nd Vice-Pres.—J. F. Wilson.
Secertary—C. H. Byers.
Treasurer—C. C. Philp.
Manager—W. W. Cowie.
Grounds Committee—Capt. A. G. Willoughby, Dr. J. R. Hancock, H. W. Vandervoort.
Finance Committee—R. Coyle, A. E. Donaghby, Capt. A. G. Willoughby, C. H. Byers.

Local matches are to be arranged by W. H. Osborne; Wm. Usher is gate-keeper; equipment is in charge of the manager and captain.

BALL PROSPECTS IN CAMPBELLFORD

Only Soft Ball Mentioned as New Season Looms.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23.—Now that Brighton and Colborne have definitely decided to enter the new baseball league that has been organized by the towns along the lake front, it is likely the Northumberland League that has been in existence for the last six years will be allowed to lapse. Archie Zufelt, the clever pitcher for Warkworth in past years his brother, Kory, who played first base and by his heavy hitting helped to keep that team always near the top with their old team mate, Mike Dawson, will play this season with Colborne, provided the Northumberland League is not re-organized. H. Mulhall, another Warkworth graduate, who was with Colborne last season, will be in the lineup again this year. He can play any position on the diamond and is a master of baseball strategy.

As for Campbellford, after its experiment of last year, the town appears to be committed to soft ball and a town league will be formed, composed of the same teams as those figured in it last season. It is likely, too that the hard ball league of Seymour will be revived, although there is evidence of the softball fever out in the townships.

Hastings holds the championship cup and the clever young players of that village will be found ready to defend their title to it against all legitimate comers.

Every season since the organization of the Northumberland League Brighton and Colborne were problems in the race,—problems that were never solved until the last game was played, and their secession to the new league has left a gap which it would be impossible to fill.

KENNEDY CUP.

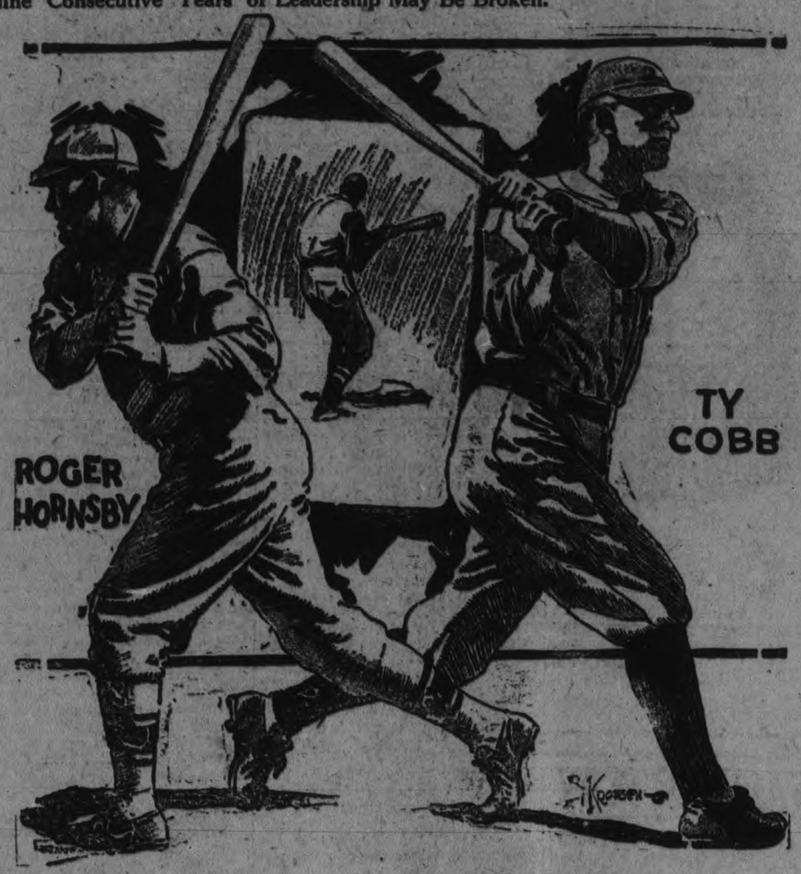
LAKEFIELD, March 23.—The Kennedy Cup offered to the players in the Lakefield District League who best displayed the qualities of sportsmanship was awarded to Gordon Hill who has played on the forward line of the Alert team in the District League and was a valuable member of the local intermediate O.H.A. team and received special mention for his play in both O.H.A. games. Mr. Hill played a good brand of hockey all winter and was known as a clean player and a good sport and is to be congratulated on winning the cup, which was awarded "to the player most valuable to his team, goal getting and conduct on and off the ice being considered."

Season Ended.

The hockey season has closed and one feels that a step forward has been taken especially in connection with the junior team which played two wonderfully good games with the Markham team which had the advantage of having played as a team for several seasons besides being a larger and heavier team. ... forward to still further year. The local

COBB'S BATTING RECORD IN DANGER

Nine Consecutive Years of Leadership May Be Broken.



(By BILLY EVANS)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 19.—One of the most interesting batting challenges that has entered the ranks of baseball statistics is going on.

On one corner sits Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the terror of the American League.

In the other squats Rogers Hornsby, pride of the National waiting to wrest a record that promised to live forever and forever.

When Ty Cobb became the American League swat king for nine successive years no one ever dreamed that his record would be equaled, much less excelled.

Yet today Rog Hornsby has a high run of six on his string and and with no outward indication of slowing up or slipping as the experts say.

Thus, when the 1926 season opens Hornsby's batting stride will be watched by all who follow batting statistics and records.

If Hornsby reigns supreme in his organization this coming summer he will make it seven straight. Will he advance to eighth, then and nine and create added fame for himself with ten?

Time alone will answer that question.

Hornsby refuses to offer a prophecy about himself. Rog. is a fellow who allows base hits to speak for themselves.

"I have never cared to make any predictions about myself," Hornsby when he was asked whether he thought he would be able to maintain this .400 clip for three or four more years.

"That's looking too far into the future," replied Rogers. "Making base hits is the least of my worries. You get 'em or you don't.

"I am not thinking about what's going to happen this year, the next or the following one. In batting I do not plan on the next time at bat but when I am up there I try to pick on the one that is coming over and have my full cut.

"As for tying Cobb's record or beating it, nothing would please me more, but I am not losing any sleep fretting about the possibilities of what you fellows call fame."

The statistics showing the nine leading years for Cobb and the six for Hornsby bring out some interesting information.

Hornsby has the better average, showing .3966, against .3767 for their years as batting monarchs.

Hornsby holds the highest average with .424 in 1924. His lowest mark was .370. Cobb's best mark is .420 in 1911, his lowest .324 when he was the leader in 1908.

Cobb steps ahead of his National League rival for scoring runs, having 147 in 1911. Hornsby's top mark is 141.

In base hits Hornsby leads with 250 in 1922 against 248 for Cobb in 1911. In total bases Hornsby shines as a slugger, having 450 in 1922, with 367 the best mark for Ty. Cobb has the best year for triples, but in home runs trails Hornsby.

Cobb was 29 years of age when he reached his ninth straight year. Hornsby was 29 in finishing his run of six in a row.

COBB'S RECORD

Year.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	TB.	2	3	4	AV.
1915	156	563	144	208	274	31	13	3	.370
1914	97	345	69	127	182	22	11	2	.368
1913	122	428	70	167	229	18	14	4	.390
1912	140	553	119	227	324	30	23	7	.410
1911	146	591	147	248	367	47	24	8	.420
1910	140	509	106	196	282	36	13	8	.385
1909	156	573	116	216	296	33	10	9	.377
1908	150	581	88	188	276	36	20	4	.324
1907	150	605	97	212	27[illegible]	29	10	5	.350
Totals..	1257	4748	956	1789	2506	282	138	50	.3767

HORNSBY'S RECORD

Year.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	TB.	2	3	4	AV.
1925	138	504	133	203	381	41	10	39	.403
1924	143	536	121	227	373	43	14	25	.424
1923	107	424	89	163	266	32	10	17	.384
1922	154	623	141	250	450	46	14	42	.401
1921	154	592	131	235	378	44	18	21	.397
1920	148	589	96	218	329	44	20	9	.370
Totals....	845	3268	711	1296	2177	250	86	153	.3966

CURLERS SEND FELICITATIONS TO SENIOR HOCKEY CHAMPIONS

Ira Moore Succeeds R. F. Downey as President at Annual Meeting.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

The Peterborough Curling Club held its twenty-first annual meeting last night with a large attendance of the members present. President R. F. Downey presided and in a short pithy speech called on the prize winners to come forth and receive their trophies.

Motions of thanks were accorded to the Bonspiel Committee and the Press.

It was resolved that a letter be sent to Angus McIntosh who was prevented by illness from carrying on in his usual capacity, giving him a resume of the activities of the club during the season.

It was resolved that a letter be sent to the Peterborough Hockey club as a sister sporting organization congratulating them on bringing the first and only senior hockey championship to the city.

The annual election of officers was proceeded with and resulted in the following members being chosen for the season 1926-27. President, I. D. Moore; Hon. President, R. F. Downey; Vice President, G. Copping; Committee of Management, G. H. Duncan, J. J. Howden, J. Bacon and J. Sedgewick. Representative to the Ontario Curling Association, Alex Kay, with J. H. Connall as alternative. Auditor, W. M. Carruthers. Umpire, Angus McIntosh. Open Bonspiel Committee, W. G. Morrow, W. D. Campbell, H. Poote, M. B. Chenhall, J. J. Howden and the President I. D. Moore.

The prize winners for the season ere as follows:

Schedule Prize:
1st—R. P. Best, George Cairns, T. Hooper and P. Stuart.
2nd—J. Wylie, Dr. N. H. Sutton, Brown and J. H. Vance.
3rd—C. S. Browne, C. McKinnon, Fitzgerald and C. Taylor.
4th—J. Connall, J. W. Hambridge, G. Hall and J. Wolstenholm.
Vice Skips Bonspiel:
1st—L. G. Dobbin, W. G. Menzie, Ringer and H. Routley.
2nd—R. Johnston, George Hill, R. Sills and H. Hair.
Weill Trophy:
1st—J. Bacon, J. C. Green, R. Acon and T. H. Ashby.
2nd—F. C. Weber, J. W. Anderson, R. A. Carmen and F. Green.
Mystery Bonspiel:
1st—J. Bacon, J. C. Green, R. Acon and T. H. Ashby.
2nd—Charles Westbrook, L. Ackerl, F. H. Jobbit and R. H. Turner.
Heads and Seconds:
1st—Dela Fosse, Cullen, Harvey Taylor.
2nd—Bacon, Ashby, Henderson Hair.
The Waddell Trophy given for its competition: F. C. Weber, up for President vs. Vice President: I. D. Moore.
The Patterson Cup for the Vice Pres's Bonspiel—L. G. Dobbin.

REFEREE DECLINES.

Fears Boxer Might Be Killed in Ring.

PARIS, March 23 (Canadian Press)—As a protest against what he terms an uneven and one sided match, Henri Bernstein, appointed by the French boxing federation to referee the bout scheduled for tonight between Paolino Uzcudun, known as the "Tiger of the Pyrenees," and Harry Drake, English heavyweight, served notice on the promoters of the bout last night that he must decline the invitation to officiate.

Bernstein, the most prominent boxing referee in France, said he had been informed Drake was suffering from heart trouble and that he might be killed in the ring.

TRAINING CAMPS REPORT INJURIES

Mishaps and Sickness Worry Managers in South.

NEW YORK, March 23 (Canadian Press). — Misfortune, unwelcome guest of many baseball clubs, has been a frequent visitor at the southern camps of major league teams this spring.

Preparations for the homeward trek this week find the Brooklyn Robins seriously affected by the illness of their high priced young infielder, Johnny Butler, now in a Baltimore hospital. Robinson counted heavily upon Butler in his reconstruction program, but "flu" and stomach trouble put him out of play almost as soon as he arrived at the Dodgers' camp.

Minor mishaps also have visited the champion Pirates, temporarily incapacitating infielders Eddie Moore, Stuffy McInnis and Hal Rhyne, while an injury to Grover Alexander's ankle has deprived the Chicago Cubs of their veteran star for a brief period.

Other accidents took from the Boston Red Sox their promising outfielder, Walter Shaner, who suffered a broken leg, and laid up Bob Lamotte, of the Browns, who was hit in the eye with a pitched ball.

HOPPE TO DEFEND TITLE

NEW YORK, March 23 (Canadian Press)—Willie Hoppe will defend his world's 18.1 balkline billiard title in a 3,600 point match against Jake Schaefer, former world's 18.2 champion here during the week of March 29.

The match will be played in 12 blocks of 300 points each.

Join the Exhibition!

Who Is Your Favorite?

Boys! Here's your chance!

Here's a competition you can all get in.

Write two hundred words about your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey Team, Champions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The prize winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given to the team in recognition of its splendid work this season.

This is the idea. The Petes have brought to this city the first Senior Championship it has ever had. They deserve all kinds of credit. Every boy on the team did his share. But you have your favorite—maybe you think he plays smarter hockey than the others; or he may skate better; or he may be merely better looking. Whatever your reason, write it out in not more than 200 words, and send it to "The Contest Editor, The Examiner," observing these simple rules:

(1) Open only to boys of 17 or under.
(2) Accuracy, penmanship, composition and neatness count.
(3) Contest closes at midnight, March 27.
(4) Pictures of the players will be run every day, without names. Clip out the picture of your favorite and paste it on a sheet of paper with his name written carefully under it. Pin this to your 200 word story or essay.
(5) A coupon, properly filled in and signed by a parent or guardian, must accompany every entry.

A committee of prominent citizens will be asked to decide the winner, and in case of dispute the Editor's decision will be final.

The date of the banquet will be announced later.

Clip out this Coupon and attach it to your essay.

FAVORITE HOCKEY PLAYER CONTEST

My Name .....

My address .....

My Favorite Hockey Player.....

The above contestant is.....years of age.

.....(Parent or Guardian)

TEAM'S 4,500 MILES.

Kingston Juniors Have Traveled Far.

KINGSTON, Mar. 23 (Canadian Press) — When Kingston Juniors return to the city next week from the west, bringing with them, the fans hope, the Memorial Cup, they will have covered almost 4,500 miles since they opened their O.H.A. schedule with Brockville back in January. The team will have actually travelled 4,466 miles by the time they return to the city, so with little jaunts here and there, it is safe to say that the team has nearly reached the 4,500 mark, thereby establishing a travel record.

OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

LONDON, Mar. 22 (Canadian Press)—Results of league football games played today were as follows:

English League, First Division
Notts County 1; Westham 1.
English League, Second Division
The Wednesday 2, Notts Forest 0.

FOUR SEASONS.

Eddie Tyron, Colgate's star back, had four seasons of collegiate football, the freshman rule not being in effect when Eddie enrolled at the institution.

Satisfaction Always

Wilson's
BACHELOR CIGAR
10c

The Blend never changes; the taste is always the same.

113

The NUT Cracker

By JOE WILLIAMS

To Pola Negri (by her own admission) Ruddy Valentino is a superman. . . . Whereas to us he is merely a super.

* * *

Nobody has even been able to figure out what makes the wild men of Borneo wild. . . . They don't have to watch the Red Sox.

* * *

Babe Ruth says the Yanks are the team the boys will have to beat in the American League this year. . . . . We have a feeling the Babe's invitation will be cheerfully accepted.

* * *

It all depends on who does it. . . . Rockefeller gives a dime tip and it's big news we give a quarter tip and the office auditor starts a criminal investigation.

* * *

If John D. tried to hand some of the caddies we have met, in a strictly social way, a 10-cent tip they'd run him right from under his toupee.

* * *

The Treasury Department reports the average life of a dollar bill is seven months. . . . In whose hands, in whose hands?

* * *

"The team that beats us will know they have been in a race," writes the versatile John J. McGraw of the Giants. . . . There's erudition, plus, for you. . . . Whadda suppose they'd think they were in, a furniture-varnishing competition?

* * *

The old-fashioned son, who used to go in for crossword puzzles, has joined his old-fashioned dad who held championships at mah jongg.

* * *

Walter Hagen beat Bobby Jones, 12 and 11. . . . . This sounds more like the signal for a play around left end than a golf score.

* * *

"Show me the way to go home," sang the bewildered base-runner as he tore into third base.

* * *

Flowers is to meet Greb for the third time. . . . The understanding is that if Flowers wins this match he gets the title for keeps, like the Lipton Cup and the golf trophy.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

FRANCIS OUIMET—APPROACH PUTT.

To my mind the hardest shot of all to play is the long approach putt. I mean the one where the ball is, say, on the edge of the green and the hole is 30 or 40 feet away. It is such shots that win and lose championships, winning for the entrant who slips the ball up closely each time, and losing for the person who does not.

Walter Travis was the best I ever saw, though Chick Evans and Harry Vardon are well ahead of the average in approach putting even though their reputation as putters is not so high.

The reason why that shot is so difficult is that everything depends upon it. First of all, your judgment of distance must be accurate. If you are 30 feet from the hole, you must not putt your ball 40 feet and neither must you putt it 20 feet. You must get it close.

Those two things, "judgment and direction," sum up the whole art of approach putting. To get or acquire the necessary judgment the first requisite is learning to "feel" the club and ball.

(Copyright, 1925.)

SEASON A MEMORY.

LAKEFIELD, March 23.—The curling season is over and has been most successful, and open bonspiel, a local bonspiel and a Mercantile bonspiel and Irish bonspiel have been run off besides the local competition and several minor games and now season is a memory. The next event in curling circles will be the annual banquet at which speeches are made and the prizes presented.

MONTREAL HAS HOCKEY WEEK

Amateur and Pro. Playoffs For Five Nights.

PIRATES ARRIVE.

MONTREAL, March 23 (Canadian Press). — Montreal faces the greatest hockey feast ever known in the history of the winter game in this province. For the next five days the centre of interest of the hockey fans of the Dominion will be centered at the Forum here, where pro. and amateur hockey play-offs are carded for five consecutive nights.

Tonight Pittsburgh Pirates and the Montreal Maroons meet in the second game of their two-game series to decide which team will meet the Ottawa Senators in the finals for the National Hockey League title The Maroons will enter the tussle with a two-goal lead gained over the Pirates at Pittsburg Saturday.

Nelson Stewart will be started on the defence with Reg. Noble, Captain Dunc Munro being on the sick list still. Bill Phillips, the former Soo Greyhound, will start at centre.

The Buccaneers arrived Monday along with the Maroons, and the players took turns with the Montrealers in a light skating exercise at the Forum as a limbering up drill after the long train journey. Manager Odie Cleghorn will start his regular line-up and will have Lowrey replacing Tex White on the second string forward line, White being left behind ill with la grippe.

In the event of Pittsburg being eliminated from the N.H.L. title hunt this evening, the Pirates will journey to Windsor, where they will play a two-game series with Neswy Lalonde's Saskatoon Sheiks who were beaten in the Western Hockey League play-off. The games will be played Thursday and Friday.

While Montreal is favored to win, there is the possibility of the Pirates coming from behind to take the honors or at least tie the series. To provide for this latter contingency, the rule of the N.H.L. governing play-offs has been drawn to the attention of both managers, especially that which orders the two teams, in the event of the series being tied at the end of the second game, to continue on to a decision even if the play has to be carried beyond the usual 0 minute overtime play which governs in league fixtures.

HOCKEY SCORES.

Hockey games played yesterday resulted as follows:

Allan Cup Semi-final
Toronto Varsity 3; Ottawa Gunners 0.
Toronto Varsity wins round 8-4
Western League Final
Edmonton 2; Victoria 2.
(Victoria wins round 5 to 3)
Exhibition
New York 2; Portland 0.

BASEBALL SCORES

(By Canadian Press)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—Score:

Boston (A)....	3	11	3
Cleveland (A)	4	8	0

Mogridge, Graham and Hearn, Taylor; Levsen, Miller, Karr, L. Sewell.

TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—Score:

Cincinnati (N)	3	11	0
Washington (A)	2	8	0

May, Springer, Day and Hargraves; Johnson Ferguson, Kelly and Ruel, Tate.

LONG TRAINING TRIP.

St. Louis Cardinals have booked 28 exhibitions for the 1926 training season. The first tilt was played at Waco, Tex., March 6 and the last will be in St. Louis with the Browns April 11. Outside of the games with Sisler's team the Cards will not meet any major league opposition before the start of the chase.

BOASTS GREAT ARM.

Bob Meusel of the New York Yankees is considered to have the greatest throwing arm in the majors. He gets great distance and is noted for his accuracy.

PENN'S STOCK RISES.

Penn's basketball chances have been boosted considerably by the splendid showing of Lukaswitz, a sophomore. The tot has ... a cone of the finds of the eastern intercollegiate campaign.

LEADERS Their Records of 1925

BATTING

EDDIE COLLINS

Made major league debut with Athletics in 1906. Remained with Macks nine seasons. Sold to White Sox in 1915 when Connie Mack started famous housecleaning. Has been consistent .300 hitter, attaining highest mark in 1920 when he hit .369.

Has scored 100 or more runs seven times. Has led league in base-stealing on several occasions. In 1910 swiped 81, his premier effort.

Has been in six world series, four with the Athletics. Batted over .400 in three of the classics. Considered one of greatest "money" players in game.

Has played outfield, short, third and second. Last named his regular position.

Appointed manager White Sox start of 1925 season.

VARSITY WINS SHUT-OUT GAME

Defeats Ottawa Gunners By 3-0 Score—Qualifies To Meet Ports.

IN FINAL SERIES.

TORONTO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—For the second year in succession University of Toronto and Port Arthur will meet in the final series for the Canadian Senior championship and the Allan Cup, the former representing Eastern Canada and the Ports again being the survivors of the Western Canada eliminations. Varsity qualified by defeating Ottawa Gunners in the semi-final round 8 to 4, on the round adding three goals to their total from the first game in Ottawa on Saturday, and holding the visitors scoreless last night at the Arena in what will probably be the last Senior game on local ice this winter.

After the first few minutes the result was not in doubt, and the Students secured their trio of counters in the first 25 minutes of the game, and they played fairly well under wraps for the remainder of the journey, although it was only the smart work of Seed, in the Gunners' net, that kept the Blue and White marksmen from mounting their total well up towards double figures. As far as an exhibition of Canada's winter pastime, the game was not up to the mark expected of an engagement in the semi-final round for the Canadian championship.

SOCCER NOTES

An organization meeting of the Thistle F. C. will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Business important.

A "fatigue party" will be formed on Saturday afternoon down on King Edward Park before starting to kick the ball. He sure to bring a shovel.

The Quaker Oats will hold a special meeting in the plant building to-morrow evening.

CARLOAD OF COWS.

Shipped From Campbellford To Barrie.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23—W. S. and W. H. Nelson shipped from the station here Monday a carload of milk cows and springers to W. A. McConkey of Barrie, the price ranging from $50 for grades to $100 for pure bred Holsteins. There are few dairy cows offered for sale in this district as the dairymen, anticipating another good season, prefer to hold on to their stock.

For their regular weekly shipments Nelson Brothers paid $12.75 for hogs, $6 to $9 for calves and from $5 to $7 for butchers' cattle.

Personals

William Buchannan of Havelock visited Mr. and Mrs. oJhn I. Adams last week. Mr. Buchannan will leave in a short time for his homestead in the West.

Mrs. Clinton McComb, who has been ill with quinsey at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Dalgleish is improving.

Capitol Theatre

TWO MORE EVENINGS

McNabb's Spring Fashion Revue

MATINEE AND EVENING

Rex Beach's

The Auction Block

With

Charles Ray Eleanor Boardman

ADDED ATTRACTION:

BLANCHE SENIOR

Soprano

In "SONGS OF THE DAY"

RECORDS FALL FAST WHEN TRACK BOYS CLASH

MOVIGRAPHS

(By NEA Service.)

HOLLYWOOD, March 23.—Jewel Carmen, soon to be seen in the screen version of the spine-chiller, "The Bat," has started a new fad for movie land, the bat headdress.

Miss Carmen began her stage career when only 12 years old, on the old Triangle lot, in Portland, Ore. After years of minor roles she found herself one day cast opposite Douglas Fairbanks in "Manhattan Madness." She next appeared with him in "The Half Breed."

For a time Miss Carmen appeared on the speaking stage, under the name of Beatrice Hale. Passes were offered in Buffalo, N. Y., to all who guessed her real identity, but this was quickly withdrawn when the box office was swamped.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, March 23.—Sights and thoughts along the Boulevard: There goes Barbara Bedford, known back in her old home town as Violet Rose . . . wonder what her husband, Al Roscoe, who used to be a leading man, is doing nowadays? . . . and her father, a paperhanger, where is he these days? . . . Seems only movie mothers flare in the limelight, fathers going on about their own business. . . . Marion Davies, winsome, but stuttering movie star, entering Paulais' . . . Chuck Reisner, ex-prizefighter, and now Charles Reisner, the eminent director . . . wearing a British-trousered suit . . . Oh, lookie, mamma, at all the white pants . . . summer is here—tra la, tra la . . . wonder if the moths have bothered mine any? . . . Nita Cavalier, famed for flourishing bare legs, going into hosiery shop . . . wonder why?—she never wears them. . . . Nita also has one of Hollywood's best figures, according to her press-agent . . . she studied diligently to become a choir singer and succeeded as a movie actress. . . . Fred Thomson, ex-preacher, and now a hero of western yearnings . . . he makes more now from one picture than a dozen ministers make in a score of years . . . of course, that is only the mercenary side, you say . . . Joe Benjamin, the fighter turned actor, prancing his lightweight carcass along the famed and failing way. . . . Joe is known in filmland now as the husband of Marian Nixon, the actress who is bent on a career . . . in recent interview she said she valued her career above home, babies et al. . . . "I'm going to be a star or bust," she declared, and, personally, I don't see why she'll have to explode. . . . Bennie Zeidman standing on the corner . . . he started in the movie game as a telephone operator and is now a producer for United Artists . . . at that telephone operators are in a position to learn a lot . . . Mrs. Wallace Reid out driving alone . . . an ambitiously sincere figure in Hollywood's pot-pourri of four-flushing. . . . Phillips Smalley, plump actor, strolling along with lithe girl . . . he is ex-mate of Lois Weber, only woman director in film-land. . . . Bessie Love sporting "plus fours" and o traffic going all one way . . . that may be why Bessie is wearing them. . . .

John Barrymore's mime artistry is only equalled by his shrewd business ability. The actor, who receives $15,000 weekly from the Warner Brothers' studio, not long ago had to work four hours over the stipulated seven days in a week in order to finish "Don Juan."

Barrymore demanded that he be paid in full for a week. Warner Brothers argued along the lines of, "Aw now, be a good sport." And John replied, "Don't be silly." Yes, John got the $15,000.

. . . and the wheel goes round and round." Dot Farley was a star for the old Albuquerque company in Los Angeles 14 years ago and Jack Conway was her leading man. Now Conway is directing Dot in a character role at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

* * *

Gaze inside a class-room at the Hollywood high school and you will know immediately the favorite star of each girl. These children of jazz and facials pattern their make-up after their "beloved screen idols." In these school rooms you may behold the juvenile prototypes of Pola Negri, Mary Pickford (always an abundance of curls), Lillian Gish, Gloria Swanson, Norma Talmadge and practically all other film entities with the possible exception of the winsome Bull Montana.

DIES SUDDENLY.

NAPANEE, Ont., March 23 (Canadian Press).—Death came without warning on Sunday evening to Mrs. Creggan, wife of Rev. A. H. Creggan, rector of the Parish of Tyendinaga, and Rural Dean of Hastings, while riding in a car with her husband. She suddenly expired.

BOWLING

LADIES' LEAGUE—Y.M.C.A.

The Swallows captured the middle game from the Cardinals but dropped the other two games by close margins. This brought the Cardinals up to a tie in the league leadership. Miss Davidson had a good single of 229, while other high scores were: Miss Batten's 198 and 191, and Miss Stinson's 193.

Cardinals—
Miss Adams	127	124	87	338
Miss Outram	135	76	.....	211
Miss Stinson	193	123	106	422
Miss Crookshanks	129	151	146	426
Miss Eastwood	111	.....	136	247
Miss Chambers	....	105	151	256
	695	579	626	1900
Swallows—
Miss Bennett	146	148	100	394
Miss Elliott, E	140	125	118	383
Miss Clinkscale	132	.....	100	232
Miss Moore	169	121	.....	290
Miss Ingram	105	.....	.....	105
Miss Batten	....	191	198	389
Miss Davidson, A	....	229	92	321
	692	814	608	2114

The Nightingales, handicapped by having to use a dummy, dropped the first two games to the Robins, but took the last one.

Robins—
Miss Lancaster	114	.....	79	193
Mrs. Clysdale	139	155	166	460
Miss Distin	169	147	158	474
Miss Thompson	177	81	.....	258
Miss Curtis	153	139	110	402
Miss Squire	....	113	117	230
	752	635	630	2017
Nightingales—
Miss Coulter	167	158	137	462
Miss Booth	99	138	128	365
Miss Burgess, D	124	103	174	401
Miss Crowe	138	111	140	389
Dummy	80	80	80	240
	608	590	659	1857

LADIES' MERCANTILE LEAGUE —Y.M.C.A.

The Superiors dropped all three games by fairly close margins to the Hurons in the Ladies' Mercantile League at the Y. M. C. A.

Hurons—
Miss Pearson	138	177	105	420
Miss Carson	102	52	93	247
Miss Hanna	156	91	156	403
Miss Forrester	107	161	81	349
	503	481	435	1419
Superiors—
Miss Morrison	84	30	.....	114
Miss Plunkett	132	139	133	404
Miss Greer	92	93	56	241
Miss Campbell	142	159	134	435
Dummy	....	.....	80	80
	450	421	403	1274

The Superiors captured the first game from the Ontarios by the close margin of two pins, but dropped the next two.

Superiors—
Miss Campbell, I	116	130	150	396
Miss Plunkett	154	126	102	382
Miss Greer	82	92	104	278
Miss Campbell, E	76	69	89	234
	428	417	445	1290
Ontarios—
Miss Adams	101	147	130	378
Miss Hill	110	193	89	392
Miss Williamson	118	89	123	330
Miss Sloan, E	97	79	147	323
	426	508	489	1423

MERCANTILE LEAGUE

At the Water St. Alleys last night, Nashua Paper Stepped into a tie with Brinton Carpet for 1st place in the second series, by taking three from Bell Telephone. Johnson had 634 for high three. High singles, Crowe 224, Johnson 245, Parker 219, Lush 234 and Elliott 231 and 230.

Nashua Paper—
Gimblett	134	.....	.....	134
Crowe	188	168	224	580
LeBarr	182	162	190	534
Johnson	245	197	192	634
Parker	163	166	219	548
Hamilton	....	152	142	294
	912	845	967	2724
Bell Telephone—
White	146	115	165	426
Whitney	130	154	143	427
Long	115	179	141	435
Lush	234	152	194	580
Elliott	167	231	230	628
	792	831	873	2496

CITY TEN PIN LEAGUE

At the Water St. Alleys last night Brintons took three from Sparks. Gree had high three with 548 and high singles of 194 and 187. LeBlanc had 194 for a single and LeBarr 184.

Brintons—
LeBlanc	194	110	139	443
Byers	144	128	138	410
LeBarr	153	132	184	469
Green	167	194	187	548
Dummy	125	125	125	375
	783	689	773	2245
Sparks—
Bristow	97	115	.....	212
Pratt	110	120	176	406
Ash	135	115	133	383
Lewis	157	118	152	427
Delahey	158	161	117	436
Gimblett	.....	.....	122	122
	657	629	700	1886

CITY FIVE PIN LEAGUE

Cressmans remained on top of the heap by taking three from London Life last night. Kimmel had 254, 217 and 281 for high three of 752. Other high singles were Cunningham 224, Richman Jr. 204, Lush 249 and Elliott 210.

London Life—
Cunningham	224	128	177	529
Doughty	170	146	92	408
Richman Jr.	94	154	204	452
Richman Sr.	142	141	141	424
Matthews	145	88	162	395
	775	657	776	2208
Cressmans—
Kimmel	254	217	281	752
Sharpe	135	136	142	413
Shaughnessy	130	179	156	465
Lush	155	186	249	590
Elliott	192	127	210	529
	866	845	1038	2749

FITZPATRICK & GERAGHTY STORES

In a challenge game the Charlotte St. Store of Fitzpatrick & Geraghty took three games from Park St. Store. O'Shea had high three with 504 and some real singles were produced by Mrs. Niven 203, O'Shea 202, Geraghty 222, and Fitzpatrick 206.

Charlotte St. Store—
Miss Wright	101	129	123	353
Miss Watson	86	99	128	313
Mrs. Niven	143	68	203	414
Mr. O'Shea	202	179	123	504
Mr. Geraghty	222	131	101	454
	754	606	678	2038
Park St. Store—
Miss Staples	61	52	118	234
Mr. Rody	124	114	131	369
Miss Andrews	110	66	98	274
Mr. Jones	151	167	139	457
Mr. Fitzpatrick	156	206	133	495
	605	605	619	1829

AT K. OF C. ALLEYS.

Last evening, ladies' teams bowling scheduled games at the Knights of Columbus Alleys, were the Pansies (Miss Ada Shaughnessy, captain), who won two games out of three from the Orchids (Miss Marita Collins), and the Larks (Miss Margaret O'Brien, captain), who won two games from the Daisies (Miss Geraldine Collins, captain). Miss Grace Sharpe of the Orchids' team had high score of 203, Mrs. M. Sharpe of the Pansies, 162 and 155, and Miss M. O'Toole, 175; Miss C. Kennealley of the Daisies, 176.

The last week of the ladies bowling schedule, which has been in progress since early in November last, opens with the Orioles (Miss Alma Fontaine, captain) at the top of the list, the Wrens (Miss Myra Moloney, captain), and the Marigolds (Miss Nora Shevlin, captain), tied for second place, the Bluebells (Miss Gertrude Doyle, captain), next, followed by another tie between the Tulips (Miss Josephine Hunt, captain), and the Reg'ler Fellers (Miss Florence Giroux, captain.)

CONGREGATION MET.

Trent River Church Annual Meeting—Satisfactory Reports.

TRENT RIVER, March 23.—The annual congregational meeting of the United church was held Thursday night at the church. There was a good representation of the congregation present. Satisfactory reports were received from the different organizations. After the business of the evening was concluded, the ladies served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

The funeral of Mrs. W. W. Cross was held on Sunday at 1.30 o'clock from her late residence, Norwood Road. Service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Forbes Stillman of Norwood, assisted by Rev. E. O. Seymour of Havelock. Interment at Norwood cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waters, who have spent the winter at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Cook, near Campbellford, returned last week to their home.

A sleigh load from here attended the L.O.B.A. euchre held at Mr. Thomas Dunham's home on Friday night.

Mrs. Frank Pollock and mother, Mrs. Claude Insley returned from Toronto last week.

The recent mild weather has caused the main channel to open up considerably. Some canoes have been seen down the river.

FAIRVIEW PLAY WELL RECEIVED

During the past week the Young People of Fairview United Church have successfully acted their play, "The Country Schoolma'an" on two occasions, on Wednesday evening in Fairview church and on Friday at the oyster supper of the Peterborough U.F.O.

The play depicts the experiences of Miss Wise, a new teacher who comes to a rural school and boards at the home of Mr. Stickleby, one of the school trustees. The other trustees are the minister, Rev. Mr. Hardy and Gideon Longface, whose name suggests his extremely doleful outlook on life. As the play develops it becomes evident that the minister (a bachelor) aspires to be a trustee of the teacher, as well as of the school. This does not accord with the wishes of Beersheba Buch, who is possessed with the idea that she was placed on earth specially to act as a helpmate for some worthy minister. One is tempted to think the play ought to be placed in some leap year from the manner in which Beersheba endeavors to hasten matters towards the climax she desires. Her importunity places the minister in the unhappy position of having to reject publicly her too eagerly proffered hand. Meanwhile the teacher gets into a mix-up with an old virago, Mrs. Crisp who complains of alleged maltreatment of her son, Tommy, at the hands of the teacher. She demands that the teacher be removed from the school. The minister glibly promises to do his best towards bringing about this consummation, which promise he fulfils by espousing Miss Wise. There is a sub plot in the story which concerns itself with the love affair of Mary Janes Stickleby and her lover, John James, which terminates satisfactorily.

Wesley Bell was school trustee Stickleby, Helen Garbutt was Mrs. Stickleby and Annie Franks was the daughter Mary Jane. Russell Roseborough was Ikey, the student son, Miss Blakely acted the part of the teacher; F. Woods was John James; Keith White made a suitably pessimistic Gideon Longface.

Harold Lewis, as Rev. Mr. Hardy, was a convincing clergyman; Pearl Mullen was the rejected Beersheba Buck; Mabel Mullen was Mary Brown, a friend of the Stickleby family; Mary Lewis was the angry Mrs. Crisp, while Harold Mullen was the 'much abused' school boy, Tommy Crisp; Dorothy White was May Bell the laughing girl.

The play concluded with a chorus, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," sung by the company, the laughing girl (Miss White) acting as accompanist, and a solo and chorus, 'Mother Machree,' Mrs. Crisp

A Washington, N. J., man recently unearthed a century-old pot of coins dated from 1732 to 1766.

Christianity was not introduced into Bohemia until the ninth century.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Little Girl Meets Death While Crossing Railway Track.

OTTAWA, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Phyllis Catharine Foley, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Foley, of Britannia Village, near here, was struck by a Brockville-Ottawa C.P.R. passenger train yesterday while crossing the tracks at Britannia and was instantly killed.

CAVAN NEWS

CAVAN, March 23.—The W.M.S. of St. John's Church, Ida, met in the Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon. Part of the afternoon was spent in quilting. The ladies have now completed their missionary sewing and will soon ship their bale. In this bale will be a complete wardrobe for a girl in an Indian school.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swain, Valentia, visited Cavan friends on Wednesday and Thursday.

Lang and Tinney shipped 93 hogs from Cavan Station on Monday, the price paid being thirteen cents.

Messrs. Everett Keegan, Wilfred Reynolds and Louis Pudsy attended an Orange meeting in Bethany on Tuesday evening last week.

Among the old neighbors from Cavan who attended the funeral of the late Sarah Matchett in Bethany on Wednesday were Mrs. E. Syer, Miss Kelly and Mrs. Milligan.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rowen, of Bethany, visited Mrs. Rowen, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. David White on Sunday.

Mrs. Richard Vance, Manvers, was a visitor to Millbrook and Cavan on Friday.

Mrs. Ward Brown, Oshawa, is visiting Mrs. Jas. Paul.

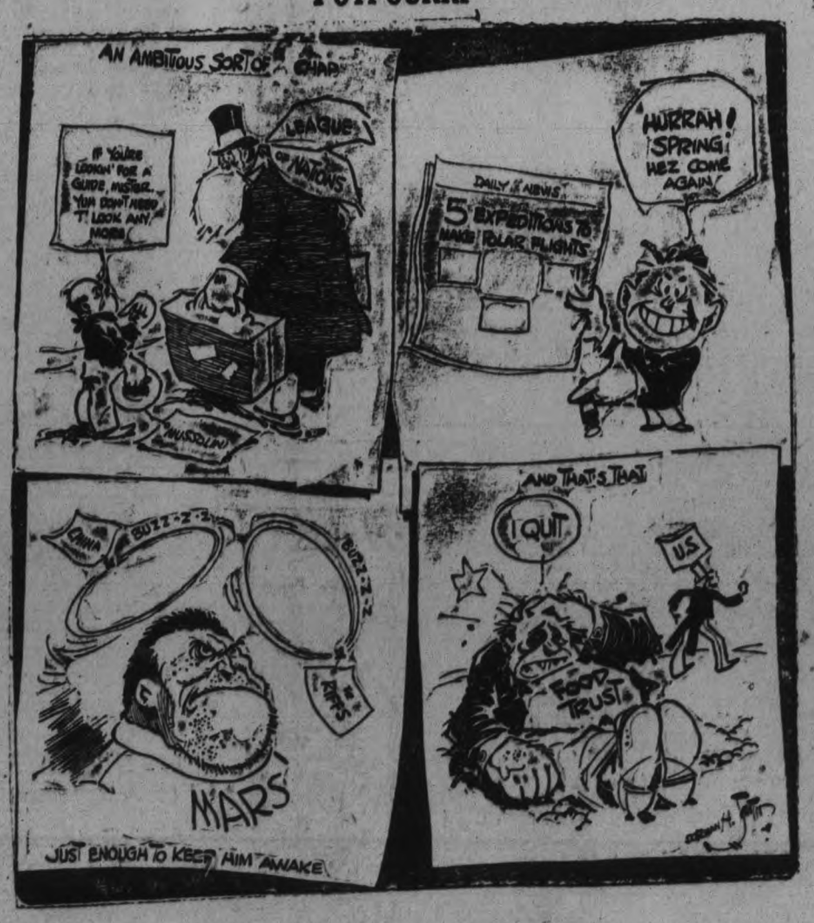
There was a euchre party in Cavan Community Hall on Thursday evening. There was a nice crowd. Miss Viola McBride won the ladies' prize and Mr. Francey the gentlemen's.

DEBT CONSOLIDATED.

Private Bills Committee of Legislature Passes Arnprior Bill.

TORONTO, March 23.—(Canadian Press.)— The Private Bills committee of the Ontario Legislature, resuming its sittings to-day, passed bills consolidating the floating debt of the town of Arnprior amounting to $16,750, by the issue of 15 year debentures.

POTPOURRI



SCHOOL REPORT

School attendance officer's report for 1926 for the Township of Dummer:

S.S.	Teacher.	No. on Roll.	Aver. Attendance
1	Miss Humphries	24	19
2	Mr. Brechenridge	34	32
3	Mr. Currie	65	59
4	Miss Sage	16	15
5	Miss Puffer	22	20
6	Miss White	21	19
7	Not reported in Dummer.
8	Reported in Douro.
9	Miss Steel; a lot of sickness	21	15
10	Reported in Douro.
11	Miss Davy; bad roads	13	10
12	Not reported in Dummer.

During the months of January and February there has been a lot of sickness among the children in Dummer. Also the roads have been very bad in some parts of the Township. George Clements S.A.O.

Theatre

SPRING FASHION REVUE SOPRANO SOLOIST "THE AUCTION BLOCK"

There was a big crowd at the Capitol Theatre last evening, for a varied and interesting entertainment that comprised the usual picture programme, a Spring Fashion Revue and songs by Miss Blanche Senior of Toronto. The same programme will be given today and tomorrow.

The Fashion Revue was presented in a most atractive manner by mannequins who are members of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. Suits, coats and dresses from the showrooms of the J. A. McNabb Company, Limited, were shown, against a stage setting with furniture supplied by A. Comstock and Sons, the hats from Mrs. J. Wilson's Millinery Parlors, the shoes from Mr. D. C. Grant's store, and the coiffures dressed by Madame Merriam, in the very latest ideas in hair-do.

The showing of gowns was exceptionally well given, the mannequins parading in quite a professional manner, exhibiting the latest models in vogue for spring and summer wear. The frocks and suits and coats were all pretty, illustrating the season's flair for warm tans and checked, cape effects in suits, for long sleeves, flared skirts, figured materials and interesting color combinations in frocks, for soft, gleaming black satin in separate coats and for metallic, glittering bodices in evening gowns. The hats and shoes worn are also of the most up-to-date models. The seven mannequins are members of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E.: the Misses Violet McEwen, Edna Connor, Maida Connor, Olga Johnston, Mildred Morphet, Jeanette Frederick and Agnes Sowdon. Little Moira Coutts, in a frock of brilliant yelolw, and Sophia Yeotes, in the black and white of a Pierrot costume, held the curtains for the models, whose showing was accompanied by a special musical setting arranged by the Capitol orchestra.

During interludes in the Fashion Revue, Miss Blanche Senior of Toronto, possessor of a very pleasing high, clear lyric soprano voice, sang in charming fashion that brought here repeated applause, "Sunrise and You," "In a Little Old Garden" and "By the Light of the Stars."

The picture programme included a comedy entitled "Live Cowards" in which a regular menagerie of animals becomes involved with the adventures of a pair of newly-weds, and the feature picture, "The Auction Block," starring Charles Ray and Eleanor Boardman.

The title of the feature picture is somewhat misleading. Although Lorelei Knight (Eleanor Boardman) has to submit to have her dances auctioned off to the highest bidder at a dance following her crowning as Queen of Beauty at a Georgia Festival, the buying of her favor ends there. She is pursued in whirlwind fashion by Robert Wharton, Junior, of Pittsburgh (Charles Ray) and finally consents to marry him. Then he takes her home to see his father, Robert Wharton, Senior (David Torrence) and she begins to repent of her bargain when she discovers that her husband depends entirely on his father for his upkeep. When she finds a number of pictures of former sweethearts in her husband's rooms, she decides that she doesn't want to stay married and makes tracks back to her home in Palmdale. Here Robert follows her and, in the hasty manner familiar to movie-goers, becomes presently the shoe magnate of the little town, proving to his recreant wife that he can really do something on his own, if he wishes. Lorelei, however, proves obdurate, and relents only when a very modern episode is injected in the picture, in the virtual kidnapping of Robert by a young flapper admirer off his, Berenice Lane, who takes him for a ride in her car, meddles with the machinery and keeps them both out all night. On their return in the morning hours, Berenice's father and brother demand that Robert marry the girl and some peculiar situations crop up in the triangular situation before the affair finally straightens itself out.

It is a very modern picture, quite entertaining and breezy in its setting and atmosphere. The conversation of Robert provides the most interesting portion of the sub-titles. He has a whimsical manner of expressing himself that appeals immensely to his audiences and he refuses to be discomfited by adverse circumstances.

—Jeanette.

Regent

NOW PLAYING

NORMA SHEARER

With LEW CODY

In

HIS SECRETARY

The True Story of a Girl Who Sought Romance in Business

COMING NEXT MONDAY

A British Production

With Britain's Own Film Star,

BETTY BALFOUR

in SATAN'S SISTER

From H. deVere Stacpoole's Popular Novel of the Same Title

AT THE REGENT

NORMA SHEARER A VERSATILE STAR. Plays Quaint Comedy Role in "His Secretary," Her Newest.

Norma Shearer has always been known as an especially versatile young woman, but it was not until after seeing "His Secretary" at the Regent Theatre last night that her talent as a comedienne was brought forcefully to the mind of the writer.

In this Hobart Henley production for Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer, Miss Shearer has given her most interesting performance. Stepping directly from a tremendous hit in an exceedingly dramatic picture, "The Tower of Lies," Miss Shearer plays the comedy scenes in "His Secretary" with all the lightness of a Constance Talmadge, yet she retains the sympathy of the audience, and gives her role a whimsical quality that is seldom achieved in a comedy of the type of this story by Carey Wilson.

Miss Shearer completely blots out all semblance of beauty in the early reels, and the greatest compliment that could be paid her is that one never thinks of Norma Shearer playing the part.

Lew Cody is again seen with Miss Shearer. Cody's change from villain roles to light comedy has been achieved with very little fanfare and blowing of trumpets, but he has created an individual style that no one else can approach.

Willard Louis has the fattest part of his career as John Sloden. He is the funniest fat man on the screen to-day.

Henley's direction is well nigh perfect.

The Examiner

Peteborough's home town chronicle of the world's daily happenings. Dozens of special features that make it a really family journal. The Examiner job department can always be depended on to turn out a distinctly high class job.

GET WHAT YOU WANT THROUGH A WANT AD

Anything to sell—Help wanted, House to rent, Lost or found, Notice, House to sell, etc. Any want that someone else can supply, you get it through our want ad column. Phone 1600—We will send for your copy.

The Examiner Tells It in Over 8000 Homes

Mail Orders Despatched Same Day As Received McCall Patterns For Sale

ROBERT FAIR & CO. LTD. PHONE 145

54-Inch New Donegal and Fancy Tweeds for Coats, Suits or Skirts, $2.00, $2.10, $2.50 Yard

A splendid assortment to select from, if you come tomorrow.

McCALL PATTERNS

WEDNESDAY BARGAINS

36-Inch $1.75 Swiss Paillette Dress Silk, $1.29 - Yard

This is an all-silk quality and a one-day price only. On Sale at 9 a.m.

McCALL PATTERNS

RAYON FRENCH CREPES IN MANY DESIGNS TO SELECT FROM, FOR BLOUSES, DRESSES AND FOR COMBINING WITH OTHER MATERIALS. 36 AND 38-INCH. PRICED AT, YARD $1.50, $1.75

2 Only of the $17.50 Uncrushable Silk Dress Patterns, $15.00 Each

$1.75 Knitted Rayon Self-Stripe Crepe, a One-Day Price 75c Yard

4 shades—sand, grey, brown and new blue. 36-inch. Just a few yards of each shade.

38-Inch $3.50 Navy Silk Canton Crepe, $2.50 Yard

20 Yards only and just the one shade.

12 Half Dozen Lots Satin Damask Napkins at 1-3 Less than Regular Price

Wonderful Value in Motor Rugs Tomorrow

Fringed ends. Several tartan designs to select from. Special Sale price, each $2.65
For the extra large size the special price will be .. $3.00

BROWN'S SHAMROCK LINENS

Pure Linen Bleached Damask Table Cloths

2 x 2 yards, bordered, superior quality $2.75
2 x 2½ yards, bordered. Special for Wednesday ... $3.75

$1.10 Hemmed and Hemstitched Bedroom Towels, 95c Pair

Brown's "Shamrock" quality, pure linen, good large generous size, all white, self border. We can recommend this Towel to you.

20c Factory Cotton, 15c Yard

Full 36-inch. Free from the usual dressing. On Sale at 9 a.m.

30c Pillow Cases, 2 for 45c

Hemmed ready for use. Size 42. Made from a good heavy cotton.

25c Canadian and Scotch Ginghams on Sale at 5 Yards $1.00

30c Dish Towelling, 25c Yard

Pure linen, in all white and with border, 21 inches wide.

85c Bleached Sheeting, 69c Yard

76-inch. Special price for the one day. On Sale at 9 a.m.

Pure Linen Bath Towels, 95c Each

Natural linen shade. Buy them for your boys — it's the kind they like. Good generous size.

30c Ginghams, 4 Yards $1.00

32-inch. Plenty of checks to select from in the new colorings.

$1.25 Factory Yarn, 85c Lb.

2 and 3-ply. 100 per cent. wool. All wanted shades and mottled.

20c Roller Towelling for 12½c Yard

Natural shade, all pure linen, extra heavy, with border. One day only.

50 and 54-Inch New Bordered Wash Goods, Specially Priced for Tomorrow at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 Yard

Children's 65c and 75c Vests and Drawers to Clear at 50c Garment

Ladies' 90c Sleeveless Vests in Different Styles for 65c Each

$4.00 Nemo and Crompton Corsets in Small Sizes to Clear Tomorrow at $2.50 Pair

English Open-Weave Dish Cloths, Regular 8c, for 4 for 25c

$1.85 Ladies' Fancy Cuff Suedette Gloves, 59c Pair

Grey, sand and beaver shades. Some have strap, others 2 domes. Sizes 6 to 7½. On Sale at 9 a.m.

$2.50 Pure Silk Hose, in Black, Brown and White, Sizes 8½ and 9 Only, for 75c Pair

SCOTCH MADRAS, 29c YARD
36-inch Madras, white or cream, with floral patterns.

SILK MADRAS, $1.59 YARD
50-inch All-Silk Madras in shades of rose, blue, gold and brown. Suitable for living and dining-room overdrapes.

FELTOL RUGS, 3 x 3 YARDS, $7.50 EACH
3 only of these Rugs in green or sand colorings. Suitable for kitchen or bedroom use.

FLOOR OILCLOTHS, 55c SQ. YARD
1, 2 and 2½ yards wide, floral and block designs. Especially suitable for bedroom, halls or bathroom.

Great Snap in the "Boston" Overnight or Shopping Bags

They come in solid leather and leatherette, in black and brown, 15 x 10 inches. Priced for Wednesday at ..

$1.15, $1.59, $2.00

The Wash Goods Department is now showing the new French Rayon Crepes and Swiss Bordered Voiles and many other lines.

LADIES' AND MISSES' NEW SPRING COATS, in materials of Poiret twill, charmeen, wool repp and tweed. Smartly tailored in straight line and moderate flare effect, showing all the new spring shades. Moderately priced from, $9.50 to $45.00

LADIES' AND MISSES' NEW SPRING SUITS, in tricotine, Poiret twill and tweed. Well tailored. Skirts are in wrap-around style. Sizes 16 years to 44 bust. Specially priced from ..... $16.50 to $39.50

FUGI AND FIGURED CREPE BLOUSES, with convertible collar and long sleeves, in all the leading spring shades. Sizes from 34 to 44. Priced from ..... $4.75 to $8.50

LADIES' AND MISSES' SILK FROCKS, in flat crepe, satin, Canton and georgette, in all the attractive spring shades, showing flares, panel effects and pleatings, in sizes from 34 to 44. Priced from ..... $12.75 to $35.00

CHILDREN'S SPRING COATS AND REEFERS, smartly designed, prettily trimmed with contrasting shades, fancy stitching and buttons. Sizes 2½ to 14 years. Ranging in price from ..... $4.50 to $14.95

SILK KNIT SLIPS, in an assortment of pretty shades. Sizes 34, 36 and 38. Special Wednesday for $2.25

CHAMBERLAIN DEFENDS POLICY IN REPLYING TO CHARGES MADE IN COMMONS BY LLOYD GEORGE

Refers To Ex-Premier's Despatch To U. S. Press Condemning Action.

DENIES ENGAGEMENT.

Made No Agreement With Briand, He Says—Brazil's Action Surprise.

LONDON, March 23. — Canadian Press. — Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary's action and his the House of Commons this afternoon in defence of his policy at the League of Nations meetings in Geneva.

Replying to Lloyd George, who had spoken before him, he said the former premier came before the house in the guise of an open-minded and disinterested inquirer. However he had not even awaited his (Sir Austen's) return from Geneva, before telegraphing to the North American press his condemnation of the Foreign Secretary's action and his suspicion of his honor.

Sir Austin Chamberlain, defending his record at Geneva, indicated that if the vote to-night on Mr. Lloyd George's motion to reduce the foreign office estimates were against the government he would resign.

Sir Austen categorically denied that during his interview with Premier Briand of France on his return from his stay on the Italian Riviera, any engagement was made regarding the Polish claim to a council seat in the League of Nations or regarding anything else. Neither had he instigated or encouraged M. Briand to press Polish claim.

Dealing with the charge that he had been disloyal to the agreement made with Germany at Locarno regarding league membership the foreign secretary said it was strange that this charge should be made by one of his own countrymen and that the Germans themselves had not raised it.

Regarding feeling in the United States, Sir Austen continued: Mr. Lloyd George had done his share by his articles in which he had insinuated what he dared not say in the Commons to-day.

Mr. Lloyd George had said yesterday's discussion in the United States' Senate made unpleasant reading because, whereas all had been hoping the United States would enter the league, as her advent would make the league a perfect success, there was now no doubt that what had happened had put off and antagonized that country in a way nothing else has done for some time.

The foreign secretary said that until they heard it at Geneva, none of the countries represented there but Brazil and Germany knew that Brazil alone among all the powers had helped Germany's inquiry of September, 1924, by declining to pledge herself in advance to support Germany's election to a permanent seat in the League Council. Brazil declared that it was a matter for discussion by the League itself. Sir Austen asked if that answer ought not to have placed Germany on her guard.

INDIANS NOT ENFRANCHISED

OTTAWA, Ont., March 23 (Canadian Press)—No members of the Six Nations Indians have been enfranchised under the Indian Act since 1920, it was stated in the House of Commons Monday in answer to a question.

DR. T. P. McCULLOUGH
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, 166 Brock St. Phone 36W

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Millar, Jr. wish to thank their many friends for the kindness shown them during the long illness of their little son, and at the time of his death, and wish especially to thank Mrs. W. T. Clifford, Mrs. F. Darling and daughters, Misses Griffen, Rev. Kemp and Miss Ray for their help and kindness at this time; also wish to thank the following for their beautiful floral tributes: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clifford and Ray, Tom and George Chappell, the Regent street United Sunday School, Miss Ray, Mr. Earl Edwards, Harry Northey, Mr. and Mrs. H. Millar, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Graham, Peterborough, Mrs. Harry Dorset and mother, Peterborough.

LOCALS

G.W.V.A. EUCHRE AND FREE LAMP DRAW
On Wednesday night at 8 p.m. followed by a Dance for those attending the drive only. Proceeds are for relief. Come and win the lamp. The chance on it is free. Admission to drive 25c. 3d-70-786

GET THIS ONE
Ordinary Ice will not heat, but Sanitary Ice WOOD.
All Kinds
Body Hardwood; Hardwood Slabs and Soft Wood. Phone 147. Sanitary Ice Supply. dtf

EUCHRE AND DANCE
Rest up for Friday night. Euchre and Dance at Victoria Hall. Cabinet of Silver, and Many Other Good Prizes. Ladies 35c; Gents, 40c. 2d, 71, 824

JEWELLERY REPAIRS.
Your watch or clock needs attention. 35 years' practical experience. Will call on request. Haley & Slade, 573 Romine street. 1d-70-1214.

MINSTREL SHOW AND PLAY 50 PEOPLE
Under the Auspices of Eastern Star, L.O.B.A., No. 525. In Victoria Hall, Wednesday, March 24, at 8.15 p.m. Adults 25c, Children 15c. 3d, 71, 860

ROTARY CLUB, VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.
Grand Opera House, Easter Monday and Tuesday. The event of the season. Subscribers tickets now from any member of the club. 6d75

LOST.
Yesterday, between Frederick avenue and Water street and Charlotte, ladies' gold wrist watch, valued as a keepsake. Reward if returned to Examiner, or 'phone 938J. 1d-70-1222.

UMBRELLAS REPAIRED AND RECOVERED AT TAYLOR'S.
Clipper plates and clippers sharpened. Every pair we do are tested. Saws filed and set. Scissors, knives and razors sharpened. All our grindstones run in water. 45 years' practical experience. Wm. Taylor, the Sheffield Cutler, 219 Hunter street west. t.t.s.

RADIO.
Radio sets built, altered and repaired by expert. Ten years' experience. Complete line of tubes and batteries. Tubes tested and reactivated. — Roy White, 444 Mark Street. 'Phone 1165-M. 8d-15,17,20,23,27,30,3,6-1016

PHONOGRAPH REPAIRS
All makes; springs a specialty. T. Griffin, 146 Park St. N., opp. C.G.E. Phone 2163w. Work guaranteed. 13d 23,25,27,2,4,6,9,11,13, 16,18,20,23-656

DO YOU NEED AN ACCOUNTANT?
If you want your books audited or adjusted; if not satisfied with your book-keeping system; if you want your income tax return prepared for this or other years, or want some dispute adjusted.—H. K. Middleton. 'Phone 1353. Office, 202 Charlotte Street. dtf

FOR COURAGE AND INITIATIVE.
Employees of the Bell Telephone construction forces, and other branches of the service, have received a thorough training in first aid, and as a result have been able to render valuable help in critical circumstances, not only to fellow employees but to other victims of accident or injury ,to the saving of both life and property. The Bell Company has established a plan of awards and citations for conspicuous service of this kind. Each year in the company's annual report, mention is made of the names of those especially deserving of commendation. In the 1925 report the names of eight employees are cited—four of them women—"for acts of courage, initiative and public service performed while on duty." 1d70-814

The officers and members of Hiawatha Encampment No. 66 are reminded of the meeting and practice on Wednesday, March 24. A full attendance is requested. Signed, Deg. Capt. 1d-70-821

X. L. MISSION CIRCLE.
The annual election of officers of the V. L. Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs. E. Kitney, on Friday evening, March 19th.
The musical part of the progarmme consisted of a vocal solo by Miss Ruth McFadden and a piano solo by Miss Aileen Rose.
A very delightful feature of the evening was the presentation of two Life Membership Certificates—the first to Miss May Ritchie in recognition of faithful services: the second to Miss Greta Welbourn, in memory of her mother. The presentations were made by Mrs. Fairbrother, the President of the W.M.S.
The election of officers was held under the direction of Rev. J. D. Richardson and resulted as follows:
Hon. Pres.: Mrs. E. J. Wagar.
Pres.: Mrs. E. Kitney.
ice-res.: Marion Wagar.
Rec.-Sec.: Jean Hamilton.
Cor. Sec.: Constance Wagar.
Treas.: Mav Ritchie.
Strangers' Sec.: Edith Wright.
Supt. Christian Stewardship: Nina Andrus.
Sec. Supplies and Lit.: Greta Welbourn.
Supt. Mite Boxes: Mrs. Foster.
Pianist: Amy Fairbrother.
Asst. Pianist: Aileen Rose.
Press Sec.: Cnostance Wagar.
Delegate to Presb.: Mrs. Foster.
The meeting closed with the benediction after which dainty refreshments were served by the committee, in charge of Mrs. Kitney and Mrs. Foster.

Mantel Clocks On Deferred Payments

Why not own a good Mantel Clock ?

We will sell you a mantel clock on our new deferred payment plan.

You can come in today and select your clock and we will set it up in your home for you.

Clocks priced at $9.50 and up that strike and keep good time.

WARNE BROS.
349 GEORGE STREET
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880.

LAD DROWNED IN DEEP CREEK

Falls Off Bridge Near Home While Playing With Dog.

BODY RECOVERED.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., March 23.—(Canadian Press).—While playing with his dog on a bridge near his home in East Oxford Township late yesterday afternoon, Willie Leeper, aged 4 years, was drowned when he fell into the swollen waters of the big creek. The body of the young lad, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Leeper, was recovered by a brother in seven feet of water.

MORE ACTIVITY AT WEST HOME

Provincial Officers Return To Scene of Tragedy—Relatives Arrive.

COME FOR INQUEST.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23. — Mrs. William Ingleby of Freeman, near Burlington, accompanied by her daughter, arrived here Monday, and the two are stopping at the home of Charles Osborne. Mrs. Ingleby is an aunt of Mrs. (Dr.) Stewart West, who, with her child, perished in the fire which destroyed her home two weeks ago, and so far as known, is the only relative in Canada of the unfortunate woman, whom she visited several times during the past two years. As soon as Mrs. Ingleby heard of the tragedy she wrote to a friend here for particulars, and when these were sent her, she announced her intention of coming to Warkworth to attend the inquest.

Officers Here Again.
The Provincial officers who have been engaged on this case have not yet concluded their investigations, and are still searching for evidence. After an absence of over a week, Inspector Gurnet of Belleville and Constable Cousans of Cobourg appeared on the scene again Monday and continued their work, surrounding their every movement with the usual secrecy. Coincident with their return, the work of sifting the ashes of the ruins of the West home for further traces of the remains of the mother and child was resumed, but up to last night nothing further was discovered.

DECORATION CLUB.

A meeting of the Interior Decoration Club of the Women's Art Association was held yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. H. W. Morphet, Hunter street west, when a very interesting paper on "Walls and Floor Coverings" was given by Mrs. J. Wearing.
The last meeting for the season of this club will be held on Monday, April 19th at the home of Mrs. A. Harris, Aylmer street, when a paper on "Halls" will be given.

LATE WANT ADS.

LOST — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD Watch; finder please phone 34. 3d-72-1221

FOR RENT — WAREROOMS, OR would be suitable for small manufacturing business; possession 1st April; apply 437 George street. dtf

FOR SALE—FUMED OAK LIBRARY table with shelves and drawer; small Chesterfield (apt. size), spring seat, arms and back, chair to match; fumed oak telephone table and chair; one leather hat box with straps; everything in first class condition; phone 1445J, evenings. 3d-72-1217

HOUSE FOR SALE — NEW SOLID Brick and stucco house, hardwood floors, furnace, and all conveniences, taxes $28.00 a year; phone in day time 870, after six o'clock 2232; special price for cash; south east part of city. 12d-51-1216

FOR SALE — CLEAN PAPER IN bundles, 3 for 25c; Examiner. 26d-95-1218

FOR SALE — BEER BOTTLES— quarts and pints; apply G. Doig, Bell Ave., phone 2505J. 3d-72-1220

LOST—PURSE CONTAINING GOLD watch and key in Capitol Theatre or between there and post office. Please leave at Examiner; reward. 3d-72-1222

Frank H. Dawson
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Flour, Baled Hay, Straw, Salt, Mill Feeds, Seed, Etc.
Exclusive Agency for
FIVE ROSES FLOUR
BLATCHFORD'S POULTRY FEEDS
ROYAL INCUBATORS AND BROODERS
Phone 55 380 Water Street
CUSTOM CHOPPING SOLICITED

BLOCK MOTION BY MEMBER ON FOREIGN POLICY

Bourassa Makes Long Speech and Perley Moves Adjournment.

BRITISH CONNECTION.

Woodsworth Said Canada Should Refuse Responsibility For Troubles.

OTTAWA, March 23. — Canadian Press. — A three hour speech by Henri Bourassa (Labelle), a lengthy skirmish between three Winnipeg members and a brief concluding utterance by Sir George Perley, who moved the adjournment at 11.30 last night, side-tracked a resolution of J. S. Woodsworth (North Centre Winnipeg,) regarding Canada's relation to the foreign policy of the United Kingdom and made it impossible, either for the prime Minister to state the position of the government toard the question or for Mr. Meighen to explain his Hamilton speech concerning Canada's participation in future wars.

Mr. Woodsworth's resolution that Canada should refuse to accept any responsibility for complications arising from the foreign policy of the United Kingdom, now as a result of the adoption of Sir George Perley's motion to adjourn, goes to the bottom of the list of resolutions on the order paper and is unlikely to come before the House again this session.

Henry Bourassa, Independent of Labelle, declared he wished to see Canada's British connections preserved as long as possible.

He wished to see those connections useful to Canada, to Great Britain and to other portions of the Empire and to the world. He claimed however that so long as the means were not found of putting self governing dominions on the basis of equal responsibility with the United United Kingdom, it was unfair to ask them to share the same consequences arising from Imperial policy as the people of England.

Then Sir George Perley, former High Commissioner in London, continued the debate. Sir George held that some way must be found of continuous consultation between the different parts of the empire, if it is to hold together. Sir George adjourned the debate and House adjourned.

OBITUARY.

MRS. WM. SPENCER.
The death occurred this morning, in Lockport, N.Y., of Mrs. Wm. Spencer, mother of Mrs. John King, London street. The body will be brought to Peterborough for burial. Funeral announcements later.

AROUND THE CITY.

One of the large electric railway motor buses got stuck in the deep ruts on Weller street this morning and remained there for nearly an hour, causing much discomfort to those who had to get to work.

A Person Receiving Proper Eye Attention

Never has been known to regret it. Even if the improvement in vision is only slight from the use of glasses it is distinctly worth while, and of great value to the patient. The trouble is to get YOU to believe that maybe YOUR eyes are below 100 per cent. efficient. Glad to find out for you.

A. A. FOWLER, Pharm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
D. McLeod has a drug store in the same place—373 George St.

HARD COAL
EGG, STOVE AND NUT SIZES
ROBERT HICKS CO. Ltd
TELEPHONES, 47-48.
266 CHARLOTTE ST.

Get the habit of enjoying the atmosphere and the excellent service of our most unique tea room. You will find it be a stimulating and invigorating habit.
Spend a Happy Hour
HOOPER'S TEA ROOM
414 George Street
Phone 1342

Dr. T. W. H. YOUNG
Physician and Surgeon
Graduate of London, Edinburgh and Glasgow
Office Hours: 8-10; 2-4; 6-8.
305 Stewart St. - Phone 347

MONEY FOR YOU!
Turn your old jewellery that you have discarded into CASH!
We will buy it
C.S. McCLELLAND & SON
"The Little Store Around the Corner"
391 WATER ST.

Song Recital
DOROTHY ALLAN PARK
Soprano
assisted by Maurice Park, tenor
and
Mary Agnes Logan, pianist.
Conservatory Hall
Next Monday evening
8.15 p.m.
Tickets—50 cents
3d-71-793

CITY TAXI 25
UP-TO-DATE HEATED CARS
SERVICE DE LUXE
DAY OR NIGHT
'PHONE 2240
Brydon Weese, Manager
26d-70-471

THE JEAN RIDDICK YARN SHOP
shows an unusually large stock of Yarns, Hosiery, Underwear, Etc. Come and see us and save money.
WE SELL FOR LESS!

CHIROPRACTOR
M. C. GOODWIN
DC. Ph. C.
Palmer Graduate
108 Barrie Building.
Lady Attendant Phone 431
Hours 10-12 a.m., 2-4 and 7-8 p.m.
Office closed Tuesday evening, also Thursday afternoon and evening.

25c TAXI
WALTER GILLESPIE
Day or Night, Phone 480
Seven Passenger Sedans
12d-75-724

FOOT TROUBLES
N. D. FOOTE, D.S.C.
GRADUATE CHIROPODIST
107 Barr'e Bldg. Phone 1730w

"The Auction Block"
- ALSO -
McNabb's Fashion Revue
AT THE
CAPITOL - TODAY

The Evening Examiner

PROBABILITIES
Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay.—Fair today; Thursday, fresh to strong winds, mostly cloudy with scattered showers or snow flurries

VOL. LVII., No. 70 PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1926 PRICE THREE CENTS

$67,000,000 INCREASE IN DEBT OF ONTARIO UNDER FERGUSON REGIME SAYS LIBERAL FINANCIAL CRITIC

Provincial Debt Now $325,000,000 Says Harold Fisher in Legislature.

DEFICIT LAST YEAR.

People Should Understand $5,000,000 Deficit Instead of Surplus.

TORONTO, March 24 — Harold Fisher, West Ottawa, financial critic of the Liberal party, vigorously attacked in the legislature Tuesday afternoon the 1925 budget presented to the house by Provincial Treasurer Price a few days ago.

"I want to congratulate the provincial treasurer on his fine budget speech," said Mr. Fisher. "He is a good speaker, but an even better advertiser, and more than all he is a great politician."

"He gave his real budget to the newspapers and gave the House a warmed over dish. He has a genius for leaving a splendid impression and the newspaper headings conveyed the impression to the people that all was well. I now propose to make some headings of my own. Let me try my hand, as follows: Gas and Beer taxes produce $2,400,000 but the province shows a debt of five millions. Ferguson Government takes six millions more from the people in 1925 than he did in 1924, but still has deficit. Ferguson Government although pledged to economy spent $1,500,000 more in 1925 than in 1924. Since Ferguson Government came to power $67,000,000. "The deficits are being paid debt of the province."

Debt Now $325,000,000

Mr. Fisher claimed that the debt of the province was now $325,000,000. "The deficits are being paid out of capital by issuing bonds to be paid by coming generations. This government will be known as a government of deficits. It has had nothing but a deficit since it came into power. Except in times of war or great stress no government ever thought that a deficit was a proper thing, but this government makes no apology and even starts the year knowing that it will have a deficit and makes no attempt to meet it.

"Yet cabinet ministers go to Europe and make speeches about the wealth of Ontario and at the end of the year are content to tell the world that this province cannot pay its way."

Mr. Fisher said that good book keeping merely accentuated bad finance. He declared that the provincial treasurer had merely segregated the interests charges on the books and then said he had a surplus of two millions.

Had $5,000,000 Deficit

"That may satisfy a lot of people but a man might as well say that, if he didn't pay his rent, he could live within his income. As a straight matter of fact instead of a surplus we had a deficit last year of more than five millions and the people should understand it. Why do we not do away with it? It may be want of courage or political expediency. I am inclined to think that with this government it is both. If they cut down the expenditure they lose votes, and if they increase the taxation they lose more. Hence, guided by political expediency, they do nothing.

Ferguson Beer Fiasco

"It has been suggested that deficits are being piled up to make an argument for the government sale of liquor. Let us examine that. Take the beer fiasco for instance. Everybody knows what it was.

(Turn to Page 5, Please)

SEE THE TECHNICAL INDUSTRIAL NIGHT CLASS EXHIBIT IN R. HALL & CO. WINDOW. 1d71-833

KNOX MINSTRELS TO-NIGHT AT VICTORIA HALL. FORTY PEOPLE. ADMISSION: ADULTS —25c AND CHILDREN, 15c. 1d71-836

NOTICE.
MALE VOICE CHOIR—A FEW DOLLAR TICKETS AT BOX OFFICE, OPERA HOUSE. PHONE 2407J. 1d71-1238

LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE MEETING, FRIDAY, MARCH 26TH, 1926, KING EDWARD HOTEL, TORONTO, RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN AND HON. G. H. FERGUSON WILL ADDRESS THE EVENING MEETING. CONSERVATIVES INVITED TO ATTEND. 3d72 826

SPECIAL VALUES IN DRY WOOD.
12-INCH DRY PINE SLABS — $5.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-INCH DRY HEMLOCK SLABS—$7 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. 12-IN. DRY HARDWOOD SLABS—$9.50 PER LARGE TEAM LOAD. IDEAL FOR PRESENT USE. NO LATH TAKEN FROM THIS WOOD. BEST VALUE IN THIS CITY. DIRECT FROM MANUFACTURER TO CONSUMER. 'PHONE 545. THE PETERBOROUGH LUMBER CO., LTD. 6d71 755

POSTPONED.
OWING TO THE SERIOUS ILLNESS OF MATHILDE MASSON, WHO WAS TO HAVE BEEN THE ASSISTING ARTIST AT THE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA CONCERT ON WEDNESDAY EVENING, THE EVENT HAS BEEN POSTPONED TO A DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER. 2d

Peace Time Soldiers Given Taste of War

BERLIN, March 24. — United Press. — A battalion of peace time soldiers had a taste of war to-day, when the munitions depot on the floor above where they were sleeping, caught fire discharging 2000 rounds of machine gun ammunition. The barracks is in the suburb of Runleben. The troops turned out at the first crackling explosion, and summoned the fire department. It is believed that none were injured.

NOW, HONESTLY—

What would your cellar look like if it weren't for the rubbish man?

Just like a lot of them probably look anyway, huh?

But, all spoofing to the four winds — he's a purty good sport, is the fellow who toots his own horn to announce that he's about your vicinity and about to gather rubbish.

No matter how careful you may be, odds and ends are bound to gather in the basement, which only tend to litter as long as they loiter.

Then—along comes the clean-up guy, and though he may bother you for the moment—you're mighty glad to see him after all.

After all what?

After all your rubbish!

BRITISH COMMONS ENDORSES SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN'S GENEVA POLICY WITH A MAJORITY OF 189

House Divided 325 To 136 on Lloyd George's Implied Censure.

AIDED BY BALDWIN.

Rejection of Germany Attributed To Influence of Italian Premier.

LONDON, March 24. Canadian Press. — Aided by strong support from Premier Baldwin, who taunted the opposition leaders with having come in deep mourning to attend the League of Nations funeral, but found the league very well and in charge of a skilful doctor, Sir Austen Chamberlain, in the House of Commons last night came victoriously out of a strong attack on his Geneva policy, led by former Premier Lloyd George. The former premier was sustained by a majority of 189.

Divided 325 to 136.

In order to inaugurate the debate on the recent League of Nations proceedings at Geneva and Sir Austen's part therein, Mr. Lloyd George moved a reduction in the foreign office estimates, equivalent to a motion of censure. At the end of the lengthy debate this motion was defeated, 325 to 136.

Incidentally, the Prime Minister put the quietus on any idea of Sir Austen Chamberlain's removal from the foreign office which may have become current by taking it for granted that Sir Austen would continue and bring to fruition the work he began at Locarno.

Blames Mussolini.

Through the evening the members of various parties took part in the discussion. Captain Ashmead-Bartlett contended it was absurd to put all the blame on the Brazilian delegate, Mello Franco, "for throwing a monkey wrench into the business." It was well known on the continent, he declared, "that the real voice behind it all was the voice of Mussolini."

Captain Ashmead-Bartlett went on to say that every Italian on the continent was boasting that it was his country that stopped the Chamberlain settlement.

Two-fold Criticism.

Mr. Lloyd George said his criticism was two-fold: First, that the Locarnist owers were responsible for the failure at Geneva, and second, that it was a failure which damaged the machinery of peace to such an extent that many of the best friends of Foreign Secretary Chamberlain were despairing of its effect.

Sweden, who took the right and courageous course at Geneva, said Mr. Lloyd George, undoubtedly also represented what was the public opinion of Great Britain regarding the matter of Germany's right to a permanent seat in the league council.

Yet the Swedish foreign minister, M. Unden, was treated as stubborn, irreconcilable and pro-German, though he had done more to save the league than any other man by his struggle and sacrifice. Sweden's record regarding the league was without a blemish.

The former premier said the vital point was that it was part of the Locarno agreement that Germany should enter the League of Nations. The house was entitled to ask whether the foreign secretary knew it was the intention of France and Poland to insist on the simultaneous admission of Poland to the council. The impression had been left, Mr. Lloyd George said, that Germany had been induced to sign a contract without telling her all the issues.

Big Plane Fleet Planned For Crossing Continent

NEW YORK, Mar. 24 (Canadian Press).—Plans for a hundred passenger aeroplanes to fly between New York and San Francisco in 30 hours, being refuelled en route by attendant planes, are announced by Alfred W. Lawson, aircraft designer.

ELLIOTT'S LAND WAS CHEAPEST

Minister of Labor Didn't Know Saskatchewan Government Was Buyer.

SOLD BY AGENT.

LONDON, Ont., March 24 (Canadian Press)—Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Labor, in the Dominion Government, who was nominated at Strathroy Monday in the by-election for West Middlesex, amplified his reply to the telegram read by Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, M.P., in regard to Mr. Elliott's land transactions in Regina with the Saskatchewan government in 1912.

Mr. Elliott admits that he made $38,400 profit on a block of land near Regina, which he purchased in August, 1912, and sold to the provincial government a few months later for a jail site. The purchase price to him, he say, was $80,000 of which the $9,000 mentioned in the telegram read by Dr. Manion Monday was the cash paid down.

Didn't Know Buyer

Mr. Elliott states that his agent in the purchase of the property was an old friend, F. J. Robinson, and that he sold the property through P. R. McDonald, who was quite unknown to him at the time and had wired asking him to quote a price on the land. He was not aware that the Saskatchewan government was the purchaser until he went west to complete the transfer. Sid Porter, who was mentioned in the telegram read by Dr. Manion, had nothing to do with the transaction, Mr. Elliott said.

The statement concludes as follows:

"Before the public accounts committee Hon. A. P. McNab, minister of public works, stated that he did not know I was the owner of the land until I went west to sign necessary papers. My land was the cheapest property listed by Mr. McDonald for the government among about 15 sections with the exception of two pieces. One of these was owned by Mr. Robinson and Mr. Porter and was not considered because of their close connection with the Liberal party and the other was not considered because it was too far from the water pipe line for the purpose of the government as a jail site. Other prices quoted ran on the average of about $300 per acre and as high at $500 per acre in some instances."

Mr. Elliott said his sale price to the Saskatchewan government was $185.00 per acre.

Premier to Speak

PARKHILL, Ont., March 24 (Canadian Press)—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King will speak in Parkhill on Saturday night on behalf of Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Labor, candidate in the West Middlesex by-election.

Tonight a Liberal rally will be held at West McGillivray with Hon. J. C. Elliott and Hon. Duncan Marshall as speakers.

Liberal Women Active

STRATHROY, Ont., March 24 (Canadian Press)—Members of the Strathroy Women's Liberal Associan gathered here Tuesday afternoon at an election meeting in support of Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Labor.

Mrs. Alex. Beaton, president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association and Mrs. Loftus Cuddy, president of the local Liberal women, also spoke.

Mrs. Beaton attacked the tactics of the Conservative campaigners in the present contest, and made a particular mark of the telegram read by Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Fort William, at Monday's nomination meeting.

MAROONED GIRL ATTENDS LAMP IN LIGHTHOUSE

Left Alone By Parents, Cut Off By Gale, She Does Duty

FOR THREE NIGHTS.

LONDON, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The light in Saint Helen's Lighthouse, near Cambridge, on the Isle of Wight, was kept flashing for three nights by the fourteen-year-old daughter of Lighthouse Keeper Langtan.

The girl was marooned there on Saturday afternoon without food, except one loaf of bread and a small piece of cake, but nevertheless she carried out her father's duties valiently.

Langtan and his wife on Saturday rowed ashore in a rough sea to fetch food and oil to the lighthouse, says the Daily Mail. While they were ashore the sea rose in its fury, and notwithstanding several attempts made in a lifeboat and a motor boat, the father and mother were unable to return to the beacon.

Aside from anxiety for his daughter, with scarcely any food, Langtan worried as to whether she would realize the necessity to light the lamp, which is one of the most important along the coast. Great was his relief when punctually the light beamed and remained flashing throughout the night. The gale raged all day Sunday, making vain the attempts of lifeboat men and fishermen to take the keener back.

Again night fell and again the light shone at the appointed hour. As time passed the anxiety of the parents deepened. They pictured the girl as hungry and perhaps frightened and going without sleep.

Monday the gale was worse than ever, and the passage across the three miles of raging seas was impossible. The third night came and again the light gleamed forth at the proper hour. Not until five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon did the seas abate sufficiently to enable the parents to return. The girl kept awake at night and wound every four hours the clockwork apparatus which turns the light.

BRIAND CABINET TO FALL QUICKLY

Not Expected To Last Week —Finance Measures Unpopular.

SUCCESSORS NAMED.

PARIS, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Aristide Briand is not expected to last a week as premier. His new Government is expected to be reversed by the Chamber of Deputies over Finance Minister Peret's new taxes, because they are too much like those of his predecessor, M. Doumer.

M. Briand's fall is considered so certain that combinations of a new Cabinet already occupy most of the talk in the corridors. Former Premier Herriott is considered the safest bet to head a Government, because it is believed he can still manage the Socialists, but talk of M. Caillaux, begun yesterday morning, gathered speed during the day.

Manitoba Farmers Sowing Wheat For Year's Harvest

WINNIPEG, Man., Mar. 24 (Canadian Press) — Capitalizing the early break-up of winter, farmers in several districts of Manitoba have started seeding wheat. Reports from portage La Praire and Gretna, indicated that seeding operations were progressing favorably.

Spring plowing and harrowing is fairly general throughout the prairie provinces and in many localities the seed bed will be ready about two weeks earlier than last year.

Some farmers in the Brandon district commenced work on the land on Monday. If weather permits many others will be cultivating about the end of this week. This is nine days earlier than last year when plowing started in the Douglas district. This is the second year in succession since March 25, 1918, that farmers have been able to get on the land in March. It is usually the third week in April or during late spring seasons, May 1, before this work is commenced.

Sixteen years ago today seeding started on the R. F. Reddick farm, Brandon Hills.

Seeding is likely to start this year during the first week in April.

Smuggling In Newspapers Worries U. S. Government

WASHINGTON, March 24. —Canadian Press. — Alarmed over the smuggling between Canada and this country by concealment of articles in newspapers in the mails, Congress to-day asked Postmaster-General New to confer with the Canadian postal authorities in an effort to check it. Recently at Bangor, Me., there were 247 such seizures.

W. R. Cowain Fatally Injured In Explosion at Moira Lake And Dies On Way To Hospital

Missed Charge Believed Struck By Pick in Tragedy of Yesterday Afternoon—Death Occurred on the Train Early This Morning at Ivanhoe.

SECOND MAN IN HOSPITAL SUFFERING FROM FRACTURED SKULL MAY NOT LIVE

Inquest Will Be Held, Coroner Dr. Young Says—Report Asked By Provincial Police Inspector — Jack Hart, Also in Shaft, Escapes.

MADOC, March 24 (Special to The Examiner)—W. R. Cowain, 328 King street, was fatally injured, and Adam Cassibo was seriously hurt, when an explosion occurred yesterday afternoon in a mine shaft being sunk near Moira Lake. Mr. Cowain died on the train near Ivanhoe at 3.35 this morning while being rushed to hospital in Peterborough. Mr. Cassibo is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, and is not expected to live. Jack Hart, who was also in the shaft, escaped injury.

The mine is located on the Blakely property of the Dominion Resources Syndicate, of Peterborough, which last year took up actively the exploitation of valuable deposits of fluorspar and zinc on the banks of Moira Lake, near Madoc. It is believed that pick wielded by one of the men in the shaft struck a missed explosive charge. The pick was blown out of the shaft.

Mr. Cowain had both legs and and wrist broken, a thumb nearly blown off, and suffered other injuries. Mr. Cassibo suffered a broken jaw, a fractured skull, and ahd his right arm broken, besides severe wounds on his scalp and face. The injured men were attended by Dr. Eagleson and Dr. Dafoe at the scene of the accident.

Mr. Cowain, who was born at Marmora 38 years ago, operated the Cowain Electric Company on Charlotte Street, and was a partner with P. Dallin in the Day-Nite Battery Company. Some time ago he removed to Charlotte and Aylmer where he operated the Electrica Supply Company. He was manager of the mine at which he met his death.

There will be an inquest held, Dr. T. W. H. Young said, and Provincial Constable N. F. Maker has been instructed by Inspector E. C. Gurnett to make a report on the accident.

Saved By Seconds.

Four men had been working in the shaft, but one was saved by a few seconds when he climbed out to get a chain. The shaft had been sunk about fifty-two feet, and arrangements had been completed for starting three eight-hour shifts. Work has been suspended for the time being.

This mine came into local prominence in August last year, when several Peterborough men combined to develop it. The ore was discovered eight years ago by Edward James Cowain, father of the victim of yesterday's tragedy, and the mining rights acquired by him were taken over by the Dominion Resources Syndicate.

What Matters State Of Finances Of Country? French Deputies Debate About All Day Suckers

PARIS, March 24 (United Press).—With the structure of French finance so weakened that it cannot bear the weight of the country's ordinary expenses the Chamber of Deputies today ignored the pressing question to debate a bill which would prohibit the sale of "all day suckers."

The prohibition was proposed on medical grounds. Deputy Guerin, a druggist, introduced the measure in a long speech. Radical deputies protested the childish proceedings which cost the Chamber valuable time.

HOT ENCOUNTER AT COMMITTEE SITTING TO-DAY

Finlayson Exchanges Heated Remarks With Opposition Member.

WITNESS HEARD.

Employee of Lyons Says Roofing Sale ;as Straight Business Deal.

TORONTO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Members of the Public Accounts Committee exchanged heated remarks this morning soon after the enquiry into the dealings between the Government and the Lyons Fuel and Supply Co. of Sault Ste Marie was resumed. Liberal Leader W. E. N. Sinclair strongly resented a remark made by W. Finlayson (Conservative, East Simcoe) that the question asked by Harold Fisher (Liberal, West Ottawa) was foolish. Mr. Sinclair said one lawyer should not make such a reference to another lawyer. Mr. Fisher also clashed with Mr. Lyons, M.L.A., and former Minister, when the latter said: "If you know no more about law than you do about business you are a fizzle." Mr. Sinclair demanded withdrawal, and appealed to Chairman A. C. Lewis, who said he could see nothing wrong with the remark. When the proceedings opened, W. E. Raney, Progressive leader, suggested that the House should adjourn for a week while the Public Accounts Committee is sitting, but the committee rejected the idea. Alex. McAllister, a salesman for the Lyons firm, was the first witness. He told about supplying material for the roof of the aerodrome at Sault Ste. Marie, declaring it was a straight business transaction between the Lyons firm and Contractor J. Fitzpatrick. He denied that he had ever received any improper commissions from any firm to whom he had sold supplies.

STEEL COMBINATION FORMED IN EUROPE

Makers of Rails Unite To Prevent Over Production and High Costs.

PARIS, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Manufacturers of steel rails have entered a big international combination.

The leading steel companies of Great Britain, France Germany, and Belgium come under central supervision — through an organization completed in Paris.

According to persons identified with the Comite des Forges, a powerful French steel combination, which is also interested, the general lines of a consortium have been accepted inclusive of a compromise for apportioning production to various countries concerned.

To avoid unnecessary and expensive marketing costs and over-production in any country, is assigned as the main object to be served by combination.

The terms of the agreement are not made public.

LABORER KILLED.

CHELSEA, Que., March 24 (Canadian Press).—L. Vikland, 22, was instantly killed here Monday night when a bucket attached to a hoist fell a distance of 40 feet, striking him. The engineer of the hoist, taken suddenly ill, was unable to control it.

RANGERS BEATEN AGAIN

LONDON, Mar. 24 (Canadian Press Cable) — St. Mirren defeated Rangers, 3 to 2, today in a First Division Scottish Football League game.

200 Cases Of Jettisoned Liquor Floated To Shore

MANCHESTER, Mass., Mar. 24 (Canadian Press).—Tuesday was "free liquor" day along the Atlantic coast here, and residents of this town alone secured approximately 200 cases from the "gratis" stock.

Early yesterday morning a man reported cases marked "XXX," bobbing just off the coast, and soon the beach was lined with automobiles. As the tide came in it brought with it the alcohol cargo, and the residents were there to scoop it up and vanish. Police said they knew nothing about it and had secured none of the cargo.

It is thought the liquor was thrown overboard by some bootleg craft being chased by the "dry" forces.

ONTARIO CANNOT HANDLE SCHEME

Finances Won't Permit Old Age Pensions Now, Says Ferguson.

HAS SYMPATHY.

TORONTO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Despite sympathy which Premier Ferguson yesterday said he had for a proposal which would bring pensions to the aged indigents of Ontario, it is doubtful if this province will immediately, at all events, accept a Federal Government proposition to go half-and-half on the cost of bringing old-age pensions into Ontario. "I sympathize with the idea all right," Premier Ferguson said last night, "but I would certainly have to see all the proposals and go into the financial end of it thoroughly before making any definite statement. But, offhand, I am doubtful if our finances would permit of any new ventures involving considerable expenditures."

THE WEATHER.

Rain, wet snow, slushy sidewalks, and rutty roads (such as we have never seen equalled) are now in evidence in all directions. The rain yesterday amounted to .55 of an inch. Highest temperature yesterday was 40 degrees; lowest 30 degrees. This morning 31 degrees. Under the heading "Signs of spring," I have received the following from an Ashburnham man. It will be noticed that the "birds" he writes of are not feathered ones, but painters and house decorators: "My attention has been drawn to some birds in East City which are a sure sign of spring. We often see these birds in other seasons, but generally they, are by themselves, but that is no sign. These birds I mean do not get wings till they die. You have most likely seen them around carrying their paint pots and ladders and planks. You can bet when you see them flocking around in threes and fours, spring is just around the corner."—W. P.

Dogs To Gather In Protest Against Raise In Taxes

BERLIN, March 24. — United Press. — Dachshunds, bull dogs, terriers, pinschers, poodles, police dogs, and representatives of other breeds, will gather in a monster mass meeting on Sunday to protest against the increased dog tax contemplated by the government.

Germany's dog population is mounting so rapidly that the tax not only would be welcomed by the government as a source of revenue but also as a means of convincing many enthusiastic fanciers that one dog is enough.

The dogs will be brought to the meeting by their owners on Sunday.

NEW BUS LINE FOR SOUTH END

Cooney and Jopling Putting Reo Bus on Local Streets.

TO SEAT 25.

A new 'bus line is about to be started by Cooney and Jopling to serve the residents in the south-end of the city who are not already accommodated. For this purpose they have acquired the body of one of the Lakeshore 'buses which ran between Toronto and Hamilton. This bus will be capable of seating twenty-five people, and will be equipped with all the latest accommodation. The chassis will be a Reo truck and will be one of the fastest 'buses in the city.

This 'bus body was brought through from Toronto yesterday. Mr. Cooney reports the road in very bad condition between here and Port Hope.

Cat Walks 220 Miles Returning To Old Home

TEMPLETON, Mass., Mar. 24 (United Press).—Home sickness caused Billy, a cat owned by the Rev. Francis J. Hale, to walk 220 miles back to its old haunts. Hale moved from this town to South Jefferson, Maine, last May, taking Billy with him. Nine months ago he wrote friends here that the cat had disappeared.

To-day Billy was at the home of one of its owner's former neighbors here, having found its way back from the Maine village.

STUDIO RECITAL.

Pupils of Miss Olga Fowler Acquit Themselves Creditably.

An interesting studio recital by the pupils of Miss Olga Fowler was given in the Conservatory of Music on Tuesday evening, the pupils all acquitting themselves in a manner very creditable to their teacher. Those taking part were Lena Foster, playing "Narcissus"; Jack Gimblett, "Tinker Bell" and "Peter Pan"; Ruth Smith, "Merry Peasant"; Mary Macdonald, "Valse in G"; Thelma Mealing, "Elfin Dance"; Leslie Welsh, "Mazurka"; Sophie Atkin, Beethoven's "Minuet in G" and Bach's "Minuet in G"; Leone Magee, "Sonatina"; Muied Scott, "A Curious Story"; Tuna Hart, "Sonatina in F"; Dorothy Gavine, "Les Myrtles"; Jean Scott, "Valse Caprice"; Winnie Dawe, Chopin's "Valse, Opus 70 No. 1".

An enjoyable added portion of the programme were the clarinet solos played by Billy Widdess, and violin selections by Max Warne.

IT IS A FACT

That many persons continue to wear old lenses long after they should be changed and that many a person is right now suffering the penalty for neglected eyestrain. If you have been wearing your glasses longer than two years, let us examine your eyes and tell you whether your glasses are right or not. See W. H. Lacey, Optometrist, 410 George Street. 'Phone 1160.

OWING TO LAYING A NEW FLOOR IN TOWN HALL AT KEENE, THE DANCE THAT WAS TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY EVENING OF THIS WEEK HAS BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 30TH. 3d24, 25, 27

AMERICAN KILLED IN BRUTAL MANNER

Stoned and Then Dragged Over Rough Ground— Mexicans Guilty.

MEXICO CITY, March 24 (United Press).—Joe Hall, an American murdered by laborers on Saturday night, was first stoned, and while unconscious, was tied to a mule and dragged for a long distance over rough ground. Details of the murder which reached Mexico City Tuesday from Ixtlan, Nayarit Province, where the tragedy occurred, said that the murderers were allegedly connected with the Southern Pacific Railway.

Hall was with the National Railways. He is the second American murdered in Mexico within the last two weeks.

Ambassador Sheffield has asked for instructions.

NO STATEMENT ON LINE AT ROUYN

Ferguson Says Matter of T. and N. O. Extension is Before Courts.

TORONTO, March 24 (Canadian Press). — Premier Ferguson this morning refused to make any comment on the statement of Premier Taschereau of Quebec that he was sure the Federal Government would block any attempt of the T. and N. O. Railway to extend their line to Rouyn mines.

"The matter is before the courts, and I have nothing to say about it," stated Premier Ferguson.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — EXTENSION TABLE; good condition, $7; 158 Edinburgh St. 3d-84-685

FOR SALE—ELECTRIC MOTOR, 1 horsepower; apply 173 Stewart St. 3d-71-1196

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; apply 589 Gilmour, phone 557w. 3d-71-1189

FOR SALE — STROLLER; ALSO high chair and other articles; apply 352 Simcoe. 3d-71-1194

WOOD FOR SALE — PHONE 1937 for dry hardwood slabs and body hardwood; also real dry hemlock slabs on hand. W. J. Fitzgerald, 242 Perry St. 26d-79-804

FOR SALE—ONE GENUINE WICKER baby carriage, cheap; also ladies' satin dress, size 38-40; and a few articles of household furniture. Phone 1639m. 3d-71-1164

FOR SALE — CLEAN PAPER IN bundles, 3 for 25c; Examiner. 26d-95-1218

FOR SALE — BEER BOTTLES—quarts and pints; apply G. Dolg, Bell Ave., phone 2505J. 3d-72-1220

FARM SALE OF STOCK, IMPLEMENTS and household effects at John Barry's, Douro, lot 7, concession 7, 5 miles from Peterboro, on Warsaw road, Tuesday, March 30. 7 horses, 2 matched teams, young, 3000 and 3200; also registered Clyde Stallion (Baron Drumberg) (21911) 1800 lbs. 10 cows, 9 young cattle, 3 sows and pigs. No reserve. 3d-72-1234

FOR SALE — ONE SET DOUBLE driving harness, democrat and buggy, one set scales; two thousand lbs. Apply 1st door west of May's school house. 3d-72-1241

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS WANTED—MAN OR WOMAN to interview mothers and distribute literature for religious education in the home. $225 for 90 days' work. May work spare time. Winston Co., Toronto. 9d-3,6,10,13,17,20-24,27,31-795

$225. FOR NINETY DAYS' WORK (spare or full time) guaranteed man or woman to interview mothers and distribute literature for religious education in the home. Commission and cash bonuses besides, offering good chance to earn $30 to $50 weekly. Particulars and samples free. Winston Co., Toronto. 6d-13,17,20,24,27,31-912

NOTICE

NOTICE—HELP THE NEEDY WITH your cast off clothing; ring Salvation Army, 1929; we will call. 6d-73-1126

NOTICE—PLUMBING; ALL MAKES of stoves and furnaces repaired; estimates free; Fred Goodfellow; phone 1624m. 12d-82-1236

NOTICE — PLUMBING FIXTURES for your house for $125.00 complete. Fred Goodfellow, phone 1624m. 4d-74-1237

NOTICE — TWO THOUSAND DOLlars, private funds, to lend; Box 1230 Examiner. 3d-73-1230

NOTICE—EVERYTHING IN CANVAS D. Hardie, late of Water St., wishes the people to know he is now at 499 Patterson St, taking orders for tents, awnings, boat tops, covers, cushions, curtains, and all kinds of repair work; phone any time 1915J. 4d-20,24,27,31-1052

NOTICE — MOTOR TRUCKING AND moving; also heavy equipment for lumber and logs; N. Bradley, 704 Water St., phone 2327w. 12d-77-1101

NOTICE—HAIRDRESSING — HAIRcutting, shampooing, marcelling, etc.; work done evenings by appointment; Mrs. E. Johnson, 199 Hunter St. W., Bell Apts. phone 1194F. 5d-73-1192

SPECIAL NOTICE. CUT THIS OUT. It will pay. House repairs, cellar to roof; furnaces, stoves expertly cleaned, complete one-fifty, and repaired. We also have hospital for every description of broken goods, from electric irons, furniture to pair of scissors. Costs nothing to phone. Small trial will surprise you how cheap we work. Wm. J. Bull. 1086M.

HILL, WEDDELL & HILLS
General Insurance Agency
ESTABLISHED 1883
Phone 14 — 124 Hunter Street West

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — LARGE SOLID OAK silent salesman show case; phone 2148. 3d-72-1208

FOR SALE — CONGOLEUM RUG IN good condition, size 9 ft. by 9 ft. Apply 134 Rubidge St. or phone 2162J. 3d-72-1209

FOR SALE—AUTO KNITTING MAchine, in splendid condition, with full instructions to operate; apply to 559 George St., city. 3d-72-1199

FOR SALE—SUPREME RANGE FOR coal or wood; also Tropic heater, 294 Reid. 6d-74-1174

FOR SALE—C.C.M. BICYCLE IN A1 condition; cheap; apply 478 Mark. 3d-71-1172

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED HOUSE, 2 piece plumbing, deep lot with henhouse; central; good condition. Apply Box 1178. 6d-74-1178

FOR SALE—3-4 SIZE VIOLIN, FINE tone, bow and case, phone 45F, 263 Hunter St. 3d-72-817

FOR SALE — PRIVATE SALE OF household furniture; cook stove; sewing machine; fumed oak bufeft; beds and dressers, etc. 539 Gilmour St. 3d-71-1157

FOR SALE — PORTABLE FORGE and Anvil; apply 464 George street, Peterboro. 3d-71-1167

FOR SALE—FUMED OAK LIBRARY table with shelves and drawer; small Chesterfield (apt. size), spring seat, arms and back, chair to match; fumed oak telephone table and chair; one leather hat box with straps; everything in first class condition; phone 1445J, evenings. 3d-72-1217

FOR SALE—UPRIGHT PIANO IN good condition; also Quebec Heater and open Grate; apply 560 Water between 6 and 7 p.m. 3d-71-1180

ARTICLES FOR SALE—ONE VERY fine Persian Rug, size 5 ft. x 6 ft. 9 inches; one Wilton Rug, size 6 ft. 9 in. x 10 ft. 6 in.; one walnut gate-legged Dining Room Table, like new; apply 280 George street. 3d-71-1185

FOR SALE—DROP LEAF TABLE $3; chest of drawers $3; sideboard $3; extension table $6, chairs, rockers, parlor table, hall rack, leather rockers, easy chairs, dressers, stands, small oak wardrobe, iron beds, toilet sets, three burner oil stove with oven, baby buggy, drop head Singer Sewing Machine, crock, dishes; apply 59 Aylmer near Perry. 3d-71-1169

FOR SALE — B. C. RED CEDAR Shingles at lowest prices; Fred H. Rowan. Phone 851. 26d-80-828

FOR SALE—TWO BUCKEYE INCUbators; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-84-1007

FOR SALE — WALNUT FINISHED steel bed and springs; walnut vanity dresser, new; fumed oak dining room suite; hall rack; Quebec heater; baby carriage; and a number of jars of fruit; apply evenings between 7 and 8 at 245 Stewart St. 3d-48-1096

AUCTION SALE OF FARM PROPERTY

Farm Stock, Implements, Machinery, Household Effects and Farm Property. The estate of the late Robert Knox, parts of lots 17, 18, 19, concession 4, Township of of Asphodel on March 31st, 1926, sale commencing at 1 o'clock. This farm is situated one mile south of South Dummer church, Asphodel station, C. P.R. adjoins the farm; arrangements have been made for noon train east bound to stop on day of sale.

Subject to prior sale the farm property will be offered by public auction on day of sale. First, in bloc of 230 acres, more or less, and if not sold in bloc, property will be offered in two parcels of 70 and 160 acres each. Full particulars will be made known at time of sale. There will be a reserve bid. This property is being sold to close an estate.

Twelve acres maple bush; all buildings in excellent condition. Accommodations for tieing 34 cattle and 8 horses, cement throughout. Brick dwelling, new furnace.

A splendid opportunity to secure a good grain and dairy farm.

Wm. Knox, 526 Water St., Peterboro; Matthew C. Knox, Norwood; Executors of Estate.

J. R. Battisby, Auctioneer, Campbellford, Ont. 2d-24,27-1231

FOUND

FOUND — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD watch; apply J. Pearson Grocery store, 196 Charlotte. 3d-71-1195

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE

FOR SALE — GENERAL PURPOSE Horse, young, sound; broke to all harness; apply 508 Elm; phone 858. 3d-71-1188

FOR SALE—20 STORE HOGS; APply J. R. Sleeman, Monaghan Road, near Queen Mary School. 3d-22,24,26-1158

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE—ONE DURham Cow, also one Jersey, both young; phone 1903J. 3d-72-1202

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE — BULL, Brownedale type; Robt. Boyd, R. R. No. 2 Ida. 6d-74-1156

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — MODERN, HEATED Apartments; apply 427 George St. dtf-1868

TO RENT—3 BRIGHT UNFURNISHed rooms with lights, gas and bath; suitable for couple; apply 481 Aylmer St. 3d-71-1179

FOR RENT — WAREROOMS, OR would be suitable for small manufacturing business; possession 1st April; apply 437 George street. dtf

TO RENT—HEATED APARTMENT; first month's rent free; phone 1153w. 3d-72-1149

TO RENT — UPPER APARTMENT and semi-detached house; new apply 265 Rubidge, phone 1405w. 6d-76-1228

TO RENT — FOUR ROOMED FLAT, downstairs, to parties without children, near Quaker Oats and Westclox, all conveniences; apply 92 Dufferin. 3d-73-1229

FOR RENT—50 ACRES, ADJOINING city, on highway; complete as to buildings, water in barn; rent or work on shares to married couple; dairy and poultry, modern piggery, silo; possession April 1st; apply to Box 835 Examiner office. 4d-24,27,29,31-835

TO RENT — GOOD COMFORTABLE house for family of six, good garden, $10 month; apply James McMartin, cross river from Rye's Boat house. 2d-24,26-1126

FOR RENT — WAREROOMS, OR would be suitable for small manufacturing business; possession 1st April; apply 437 George street. dtf-823

FOR RENT — BEAUTIFUL APARTments; 6 rooms; central location; tenant will sacrifice balance of lease expiring August 31st, leaving city; Box 1242 Examiner. 3d-73-1242

FOR RENT—HOUSE AND 10 ACRES of land on High St.; apply 219 Park. 6d-75-1201

FOR RENT — FIVE ROOM HOUSE for rent: 48 Ware St., $15.00 per month; phone 2325J. 3d-71-1159

TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE; CONveniences, Mark St.; aply 677 Water street. 3d-72-1206

TO RENT—7 ROOM WHITE BRICK house; conveniences; large garden; apply 571 Elm. 3rd house from Monaghan Road. 3d-73-1247

TO RENT — HOUSE, 172 ADELENE apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT — HEATED, FURNISHED House, 172 Adelene; apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1155

TO RENT—CORNER STORE, HOUSE and heated apartment; apply 451 Water St. 12d-81-1198

FOR RENT — TRAPPING GROUND for this season; apply 324 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1168

TO RENT—IF YOU WANT TO RENT a house; if you want to buy a house; if you want to buy a market garden, or exchange a farm for city property, apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-818

FOR RENT—NO. 173 1-2 SIMCOE street, suitable for store or office; Apply 437 George street. dtf-813

FOR RENT—HEATED OFFICE ON George street. Apply 437 George street. dtf

FOR RENT — OFFICE, HEATED; Apply Bank of Toronto. dtf.-3055

HOUSE TO RENT— 539 DOWNIE street. Apply 437 George street. dtf-1837

SITUATIONS VACANT

$5 SELL HOUSHOLD NECESSITIES greatest imaginable demand; have business of your own; make five dollars up daily; capital or experience unnecessary. Is Garretson, Brantford, Ont. 12d-82-1232

WORK WANTED

WORK WANTED — 2 BOYS WANT work to learn trade; apply 284 Brock St. or phone 632w. 3d-71-1165

LOST

LOST — LADIES' GOLD WRIST watch, initials on back; finder please phone 938J; Reward. 3d-71-1184

LOST — ON WATER ST., CHILD'S red bag with wrist watch and change purse inside; phone 647m; reward. 3d-71-1173

LOST — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD Watch; finder please phone 24. 3d-72-1221

LOST—PURSE CONTAINING GOLD watch and key in Capitol Theatre or between there and post office. Please leave at Examiner; reward. 3d-72-1223

LOST — PHEASANT — FINDER please notify Montgomery House. 3d-73-1248

LOST—ON SUNDAY, MARCH 21ST, a yellow part Husky and Collie Dog with black nose and no tail; answers to name of Hero; owner's name on tag on collar; finder please notify Robert Sedgwick, near Lift Lock or phone 2178. 1d-71-1249

LOST — WILL THE PERSON WHO took the umbrella and man's overshoes from Nicholl's Hospital, March 23rd, please return to 182 Adaline Ave., and save further trouble. 3d-73-1233

LOST — WILL THE PARTY WHO picked up the purse in front of Hill's Grocery Store, George St., on Saturday, leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1183

LOST—10 SATURDAY AFTERNOON centre of city on Hunter St. East. Please leave at Examiner. 3d-71-1162

LOST—29 x 4.40 TIRE CHAIN; WILL finder please leave at Examiner office. 3d-71-1171

LOST — BLACK-FACED WALTHAM Wrist Watch luminous dial, down town, Saturday morning; finder please call 63 or 1677J.

HOUSES, REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE — 2 SMALL HOUSES; cheap, with all conveniences; terms if desired; apply Box 1211 Examiner. 3d-72-1211

HOUSE FOR SALE — NEW SOLID Brick and stucco house, hardwood floors, furnace, and all conveniences, taxes $28.00 a year; phone in day time 890, after six o'clock 2232; special price for cash; south east part of city. 12d-81-1216

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE—WHITE brick house and large lot; 102 Cameron St., Crawford's Grove post office; apply Bruce Johnston, phone 544 r 3. 12d-17,20,22,24,27 29,31,3,5,7,10,12-1069

FOR SALE — 8 ROOMED SOLID Brick House, central location; all modern but furnace; apply A. Whitnell, Empress Hotel. 6d-74-1181

REAL ESTATE — 34 ACRES FOR sale or rent; close to city; good buildings and land all under cultivation, lot of fruit; apply 783 George St. 6d-75-1215

HOUSES FOR SALE—A VERY MODern house, best west end location, facing south, fine lot with garage; a snap; apply Box 1187 Examiner office. 3d-71-1187

REAL ESTATE—IF YOU HAVE MOney to loan on city or farm property, guaranteed property valuation equal to double the amount of the mortgage; no commission to pay. Apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-819

FOR SALE — NEW HOUSE, DESIRably situated in the West End centre hall plan, oak floors through out and modern in every respect; easy terms to suit purchaser; apply 437 George street. dtf-3483

REAL ESTATE — FOR SALE OR rent, in East City, Mark St. 220; a new house, two years old, bungalow style, three bed rooms and bathroom upstairs, built of brick with cement foundation, cellar full size with good furnace; large porch in front, light and water on tap; apply to owner, Andrew Fairbairn, 362 Lakefield, Ont. 3d163-680

HELP WANTED—Male

WANTED — AUTOMOBILE SALESman; one with previous experience preferred; J. P. Pulkinghorn, 182 Hunter. 3d-71-1176

WANTED—MARRIED MAN TO DO farm work; free house and garden. Apply Melville Stewart, Chemong Road, phone 589 r 14. 3d-73-1225

WANTED—A FULLY EXPERIENCEd farm hand wanted for 8 months, wages $40 per month; apply to Box 34, Bailieboro, Ont. 3d-71-799

MALE HELP WANTED — STEADY home employment at silver plating, nothing to buy or sell; no experience required; write for particulars; address Silver, 174 Macdonell Ave., Toronto. 5d-74-1132

SALESMAN WANTED — SHIRT salesman wanted for Peterborough and surrounding towns to sell high quality made-to-order shirts at popular prices. Liberal commission and sole agency to the right man. Excellent opportunity to obtain a profitable line. Please state experience. John Budd Company, 315 Bay Street, Toronto. 2d-23,25-820

BOARDERS WANTED

WANTED — LADY ROOMER OR boarder; all conveniences; apply 531 Roger; phone 1220w. 3d-71-1170

WANTED — BOARDERS; ALL CONveniences; central; phone 632w. 3d-71-1166

BOARDERS WANTED — MARRIED couple or two young men; all conveniences; apply 718 Water or phone 1742w. 3d-72-1204

ROOMERS OR BOARDERS WANTED conveniences; apply 284 Brock St. or phone 632w. 6d-76-1226

POULTRY & EGGS

WANTED—LIVE POULTRY—EXTRA prices paid for good stock; phone 771 and we will call, or bring them to A. Atkins, 180 Charlotte St. 26d-75-703

WANTED — HEN AND CHICKENS; special prices paid; phone H. F. Dolg, 2097F. 26d-74-722

BOARD WANTED

WANTED—ROOM AND BOARD BY gentleman; near C.G.E. Write stating terms to Box 1160 Examiner. 3d-71-1160

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED — MIDDLE-AGED HOUSEkeeper for small family, no children, write Box 1163 Examiner. 3d-71-1163

WANTED — GENERAL SERVANT for family in Toronto; summer in Muskoka; apply 457 Water St. 3d-73-1227

WANTED—GIRL WANTED; MUST be experienced; apply G. A. Pringle and Son. 3d-73-839

WANTED—A FIRST CLASS SEWING girl to help on coats and skirts; apply Ed Hickey, Royal Bank building. 3d-73-1245

WANTED—FIRST CLASS COOK, A kitchen girl and upstairs girl wanted at once; apply Grand Hotel. 3d-72-1212

HELP WANTED—APPLY NICHOLL'S Hospital. 3d-72-816

WANTED — GIRL TO DO HOUSEwork; apply Mrs. Rogow, 440½ George. 3d-71-1177

WANTED—YOUNG LADY OF NEAT appearance with sales ability, good hand sewer and trustworthy; apply 163 Charlotte St. 3d-71-1175

RELIABLE USED CARS
OUR GUARANTEE:
Is not made up of misleading phrases—it's simple—and means what it says—you must be satisfied!
See our stock—we have something to please you.
A. BROWN
Open Evenings - - 383 Water St.
MORE MILES FOR YOUR DOLLAR

TALENT TEA.

Members of Bible Class Hold Pleasant Social Evening.

A very attractive talent tea was held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Mealing, 529 King street, last evening, under the auspices of the King's Own Bible Class of St. James' church. The inclement weather interfered to a great extent with the patronage of the tea, which was exceptionally well arranged. The guests were received by Mrs. Mealing, Mrs. J. D. Richardson and Miss May Ritchie, vice-president of the class. Decorations throughout the house were in colors appropriate to the season, the tea table was charmingly centered by shamrocks and pink carnations and the refreshments, which were in charge of Mrs. Foster, were also carried out in the season's colors. Tea was poured by Miss Pearl Eakins, assisted by Mrs. Earl Eakins, Mrs. M. Drysdale and Mrs. Ward Deyell.

During the evening, a pleasant musical programme was given, with an instrumental duet by Ashton Fife and Jack Cuffe, instrumental solos Miss Aileen Rose, Miss Mary Wood, Miss Amy Fairbrother and Thelma Mealing, vocal numbers by Miss May Ritchie and readings by Mrs. Henry Turner. The musical programme was in charge of a committee of four ladies, with Miss Verna Fell as convenor.

AUTOS FOR SALE

CAR FOR SALE—FORD SEDAN—model '21 in first class condition; five good cord tires; $335 cash; Box 3626 Examiner.

CAR FOR SALE—McLAUGHLIN CAR in good condition; recently overhauled; five good tires; apply 270 John St., phone 1083w. 6d-74-1193

CARS FOR SALE—SPECIAL 6, 1920 Studebaker Touring Car, complete with spare rim and tire, just overhauled at cost of $100.00; splendid condition; a real bargain. Apply 280 George Street. 3d-71-1186

WANTED

ROOMER WANTED—ALL CONVENIences, use of phone; apply to Box 1197 Examiner. 3d-72-1197

WANTED TO ADOPT—LITTLE GIRL or boy; apply Mrs. Griffin, 18 Ontario Place, Toronto 2. 3d-72-1207

WANTED TO RENT FOR MAY 1ST—small modern house; family of three, well recommended; would lease suitable place; state full particulars to Box 1240 Examiner. 3d-73-1240

WANTED—FOUR OR FIVE ROOMS on bathroom flat or small apartment by May 1st; phone 1206m. 3d-71-1191

WANTED — MOTOR CARTING; ALL kinds, long or short hauling; Beatty Bros. 'Phone 2169-991r3.

WANTED—1,500 MEN AND WOMEN to join Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Coupon on another page. dh

BABY CARRIAGES, ETC.

FOR SALE — CREAM REED BABY Carriage, good condition, $15; baby coop, $4; phone 2127w. 3d-71-1161

FOR SALE—BABY'S WICKER BUGgy; baby's folding buggy; child's cot; electric fan, new; oak barrel; five gallon coal oil can; kitchen range, burns coal, wood and gas; all in perfect condition; apply 464 Driscoll Terrace. 6d-73-1146

DEBT REFUNDING PLAN CRITICIZED

Harold Fisher Says Province Not Paying Its Way.

OTHER SPEAKERS.

TORONTO, March 24. — Canadian Press. — Six members spoke yesterday on the budget debate in the legislature. It is generally thought that the debate will go over until next week but that the House will conclude its business before Easter. In yesterday's debate, Hasold Fisher, the Liberal financial critic, was the chief speaker. His main point of difference with the government was that it was foolish to consider a debt refunding plan as long as the province was not paying its way in ordinary affairs. He criticized the Provincial Treasurer for leaving the impression that the government was paying its way, while as a matter of fact it was going behind.

Russell Nesbitt, (Conservative) Toronto, condemned the Ontario Temperance Act as a failure.

J. G. Lethbridge, (Prog. Middlesex) declared that "wet utterances" in the Legislature were mere propaganda.

T. L. Kennedy (Conservative, Peel) said that he thought much of the election expenses of W. E. Raney, must have been paid by A. B. Orpen, the race track owner.

A. H. Acres (Conservative, Carleton, urged the government to greater effort and expenditure for Hydro purposes on the Ottawa river.

A. C. Lewis (Conservative, Toronto,) told of the good work of the Soldiers' Aid Commission in Ontario.

Leslie Oke (U.F.O. East Lambton) adjourned the debate.

DOOMED TO FAILURE.

Present Congress Rejects Proposition Of All American Canal.

WASHINGTON, March 24 (Canadian Press) — The all-American canal through New York state was doomed to failure in the present Congress when the Republican steering committee of the House today sidetracked consideration of the project.

HOUSE

To let, six rooms; conveniences; central; LOW RENT.
Also Store and Apartment to let.
A. LOW & CO.
385 BETHUNE ST.
Phone 607 - Nights & Holidays 1087

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Estate of Richard M. Bell, late of the City of Bay City, in the State of Michigan, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Section 56 of the Trustee Act, R.S.O. 1914, Chapter 121, that all creditors having claims or demands against the estate of the said Richard M. Bell, who died on or about the seventh day of April, 1920, at the City of Bay City in the State of Michigan, are required to send by post prepaid or deliver to the undersigned Oscar S. Matchett, the Administrator of the property within the Province of Ontario, or to the undersigned Wilfrid F. Huycke, his solicitor, on or before the first day of April, 1926, their christian and surnames and addresses and full particulars duly verified of their claims, and the nature of the security, if any, held by them.

And take notice that after the said first day of April, 1926, the said Administrator will proceed to distribute the assets within Ontario of the said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have notice, and the said Administrator will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received as aforesaid, at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Peterborough this 18th day of March, 1926.

Oscar S. Matchett,
108 Gladstone Avenue,
Peterborough.
W. F. Huycke, Administrator.
Peterborough.
Solicitor for the Administrator.
3d-20,24,27-773

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

100 acres of choice rolling land in the Township of Alnwick, all in good state of cultivation and a quantity in hay and pasture, well watered and very comfortable buildings. Immediate possession. This farm can be sold at a greatly reduced price on reasonable terms and if not sold will be rented.

Anybody requiring said property should act quickly.

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
136 Hunter St. W.
Office phone, 376. Residence, 1259.
A. Mills, agent, phone 1656w.

Harry L. Jopling
HIDES, WOOL AND RAW FURS
Having dissolved partnership with T. Brightman & Co., wishes to announce that he has started in business for himself, with office and warehouse at 217 Hunter street, Peterboro.
Highest Prices Paid
FOR HIDES, WOOL AND RAW FURS
2d-20-24

LISTEN!
JUST ARRIVED
Hard Coal
BEST ANTHRACITE
EGG NUT $16
ALBERTA COAL $14
COKE, Real Solvay $15
HARD AND MIXED WOOD
Cut and Split to Order at Current Prices
Peterboro Fuel and Transfer Co.
KELLY BROS.
Phone 270 & 362 - 134 Aylmer St.

Telephone 790 When You Want Your
Piano or Organ Tuned
Player Pianos a Specialty
All Work Guaranteed
W. H. CUNNINGHAM
560 Weller Street

CHINA PAINTING
Mrs. Langley McCarthy Teaches Biscoffs' New and Beautiful Work in CHINA PAINTING

In Memoriam

Memories are a great heritage; they help to cheer the way over life's cobble-stone roadway; memories of mother, father, wife, husband, daughter, son, sister, brother or friend.

To assist its readers in the preparation of memoriam notices The Examiner has available a selection of two hundred verses, appropriate for all occasions.

If you are interested, all possible help will be given on enquiry at the Editorial Department.

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY, LTD.
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE ST. PHONE 40

Toronto Savings And Loan Company

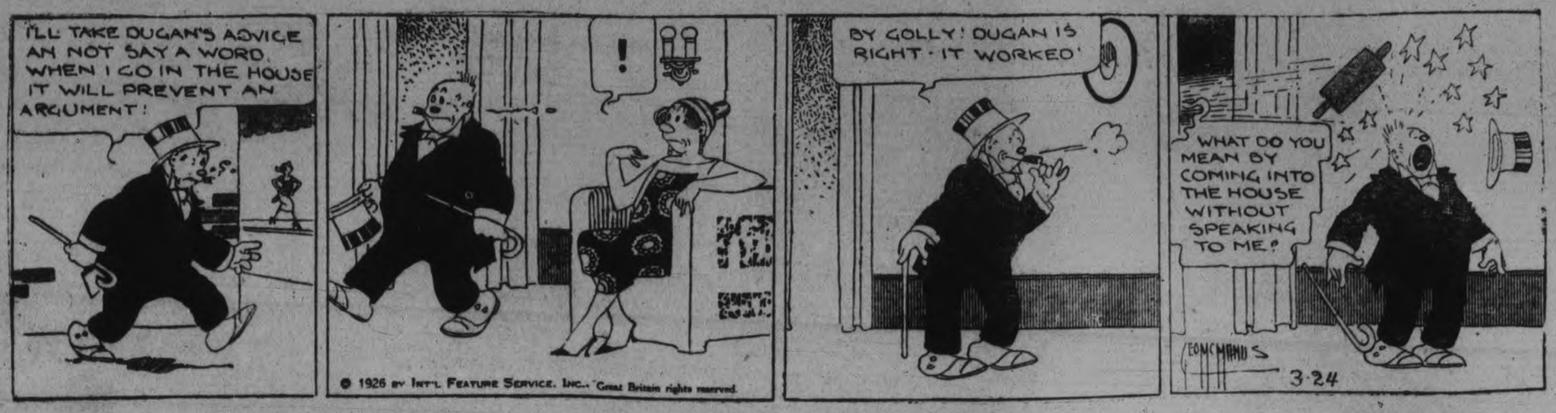
NOTICE is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of THREE PER CENT. (3 per cent.) for the three months ending March 31st, 1926, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution, and that the same will be payable at the offices of this Company, Peterborough, on and after Thursday, the 1st day of April, 1926.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 17 to the 31st March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board,
W. G. MORROW,
Managing Director.

Boots and Her Buddies

"BRINGING UP FATHER" — Geo. McManus



CANADIAN TRADE TREATY WITH INDIES PASSES FIRST READING

Hon. J. A. Robb Intimated That Sugar Preferences May Be Extended to the Fiji Islands — Proposed Steamship Service Questioned.

SOME DETAILS OF TREATY OPPOSED.

OTTAWA, March 24.—(By Canadian Press)—A resolution to pprove the Canada-West Indies Trade Treaty passed the House of Commons Tuesday, and a bill based thereon was given first reading. Discussion occupied practically the whole of the afternoon sitting.

Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, intimated during the debate that the Government was inclined to favor extension to the Fiji Islands of the sugar preferences provided in the Treaty. J. K. Armstrong, Conservative, of Lambton East, thought that lowering of the duty on raw sugar from the West Indies would injure the Canadian sugar beet industry.

C. H. Cahan (Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George) asked the Government to tell the House what would be the cost to Canada of making the Treaty effective. He thought the promotion of wider trade between the two Dominions was very desirable, providing the interests of Canada were properly protected.

The Minister of Finance had said that the former Treaty of 1920 had been impracticable. Mr. Cahan asked why it could not be carried out and what had been the cost to Canada of the tentative efforts to put it into effect. What had been the cost of subsidized steamship service, for instance?

Steamship Costs.

Mr. Cahan said he was desirous of maintaining "friendly and profitable commercial relations" with the West Indies. Before asking for ratification of the agreement, however, the Minister of Finance should give a "clear and precise statement" of the cost to the country in respect to the proposed new steamship services. The House was certainly entitled to this information.

Mr. Cahan understood that the operation of the improved services would entail a capital investment amounting to $9,500,000. He considered, therefore, that further consideration should be postponed until after the Easter recess. In the meantime, the Government should prepare an estimate of the cost of the proposed steamship services.

Mr. Robb said he believed that the business men of Montreal, referred to by Mr. Cahan, were not so much concerned with what the subsidy was going to cost as they were anxious to know who was going to get the subsidy. He could remember that a former subsidy had been handed out for the use of ships which were described by shipping men as "old curiosity shops." He had no intention of giving any subsidy, he said, to antiquated vessels for the proposed service.

Mr. Robb denied any suggestion that the agreement had been "blindly" entered into. The Government had had the advantage of reports from its trade agents who were "experienced men with no axe to grind."

Effect on Industries.

J. E. Armstrong (Conservative,—Lampton East) did not want to be understood as opposing treaties for trade development within the Empire. He did object, however, to the Government entering into trade agreements without an investigation to the effect of such agreements on Canadian industries.

An injury would result to the sugar beet industry if the agreement with the West Indies became effective. It was proposed to lower the duty on raw sugar entering Canada from the islands. This action would have a "serious effect" on the Canadian beet sugar industry. Furthermore, the country would, by such reduction, lose about $1,000,000 in revenue annually. Little encouragement was given in the direction of building sugar refineries in the Dominion under the trade agreements negotiated by the Government.

Hon J. A. Robb said that he had been assured that the sugar refineries of Ontario would not be placed at a disadvantage compared with New York as regards freight rates. The price of beet sugar was governed by the world market, and reduced prices were attributable to such influences rather than to reduced duties.

Mr. Armstrong did not agree with him.

Answering a question from Mr. Cahan, Mr. Robb said there was the preserving and jam industry to be thought of, as well as the fast growing exports of refined sugar from the Dominion. The Minister did aot think the comparatively small bee growing industry was more important than the whole refining industry of Canada.

R. E. Ryrson (Conservative, Brantford) expressed fear that the Government had been "misled" in important matters relative to the Treaty. He thought that the Government had attached too much importance to the possibility of diverting to Canadian ports the large banana business coming to United States ports. Mr. Ryerson did not think the plan to divert this traffic to Canadian ports would be "feasible or practical."

W. A. Black (Conservative, Halifax) stated that it was proposed to provide for eight or ten times greater tonnage on the Western route than available at present. He questioned where this cargo would come from. The proposed service would also lack for tonnage on the Eastern route. He doubted the anticipated growth in the banana trade. Full information should be given by the Government relative to the cost of the new steamship service.

Mr. Robb asked Mr. Black if he was in favor of cancelling all subsidies on vessels going to the West Indies.

Mr. Black replied in the affirmative.

ALLENBY WELCOMED

Lord and Lady Allenby received an enthusiastic reception Saturday in Hamilton, where they attended a number of public and semi-public functions. In the afternoon Lord Allenby laid a wreath on the city cenotaph, and in the evening he addressed the Canadian Club on the subject of his Palestine campaign. Lord and Lady Allenby are shown at the left above, while at the right Lord Allenby (with his hat removed) is shown in front of the cenotaph.

CUSTOMS ENTRY WAS ALTERED IN COAL SHIPMENT

Excise Department Defrauded of $2,639—Restitution Was Made.

HELD 13 MONTHS.

Father Ordered Investigation of His Son's Transaction on Consignment.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The Customs Inquiry Committee spent the day delving into the somewhat involved story of how a cargo of British bituminous coal entered Canada as anthracite and thus evaded payment of duty. Three witnesses contributed to the history. In the first place, W. F. Wilson, chief preventive officer of the Customs Department, testified that the revenues had been defrauded for over a year of the duty. The amount involved was $2,639, and it had been appropriated by the brokerage firm of Antonio Giroux and Company of Montreal for its own use. Later, when the company which imported the coal claimed a shortage, the fraud was found out. The brokerage company had in the mean time made good the money.

The second witness to testify was Antonio Giroux, who was head of the company which conducted the transaction.

Entry Was Altered.

He admitted that he had received a cheque from the importers of the coal to pay the duty, that he had used the money for another purpose and that he had arranged to have the Customs entry changed so that the carload of coal would enter Canada free. Two changes in the entry had accomplished his purpose. The word "anthracite" had been inserted and the word "Yorkshire" struck out. Later, he had made restitution of the amount and filed a new Customs entry.

In the afternoon, Albert Eugene Giroux, superintendent of Customs and Excise examiners, and father of Antonio Giroux, took the stand. He gave details as to the documents required for passing consignments through the Customs. He also stated that he had ordered an investigation of the transaction in which his son was involved when the Customs entry covering it reached him.

Delayed 13 Months.

The matter first came to his attention in December, 1923. He told his son that the coal was dutiable.

"Did you ask him why he delayed 13 months?"

"I don't remember."

"You were not interested?" asked Mr. Calder.

"I told him, as a father, to pay the money," replied the witness.

"He did not tell you he had received the money?"

"Not immediately."

Mr. Donaghy asked if, from Mr. Giroux's investigation, he decided that anyone in the Department was acting in collusion with his son.

"I don't think any Customs employee was acting in collusion," was the reply.

Mr. Giroux was still under the examination when the committee adjourned.

ARRESTED BY GUEST.

Gen. Butler's Host on Liquor Charge.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 24 (Canadian Press).—Naval Secretary Wilbur yesterday ordered a court martial to try Colonel Alexander Williams of the Marine Corps on charges of drunkenness, preferred by Brigadier-General Smedley Butler, commanding the Marine Base at San Diego, California.

General Butler was Colonel Williams' guest of honor at a dinner at San Diego on the same evening that the acts of which General Butler complains were committed.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestents

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestents, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

BAZAAR AND SUPPER

United Church Ladies Held Social on St. Patrick's Night.

STIRLING, March 24.—The ladies of St. Paul's United Church held a very successful bazaar, and supper on St. Patrick's night. The proceeds amounted to about $180.

Mr. Geo. Ivey had a sale of his household effects recently. The prices obtained were good. He has secured a position as bookkeeper in Toronto.

A very interesting and instructive lecture was given in the Town Hall on Thursday night, on the material in and the construction of the Chevrolet automobile. There was a good attendance and those who held the seven lucky numbers on their tickets, were presented with valuable prizes. At the close of the meeting the floor was cleared of the chairs and dancing followed for a couple of hours or more.

Several from here attended the Orange Grand Lodge Convention for Eastern Ontario, held in Belleville this week

The flower and vegetable seed premiums given by the Horticultural Society were distributed this week. This society was organized over 30 years ago, and has done a great deal towards the beautifying of the village, and has 100 members.

BETHANY Y.P.L.

Irish Program Given on Wednesday at Regular Meeting.

BETHANY, March 24.—About thirty young people were present on Wednesday evening at the young people's League of the United Church. The new president, Bertrand Monk, took the chair. The meeting opened with the hymn—"I Hear Thy Welcome Voice Which Calls Me, Lord, to Thee," which was sung heartily by all, and part of the 19th psalm which was read responsively, after which the pastor led in prayer. It was then decided that $20 be paid out of the general treasury to help make up the missionary objective.

Mr. Walter Rowland, 3rd vice-president, then took charge of the program, which was of an Irish nature. A song "Killarney" was sung by Hazel Jackson, a reading on St. Patrick was given by Mrs. Monk; A song, "Where The River Shannon Flows," was sung by Bertrand Monk. Mr. Poulter then gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the life of St. Patrick; Miss Verna Belle Lee also sang an Irish song. Next Wednesday is social and literary night and a debate is being prepared for that occasion. Beatrice Darrock will also recite. A silver collection will be taken for missions.

KIWANIS PLANS MEET APPROVAL

Wading Pool to be Erected in King Edward Park, Costing $1,500.

OTHER PROJECTS

Peterborough Kiwanis Club is launched upon an active year's work, and at every meeting some new plan for civic betterment is brought up.

When the Executive Committee and the Committee of Chairmen met last night at the home of John J. Turner, with Isaac McNabb presiding, it was announced that the plan for the building of a wading pool at King Edward Park had received the approval of the Parks Committee of the City Council. This pool will be built by the Kiwanians, and will cost for material and expert direction between $1,500 and $2,000. The Parks Committee will recommend that the City Council install and maintain the sewage system and water supply. The pool will be six to eighteen inches deep, and is intended for the tiny children who cannot venture in the river.

Other activities discussed at last night's meeting, but not yet passed upon by the Executive are a May Day Festival to raise funds for the Club projects, a musical competition for the schools, and many individually-proposed schemes for the alleviation of suffering and the bettering of conditions in the city generally.

A great amount of relief work has been quietly carried on by Kiwanis Club this winter, the members confining their activities to famlies which have been passed over by other organizations.

Montreal Convention.

An effort is being made to put Peterborough on the map of Canada as having sent the largest delegation to the Annual Convention of Kiwanis International at Montreal in June. Already there are thirty-seven listed to represent the Peterborough club, and this is very close to the largest promised delegation. John I. Allen is chairman of the On-to-Montreal Committee.

In Ecuador there is grown a fruit, the cherimoya, which tastes like ice cream.

In Peterborough Churches

GILMOUR MEMORIAL CHURCH

The Gilmour Memorial Church pulpit was occupied on Sunday morning by a lady, Miss Craig, a missionary on furlough from India, where she is one of the members of the Canadian Baptist Mission at Cocanada. Miss Craig who was attired in Indian costume, gave an address on work among Hindus and Mohammedans.

India had two traditional connections with New Testament history, said Miss Craig. An old story related that one of the Wise Men from the East, Visiva Mitra by name came from India to worship the Infant Messiah; returned home, and later again visited Palestine. According to the legend, this was the man whom the disciples found casting out devils, and whom they rebuked, as recorded in Luke 9, 49, because he was not one of the recognized disciples; and Christ said, "Forbid him not; for he that is not against us, is for us."

This story goes on to relate that Visiva Mitra went back to India to preach the Gospel and made converts, who formed the secret mission which still exists in India. The fact of this body of unknown Christians has only become known to missionaries in recent years. They are known as the Secret Sanyasi Mission, and are divided into two classes,—Heralds, who are the preachers and Companions, who are the rank and file of the mission. They meet in homes that are similar to Hindu temples in appearance.

This body has over 20,000 adherents, has been compelled to enshoud itself in secrecy for centuries on account of persecutions, and is now coming more into the light under the free atmosphere of British protection.

The second point of contact between New Testament and Indian history was the story which stated that St. Thomas, one of the twelve, journeyed to India, where he founded the ancient Syrian Church, numbering over 500,000 members. This body was also little known to the outside world, but one of the bishops of the Syrian Church in India came to Canada years ago and studied in Toronto at McMaster University, where he took the degree of Master of Arts. Miss Craig told of conferences under the auspices of the Syrian Church, where 32,000 people were gathered under a large booth. This church, said Miss Craig, no longer kept aloof from the rest of the people. It realized it had a message to give to them.

The Protestant missions generally had three lines of endeavor; evangelistic, medical and educationol. This division did not mean that medical and educational effort were entirely separated from evangelism, which permeated every kind of effort. There was no difference in the methods adopted by the missionaries of different nationalities. Much of the time of the white missionary was spent among people who had already become Christians, and a great deal of work among the unsaved had to be done by native evangelists. Some of these native preachers were not very well educated, and others had no very big ideas of sacrifice and service, but the Light was shining in the darkness of heathenism.

Miss Craig gave a short review of the work done among the women. Only one per cent. of the women of India could read, she said, and the Bible women who distributed Gospel books also taught the women to read.

Statistics, said Miss Craig, do not tell the whole story of missionary work. There are many people in India who are Christians who are not on any church roll and who have never been baptized."

It was impossible to realize what Christianity meant to the people of India especially to those outcast peoples who number one-fifth of the population of the country. The higher castes, the Brahmins, educated their boys, and many of them had ceased to believe in idols and the old superstitions. The outcasts, however, were huddled in little hamlets, with no idea of sanitation, in deplorable ignorance, knowing nothing even of the higher philosophy of Hinduism and still clinging to worship of devils and sacrifices of a revolting nature. These people more readily than other sections received the Gospel. Often the missionary was perplexed by mass movements of conversions and requests for baptism from many who were still very feebly grounded in the Christian faith and were especially liable to relapse.

Many prominent Indians were becoming Christians. Probably the most prominent was Sadhu Sundar Singh, a man of wonderful personality, who was converted in a remarkable manner. India, concluded Miss Craig, was coming to see that Christ was her greatest need.

SPRING? YEP!

Spring, the season of the year that brings new life to nature and fresh pep to a snow-weary multitude, is now with us. During the last few days people have been carefully picking their steps through a mix up of water, ice and slush, and when a fellow takes a notion to go up town he is torn between two thoughts—shall he wear his rubbers for the slushy side streets or step out with his new shoes gaily polished for the clean sidewalks on the main street?

The stores are packed with new styles for the benefit of the flappers who, like the poor, are always with us, and already results of the persuasive eloquence of energetic salespeople are in evidence on George street between Charlotte and Brock streets. Any afternoon on the city's substitute for the famous board walk at Atlantic City may be seen a miniature Broadway. Bright glaring colors, snappy styles and almost natural make-ups greet the admiring eye at every step.

At home the busy housewife is already figuring out her campaign for the annual spring cleaning. She knows exactly how many carpets have to be beaten, the number of walls that have to be swept, and she talks firmly to poor hubby regarding the cellar which he has let get untidy during his winter campaign when he kept a furnace going despite the numerous assaults by King Winter and his allies, the coal miners and the coal dealers.

While wifie is talking housecleaning, hubby when he gets time to think is trying to solve the problem of getting the car ready for the road. The first go-off is the license plates, then just as he figures out where that money will come from, some kind and affectionate insurance agent calls up and reminds him that his insurance has just run out and tells him confidentially that he can beat any rate in the town. The motor probably needs overhauling, that tire looks as if it won't stand up much longer and one by one his troubles keep mounting.

Is it any wonder then when a man, after a week of eating in restaurants (in a vain attempt to escape the spring cleaning), figuring out the bills that have arrived as a result of the heavy purchases of the fair sex, the numerous problems in connection with the car, that when he hears of the poets writing about the "babbling brooks" and "spring, spring, glorious spring" that he feels like . . . . well, like all men feel in spring?

"Let the Clark Kitchens help you"

CLARK'S PORK and BEANS

Perfectly cooked beans with "Canada Approved" Pork and flavory sauce. Clark's Pork and Beans are the perfect type of this truly Canadian dish. The net weight of contents is on the label.

W. CLARK LIMITED, MONTREAL
ST. HENRI, P.Q. and HARROW, ONT.

Packers: Clark's Soups etc.

9.16

Advertise in The Examiner

CAVAN NEWS

CAVAN, March 23.—The March meeting of the Cavan Women's Institue was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Tinney on Thursday afternoon, with thirty-five ladies present.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. F. M. Staples, and opened by singing a verse and the chorus of "O Canada," with Mrs. Ray Syer presiding at the piano. This was followed by the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison.

During the business session, it was arranged to have a summer delegate in May, at an afternoon meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. D. J. Hunter.

There was a short discussion as to the advisability of turning the Institute into a community culb for the winter months of next year: this plan is to be further discussed before next fall.

Letters were read from persons in acknowledgment of fruit and flowers which had been sent during illness.

A short programme followed, consisting of community singing and an excellent article on "Manners in the Home," read by Mrs. A. Kennedy.

The hostesses for the day, Mrs. Swain, Mrs. Howson, Mrs. H. Seeney and Miss Touchbourn then assisted Mrs. Tinney in serving lunch and a social time was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. M. Staples, on the third Thursday in April.

This will be the annual election of officers, and the hostesses for the day will be Mrs. C. Carr, Mrs. J. Armstrong, Mrs. L. Sutton and Mrs. A. Elliott.

A number of books was taken out of the circulating library by the members. This library is kept at the home of Mrs. Tinney. It contains a fine assortment of excellent literature. It is supposed to be kept for six months and then returned to the department.

Among those present were: Mrs. H. Seeney, Mrs. R. Howden, Miss Touchbourn, Miss Shaffer, Miss Vera Morton, Miss Elinor Pritchard, Miss Mildred Byers, Miss Frances Hunter, Mrs. Sisson, Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. A. Kennedy, Mrs. S. Richards, Mrs. A. Elliott, Mrs. D. J. Hunter, Mrs. Howson, Mrs. Ray Syer, Mrs. M. G. Matchett, Mrs. David Hunter, Mrs. Milligan, Miss Kelly, Mrs. Lilian Syer, Mrs. E. Syer, Mrs. J. Armstrong, Miss N. Sutton, Mrs. C. Carr, Mrs. Lloyd Sutton, Mrs. M. Sutton, Mrs. L. McNeil, Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Rowen, Mrs. White, Mrs. J. W. Perrin, Mrs. H. Tinney and Mrs. F. M. Staples.

SANTAL MIDY

CATARRH of BLADDER

Pain Easily Relieved by Santal Midy

Refuse any Imitation. Look for the word "MIDY"

Sold by All Druggists

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM NELSON

NORWOOD, March 24 — The funeral of the late Wm. Nelson took place from the family residence, Hastings Road, on Monday afternoon. The deceased who was 70 years of age had not been well for quite a while but was confined to his bed for only a few days. Besides his wife and a family of five daughters and one son, namely Mrs. Wm. Campbell and Miss Rose Nelson of Norwood, Misses Maggie and Lizzie of Toronto, Miss Sara of Winnipeg, Mrs. Lavick of Gooderham and Mr. Fred Nelson of Winnipeg, he leaves his aged father, Mr. Thomas Nelson of Keene. The funeral service was conduucted at the house and at the grave by Rev. F. Stillman and Rev. T. M. Wesley, pastor and assistant pastor of the United Church. Interment was made in the Norwood cemetery.

DONALD ROGER MILLAR.

The death took place on Tuesday, March 16, of Donald Roger Millar, aged 8 years 9 months 16 days, only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Millar, Jr.

He was a bright lovable little fellow, always cheery and smiling through his long illness, and was a lover of flowers and music.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Thursday afternoon from the family residence at 2.30 to the Lakefield Cemetery Rev. Kemp conducting the services. The little white casket, covered with flowers, was carried out by four boys whom the little one dearly loved, Gordon Porter, Frank Madill, Harry Stabler and Sam Spence.

To mourn his loss are his heartbroken parents and infant sister, Jean.

MRS. JAMES MATCHETT.

The death occurred yesterday of Mrs. James Matchett, relict of the late James Matchett. She is survived by a sister and two brothers living in Ireland. Two nieces, Mrs. O. Stewart of Otonabee and Mrs. Richmond Morrison of South Monaghan, are the only relatives in Canada.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 1.30 from the residence of Richmond Morrison, lot 14, concesion 3, South Monaghan to Little Lake cemetery.

FRACTURES ARM.

Campbellford Lady Slips and Falls on the Icy Pavement.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24.—While returning from church on Sunday evening, Mrs. R. C. Weston slipped and fell on the icy sidewalk near her home on Rear street, and injured her left arm. When a doctor was called he found that the arm had been fractured. The injured lady is now resting quietly.

PROPERTY EXCHANGED.

Campbellford Man Trades Home For Farm Near Town.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24. — Victor Hay has exchanged his residence on Rear street for the farm of George Grills, about one mile south of the town, and will take possession in a short time. Mr. Grills will hold an auction sale of his stock and implements on April 1st, and will become a resident of Campbellford.

Mr. Hay, who has conducted a milk business here for some years, will continue it, keeping his own herd of cows on his farm.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Josephine Weller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Weller, of Washington, D.C., whose engagement to wed Mr. George Taylor Fulford, of Brockville, Ont., is announced. Mr. Fulford, who is a son of the late Senator George T. Fulford, is at present a student in the school of business administration at Harvard.

A Few Doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup May Stop That Cough

Mr. Frank D. Comeau, West Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I had a very bad cold and cough that settled on my lungs, and I thought that I would never get rid of it.

One day a friend spoke to me about your wonderful remedy, so I sent and got a bottle of it, and after the first dose I took I got relief, and by the time I had finished the bottle I was completely relieved of all my trouble."

"Dr. Wood's" is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To Examiner Boy Friends In The Country

Come on, you district boys, get in on this competition You have read about the Peterborough senior team, even if you have never seen the players in action. Write just 200 words about the player you admire most, win the prize, pack your grip, and come to the city to be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given the champion senior O.H.A. team.

Watch for your favorite's picture. Clip it out and send it with your essay.

If you miss it, tell us and we will try to find one for you.

But, anyhow, get your story in.

There's a coupon on the Sport Page.

The Evening Examiner

PHONES—Editorial 1601. Business Office, 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening, by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office, 611 George street. $6.00 per year, delivered in city; out-of-town subscribers by mail, $4.00 a year.

The Weekly Examiner, published every Thursday. Subscription price $1.50 a year.

J. S. REPRESENTATIVES

Special U. S. Representatives—W. H. Stockwell, 639 People's Gas Building, Chicago Ill.

New York—Chas. F. Miller, 225 Fifth Avenue.

Advertising Rates on application.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1926.

EXCLUSIVE FRANCHISES.

It is stated that at present no legislation exists by which municipal councils can grant an exclusive franchise of their city streets to motor transportation companies.

The control of motor buses on the Provincial highways rests with the Ontario Government, which can grant such franchises over any section of the Provincial roads it sees fit, but so far as urban streets are concerned there is no provision made for municipal councils to grant an exclusive franchise.

If this be the case it would seem highly desirable that a bill giving municipalities such power should be passed, inasmuch as it is apparent that conditions might quite easily arise in a number of cities—including Peterboro—which would make it desirable to grant an exclusive franchise to a bus company to secure the desired service.

It is a problem of today that cannot be dealt with under old legislation, and must be handled by new methods.

USELESS QUESTIONS.

The statement of Hon. Ernest Lapointe that it would take three and a half years to complete the return and that the wages involved would amount to over $21,000, if an answer were to be given to a request made by G. B. Nicholson, M.P., throws some light upon a favourite pastime of many members of Parliament—of whatever party happens to be in opposition.

They take a delight in bombarding the Government with demands for information, often requiring the most exacting research on the part of the officials of the particular department concerned.

Undoubtedly some of these queries serve a bona fide public purpose in bringing out details to which the people of this country are entitled, but it is to be feared that far too many are made merely in the hope of embarrassing the Government.

Why, for instance, should Sir Henry Thornton's work be hampered by demands for information as to the salaries paid to some of his officials?

Why should there be an attempt to drag these details out into the daylight for the benefit of the National Railways' competitor?

The C. P. R. does not have to publish the salaries of its officials; why should anybody want the Canadian National to throw all its cards on the table when the only one who would gain by such information would be the privately-owned line?

THE CURLING SEASON.

The annual meeting of the Peterboro Curling Club serves to call attention to the fact that this organization serves a very useful purpose as a provider of recreation for many local citizens each season.

While no major honours were won by Peterboro curlers during the season that is closing, yet the campaign has been full of interest for every member of the organization, and the success of the annual bonspiel will be remembered as the red letter event of the winter.

All of curling is not comprised by the game itself, fascinating as that may be.

There is a social side to the sport that is not to be despised.

Many warm and lasting friendships have arisen out of the contact of men engaged in a game in which they are mutually interested, and this perhaps is more often true of curling than of any other form of recreation.

The mingling of several hundred citizens over three or four months each year is something that can scarcely fail to develop a spirit of brotherhood that is reflected in circles far removed from the curling rink.

And so in congratulating the curlers on a successful season, the Examiner feels that its good wishes are being tendered to an organization that is of real community value.

WORK FOR THE CITIZENS.

Ald. Fife's attempt to interest his fellow-Aldermen in a bylaw requiring householders to keep the pavement in front of their property clear of ice and snow deserved a better fate.

It at least should serve to call attention to the fact that many citizens who, with the exercise of a little muscular energy, could bring about a marked improvement in conditions under foot are letting nature take its course.

At present there is a bylaw compelling walks in certain sections of the city to be kept clean, but for the remainder of the streets there are no regulations, and the pavements are in a condition that almost invites canoeing.

Some citizens declare that the removal of the winter's accumulation of ice and snow merely turns the pavements into canals, but if the cleaning operations included the digging of a drain at the edge of the pavement most of the water would be taken care of—at all events it is impossible to think that the conditions would be as bad as they are now when this work is neglected by the majority of citizens.

In Belleville citizens who do not clean their pavements find the work done for them by the city forces and the bill for the same included in their tax bill.

Some such system would seem to be badly needed here in view of the intolerable condition of most of our streets in the residential sections of Peterboro.

RURAL DEVOTION TO LEARNING.

If any minister of the gospel or wandering pedagogue should announce in Brockville or in an urban community of similar size that he would deliver a series of lectures upon "Psychology," how large a house would he attract? asks the Brockville Recorder and Times. The probability is that the proceeds would be insufficient to meet even the princely emolument of the janitor. Yet we read that in the small village of Easton's Corners the Rev. Rinaldo W. Armstrong, a minister of the United Church, has had the courage to brush the cobwebs from his elementary philosophical textbooks and to give a course of such lectures in the school-house. More remarkable is it that the lectures not one of them only but all of them, have been attended by capacity audiences.

It is all very well to explain such a circumstance by the lack of other diversion for the long winter evenings in Easton's Corners as elsewhere in rural Ontario or by the personal popularity of the lecturer. But does not the fact that a lecture upon the dry and rather abstruse subject of "The Relation of Education to Character Building" delivered in a school-house was not only attended but attended to the full limit of the available accommodation indicate that greater store is placed upon learning and knowledge in the country than in the town or city? Is it unreasonable to suppose that this devotion to learning, for which there is to be found little parallel in the youth of urban centres, has something to do with the fact that many of the nation's leaders have come from the farm and are continuing to come from the farm?

It has become the fashion among city-bred people of circumscribed outlook to assume an attitude of superiority towards the farmer, perhaps to admire him for his dogged perseverance and to value him for the produce which he brings to their tables, but in general to sneer at him and to call him a "hayseed" or by some other term of reproach. In the matter of devotion to serious things the city man might very well pattern himself after his much-despised neighbor. The average farmer is more serious-minded, better read and more inclined to exercise his mind than is his urban associate. He takes greater advantage of his opportunities, however broad or however limited they may be, and it is, therefore, not to be wondered at that the chief source of the nation's strength continues to be the farm.

THE REVIVAL OF GREECE.

Admiral Koundouriotis, who has just resigned as President of the Greek Republic, was only temporary holder of that office. He became Regent of the country after the National Assembly, elected in December, 1923, acting through the Provisional Government, compelled the abdication of King Constantine, later forcing his son and successor, King George II, to withdraw from the soil of Greece. When the Republic was proclaimed on May 1, 1924, Koundouriotis became Temporary Governor of State until a regularly elected President was chosen. His resignation, and the election of a successor on April 4, are, therefore, not likely to cause more than a ripple of interest, particularly because the real ruler of Greece is the present Premier Pangalos, who has been dictator, in fact, ever since he seized the reins of power in June last. Pangalos then announced that he would thenceforth assume entire responsibility for the government of Greece, "relying on the army and the national conscience." A soldier with little experience in politics, he, like his Italian counterpart, Mussolini, has never had any use for the national legislature, his regime, also like Mussolini's, resting on military force. It is curious, and not without significance, that the recovery of both Italy and Greece from the perils of desperate situations created by the strife of political factions more concerned about achieving office than with the national welfare should be due in both cases to materful personalities. Under Pangalos' dictatorship Greece is passing through a period of really extraordinary economic development, and is gradually attaining stability through the arts of peace.

Admiral Koundouriotis, by resigning at this time, is probably acting in conformity with the desire of Premier Pangalos. The Premier, doubtless, recognizes the advisability of having a regularly elected chief executive who can act on behalf of the state with the authority the post confers. This is all the more necessary in view of the rapid manner in which Greece is being transformed since the close of the last disastrous war with Turkey in Asia Minor. The collapse and disastrous defeat of the Greek military power at that time was generally regarded as a terrific, if not ruinous, blow at the heart of the people. But no long time was required to show that, humiliating as the experience was, it had brought many and great compensations. The forced expatriation of Greeks from Turkey increased the home population by 1,500,000, while the expatriation of Turks and other Moslefs from Greece rid the country of an essentially antagonistic section responsible for much of the border troubles. Then the League of Nations arranged a loan of nearly $90,000,000 to assist the Government in its reparation work. With its own funds, aided in that way, the Government has established refugees on close on 500,000 acres of uncultivated agricultural land, 110,000 families having settled in Greek Macedonia alone.

These incomers have proved to be willing workers and have materially enlarged the nation's productive power. But that is not all, for over 200,000 refugees have established themselves in the Salonica district, and an even larger number in Athens and the Piraeus. Athens has become a really great city and the leading Mediterranean seaport. The Greek merchant marine has revived, and with this has followed the introduction of various new industries. These economic expansions and developments, in their importance, and even more in their implications, overshadow the political and dynastic changes that have happened since the Great War, and especially since the debacle in Asia Minor. Greece, indeed, is rejoicing in the infusion of fresh blood and in the first taste of coming national prosperity. Nor is it too much to say that these are in large measure due to the compulsory stilling of political factional dissension and its relegation to the background of the national life. Pangalos may be a professional soldier and his motives may have behind them something of personal and military ambition. But so far he has not disclosed any of the truculent aggressiveness that has marred the economic successes of Mussolini. Premier Pangalos, if he can rise to the height of a truly unselfish patriotism, has a splendid opportunity to go down the corridors of time as responsible for the revival of the glory that was Greece.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The combination of small boys and marbles has appeared. Now it is certain that spring is here.

The boy who used to say "skidoo" has a son who comes back with "So's your old man."

That Ottawa debate started by Mr. Woodsworth, Labour member, is a splendid example of how easy it is for the Canadian Parliament to waste a day.

Two local musical organizations that deserve well of the public are the Symphony Orchestra and the Male Voice Choir. Their concerts should receive liberal patronage.

A modern fable: Once a member of the Ontario Legislature gave an hour's speech and never mentioned the Ontario Temperance Act.

— RADIO — PROGRAMS

BEST PICK.

WBBM (226) Chicago, Ill. 4—Vocal and instrumental. 8—Variety. 12—Orchestra and soloists.

WTAM (389.4) Cleveland, O. 6—Orchestra. 8—Cleveland program. 11—Orchestra.

WWJ (352.7) Detroit, Mich. 6—Concert. 8—Orchestra and soloists. 9—Dance tunes.

KOA (322.4) Denver, Colo. 6:30—Concert. 8—Instrumental. 8:15—Novelty. 10—Orchestra.

KNX (337) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Feature. 8—Variety. 9—rchestra. 10—Variety.

WDAF (365.6) Kansas City, Mo. 8—Popular. 9—Classical. 11:45—Frolic.

EASTERN TIME

WEAF (492) New York City. 4—Ray Nichols and orchestra. 4:30—Lulu Phillips, soprano. 4:45—Story Hour of the New York Public Library. 5—Vincent Lopez and orchestra. 6—Dinner music. 7—Synagogue services. 7:30—Chamber Musicale. 8—Two-in-One Man and the Shinola Boys." To WEEI (476), WTAG (268), WCAE (461.3), WWJ (352.7), WJAR (305.9), WOO (508.2), WOC (484), KSD (545.1), WCCO (416.4), WCAP (469), WSAI (325.9). 8:30—Davis Saxophone Octette. To WOO (508.2), WCAE (461.3), WCAP (469), WJAR (305.9), WGR (319), WTAG (268), WEEI (476), WSAI (325.9). 9—Ipana Troubadours." To WEEI (476), WCAP (469), WWJ (352.7), WCCO (416.4), WGR (319), KSD (545.1). 10—A Trial by Jury"—Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta. 11—Hughie Barrett and orchestra.

WRC (469) Washington, D. C. 5—Organ.

WMCA (341) Cazenovia, N. Y. 6—Orchestra. 8:30—Musical varieties. 10:30—Orchestra.

WREO (285.5) Lansing, Mich. 6—Concert.

WCX (516.9) Detroit, Mich. 6—Ensemble. 8—Studio.

WIP (508.2) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:05—Orchestra.

WBZ (333.1) Springfield, Mass. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:30—Studio. 9—Concert.

WCAE (461.3) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 9—Variety.

KDKA (309) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 9—Concert.

WTIC (348.6) Hartofrd, Conn. 6:30—Trio. 8—Vocal. 9:15—Piano. 9:30—Organ.

WGBS (316) New York City. 6:30—Orchestra.

WADC (258) Akron, O. 6:30—Concert.

WCAU (278) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:45—Variety. 9—Instrumental and vocal. 11—Orchestra.

WCAP (469) Washington, D. C. 7—Variety.

WJR (517) Detroit, Mich. 7—Orchestra and soloists. 11—Organ. 12—Jesters.

WGY (379.5) Schenectady, N. Y. 7—Orchestra. 8:05—Musicale.

WAHG (316) Richmond Hill, N. Y. 7:30—Vocal and instrumental. 10:30—Orchestra.

WNYC (526) New York City. 7:35—Vocal and instrumental. 9:15—Varieties.

WRNY (258.5) New York City. 7:45—Vocal. 8:30—Organ. 9:30—Instrumental and vocal.

CFCA (356) Toronto. 8—Band. 11—Orchestra.

WJZ (455) New York City. 8:30—Concert. 10:45—Orchestra.

WLIT (394.5) Philadelphia, Pa. 9—Band. 10—Orchestra.

WOO (508.2) Philadelphia, Pa. 9:10—Organ. 10—Theater program. 10:30—Orchestra.

CENTRAL TIME.

WHAS (399.8) Louisville, Ky. 4—Concert. 7:30—Concert.

WSB (428.3) Atlanta, Ga. 5—Vocal. 10:45—Orchestra and soloists.

KFAB (340.7) Lincoln, Neb. 5:30—Concert. 8:30—Vocal and instrumental.

WHO (526) Des Moines, Ia. 6—Orchestra. 7:15—Variety. 8:15—Vocal. 9—Dance tunes.

WKRC (423) Cincinnati, Ohio. 6—Orchestra. 9—Concert. 9:40—Dance tunes.

WMAQ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 6—Organ. 6:30—Orchestra. 8:55—Players.

KYW (536) Chicago, Ill. 6—Variety. 0—Musical.

WBAP (475.9) Fort Worth, Tex. 6—Orchestra.

WGN (302.8) Chicago, Ill. 6:30—Musical varieties. 9—Studio. 10—Variety.

WLW (422.3) Cincinnati, O. 6:30—Instrumental. 7:40—Concert. 9—Band. 10—Variety. 11:15—Organ.

KFNF (266) Shenandoah, Ia. 7—Concert.

WMBB (250) Chicago, Ill. 7—Semi-classical. 9—Orchestra and soloists.

WQJ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 7—Concert. 10—Orchestra and soloists. 1—Ginger Hour.

WEBH (370) Chicago, Ill. 7—Orchestra and soloists. 11—Variety.

WSM (282.8) Nashville, Tenn. 7:15—Orchestra. 8—Variety. 10—Vocal.

KPRC (296.9) Houston, Tex. 7:30—Orchestra. 8:30—Vocal. 9—Band. 11—Popular.

KSD (545.1) St. Louis, Mo. 7:30—Orchestra.

WLIB (302.8) Chicago, Ill. 7:30—Variety. 11—Musical.

WOC (484) Davenport, Ia. 9—Organ. 9:30—Musical.

KTHS (374.8) Hot Springs, Ark. 9—Vocal and instrumental. 9:45—Organ. 10—Frolic.

WEMC (286) Berrien Springs, Mich. 9—Organ. 10—Vocal.

WJAZ (322.4) Chicago, Ill. 9—Popular.

WCCO (416.4) St. Paul-Minneapolis. 11:30—Organ.

MOUNTAIN TIME.

KSL (300) Salt Lake City, Utah. 7:30—Studio. 9:30—Orchestra.

PACIFIC TIME.

KGO (361.2) San Francisco, Calif. 4—Concert. 6—Concert.

KGW (481.5) Portland, Ore. 6—Concert. 8—Studio. 9—Vocal and instrumental.

KPO (428.3) San Francisco, Calif. 6:40—Orchestra. 8—Vocal. 9—Orchestral varieties.

KFI (467) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—String ensemble. 8—Vocal. 9—Variety.

KHJ (405.2) Los Angeles, Calif. 8—Studio.

Matches and postage stamps are used for small purchases in some parts of Manchuria where copper

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Florists say the outlook for spring is very rosy.

Among the things which come to those who wait is spring fever.

Successful men are too busy to think up any secrets of success.

We all know exactly what we would do if we were someone else.

Women forgive more easily than men. They get more chances to practice.

Mirrors inset in gloves are the latest novelty in London. . . . Well, as the Englishman would say, it's a bloomin' sight easier than carrying a dressing table around with ya.

Mechanic: 'Sfunny how a little jack will raise a big car.

Owner: Yeah—but it takes a lot of jack to keep one.

The clutch is always put to use when you're driving an auto—and doubly so when there's a girl with you in the front seat.

Does it pay drivers to speed? Huh, uh—it pays the judge!

She told her beau that mother dear,
Did not object to kissing.
And ever since, her mother and
Her fellow have been missing.

Tipping over the salt or buying an expensive fishing rod are signs of a fuss with your wife.

Now is the time to get your front teeth all tightened up for corn-on-the-cob season.

One advantage the boss has is when he is too lazy to work he can think he is thinking.

Most of our pipe dreams are "wonder where we can find a match?"

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

S.O.S. FROM EAST CITY.

To Editor of Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Would you be kind enough to allow me the privilege of having a few lines inserted in your valuable paper?

I would like to ask the following question: "Are the people of East City not to get the same worth out of their tax money as the people across the bridge?"

At this time of year water lies all over the streets. Men are busy digging drains in the streets on the west side of the river, but the East City residents are wading in water about the streets as if they had never paid any taxes, which is not the case. Along Dou...o street, near the corners of Mark and Rogers, the people are getting their punts ready for transportation, as it will soon be the only way they will be able to get out to go to their various duties. In fact, at the corner of Rogers and Douro the water is easily a foot in depth in places, deep enough for them already in that vicinity. Couldn't the city supply some first aid equipment and men at these corners to dig some drains? East City would like to get their worth of their share of taxes as well as the people on the west side.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, hoping that you will publish this letter in the column entitled "The Voice of the People."

Yours very truly,
EAST CITY RESIDENT.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE IMMORTAL GUEST

A poet sings of the summer showers and how God from on high washes the world and hangs it out to dry and, when the washing is all done, out comes the sun or the stars—a beautiful thought.

Now I love the blossoms, the fresh, fair flowers—love to see things brighter and know that hearts are lighter after a summer shower or where sentiment reigns, but to me, winter means so much more than summer.

In winter, I seem to see in the silent, slow-falling, soft snow, as it covers the meadows and mountains, hiding the heavens, the hills, and veiling the valleys—I seem to see a suggestion greater than the beauty of blossoms dearer to me than the songs of the summer birds—I seem to see the suggestion of the 'Mantle of Charity"—white-robed Charity that covers up my mortal mistakes.

Pleasure and happiness are a summer season; but the immortal guest—the soul—is saved for eternity by an Infinite idea—the "Mantle of Charity".

FABLES IN FACT

THEY WERE SITTING ON THE FRONT ROOM DAVENPORT DASH DASH A GIRL OF EIGHTEEN AND A FELLA OF ABOUT TWENTY SUMMERS AND WINTERS PERIOD IN LOVE QUESTION MARK WELL COMMA HE WAS COMMA AT LEAST PERIOD EVENTUALLY HE SLIPPED HIS ARM AROUND THE GIRL'S WAIST COMMA AND THEN WAITED TO SEE WHAT EFFECT IT WAS GOING TO HAVE ON HER PERIOD YOU CAN IMAGINE HIS SURPRISE WHEN SHE CALMLY REMARKED COMMA QUOTATION MARK SCRATCH MY BACK BEFORE YOU REMOVE YOUR ARM COMMA WILL YA QUESTION MARK QUOTATION MARK

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service.)

The joy late coming, late de-

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Peterboro—Toronto—Montreal Winnipeg

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, March 23.—Trading this morning was inactive early, but a better movement started around 10 o'clock and with only 1,200 cattle on the market, the supply will be about sold out. Young steers for the local trade sold at $7.75 and $8 for choice handyweight steers and heifers were $7.50 a cwt. The market on butchers' cattle was fully steady and a string of 24 just good handyweights went at $7 a cwt. Butchers' cows were wanted at steady prices and all the good cows made $5.50 up. One butcher's bull sold at $5.50 a cwt. Two fresh loads of western stockers were weighed up at $4.75 a cwt. Good to choice butchers' cattle were 10 to 15 cents higher today.

Joe Abrams bought 400 ca'tes today for Buffalo and this put life in the market which carried medium calves up to 50 cents a cwt. One bunch of these sold at 11¾ cents a pound. Choice calves were 13 to 13½ cents.

Lambs were firm and decks of good lambs went at 14 cents a lb. One choice sheep brought $8.50 a cwt. A small number of spring lambs sold at $13 to $15 each.

There were nearly 2000 hogs in today. Monday's price was $12.50 a cwt. f.o.b. and this will be paid today. Sellers are trying to raise the market 25 cents a cwt.

Current Quotations.

Choice heavy steers	$8.00	$8.25
Fair to good steers	7.25	7.75
Baby beeves	8.00	9.50
Choice handyweight butchers' cattle	7.35	7.50
Good handyweight butchers	6.75	7.00
Med. handy butchers	6.25	6.50
Com. handy butchers	5.50	6.00
Good to choice 950 to 1,000-lb. feeders	6.25	6.75
Fair to good light feeders	5.00	5.50
Choice butchers' cows	5.75	6.50
Fair to good cows	4.50	5.50
Common butchers' cows	3.50	4.25
Canners	2.25	3.25
Export bulls	5.00	5.75
Bologna bulls	3.75	4.50
Springers, choice	70.00	100.00
Springers, common	40.00	50.00
Lambs, choice	14.00
Heavy sheep and bucks	5.00	6.00
Sheep, choice	8.00	9.00
Calves, good	12.50	13.50
Do., medium	9.00	10.50
Do., common	7.00	8.50
Do., grassers	5.00	5.50
Hogs, f.o.b.	12.50	....
do. fed and watered	13.10	....
do. off cars	13.50	....

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

MINNEAPOLIS March 23 (Canadian Press).—Flour 20 to 25 cents lower, at $8.90 to $9.05 a barrel. Shipments 33,280 barrels.

Wheat, No. 1 Northern $1.54 3-4 to $1.55 3-4; May $1.50 3-4; July $1.45 1-2.

Oats, No. 3 white, 35 3-8 to 35 5-8.

EGG PRICES

OTTAWA, March 23 (Canadian Press). No change in the condition of egg markets throughout Canada is reported today.

Toronto—Prices to retailers, extras 38-39, firsts 34-35, seconds 29-30.

Montreal.—The market is active. Prices to retailers, extras 39-40, firsts 34-36, seconds 31-33.

Winnipeg—Prices to retailers, extras 35-37, firsts 30, seconds 25.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL March 23 (Canadian Press).—The export trade in Canadian grain on the Montreal market today was again extremely dull and sales were confined to odd lots for nearby shipment. The car lots business in cash grain was also quiet, the demand being of a very limited character. Prices were well maintained for all grades of oats.

A feature of the egg trade was the stronger advices that came forward from the leading American centres and prices in the Chicago market have advanced 1c per dozen within the past few days. There was no change in local jobbing prices announced yesterday, but the undertone to the market was very firm with a steady increasing demand and quite a large volume of business was done. The receipts were 3,991 cases, as against 829 for the same day last week, and 2,372 for the corresponding day a year ago.

The receipts of butter were 551 packages, as against 442 for the corresponding day last year. Late Monday afternoon it was reported that a sale of Australian No. 1 pasteurized creamery butter was made as low as 44 3-4c per lb, but as the offerings from first hands today dried up to some extent a firmer feeling developed in the market and prices recovered 1-4c to 1-2c per lb., but as the demand was somewhat quieter the volume of business was small, with sellers firm at 45c to 45 1-2c per lb. Of the total receipts there were 511 packages of Australian butter.

The receipts of cheese were 48 boxes, as compared with 1,097 for the same day last week, and 5,836 for the corresponding day a year ago. A round lot of Western September made white cheese was offered at 22 3-4c per lb, and November made goods were quoted at 18 1-2c to 19c per lb while sales of small lots of Western fancy white and colored were made at 25c per lb. English mail advices just to hand report the demand for cheese as being very disappointing and that the markets generally were weaker.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 23 (Canadian Press).—Spirited buying developed in the wheat market today and gave a sharp upturn to values, despite the fact that earlier the September delivery had dropped to the lowest price yet this season. The world available supply showed a decrease of 4,780 000 bushels, and there were indications of export business in United States wheat by way of the Gulf of Mexico.

Wheat closed strong, 1 to 2 3-8 net higher, May (new) $1.57 to $1.57 1-8 and July $1.36 to $1.36 1-8; corn at 3-8 to 3-4c advance; oats unchanged to 1-4c up, and provisions unchanged to 1c down.

It was estimated that 500,000 bushels of North American wheat and 500,000 bushels of rye were taken today for shipment to Europe. In addition to the stimulus from this circumstance was the fact that the Liverpool market today was firmer than was expected and that the majority of traders here were disposed to look for a rally on account of recent severe declines. For a while, however, the upward trend of the wheat market here was impeded by weakness of corn values, and by reports that 1,000,000 bushels of wheat had been ordered from interior elevators to Minneapolis and Duluth.

A Friend's Advice Made a New Man

Brooklyn, Mr. E. A. Schumacher writes:—"For years I was suffering from indigestion and constipation. One day a friend of mine advised me to try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They have made a new man of me. I certainly can recommend them to anyone suffering in the same manner."

Carter's Little Liver Pills are a purely vegetable laxative. They do not contain calomel or mercury, mineral salts or any injurious habit forming drugs. They are perfectly safe for every member of the family. Druggists, 25 and 75c red pkgs

NR TO-NIGHT Tomorrow Alright

NR a mild, vegetable laxative to relieve Constipation and Biliousness and keep the digestive and eliminative functions normal.

Get a 75c. Box

Chips off the Old Block

NR JUNIORS—Little NRs

One-third the regular dose. Made of same ingredients, then candy coated.

For children and adults.

SOLD BY YOUR DRUGGIST

COMING!

ALBERTA COAL

We have a quantity on the way and will book orders now for delivery as soon as it arrives.

COKE SOLVAY AND OTO-Nut, stove, range, per ton $16

WOOD Best hard and mixed, cut and split to order at lowest current prices.

Peterboro Fuel and Transfer Co.

KELLY BROS.

Phone 270 & 362 - 134 Aylmer St.

Fellowship of Prayer

WEDNESDAY.

The Unfettered Spirit.

Read Jn. 16:7-11. Text: 16:7. If I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you.

Meditation—The Presence of the Spirit of God was promised to them in the upper room. What more could they have? The Word had become flesh and dwelt among them. Slowly behind the veil of flesh they began to see dimly the Son of the Living God. They heard Jesus' voice and saw his deeds but at first could not understand what he was. The Spirit was obscured and hampered in its revelation to them, because the body was so obvious. It was expedient that the body die that the unfettered spirit might have free access to all men. Beyond this little company were millions he would bring to his fold to whom his bodily presence could not come.

"The Holy Spirit is, therefore, represented as our advocate or counsel who suggests true reasoning to our minds, and true courses of action for our lives."

Prayer—Breathe on us, breath of God; not as the mighty rushing wind, lest the dimly burning flax be quenched; but with the quiet breath that shall fan to flame our smoldering faith. . . . Spirit of the Living God, Spirit of Jesus, Spirit who choosest man's mind for Thy dwelling: Make Thyself known to us now. Amen.

(Copyright, 1926—F. L. Fagley.)

RAILWAY TIME-TABLES.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Canadian National Railway Time Table corrected to date. All trains daily except Sunday.

No. 96—8.10 a.m. for Port Hope, Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, Quebec and Portland, Me.

No. 93—8.20 a.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, North Bay, Midland and Toronto.

No. 371—8.30 a.m. for Lakefield.

No. 98—8.35 a.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville and points on main line east.

No. 92—12 noon for Port Hope, Ottawa, Toronto, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, makes connections with "International Limited" for London, Detroit, Chicago and California points also with the "National" for Winnipeg and Vancouver.

No. 100—12.15 p.m. for Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling and Belleville.

No. 373—12.30 p.m. for Lakefield.

No. 95—5.25 p.m. for Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, North Bay and Toronto, also makes connections for Detroit and Florida points.

No. 99—8.19 p.m. for Lindsay.

No. 94—9.10 p.m. for Port Hope, Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, Boston, Portland, Me.; carries through sleeper for Montreal.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

(Corrected to date.)

GOING EAST—

11.57 a.m.—Norwood, Havelock, Bonarlaw, Tweed, Perth, Smith's Falls, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal and intermediate points daily. On Sunday this train proceeds east only as far as Havelock.

6.20 p.m.—Indian River Norwood, and Havelock. Daily except Sunday

11.55 p.m.—Havelock Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Smith's Falls, Montreal, St. John, Boston and New York. Daily except Saturday.

1.50 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perto, Smith's Falls, Ottawa.

GOING WEST—

4.55 a.m.—Myrtle, Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago and New York Daily.

9.00 a.m.—Toronto (Yonge street), Owen Sound, Teeswater and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

7.35 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, New York Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily except Sunday.

8.15 a.m.—Bethany, Lindsay, Orillia, Port McNichol and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

3.35 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago and intermediate points between Peterboro and Toronto. Daily.

6.50 p.m.—Lindsay, Toronto and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.

EUCHRE PARTY.

Campbellford L.T.B. Lodge Holds Card Party in Rooms.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24.—The Duchess of Clarence Lodge, L. T. B., held a euchre party in the lodge rooms in the Ferris Block on Friday evening. On account of several other attractions that evening, the crowd was not large, but all present report a fine time. Progressive euchre was played, the prizes going to the following:

Ladies' prize, Miss Grace Lunions; gentlemen's prize, Crawford Ibey; prize for lone hands, Mrs. Robert Dunk and J. Barclay; consolation prizes, Mrs. Albert Mills and P. Barclay.

After the distribution of prizes the lunch committee of the lodge served refreshments.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS

GORDON & O'BRIEN—Barristers Solicitors, Notaries. Money to loan on easy terms. Special attention to Patents and Trade Marks. Phone 219. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., J. A. O'Brien.

J. R. CORKERY, BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, Notary Public. Office Ground Floor, 414 Water St., Peterborough, Five Doors North of Hunter Street. Money to loan at current rates on easy terms.

S. T. MEDD—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary. Office over the Dominion Bank, corner of George and Simcoe streets. Telephone No. 22. Private funds to loan at current rates upon easy terms.

DUMBLE & JOHNSTON—Barristers, Solicitors, etc. Office, over the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, George Street. D. W. Dumble, K.C., W. Johnson.

R. R. HALL—Barrister, Solicitor, etc. Peterboro, Ont. Office, corner of Hunter and Water streets, over the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Trust Funds to loan on easy terms of payment.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND—Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public Peterboro. 'Phone 191. Money to loan. 375 Water street.

WILFRID F. HUYCKE, Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public. 395 Water street. Telephone 239.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office, Water street, Peterboro. Money to loan at the lowest current rates of interest. Telephone 1950. E. A. Peck, K.C., D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry.

MEDICAL.

DR. BUCHANAN, F.R.C.S., Edinburgh M.R.C.S., Eng., L.R.C.P., London, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist Hours 9-11 2-4 p.m., and 7-8 p.m. 'Phone 519. Office, corner Water and Murray streets.

DR. C. C. CRAGG—Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist. Office 191 Charlotte street, formerly occupied by Dr. Neal. Hours—9-11 a.m. 2-4 p.m. 7-8.30 p.m. Telephone: House 1018. Office 2185.

F. T. WEBSTER, Ontario Land Surveyor, Registered Professional Engineer, formerly with Lewis and

Virol for the business girl

Concentration and continuous routine, lack of exercise, react on the health and vigor of many women in business life. Virol supplies energy and stamina by enriching the blood and maintaining good digestion.

VIROL

Maid Burned To Death With Two Children She Tried To Rescue From Flaming Home In Alberta Town

SMITH, Alta, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Two children and a young woman were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the store of Mrs. A. Vincent here, and an investigation has failed to reveal the cause of the fire.

The victims were: Richard Vincent, 3 years old; Farral Vincent, 6; and Miss Nellie Cory, maid, 19.

Miss Cory had been caring for the children and evidently lost her life in trying to save them. Her body was found near the bed where they had been sleeping.

The building, of frame construction, quickly burned to the ground. The flames had gained such great headway when the alarm was given that it was impossible for neighbors to enter.

The mother and four children were away at the time.

2,450,143,000 FAGS ROLLED IN CANADA

Also 774,525 Pounds of Snuff Produced.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 24. — (Canadian Press.) — Quite a number of people in Canada still take their pinch of snuff. Tobacco factories in Canada in 1924, the last year of record, produced $947,693 worth of snuff, or 774,525 pounds.

A statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that in the same year 2,450,143,000 cigarettes were rolled in Canadian factories. They are valued at $26,455,986. The output of cigars was 159,875,000 or $9,739,590 worth.

The output of smoking tobaccos in that year is valued at $17,204,408 and of chewing tobacco at $5,568, 284.

The total value of the output of Canada's tobacco factories in 1924 is estimated at $59,953,502, of which $53,466,596 came from Quebec factories and $6,074,138 was Ontario factories. The balance is distributed over the rest of the provinces in very small sums.

MINING CHARTER.

Sought By Company To Work in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 24. — (Canadian Press).—License to operate in Manitoba was sought Tuesday by representatives of the Eldorado Company, a concern capitalized at $3,000,000 under an Ontario charter. It is stated that the company proposes to carry out development work in the mineral area in the northern part of the province.

Agents of the company asserted that the application for a charter had been delayed over the question of an incorporation fee. It was intimated that steps might be taken to procure a Dominion charter if a satisfactory compromise is not reached on the Provincial levy.

PREPARE VESSELS FOR NAVIGATION

Six ond Half Million Bushels of Grain Afloat.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., March 24.—(Canadian Press.) —According to vessel men at the head of the lakes, the opening of navigation here will depend upon the opening of the passage through Mud Lake below the Soo. With the ice-breaking equipment available, there will be no difficulty in cutting channels to the docks here whenever there is a possibility of reaching the lower lakes.

The ice-field, though extending a long way out, is not as thick as it usually is and with the present warm weather and the water from the melting snows flowing over it, it will soon be honeycombed.

It is not believed that there will be any movement before April 15, as reports from the east are to the effect that it will be impossible to make the passage through the St. Mary's river before that date.

Six and a half million bushels of grain are afloat here and this fleet will probably all clear at the earliest opportunity. The cargoes represent a value of approximately $8,000,000. Already some of the marine engineers have arrived here to go over their machinery.

EVIDENCE OF SUICIDE.

In Trial of Hull Woman For Murder.

HULL, Que., March 24 (Canadian Press).—At the trial of Mrs. Dora Navion Paquette, who stands charged with the murder of her common law husband, William Martel, the eleven-year-old daughter of the accused testified yesterday that she had seen her father, Martel, following a quarrel with her mother, sit on the edge of his bed and drink poison from a bottle.

Miss Rose Galarneau, of Ottawa, formerly a neighbor of Martel in Hull, swore that before his death Martel had told her father that he was suffering intensely, was tired of living and would find a way to "finish it."

DRIVER OF CAR FINED $60 FOR DEATH OF COLT

Judge Swaze, of Lindsay, Hands Down Decision in Traffic Case.

DRIVER NEGLIGENT.

Colt Was Unreined Following Driver's Buggy—Other on Halter.

LINDSAY, March 24. — His Honor Judge Swayze yesterday handed down judgment in a Division Court action which has aroused considerable interest throughout the district. The judgment will be of particular interest to farmers who have occasion to lead horses or drive cattle on the highway.

This was an action brought by Irwin Thurston of Dunsford, against Beatty and Stroud of Lindsay to recover the sum of $100 damages sustained by the plaintiff in the loss of a colt run over by the defendants automobile in the township of Verulam, the colt having to be destroyed by a veterinary. The car was driven by a nephew of Beatty who had no license for driving.

Thurston and a hired boy were driving in a buggy, the latter leading a colt behind the buggy by a halter. Another colt a year and a half old, was following loose behind the buggy. When Thurston reached the top of a hill Beatty's nephew came up the hill in a car at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The colt was walking quietly behind, but when the car approached it became frightened and turned in front of the car, which struck its right front leg.

The defence claimed the colt was at large on the highway, and that the accident was occasioned by the plaintiff's want of care.

In giving judgment, Judge Swayze explained the meaning of the term runing at large, as applied to cattle, etc., on the highway. This term is used in the statute in the sense of strolling without restraint, wandering, roving or rambling at will, unrestrained. Restraint, he pointed out, need not be physical, it may depend upon the training, habits and instincts of an animal. The colt had been led from its pasture beyond Bobcaygeon with the other colt. It followed the other colt unhaltered up to the point where the accident occurred and passed several autos on the way. The colts had been pasturing together and apparently attached to one another, as animals so running together are likely to be and Judge Swayze held that the plaintiff had a right to expect the injured colt to follow the other; in fact it had done so and as it would not lead he was justified in letting it follow.

Judgment was given for the plaintiff for $60.00 and costs.

67,000,000 INCREASE

(Continued from page one.)

We never have been a beer drinking country and of late years our habits have changed a great deal. The young people of today are not in the habit of sitting around drinking anything. Instead they are engaged in sports. We hear a good deal about going to Hull, but most of our young people at Ottawa do not go to Hull although there may be some come down from Toronto who do. We provide hockey players for the rest of the country and keep enough to win championships. Then skiing has become a great sport and can turn out 15,000 people on skiis in Ottawa.

"If the treasurer is tempted to turn to government sale of liquor as a source of revenue he will do well not to count upon too much for some years. It will be necessary to create a new appetite among the people first."

Mr. Fisher said that last year the Liberals had opposed the tax on "pop" and had forecast the results which had come and which caused the government this year to cancel such a tax. All it had done, he continued, was to injure small businesses.

Helped by Providence

The Liberal critic said that it had pleased Province to assist the Provincial treasurer this year by removing more rich men than usual so that the concession duty taxes went uup to $1,600.000. Mr. Fisher urged the Ontario Government to get into conference with the Quebec government and get a uniform system of concession duties. He said that the attempt of the Ferguson goverment to start wiping out the debt when it could not pay its way for one year was one of the funniest acts ever put on in any Parliament.

"Here we have a goverment that cannot pay its way for the present proposing to pay the debt in the future. It is the same old story. If you lend me another $5 now I will pay you back next month in full. The government cannot help itself but it will give pledgnes for its children and grandchildren."

He pointed out that the committee appointed to deal with the retirement of the debt had informed the treasurer that he could not hope to retire any of the debt until he was living within his income in ordinary affairs.

"The scheme proposed presupposes the balancing of the budget in 1926, therefore the scheme of the provincial treasurer is not based on facts or even promises because he states that there will be a deficit this year. Practically none of our debt has ever been retired. When part of it is due we borrow more money to pay it. It is time we were making a distinction between future and eternity in the payment of our debt."

You don't have to cook SHREDDED WHEAT

Saves coal, saves time, saves health

OTTAWA PROVIDED FIRST SNOW STORM FOR VISCOUNT ALLENBY

Spring Sunshine Had Accompanied Him in Tour Across Canada.

GUEST OF BYNG.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Viscount and Lady Allenby spent a busy first day in the Capital. Arriving early Tuesday morning from Toronto, they remained in their private car until ten o'clock and then were escorted to Government House, where they are the guests of Baron and Lady Byng.

The two distinguished soldiers have much in common. Baron Byng of Vimy once occupied the post of high commissioner of Egypt, whereas Viscount Allenby fo Megiddo last summed completed his term in the same position. Lord and Lady Allenby were extended a civic reception in the City Hall at noon, the visitors arriving in a heavy snowfall, which the Field Marshall remarked was the first snowstorm he had seen since he came to Canada. Springlike weather, he said, had accompanied him across Canada. The council chamber was crowded when Mayor Balharrie read an address of welcome.

Following the civic reception Viscount Allenby addressed a great audience gathered at a luncheon of the Canadian Club, where he was the guest of honor and most of Canada's leading parliamentarians were present. Lady Allenby addressed the Women's Canadian Club at the same hour. Both the visitors were given whole-hearted welcomes. Tonight an official dinner was given at Government House in their honor at which many of the leaders in social and political life were guests.

Surprised at Weather

Replying to the mayor's address of welcome, he said: "When we reached this country a few weeks ago we expected to see everyone on snowshoes or emerging from their underground channels in the ice. We were astounded to find summer in Vancouver and all through the West until we reached the edge of Lake Superior. Now here we find that you are just finishing winter. I remarked to Lady Allenby that English people should come here to dodge the severity of the winters at home. But the sunshine of your country is reflected in the heart of your people. Never have we received a warmer or more whole-hearted greeting than we have experienced since our arrival in Canada. Such a reception makes it inevitable that we return in the near future."

An optimistic outlook for Egypt and its relations with Great Britain was given by Viscount Allenby, in an address following a luncheon by the Canadian Club. The victorious commander of the Palestine campaign was given an impressive welcome by a distinguished audience which crowded the great dining room and filled the galleries. In addition to having present two of the Empire's noted soldiers, "Allenby of Megiddo" and "Byng of Vimy," those at the head of the table included Premier Mackenzie King, most of the Cabinet Ministers Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives, and numbers of other members of Parliament, and Senators.

The prestige of Great Britain in Egypt, Lord Allenby said, was never greater than it is today. There is a real feeling of recognition on the part of the majority of the Egyptians for what Britain has done for their country. Britain did not go into Egypt for her own self interest, and had kept her word with the people there. She had rescued them from pauperism and slavery and brought them unparalleled prosperity.

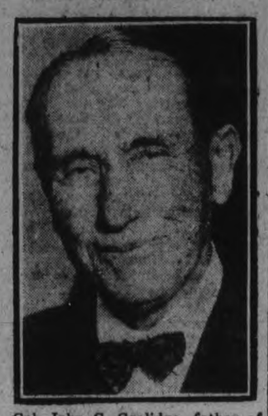
"I doubt if there is another country in the world as rich as Egypt," he remarked. "This change in conditions had brought real gratitude. It was not shouted from the street corners, few people would shout such feelings with a foreign army in their country, but it is there nevertheless, and the army of occupation has been the salvation of the country, and had not been irksome on any law abiding Egyptian who had the best interests of his country at heart."

Promised Autonomy.

Lord Allenby pointed out that Britain had promised autonomy when the Egyptians were prepared for it and had kept her word. She had always kept her word. The Egyptians knew this and appreciated it. When he was leaving Egypt at the end of his term as High Commissioner, there were many banquets in his honor, and among them was one by the Egyptians throughout the country. They insisted on it and every small town sent its representative, and those who were not invited sent letters of protest. There were 3 000 at the banquet and 5,000 more could not get in.

(Turn to Page 10, Please)

DIED LAST WEEK.



Col. John C. Coolidge, father of President Coolidge, who died last week while the President was making a vain effort to reach his bedside in time to say good-bye.

Cold Grip

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine tablets

Serious illness and complications often follow an ordinary Cold. Check it; use the old Reliable, Safe and Proven Remedy, "Laxative BROMO QUININE." The First and Original Cold and Grip Tablet. Proven Safe for more than a Quarter of a Century.

The box bears this signature E. W. Grove

Price 30c. Made in Canada.

Peterborough Exhibition wants you as a member!

BITUMINOUS COAL ENTRY IS ALTERED

Cargo Comes in Duty Free as Anthracite—Paid Later.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Further light was shed on transactions whereby a cargo of dutiable, bituminous coal from the Old Country entered Canada as free anthracite, thus avoiding the payment of $2,639 in duty, when the Customs Inquiry Committee got down to business this morning.

Antonio Giroux, now clerk and formerly Customs broker in Montreal, admitted that the Customs entry for this coal had been altered by inserting the word "anthracite" and omitting the word "Yorkshire," and that the changed entry had passed the Customs.

The witness also admitted that he had received from the George Hall Coal Company, importers of the coal, a cheque for the full amount of duty.

He also told counsel that the only object in altering the Customs entry would be to get the cargo of coal in free.

After the coal had been passed, Mr. Giroux said, he had come to the conclusion that the changes might be discovered. He had therefore taken steps to reimburse the Department. He had filed a new entry, and had sent the Customs Department a cheque for the amount of duty.

RADICAL GROUP REJECTS PERET'S TAXATION PLAN

Leaders of Left See Defeat of French Government In Policy.

TAX ON BUSINESS.

Further Decline in Franc May Swing Majority For Bills.

PARIS, March 24 (Canadian Press) — The radical group in the chamber opened fire on M. Peret's financial measures Tuesday, adopting a resolution rejecting the proposed increase in the tax on business turnover or an equivalent tax on production.

Opinions were divided as to whether the government had a chance of getting a majority for the finance minister's projects. Leading radicals declared that the government had committed "hari-kari" in going back to the principle of indirect taxation for more than half the sum required to balance the budget.

The decision of the radical group, they say, will add at least one hundred votes to the hundred Socialists against the government on the business turnover tax, and the government consequently will be obliged to seek its majority in the Centre and on the Right among the groups which were sharply antagonized by Premier Briand in the sensational debate last Thursday. This is regarded as impossible by many deputies. Others count on the personal popularity of M. Peret and on the delicate situation of the franc, which went down yesterday to 28.51 to the dollar, to break down party hostility and assemble a majority for the government bills.

An argument which had a strong influence on many deputies around the lobbies of the chamber was that every day's delay in putting into effect the taxes proposed, some of which have been accepted in principle, costs the treasury several million francs.

AUSTRALIA TO BUY CANADIAN PAPER

May Capture Half the Market Under Treaty.

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 24.—(Canadian Press).—Canada may expect a third or a half of the Australian newsprint order, running more than a million pounds sterling, as a result of the Australian-Canadian trade treaty, according to Keith Murdock, editor and general manager of the Melbourne Herald, who arrived in Vancouver Monday night from the Orient on the Empress of Asia, en route to London, England.

At first the treaty appeared to favor Canada. The sale of dried and canned fruits from Australia in this country, he thought, would depend upon the attitude of exporters in Australia. It might be advantageous to have a resident Australian trade commissioner in this country, or some representative of the manufacturing and export houses.

Conditions in Australia were bright, he observed.

Anyday-anytime-anywhere

The woman who values her complexion uses PEARS'. Her skin demands it.

PEARS'—a soap of clear transparency that proclaims its purity.

Generations have proved PEARS' to be matchless for the complexion.

Pears' Transparent Soap, in large tablets that last. Unscented.

Pears

At all Druggists and Departmental Stores.

605

LIVED ON FRUIT JUICE

Lady Warren Fisher, who recently concluded a fast in England lasting well over a month, during which time she lived on fruit juices and water that had been poured over onions or other vegetables. She is the wife of Sir Warren Fisher, secretary to the treasury. Photo by F. A. Swain.

FAMOUS FEET

..how they're kept free from corns..

LOUISE GROODY'S Famous Dancing Feet

"I always have Blue-jay on hand when trouble is a-foot!" writes dainty and delightful Louise Groody, now starring in the New York musical comedy success, "No! No! Nanette."

"Stage work isn't always kindly to a dancer's toes. But I never have corns. For at the least sign of an approaching callus, I put on a Blue-jay."

Blue-jay is an old standby to folks who reap fame and fortune from their feet. A soft, velvety cushion fits over the corn and relieves the pain at once. Usually one plaster ends the corn. But even an "old offender" seldom requires more than a second . . . . . At all druggists.

Blue-jay

THE SAFE AND GENTLE WAY TO END A CORN

Made in Canada

"Meet my good friend— BON AMI POWDER!"

IT'S the same soft, scratchless cleanser—in powder form, put up in a handy sifter-top can.

Like the popular Bon Ami Cake it doesn't scratch off the dirt, but blots it up quickly and harmlessly, with minimum effort.

Women find Bon Ami Powder convenient and time-saving on the bigger cleaning jobs—pots and pans of aluminium, copper, agate and tin, bathtubs and refrigerators, Congoleum and linoleum floor-coverings, and many other things.

But, of course, for windows, mirrors and painted woodwork there's nothing like the handy Bon Ami Cake.

Most housewives know that with both these "partners in cleanliness" they can most readily cover almost every cleaning and polishing need. And neither reddens nor roughens the hands.

BON AMI LIMITED, MONTREAL

Principal uses of Bon Ami for cleaning and polishing

Bathtubs, Tiling	Windows
Fine Kitchen Utensils	Mirrors
White Woodwork	Refrigerators
Aluminium Ware	White Shoes
Brass, Copper, Tin and Nickel Ware	The Hands
Glass Baking Dishes	Linoleum and Congoleum

"Hasn't Scratched Yet"

Cake and Powder most housewives use both

Wonderful Display of Charming
NEW NECKWEAR

Pretty Novel Neckwear

Here in stock we have a beautiful display of dainty and serviceable Neckwear, such as Georgette Collars and Jabots, with or without collars; Vestees with high or low collar, in crepe de chene, lace and pique; also Linen, Organdie and Wash Silk Collars in many pretty styles, in white and pastel shades for attractive spring wear. All reasonably priced, ranging from..... 50c to $3.50

Bright Colored Scarfs

Nothing is so important as a trim Scarf to top the new spring costume. We have a wonderful assortment of all the newest modes in Scarfs in both narrow and wide widths. Some plain, some with hemstitched hem, others with hand-painted stencilled designs, and even more are hand-painted, with dainty little Handkerchief to match. In colors of orchid, Venetian, moresque, bittersweet, canary, blondine and many others. From $1.25 to $5.00

Slip-On Gloves

A new vogue for spring. One may wear this style of Glove with every type of costume for spring. Soft and supple, in colors of pearl, pongee and almond, with pretty embroidered cuffs in contrasting shades. Sizes 6 to 7½. Priced to sell at..... 98c

Novelty Gloves

Among the latest arrivals are these Suede Gloves in the swagger cuff style, with novelty cuff embroidered in contrasting colors. Shades of sand and beige. Sizes 6¼ to 7. Priced at the low price of..... $2.75

Special Prices in Women's Silk Hosiery

A splendid assortment of Women's Silk Hose for spring, in various weights and a full display of light and dark shades. In stock are full fashioned, fine Silk Hose with fine mercerized lisle top and feet; also Pure Thread Silk, Fibre Silk and Art Silk. All are a good quality; some slightly damaged. All are priced at remarkably low figures. Sizes 8½ to 10.

Full Fashioned Silk Hose	$2.25	Sombrero	Rose Taupe
Pure Silk Hose	$1.50	Champagne	Sunset
Pure Thread Silk	98c	Silver Grey	Nude
Thread and Art Silk	85c	Black	Orchid.
Pure Thread Silk (substandards)	69c	Metal	Beige
Fibre Silk	49c	Sunburn	Stone
Thread and Art Silk (substandards)	33c	Peach	Rust.

THE HALL STORE

BAND QUESTION IS TALKED OVER

Parks Committee Decides to Give Rangers $800 of Grant.

WADING POOL

The city's grant of $1,000 for music will this year be divided as follows: Peterborough Rangers Band, $800; Male Voice Choir, $100; Caledonian Pipe Band, $100. This was decided at a meeting of the Parks Committee last night after considerable discussion of the entire Band situation.

The majority of the aldermen present expressed the conviction that all the grant should in future go to one organization, preferably the Rangers Band, in order that the instruments might be kept in good shape and replacements made, and a band kept up that would be a credit to the city.

Lt.-Col. Col. W. Gordon Hall, O.C. the Peterborough Rangers, was present and gave the Aldermen some information about military regulations goyerning the band. He said that part of the grant had always been set aside for maintenance and the rest paid to the men. It was suggested by some of the Aldermen that the grant be handed over in two parts, a payment for music in the parks, and a grant for repair and replacement of instruments. This distinction was not made but the money will be paid to the band committee to be used as the committee thinks best.

The first motion put was that the grant be divided, $900 to the band and $100 to the Male Voice Choir but Alderman MacDonald championed the cause of the Caledonian band and moved an amendment which carried.

John J. Craig, president, and Harry Huffman, representatives of the Kiwanis Club, appeared to explain the scheme for a wading pool in King Edward Park, and it was decided that the club be given permission to construct the pool, the city to provide sewer and water connections. The pool is to be 40 by 60 feet, varying in depth from six to eighteen inches, and will provide a place for the little tots to cool off in summer time. The estimated cost is between $1200 and $1800, to be paid by Kiwanis Club.

The question of constructing dressing rooms and lavatories was also mentioned but nothing was done in this matter.

James Stevenson park will be operated by the Parks Committee in the same manner as last year. It was mentioned that greater revenue had been derived in other years when the Park had been leased but the representations of Alderman Turner, last year's chairman, that better use had been made of it last year, were accepted by the members of the committee.

The chairman was authorized to ask for tenders for a new bathing house at Inverlea park.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Chicago, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he finds Olga. She faints at hearing she is wanted for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see the man they are looking for—the man she says got the stub. He escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks her engagement.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. Her disappearance becomes a newspaper sensation.

He is walking with his friend, BARRY COLVIN, when he spies KID DIVIS, a known intimate of Ike Jensen, board a street car. Jimmy trails him through lonely streets and dismal fog to a house. He hears a woman's voice cry out. It is Olga's, and he enters.

Jensen, Divis and Olga are in a room. Jensen goes upstairs to answer the phone and Jimmy creeps in and hits Divis with a broken andiron. Then he goes upstairs to overhear Jensen.

Jensen sees him and draws a revolver, which Jimmy wrests from him and kicks down the stairs.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIX.

Jensen, snarling in pain, had fallen back, but now he crowded slowly forward toward Rand, his giant paws outstretched, biding his time, waiting to get this mere stripling in his clutches.

He ripped out an oath. "You—, I'll break you in half . . . break you in half."

And Jimmy, cornered, unable to escape and rush down the stairs to Olga and the pistol he had given her, read murder in the other's tone and cursed himself for a fool for not having kept the weapon himself; cursed himself again and again for having taken this man so lightly whom he had chanced to thrash when they had met before.

"Dancin' master, eh?" Jensen sneered. "Well, you won't find any room up here for your fancy steps.' He reached out a long arm.

And Jimmy, retreating, was suddenly surprised to find there was no wall behind him, but the doorway to the room Jensen had just left. He felt space behind him, and he stepped back into the pitch blackness of the room.

Jensen, framed in the doorway, was a shadowy bulk. He kept on. Suddenly he was inside the room and the door slammed shut behind him.

"Now, cocky, let's see you try and get out." He laughed that throaty rumble of his. "One of us is goin' out, see, but it ain't gonna be you."

Jimmy, retreating to the end of the room, beside the window that opened on foggy blackness, said sharply: "Look here, Jensen, if you take another step, I'll fill you full of lead."

"You're a liar. You ain't got no gun. I'm gonna strike a light."

"Jensen, so help me, if you strike a light I'll shoot."

But the other laughed, crazily, and Jimmy realized that he had to deal with a man gone Berserk with liquor. "Go on, shoot," he taunted, and Jimmy could hear him fumbling through his pockets.

He thought of making one mad rush, of knocking Jensen to the floor and then grabbing for the door. But what if he should miss the door?

"Hell!" said Jensen, and Jimmy knew he must have discovered he was out of matches. . . . He dared to breathe again.

Jensen said: "No use, son, you're gonna get yours. Plenty of time. I'm right here against the door. Plenty of time to say your prayers."

"Jensen, I'm not afraid of you. Divis is out of the way now. And I can lick you. I licked you once before." He continued, craftily: "Why don't you go down and see what's happened to Divis?"

"Hell with Divis." Again that crazy laugh. His whisky-laden breath reached Jimmy across the room. And then he said something that Jimmy Rand had waited months to hear: "I killed your old man . . now I'm gonna finish the job."

Jimmy felt sudden cold—like ice against his heart—and with it came a steadying calm.

He said, between taut lips: "I know you did, Jensen. I've been waiting to hear you say it before I killed you. I've known for weeks that you did it." He felt that, after all, it made little difference to him what happened, so long as he could bury his fingers in the other's throat and choke the brutal, drunken life out of him.

"You did, eh?" and Jensen's voice was a sneering taunt. "How'd you get so smart? Hell, kill me? Huh!"

"You don't believe I've got a gun? I'm waiting, too, Jensen, waiting to have you tell me what I want to know before I use it."

What a gigantic, crazy bluff, he thought. And what a still crazier thing to be doing—to sit and bandy words with a man who had him trapped in a dark room, patiently waiting for him to make a move, biding his time to get him in his crushing hands.

Still, he thought, and was surprised at the calm with which he was able to contemplate it, if the other was going to get him he would go down fighting, armed with a hatred he had never felt before. Meanwhile, if Jensen would talk—well, he would find out what he could. . . .

"What I want to know," he said, "is who hired you to kill my father. I've known all along you did it. You thought you were shrewd, Jensen, planting that handkerchief in the room. But you didn't intend to leave that stub of a theater ticket. That wasn't so smart. Come on, tell me who was behind it."

"You'd like to know, eh?" There was a crafty ring to Jensen's voice. "Well, I'm not tellin'. Sure I bumped him off, sure. . . . Called him up at his office. Told him I had news of his father—what's his name?—oh, yes, Thaddeus Rand."

Jensen laughed again. . . . Jimmy thought the sound of it would drive him crazy. "No harm tellin' you about it. You're gonna get yours anyway. Well, he comes right down to the room, see? The room I have in the hotel. Falls for it just like a fish. . . , Pretty smart of me, eh?"

Jimmy's hands twitched. He bit his lip savagely to down the hot anger that was leaping up to destroy his forced calm. And Jensen's voice went on, maddeningly, tauntingly:

"Yeah, pretty smart of me, I'll say. Comes right upstairs an' knocks on the door. . . . An' I says, 'Come in.' Just like that. 'Come in,' I says. Huh-huh-ha."

Again that thick, crazy laughter.

"So he comes in, an' I says, 'What do you want?' an' he says, 'Are you the man,' he says, 'that called me up and said he had news of Thaddeus Rand?'"

"'No,' says, 'You must'a made a mistake. You got the wrong room, I guess.' Pretty slick, eh, Rand? Oh, I'm not so dumb."

He paused, and the short silence was again broken with a laugh.

Jimmy said, his voice like chilled steel: "And then what?"

"TTAn' then he turns to go. 'Beg your pardon,' he says. Real polite, Rand. I'll say that for him. He's turned around, with his hat in one hand an' his other hand on the door-knob. An' then I lets him have it—Bingo."

He made a loud smacking sound, of fist on palm. "With the old blackjack, Rand, understand. . . . Good blackjack. Made it myself. . . . Best blackjack in th' world. . . . Damn you, you got it away from me that night, didn't you? . . . Never mind, you're gonna get yours in a coupla minutes . . . . Plenty of time. . . .

"That's all. I turned on the gas and left him. Pretty smart, wasn't I? It don't make no difference about the ticket stub, Rand, because I'm I'm goin' away from here where they won't find me. . . . First of all, though, I'm gonna break you in half—"

Jensen, who put you up to it? Who paid you? The same man that paid you shat thousand dollars today?"

What do you know about anybody givin' me a thousand—oh hell, you heard me on the phone. Sure.

Like to know, wouldn't you? But I'm not goin' back on him. Pretty good pay, he is. Tell you what, Rand. Come on over here an' let me get my hands on you. Then I'll tell you —while I'm breakin' you apart. Huh-huh."

Jensen," said Jimmy, in a voice that he did not recognize as his own. I don't know whether you can understand—you probably can't—but I just want you to know that whether you kill me or not I don't give a damn.

Ten minutes ago I might have cared—but not now." And then Jimmy himself laughed, a hard, strange laugh.

Jensen, I feel sorry for you, because—well, just because you can't understand and never would if you lived to be a thousand years. I swore one day, in a morgue in Grafton, that I'd kill the man who murdered my father. I've thought about that many times. I didn't know that when that chance came I was going to find myself in a closed room with a man I can't even see as I'm talking.

Jensen, you're drunk—but you're not so drunk that you're not afraid to die. And I tell you, that as truthfully as I stand here, I'm not. Not now. You don't understand that, do you? With that—that heavy thing on your conscience that you just told me about, you can't realize that it's possible for a man to look death in the eye and laugh.

Here's why I'm not afraid, Jensen—because my longing to kill you—to get my hands on your throat—is stronger even than the desire to live. Not melodrama, you understand; just this—that somehow it'll be all right if I—that somehow it'll be all right if go down trying to get even for what you did to my father.

That's all." He took a step in the dark. Jensen, I'm waiting for you."

You are, eh? Well, that was a pretty little speech you just made, but it don't mean anything. You think you're not afraid, but you will be—when I get my hand on you an' start breakin' you up."

Why don't you open the door so I can see you?" Jimmy said.

An' let you get away? Nothin' doin'."

Oh, all right, I'll open it. I'd kinda like to see you myself while I'm operatin' on you."

There was a sound made by the turning of the knob, and then Jensen's shape was limned shadow-like in the doorway; dim light behind him from the refracted beam on the staircase.

The opening of the door had been quickly done, but even as Jensen was turning the knob, Jimmy was starting forward, and all his strength was behind the blow that landed flush on Jensen's lips.

The other staggered, caught himself against the door-jamb, and then, suddenly, his arms were around Rand, locking him in a grip that was like a mighty vise.

You would, would you?" He laughed again, that crazy laugh, right in Jimmy's ear, and the latter, his ribs cracking under that terrible pressure, could only struggle feebly to resist.

He was lifted off his feet. Jensen swung him around, then set him down again, and all the time the pressure of those mighty arms was growing stronger.

Jimmy has never been able to explain how it happened, but suddenly Jensen shifted his grip and his hands were around Jimmy's throat. And in that same fractional part of a second during which his huge hands moved, Jimmy had thrown his weight forward and pushed out against Jensen with his arms.

Jimmy heard the cracking of wood, and the other's hands were loose on his throat.

And then the stair rail gave way, and Jensen went crashing through.

(To be continued.)

Mararie Perlas of Manila died at the age of 152. He is the only man in the island known to have seen the grandsons of his grandsons.

say PEP to your grocer

PEP brings vitality—and marvelous flavor. Contains bran. A ready-to-eat cereal.

Kellogg's PEP

THE PEPPY BRAN FOOD

PIE SOCIAL IS GREAT SUCCESS

Good Attendance and Fine Programme— Many Pies.

PONTYPOOL NEWS.

PONTYPOOL, March 24.—The annual pie social held under the auspices of L.O.L. 82, on March 17, was a huge success. The weather was fine and a very large crowd was present and enjoyed the programme that was put on by Mr. Hendry and Mr. Smith, Scotch comedians from Peterboro. The play, "The Rascal Pat," was given by the local young people. The characters were:

Patrick McNoggerty—Mr. J. Payne.

Charles Livingstone—Mr. L. Wannan.

Major Puffjacket—Mr. D. Bowins.

Laura (his niece)—Miss L. Barwell.

Nancy (servant)—Miss M. Voysey.

The play was a humorous one and was well received by the audience.

The business men donated prizes for the occasion. Winners were:

Highest priced lady's pie—Mrs. J. Richardson.

Gentleman paying highest price—Mr. D. McMullen.

Second highest lady's pie—Miss L. Barwell.

Gentleman purchasing same—Mr. J. Payne.

Gentleman paying highest price for pie without lady's name—Mr. C. Bowins.

Next highest price—Dr. McNeil.

Pie eating contest—Mr. H. McMullen.

The proceeds amounted to about ninety dollars. Auctioneer, Bert Richardson.

Late Charles Morgan.

Quite a number attended the funeral of the late Charles Morgan of Orono, interment taking place in Pontypool Cemetery on Friday last. Mr. Morgan was a resident here for a good many years and was respected by all who knew him. He leaves his wife and two sons, Harvey and Allie Morgan of Orono, to mourn his loss.

Sold Timber.

Mr. Jas. Malley has sold all his fine timber off his farm here to F. H. Baker of Peterboro. Cutting operations are now in full swing, and several men and teams are engaged in the work.

OLD MEMBERS WERE HONORED

Lakefield United Ladies' Societies Give Them Bouquets.

MANY PRESENT

LAKEFIELD, March 23.—The Ladies Aid and the W.M.S. of the Regent street church were guests of Mrs. Theodore Crawford on Thursday evening at a most enjoyable At Home. Mrs. Crawford's spacious home was decorated with the emblems of St. Patrick's day and presented a festive appearance. About seventy ladies were present and a delightful social evening was spent. A short programme was rendered and very much enjoyed by all, Miss Webster, the president of the Ladies Aid acting as chairman and giving a few remarks of introduction, speaking of the advantages of these social gatherings where the ladies who work together for the church so faithfully can meet for a social hour and become better acquainted with one another.

Miss Webster then proceeded with the programme which consisted of solos by Mrs. Burrows and Mrs. H. E. Moore, a reading by Mrs. Allan Hunter and a quartette by Medames. Girven, MacMillan, W. Hamblin and F. N. Richardson.

Mrs. Walter Hamblin, secretary of the Ladies Aid, then read the following address and Mrs. (Rev.) S. A. Kemp, president of the W.M.S., presented Mrs. S. S. Spence and Mrs. Robert Nugent, the two oldest members of the Ladies' Aid, with handsome bouquets of pink and white roses.

The following is the address:

Lakefield, Ontario,
March 18th, 1926

Dear Mrs. Nugent and Mrs. Spence:

We are gathered here tonight in an endeavor to express in a small way our deep appreciation of the service which you ladies have rendered during the past in the interest of the Ladies Aid and the W.M.S., and to wish Mrs. Spence a most happy birthday. No one has labored more faithfully, or diligently. You were always willing workers in any cause sponsored by either the Ladies Aid or efficient officers, who filled your position in the Ladies Aid with distinction.

It is but fitting therefore, that we should try to express our gratefulness and appreciation by means of this celebration. We know this is the date on which the birth of Mrs. Spence is to be celebrated, and are taking the liberty of advancing Mrs. Nugent's birthday a few months so that we may wish you both good health and happiness during the years to come, at the same time, and to present to you this little token of the esteem in which you are held by the ladies.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies Aid and W.M.S. of Regent street United church.

Mrs. Spence and Mrs. Nugent were very much surprised as they had no idea that the primary object of this pleasant social function was to honor them and in their replies, which were both graceful and fitting, they modestly discounted the value of their service which was always a labor of love.

Mrs. MacMillan sang as a solo topical song entitled "There Ai. No Flies on Auntie" with several original verses which wittily expressed the value the ladies placed on the work of their guests of honor.

A guessing contest followed the presentation after which the birthday cake was cut. The cake was of generous proportions and was decorated with green and white tiny candles forming the figures 69 at one end and 71 at the other, the ages of the ladies.

A committee of ladies served refreshments which were delicious and abundant and much enjoyed.

Mrs. T. H. Richardson proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Crawford for her hospitality which was extended so generously. Mrs. Crawford replied expressing the pleasure it afforded her to have this happy event held in her home.

Mrs. Nugent and Mrs. Spence were charter members of the Ladies Aid which was organized by the late Mrs. John Bedford before the present cement church was built and when the old wooden structure was in use. Mrs. Nugent has been first vice-president for twelve years and Mrs. Spence has been treasurer for eighteen years. Both ladies have played an important part in all the activities of the church they love and have served so loyally for many years and have set an example of faithfulness which has been a shining example to the younger members of the congregation.

Among the ladies present were: Mrs. (Rev.) Kemp, Mrs. Peter Baptie, Mrs. Robert Bullock, Mrs. Burrows, Mrs. A. C. Carveth, Mrs. Wm. Cox, Mrs. John Charlton, Mrs. S. Clysdale, Mrs. W. J. Charlton, Mrs. A. Darling, Mrs. S. Edwards, Mrs. Girven, Mrs. H. Given, Mrs. Grylls, Miss Graham, Mrs. A. V. Hill, Mrs. W. Hamblin, Mrs. A. Hendren, Mrs. John Hendren, Mrs. A. Hunter, Mrs. R. Hunter, Mrs. Leslie Harrison, Mrs. A. E. Higgins, Mrs. H. Kemp, Mrs. R. J. Knox, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. W. J. Little, Mrs. R. J. Lenox, Mrs. James Millar, Mrs. H. E. Moore, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. J. R. Northey, Mrs. B. Nugent, Mrs. George Payne, Mrs. J. H. Payne, Mrs. Nathan Payne, Mrs. A. O. Payne, Mrs. Roland Payne, Mrs. Purdy, Mrs. Pringle, Mrs. J. Reid, Mrs. J. R. Robinson, Mrs. F. H. Richardson, Mrs. Scriver, Mrs. E. J. Sanderson, Mrs. W. Sherin, Mrs. S. Spence, Mrs. P. Spence, Mrs. G. H. Spence, Miss Spence, Mrs. D. H. Webster, Miss Webster, Mrs. L. Webster, Mrs. Wagar.

Mr. Frank Kennedy of Douro had a very successful sale on Thursday, the 18th. Cows brought $100 each. Mr. R. H. Alford was the auctioneer.

The warm sun of the past week has had a marked effect on the roads which are breaking up fast, and will soon if the show continues

BETHANY PERSONALS

BETHANY, March 24.—Mr. Joe Johnston of Springville was a visitor in the village Monday.

Mr. Robert Patton was a business visitor to Lindsay on Monday.

Mr. George McCartney of Peterboro was in the village on Monday.

Miss Ruth Hamilton of Lindsay was home over the week end.

Mr. Chas. Game of Reaboro was in the village Monday calling on acquaintances.

Mr. William McCartney of Toronto was at his home here under the doctors care last week.

Mr. William Fair was in Toronto last week on business. He also purchased a team of horses. Mr. Fair intends moving on to his farm in Cavan in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jemison spent Sunday with their son, Arthur in Cavan.

Miss Lily Tompson of Franklin was the guest of her friend, Mrs. William Lee, for a few days.

Mr. Herb. Lee and daughter, Blanche were visitors to Lindsay on Monday.

The hum of the sawing machine is heard again. A number getting their wood sawed before the spring work begins.

The maple sugar makers of this vicnity are looking up their utensils in preparation of syrup making. These last few warm days making them believe spring has come, although there is still a good depth of snow.

Mothers, Do This—

When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when your'e glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. It does not blister.

As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest ((it may prevent pneumonia.)

The Musterole Co. of Canada, Ltd Montreal

MUSTEROLE WILL NOT BLISTER

RADIO FOR SAILORS.

Main Duck Islands at Present Lack Communications.

KINGSTON, March 24.—(Special).—Claude Cole of Cape Vincent has made application to the issuer of radio permits for permission to have a receiving station located on the Main Ducks for the marine men. On account of the heavy storms, it has been necessary for captains of steamers to take shelter on account of the high winds at the Ducks. Owing to the island not being connected with the main shore by either radio, telephone or telegraph communication, many anxious hours have been felt when steamers have been forced to take shelter there for days at a time.

BURNBRAE W.M.S. JOINS WITH HOARD'S

Two United Church Bodies To Work as One in Future.

BURNBRAE, March 24.—The Burnbrae United W.M.S. held the final meeting of the year in Hoard's church on Friday afternoon, March 19. Due to stormy weather the attendance was below normal. Rev. C. D. Daniel conducted devotional exercises following which a lengthy business meeting was held. Reports were presented from the different branches of the work up to March 31st which is the end of the church year. These reports were encouraging and showed that the society the past season.

A decision was reached whereby the members of this Society and the ladies of St. Stephen's church, Hoards, unite to form what will now be known as the Seymour United W.M.S. The election of officers for the newly formed Society resulted as follows:

Honorary Presidents—Mrs. Thomas Oddie, Mrs. David Thompson.

President—Mrs. William Rannie.

1st Vice-President— Mrs. John Rannie.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev.) Daniel.

Secretary—Mrs. William Hutcheon.

Treasurer——Mrs. Frank Heagle.

Stranger's Secretary—Mrs. J. P. Haig.

Home Helper's Secretary—Mrs. Arthur Sharp.

Supply Secretary—Mrs. W. J. Parks.

Messenger Secretary—Mrs. John Thompson.

Press Secretary— Mrs. Andrew Milne.

Auditors—Mrs. Percy Oddie, Miss Elsie Hume.

The president and vice-presidents are delegates to the Presbyterial at Cobourg on April 20.

The first regular meeting of the new Society will be held in St. Stephens church on Friday afternoon, April 23.

Agonizing Spasms of Asthma relieved by

POTTER'S Asthma Powder

Simply ignite the powder and inhale the antiseptic, soothing fumes. Breathing immediately becomes easy.

Wonderfully effective for all affections of the respiratory passages.

At your druggist's—60c.

Manufactured by Potter & Clarke, Ltd., London, Eng.

Sole Canadian Agents Harold F. Ritchie & Co. Ltd. Toronto, Ont.

DANGER, LOOK UP.

Useful Warning of Snow-slides Posted By Marmora Man.

MARMORA, March 24.—The week-end thaw brought many slides of frozen snow and ice from roof to sidewalk and garden plot. The double warning outside of the St. James Hotel, "Danger, look up," was an action on part of the licensee worthy of emulation.

The Rev. G. R. Beamish, M.A., Archdeacon of Ontario, will be the preacher at the Lenten service at St. Paul's on Wednesday evening.

Mr. John Gibbs spent the week-end with his family in Belleville.

Mr. William McCoy and son, Earl, spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Thomas Pack of Madoc Township.

Dr. and Mrs. Crawford spent a few days in Toronto last week.

Mr. Sam Phillips is on a visit to Mr. Royal Gawley at Meaford.

Miss Hilda Phillips, teacher at Harold, spent Sunday at her home here.

Rat Beats Truck Driver In Battle On Motor Truck

BOSTON, March 23 (United Press Special)—James J. Greenwood, driver of a bakery truck, is wearing bandages on his face neck, shoulders and arms as the result of a fight which he lost to a savage rat. Attacked by the rate, as he was driving the truck Greenwood tried to fight the rodent off and in doing so sustained bites and scratches in a half dozen places.

The rat scurried off when the excited driver lost control of the machine and it crashed against a telephone pole.

Do Your Bowels Ever Become Constipated?

A free motion of the bowels, every day, should be the aim of every one who aspires to perfect health, for once the bowels become clogged-up all the other organs of the body get deranged, and all kinds of diseases and disorders are liable to attack the system.

If you take our advice and use

Milburn's LAXA-LIVER PILLS

you will find that they will assist and keep your bowels and [illegible] proper shape, and when this has been there is not much chance of [illegible] being sick.

This valuable remedy [illegible] the market for the past [illegible] put up only by The T. [illegible] Limited, Toronto, Ont.

VETERINARY

DR. W. F. McELROY, [illegible] fice and residence, [illegible] St., Charlbond Bldg. Phone 1623J.

Tenders for School Building

Tenders are solicited for the building of the Apsley Consolidated School in the Village of Apsley, Ont., according to architect's plans and specifications, which may be examined on application. Tenders must be in the hands of Secretary not later than April 10th, 1926.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Address:
MR. ROY BROWN,
Secretary Apsley Consolidated School,
Apsley P.O., Ontario.

3d-19-22-24-756

FEATHERS

Feather Mattresses or Down Comforters Made From Your Own Feathers.

Drop a card to DOMINION FEATHER MATTRESS CO., 374½ WATER ST., PETERBORO

Our Agent will call. Highest Price Paid for Feathers.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS FOR ALL KIDNEY DISEASES RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE BACKACHE DIABETES

NUMBER 4087 "THE PROPRIETOR"

Three Days PRE-EASTER SELLING of Decidedly Special Value - Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Making it More Than Worth Your While to Do Your Purchasing at THE CRESSMAN STORES

Peterboro's Wonder Book Sale

features again this three days' pre-Easter selling event. The same titles which sold during the season at $1.50 to $2.00, and will not be in the cheaper re-print editions for some time to come. The balance to clear Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

49c Each

Cressman's Street Level, Second Circle.

ABOUT THREE HUNDREDS YARDS ONLY

Wabasso Circular Pillow Cotton

Heavy weight, bleached snow white, 40 and 42 inches wide.

34c Yard

Cressman's Street Level, Rear Arcade.

HEAVY QUALITY

English Made Bath Towels

Have cream and colored grounds, with various striped borders. Generous sizes and made with fringed ends. Selling for much less than usual for three days only.

29c Each

Cressman's Street Level, Rear Arcade.

Silk-Knit Princess Slips Worth $3.50 for $1.98

Silk Knit Princess Slips in all colors and black. Made to sell at $3.50. A fortunate purchase enables us to sell these while they last for only $1.98.

Cressman's—Second Floor.

Special in Trimmed Hats

A special purchase lot of about thirty-five Trimmed Hats. All colors and various shapes. The values you will find are most remarkable for a Pre-Easter Sale. To clear at, each,

$4.78

Cressman's—Second Floor.

One Day Only, Thursday - Exceptional

"Surprise Value" Selling Leader

KLONDYKE LARGEST SIZE 12/4

White Flannelette Blankets

$2.19 Pair

You will quickly realize the merits of this price offering, and we strongly urge you to come early as the quantity is very likely not to last through the day. A choice of pink or blue borders. Thursday, $2.19 a pair.

No phone orders. Limit three pairs. Cressman's Street Level, Rear Arcade.

REPEATING FOR THREE DAYS LAST SATURDAY'S SALE SUCCESS OF OUR NEW EASTER SHIPMENT OF

Ladies' "Niagara Maid" Silk Gloves, 89c Pair

The color selection includes all that is new in spring shades, and first buyers will find a good range of sizes. Pair, 89c. Cressman's—Street Level, 1st Circle.

A THREE DAYS' CLEARAWAY SELLING OF

Ladies' Silk and Wool Hose 59c Pair

Several odd lines from our regular stock. A selection of light and dark colors. A few substandards, but mostly perfect. Former 95c to $1.25 values. All in one lot for brisk clearaway selling, 59c pair.

Cressman's—Street Level, 1st Circle.

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

"The Store of Smiling Service"

A Pre-Easter Showing of New Dresses, Coats and Suits

Rack after rack of the season's very newest attire. The new season is opening, new wardrobe is being planned, and along comes Cressman's with these dainty garments, just perfect for spring wear, at a most unusual price. The patterns are entirely new from any you have seen before. There is a full range of sizes now, but we suggest that you come in early to be sure of securing the styles you want in your size.

Cressman's—Second Floor

New Filet Nets

36-inch Filet Nets, lace edged on both sides, suitable for any room, in colors of ivory and white. This is a Net that will wash and wear indefinitely. Regular value, 50c. Three days' selling.

39c Yard

Cressman's—Third Floor

Linoleum and Floor Oilcloth

In new designs and colors. We have just received a new shipment of these goods and we have patterns to suit every purpose.

LINOLEUMS, 2, 3 AND 4 YDS. WIDE — 95c Sq. Yard

OILCLOTHS, 1, 2 and 2½ YDS. WIDE — 55c Sq. Yard

Cressman's—Third Floor.

Hand-made Oil Opaque Window Shades, 37x72 in., 98c Each

Mounted on good rollers and in colors of green, cream or white.

Cressman's—Third Floor.

ONE DAY ONLY—THURSDAY

"Special" Toilet Paper 10 Rolls 29c

No phone orders. No deliveries. Limit 20 rolls.

Cressman's—Street Level

COTTESLOE SOCIETY GUESTS AT WARSAW

Visiting Young People Put on Programme—Talk on Stewardship.

WARSAW, March 24.—On Tuesday evening the Warsaw Young People's Society entertained the Cottesloe young people. The Cottesloe people gave the programme. Mr. Milton Balkeley was chairman. After the opening exercises there was an instrumental selection, a Bible reading by David Forsythe, a solo by Miss Lulu Bell, and a recitation by Miss Laura Webster. The topic of the evening, "The Stewardship of Personal Influence" was ably handled by Miss Humphries, the teacher at Cottesloe. She took the dictionary definition of a steward—one entrusted with the management of estates or affairs, not his own. She said in part that it follows that a person's influence is not his own, he has charge of it for other folk. This is rather startling, but influence follows as surely as one's shadow.

'Our influence is held from God, as is everything else, and others enriched or burdened by it. Whether our lives are worth while or not will be seen, not by what is inside those lives, but by what has gone out of them. Influence is invigorating, because it can make every life a great and noble calling. It is alarming for we can do such a heap of harm unconsciously. It is by what we are, rather than what we do, that we affect other folk, and through little unintentional things. The person who sets out to influence others is usually a nuisance. Too many people are like finger posts, pointing the way, without travelling it. Real influences lead. Because of their very happiness others follow to see the cause of that happiness. So, if we take care of the being, the doing will take care of itself. If we have received good influence from others we are under obligation to pass on good influences. The particular means by which influence goes from one to another may be quite insignificant. A smile, a momentary expression, a casual word may brighten a whole life, therefore, as character is, so is influence. Man is a composite of past and present, heredity has influenced him, environment, social contacts, church, school and college, friendships, all have given their contributions in new and enlarging ideas, in rewards and in penalties. Therefore we are debtors to past and to present. There are many opportunities for good works in the common day.

"There is the home, with the friends of the home which is a field for labor. There is the school, with its class room associations. There is the church, where, really, the chief contacts are social. The religious character is strengthened by mingling with others, likeminded, in worship, who note the similarity of their struggles, doubts, and temptations." Miss Humphries went on to show the great joy of doing good, and of being the means of others leading higher lives.

"Friends make friends; good deeds not only deserve, but actually inherit others.

"To be a faithful steward here, is to make sure of recognition. Just as when all the tithes of money are brought in we may expect blessing for which we shall have no room; so when in prayer and concern, we see to the proper investment of our influence there shall come back to us in kind, good measure, running over.

"Therefore never be careless about the least thing, for little things, and unnoticed people work most mightily for God."

Owing to illness Rev. H. B. Herrington could not take his services on Sunday. Mr. Currie took the day's work, going to Bethel, Zion and Warsaw. His subject at Warsaw was "The Measure of Christian Obligation" based on the text "She hath done what she could." As the church year ends March thirty first, the stewards would be glad if all moneys could be paid in before the end of the month.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Albert McQuaig, on Wednesday, March the seventeenth, a son.

Herbert Richmond has secured a position in the Norwood Creamery, duties to begin about the middle of April. With his wife and little daughter, he will move to Norwood early in April.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24.—Malcolm G. Cook spent the week end in Stirling.

Mrs. Smith Abar is critically ill.

Miss Flossie McComb and her brother entertained a number of their young friends on Friday evening at their home on Rear street.

Mrs. Eugene Brady of Marmora is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Frank J. Daly.

Thomas McCook of Grand Road spent a few days of last week in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jackman of Port Perry visited Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Elliot over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lloyd of Queen street have received word that their son, Max, who had his arm broken last week and is in Kingston Hospital for treatment, is progressing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Lewis Stephens and children are vistiing Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Stephens and other friends in town

Mrs. Raymond Goheen of East Caledon is pending a few days with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Cairns.

MADOC RESIDENT LEAVES FOR WEST

Miss T. Vancleck Has Obtained Position in Edmonton.

MADOC, March 24.—On Friday evening a number of ladies from St. Peter's Presbyterian congregation gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Rollins for a farewell chat with Miss T. Vancleek before her departure for Edmonton. Miss Vancleek will be very much missed in both social and church circles. She has been a very great help in church work, being a member of the choir, the Young People's Society and other departments of service. Miss Vancleek also starred in the play, "Clubbing a Husband," recently given by the Ladies' Aid. As a token of their appreciation of the services so cheerfully rendered by Miss Vancleek during her stay in Madoc, the ladies who gathered at her home on Friday evening presented her with a club bag. Mrs. Watson read the address and Mrs. A. Milne presented the bag.

Miss Vancleek has accepted a Government position in Edmonton in connection with the Immigration Department. She left for Ottawa on Monday, and after a stay there of two or three days will proceed to Edmonton. Her many friends in town wish her all success in her new home and work.

Successful Evening.

A very successful evening was held in the Armouries on March 17 by the Agricultural Society. Twenty-six tables of euchre were played upstairs in the officers' rooms and dancing was enjoyed to the excellent music provided by the Madoc orchestra, downstairs.

The first prize at cards was won by Mrs. J. Ockerman, who received a cup and saucer, and the second prize, talcum powder, was won by Miss Helen Bird. The first gentleman's prize, a pack of cards, went to Ambrose Smith, and the second, a pocket comb, to Herb Bailey.

The receipts amounted to $125, which sum will be devoted to work on the Fair Grounds.

Road Open.

For the first time in three weeks the motor buses were able to travel the road between Madoc and Belleville on Monday, and hope to be able to run regularly from now on. The heavy storms of the latter part of February blocked the road so that traffic was necessarily suspended. The warmth of the last few days, however, has reduced the drifts so that cars are now able to get through, though the drivers report "heavy going" in some places yet.

An Illinois man has invented a propeller driven motorcycle.

TUXIS BOYS GIVE SPLENDID CONCERT

Fine Programme Well Received By Large Audience —Lakefield News.

LAKEFIELD, March 24.—Success crowned the efforts of the Tuxis boys of the United (Presbyterian) church and their friends on Friday night where their first entertainment was the attraction which drew a large crowd to the Memorial Hall. The talent was first class and the programme was snappy with no long dreary pauses which too often are a feature of amateur efforts, the programme was full of good things and not too lengthy and the audience was large in spite of disagreeable weather and several counter attractions.

The opening chorus of twenty voice rendered "O Canada" splendidly and gave a good start to the programme.

Mr. Henry Batten of Hall's Glen, always a favorite with a Lakefield audience, sang "My Old New Hampshire Home" in splendid voice and was heartily encored.

A novelty number by Messrs. Bert Summers and Frank and Russell Payne scored a tremendous hit as they sang in costume the old favorite "There Were Three Crows" with lots of original by-play which brought down the house.

An amusing sketch "Popping the Question' from one of Dickens' novels was given by Mr. Howard Baptie as "Mr. Bumble" and Mr. Ivan Crowe as "Mrs. Corney". Well acted as it was, with a keen regard for detail, it was applauded lustily.

The duet by Mrs. J. R. Hull and and Mrs. Wm. Millage with a ladies' chorus of ten voices was well rendered and the song was the ever popular "Dear Little Shamrock", appropriate to the season of St. Patrick.

Mrs. Millage sang the old favorite, "Killarney", one of the songs which never grows old.

Mrs. Hull and Mr. Batten sang a duet which was one of the best numbers on the programme, the voices blending admirably and giving the audience a real musical treat.

Messrs. Gordon and Porter, Frank and Russell Payne gave in realistic fashion the "Dumbell" hit, "Us Girls Must Have Our Fun" and were compelled to respond to a couple of encores from the audience which roared with laughter. The verses of the song were original and contained several local hits, which the audience caught an enjoyed.

Miss Etta Garbutt, a talented young musician gave a piano solo, after which Rev. P. L. Jull made a few remarks thanking those who had assisted the boys and girls to make the evening such a success, the only person who treated them shabily being the weather man. Mr. Jull thanked especially Mrs. Hull and Mrs. Millage and Messrs. Batten and Summers who had assisted so splendidly in the vocal numbers, Miss Nelson and Mrs. Tanner, who acted as accompanists, and Mesdames Bailey and Porter, who trained the young people for the dramatic numbers.

The latter part of the programme was taken up by the three act comedy, "Daddy" with the following cast of characters:

Mr. Brown, a fond daddy—Mr. Gordon Porter.

Mrs. Brown, a society mamma—Miss Helen Burgess.

Nellie Brown, their debutante daughter—Miss Marion Payne.

Ted Brown, their son, a sporting college boy—Mr. Lemued Pammett.

Aunt Amelia, who took her temperature every four hours—Miss Ivah Hendren.

Dr. Paul, her nephew—Mr. Donald Kidd.

The Butler—Mr. Russel Payne.

The Cook—Miss Mary Tanner.

The story is a simple comedy with no melodramatic touches and with no villain but is well arranged, centering around Mr. Brown's desire that "Daddy" will always have first place with his pretty daughter and he adopts many original schemes to keep away the suitors who throng the place. Mr. Gordon Porter as "Daddy" was admirable, showing unusual dramatic talent and carrying through his part, the heaviest in the play, without a single slip. One recalls his clever impersonation in "She Stoops to Conquer", given three years ago; Miss Burgess, as the socially ambitious modern mamma, and Mr. Lemuel Pammett's clever conception of the part of the college youth who followed the career of the Rink Rats and the Wild Cats with greater zeal than his curriculum were excellent. Miss Payne as the hypochondriac, who took her temlant sweetheart took her part with modesty and grace combined with real talent which scored a real individual success. The part of the hypochondriac, who took her temperature regularly from a thermometer of generous proportions which hung by a chain from her neck, was difficult to sustain but it was admirably taken by Miss Hendren who never overdid it but kept the audience in a gale of laughter. Mr. Donald Kidd, as the young doctor, and Mr. Russell Payne as the butler, and Miss Mary Tanner as the cook, each had a definite idea of their parts, which, while not as lengthy or important as some of the others, were well acted and made a well rounded successful play.

It was the debut of most of the cast and one feels sure, if the expressed opinion of the audience is a guarantee, that they will score even greater successes in future. The evening's entertainment reflected creditably on those who gave time and energy to the rehearsals and to the young people themselves and best of all it was a genuine home product.

The Citizens' Band has concluded its winter season's programme at the rink and is now preparing for the popular outdoor concerts which were inaugurated by so many citizens. The band is now a recognized institution and is a credit to the village.

Saturday night saw a closed rink and the row of lighted windows so familiar to the dwellers on Colborne street and Chippewa avenue was missing. Lakefield men and women, boys and girls had to seek another rendezvous. This was the first "rinkless' Saturday night this year but the hot sun did its work too well and curlers and skaters sought other attraction.

If it freezes again there may be a little more skating but this season has been long and steady and as Sunday ushered in the spring it seems fitting to say good bye to old man winter and winter sports.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Dunford, on Saturday, March 20th, a daughter, Verena Beatrice.

A Brattleboro, Vt., man experimented with sugar cane and grew enough to make two quarts of sugar from the home product.

Mrs. A. McDonald

Throat Trouble

Toronto, Ont.—"For about eight years I was subject to laryngitis, my throat would get very sore and I would lose my voice. I would have a spell of this kind a couple of times a year, especially in the winter when the weather was cold and disagreeable. It would be a couple of months each time before I would fully recover from these spells and get my voice back. I doctored and took medicine with little relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it has so completely relieved me of this trouble that I scarcely ever have a sore throat or suffer in any way from my former trouble."—Mrs. A. McDonald, 28 McMurrich St.

Golden Medical Discovery is put up in Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., and sold by all druggists in both tablets and liquid. Send Dr. Pierce 10c if you wish a trial pkg.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM GIVES FULL SERVICE

Bethany Patrons of Manvers Board Pleased With 24 Hour System.

BETHANY, March 24.—The patrons of the Manvers Municipal Telephone system are greatly pleased with the service which they have been receiving since the annual meeting. The service is of 24-hour duration and is taken in three shifts by the operators. Miss Clara Reynolds and Miss Myrtle Fallis resigned, so three new operators have been engaged, Miss Mildred Davis and Miss Bertha Fallis taking the daylight hours and Mr. Nelson Whitesides the hours between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.

News Briefs.

At the recent session of the Municipal Council of Manvers it was decided to abolish the statue labor.

The home-made cooking sale in connection with the W.M.S. of the United Church, which was held on Saturday evening, was not as successful as was at first hoped it might be. About $10 was realized from the sale.

The W.M.S. of the United Church is holding their annual Sunday anniversary service at 7 p.m. on Sunday, March 28. Mrs. Elsie Smith, Field Secretary of the Deaconess Training School, Toronto, will be present to deliver an address. Special music by a choir of ladies is an added feature of the evening. A thank-offering will also be received at this service. It is hoped that a good many will take this opportunity of hearing Mrs. Smith.

Decorators from Toronto have arrived and are busily engaged in decorating the interior of St. Paul's Church for the jubilee festivities to be held some time early this year. It is thought there are only two men living in this village who were in any way engaged in the building of the church fifty years ago.

KIWANIS CONVENTION.

Prominent Men To Address Gathering in Montreal in June.

The tenth annual convention of Kiwanis' International at Montreal June 7-10, will bring together a group of leading officials of the United States and Canada as well as some 6000 Kiwanian delegates and visitors from all parts of the North American continent.

Promises have been received from Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, and Charles M. Schwab taht they will attend the sessions as speakers. Others of prominence who will appear on the programme are: Will B. Hays, president of the Moving Picture Producers and Distributors of America; Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, Bank of Montreal; C. King Woodbridge, president of the Advertising Clubs of the World; Jules Brazil, the internationally known entertainer, and Roe Fulkerson, journalist and an editorial writer for the Kiwanis Magazine.

DO THIS AFTER SEVERE ILLNESS

How To Speedily Gain Strength and Put On Needed Weight.

Nothing like the wonderful vitalizing vitamines extracted from the livers of the common codfish to help convalescing people to quickly get strong and well—everybody knows that.

So nowadays, medical men who keep up with the times are ordering a tablet containing the vitamines that give to frail folks vigor, strength and weight—a tablet that is known as McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablet—and it surely has proved a blessing to thousands of people who have been sapped of their natural strength after any severe illness.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact your druggist is authorized to return your money if you don't take on 5 pounds in 30 days.

Great for weak, skinny, backward, run-down children, too, and gives them a hearty appetite.

Be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Extract Tablets. McDermid and Jury, James Lynch, Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere, have a big demand for them, and millions are sold monthly all over North and South America. They are sugar-coated and as easy to take as candy. 60 tablets 60 cents.

MARMORA PERSONALS

MARMORA, March 23.—Mr. Max Mittlesteadt, who has been assisting Mr. D. E. Bell at Marmora C. N. R station for several weeks, has been transferred to like duties at Tweed.

Scarlet fever has visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Gray, one of their young sons contracting it.

Word has been received by Mrs Philip Sopha that her mother, Mrs Aaron Tompkins of Niagara Falls N. Y., and formerly of Cordova, is lying seriously ill at her present home

Mrs. R. J. Young returned home from Ottawa on Thursday evening where she was called owing to the death of her father.

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Mr. W. J. Clow left Monday evening for Cobalt where he has accepted a position as superintendent of the Nipissing Central Electric Railway.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner last night entertained the Executive Committee and the Committee of Chairmen of Kiwanis Club. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Turner assisted. The guests were: Isaac P. McNabb, Dr. John J. Craig, Joseph Wearing, Joseph John, John A. McKone, W. George Henderson, Art. Moffatt, Harold A. Perry, Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, W. Harry Dickin, Charles D. Cook, John I. Allen, Walter J. Oke, Harry J. Boyle, Carl S. Browne, Dr. E. H. Wood, Dr. G. Raymore Scott, Harry C. Huffman, Charles H. Elliott, Hugh M. Niven and John R. Heron.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Grady has been called to Perth, owing to the death of her mother.

* * *

Miss Jessie Hodgson returned to Toronto yesterday, to resume her tuition in dancing at the Leonidoff-Rogge School of Russian Ballet.

* * *

Mrs. R. Gliddon is spending a few days in Toronto.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT THE THINGS THAT INTEREST THE BUSY WOMAN OF 1926.

DRESSING CHEAPLY

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, March 24.—(United Press).—Dorothy Gish, motion picture actress, has arrived in New York with a California purchased wardrobe costing only $55. This included a camel's hair sports coat, 2 sweaters, a sports skirt and 2 hats, if the newspaper photographs are correct.

Although the male public may find this something to gloat about at the supper table, the female element will realize that sports clothes alone do not constitute a wardrobe. One must have dinner frocks, afternoon frocks, and party frocks even though one lives a quiet life far away from Hollywood.

We rather resent the publicity given Miss Gish's wardrobe, since every woman knows that sport hats at $5 and sweaters at $5 and sport skirts at $6 are not unusually cheap. One naturally thinks, at least the men folks do, that if a screen actress can dress on $55, a housewife should be able to. No person can have a complete wardrobe for $55, and that's certain.

There are dozens of smartly dressed girls in New York City and in other cities who could doubtless give Miss Gish a run for her money when it comes to dressing cheaply. Compared to Miss Gish's salary their combined salaries wouldn't amount to much. Forty-five dollars would be more than any one of them would spend on a season's sport clothes. One can buy adorable little jumper-frocks of jersey in New York stores for $7 and $8. Even in crepe de chine these cost as low as $10 in many shops. Felt and straw sports hats average around $5, sweaters sell as low at $1.95 in slip-on types.

There are dozens and dozens of hat shops in the heart of the shopping district which sell only $5 bonnets. Also dozens of shoe shops where one can buy $5 shoes. Clothes have never been cheaper, but in spite of this, no one can obtain a complete wardrobe for $55.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

My dear Annie Laurie: I am a young man in my early twenties. I am going with a young girl about my own age. I have no arm. I am at home. I am not rich or not real poor but I haven't enough money to get married. I have went with this girl about two years. We want to get marired but cannot oford it. Please advise me whether to go to start farming as we intend getting married before two years' time. Let me know as soon as possible. I remain your friend,

DJER KISS

DJER KISS: As to whether you should learn a trade or start farming, hadn't you better decide that yourself. I can hardly tell you which you are best fitted for. In any event, if you wish to get married within two years' time, and you are in your early twenties, it might be advisable to get busy at something. As you have gone around with the yuong lady for two years now, and intend taking up two years more of her time, a little energetic action of some sort would appear to be quite in order.

MARRIED.

DEGEN — TERRY.—The marriage of Charles Nelson Degen of this city, and Helen Rose Terry of Tweed, was solemnized by Major Higdon of the Salvation Army, yesterday afternoon, at 3.30, at the home of Mr. John Degen, 90 Gladstone avenue.

ECLIPSE FASHIONS

Exclusive Patterns by Hazel Bayne

Paris Prefers Plaits in Two-piece Frocks

Never have plaits meant more to the mode, nor changed it more completely. They bring back the straightline silhouette — slender, graceful in repose, yet youthful and full of animation in movement. The model shown here displays box-plaits arranged from a deep yoke front and back, and are repeated in the skirt. The collar is versatile, and may be buttoned up to the neck or worn turned down. The long sleeves are gathered into cuffs fastening at the wrists. The overblouse, No. 1272, is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 2¾ yards 36-inch material. The skirt, No. 1266, is joined to a camisole top, and is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 1¾ yards 36-inch material, with ⅞ yard lining for camisole top. Price 20 cents, each pattern.

The garments illustrated in our new Fashion Book are advance styles for the home dressmaker, and the woman or girl who desires to wear garments dependable for taste, simplicity and economy will find her desires fulfilled in our patterns. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Pattern Purchase Coupon

Address Fashion Department, Evening Examiner

No. ..... Street .....

Name .....

Pattern Number ..... Size .....

Town .....

Province .....

Amount Enclosed .....

Price 20 cents each—coin preferred

SECRETS OF CHARM

Don't you often see attractive looking women who seem to make the best of every ounce of good looks they possess?

Of course, the taste she uses in choosing her clothes has a lot to do with it. This is a study within itself, but just now I am thinking more of natural possessions than of acquired ones.

So I beg of you, dear reader, use care and taste in the way you do your hair. If you have a style of hair dressing which you have followed for a long time you may discover that newer modes have come along which you could adopt with rare success.

Of course, the women who understands best the secrets of dressing to type often changes her mode of coiffure. She may do it one way for daytime frocks and to wear with hats and an entirely different way for evening.

This plan of adaptability sapplie to the bobbed coiffure, too. Hair can be bobbed in so many different ways at the present time that it behooves lal of those with short hair to think well before they choose a permanent type of bob. Of course, the most favored method is to have your hair bobbed by an artist who will have a number of bobbed transformations at your disposal. You can try on various ones of these and know exactly how your hair will look cut in a certain fashion before you cut it.

I, for one, am thankful that the very severet type of straight bob is no longer a the height of the mode. Clever women realize now the everlasting charm of a few fluffs here and there and they comb their hair accordingly. The same principle is applied to the new, loosely waved marcel, which I think is far preferable to the old tight wave, which looked as if it were turned out by machinery. The beauty of today must show a certain amount of careless grace.

READ THE WANT ADS.

HER OWN WAY

A GIRL of TODAY

A MAN'S PROTECTION.

"Voice cultivated!" I said stupidly to Jerry Hathaway. "I didn't know that Mamie Riley could sing!"

"Yes. She has an exquisite voice and her one ambition used to be to sing in opera. I met her some years ago when that ambition seemed in a fair way to be realized. But all at once something seemed to go wrong and the next time I saw her she was at the Beaux Arts checking hats. I tried to get some explanation out of her but she will say nothing about it."

"I didn't know that Mamie could sing," I repeated. "I never heard her sing a note."

Even as I made that remark I remembered that one evening I had heard Mamie begin to sing. Then all at once Mrs. Riley had said in her querulous, rasping way:

"For heaven's sake, Mamie, don't begin that caterwauling again. Remember what it almost got you into, and you a decent, respectable girl."

Mamie shut up immediately but she did not give any explanation of "what might have happened to her," and in my own somewhat hectic career I'd really forgotten it until now.

After Jerry Hathaway had gone, I looked across the table at Jimmy.

"What do you mean," I asked, "by saying that you wouldn't like me in your office."

Jimmy became perfectly misera le immediately.

"You must know, dear girl," he said. "I couldn't work with you there. In less than a week everyone would know that I loved you and then the office would become a hotbed of gossip. I would always be trying to make your way easier, Judy.

"Oh, I thought of giving you a job immediately on leaving the restaurant, but when sober second thought came I knew it would be impossible. I knew it would be only a question of a few days until your place there would be made as uncomfortable as at the restaurant. You understand, don't you, Judy. Why, dear, if it were just you and I in the office I would be only too happy to have you there."

"Yes," I answered, relieved at his explanation. But, all the same, I wish he had given me the chance to refuse. I wish he'd given me the chance to say that we were too good friends to work together. As it was he left me no alternative except to say that I thoroughly understood, that his decision not to give me a place in his office came from his desire to protect me.

There it was! I had again run up against that age-old desire of man to protect some woman. And I knew that until I could stand upon my own feet and not welcome the protection of anyone, I would never be the independent woman I wanted to be.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, In

Tomorrow: A Man's Kiss or His Love.

Menus for the Family

(B Sister Mary.)

Breakfast—Stewed figs with orange, cereal, thin cream, waffles, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

Luncheon — Onion souffle, brown bread and butter sandwiches, sliced oranges, sponge drops, milk, tea.

Dinner—Cream of spinach, soup, casserole of vegatables, jellied tomato salad, whole wheat bread, custard souffle, milk, coffee.

This day's menu contains no meat but is well balanced and nourishing. Even fish does not appear, so the protein is furnished by the eggs used in the luncheon souffle and the dinner dessert.

It's well worth keeping in mind the fact that eggs are a "concentrated food" and must be accompanied by plenty of vegetables and breads made of coarse flours.

Onion Souffle.

Six onions, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 1-2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1-3 cup water in which onions were cooked, 1-3 cup milk, 3 eggs, salt, paprika.

Cook onions in boiling water to cover until soft. Do not cover sauce pan in which onions are cooked. Drain, reserving 1-3 cup of liquid and rub onions through a sieve. There should be 1 1-3 cups onion puree. Melt butter, add bread crumbs and liquid and cook until smooth. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon colored. Add onion pulp to cooked mixture, season with salt and paprika and bring to the boiling point. Remove from the fire and stir in yolks of eggs. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once or the souffle will fall.

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

NEW HOME PORT.

Five Cunarders To Sail From London in Future.

LONDON, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The Daily Express says it understands the Cunard line is to abandon Liverpool as home port for five liners in favor of London. The vessels concerned are Alaunia, Carmania, Caronia, Lancastria, and Tuscania.

BLACKHEADS

Get two ounces of peroxine powder from your druggist. Sprinkle on a hot, wet cloth and rub the face briskly. Every blackhead will be dissolved. The one safe, sure and simple way to remove blackheads.

Feminine Foibles -:- By Annette Bradshaw

The Anklet Has a New Cousin!

Mary, what stunning necklets! I thought my anklet was the newest wrinkle, but I see now I am behind the times. Just wait until I tell George that I must get three gold rings to snap about my neck! I simply must have them!"

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

WELL, OF ALL THINGS!

"Susie was just born tired, I guess!" Many a mother, peevish because Susie's girlish legs lag when it comes to dish-washing and sweeping, are making true scientific observation, it seems. But science calls this "born tired" feeling by the more ponderous name of "asthenics."

The average family of the Princeton alumnus is 1.48 child. And will probably continue to be so as long as hospitals bring pauper babies into the world for nothing and demand almost a year's salary for the same job from a man who owns even a $4,000 home.

When a London zoo procured a sacred white elephant from Burma it promised that the graceful creature should not be profaned by stunt tricks, such as school kids sliding down its trunk or riding on its shoulder blades.

Three New York women profess themselves "delighted" with the new Sonora, Mexico, while-you-wait divorce system. They boast that they "got theris" within less than a week.

LIMELIGHT WOMEN.

How human this current fad for intimate picture stories of kings and queens, emperors and empresses, counts and countesses, makes them!

We especially like the new picture of the awesome Queen Victoria, who is shown only in her role of "Grand Mama" by her granddaughter Queen Marie of Rumania. Here's a sample quote showing the feared Victoria in only the grandmother-of-the-cookie-crock role:

"There we were in grand-mama's big funny room! We would crawl about between the furniture and from time to time Grand-Mama's high-pitched little voice would call out to us not to tease the bullfinch who throned it in his shining cage in the corner."

Princess Juliana, only daughter of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, is studying international and constitutional law. Juliana has probably taken the advice of the beauty diagnosticians who think that her best bet lies in cultivating beauty of the mind and soul.

CLOTHESIES.

The girls who "just must wear something different" may like the new "musical dresses." Deep borders of a musical scale pattern with sharps and flats playing tag over the scale appear on some of the new silks.

They keep right on talking about "the kinetic skirt," the skirt that never stays still but is alive with the energy of ripples and flares and all the things that make movements in a skirt like waves stirred by a gentle breeze.

LENTEN DISHES.

Scalloped codfish can make you forget the tantalizing aroma of beefsteak smothered in onions. Take 2 cups dried salt codfish, 3 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup dried bread crumbs, and 2-3 cup grated cheese.

Pour boiling water over codfish and bring to boiling point. Drain and add to the melted butter mixed with the flour and pepper and the milk, all stirred constantly and brought to the boiling point. Put layer of fish in greased casserole, layer of bread crumbs, layer of cheese. Repeat. Cover top with bread crumbs dotted with butter. Bake 20 minutes.

THE BOOK.

If you want to know a little more about the machinery inside the pate of the modern girl, grab "Other People's Daughters," by Eleanor Wambridge. There are 17 of these "city slicker girls." Here's a sample quote quite atune with these ways and days:

"Never shall I forget the scorn with which one girl answe ed me when I asked of a certain dull couple of our acquaintance: 'What in the world do they talk about?' 'Talk,' snorted she. 'They don't talk. They hug!'"

FASHION EXPERT

Mlle. Marcelline D'Alroy, French fashion expert, now in Canada, who claims that her gospel of beauty and loveliness will lower the American divorce rate. 'Criminal" is her description for the wearing of white stockings with black shoes.

SOME NEW MODELS

A small trio of spring millinery models introduced at the Paris openings are shown above. They indicate the popularity of ribbon as the leading hat material for spring. All decorations are conspicuous by their absence. As the season advances lower trimmings are expected to gain popularity.

ELECTRIC FREIGHT LINE IS PROPOSED

Instead of New York or St. Lawrence Canal To Sea.

WASHINGTON, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The feasibility of a great electric railroad freight line from Erie, Pa., to New York Bay as an outlet to the sea for Great Lakes traffic in place of the proposed St. Lawrence or New York State Canal, would be inquired into under a resolution introduced by Senator Frazier, Republican, North Dakota.

For a good crop of red clover seed, plenty of bumblebees are necessary.

Advise Women

to discard old hygienic methods and retain freshness every day

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old-time "sanitary-pad" for a new way that supplants uncertainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of the old time sanitary pad. Five times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends ALL fear of offending.

As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Costs only a few cents. 8 in 10 better class women employ it. Proves the folly of old ways.

KOTEX

No laundry—discard like tissue

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe

SHE DESCRIBES A STUNNING UNDERSLIP.

The manikins at Madame's have been showing a renewed burst of interest late ly in creating smart underthings for Spring.

"It is so much easier to sew on delicate underthings than on frocks," Pam commented, as she sat stitching.

"Underthings do make attractive work to pick up ant ay odd moment," I commented.

"Now, when I'm making a dress," Pam went on to explain, "I simply get into a frenzy to finish it. The minute I see how attractive it's going to be, I just can't wait to get it on."

I feel the same way as Pam, for I get tired making a dress unless the job is a short one, while I never tire of pretty underthings.

From these remarks our conversation drifted to the sewing in hand, and of course I had to see what Pam was making.

"It's a slip," Pam informed me, holding up a bit of white crepe, with trailing ends of cream lace.

"How pretty!" was my comment, for delicate underthings never fail to appeal to me.

"I'm making it with a few gathers at the sides, and I'm appliqueing little cut-out flowers of the crepe in the front at top and bottom," Pam explained, showing me how the flowers were placed, half against the lace, and half over the crepe.

"Do you like slips better than petticoats with a band or eleastic about the waistline?" I asked. I was anxious to know, for I can never quite decide which is best.

"Well, I like both," Pam answered. "That is I love a prettyslip beneath a thin frock, for I hate to have any line at the waist evident through the thin dress."

"But you like petticoats if the dress is not thin?" I asked.

"Of course, with a very heavy dress I don't wear a petticoat," Pam answered. "But I always like to have a dainty petticoat at hand, for some frocks need one, and I never like to have any surplus of clothing on in the form of underbodice unless I really need it."

So saying, I took up some batiste step-ins I was making for myself.

This Charming Slip is of White Crepe Trimmed with Cream Lace.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

THE BEAUTY OF NEW CRETONNES.

Charming new cretonnes redeem the promise that this is to be a colorful season. Lovelier than ever are the new things that France and England have sent us, and those of our own make are not justified in taking second place. The rather recent fad of having draperies and slip covers match make it an easier matter for the home decorator.

Stripes are not in evidence. Where they do come there is usually a black, white or colored stripe two or three inches wide and contrasting stripe, with single flowers or wee baskets of flowers scattered down its length. Or there is a narrow color stripe with a broad white or cream-colored stripe.

Mostly there are standard colored backgrounds with huge bouquets of gaily-colored flowera or old-fashioned baskets of flowers spaced over the surface. One having a black ground with white baskets filled with all the Spring flowers is charming.

Then there is an oddly mottled shaded brown background with a Chinese design of a temple pagoda, tall vase of flowers and lower incense jars in soft, subdued coloring that is most attractive. This will be admired for those who are looking for library or dining-room cretonnes.

A favorite pattern is that in which a large bird of gorgeous plumage sits among the trees preening his feathers, struts among shrubs or is delicately poised full spread ready to fly. A bit of garden, sky and distance effects make the pattern resemble a painting more than just an ordinary material.

Printed India cottons have a great charm for many shoppers and they may be used for draperies, by a careful fitting of the borders, as well as for slip covers. For the latter use the borders are often used in the boxing needed on the heavily upholstered pieces. Table covers of various sizes or spreads come in the prints and in three groups of coloring, browns and blue, blues and yellows, reds and browns. Of course, the "everlasting" palm leaf pattern is strongly in evidence. But wandering among the cretonnes is like traversing a well-kept garden and makes buying very easy.

Money lost through theft of unregistered war savings stamps can not be recovered in the courts in suits against the United States.

OBITUARY.

WALTER McCUTCHEON

STIRLING, March 22.—The funeral of Walter McCutcheon, who passed away in Weston Sanitarium on Monday afternoon, where he had been a patient since early in January, took place Thursday afternoon in St. Paul's United Church. The pastor Rev. C. W. Barret conducting the service, in the presence of a large congregation. Interment was in Stirling cemetery. The sympathy of the entire community goes to the bereaved family, as the deceased was the eldest son and only 25 years of age. Besides his parents, he leaves a brother and two sisters to mourn the passing of a fine young man who was a faithful member and worker in the Epworth League and Sunday School until afflicted with ill health about two years ago.

PEMBER'S

The house with the unrivalled reputation for quality hair goods.

FREE DEMONSTRATION AND DISPLAY

At Empress Hotel, Peterborough, Tuesday, March 30th.

See Dorenwend's Patent Structure with the new sight proof parting.

Telephone Mr. Knight at the hotel for appointment.

THE W. T. PEMBER STORES, LIMITED,

129 Yonge St., Toronto.

2d-24-27-1055.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NUMBER NINETEEN—BLACKIE THE PONY.

Nancy and Nick and the March Hare left Rubadub scrubbing up Flop Field Mouse and his friend, the little Gray Mole, and started off to hunt up some more people to be spring-cleaned.

Almost the first person they saw was Blackie, the shaggy pony.

"Help! Help!" Blackie was whinnying. "Help! My tail's caught in the barb-wire fence and I can't move. Help!"

"For goodness sake, Blackie!" said the March Hare. "You make more noise than two pigs under a gate. Your tail wouldn't hurt you if you didn't keep pulling at it. Stand still and these children will soon get you untangled."

"Oh, thank you," said Blackie, pawing the ground. "But it's most inconvenient getting caught like this, just as I was about to nibble that bunch of lovely new sweet clover there. It's only a few inches beyond my nose and it smells like peaches and cream."

Nancy and Nick soon untangled Blackie's long tail and the pony took a few steps toward the patch of sweet clover.

"Where's that clover now?" he whinnied more loudly than ever. "This old mane of mine hangs right in my eyes the minute I put my head down, the March wind blows it forty ways at once."

"My goodness, but you're in a cross humor today, Blackie!" said the March Hare. "What's wrong?"

Blackie shook his mane out of his eyes. "Nothing, except that this silly old mane and tail of mine are always getting me into trouble. I hate them," he said. "I wish I could get them bobbed."

"Oh, ho! You do, do you?" laughed the March Hare. "Well, I'd say you needed a good bobbing all over. You look like a plush coat that forgot to stop growing."

"I know. I'm perfectly ashamed of myself," said Blackie with a toss of his head. "But I heard Farmer Greenway say last winter that he wouldn't clip me, because the barn wasn't very warm and my hair could grow as long as it liked."

"Well, I guess it liked to grow pretty long," laughed Nancy. "You do look awfully funny, Blackie. You'd better let us take you to Rubadub, the fairyman of Scrub-Up Land. He'll fix you."

"Oh, will he," whinnied Blackie delightfully.

"Yes, sir! He will," said Nick.

"Then hop right on my back, all three of you," whinnied Blackie start at once."

So they all hopped on and pretty soon there they were, right in front of Rubadub's house in Scrub-Up Land.

"You don't want your mane and tail bobbed, surely," protested Rubadub when Blackie told him all the things he wanted done.

"Why not?" asked Blackie. "It's my mane and my tail to do as I please with, isn't it? I mean, aren't they?"

"But the flies! They'll soon be coming," warned Mister Rubadub. 'Then how will you switch them off?"

"I'll bite them if they bite me," said Blackie. "Just go right ahead."

What could poor Mister Rubadub do but obey?

There isn't much room left to tell it all, but there's enough to tell you that when the flies came they nearly drove poor Blackie crazy as he had no tail to switch them off with. And once a bee stung him.

By fall his tail had almost, but not quite, grown in again.

But the most interesting thing of all is that Farmer Greenway never found out who did it.

(To be continued.)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

THREE-MINUTE JOURNEYS

—Temple Manning

WHERE THE BRIDEGROOM RECEIVES WEDDING GIFTS.

In China it is not the bride alone who tells her eager suitor the day when the great event is to take place. She must consult with the soothsayers before she decides the day on which she is to be married. For none but the foolhardy would be married save on a day when the stars forecast good luck.

And when the soothsayers have decided on the day the invitations and the announcement of the wedding are sent out promptly to call the friends. The invitations are written in gilt letters on a square af red cardboard and are inclosed in an envelope of the same brilliant hue.

And when the honored friends receive their invitations they promptly begin to collect their store of treasures as gifts to the bride. Old and cherished silver, costly silks, rare gems, jeweled flowers and precious heirlooms are made ready for her.

It is quite right and proper, according to our lights, that the bride should be the recipient of all gifts. Very rarely is the Western groom considered in the matter of wedding presents. But in China the groom as well as the bride is remembered, and in unique fashion.

He receives a gift from each and every one of the relatives and friends, and all of these gifts are identical.

The groom's gift is a red satin scroll six feet long and four feet wide. In the centre of the scroll, in gilt letters, are the words "double happiness." And if the groom is well known and has a large family he may have several hundred of these scrolls.

His Friends Bring Scrolls.

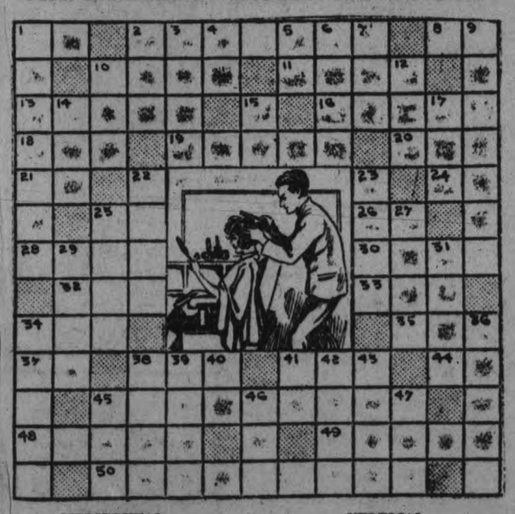
As soon as the scrolls are received they are hung upon the wall. The furniture is also draped in red satin. When the bride enters in the wedding procession she is preceded by a brilliant red candle. Altogether the scene is most vivid and bright.

The guests in the gay holiday attire add to the festivities of the scene. There is a gayety of color that would fairly dazzle Western eyes. And the music adds to the charm of the festivities, as the wedding guests congratulate the fortunate pair who are entering the state of matrimony.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

THE EXAMINER CROSSWORD PUZZLE



HORIZONTAL.

1. Masculine pronoun.
2. Those who earn a living by cutting hair.
8. Standard type measure.
10. Fury.
11. Burden.
13. Icon.
15. Those who color hair.
17. To decay.
18. To remove hair from face by means of a razor.
20. Existed.
21. Company (abbrev.).
24. Mother.
25. Therefore.
26. Minor note.
28. Vault.
30. Unemployed.
32. Yellow matter from a sore.
33. Pastry.
34. To sink as a bed spring.
35. Marble used as a shooter.
37. Morindin dye.
38. A kind of rolled tea.
41. Globe.
44. To accomplish.
45. Washed as hair.
48. Pattern.
49. Common laborers in Mexico.
50. Act of giving hair and scalp special massage and tonic.

VERTICAL.

1. Act of snipping hair.
2. Sac.
3. Eons.
4. Second note in scale.
5. Deity.
6. Driven.
7. To mention.
9. A method of kneading the face to preserve youthful texture.
10. Rodent.
12. Drops of moisture found on grass mornings.
14. The lowing of a cow.
15. Dad.
17. Battering machine.
22. Women's haircuts.
23. To cut hair closely from back of the neck.
25. Suave.
27. Entrance.
29. Delicately colored jewel.
31. To guide.
34. Possessing flavor.
36. Opposite of best
39. Robust.
40. Part of verb to be.
41. Yellow Hawaiian bird.
42. Strong cord.
43. Subsisted (p. p.).
45. To place.
46. To tap lightly as the face when massaging.
47. Period.

GOOD NIGHT STORIES

By Blanche Silver

BOBBY MAKES A STRANGE DISCOVERY.

Bobby sat on the sands and gazed at the blue waters of the bay. "My, what a dull life it must be to the little folks who have to spend their lives under the water all the time" he mused to himself.

"Don't be too sure about that!" chuckled a merry voice, and Happy Giggles, the elfin from Makebelieve Land, hopped down on the sands beside Bobby. "But don't feel sorry for the wee folks that live under the water. They have a wonderful world. It's filled with as many beautiful flowers, trees and gay-colored birds as you earth folks have. Would you like to see it?"

This just suited Bobby, and he jumped up, caught hold of the wee elfin's hand and before he had time to think twice he was riding a big wave out into the sea.

"Now, don't sneeze. Just shut your eyes for one second and we'll be down at the bottom," laughed Happy Giggles.

Bobby did as he was told, and when Happy Giggles called to him to open his eyes he opened them on a strange sight.

It was indeed a wonderful country of hills and plains, lofty mountains, deep valleys of rocks and caves. The meadows were covered with strange animal flowers of gay colors. Corals and seaweeds taller than the tallest trees Bobby had ever seen waved over his head.

"They are sea squirts."

"What in the world are these funny-looking things!" Dicky laughed, pointing to a heavy stem that held up three queer-looking gourdlike things. "They look like jack-o-lanterns, don't they."

"Sure they do," replied Happy Giggles. "But they're not. They are sea squirts. They are the birds of the water world."

The sea above Bobby was just alive with graceful fish swimming around among the grass tops. Some were blue, some yellow and some flashed a wonderful scarlet as the light touched their shiny scales. Every color that Bobby had ever seen in the bird world he found in these fish in the water world.

Little sea horses swam around the beautiful coral castles, and Bobby had to agree with Happy Giggles that the water world held beauties he had never dreamed of before.

Bobby had a wonderful time, and when Happy Giggles said it was time to go home he was sorry, for he had found the water world as full of lovely things as his own land and he hated to leave it.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

THURSDAY, MARCH 25.

A generally adverse chain of planetary influences hold sway on this day both by lunar and mutual direction. Under the circumstances it is advised that the activities be confined to lines of least resistance, deferring all that may safely be postponed until a more propitious time. This applies to all personal endeavors as well as to business and employment. It might be hazardous to entertain new projects or speculations.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which it will be difficult to accomplish much; as there are many omens of setback and delay. New ventures should be postponed, the health should be protected and the personal affairs carefully manipulated. The finances should be conserved. A child born on this day should be given an education to equip it for fortitude and for overcoming difficult situations. It may have to forge its way through many obstacles and trying places in life.

SOME OTHER TIME.

All kiddin' aside, this is one of those days when a man can't get down to his work. The sun's shinin' bright and I'm lost in its rays, and I feel that I'd much rather shirk.

I might write a verse about fashions and such, 'er I might frame a poem on spring. I well can imagine that just the right touch could make it a sweet little thing.

There isn't a law against serious thought, and I might turn a rhyme to advice. But that's not the spirit in which I am caught, so the verse wouldn't turn out so nice.

No doubt there are millions of hunches, at hand, that really would fit into rhyme, but surely, by this time, you'll all understand, I'll write them—at some other time.

It's queer how a fellow can knock letters out, and write without batting an eye. I'll bet you don't know what this verse is about. That's nuthin', folks—neither do I.

Lowest in Runs.

Cincinnati Reds only scored 690 runs last season. They were the lowest in the National League in that respect. But the Reds had the best defensive team, allowing but 643 counters in 153 tilts.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

YOUR HEALTH

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

About the time I think I have written on every conceivable medical subject, along comes a letter begging for an article on some ailment which I may have discussed a dozen times. But, of course, medicine is progressing all the time. What I spoke about last as a mystery, may be cleared up this year, or next year.

We used to have a good laugh at my house over a reply made by one of our doctor friends. Our boy was sick and this able and generous friend advised a certain line of treatment. "Why," exclaimed the mother, "you told me just the opposite of that last week!" "Madame," said the doctor, "medicine treads with gigantic strides. We have progressed since then!"

I am happy that this is true. It gives us the hope that cancer, heart disease, Bright's disease and tuberculosis may be wiped out in time. Indeed, great progress is being made in these ailments and some day they will be conquered.

Yesterday one of the readers of these daily articles wrote me, asking for a statement regarding our habit of "eternally rushing."

My! Don't I wish I could say something to destroy this habit! To do that would be to save the world a tremendous percentage of its suffering.

Can it be that the automobile has had something to do with the habit of our going at lightning speed. Nobody seems willing to cultivate leisurely lives. We go along as if we were late for a train.

"Haste makes waste," is an old adage we have quite forgotten. We have all sorts of accidents in consequence of our hurry.

Surgeons who rush their work and by brilliant strokes impress their onlookers are not always safe operators. I hasten to add that puttering and fussing, the opposite qualities, are not conclusive proof of skill. But the surgeon who goes ahead no faster than his field is clear and the exactness of his movements can be certain, is the safe surgeon. It never pays to rush.

The tendency to rush things is frequently the result of a sort of chronic brain storm. You get into a perfect stew, your brain is in a whirl, you are in a fever of impatience. You can't get your collar over the button. Your tie won't fall into place. You can't get the hooks of your dress fastened.

You were cross and flustered before, but the results of your impatience make you worse. In consequence, your heart beats furiously and your blood pressure mounts.

The wonder to me is that more persons do not die of apoplexy. It is a tribute to the master workmanship of Nature that the blood vessels resist the demands made under such circumstances.

Heart disease is on the increase and, in my opinion, one of the reasons for it is the pernicious rushing habit. Hurry, hurry, hurry—no wonder the heart, ever under the lash, breaks down under the strain.

This bad habit is a foolish one. It is like a man hurrying as fast as he can so his one pail of paint will finish the job! Of course, nothing is gained by haste. More than likely the painter will stumble and spill his supply and certainly the job will be poorly done, even if the paint holds out.

If you would have good health, sanity of thought, foresight, contentment of mind, and long life, you will give up the rushing habit. By settling down to a temperate pace you will increase your effectiveness in everything.

E.E.H.—Q: My little girl of 19 months of age has a very weak ankle and cannot walk straight on it. What would you advise?

A: She should have a suitable shoe or brace fitted to her particular need. See your doctor and he will advise you.

MRS. G.M.D.—Q: What would you advise for a twitching eye? 2, What should a girl of 16, 5 ft. 3 in. tall, weigh?

A: Probably due to a nervous condition. Have your eyes examined. You may need glasses. 2, She should weigh about 115 pounds.

(Copyright, 1926, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

CONTINUE TRIAL OF HULL WOMAN

Children of Accused Tell of Father Beating Mother.

DRANK PARIS GREEN.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press)—The trial of Dora Navion Pacquette, charged with the murder of her common law husband, William Henri Martel, who died of paris green poisoning shortly after he had been admitted to hospital the first week of September, is being continued today in Hull Criminal Assizes and will probably last most of the week. The feature of the trial so far has been the pathetic evidence of two of the children of the accused, the eldest, Dorothy Martel, who is eleven years old, and her nine year old brother Henry.

The evidence of the two children was contradictory to a considerable extent. Both told that their father had beaten their mother on several occasions and on the morning when the tragedy was enacted he had thrown her against the gas stove in their home in Hull and hurled blocks of wood at her. Afterwards he went out to feed his horse and later returned to drink the liquid which proved to be water and paris green.

GOVERNMENT TAKES UP LIQUOR BUSINESS

Turkey To Control Manufacture and Sale—Revenue For Arms.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 24 (Canadian Press). — The Turkish Government has decided to take over, on June 1st, the alcoholic drink business of the country. It will manufacture douzico, the national drink, which resembles aniseed cordial, and also light wines and beers and regulate the importation of alcoholic beverages.

Five per cent. of the liquor revenue will be devoted to aviation, the army, and the navy.

Our native land charms us with inexpressible sweetness and never allows us to forget that we belong to it. —Ovid.

One of the newest treatments of the twin flower ornament, as featured by Jenny, is to place it at the shoulder with one flower facing forward, the other back.

Lodge Solves Problem Of Radio Oscillators

LONDON, March 24 (Canadian Press). — The Evening Standard says that after 3 years of research, Sir Oliver Lodge, eminent scientist, has solved the problem of the wireless 'howler' or oscillator, which has baffled experts throughout the world. Briefly, the paper says, the discovery will ensure perfect reception without aerial tuning, thus avoiding the use of reaction "regeneration." It will not add to the cost of new sets but will mean the alteration of existing receivers.

LARGER PROFITS MADE BY C.G.E.

Net Profits Leave Large Surplus After Paying Dividends.

REPORT PRESENTED.

TORONTO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Reflecting progress in the Canadian electrical industry, the annual report of the Canadian General Electric Company was issued at the annual meeting of the company here today. Net profits are $933,751, compared with $578,473 in 1924, an increase of $355,277, while dividend payments amount to $533,541, leaving surplus profits of $380,209 over dividend requirements, compared with surplus profits of $66,246 in 1924. Out of this surplus the company has written the entire amount of the premium paid in retiring five million dollars of debentures, amounting to $375 000. Larger earnings derived from small production is the result of improved manufacturing facilities, methods and engineering, the report states. The reduced output was principally in mechanical equipment, while the sale of electrical apparatus, merchandise and lamps was well maintained.

ASK FOR ABOLITION OF BONUS SYSTEM

Railway Shopmen of Canadian Lines Ask For Change.

MONTREAL, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Rail shopmen on the Canadian lines in convention here yesterday went on record in favor of the abolition of the bonus contract system. The system is one under which a certain section of the shop crafts gets a bonus on increased output.

ABROGATING TREATY.

Australia and South Africa To Make New Treaty.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Mar. 24 (Canadian Press).—Hon. H. E. Pratten, federal minister of trade and customs, announced in the House of Representatives today that the Government intended shortly to abrogate the commercial treaty between Australia and South Africa, prior to negotiating a new reciprocal treaty.

LEADING LAW SUIT.

Countess of Suffolk, who is leading the law suit in Chicago to have her brother, Joseph Leiter, ousted from the management of the Leiter estate. She alleges mismanagement.

FAILURE TO PAY CUSTOMS DUTY

Customs Committee Inquires Into Shipment of Yorkshire Coal.

BROKER TESTIFIES.

OTTAWA, March 24. Canadian Press. — The cargo of Yorkshire coal, which first entered Canada as duty free anthracite, and the part that Giroux, father and son, played in the transaction, again held the attention of the customs enquiry committee this morning.

A. E. Giroux, chief of the customs examiners, and father of Antonio Giroux, customs broker, who testified yesterday, occupied the witness chair throughout the sitting.

From him R. L. Calder, K.C., and Hon. H. H. Stevens endeavored to ascertain how it was that the son's failure to pay $2600 duty on a cargo of coal remained undiscovered for over a year.

Mr. Giroux said that when he discovered that his son had not paid the duty on coal he instructed him to do so.

"You did not do so before you were caught," interjected Hon. H. H. Stevens.

"I was not caught—I was never caught personally," was the retort of the witness.

Mr. Stevens informed the committee that the fact was that restitution of $2600 had been made only after consignees of coal had been "telephoning daily in vain for their entry number in order taht they could present a claim for shortage."

MALE VOICE CHOIR TICKETS ON SALE

Subscribers' Tickets Are Being Exchanged For Seat Coupons.

The lobby of the Grand Opera House presented a very busy spectacle this morning when the plan opened at 10 o'clock for the exchange of subscribers' tickets for reserved seat coupons, in connection with The Peterboro Male Voice Choir Concert on Friday night, and the members of the organization will no doubt be greeted with a capacity house when the curtain goes up. The concert will start promptly at 8.15 p.m. and the management would appreciate everyone being in their seats by this time, so that no interruptions may occur during the rendering of any of the selections.

MARMORA BOOSTER CLUB CASTS UP ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF YEAR

J. P. Marrin Elected President at Third Annual Meeting on Monday.

BALANCE OF $67.

MARMORA, March 24. — The third annual meeting of the Marmora Booster Club was held in the Council Chambers on Monday evening, the retiring president, Dr. H. Crawford, being in the chair. Following reading of minutes of last annual meeting, the report of the secretary-treasurer was presented by Mr. J. P. Marrin. Main points were brought out of the club's finances. Receipts for the year amounted to $1,598.30, and disbursements realizing $1,531.28, a balance was struck of $67.02. It was pointed out that $500 has to be paid on the park yet before it is free of debt.

There is also the contemplated expenditure on fifty or sixty road signs which will be posted up as roads become good again. Election of officers was next proceeded with. In vain was the president entreated to accept re-election. The new officers will be: President, J. P. Marrin; 1st Vice-President, W. F. Bowen; 2nd Vice-President, W. R. Linn; Secretary, H. W. Sabine; Treasurer, C. W. Gladney; Board of Directors: F. N. Marettt, T. E. Potts, Dr. Thomson, M. E. Grant and F. S. Pearce.

The announcement was then made that the incorporation of the Club was the matter of a few weeks, when a charter would be granted it.

Re-stocking Lakes.

Another interesting announcement was to the effect that 100,000 bass fry and 500,000 pickerel fry would be placed in Crowe Lake, North and South Twin Sister Lakes and Burnt Lake this year. Considerable discussion on game fish followed, introduced by Mr. F. S. Pearce. As an outcome, it was moved by Dr. H. Crawford and seconded by Mr. D. E. Bell, that a representative from the Department of Fisheries, Ottawa, or a speaker from Toronto University be secured to give a lecture concerning haunts and habits of game fish. The new president next enquired if there had been any adverse criticism of last summer's military camp held in the town.

No complaint having been heard, a motion was passed, whereby the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment will be invited by letter and personal interview to hold their camp in Marmora again this year.

Approve Town Band.

The project of a town band next came up for consideration, receiving the commendation of all members present.

The final item of business dealing with a prospective minstrel show was referred to the Executive Committee.

Smallpox Outbreak.

Owing to an outbreak of smallpox in the village, all unvaccinated children are ordered by the Board of Health to be vaccinated before March 29.

Mr. D. E. Bell attended the Varsity-Gunners game at Ottawa on Saturday.

The funeral of the late Robert Cole on Monday afternoon was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Local sugar bushes were the scene of activities on Monday. Messrs. George Bedore, James Murray and Leo Doyle were amongst the first to tap.

Seeking, Not Giving News G. P. Graham Says in Toronto

TORONTO, March 24.—Canadian Press. — "I'm looking for news; I'm a newspaper proprietor. I'm not giving out news," Hon. George P. Graham said on his arrival here to-day. He addressed the young men's Liberal Club.

French Franc's New Low Set Due To Present Crisis

LONDON, Mar. 24 (United Press) — With the Governments of Great Britain and Germany overwhelmingly sustained by their respective Parliaments on their actions at the recent League of Nations meeting at Geneva, the interest of Europe turns to-day to Paris, where Premier Briand seems on the verge of being voted out of office for the ninth time.

The French franc to-day set a new record for depreciation on the local course, where 139 5-8 francs could be bought for one pound sterling. The franc closed yesterday at 138.8. Belgium currency was sympathetically weak at 121 5-8, compared to yesterday's close of 120 3-4.

STUDIO CLUB.

Monthly Meeting of Dorothy Park Club Held on Saturday.

The monthly meeting of the Dorothy Park Studio Club met on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Park, with Miss Helen Lytle, the present, presiding.

A delightful programme was given by the pupils, the following taking part:

Paper on "Aida," by Verna Burgess.

(a) The Hour (Willeby), (b) Dawn (Curran), Helen Lamb.

(a) Sunset (Grieg), (b) The Leaves and the Wind (Leoni), Ida McBride.

(a) In May (Schumann), (b) Sylvia (Oley Speaks), Bertha Hill.

Paper, "The Poetry and Power of Slav Music," Mrs. Allen.

(a) Serenade (Gounod), (b) Solveig's Song (Grieg), Mrs. Williamson.

(a) Sapphic Ode (Brahms), (b) Good Morning, Mister Sunshine (Liza Lehmann), Mrs. Doig.

Accompanist, Miss Agnes Logan.

A social tea hour brought to the close an afternoon well spent.

MARSHALL GUILTY IN SECOND DEGREE

Imprisonment Penalty To Be Imposed For Murder of Milliner.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 24 (Canadian Press).—David L. Marshall, chiropractor, was to-day convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Anna May Dietrich, 35-year-old milliner, a friend of the convicted man. Parts of her dismembered body were found in a wooded suburban section near Philadelphia on January 21.

The verdict carries with it a penalty of ten to twenty years' imprisonment.

DOUBLE PORTFOLIO.

Minister of Justice Sworn in as Secretary of State.

OTTAWA, March 24.— (Canadian Press.)—Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, to-day also became Secretary of State. Mr. Lapointe will thus hold double portfolio, although the identity of the two departments remain. The appointment does not involve a by-election. Mr. Lapointe was sworn in as Secretary of State in the presence of Governor-General and of the Prime Minister.

'PRO' LEAGUE ON NHL MODEL MAY BE INSTITUTED

Meeting of Promoters Held in Boston Tuesday—Plans Drafted.

ADOPT N.H.L. RULES.

American Hockey League Chosen as Name of Proposed Circuit.

BOSTON March 24 (Canadian Press).—A new professional hockey league that will be on a footing equal to the National Hockey League, will be in operation in seven or eight cities of the United States and Canada next winter if plans laid by promoters here yesterday mature. The new circuit, the promoters voted, shall be known as the American Hockey League and it shall bear the same relation to the National League as the two major baseball leagues bear to one another.

Representatives of interests in New York, Providence, Montreal and Boston attended the meeting. Suitable rinks already exist in these cities. The league will later consider admitting New Haven, Conn.; Springfield, Mass.; Newark, and Jersey City. The admission of these cities hinges upon the development of suitable playing surfaces.

The rebuilding of the New Haven rink, the installation of freezing equipment in West Springfield and building of a rink at Jersey City, it was said, made likely a seven team circuit. Newark, too, may have an arena.

A committee was named to draw up working agreement. When these are prepared the promoters will meet again. It was intimated that with the next meet important and more detailed announcements might be expected. The rules of the new league, it was indicated, will be the same as those of the National League.

Among those who attended yesterday's meeting were Leo Dandurand Montreal; Herbert C. Milot and Judge J. E. Dooley, Providence; Harold J. Dibble, Madison Square Garden, New York; George V. Brown, Boston Arena; Geo. F. Sears and Albert Geiger, Boston.

TENNIS HELD UP.

Cannes Tourney Finals May Not Be Played.

CANNES, France, March 24 Canadian Press)—For the second successive day, rain yesterday prevented the playing of the finals match in the women's singles of the Cannes tennis tournament between Miss Helen Wills and Miss Joan Ridley, of England, and if the rain continues today this match probably will remain unplayed. The United States champion announced yesterday that she intends to leave for Italy Thursday morning, while Miss Ridley expects to depart for London tonight.

Suzanne Lenglen returned to Nice yesterday looking fit after her rest in the region of Lake Como. She said she would play in no more Riviera tournaments this season, but would content herself with only a few practise matches before leaving for London, where she will make her next appearance in champion tennis at Wimbledon in June.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

JOCK HUTCHISON—LET CLUBS DO IT.

Don't be afraid to use the ground on all occasions after the ball is hit. Ninety per cent of the failures in golf come from trying to pick the ball off the ground. Of course, this can be overdone and one can get in the habit of taking too much turf but it is a fault easily corrected.

Beginners err mostly with their irons in attempting to loft the ball with a movement of the hands or the body instead of letting the club do The clubs they mostly fail with are t mid-rion and the mashie, and there no two clubs in the golfing kit that easier to play.

Here is the secret of success w both of these clubs. Hit the ball cris and send the club-head straight after the ball, letting it run along ground as far as the hands and arms permit.

If you are afflicted with the top habit, try to drive the ball into ground. You will get the proper of the stroke immediately, as th quite impossible. The loft of the will throw the ball into the air e time.

(Copyright, 1925.)

HOCKEY SCORES.

Hockey games played Tue resulted as follows:

N.H.L. Play-Offs.

Montreal 3, Pittsburgh 3. Mor wins round.

O.H.A. Memorial Cup

Kingston 4, Calgary 2.

Senior W.C.S.S.A. Final

Guelph 7, London Central 3. Gu wins championship, 13 to 4.

Exhibition

Portland 3 New York 2.
Canadiens 4, Boston Bruins 2.

Join the Exhibition!

BASEBALL SCORES

(By Canadian Press)

San Francisco, Calif, March 23.—The score:

Chicago (N)	8	15	1
Missions (PCL)	4	10	5

Blake, Alexander and Gonzales, Oeschger, Pillette, Bryan and Walters.

San Antonio, Tex, March 23.—The score:

St. Louis (N)	5	9	3
San Antonio (Texas)	2	7	2

Johnson and O'Farrell, Warwick; Kaiser and Wirts.

Fort Myers, Fla. March 23—Score:

Baltimore (I)	4	4	2
Philadelphia (A)	8	8	0

Noble and Cobb; Rommel, Grove and Cochrane.

HYDRO TEAM IS LEAGUE LEADER

Defeats Outlaws 1-0 in Close Game on Soft Ice.

LUCKY TO WIN.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 24—The Hydro boys won the Town League championship when they won a hectic struggle from the Outlaws 1 to 0, at Covert's Arena on Monday night. It was the fifth meeting of the two teams and the Hydro team was victorious on two occasions, while the other three were tied, the total score being Hydro 11, Outlaws 9. The Hydro were without Cecil Watt on left wing, and Art Brown on the defence, and without detracting from their hard earned laurels, in any way, they were decidedly lucky to win Monday night's contest. The ice was soft, and in places was covered with water making good hockey out of the question, and favored by lady luck the Outlaws might have been returned the winners. Jack Cowell got the only goal of the game twelve minutes after the start, when he batted a rolling puck from twenty feet out and just as it reached Stuart it took a bad hop, and bounced over his stick into the net. It was a tough break for the clever Outlaw goaler for he performed brilliantly against the hard shooting Hydro. Saunders in the Hydro net was equally brilliant and got everything that came his way.

The Outlaws had more speed than the electric boys, but failed to take advantage of it, by roaming all over the ice, while the Hydros stuck to their positions and when they got possession of the rubber, they took the short route to the Outlaw goal.

Both sextets stepped out to get goals, and while the pace was not as fast, or the hockey as brilliant as the teams would have displayed on hard ice, it was a close and exciting game and the rooters of both teams had plenty of opportunity to exercise their vocal organs, and they will be arguing the merits of their favorites for some time to come.

It was a fitting climax to the best hockey season Campbellford fans have witnessed in some years.

The line-ups:

Hydro		Outlaws
Saunders	goal	Stewart
Badgley	r. defence	Sarginson
Col. Watt	l. defence	Brown
Nesbitt	centre	Blue
Johnston	r. wing	Copperthwaite
Cowell	l. wing	McArthur
Beatty	subs	Coulter

Referee—C. S. Weston.

MAROONS ENTER LEAGUE PLAY-OFF

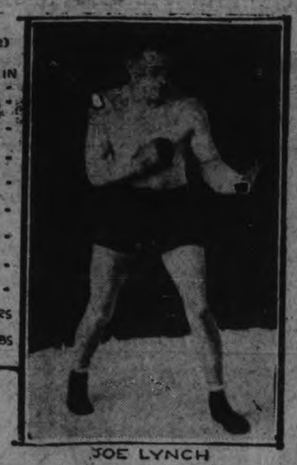
Defeat Pirates 6-4 in Semi-Final Round of N.H.L.

FINAL GAME TIE.

MONTREAL, Mar. 24 (Canadian Press) — Montreal Maroons earned the right to meet Ottawa Senators in the final games of the National Hockey League play-offs when they tied up Pittsburg Pirates here last night by a 3 to 3 score. The Maroons thus took the home and home games with the Pirates by six goals to four.

CARL TREMAINE

	CARL TREMAINE (CANADIAN)	JOE LYNCH (IRISH-AMER)
HEIGHT	5 3½ IN	5 2½ IN
CHEST (normal)	36	38
" (expanded)	38	40
REACH	65	66
NECK	14½	14½
FOREARM	11	12
WRIST	6½	6½
BICEPS	19	20
CALF	13	12
AGE	24 YRS	24 YRS
WEIGHT	122 LBS	122 LBS



JOE LYNCH

In Toronto on March 30th Carl Tremaine, of Cleveland, and California Joe Lynch, of San Francisco, two of the hardest hitting and best bantams in the world meet in a 10-round bout. The winner is promised a crack at "Bushy" Graham, of Utica, within a month, and the winner of that tilt at the championship crown at the new Maple Leaf stadium May 15th. The above layout shows how the two men shape up.

The NUT Cracker

By JOE WILLIAMS

They've changed Cabinets in France again. They change 'em over there more often than Connie Mack changes pitchers in a ball game.

The French governing power never lasts long enough to become popular. Or unpopular either for that matter.

A French statesman starts the day with the responsibilities of the Republic on his shoulders and ends it with the official ax on his warm, pulsuating neck.

There are a lot of uncertainties in life, including matrimony, trapeze work, channel swimming, white mule and French politics.

What France seems to need is a more stable government and less braying in the political barnyards.

Some of the grounds on which a new-mown government may be abruptly and informally overturned in France are:

(a) Eating spring peas with a knife.
(b) Failing to apologize to a taxicab driver after being run down.
(c) Incorrect pronunciation of the word apache.
(d) Wearing fawn-colored spat on Tuesday between 3 and 5 o'clock.
(e) Consuming German pilsner in public.
(f) Consuming German pilsner in private.

The current model of French governments seems to have been patterned after Georges Carpentier's fighting style. Georges usually went out in the early rounds, too.

It probably will become necessary to devise some means of entertainment to at least keep the French statesman in one spot long enough to pose for an official group picture. We suggest:

(1) Joe Cook imitating a trio of Peruvians.
(2) Babe Ruth hitting pop flies to the infield.
(3) Dempsey and Wills signing a fight contract in Niles, Mich., or Moline, Ill.
(4) A treatise on the spiritual phases of love by Peggy Hopkins.

The following ad is being run in the classified sections of the Paris dailies:

"WANTED — Lightning change artists and others interested merely in week-end employment for positions in the French Cabinet. None others need apply."

STECHER GETS ORDER.

Must Wrestle Utica Challenger, Board Commands.

NEW YORK, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Joe Stecher of Dodge City Neb., claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, Tuesday was ordered by the State Athletic Commission to meet Joe Malcewicz of Utica, N.Y., in a title match. Stecher recently refused to meet Malcewicz in a Boston ring when the latter was substituted as an opponent in a last minute shift.

Boxers and managers suffered alike in a series of suspension and "sick leaves" administered by the board.

Scotty Montieth, one of the managers of Louis (Kid) Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., world's featherweight champion, was suspended until he answer a summons to appear before the commission to explain the action of Kaplan in refusing to fulfill a contract to meet Kid Roy, Canadian featherweight champion, in Montreal, November 19, 1925. The Montreal commission filed a compalint against Kaplan and his managers, and the New York board started an investigation by summoning Montieth.

M'GRAW MEN DO AS HE TELLS 'EM

Scott Made To Pitch For Both Sides and He Does It.

SARASOTA, Fla. March 24. — One of the biggest reasons why the New York Giants as a rule have a good ball club and why they will have an unsually good team this year is John J. McGraw.

McGraw's ball players do as he tells them and he knows what to tell them.

A few days ago in the training camp the squad was being divided into two teams for a practice session and McGraw turned to Roger Bresnahan, his first lieutenant, and told him to tell Big Jack Scott, the Carolina farmer, to pitch.

Pitches for Both.

Scott was warming up with a catcher and when Bresnahan told him he was to work four innings Scott asked "on which side."

"For both sides," Bresnahan answered.

"Taint right. They won't give me no chance to bat," he drawled.

"Right or wrong, it goes. Get in there!" the coach replied.

And Scott got it.

It was the same iron hand that forced Scott to sign a contract when he was holding out for more money and it was the same hard rule that kept Frankie Frisch, Freddy Lindstrom and other star players from dictating the terms of their contracts.

Terry is Still Out

Of all the star players who wanted more money, only Bill Terry, the substitute first baseman, is holding his ground.

"Let him stay where he is. We don't need him," McGraw said.

From the looks of the Giants' squad, McGraw does not need any more players than he now has on hand with the possible exception of a hustling young catcher and he may have found him in Melvin Ott or Mac McMullen. McGraw, however wants to make an outfielder out of Ott.

The team with which McGraw feels confident he will beat out the Pittsburgh Pirates will line up as it started last season and as it would have played through if it had not been wrecked by injuries. There may be only one change, in centre field, where Al Tyson, a highly-touted rookie, may replace Billy Southworth.

George Kelly, Frankie Frisch, Travis Jackson and Freddy Lindstrom have been decided upon as the infield.

Irish Meusel, Tyson and Pep Young will be the regular outfield with Southworth in reserve.

The military discipline that prevails around the Giant camp is most impressive and it conveys the idea that McGraw has good ball players and that they have to play ball or else——.

DRAKE KNOCKED OUT IN MINUTE

English Heavyweight Made Poor Showing Against Spaniard.

PARIS, March 24 (Canadian Press). — Paolino Uzcudun, the Spanish heavyweight pugilist, knocked out Harry Drake, English heavyweight, last night after one minute and 25 seconds of fighting.

Drake put up a miserable showing, although pronounced fit physically by physicians. They had made an examination of his heart at the instance of Henri Bernstein, the noted referee, who had refused to officiate on the ground that Drake suffered from a weak heart.

Last night 5,000 spectators gathered in the Cirque De Paris, freely gave vent to their opinion that the English heavyweight was almost entirely without heart. The crowd cheered Bernstein, while they pelted the ring with all kinds of missiles.

Drake behaved like one suffering from palsy and hardly laid a glove on Paolino, who was very deliberate in putting his opponent to sleep.

OTTAWA PROVIDED FIRST SNOW STORM

(Continued from page one.)

"They were not there to honor me; not one out of every hundred knew me. But they wanted to show their appreciation to the representative of Britain."

He said that while he did not know what Britain's policy with Egypt would be in the future, he was sure that she would continue to keep faith with Egypt and would stand by her friends there. She would never allow people who flouted her good efforts and murdered her representatives to rule the country. Britain would continue as in the past to be true to her friends and never knuckle to her enemies.

The speaker gave an outline of Egypt's history and asserted that great as it had been there never was a time when Egypt was so important to the rest of the world as it was today.

CUBS DOUBTFUL QUANTITY IN OLD LEAGUE

By DAN THOMAS.

AVALON, Catalina Island, March 24.—One new manager and a barrel of dough have injected new life into Bill Wrigley's gum-chewing Chicago Cubs—the worst team in the National League last year.

Joe McCarthy, who led Louisville to the championship of the American Association in 1925, is the new boss. The money was spent for new players. Among them are "Lefty" O'Doul, Joe Kelly, Charley Root, Clyde Beck and "Red" Shannon.

Three managers couldn't drag the Cubs out of the cellar last season. Bill Killefer, "Rabbit" Maranville and Johnny Evers tried and each in turn failed. But "Silent Joe" McCarthy, dubbed this because of his refusal to comment on his team, is expected to have better success.

Hard daily workouts and exhibition games with Pacific Coast League clubs have been the roads travelled by the Bruins during the spring training season at their million-dollar camp.

"Our pitching staff looks exceptionally strong this year," declares Manager McCarthy, "though Grover Alexander's injury will hurt for the first weeks of the chase. He's still the best moundsman in the league, however, and I look for him to turn in over 20 wins, providing he returns to top-notch shape.

"Then there's Tony Kaufmann, who is always a dependable man in the box. Charley Root, sensational right-hander with the Los Angeles club last year, should come through for us, too. If I could pick up a couple of good s[illegible] my pitching worries would be over."

JOE McCARTHY

And with that speech—an extremely long one for him—"Silent Joe" withdrew into his shell. Bill Piercy, Fred Blake, Jack Welsh and Clayton Touchstone are the others who have a chance to remain on Wrigley's payroll as hurlers.

"Gabby" Hartnett, who has more pep than any other three men on the club combined, will do most of the work behind the plate. Hartnett is starting his fifth season with the Windy City outfit and he still has the enthusiasm of an 18-year-old rookie. There isn't another backstop in the league who can throw like he can. Mike Gonzalles and Earl Gilpin will relieve Hartnett.

The infield will be pretty well handled by Charley Grimm at first, Earl "Sparky" Adams on second, "Red" Shannon at short and Howard Freigau holding down third. Grimm, Adams and Freigau are all Cub veterans. McCarthy brought Shannon with him from Louisville. He is a vet of the majors, having played under Connie Mack at Philadelphia and with the Boston Red Sox.

Almost an entire set of new faces will appear in the outfield. Joe Kelly, Floyd Scott, Hack Wilson, Cliff Heathcote, Art Jahn and Howard Fitzgerald will bear the brunt of the work. Heathcote and Wilson will be the only familiar flychasers to Cub fans.

One of the main differences that will be seen in the Bruins this year will be their change of spirit. If spirit was the only qualification necessary they would be right on top of the heap. But unfortunately it isn't, so McCarthy will be lucky if he gets the gang into the first division at all.

LEADERS Their Records of 1925 BATTING

BILL SHERDEL.

Made major league debut with St. Louis Cardinals in 1918, coming from Milwaukee.

Had best season in 1925. Won 15, lost six; percentage .714. Led league in won and lost column.

Rated sixth in effectiveness, allowing 3.11 earned runs per fracas. Issued but 42 passes in 32 games. Pretty good for a southpaw.

In 1922 won 17 and lost 13. Next season had 15 wins, 13 defeats.

Pitched better ball last season than at any other time and is figured one of the Cards' best bets for the coming campaign.

Tour Jasper National Park the Pacific Coast and Alaska

TAKE the most thrilling trip on the continent. Tour Jasper National Park with its 4400 square miles of gorgeous mountain scenery. Stay at Jasper Park Lodge, the mountain hotel de luxe, and from there motor, golf, climb mountains, ride, hike or swim.

See the incomparable beauty of the Pacific Coast. Take the glorious cruise through the Sheltered Scenic Seas to Alaska.

Canadian National will gladly help plan and arrange your trip.

Write or ask for fares and profusely illustrated booklets.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

J. B. DORAN
324 George St.
Phone 259

Who Is Your Favorite?

Boys! Here's your chance!

Here's a competition you can all get in.

Write two hundred words about your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey Team, Champions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The prize winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given to the team in recognition of its splendid work this season.

This is the idea. The Petes have brought to this city the first Senior Championship it has ever had. They deserve all kinds of credit. Every boy on the team did his share. But you have your favorite—maybe you think he plays smarter hockey than the others; or he may skate better; or he may be merely better looking. Whatever your reason, write it out in not more than 200 words, and send it to "The Contest Editor, The Examiner," observing these simple rules:

(1) Open only to boys of 17 or under.
(2) Accuracy, penmanship, composition and neatness coun'
(3) Contest closes at midnight, March 27.
(4) Pictures of the players will be run every day, without names. Clip out the picture of your favorite and paste it on a sheet of paper with his name written carefully under it. Pin this to your 200 word story or essay.
(5) A coupon, properly filled in and signed by a parent or guardian, must accompany every entry.

A committee of prominent citizens will be asked to decide the winner, and in case of dispute the Editor's decision will be final.

The date of the banquet will be announced later.

Clip out this Coupon and attach it to your essay.

FAVORITE HOCKEY PLAYER CONTEST

My Name .....

My address .....

My Favorite Hockey Player.....

The above contestant is.....years of age.

.....(Parent or Guardian)

VETERAN TEAM MATES

Everett Scott and Ray Schalk will be White Sox teammates this season. They are two of the games greatest "Iron men," Scott for consecutive playing and Schalk as a catcher. Despite their long service, Manager Eddie Collins expects much of them in the coming campaign.

Tony Weller knew hotels

The coachman father of Sam Weller had a knowledge of hotels which, like Sam's knowledge of the City of London, was "extensive and peculiar".

With what a chuckle of satisfaction he would have landed his passengers at The Westminster!

All the homey comfort and restfulness of the old coaching inns, with every modern convenience added. Here the tired traveller can indeed "take his ease at his inn."

Fireproof; perfect equipment and cuisine; unobtrusive service. On a beautiful residential street, yet close to shops and theatres. Single room with bath, $2.50.

When you arrive in Toronto ask for a De Luxe Cab and say "Westminster"

Westminster
The Only Hotel of its kind in Canada
240-242 Jarvis Str. Toronto

Capitol Theatre

LAST TIME TONIGHT — 8 P.M.

McNabb's Spring Fashion Revue

BLANCHE SENIOR
Soprano

FEATURE PRESENTATION
Rex Beach's

The Auction Block

With
CHARLES RAY - ELEANOR BOARDMAN

THURSDAY -- FRIDAY - SATURDAY

A rugged, thrilling action-story of the west. Kyne's latest and greatest story. Adapted by James S. Hamilton.

MOVIGRAPHS

NEW YORK, March 24. — Madge Bellamy, beautiful Fox Films star, is nothing if not versatile. Since signing her contract with Fox a little over a year ago, this talented young lady has played featured parts in nine big productions—each one of them different.

As a winsome miss of the early eighties she made her debut for Fox in "The Iron Horse." Next she was called upon to play the role of a wilful little English girl in "The Dancers," which called for a complete submergence of her own charming personality.

Next she was old Lightnin' Bill's daughter Millie in the Fox Films version of Frank Bacon's immortal play —a typical small town girl. After that she was called on to play "Tessie Dutton," the plucky little heroine of "Havoc" in which she gave one of the finest performances of her career.

After that she became an appealing though tough little circus waif who cast her lot with Kentucky mountaineers in "Thunder Mountain," then the lead in "The Golden Strain" as the fiery little daughter of an army commandant.

"The Dixie Merchant," another Frank Borzage production, gave her another character to portray, that of a spunky little southern girl. And now comes "Sandy," in which Miss Nellamy is called on to draw heavily from her acting experience and which promises to be the greatest role of her career.

BOWLING

LADIES' MERCANTILE LEAGUE.

Teachers took three games from Examiner ladies by default last night. Miss Buckham had high single of 202, and high three games with 488.

Teachers—
M. Herridge	129	139	113	381
V. Buckham	202	151	135	488
A. Milburn	86	136	88	310
M. Baird	115	114	98	327
Total	532	540	434	1506

CITY LEAGUE

At the Water Street Alleys Herb Mason's Groceterias stepped into LeBarrs last night and took three games from them. V. Fuller high single 286, 202, 187; high three 675. Bennewith 240.

LeBarrs:
T. LeBarr	133	120	138—	391
L. W. LeBarr	186	113	157—	456
J. LeBarr	144	111	153—	408
W. Jackson	184	147	106—	437
Mr. LeBarr	162	187	148—	497
	809	678	702—	2189
Groceterias:
R. Penrose	161	172	177—	510
H. Bennewith	240	175	96—	511
V. Fuller	187	286	202—	675
O. Martin	193	155	175—	523
H. G. Mason	101	161	94—	356
	882	949	744—	2575

At the Water Street Alleys last night, Lawn Bowlers took three games from Canadian Woollens playing an extra frame and winning by three points in the first game. Hopkins high single 253, Bredin 202, Mayneord 207. Bredin high three 578.

Can. Woollens:
Weese	164	196	125—	485
Crary	113	181	152—	446
Hopkins	253	156	125—	534
Cordery	154	123	127—	404
Warren	126	121	106—	353
	810	777	635—	2222
Lawn Bowlers
Sedgwick	180	142	173—	495
Elliot	138	173	128—	439
Barrette	124	157	287—	568
Bredin	161	202	215—	578
Mayneord	207	151	106—	464
	810	825	709—	2544

LADIES' MATINEE

At Water Street Alleys Miss Allen took two games from Mrs. Shaughnessy. Mrs. Hayes high single 215. Mrs. Ferguson 161, 181, Mrs. Sanderson 160, Miss Allen 186, Mrs. Sanderson high three 451.

Mrs. Shaugnessy:
Mrs. Hayes	215	83	123—	421
Mrs. Niven	105	87	144—	336
Mrs. Ferguson	100	161	181—	442
Mrs. Shaughnessy	101	146	91—	338
	521	477	539—	1537
Mrs. Allen:
Mrs. Sanderson	160	143	148—	451
Mrs. James	97	150	157—	404
Mrs. Delong	131	134	58—	323
Mrs. Allen	186	124	97—	407
	574	551	460—	1585

KINGTON WINS FIRST OF SERIES

Beats Calgary Canadians 4-2 in the Memorial Cup Final.

LOSERS OUTPLAYED.

WINNIPEG, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Kingston Juniors took a long step forward in their quest after the Dominion Junior championship, when they outplayed Calgary Canadiens in all but the third period last night to win the first game of the two-game final series for the title, 4 to 2. The final game of the series will be played on Thursday night. Kingston scored twice in the first period last night while Calgary was getting a single tally. They held the Western champions and Abbott Cup holders scoreless in the second period, while they added two more goals to their total. In the third period, Calgary scored once while holding Kingston without a tally.

DIMS FRISCH'S WORK

The brilliance of the play of Rogers Hornsby at second has somewhat dimmed the fine showing of Frankie Frisch, who otherwise would be breaking into the headlines.

FANS FALL FOR THEM—THEY FALL FOR CHARLESTON

They all fall for the new stuff sooner or later. Candidates for the West Virginia University wrestling squad are now required to master the Charleston before they can represent the Mountaineer school on the mat. Coach Steve Harrick, who originated the idea of making the latest dance craze a part of the team's training activities, claims it strengthens the leg muscles, increases speed and makes for deceptive and clever footwork.

Those shown above, with their weights, from left to right, are: Krickovic, 158; Pitzenberger, 190; Neel, 115; Cole, 175, and Johnson, 135.

ALLAN CUP SERIES STARTING TO-NIGHT

Varsity and Port Arthur Clash in Games in Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The Port Arthur hockey team, Dominion amateur champions, are defending the Allan Cup, Canada's highest award in amateur hockey, against Toronto University in a two-game series at the Forum here. The first game takes place tonight and the second on Friday.

SWIMMER TO TRY TO CROSS CHANNEL

Helen Wainwright Will Attempt Long Swim in August.

TAMPA, Fla., March 24 (United Press).—"I will attempt to swim the English Channel next August," Helen Wainwright, former Olympic swimming champion announced following the completion of her 11-mile swim around Travis Island in four hours and 50 minutes yesterday.

Miss Wainwright showed her reserve strength by sprinting the last 50 yards.

"I could have gone much farther," she said, as she left the water.

CARPET BOWLING.

All Saints' Men's Club Wins Game With L.O.L. 50.

L.O.L. 50 paid a return visit to All Saints' Men's Club and was defeated at carpel bowls, 55 to 25. After the game a social half hour was spent which was much enjoyed.

ENGINEERS TO HEAR OF RADIO SYSTEM

Installation in Northwest To Be Explained in Illustrated Lecture.

At the next regular meeting of the Peterboro Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, Major Arthur W. Steel of the Department of National Defence will give an address on the "Installation and Operation of the North-West Territories Radio System."

Radio is, of course, of interest to practically every one nowadays, and when coupled with such an interesting topic as that indicated, namely, the North-West Territories, it is felt that the address, which will be illustrated throughout by lantern slides, will no doubt appeal to many citizens who may not be members of the engineering profession.

The executive therefore again extends a cordial invitation to attend the meeting to any person who may be interested in the subjects to be covered.

The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce at 8.15 p.m. on Thursday, and the chairman will be E. R. Shirley, M.E.I.C.

AT K. OF C. ALLEYS.

At the Knights of Columbus' bowling alleys last evening, the Sunflowers (Miss Helen Lynch, captain) took two games out of three from the Poppies (Miss Katie Radey, captain), and the Morning Glories (Miss Marion Hayes, captain) conceded three games to the Bluebirds (Miss E. Leahy, captain).

Mrs. F. Collins of the Sunflowers had scores of 182 and 175, and Miss Ahearn of the Poppies 189 and 156.

Much learning shows how little mortals know;
Much wealth, how little worldings an enjoy. —Young.

SMALL SHARES OF RINK STOCK

Par Value for New Arena Shares Will Be Ten Dollars.

GOING ON SALE

The following scheme of financing the Peterborough Hockey Arena is proposed:

An authorized capitalization of $150,000.00 will be divided into 15,000 shares of common stock, having a par value of $10.00.

Only sufficient stock will be sold to complete the erection of the rink, at the same time leaving adequate working capital with which to commence operations.

The subscription list will open about March 27th and remain open until Saturday, April 24th.

During this time all applications for shares will be purchased at net, that is to say the entire amount of the subscription will go directly into the construction of the rink.

If the response is encouraging all the capital will be raised upon this basis.

If not, it will be necessary to employ a selling organization to dispose of the shares when it will be necessary to deduct from each share an amount equal to 10 per cent. at least.

With the income derived from skating and hockey, which will commence in November, together with the sale of artificial ice the year around it is felt that substantial dividends will be made available for distribution.

The winner of the Allan Cup next year, it is understood, will be the team to represent Canada at the Olympic games to be held in 1927-28 in Europe. Peterboro, after the showing made this year, can quite reasonably be looked upon as a serious contender for this honor.

But a rink is necessary, and with the stimulating support of the Peterboro people who followed the senior O.H.A. team this year, this rink is assured.

The plan of the proposed building may be seen in Bert McLeod's drug store.

ALLEGED SLAYER HELD IN CHICAGO

William White Also Suspected of Part in Eight Robberies.

PALS ARRESTED.

CHICAGO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—William J. White, alleged slayer of a motor cycle policeman, and believed to have taken part in eight robberies which netted $224,000, is in the custody of Chicago police to-day.

Shortly after his arrest he was identified as the leader of the band which recently secured $80,000 in a spectacular pay-roll hold-up at the International Harvester Company. Three witnesses later pointed him out as the murderer of Edward Flaume, suburban officer slain last December 23.

After White's arrest the police squad lay in wait at a roadhouse for his pal, Tommy Shupe, wanted in connection with the McHenry and Harvester robberies, Shupe attempted to escape, but was apprehended after a chase in which his automobile was wrecked.

Two other men identified as members of the Harvester hold-up band were held to the grand jury yesterday. They are James Gentile and Joseph Leopold.

Butter scotch was not of scotch origin, as the word is a colloquialism meaning "to scorch."

It is estimated that the world's production of flaxseed this year will be 75,000,000 bushels, or 67 per cent. higher than last year.

HUMANE SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING

C. H. Ackerman Vice-President of Provincial Association.

The sixth annual meeting and first convention of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held recently in Toronto, at which a number of Peterborough people interested in humane society work attended, among them being Col. C. H. Ackerman, who was elected one of the vice-presidents of the society, also Mrs. Chandler and Mr. E. S. Martin.

The branch in Peterborough has been reorganized recently and hundreds of new members have been added, many of whom are taking a very active interest in its affairs.

At the banquet, held in the King Edward Hotel, Mr. J. J. Kelso gave the following address:

Aim of Our Organization.

The main purpose of our organization and our meeting here to-day can be given in one word—Education. Cruelty can only be effectively dealt with by changing the inclination and the action of the individual. To accomplish this we believe the most effective means is constant advocacy and publicity of the principles underlying all work of a humane character. There will always be a proportion of cruel acts that must be dealt with by process of law, and dealt with severely but, as a general rule, a more valuable and lasting work can be done by getting the great mass of the people interested and familiar with the aims in view.

Our first objective must necessarily be the formation of branch societies in every centre of the province, and there are surely people who would gladly take up this work if they knew about it and how simple the organization is. Through these local societies the next step would be the forming of junior groups, for there is no work that more readily appeals to young people or in the carrying on of which they can find greater happiness. In past years there have been many gatherings of children, brought together to study and advance the work, and excellent results have always followed. We have heard and known of children who, once becoming interested, have continued in humane activities throughout their life, and have been better men and women in consequence, passing the benefit on to the whole community. There is, in fact, no work more hopeful and none that produces such beneficient and widespread results at such small cost.

In Toronto many of our school teachers are deeply interested and have done a great deal without definite organization so that they do not perhaps receive the credit they deserve. We hope before long to see a committee appointed to deal with this special object and centralize and direct the various circles that may and should be brought together. There seems no good reason why we should not have eight or ten thousand children banded together for such a noble purpose as the study of bird and animal life and the doing of deeds that will strengthen and build them up in unselfish service. Concerning junior activities we will hear more during the conference from Hamilton and Guelph, where considerable progress has been made.

Our chief means of communication with the public is through the Humane Pleader, which now has a circulation of about fourteen thousand copies per month. We shall not be satisfied until there is a monthly issue of at least twenty-five thousand copies, and this would soon be attained if branch societies would generously co-operate and possibly secure for us a few wealthy patrons who would back us up in extending the circulation of this worthy publication. If funds permitted we would place a free copy of the magazine in the hands of every school teacher, editor, and clergyman throughout the province so that they would have authoritative facts and stories on "Kindness vs. Cruelty." We do not overlook the great value of the daily papers in this propaganda and it is for our editors with copies of the Pleader. Members and friends can do much by preparing suitable articles for publication, as usually our experience has been that editors appreciate such help and suitable material.

If as a result of our meeting to-day even a limited number are encouraged and aided to take up and extend the work our gathering together will not have been in vain.

Before concluding, it might be well to present one thought or viewpoint by way of correct balance. While approving, endorsing, and advocating humane measures and principles we must not let sound, practical judgment be warped and overshadowed by sentiment—however admirable that sentiment may be. In the world of nature we see tremendous fecundity on every hand, designed, no doubt, by a wise Creator to prevent the extinction of any particular species. Is it not the duty of man—a task imposed upon him, to control and direct all these natural forces with a view to greater perfection and the limitation of pests and harmful forces that would mar the comfort and happiness of the human race? We conceive it to be our duty in the insect world to suppress fleas, flies, mosquitoes, corn-borers and other insects that are of no apparent value but seem merely to live for our discomfort or to dimish our food supplies. Among the feathered flock we have lately been convinced of the crow's predatory activities and we know that the sparrow, without either utility or beauty, is constantly increasing in number to the exclusion of more worthy birds. Then do we not all realize the necessity for strict control of the excessive birth rate of cats and other more or less unnecessary animals of a domestic nature? Wild life among the animals is controlled, if not over-controlled, by the universal love of men for adventure and outdoor life and sport.

And then, above all, is there not the danger, with the great and admirable advance in humane sentiment, of perpetuating and increasing the unfit of our own race—spending our time and money in the preservation of human derelicts that can never be other than a burden and expense to us and to themselves? No radical attempt has yet been made to limit the propagation of the insane, the feeble-minded, the diseased, the congenital and incurable criminal, and in this helpless and irresolute position are we not in grave peril, as a race, of ultimate and certain destruction at the hands of a worthless and unregenerate horde, now being tenderly cared for through a worng conception of Christian duty? This may be an extreme presentation of a delicate subject, but there is food for thought here—something that might well be considered from a practical standpoint, before the burden of disease and crime, with its enormous taxation, becomes too hard to bear.

TAYLOR SLAYING SOLUTION NEAR

Surprise Promised By District Attorney and His Assistant.

SLAYER KNOWN.

CHICAGO, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Solution of the mysterious murder in 1922 of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, at Hollywood, California, was said today to be imminent by Asa Keyes, District Attorney of Los Angeles County. "We knew four weeks ago who killed Taylor, but this Eastern trip was for the purpose of getting corroborative evidence," Mr. Keyes was quoted as saying.

The Herald and Examiner quoted Harold Davis, Keye's assistant, as saying that the eventual naming of the slayer and conspirators who plotted the crime, would be a surprise hinting that the plot involved persons heretofore not mentioned in the case.

KING OF CLUBS WINS OPENER

Pat Donoghue, Son of Steve, Rides Winner of Lincolnshire Handicap.

FIRST BIG RACE.

LINCOLN, Eng., March 24. — (Canadian Press).—King of Clubs, owned by W. J. Belleroy, won the Lincolnshire Handicap in the first big race of the season to-day.

Zionist, owned by Aga Khan, was second, and J. Duggan's Vesington Star was third. Twenty-six started. The winner was ridden by Pat Donoghue, a mere boy, and son of the famous jockey, Steve Donoghue.

There should be many judges, for few will always do the will of few. —Machiavelli.

OPPOSITION TO 10 DAY HOLIDAY OF PARLIAMENT

Members Anxious To Advance the Business of the Session.

NOT DECIDED.

Premier's Proposal Deferred Until Thursday Pending Whips' Meeting.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Motion by the Government for an Easter recess of the House from Friday, March 25th until Tuesday, April 6th, encountered opposition, when made by Premier W. L. Mackenzie King yesterday.

The Prime Minister, in making the motion, declared that it was not the intention of the Government to press the matter unless it met "with more or less general approval," by the members. The custom was to adjourn on the Wednesday afternoon, which this year would be March 31st, until the following Tuesday. The recess proposed in the motion would, therefore, cover an extra two and a half days. It was thought, however that an adjournment of ten days as proposed in the motion would meet with the general approval and convenience of the members.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, said that while the proposed adjournment would meet with his own convenience, he would point out that it would not be satisfactory to many Conservative members, for two reasons. The first was because of anxiety to get on with business of the session. The second was that members living in the East and West had just returned from a holiday.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, thought that the adjournment as proposed was proper. He did not desire to go contrary to the wishes of the majority of members of the House, however.

Make Adjournment Brief.

L. J. Ladner (Conservative, Vancouver South) pointed out that a number of the British Columbia members had been unable to go West during the last adjournment and would not have time during the proposed adjournment for Easter. These members were naturally anxious to get on with the business. He was interested in getting a copyright bill before the House. He suggested that the adjournment be as short as possible and that the business be carried through.

One or two other Conservative members opposed the adjournment moved by the Prime Minister.

Mr. King then said that the members of the Government were as anxious to proceed with the business of the session as any member of the House. It was just a question of suiting the convenience of members. He agreed with the leader of the Opposition that the motion might stand until Thursday, and in the meantime, further thought could be given it.

W. A. Boys, chief Conservative whip, thought that it would be a good thing for the members to know as soon as possible what period the adjournment would cover. He suggested that the three party whips discuss the matter together and endeavor to reach an agreement which would be generally satisfactory.

This proposal was agreed to and the motion stood over until tonight, when it is expected, some agreement will have been reached.

Regent

NOW PLAYING

Last Chance to See
NORMA SHEARER
With LEW CODY
—in—
HIS SECRETARY
As nice a little comedy-drama as we have had on our screen for some time.

Tomorrow
MADGE BELLAMY
—in—
THUNDER MOUNTAIN
A lively story of Old Kentucky
Watch for It !
Monday Next
BETTY BALFOUR
Britain's Mary Pickford in the all British-made film—
"Satan's Sister"

Theatre

AT THE REGENT

"THUNDER MOUNTAIN" IS THRILLING STORY OF KENTUCKY HILLS

Madge Bellamy Is Seen in Feature Role of Fox Screen Version of "Howdy Folks."

"Thunder Mountain," a thrilling and dramatic story of the Kentucky hills, comes to the Regent Theatre for three-days beginning Thursday.

Lovely Madge Bellamy has the leading feminine role in the production, appearing in Azalea, a little orphan, who runs away from the cruel owner of a shoddy little two-ring circus to what appears to be the lesser of two evils, life among the crude mountaineers.

Leslie Fenton, a newcomer to the screen, plays opposite her in the role of Sam Martin, a mountain lad, who develops from the worst boy on Thunder Mountain into an idealistic chap whose ambition is to educate his people.

Alec Francis will be seen in the character of the old circuit-rider whom the crude mountaineers fear as well as love. Emily Fitzroy is the neuralgic "Ma" Mac Birney whose disposition varies with the pain in her ear and Dan Mason is her downtrodden spouse.

Others in the cast fit equally well into their parts, the list being made up of such names as Zasu Pitts, Arthur Houseman, Jay Hunt, Otis Harlan and Paul Panzer.

Victor Schertinger directed the production, which is a screen version of John Golden's stage success, "Howdy Folks."

AT THE CAPITOL.

THE ENCHANTED HILL" SCREENED BY PARAMOUNT

Peter B. Kyne Story, Directed by Irwin Willat, Opens at Capitol Tomorrow.

Heralded as sounding a new note in western productions, "The Enchanted Hill" opens at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow for a three days' run. This is the picture version of the widely read Peter B. Kyne novel, which Irvin Willat, noted director of "North of 36," produced with a stellar cast featuring Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, Noah Beery and Mary Brian.

Here is a story that graphically depicts conditions as they exist in the West today and vividly pictures the modern methods that are in vogue in the great open spaces. The rugged locale of this thrilling outdoor melodrama is the cattle ranch country of New Mexico, and inasmuch as the picture was actually filmed in the vast range territory of the Southwest, the swift, exciting action is enhanced by picturesque and scenically beautiful backgrounds.

The plot deals with the bitter conflict waged over the ownership of two neighboring ranches, owned respectively by Jack Holt and Florence Vidor. For some reason, which isn't revealed until the very end, Ira Todd, the unscrupulous manager of Miss Vidor's property, enters into a conspiracy with a rascally lawyer to defraud Miss Vidor out of her ranch and gain possession of Jack Holt's land as well, by having him killed.

The fight to hold their property and the development of a wholesome romance between Holt and Miss Vidor serve to keep the plot boiling right up to the happy and successful finish. What with wild rides, airplane thrills, machine gun hold-ups, fist fights and pistol battles, there isn't a dull moment from the first flash-in to the last fade-out.

The Examiner

Peteborough's home town chronicle of the world's daily happenings. Dozens of special features that make it a really family journal. The Examiner job department can always be depended on to turn out a distinctly high class job.

GET WHAT YOU WANT THROUGH A WANT AD

Anything to sell—Help wanted, House to rent, Lost or found, Notice, House to sell, etc. Any want that someone else can supply, you get it through our want ad column.. Phone 1600—We will send for your copy.

The Examiner Tells It in Over 8000 Homes

LOCALS

DR. T. P. McCULLOUGH

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, 166 Brock St. Phone 36W

ORCHESTRA PRACTICE.

The Peterborough Symphony Orchestra will practice this evening at 8 sharp. A full attendance is equested.

GET THIS ONE

Ordinary Ice will not heat, but Sanitary Ice WOOD.
All Kinds
Body Hardwood; Hardwood Slabs and Soft Wood. Phone 147. Sanitary Ice Supply. dtf

EUCHRE AND DANCE

Rest up for Friday night. Euchre and Dance at Victoria Hall. Cabinet of Silver, and Many Other Good Prizes. Ladies 35c; Gents, 40c.
2d, 71, 824

MINSTREL SHOW AND PLAY 50 PEOPLE

Under the Auspices of Eastern Star, L.O.B.A., No. 525. In Victoria Hall, Wednesday, March 24, at 8.15 p.m. Adults 25c, Children 15c.
3d, 71, 860

ROTARY CLUB, VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.

Grand Opera House, Easter Monday and Tuesday. The event of the season. Subscribers tickets now from any member of the club. 6d75

DO YOU NEED AN ACCOUNTANT?

If you want your books audited or adjusted; if not satisfied with your book-keeping system; if you want your income tax return prepared for this or other years, or want some dispute adjusted.—H. K. Middleton. 'Phone 1353. Office, 202 Charlotte Street. dtf

EASTER TRAVEL

The Canadian National Railways in anticipation of heavy travel during the Easter holidays, are arranging as usual for additional equipment on regular trains, as well as extra trains where same are required, to provide travel comfort for those taking advantage of the long week-end to visit the old home. Parents or relatives wishing to bring students or pupils at school, etc., home for the holidays can arrange all details through the railway company. Any Canadian National agent will transmit to all parts of the System orders for the delivery of rail tickets, sleeping car berths or parlour car seats, and if required, a cash payment for travelling expenses and will cheerfuly render any other service that may be desired.

Send your Easter Greetings by Canadian National Telegraphs.

Apply to any Agent of the company for full particulars.
24-27-30

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR.

Many good people have mistook the real meaning of what is designated "the gospel." The more correct translation of the original Greek word is "glad tidings." In mentioning "the Gospel" here, we will use the words "glad tidings." The "glad tidings" was preached aforetime unto Abraham, and made clear to him, what the "glad tidings" signified, namely, "In thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed.' 'Gen. 12: 3. It is evident that none of Adam's race are excluded in this definite unconditional promise. The promise was made to Abraham and his seed. We are informed that Christ, and those who are Christ's, are Abraham's seed. So it is through Christ and His chosen ones, that all the families of the earth are to be blessed. This blessing will come to mankind, when Jesus shall reign here on this earth supreme. At the birth of our Lord an angel stood by some shepherds, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, be not afraid, for behold I bring you "good tidings" of great joy, which shall be to all people, for there is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. Luke 2:8 to 12. This is a positive promise that the time would come when all shall be blessed, through Jesus, and it will be a time of great rejoicing. Further, it is stated that there shall be a time of good will among men and peace on earth. It is quite evident that the time has not yet come. Jesus preached this "glad tidings." Matt. 4: 27 and 9:35. Jesus was asked the sign of His presence (in His second advent). Matt. 24:6 to 13. He answered the "glad tidings" shall be preached in the whole inhabited earth, then shall come the end, or consummation of the age. It behooves all who are longing for Jesus to take unto Himself the rulership of this earth, to spread the "glad tidings" of the kingdom. Jesus was anointed to preach the "glad tidings" to the poor, to proclaim release to the captives, to give sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord. (Isa. 61:1, 23 and reference to the same.) Many confound the call to be joint heirs with Jesus with the call to the world in general to accept the gift of eternal life. The call to be heirs with Jesus is confined to this age only. Many are called to this high honor but few are chosen.—M. T. BUTCHER.
1d71-1235

WE ARE COMPETENT TO ARRANGE ALL DETAILS

BELLEGHEM'S FUNERAL SERVICE PHONE 85

AMBULANCE

Mantel Clocks On Deferred Payments

Why not own a good Mantel Clock?

We will sell you a mantel clock on our new deferred payment plan.

You can come in today and select your clock and we will set it up in your home for you.

Clocks priced at $9.50 and up that strike and keep good time.

WARNE BROS.
349 GEORGE STREET
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880.

See the Technical and Industrial Night Class Exhibit in R. Hall & Co. window.
1d-71-834.

CHOIR PRACTICE.

St. Paul's church choir will practice to-night, at Mr. Chenhall's house at 8 p.m.

NOTICE.

St. James' Choir will practice to-night at 8 o'clock instead of to-morrow night (Thursday).

CREO-EMULSION

is an excellent remedy for prolonged coughs and colds. Sold at McDermid Drug Stores for $1.25 per bottle. 1d-71-829

57TH REGIMENTAL CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

Will hold their monthly meeting at the Armouries on Thursday at 3.30 p.m. Meeting important.
1d-7-832.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. T. G. Calvert and family wish to thank the attending doctors and nurses, neighbors and friends for their kindnesses and all those who sent flowers during their recent bereavement.

BIRTHDAY TEA.

The Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's church is holding a Birthday Tea in the Sunday School on Friday afternoon, March 26th, from 3.30 till 7. Home-made cooking and candy for sale. 1d-71-830

ACCOUNTS

Books written up and balance sheets prepared for Income Tax returns. Assessments agreed with authorities. A. H. White, accountant and auditor, 444 Mark street. Phone 1165m.
6d-24,27,31,3,7,10-1244

PURETEST CASTOR OIL.

The name "Puretest" on any package of medicine is a guarantee as to the purity of the contents of the bottle or package. Puretest Castor Oil, for instance, is probably the best Castor Oil on the market. Sold at The McDermid Drug Stores at 25 and 50 cents per bottle.
1d-71-828

W.O.W. CARD PARTY.

A pleasant evening was had at the Woodmen of the World Hall last evening at the regular euchre party. The ladies were in the minority last evening, and gentlemen were supplied to take their place. The prizes were as follows: Ladies, first prize, Mrs. Powell; second prize, Dave Calder. Gentlemen, first prize Mr. Pringle; second prize, Mr. Leghorn.

PROPOSAL REJECTED.

Diplomats Won't Declare Peking Neutral and Aid Defence.

PEKING, Mar. 24 (United Press). —It is reliably learned that the diplomatic corps to-day rejected a proposal for the neutralization of Peking and the use of foreign troops to defend the capital against the advancing forces of General Chang Tso Lin and his allies.

LATE WANT ADS.

FOR SALE — BABY CARRIAGE—A cream reed stroller in good condition; apply 598 Chamberlain.
3d-73-1253

OPPORTUNITY — TO EXCHANGE some building lots as part payment on some good houses, central; call at 421 George St. 5d-75-1257

SPLENDID — BUNGALOW HOME—French doors, electric fire place, hardwood up and down stairs; would consider good lot as part; apply 421 George St. 5d-75-1256

FOR SALE—ICE CREAM, GROCERY and Confectionery business, good turnover, residential part of city; for particulars call at 421 George St. 5d-75-1255

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL housework, 4 days a week, to sleep out; apply evenings, 531 Homewood Ave. 1d-71-1254

REAL ESTATE — SNAP FOR A quick turn over; central; 7 room brick house, full plumbing, furnace, garage; hardwood floors; newly decorated, $3,300, terms; houses in all districts to rent; apply 344 King St.
3d-24,26,27-1252

FOR SALE — COAL OR WOOD Range, hot water front and warming closet; apply 499 Murray St.
3d-73-1251

FOR SALE—NEW MODERN STUCCO Bungalow, hardwood floors throughout, French doors, fireplace, central. Apply 61 Robinson St. or phone 1037J. 6d-76-1250

MORE EMPLOYMENT.

Gain Reported For February About the Same as Last Year.

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Continuation of the moderately favorable movement in unemployment indicated in the preceding month was reported by employers on March 1st, the gain being practically the same as that recorded on the corresponding date of last year, says the bureau of statistics.

BETHANY NEWS

BETHANY, Mar. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rowan entertained a number of their friends and acquaintances to a St. Patrick's party at their home last Wednesday evening.

Mr. George and Miss Luella Wright, of Yelverton, were guests of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wright, on Sunday.

Mr. John Staples, of Lindsay, spent Saturday with his mother on Main street.

A Presentation.

About one hundred friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porteous, Dranoel Junction, Friday evening, and a most enjoyable time was spent in social conversation, music and dancing and games. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Greenlaw of Port Hope were guests of honor on this occasion and were presented with tokens of the kindly feeling the community felt toward them during their stay of a few months in this neighborhood. Mr. Greenlaw, during his stay, was leader of the band and became a great favorite with the boys. He was also leader of the Sunday school orchestra and both he and Mrs. Greenlaw, with her singing, made many warm friends among the mucsial ones of the village. So many felt they could not let such a popular young couple leave their midst without some recognition, hence the gathering at Mr. Porteous's hospitable home.

A musical programme was first enjoyed, with Mr. Charles Porteous as chairman. Then lunch was enjoyed, which was provided by the ladies present, after which Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw were called to take their stand before the company. Mr. Harry Hutchinson read the following address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw—It is with mingled feelings of sorrow and joy that we have gathered together tonight—sorrow, because you have had to move from our midst, and joy because you are back again to spend another evening with us.

Although, unfortunately, our acquaintance has been all too brief, we have always found you as the very best of good friends, ready to lend a helping hand in all phases of work and pleasure. We, your friends in Bethany and vicinity, realize that we have lost two very fine citizens, but such is life. The best of friends must part. We appreciate most sincerely the assistance you have given us in every way, the manner in which you have helped us to better our community and the genuine, whole-hearted manner you have always displayed.

So, Mrs. Greenlaw, we have great pleasure in presenting you with this silver tea service and to you, Mr. Greenlaw, this gold watch, not so much for their intrinsic value, but as a token of the high esteem in which you have been held in the minds of the citizens of Bethany and community.

As time rolls on and as you casually glance at your time-piece, we hope, Mr. Greenlaw, that you may see even more than the standard time, that you may see the time you spent in and around Bethany, and Mrs. Greenlaw, when you pour from your silver service a little cup of tea, may you remember that there is always a most cordial invitation to renew acquaintances in the homes of the community.

We wish you every success in the days to come and trust that Dame Fortune will smile upon you all most generously. Signed by,

Charles Porteous,
Harry Preston,
Harry Hutchinson,
On behalf of the community.

Mr. Preston presented the watch and Mr. Porteous the tea service.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Greenlaw made suitable replies for both address and gifts, and to the general good-will of the assembled company.

WARKWORTH NEWS.

WARKWORTH, March 24. — Miss Mary Phillip is visiting friends in Campbellford.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Dixon entertained the members of the choir of St. Paul's church Friday evening.

A number of neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Honey on Friday evening prior to their leaving for their new home near Colborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Corey Zuefelt entertained a number of neighbors and friends Friday evening.

At a meeting of the directors of the agricultural society the resignations of George Poole, president, and A. B. Armstrong, secretary, were received and accepted.

Mrs. Harry E. Allen, Mrs. J. L. Phillips, Mrs. Morley E. Smith and Miss Clara Gregory spent Saturday in Belleville on business.

Mr. Clayton E. Meiklejohn has returned after spending a few days in London.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Mar. 24.—Messrs. Stephen Harrison, Robert Carter and R. McNaughton were delegates from the local lodge at the Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario held last week in Belleville.

Miss Veronica Johnston, of Douro, spent the week-end at her home in the village.

Mr. Arthur Webster was the guest of friends in Keene last week.

Mr. W. L. Webster, of Dundas, spent a few days in the village with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Webster.

Miss Marjorie Clarke, of Pickering, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Clarke in the village last week.

Mrs. Robert Nugent, of Peterboro', was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Spence for a few days last week.

Mr. Percy Spence was in Peterboro' on business on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lorne Webster, of Peterboro', spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. S. Spence last week.

Mr. Sidney Cuidmore, of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickland on Wednesday last.

Mr. George G. Hendren, of Peterboro', spent Friday with his family in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Graham spent Friday in Burleigh with friends.

Mrs. Arthur Jory, of Ottawa, is visiting friends in the village.

TO DISCUSS LOCARNO AGREEMENT AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Ont., March 24.—(Canadian Press.)—The House of Commons will be given an opportunity to discuss the Locarno agreement shortly after the Easter recess. Tuesday Premier King, in answer to a question by Dr. P. McGibbon, (Conservative, Muskoka), stated that if members were anxious to discuss the agreement, he would see that an opportunity was given. He observed that the agreement was not yet in effect. Consequently there did not appear to be any great need for haste in discussing it.

WOOLER NEWS

WOOLER, March 24. — Wm. Barker of Stirling spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Eali Terill.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Sharpe spent a week at Napanee visiting relatives.

Mrs. George Anderson entertained at a most enjoyable two-table bridge on Wednesday afternoon. The house was beautifully decorated in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Delicious refreshments were served and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. Hennessey of Brighton.

Mr. and Mr. L. C. McColl entertained their friends on Thursday evening.

Miss Lillian Bell and Mrs. Eustacia McColl spent St. Patrick's Day with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

The W.F.M.S. met at the home of Miss Edith Valentine on Thursday and quilted two quilts.

Rev. H. Neal organized a teachers' training class, taking up the study, "The Pupil" About thiry Sunday school pupils and four teachers are studying and preparing for the examination.

Miss Winnifred Elford of Belleville, visited her sister, Gwendoline, who is living with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

After being shut in through sickness since January the eighth, Mr. C. R. Terill and family were out to dinner with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Clarke on Sunday.

Mrs. Munroe and Mrs. Bariger are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McMasters.

On Thursday at 10.30 a.m. the members of the Ladies Aid gathered to the basement of the United church. Three quilts were quilted and finished.

Mrs. W. C. Dorland and Mrs. George Bell were the hosteses, serving lunch at the noon hour. The business meeting was then held, followed by the election of officers.

Rev. H. Neal, in the chair, conducted this part of the business meeting. The reports of the officers were most satisfactory, a large increase of members, during the year, and the teasurer's books showed a balance of over one hundred dollars on hand.

Financial News and Views

Latest Comment on Grain and Industrial Markets — Closing Quotations on the Principal Active Stocks

Quotations Over Stobie, Forlong and Co. wire.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High	Low	Close
Atchison Rly.	126½	125	125
Amer. Can.	268½	255	255
Amer. Loco.	99⅞	99⅛	99⅛
Smelters	124⅛	117½	117½
Baldwin	106⅛	104¼	104¼
Balt. & Ohio	89⅛	87	87
Cast-Iron Pipe	170	166½	166½
Ches. & Ohio	134⅜	130⅞	130⅞
Cal. Petrol.	35¼	34¼	35
Chrysler	35½	34¾	34¾
Dupont De Nem.	211	199	199
Fleischmann	43⅛	41¾	41¾
Gen. Motors	122⅜	116⅝	116⅝
Hudson Motors	89	80¼	80¼
Int. Harvester	117½	113½	113½
Inter. Nickel	35½	35	35¼
Coca-Cola	130½	128¼	128¼
Mack Truck	115	108¼	108¼
Marland Oil	55⅛	53⅝	53⅝
U. S. Rubber	69¾	66⅝	66⅝
Montgomery W.	65½	63⅝	63¾
White Motors	71½	71	71
U. S. Steel	122¾	120⅜	120⅜
Yellow Cab.	28¼	..	..
Youngs. Tube	75	..	..

MINING STOCKS

Gold

	Asked	Bid
Argonaut	30	30
Baldwin	3	2¼
Chaput Hughes	17	15½
Con. West Dome	20	19
Dome	1790	1700
Goldale	31	29
Gold Reef	3¼	2¾
Hollinger	1890	1860
Keora	12	11
Kirkland Lake	94	91
Lake Shore	1025	1000
McIntyre	2400	2350
Newray	37	34
Nipissing	600	575
Preston	7¼	7¼
Teck Hughes	290	282
Vip. Con. Mines	157	153
W. Hargraves	815	805

Silver

Beaver	63	63
Castle	150	144
Crown Reserve	16½	15½
La Rose	16¼	15½
McKinley	20	18
Mining Corp.	379	365

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	High	Low	Close
May	157¾	154⅜	154⅞
July	136⅞	134⅝	134⅞

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

May	148	142¼	145¼
July	145½	147⅝	142⅝

CHICAGO RYE.

May	87⅞	86	86
July	89⅜	87	87

Decided Downturn To-day Toronto Stock Exchange

TORONTO, March 24.—(Canadian Press.)—Led by Consolidated Smelters and Brazilian, a pronounced downturn on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning affected the entire list. Smelters was sold down ten points to 194 1-2, and closed this morning at low mark. Brazilian lost two and one-eighth points at 88 1-4. Twin City lost 1 1-8 at 70 1-8, Winnipeg one at 50, International Nickel one at 35 1-2, Kelvinator one at 15, C.P.R. one at 155 and Atlantic Sugar 3-4 at 24 1-4. In mines, Dome was sold down a dollar and fifteen cents to 17.00, and McIntyre slumped thirty cents at 23.70.

Large Losses Marked List On the Standard Exchange

TORONTO, March 24.— (Canadian Press.) —Easy trend in evidence on the Standard Mining Exchange for the past week was suddenly intensified to-day and substantial losses were marked throughout the list. The weakest stock was Dome, which was sold down 95 cents at 17.10. McIntyre lost 50 at 23.80, Hollinger 15 at 18.60, and Teck Hughes seven at 283. Barry Hollinger eased 2 1-2 at 35 and Tough Oakes two at 46. In the silvers, Keeley lost three at 157, Noranda 27 at 12.25, Mining Corporation nine at 366 and Castle Trethewey two at 149.

Chicago Wheat Takes Drop Sellers Have Big Majority

CHICAGO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—With optimistic crop reports at hand from practically the entire domestic belt, wheat took an early swing downward today. Notwithstanding the Liverpool quotations came higher than due, sellers here were in a majority and a new buying power appeared scant.

Word of high winds in Nebraska failed to act as a stimulus. Chicago opening prices unchanged to 3-8c lower, May (new) $1.56 5-8 to $1.57 1-8, and July $1.35 3-4 to $1.36, were followed by material set-backs all around.

Corn and oats displayed relative strength. Receipts of corn here to-day were meagre, only 69 cars. After opening 1-8 off to 1-8 up, May 72 7-8, the corn market underwent a slight general sag.

Oats started unchanged to 3-8c higher, May 39 1-8 to 39 1-4, and later eased back somewhat. Provisions were steady.

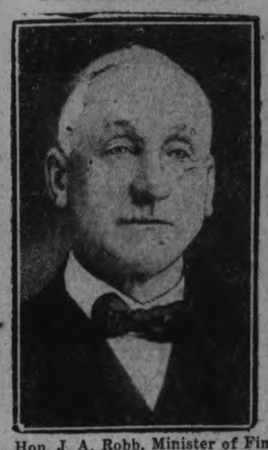
Stock Prices Break To-day Due To The Many Failures

NEW YORK, March 24.—(Canadian Press.)— Stock prices broke sharply to-day under a flood of selling orders for both accounts. Pessimistic reports on the nature of the spring business, higher call money, renewal rate, disappointing 1925 earnings, report of General Electric Company, failure of directors of the Republic Steel Company to authorize resumption of the dividends, omission of Pittsburgh Coal Pfd. dividend, and the establishment of another new low level by French francs were all contributing factors in to-day's selling. Failure of constructive interests to support market at critical stages and establishment of new low level for the year by industrial averages, resulted in a heavy liquidation by tired holders of long stocks, many of whom had supported them in the drastic reaction around the first of the month. The swiftness of the decline resulted in a touching off of a number of the stop-loss orders and closing out of the weakened marginal accounts.

Four in Row.

Urban Shocker of the Yankees while a member of the Browns turned in 20 or more victories four seasons in a row, getting 27 in 1921.

PREDICTS RELIEF.



Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, who in the House of Commons predicted that "a little relief in the way of taxation" is in sight for Canada.

IN POLICE COURT.

David Black, who was charged with soliciing alms on a Canadian Pacific train running between Lindsay and Peterboro, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment this morning by Magistrate O. A. Langley.

He claimed to be both deaf and dumb but the authorities were doubtful and ipvestigated his case, and found that he was a faker.

It was found that he had a chequered career, having been convicted on no less than twelve previous occasions, one of which was in Peterboro when Chief Newhall apprehended him for stealing a woman's purse.

His record dated back to the year 1911 and the places indicated on it run from coast to coast.

AROUND THE CITY.

Spring has arrived, judging by the following message received by Street Commissioner Harry Evans this morning. The message stated that the water was very bad on the street, and that the baby had gone out to play and had got her feet wet.

BAILIEBORO PERSONALS.

BAILIEBORO, March 22.— The three Epworth Leagues of the United Churches on the Fraserville Circuit, held St. Patrick's Socials at their regular weekly meetings this week.

The Bailieboro league held its social meeting on Tuesday evening, Miss Jean Dawson presided at the meeting, while Rev. W. H. Foley took the topic, and gave an excellent address upon the life of the great saint, St. Patrick of Ireland. A splendid duet was ably rendered by Miss Mildred White and Mrs. N. Thompson. There were between forty and fifty of the members present and a most profitable and interesting meeting was enjoyed.

On Wednesday evening the Young People's League, of Bensfort, held their social evening. The president, Miss Telford presided, a splendid program was enjoyed consistig of an address on St. Patrick of Ireland, by Mr. Foley, violin duets by Clifford Emberson and James Wood; readings by Mrs. J. Lang, Miss Telford and Mellvile Nurse; solos by Miss Florence Curtis, and Miss Marjory Emberson. A vocal duet by Messrs. McCallasters and piano duets by Misses B. and F. Barnard. Each of these numbers was of Irish, and a bountiful lunch brought the excellent evening's enjoyment to a close.

The young people at Fraserville held their social on Friday evening, in the form of a box social, a good program was also prepared at which the pastor again gave his address upon St. Patrick of Ireland.

STEAMER DESTROYED.

Brazilian Steamship Was Consumed By Fire Early on March 22nd.

LONDON, March 23.—(Canadian Press.) — A despatch to Lloyd's from Manace, Brazil, to-day, reports that 104 lives were lost in the destruction of the Brazilian steamer Paes De Carva Ho by fire, on the Amazon river.

The steamer was bound from Manace for Torijura. She carried a full cargo, including inflammable goods. The disaster occurred on March 22 near Coury.

WEDDING BELLS

DEGEN—TERRY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Degen, when their son, Charles Nelson Degen was united in marriage to Miss Helen Ruth Terry, of Tweed. The young couple was attended by Miss Lottie Thompson, cousin of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Harold Dewhirst, who acted as groomsman.

The marriage was performed by Major and Mrs. Higdon of the Salvation Army in the presence of their near relatives.

After the ceremony the guests sat down to a dainty wedding supper, after which the young couple left by C.P.R. for points east. On their return they will reside on Gladstone avenue.

BASKETBALL.

At a special meeting of the Executive of the Peterboro Ladies' Basketball League, the protest from the "Y" Seniors, that the game of March 19 ("Y" Seniors vs. Normals) was terminated seven seconds before appointed time was discussed and declared valid.

The president, C. F. Littlefield, moved, that owing to the Normal team being unable to replay the game on account of coming school examinations, the Gordon Trophy should be retained by the Normal team. This motion was seconded by Mr. Turcott and carried. The meeting adjourned.

Frank H. Dawson

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Flour, Baled Hay, Straw, Salt, Mill Feeds, Seed, Etc.
Exclusive Agency for

FIVE ROSES FLOUR

BLATCHFORD'S POULTRY FEEDS
ROYAL INCUBATORS AND BROODERS

Phone 55 380 Water Street
CUSTOM CHOPPING SOLICITED

NEWS FROM TWEED

TWEED, March 24.—Mrs. Chas. Huyck returned to Toronto after spending the week end with friends.

Mrs. Whytock and daughter of Madoc spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Newton.

Miss Jean McCormick of Napanee visited her grandmother, Mrs. Clancy.

Mr. William Hall of Streetsville, Ont., is in town on business.

Miss Gracia Lafontain is visiting her brothers in Detroit.

Mr. Geo. Freeman had the misfortune to lose a finger while sawing wood.

Mr. Clayton Gabourie of Kansas City is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gabourie.

Mr. Hilliard Murphy is spending a few days in Toronto.

Inspector Hart, inspector of weights and measures, was in town recently inspecting gasoline pumps at the Steel Trough Co.

The Mission Band of the United church had a very successful cooking sale in the building under the Opera House, on Saturday.

A special service was held in Salvation Army Hall on Sunday night, Mach 21, as a memorial for the late Jacob Lucas.

Mr. Jas. Quinn returned from Kingston after having a vey serious operation in Hote Dieu. Mr. Quinn is feeling fine and hopes to be around again in a short time.

Mr. Chas. Porrett and family have taken up their residence in town.

Mr. Chas. Latchford of Belleville has accepted a position at the Trudeau garage.

Mr. Stanley McCullough spent over Sunday with Ms. McCullough and Bobby.

One of Oldest.

George Dauss of the Detroit Tygers is one of the oldest hurlers in the majors in point of service. He joined the Tygers in 1912 and has been with the same club ever since.

BIRTH

ADAMS.—At Tisdale, Sask., on Wednesday, March 17th, 1926, to Dr. and Mrs. Harold Adams, a son (Donald Frank Patrick).

MARRIED

CLARK—JOHNSTON — In Cobourg, August 16, 1925, Mary Fern Johnston and James Clark, Rev. Mr. Little officiating.

If there is anything good about nobility it is that it enforces the necessity of avoiding degeneracy.—Boethius.

The present contains nothing more than the past, and what is found in the effect was already in the cause.—Bergson.

FRESH EGGS 29c doz.

3 Corn Starch.....20c
Rowntree's Cocoa, ½ lb.....20c
Ceylon Tea, lb.....50c

Boyle's CASH & CARRY GROCERY
90 Hunter St. E. 168 Charlotte St.

Phone Johnny-on-the-Spot for Coal—703

Hard Coal
(Anthracite)
Stove size $16

Solvay Coke
Nut size $15

HODGSON BROS
Dalhousie and Bethune

A SOOTHING PREPARATION for sore chaps and roughened skin

PARKE'S GLYCEROID

It takes the irritation out over night. Apply before retiring and in the morning the skin will be soft, white, all soreness gone.

25c, 50c and $1.00 Bottles

BOND'S DRUG STORE
Corner George and Hunter Street.

Specials!

DAIRY BUTTER, Choice quality, guaranteed lb..... 45c
RICE, 4 pounds..... 25c
ORANGE MARMALADE, 4 pound pail..... 49c
SODA BISCUITS, 2 pounds..... 25c
ORANGES, Extra Special, 6 DOZEN..... $1

Allen's Cash And Carry
Cor. GEORGE AND SHERBROOKE STS.
Phone 2245 Phone 2445

ALEXANDER & HALL ELECTRICIANS
When you have Electrical work to do, Call
F. Alexander, Phone 1753J.
W. Gordon Hall, Phone 1463w.

Song Recital
DOROTHY ALLAN PARK
Soprano
assisted by Maurice Park, tenor
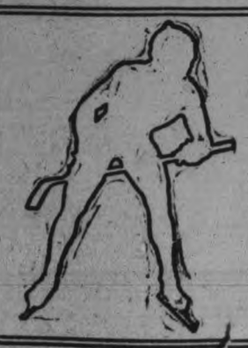
and
Mary Agnes Logan, pianist.
Conservatory Hall
Next Monday evening
8.15 p.m.
Tickets—50 cents
3d-71-793

THE JEAN RIDDICK YARN SHOP
shows an unusually large stock of Yarns, Hosiery, Underwear, Etc. Come and see us and save money.
WE SELL FOR LESS!

CHIROPRACTOR
M. C. GOODWIN
DC. Ph. C.
Palmer Graduate
108 Barrie Building.
Lady Attendant Phone 451
Hours 10-12 a.m., 2-4 and 7-8 p.m.
Office closed Tuesday evening, also Thursday afternoon and evening.



Hey, Fellers!
GET IN ON THIS!
D'yuh want to go to the banquet the City Council is giving the Hockey Team?
Yessir, without costing you a cent.
Turn to the Sport Page.

25c TAXI
WALTER GILLESPIE
Day or Night, Phone 480
Seven Passenger Sedans
12d-75-724

FOOT TROUBLES
N. D. FOOTE, D.S.C.
GRADUATE CHIROPODIST
107 Barrie Bldg. Phone 1730w

A Western Story
The Enchanted Hill
CAPITOL, To-Day

The Evening Examiner

PROBABILITIES
North-westerly winds; partly cloudy and becoming colder; local snow flurries. Friday — Mostly fair and colder.

VOL. LVII., No. 71 PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1926 PRICE THREE CENTS

Tomorrow Night EUCHRE AND DANCE VICTORIA HALL Euchre 8 p.m Dancing 8.30
Good Prizes for Euchre Including Beautiful Cabinet of Silver.
Good Prizes also of DANCING. Admission: Ladies 35c. Gents 40c

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT TO DEMAND RESTORATION OF WATER 'STOLEN' FROM GREAT LAKES TO FLUSH CHICAGO'S OPEN SEWER, HON. C. STEWART STATES

T. L. Church of Toronto Introduces Motion in Parliament Calling for Drastic Action — Waterways Treaty Flouted as "Scrap of Paper."

GREAT LAKES AND ST. LAWRENCE RIVER SHIPPING MENACED BY LOW WATER LEVEL

Hon. Mr. Stewart Recently Found Disposition in Washington to Force Execution of U. S. Court Decision Against Chicago.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press)—"We intend to press for the restoration of that water,' declared Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon when speaking of the diversion of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago sanitary district. Mr. Stewart was in conference with Washington authorities last week over the diversion and his statement in the House Wednesday was his first pronouncement since his return.

"We are not asking for compensation for the diversion," continued Mr. Stewart. "We are asking for the water itself." Mr. Stewart said that Chicago was more than willing to put in compensatory works. But he failed to see how any such works could restore to Canada's waterways the six inch loss which, he said, engineers had shown to result from the Chicago diversion.

The Canadian Government, Mr. Stewart went on, took the ground that Chicago must provide itself, like any other municipality, with works to take care of its sewage. Canada must stand firm that the diversion stop, Mr. Stewart declared.

He was questioned what drastic action might be taken an replied that suit might be taken, as had been suggested by some Conservative speaker. Nobody, he added smiling, had suggested resort to arms. And he was sure the question would be settled.

T. L. Church's Motion

T. L. Church, Conservative of Northwest Toronto, brought up the Chicago diversion on a motion that the Canadian Government, through the British Government, should take immediate and drastic action to enforce the boundary waters treaty and collect damages forthwith from the United States for breaches of the treaty by the Chicago drainage canal, and that the Canadian Government request the British Government to collect for the damage done to Canadian interests of such illegal diversion as reparations due Canada, which amounted to several millions per annum.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, did not think the question was such that it could be referred to the British Government at the present stage. He suggested that it might well be referred to the international waterways commission, although he could not see that the United States could place a case before the commission, in opposition.

The House adjourned at six o'clock, according to the Wednesday rule, and further discussion of the motion went over.

"A Scrap of Paper"

Mr. Church declared that the boundary waterways treaty had been treated as a "scrap of paper" by the United States government with the acquiesence of the Dominion Government. "Is Chicago more powerful than the United States' Congress and Senate, and the British and Canadian parliaments?" asked Mr. Church. Apparently Canada had been making her representations to the wrong parties in this matter. Canada did not appear in the treaty at all. The treaty was made beween the British Government and the government of the United States. Therefore Canada should apply to the British government to see that the treaty was observed. The Chicago drainage canal had become a serious menace to Canada. Harbour and river works of the Dominon, power works of the Ontario government and other undertakings were suffering as a result of the diversion of water. The lower lake levels, resulting from the diversion, had made the Welland canal system unfit for navigation at certain periods.

Canada Ignored

Mr. Church declared that Canada had been ignored in regard to this wrongful diversion of water. "The time has come for a show down," he said. This country should have emphatically insisted before now on its rights under the treaty being respected. Any argument which might be advanced in support of Chicago's action was groundless.

"I am glad to see that a change of opinion has taken place in this matter in the United States," said Mr. Church. Secretary Hoover had only recently stated that a "clear breach of the treaty had taken place."

Why had not action been taken in this case through the International Joint Commission? asked Mr. Church. What had the present government done to take up this matter through the British Government? Surely, he said, Canada was not going to permit the United States to treat the treaty as a scrap of paper "until doomsday."

Discussion Timely

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, agreed that the present was an opportune time to discuss the situation, as the level of the Great Lakes this summer promised to be the "lowest within one hundred years." The illegal diversion by Chicago had caused the lowering of the level by six inches.

The Canadian Government had, through the British Ambassador, requested restoration of the water diverted. No claim for compensation had, however, been made. This he consideerd was on the part of Canada, the proper attitude.

Mr. Stewart assured the house that vigorouus action was being taken in this matter by the government. While in Washington a few days ago, he had found a disposition in that city to have the decision of the United States Supreme Court against Chicago carried out. Strong pressure against such a course was apparent from states along the Mississippi. Canada had not been lax at any time in protecting her rights.

He failed to understand how any works could restore to the depth of Canada's waterpowers, the six inch loss which engineers had proved has resulted directly from the Chicago diversion. That drop might make just the difference between getting cargo boats up to Montreal and not getting them there.

Chicago's Excuses

"The municipality of Chicago is seizing on every possible excuse for a delay in erecting such remedial works, so that it might have an excuse for the diversion being continued," said Mr. Stewart.

The Minister of the Interior said that in his opinion this would not be the time to talk of compensation for losses which Canada had suffered and will suffer from the Chicago diversion of water. The Dominion must stand firm to its demand that the diversion must stop.

At this point the leader of the Opposition, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, nodded his head in approval.

"I don't mean to say that reasonable time should not be given to Chicago but there must be no un-

(Turn to Page 6, Please)

LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE MEETING, FRIDAY, MARCH 26TH, 1926, KING EDWARD HOTEL, TORONTO, RT. HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN AND HON. G. H. FERGUSON WILL ADDRESS THE EVENING MEETING. CONSERVATIVES INVITED TO ATTEND. 3d72826

"Man in the Green Hat" Elusive Bootlegger Caught

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(United Press.) — The "man in the green hat," the elusive Capitol bootlegger, who sprang into prominence by dropping five quarts of rye whiskey in the hallway of the House office building, was captured to-day by Federal dry agents.

George L. Cassidy, 34, was positively identified by agents as the mysterious stranger who was reported to have a large clientel in both wings of the Capitol, was arrested in his home here on a warrant charging possession and transportation of liquor. He was taken to jail at once.

NOW, HONESTLY—

Spare a moment to consider the fellow who considers your spare tire.

Punctures may come, and punctures may go—but your auto can't when you've got one.

One of the best known American customs is to drive to a garage when a tire hisses its swan song.

And, if it weren't for the good-natured fellow who removes the bad tire and puts on the spare, a heck of a lot of us would be in a heck of a fix a heck of a lot of the time.

Think o' the peace of mind when he finishes his job—and you go merrily on your way.

He's glad you're gone—and you're glad he's through.

We don't know who invented the first garage man—but thanks, anyway.

CUSTOMS OFFICER NOT DISMISSED BY MINISTER FOR IRREGULARITY

Hon. Jacques Bureau Exercised Clemency in Coal Cargo Case.

FINAL CHAPTER.

OTTAWA, March 25. — Canadian Press. — R. R. Farrow, Deputy Minister of Customs, furnished the Customs Enquiry Commission with the last word in the story of the coal cargo which entered Canada free, when a duty of over $2600 should have been paid on it, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Farrow told the committee that Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs at that time, had become aware of the fact that Antonio Giroux had held up the $2600 received by him to pay the duty and had visited Montreal in connection with the matter. Mr. Farrow said that he accompanied Mr. Bureau, and that he was present when the Minister interviewed A. E. Giroux, superintendent of customs examiners and father of Antonio Giroux.

Pleaded for Leniency.

"The Minister told Mr. Giroux that he proposed retiring him from the service because of this irregularity," said Mr. Farrow. "Mr. Giroux broke down and pleaded for leniency on the ground of length of service and efficiency." The Deputy Minister stated that on the day following this interview, Mr. Bureau had again seen Mr. Giroux, Senior, and his wife, and that the latter had made further pleas for leniency; presumably they had also made a plea on behalf of Antonio Giroux, the son. The net result was that Giroux senior was let off with a reprimand and Antonio Giroux, the son, was deprived of his license as a customs broker.

"Do you think the Customs Department was justified in omitting to prosecute a broker who defrauded the department out of this sum of money?" asked Hon. H. H. Stevens of the committee.

Mr. Farrow replied that the entering of prosecutions was a matter for the Minister. W. F. Wilson, chief of the protective service, had reported this case to him, stating that it was a very serious one. He, in his turn, had placed the file before the Minister. No instructions had been issued to prosecute Giroux, and he presumed that Mr. Bureau had decided to exercise leniency in the case.

Frequent Absence.

Earlier in the sitting, Louis D. Parizeau, a customs officer, at Montreal, testified that J. E. A. Bisaillon, former chief preventive officer, had been absent from his work frequently during 1920. It was common knowledge that Mr. Bisaillon was engaged in a liquor business at the time. By arrangement with Bisaillon, he (Parizeau) had placed the name of Bisaillon in the overtime paylists so that the former chief preventive officer drew pay for work which he had not done. Parizeau said he himself had done Bisaillon's work and had received the sum of $135 from Basaillon for so doing.

Further examination of A. E. Giroux, superintendent of customs examiners, Montreal, occupied the customs equiry committee during part of the afternoon.

Hon. H. H. Stevens informed Mr. Girous that he was not satisfied with explanations given by him of the short landing certificate issued on Oct. 3rd, 1923, in connection with the coal cargo refund. Either Mr. Giroux had signed a certificate providing for a refund of duty when he knew that no duty had been paid in the first instance, or he had signed it in blank, Mr. Stevens said.

"This morning you stated that you, personally, had nothing to do with payment of this duty which your son retained," said Mr. Stevens.

(Turn to Page 2, Please)

Spanish Prince Arrested Taking Drugs To Portugal

LISBON, March 25 (United Press).—A despatch from Santo Antonio on the Spanish border to-day reports the arrest of the Spanish Prince Louis Orleans-Bourbon, on a charge of smuggling cocaine.

The Prince has telegraphed a protest to Queen Victoria of Spain. He is alleged to have arrived from Spain clad in women's clothes, accompanied by three men. The narcotic was concealed in his clothes, according to the police.

KING TO YIELD THRONE TO SON

Emmanuel Will Abdicate if Mussolini Beaten By Feberzoni.

SAYS PARIS PAPER.

PARIS, March 25. — Canadian Press. — King Victor Emmanuel of Italy will abdicate in favor of Crown Prince Humbert, if Minister of the Interior Feberzoni succeeds in ousting Premier Mussolini, is the report from Rome published in the Corriere De Gli Italiani, an Italian anti-Fascist paper, published in Paris.

A despatch from Rome printed in this paper bears out the details of the struggle between Mussolini and Feberzoni.

The Corriere further declares Feberzoni plans to bring young Humbert, who as Prince of Piedemont, lives in Turin, to Rome in triumph after his father's abdication.

FRENCH DEBT TO BE FUNDED

Churchill Hopeful of Early Resumption of Negotiations.

STILL DIFFICULTIES.

LONDON, March 25. Canadian Press. — Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, hopes that negotiations, looking toward the funding of the French debt to Britain will shortly be resumed. In expressing himself optimistically, in the House of Commons yesterday, the Chancellor said there were still difficulties to be overcome, the most serious of which was the French contention that in the event of the total failure of German reparations France could not be expected to continue payments.

OWING TO LAYING A NEW FLOOR IN TOWN HALL AT KEENE, THE DANCE THAT WAS TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY EVENING OF THIS WEEK HAS BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 30TH. 3d24, 25, 27

THE COLONEL'S MAID.
ON MARCH 26TH, A 3-ACT COMEDY ENTITLED, "COLONEL'S MAID," WILL BE GIVEN BY THE YOUNG PEOPLE AT STEWART HALL.
1d-72-842.

HOLD AGED MAN FOR WIFE'S DEATH

Nova Scotia Man Arrested in Regina—Wife Died in January.

HALIFAX, March 25. — Canadian Press. — When shown a despatch from Regina, Sask., announcing the arrest in that city of George Peoples, aged 73, Hon. J. C. Douglas, attorney general of Nova Scotia, said last night that he had requested the arrest of Peoples in connection with the death of the old man's wife at Pirate Harbour, near Mulgrave, N. S., on January 5th last.

At that time it was believed that the woman's death was caused by a fall down the cellar stairs.

NO FOREIGN COAL FOR BRITAIN IF MINERS STRIKE

Union Has Made Arrangemnts So Coal Will Move.

AT CONFERENCE.

Representative Makes Statement at Meeting With Owners.

LONDON, Mar. 25 (Canadian Press)—"If the Government's decision in the coal controversy is unsatisfactory to the miners and they have to strike on May 1, we have made arrangements that not one ton of coal will be handled throughout the country," said A. J. Cook, secretary general of the Miners' Federation in a speech at Westminster last night.

"We also have made sure that no coal shall enter this country from America or Germany," he added. "We are not going to be slaves any longer. The miners will starve before they accept any reduction in wages."

The speech of Mr. Cook was delivered after he had been present at a two hour conference between Premir Baldwin and the miners' and mine owners' representatives. At this meeting Mr. Baldwin said the Government would accept the recent report of the Royal Commission which investigated the coal situation and laid plans for its betterment if the miners and mine owners would accept it. The Premier also indicated the Government's willingness to continue temporarily financial assistance in districts where the coal industry is in bad condition.

D.R.O. ACQUITTED AT ATHABASKA ANOTHER GUILTY

Crown Fails To Prove Parentau Man Acted as Deputy.

CASE DISMISSED.

Frog Lake Deputy Guilty of Marking Ballots—To Be Sentenced.

EDMONTON, March 25. Canadian Press. — William Robertson, deputy returning officer of Parenteau poll 214, in the Athabaska riding for the last Federal election, was found not guilty of the charges of stuffing the ballot bax and placing his initials on the back of the ballot papers yesterday afternoon.

The case came to an abrupt conclusion when Mr. Justice Ives took the case away from the jury stating that the Crown had produced no evidence to show that Robertson had acted as Deputy Returning Officer.

In dismissing the accused and commenting on the technical flaw in the Crown's case, Mr. Justice Ives said: "If the community in which you live had any respect for itself it would run you out." Nineteen witnesses were called by the Crown to swear that although their names were shown on the poll book as having voted, they did not vote on October 29 at Parenteau poll.

At this morning's session of the court, H. M. Jenner, deputy returning officer of Frog Lake poll 172 in the Athabaska Federal election, was found guilty of initialing the backs of ballot papers and not guilty of stuffing the ballot boxes.

He was remanded in custody until Friday afternoon when sentence will be passed.

UNITED FARMERS' PARTY IS NOT DEAD, L. W. OKE WARNS FERGUSON

Drury Would Still Be Premier Had He Been Economical.

DEBATES BUDGET.

TORONTO, March 25. — L. W. Oke, U.F.O. member for East Lambton, resumed the budget debate yesterday. In opening, he pointed out that the Progressives had as officials ex-Premier Drury as president, a Toronto doctor and city real estate man, as officers, and a lawyer Hon. W. E. Raney, as House leader.

"You will see that the Progressive movement and the U.F.O. are separate and distinct organizations," he said. "The U.F.O. is to further the interest of farmers politically, educationally, socially and co-operatively."

Mr. Oke said that the U.F.O. government had placed some good legislation on the statute books, that the mothers' allowances act was "one of the most humane and moral laws."

The U.F.O. government had also brought in temperance legislation in accordance with the will of the people, with the result that the temperance legislation was in an advanced stage, as desired by the public.

The holding up of the building of Hydro radials throughout the province was another of the good things accomplished by the farmer government.

"Time will eliminate the Hydro radials from this province," declared Mr. Oke.

Mr. Oke said that while the U.F.O. was on the ungrade it had had its difficulties and failures, and the greatest failure was in a political way. In 1921 the membership of the political branch of the organization was 55,000, and in 1922 it went down to 3,000. But in 1925 the membership was 34,000.

"I would warn the Premier that the U.F.O. in Ontario is not dead yet," declared the speaker.

"The failure of the U.F.O. politically was due mainly to three men," he stated. "Two of them are now out of the House and I do not wish to speak of a man behind his back, so I will say nothing about them."

"The third man is in this house—the Hon. W. E. Raney, leader of the Progressive party." Mr. Oke said that the U.F.O.'s political growth was too much of a mushroom nature.

"Forty-five members were elected," he said, "and they were not prepared for their responsibility. They were taken by surprise. Had they not gone outside the ranks of the elected members to form a government things might have gone all right.

"If Mr. Drury had done what the U.F.O. wanted him to do, and what the people of this province expected him to do, carried on an economical government, he would be in office yet. Instead of that he went on piling up the interest debt and capital expenditure and the people resented that."

Beware of Debt.

"I want to warn the present Premier and government to beware on that very same point," continued the speaker. "The people of the province are taking cognizance of the fact that you fellows are not doing very much better."

As to Mr. Raney, the speaker said that while he had separated from him politically, he admired some of the Progressive leader's qualities. "I admire his fighting qualities—the way he puts his back to the wall and battles all and sundry," he said.

But he could never agree with anyone fanatical. He hated narrow-mindedness and carping criticism.

As to the business activities of the U.F.O. Co-operative Company, Mr. Oke said they were increasing and prospering. Instead of a bank debt of $500,000 there was now a cash balance of $65,000. It operated the largest creamery in Ontario, and last year, although they paid competitive prices for cream, they had returned $30,000 to the patrons. "That money would have otherwise gone to the middleman," he declared.

Fifty Foot Pillar Of Fire Startles People Of Village

FERRARA, March 25 (United Press).—Inhabitants of the village of Consandolo were terrified to-day by the sudden emergence from the ground of a pillar of fire fifty feet in height. The villagers thought the wrath of God was being visited upon them, but more scientific observers attributed the phenomenon to a sub-soil gas pocket which suddenly had been released and ignited.

Caribiners surrounded the pillar to prevent accidents. Last summer a column of water sprang from the earth in the same neighborhood.

SHOW REPEATED.

Knox Minstrels Give Performance For Eastern Star L.O.B.A.

The Knox church Minstrels repeated their snappy show last evening in Victoria Hall, under the auspices of the Eastern Star L.O.B.A., No. 525. There was a good attendance considering the bad weather and the entertainment included with service of refreshments by the ladies and a short dance.

Four City Walls Tell Story Of Matteotti Trial

CHIASSO, Switzerland, Mar. 25 (Canadian Press)—The walls of Verona, Milan, Turin and Genoa were plastered last night with posters giving an account of Premier Mussolini's responsibility for the murder of Deputy Matteotti, and details of the trial of the murderers at Chieti.

The bills were headed: "Live Matteotti, down with Mussolini assassins."

The police scraped the posters off as quickly as they could, but huge crowds were able to read what the Italian newspapers have suppressed about the trial. Wholesale arrests of known anti-Fascisti are now going on in the four cities as a result.

BIZARRE EFFECT AT LONG SESSION

Brackin Lines Up Rows of Liquor Bottles on Desk.

FERGUSON CHEERED.

TORONTO, Madch 25 (Canadian Press). — Bizarre effect of last night's long session was heightened by the array of booze bottles that R. L. Brackin, Liberal Government control advocate, lined up on his desk. In fact he had so many of them that he had to use the desks of a couple of his neighbors. These bottle were horrible examples—exhibits that he used to emphasize his picture of the flow of fake and poisonous liquor that was coming into Ontario. Much of the time that he was talking he had a bottle in his hand.

Premier Ferguson was greeted with prolonged government applause as he rose to speak.

"The Liberal leader has spoken for an hour and a half and has very cleverly dodged all the issues which he says are raised by this amendment. Then with a flourish of trumpets he challenges the Government to declare its position," said the Premier.

"I have already given a statement of the Government's position in this matter, but as it is short I do not mind repeating it," stated the Premier.

"The policy of this Government has been to maintain and enforce every law on the statute books, and when the Government makes up its mind that it can improve conditions by altering the law, it will say so to the members of this House.

"The Government will take the responsibility of ascertaining the desires of people and will consider the opinions of the members of this House. It will be the duty of the Government to give consideration to their views to decide what shall be done.

"The member for West Kent knows very well that one can challenge the life of the Government on no other occasion, and at no other time in a way that it can be done on a motion to go into Committee of Supply.

"By a subtle movement the member for West Kent has endeavored to seduce the members of this side of the House to support a resolution which would mean the destruction of the administration.

"I do not blame him for this shrewd political move to take advantage of the government, but when he puts his amendment on ground of sincerity it is a different matter."

STAR OF EVENING.

Oshawa Girl Took Leading Part in Recent Ukrainian Ballet.

TORONTO, March 25 (Canadian Press)—In the Ukrainian Ballet given here recently by local Ukrainians, under the direction of a European ballet master, Vasile Avramenke, the hit of the evening was secured by a little Oshawa girl, Marie Yourrevich not quite five years old. She was showered with boxes of chocolates. "She looked like a little fly in the sunshine," he wrote. "The child was so small that, in the national clothes with the flowing ribbons, she looked literally as broad as she was long. But with great earnestness and with never a smie on her round face, she went through a great variety of complicated steps, doing easily the quaintest of dancing that any child has ever offered on a local stage," says a critic in The Mail. There were other good dancers among the little folk, especially the girl and boy who did a Cossack dance. The numbers included many festival dancers of the Ukraine, like the Wedding and Spring dances, some of which were done by both adults and children. A group of ten men did the Arkan, the oldest of the folk dances of the Ukrainians which is also an exceedingly strenuous affair, especially as it nears its climax.

NATIONAL RAILS LOST $12,000,000 ON WHEAT HAUL

Two-Year Deficit on Handling Grain East of Fort William.

QUEBEC'S APPEAL

Petition From River Port for Lower Freight Rate on Transcontinental.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—On handling grain west of Fort William, the Canadian National Railway lost $12,000,000 in 1923 and 1924—approximately $6,000,000 each year—according to evidence given before the Board of Railway Commissioners Wednesday afternoon by F. J. Watson of the Canadian National Railways at the hearing of the application of the Quebec Harbor Commission for a lower grain rate on the National Transcontinental Line.

Mr. Watson added: "We are handling a lot of high-class traffic at the same time which compensates us for this loss." The figures for the 1925 grain handling were not at present available, and Mr. Watson said he was not familiar with the figures east of Fort William.

Deputy Chief Commissioner Vien wanted to know how the figures of the losses on the grain trade were arrived at. The reply was that the company was prepared to show the accounting to the Board but was not willing to have it made public. Mr. Vien argued that the parties interested in this case "had an inherent right" to know how this loss was arrived at. Such a statement must be justified.

Information Incomplete.

Mr. Watson argued that when Dr. Reid, as Minister of Railways, had said that the 6 cent rate on grain to Quebec had proved profitable, he had not the complete information. He (Senator Reid) had written to the Quebec Board of Trade in 1921 that "it is absolutely impossible to carry at less than the lake and rail or all-water route." The 6 cent rate, said Mr. Watson, had been a special measure to relieve certain congestion, and although it had been in operation for two seasons, grain had continued to move heavily to Montreal in spite of that fact that the rate that way was higher.

The application of the Quebec Harbor authorities is for an 11.75 cents per bushel rate on wheat from Armstrong, Ont., on the Transcontinental. The present rate is 20.7 cents. In the course of the hearing E. P. Mallory, of the National Railways, said that the present cost of grain movement over the line was 6.28 mills per ton mile, allowing for the return of empty cars to Fort William.

Business For Quebec.

Louis St. Laurent, counsel for the Quebec port authorities, declared that his clients were only asking that the Transcontinental be placed on a competitive basis with other lines from the West. There was no desire to take business from Montreal. There was plenty of business for both if the trade that was now going to the American seaboard could be concentrated through Canadian ports.

The railways will continue to present their case to-day.

The C.P.R. could not find objection, he said, because they did not carry grain "all-rail" to Quebec. As for the Canadian National, it found itself in the position of the Order-in-Council of 1920, which stated that rates were to be adjusted without having the immediate welfare of the National Railways as the criterion.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Sydenham Man's Team Went Through Ice—One Horse Drowned.

IN WATER AN HOUR.

KINGSTON, March 25 (Special to The Examiner).—Walter Smith, of the village of Sydenham, driver for the Loborough Mining Company, had a very close call last night. While driving under a bridge near Boyce's Island his heavy laden sleigh broke through the ice, throwing him and the horses into the water, drowning one horse and almost crippling the other. Mr. Smith became entangled in the harness and was in the water for almost an hour before he was able to attract the attention of the neighbors to his plight. As a result of his experience, he is confined to his home under the care of a doctor, and his condition is regarded as quite serious

Notice of Removal

The Imperial Life Assurance Co. will occupy their new ground floor offices at 387 Water Street, in rear of Bank of Commerce office about May first.

3d-20,23,25-780

Office "To Let"

Attractive suite of offices in Bank of Toronto building with possession about April 15th. Apply Imperial Life Assurance Co.

3d-20,23,25-779

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — EXTENSION TABLE; good condition, $7; 158 Edinburgh St. 3d-24-695

WOOD FOR SALE — PHONE 1937 for dry hardwood slabs and body hardwood; also real dry hemlock slabs on hand. W. J. Fitzgerald, 242 Perry St. 26d-79-804

FOR SALE — CLEAN PAPER IN bundles, 3 for 25c; Examiner. 26d-95-1218

HOUSE TO LET—265 CHARLOTTE all conveniences, very central; apply 261 Charlotte or phone 1682. 3d-74-1265

FOR SALE—TWO BRUSSELS RUGS in good condition, sizes 12 x 12 and 9 x 12; also small living room table; apply Saturday between 2.30 and 5 p.m. 658 George St., phone 673J. 2d-73-1261

FOR SALE — SQUARE EXTENSION Table, strong and new finish, also lady's navy Tricotine Suit, too small for owner; phone 1289w. 3d-74-1266

FOR SALE — SEVERAL ARTICLES of furniture, etc., including refrigerator; child's crib, new garden hose and child's sulky. 521 Chamberlain St. 3d-74-1262

FOR SALE—3 ONLY NEW PERFECTION Oil Heaters; 1 $8 value for $6.49 1 $9 value for $5.49, 1 $12 value for $7.49. Brown's Hardware. 3d-74-845

FOR SALE — BEER BOTTLES— quarts and pints; apply G. Doig, Bell Ave., phone 2505J. 3d-72-1220

FARM SALE OF STOCK, IMPLEMENTS and household efects at John Bary's, Douro, lot 7, concession 7, 5 miles from Peterboro, on Warsaw road, Tuesday, March 30. 7 horses, 3 matched teams, young, 3000 and 3200; also registered Clyde Stallion (Baron Drumberg) (21911) 1800 lbs. 10 cows, 9 young cattle, 3 sows and pigs. No reserve. 3d-73-1234

FOR SALE — ONE SET DOUBLE driving harness, democrat and buggy, one set scales; two thousand lbs. Apply 1st door west of May's school house. 3d-73-1241

FOR SALE — AT HICKEY'S SHOE Store, 169 Hunter street: Women's Patent Slipper, $2.95; Woman's Rubbers, 50c; Men's Oxfords, $3.95 and $5.00; Boys', $2.95 and $3.50. 3d-74-1273

FOR SALE — THREE PIECE PARlor suite, other articles, apply 535 Parnell. 3d-74-1273

FOR SALE — TANK, 12 FT. 6 IN. long, 3 ft. 6 in. wide, 2 ft. 6 in. deep; suitable for putting on waggon to draw whey; apply 176 Lock St. 3d-24-1271

FOR SALE—CHILD'S PONY: WILL be sold on the market square on Saturday. 2d-73-1269

SITUATIONS VACANT

$5 SELL HOUSHOLD NECESSITIES greatest imaginable demand; have business of oyur own; make five dollars up daily; capital or experience unnecessary. H. Garretson, Brantford, Ont. 12d-82-1332

NURSING.

NURSES—PUPIL DIPLOMA IN TWO years, board, laundry, cash allowance provided; Chicago Hospital, 811 E. 49th St., Chicago, Ill. 3d-23,25,27-1200

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE

LIVE STOCK FOR SALE—ONE DURham Cow, also one Jersey, both [illegible] 3d-72-1202

LIVESTOCK FOR SALE — BULL, Browndale type; Robt. Boyd, R. R. No. 1 Ida. 6d-74-1156

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — LARGE SOLID OAK silent salesman show case; phone 2148. 3d-72-1208

FOR SALE — CONGOLEUM RUG IN good condition, size 9 ft. by 9 ft. Apply 134 Rubidge St. or phone 2163J. 3d-72-1209

FOR SALE—BABY'S WICKER BUGgy; baby's folding buggy; child's cot; electric fan, new; oak barrel; five gallon coal oil can; kitchen range, burns coal, wood and gas; all in perfect condition; apply 464 Driscoll Terrace. 6d-73-1146

FOR SALE—15 FT. SHEET STEEL enamel bath tub, $8; also 1 ladies' bicycle, $10. Apply 504 Water St. 3d-74-1252

FOR SALE—QUEBEC HEATERS—2 No. 23 Heaters, $17 value, for $12; 2 No. 24 Heaters, $21 value for $16; 2 No. 25 Heaters, $24 value, for $19. Brown's Hardware. 3d-74-846

TOOLS FOR SALE—2 SOVEREIGN Hand Saws, $2.49; 1 Shirley Arrowhead Hand Saw, $2.59; 1 No. 6 National Plane, $3.79; 1 Stanley Ratchet Brace, $2.79; 1 12" Westcott Wrench, $1.79; 3 Madole Hammers, $1.79; 2 5 lb. Bench Axes, $1.49; Brown's Hardware, 171 Simcoe St. 3d-74-844

FOR SALE — 1 NEW IDEA HAND Power Washing Machine, $18.75; 1 Whirlpool Water Power Washing Machine, $23.50; 1 Westinghouse Electric Heater, $7.98; 1 Sunbeam Electric Iron in case, $5.95. Brown's Hardware. 3d-74-847

FOR SALE — ONE 5 FT. SHEET steel enamel bath tub, $8; also 1 ladies' bicycle, $10. Apply 504 Water street. 3d-74-1259

FOR SALE—TWO BUCKEYE INcubators; excellent condition; price $25.00; 'phone 821J. 3d-74-1258

FOR SALE — COAL OR WOOD Range, hot water front and warming closet; apply 499 Murray St. 3d-72-1251

FOR SALE—ICE CREAM, GROCERY and Confectionery business, good turnover, residential part of city; for particulars call at 421 George St. 5d-75-1255

FOR SALE — BABY CARRIAGE—A cream reed stroller in good condition; apply 598 Chamberlain. 3d-73-1253

FOR SALE—AUTO KNITTING MAchine, in splendid condition, with full instructions to operate; apply to 559 George St., city. 3d-72-1199

FOR SALE—SUPREME RANGE FOR coal or wood; also Tropic heater. 294 Reid. 6d-74-1174

FOR SALE—6 ROOMED HOUSE, 2 piece plumbing, deep lot with henhouse; central; good condition. Apply Box 1178. 6d-74-1178

FOR SALE—3-4 SIZE VIOLIN, FINE tone, bow and case, phone 45F, 363 Hunter St. 3d-72-817

FOR SALE—FUMED OAK LIBRARY table with shelves and drawer; small Chesterfield (apt. size), spring seat, arms and back, chair to match; fumed oak telephone table and chair; one leather hat box with straps; everything in first class condition; phone 1445J, evenings. 3d-72-1217

FOR SALE — B. C. RED CEDAR Shingles at lowest prices; Fred H. Rowan. Phone 851. 26d-80-828

FOR SALE—TWO BUCKEYE INCUbators; apply 184 Brock St. 3d-84-1007

FOR SALE — WALNUT FINISHED steel bed and springs; walnut vanity dresser, new; fumed oak dining room suite; hall rack; Quebec heater; baby carriage; and a number of jars of fruit; apply evenings between 7 and 8 at 245 Stewart St. 3d-48-1098

LOST

LOST — GENTLEMAN'S GOLD Watch; finder please phone 34. 3d-72-1221

LOST—WEDNESDAY EVENING IN Capitol Theatre or in business section, white gold bar pin with small setting. Finder leave at Examiner or phone 1110J. 3d-74-1268

LOST—PURSE CONTAINING GOLD watch and key in Capitol Theatre or between there and post office. Please leave at Examiner; reward. 3d-72-1223

LOST — PHEASANT — FINDER please notify Montgomery House. 3d-73-1248

LOST — WILL THE PERSON WHO took the umbrella and man's overshoes from Nicholl's Hospital, March 23rd, please return to 182 Adaline Ave., and save further trouble. 3d-73-1233

LOST — BLACK-FACED WALTHAM Wrist Watch luminous dial, down town. Saturday morning; finder please call 62 or 1677J.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — MODERN, HEATED Apartments; apply 437 George St. dtf-1866

FOR RENT — WAREROOMS, OR would be suitable for small manufacturing business; possession 1st April; apply 437 George street. dtf

TO RENT—UPPER DUPLEX, HEATed; apply 192 Dalhousie; phone 2294F. 3d-74-1260

TO LET—FINE OFFICE FOR RENT over Payne's Drug Store. 3d-74-1263

TO LET — SIX ROOMED HOUSE; centrally located, oak floors, furnace, etc., and garage; also small flat and office heated; apply Schneider Bros. 3d-74-1267

TO RENT—HEATED APARTMENT; first month's rent free; phone 1153w. 3d-72-1149

GARAGE TO LET — 573 ROMAINE street. 3d-23,25,27-1213

TO RENT — A FURNISHED HALL over 425 George St. at reasonable rates for single meetings or by the month or year; apply 376 Rubidge St. 6d-20,23,25,27,30,1-1141

TO RENT — UPPER APARTMENT and semi-detached house; new apply 265 Rubidge, phone 1405w. 6d-76-1228

TO RENT — FOUR ROOMED FLAT, downstairs, to parties without children, near Quaker Oats and Westclox; all conveniences; apply 92 Dufferin. 3d-73-1229

FOR RENT — WAREROOMS, OR would be suitable for small manufacturing business; possession 1st April; apply 437 George street. dtf-823

FOR RENT — BEAUTIFUL APARTments; 6 rooms; central location; tenant will sacrifice balance of lease expiring August 31st, leaving city; Box 1242 Examiner. 3d-73-1242

FOR RENT—HOUSE AND 10 ACRES of land on High St.; apply 219 Park. 6d-75-1201

TO RENT—SMALL HOUSE; CONvenience, Mark St.; aply 677 Water street. 3d-72-1206

TO RENT—7 ROOM WHITE BRICK house; conveniences; large garden; apply 571 Elm, 3rd house from Monaghan Road. 3d-73-1247

TO RENT — HOUSE, 172 ADELENE apply 495 Cross St., evenings. 6d-73-1185

TO RENT—CORNER STORE, HOUSE and heated apartment; apply 451 Water St. 12d-81-1198

TO RENT—IF YOU WANT TO RENT a house; if you want to buy a house; if you want to buy a market garden, or exchange a farm for city property, apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-818

FOR RENT—NO. 173 1-2 SIMCOE street, suitable for store or office; Apply 437 George street. dtf-313

FOR RENT—HEATED OFFICE ON George street. Apply 437 George street. dtf

FOR RENT — OFFICE, HEATED; Apply Bank of Toronto. dtf.-3055

HOUSE TO RENT— 539 DOWNIE street. Apply 437 George street. dtf-1837

READ THE WANT ADS.

NOTICE

NOTICE—HELP THE NEEDY WITH your cast off clothing; ring Salvation Army, 1929; we will call. 6d-73-1136

NOTICE—PLUMBING; ALL MAKES of stoves and furnaces repaired; estimates free; Fred Goodfellow; phone 1624m. 12d-82-1236

NOTICE — PLUMBING FIXTURES for your house for $125.00 complete. Fred Goodfellow, phone 1624m. 4d-74-1237

NOTICE — TWO THOUSAND DOLlars, private funds, to lend; Box 1230 Examiner. 3d-73-1230

NOTICE — MOTOR TRUCKING AND moving; also heavy equipment for lumber and logs; N. Bradley, 704 Water St., phone 2327w. 12d-77-1101

NOTICE—HAIRDRESSING — HAIRcutting, shampooing, marcelling, etc.; work done evenings by appointment; Mrs. E. Johnson, 199 Hunter St. W., Bell Apts, phone 1194F. 5d-73-1192

SPECIAL NOTICE. CUT THIS OUT, it will pay. House repairs, cellar to roof; furnaces, stoves expertly cleaned, complete one-fifty, and repaired. We also have hospital for every description of broken goods, from electric irons, furniture to pair of scissors. Costs nothing to phone. Small trial will surprise you how cheap we work. Wm. J. Bull, 1086M.

BOARDERS WANTED

BOARDERS WANTED — MARRIED couple or two young men; all conveniences; apply 718 Water or phone 1742w. 3d-72-1204

ROOMERS OR BOARDERS WANTED conveniences; apply 284 Brock St. or phone 632w. 6d-76-1226

HOUSES, REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE — 2 SMALL HOUSES; cheap, with all conveniences; terms if desired; apply Box 1211 Examiner. 3d-72-1211

HOUSE FOR SALE — NEW SOLID Brick and stucco house, hardwood floors, furnace, and all conveniences, taxes $28.00 a year; phone in day time 890, after six o'clock 2232; special price for cash; south east part of city. 12d-81-1216

FOR SALE—NEW MODERN STUCCO Bungalow, hardwood floors throughout, French doors, fireplace, central. Apply 61 Robinson St. or phone 1037J. 6d-76-1250

REAL ESTATE — SNAP FOR A quick turn over; central; 7 room brick house, full plumbing, furnace, garage; hardwood floors; newly decorated, $3,300, terms; houses in all districts to rent; apply 344 King St. 3d-24,26,27-1252

FOR SALE—BEAUTIFUL HOME IN city, or would exchange for smaller house; nine roomed brick veneer house, all improvements, excellent out buildings, lawns, large garden. Apply Box 1246 Examiner. 3d-74-1246

SPLENDID — BUNGALOW HOME— French doors, electric fire place, hardwood up and down stairs; would consider good lot as part; apply 421 George St. 5d-75-1256

OPPORTUNITY — TO EXCHANGE some building lots as part payment on some good houses, central; call at 421 George St. 5d-75-1257

FOR SALE — 8 ROOMED SOLID Brick House, central location; all modern but furnace; apply A. Whitnell, Empress Hotel. 6d-74-1181

REAL ESTATE — 34 ACRES FOR sale or rent; close to city; good buildings and land all under cultivation, lot of fruit; apply 282 George St. 6d-75-1215

REAL ESTATE—IF YOU HAVE MOney to loan on city or farm property, guaranteed property valuation equal to double the amount of the mortgage; no commission to pay. Apply at the Review Agency, 164 Hunter street. 26d-95-819

FOR SALE — NEW HOUSE, DESIRably situated in the West End centre hall plan, oak floors through out and modern in every respect; easy terms to suit purchaser; apply 437 George street. dtf-3483

REAL ESTATE — FOR SALE OR rent, in East City, Mark St. 220; a new house, two years old, bungalow style, three bed rooms and bathroom upstairs, built of brick with cement foundation, cellar full size with good furnace; large porch in front, light and water on tap; apply to owner, Andrew Fairbairn, 362 Lakefield, Ont. 3d163-680

HELP WANTED—Male

WANTED—MARRIED MAN TO DO farm work; free house and garden. Apply Melville Stewart, Chemong Road, phone 989 r 14. 3d-73-1225

MALE HELP WANTED — STEADY home employment at silver plating, nothing to buy or sell; no experience required; write for particulars; address Silver, 173 Macdonell Ave., Toronto. 5d-74-1123

SALESMAN WANTED — SHIRT salesman wanted for Peterborough and surrounding towns to sell high quality made-to-order shirts at popular prices. Liberal commission and sole agency to the right man. Excellent opportunity to obtain a profitable line. Please state experience. John Budd Company, 315 Bay Street, Toronto. 2d-23,25-820

POULTRY & EGGS

POULTRY FOR SALE—RHODE ISland Reds, Rocks and White Leghorns, all laying; also Single Comb Rhode Island Red and Brown Leghorn Rooster. Apply 359 Euclid Ave., phone 860F. 3d-74-1264

WANTED—LIVE POULTRY—EXTRA prices paid for good stock; phone 771 and we will call, or bring them to A. Atkins, 180 Charlotte St. 26d-73-703

WANTEL — HEN AND CHICKENS; special prices paid; phone H. F. Doig, 2037F. 26d-74-722

HELP WANTED—Female

WANTED — GENERAL SERVANT for family in Toronto; summer in Muskoka; apply 457 Water St. 3d-73-1227

WANTED — GIRL — MUST HAVE little experience; apply to Albion Sweets, 390 George St. 3d-74-1274

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL housework, 4 days a week, to sleep out; apply evenings, 531 Homewood Ave. 1d-71-1254

WANTED—GIRL WANTED: MUST be experienced; apply G. A. Pringle and Son. 3d-73-839

WANTED—A FIRST CLASS SEWING girl to help on coats and skirts; apply Ed Hickey, Royal Bank building. 3d-73-1245

WANTED—FIRST CLASS COOK, A kitchen girl and upstairs girl wanted at once; apply Grand Hotel. 3d-72-1212

HELP WANTED—APPLY NICHOLL'S Hospital. 3d-72-816

CUSTOMS OFFICER NOT DISMISSED

(Continued from page one.)

"I knew it should be returned," said Mr. Giroux. He denied that he had been told by officers of the Dominion Glass Company that the money must be paid. He had seen Mr. Weldon, chief collector at Montreal and informed him that the money would be paid within three days. He had never interviewed members of the glass company on the matter.

Mr. Giroux claimed that he had told Bisaillon that he must give up the liquor business and devote his attention to his duties as a customs officer. He had visited the office in which Bisaillon conducted this business on two occasions. He agreed to give the clerk of the committee access to his cheques and bank books from 1919 to 1924 inclusive.

The entry of three cartons of radio tubes brought in by a passenger on the steamship Melita, was then discussed. The tubes were seized and Mr. Giroux admitted having released them with a written order. He did not recall the circumstances but said the amount of duty involved would have been only $20.

Mr. Stevens said the amount did not matter. Mr. Giroux had toted around a document worth $2600 for over a year.

Mr. Giroux told D. Donahey, a member of the committee, that he was so busy in 1922, 1923 and 1924 that he was unable to give sufficient attention to the coal business.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, and emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action, it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other fords of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchical asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to direction. Ask your druggist Creomulsion Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SPRING IS HERE

Thousands of People Need Calomel.

That is why you have sallow complexion with a dull tired heavy feeling, no pep, indigestion, rheumatism, constipation, terrible kidney pains, biliousness, no appetite. These are all well known signs that your liver is out of order, that your system is full of poison. There is only one drug that acts upon the liver and that is calomel called tanol calomel which has no bad after effects, perfectly harmless to take, no salts or seidlitz are needed next morning. Get a few of these tablets from Weber's Drug Store, Peterboro; take according to directions. They will make you eat better, look better, work better, and your brain will be much clearer, full of pep and vigor ready for a long day's work.

AUTOS FOR SALE

CAR FOR SALE—FORD SEDAN—model '21 in first class condition; five good cord tires; $235 cash; Box 3626 Examiner.

CAR FOR SALE—McLAUGHLIN CAR in good condition; recently overhauled; five good tires; apply 270 John St., phone 1083w. 6d-74-1193

WANTED

WANTED — TWO ROOMERS IN private home or would give furnished rooms, heated, to a young couple; garage to rent. 578 Charlotte St. 6d-78-1139

WANTED — AN UNFURNISHED Apartment, 3 or 4 rooms; heated and hardwood preferred; phone 60. 2d-73-1270

ROOMER WANTED—ALL CONVENIences, use of phone; apply to Box 1197 Examiner. 3d-72-1197

WANTED TO ADOPT—LITTLE GIRL or boy; apply Mrs. Griffin, 18 Ontario Place, Toronto 2. 3d-72-1207

WANTED TO RENT FOR MAY 1ST—small modern house; family of three, well recommended; would lease suitable place; state full particulars to Box 1240 Examiner. 3d-73-1240

WANTED — MOTOR CARTING; ALL kinds, long or short hauling; Beatty Bros. 'Phone 2169-991r2.

WANTED—1,500 MEN AND WOMEN to join Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Coupon on another page. dh

FOR SALE

$5,500 will buy new bungalow; all conveniences. West side.
$4,000 will buy new dwelling; all conveniences. South side.
$2,800 will buy brick dwelling in good condition.
Several dwelling to rent also. Farms for sale in different parts of the county.
See our list if you are in the market to buy.

W H TAYLOR
163 Hunter St. W., or Phone 1462.

R. C. HEARD
379 Water Street

Agency for the Renfrew Cream Separator.

TRUCK SCALES AND RANGES

Get Your Spring Supplies Now.
Wire Fence of All Kinds.
Steam and Gas Engines
Threshing Machinery.
A Small Lot of Winter Goods to Clear.
One 2½ I.H.C. Gas Engine, second hand, and 3 Second hand Plows.
REAL ESTATE OF ALL KINDS
Phone 1329

Dr. T. W. H. YOUNG

Physician and Surgeon
Graduate of London, Edinburgh and Glasgow
Office Hours: 8-10; 2-4; 6-8.
305 Stewart St. - Phone 347

Dry Wood
UNDER COVER

Hard and soft. Cut and delivered. At moderate prices. Prompt delivery.

Also manufacture to order any style
INTERIOR TRIM, SASH AND DOORS, ETC.

CANADIAN ALADDIN CO.
Phone 952 Evenings 2080j

HOUSE

To let, six rooms; conveniences; central; LOW RENT.
Also Store and Apartment to let.

A. LOW & CO.
385 BETHUNE ST.
Phone 607 - Nights & Holidays 1027

ORDER NOW
NUT SIZE
COKE
JAMICO COAL
THOS. A. REHILL CO.
210 Wolfe St. - Phone 245
Prompt Service
Our Specialty

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

100 acres of choice rolling land in the Township of Alnwick, all in good state of cultivation and a quantity in hay and pasture, well watered and very comfortable buildings, immediate possession. This farm can be sold at a greatly reduced price on reasonable terms and if not sold will be rented.

Anybody requiring said property should act quickly.

J. T. O'CONNELL & CO.
136 Hunter St. W.
Office phone, 376. Residence, 1329.
A. Mills, agent, phone 1403w.

FOR SALE

70 foot lot, with house, on George street, close to market square, make good business property, great bargain for quick sale; inquire.

6 room, new, all modern Brick house, west side $4000

7 room all modern Brick, west side, good location $4000

4½ acres good Brick house, barn, hen house, fruit, close to bus line, exchange for house; inquire.

10 acres, Brick house, barn, 80 apple trees, plums and cherries, mile from city $3600

40 acres good land all clear, good buildings, 5 miles from Belleville for $3600

Number of good Houses to Rent.

P. E. Rutherford Agency
282 George Street - Phone 142

FOR SALE

$4600—7 roomed Brick, all modern, garage, central, see this.
$4300—6 room Brick, all modern, north end.
$2600—6 roomed red Brick, 3 piece plumbing, garage; a snap.
$3900—6 roomed red Brick, all modern, except furnace; extra lot.
$4000—6 roomed red Brick, all modern, hardwood floors, would take lot.
$2300—6 roomed Frame house, 2 piece bath, large lot, easy terms.
50 acres close to city, good buildings, would exchange for house in city.
Several choice farms for sale or exchange on city property.
All kinds of insurance written.

J. CHAMBERS & CO.
392 Water Street
Office 341.
Residence 'Phone 1594W
G. Adams, agent, Res. phone 707m.

BUILD A THERMOS HOME

Save Two to Five Tons of Fuel per year. Get our prices on Thermos Homes, large or small. Insulation, the solution of fuel cost.

A. B. CUNNINGHAM,
Builder and Contractor,
331 REID STREET

Telephone 790 When You Want Your
Piano or Organ Tuned
Player Pianos a Specialty
All Work Guaranteed
W. H. CUNNINGHAM
560 Weller Street

CHINA PAINTING

Mrs. Langley McCarthy Teaches Biscoffs' New and Beautiful Work in CHINA PAINTING

In Memoriam

Memories are a great heritage; they help to cheer the way over life's cobble-stone roadway; memories of mother, father, wife, husband, daughter, son, sister, brother or friend.

To assist its readers in the preparation of memoriam notices The Examiner has available a selection of two hundred verses, appropriate for all occasions.

If you are interested, all possible help will be given on enquiry at the Editorial Department.

Advertise in The Examiner

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY, LTD.
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE ST. PHONE 40

Boots and Her Buddies

"BRINGING UP FATHER" — Geo. McManus

Toronto Savings And Loan Company

NOTICE is hereby given that a Quarterly Dividend of THREE PER CENT. (3 per cent.) for the three months ending March 31st, 1926, has been declared upon the Capital Stock of this Institution, and the same will be payable at the offices of this Company, Peterborough, on and after Thursday, the 1st day of April, 1926.

The Transfer Books will be closed from the 17 to the 31st March, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board.
W. G. MORROW,
Managing Director.

RED ROSE "is good COFFEE"

MILLBROOK DEBATERS DEFEATED BY NEWCASTLE CHURCH ORATORS

Co-operation Vs. Competition in Business Was Inter-League Subject.

MILLBROOK NEWS.

MILLBROOK, March 25.— The interleague debate for the Whattam Cup, held in the United Church, Newcastle, on Monday evening drew a large attendance, Miss Lillian Colwell occupying the chair.

The subject was: "Resolved that co-operation, as against competition, is in the best interests of commerce"; the affirmative being ably upheld by Margaret Howard and Jim Larmer, of the Millbrook League, while effective arguments for the negative were presented by Miss Lillian Clemence and Mr. Clarence Allan of Newcastle.

The judges were Miss Bragg of Bowmanville, Miss Mason of Newcastle, and Miss S. Hetherington of Millbrook. The decision was finally awarded to the negative by a small margin of points.

A solo by Mrs. Bragg of Bowmanville, was much enjoyed. The Newcastle debaters last year were in the district finals for the cup, though Tyrone Leaguers carried off the trophy.

Those taking part in the series of debates have to be over 16 and under 25 years of age. Leagues from every district in the Bay of Quinte Conference may enter in the competition.

Mission Circle Annual.

The Golden Links Mission Circle held its annual meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. P. Stinson; Mrs. J. McKnight, president, being in the chair.

Reports for the year were encouraging, four new life members being placed on the roll at Wednesday's meeting—Mrs. Weatherup, Mrs. McKnight, Mrs. D. Lunn, and Miss Hattie Barnard. Mrs. Lunn's certificate is a gift from the circle, her marriage having taken place recently and shortly after she had joined the organization.

The Honorary President, Mrs. V. C. Lambert, read a short account of the life of the young Japanese student at Whitby Ladies' College who passed away suddenly before her course was completed. Her parents in Japan cabled to London, England, where her brother was on his wedding trip, and the latter came to Canada and attended to the burial rites of his sister. Her body was cremated, and the ashes have been sent to her home in Japan.

The election of officers was presided over by Mrs. (Rev.) F. H. Howard, the list including:

Hon. President, Mrs. V. C. Lambert.
President, Mrs. J. McKnight.
First Vice-President—Elsie Spence.
Recording Secretary—Wilma Fallis.
Cor. Secretary—Thelma Ball.
Treasurer—Lila White.
Superintendent Christian Stewardship—Mrs. M. Weatherup.
Superintendent Mite Boxes — Miss L. Crocker.
Auditors—Misses H. Barnard and P. Burnham.
Pianist—Etta Peel.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed at the close, a treat of home-made candy being provided by the hostess, and some of the officers.

Address on Fur Trade

An illustrated talk on "The Fur Trade in Canada" was given in the Young People's League on Monday evening, over 60 being in attendance, and the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group presenting the programme.

The topic proved to be of absorbing interest, the development of the theme showing clearly how Canada's history is closely interwoven with the fur trade from the standpoint both of commerce and exploration. The lure of rich peltry led men of adventurous spirit at an early date to penetrate farther and farther into the unexplored wilds until the Rockies had been crossed, the Arctic basin had been reached, Hudson Bay has been charted, and trading posts established at many widely-separated points.

If the whole history of our fur trade could be written, many stirring tales of romance, adventure, and tragedy would be unfolded. By slides and story, the history was traced from the coming of Jacques Cartier, in 1535, the first white man to tread the banks of the St. Lawrence, giving the river its name; Chauvin, who established Tadoussac, the first trading post, in 1598; Champlain, who in 1608 built the first house on the site of Quebec; Prince Rupert, the first governor of the Hudson Bay Company organized in 1670; Raidisson and Groseilliers, "loyal only to the blue sky and the fur trade, and directly responsible for the founding of the Hudson Bay Company; Sir Alexander MacKenzie, who reached the Arctic basin by way of the river which bears his name, and even crossed the Rockies as early as 1789; these and many others were made to live again as the subject was developed.

Many of the fur-bearing animals, and the traders' parleys with the Indians were shown in the slides, as well as the various national parks for game preservation, including the largest of 10,500 acres at Fort Smith on the Arctic Circle, where the only wild buffalo herd in the world roams at will.

The barter with the Indians by rival companies was vividly portrayed, and presents a rather sordid picture as tawdry trinkets were exchanged for costly pelts. "As an instance of this, it is told that a resourceful trader, Ingraham, devised a sort of iron collar weighing seven pounds and of little value, which became popular with the Indian belles on the Pacific Coast, and for it would be given three prime skins of the sea-otter, now practically extinct because of reckless slaughter; these pelts sold in the Russian and Chinese markets, for royalty's exclusive use, at $200 a pelt."

While fox-farming is the largest and most valuable industry among the fur-bearers in Canada, others which help to conserve wild life are muskrat farms, raccoon farms, chinchilla rabbits, the close season for seals having saved this animal from being completely destroyed.

Since the war, London is no longer the leading fur market of the world, Montreal, Winnipeg, Edmonton New York, and St. Louis having fur auctions annually, when millions of dollars' worth of pelts are disposed of.

Canada's income from furs in 1923-24 was over $17,000 000 with Ontario leading, her quota being $3,781,969.

Locally Millbrook has a fox farm on a small scale, but increasing in numbers each year, Mr. J. L. Byam having five pairs of silver black foxes which were recently inspected by the government official and pronounced good stock. Mr. Byam is building up his fox farm on a commercial basis.

Personal Notes

Mrs. John Hatherly went to Toronto on Wednesday on account of the illness of her eldest daughter, Miss Ethel, who is at present in the Toronto General Hospital. Mrs. Hatherly will visit her daughter Mrs Will Jones during her stay in the city.

Born.—At Dr. H. A. Turner's private hospital, on Monday, March 22, 1926, to Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dawson, a son (John Brentin).

Healthy Mother — Healthy Baby

TO give babies the best chance in the world, mothers should carefully maintain their own health, and breast-feed their babies.

"Ovaltine" makes breast-feeding possible. It should be the daily food beverage until baby is weaned. If commenced several months before the birth "Ovaltine" enables the mother to maintain her strength under the approaching strain, and after birth ensures an adequate supply of rich milk.

"Ovaltine" is a delicious beverage, a concentration of natural foods—ripe barley malt, rich creamy milk, eggs and cocoa. One cup contains more nourishment than 12 cups of beef tea or 3 eggs.

At all druggists, 60c. — 90c. — $1.50

A. Wander Limited, London, England
Canadian Office: 455 King Street West, Toronto 95R

OVALTINE
TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE
Enables Mothers to Breast Feed their Babies

GREAT BRITAIN ONLY COLLECTOR OF WAR DEBTS FROM DEVASTATED EUROPE FOR RICH UNITED STATES

Republic Blamed in British Commons for Difficulties of War Payments.

FRANCE CENSURED

French Financial Record in Last Seven Years Discreditable.

LONDON, March 25.—(Canadian Press).—The problem of the world war's heritage of interallied debts was given a periodical airing in the House of Commons yesterday, and Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Philip Snowden, Laborite, and former chancellor, who are poles apart politically, joined hands in the House in agreeing that the burden of responsibility for the war debt difficulties rests on the United States for refusing to adopt a policy of all round cancellation.

Mr. Snowden percipitated the debate in the hope of helping to bring Great Britain's recalcitrant continental creditors to time, and he spared neither the United States, France nor Italy in the scathing criticism for which he has a reputation.

Churchill Restrained.

With ministerial responsibility associated with his utterances, Mr. Churchill restrained his statement somewhat, and on the whole was hopeful of obtaining from Great Britain's debtors the necessary £33,000,000 sterling which this country is now paying to the United States annually. And thus the Chancellor of the Echequer believes the British Government will be enabled to carry out the principle of the Balfour note, whereby Great Britain declared her intention of collecting from her continental allies only sufficient sums to pay her indebtedness to the United States.

Mr. Churchill described the undertaking to pay "£100,000 sterling daily for more than three generations of the nation as one of the most stupendous tasks and burdens ever assumed by any country in the whole world's history.'

Gold Flow to U.S.A.

The chancellor declared that an extraordinary situation which would not pass out of the minds of any responsible persons either in the United States or Europe, would exist when most of Germany's war reparations were "drawn from the devastated and war stricken countries of Europe in an unbroken stream across the Atlantic to that wealthy, prosperous and great republic."

Later, however, Mr. Churchill indicated that there might be some doubt in his mind whether future European generations would be paying war debts to the United States. Great Britain's recent settlement with Italy, he pointed out, might be better than the pending Italian-American terms, because Great Britain gets larger annual payments immediately, while the Washington treasury will benefit only in the uncertain future.

Philip Snowden said that if the United States insisted that Great Britain must pay, he would point to the success of the United States in funding forty percent of her war debts, and argued that if Great Britain did not follow suit the taxpayers here must bear the burden. It was difficult to believe, Mr. Snowden asserted, that better terms could not have been made with France, while he characterized the Italian settlement as "trivial in the extreme."

Denounces France.

The Laborite spokesman considered that France had made no attempt to meet her obligations, and her financial record for the last seven years, particularly, was in his opinion "one of the most discreditable records in the history of national finance."

Mr. Snowden contended that if France and Italy would only organize their economic resources they could meet their obligations, and added: "It is high time the French got rid of their inherent unwillingness to pay taxes, which has presented a contemptible spectacle to the whole world. This inability to tax themselves has brought France to the verge of national bankruptcy."

A characteristic of the Dawes reparation plan was that the financial control of a country was in the hands of its friends and Mr. Snowden warned that if France wished to avoid an unpleasant spectacle of humiliation she must secure the object of the Dawes scheme by her own financial policy. He insisted that France's capital wealth had not decreased by reason of the war and that she had not suffered Great Britain's unparalleled trade depression, but was experiencing a period of prosperity, as the trade returns showed.

Collector For U.S.A.

Summing up Great Britain's position as a "go-between for war debts enroute to America from Europe", the Chancellor of the Exchequer said he expected to obtain £12,500,000 from France, while Italy was paying £4,000,000, and he estimated that the minor powers would contribute £2,000,000.

If Germany paid three-fourths of the maximum under the Dawes scheme which he thought would be a reasonable estimate, it would mean £15,000,000.

Therefore in the not distant future Great Britain will be receiving £33,500,000 annually. Britain at the present time was paying £33,000,000 to the United States but she will be paying £38,000,000 in a few years.

"Thus," he said, "There is a gap in the margin, which perhaps some day Russia might be anxious to fill."

Mr. Churchill's statement, which covered the whole field of war debt problems, included the declaration that all hope has not been lost for the recovery of £800,000 owed to Great Britain by Russia but repudiated by the Soviet regime.

"The situation is changing and the importance of world credits to Russia is dawning upon her rulers," Mr. Churchill said. He stated that none of Britain's claims against Russia have been abrogated.

ONTARIO HOUSE SITS ALL NIGHT ON AMENDMENT

Defeats Brackin Measure 84-10 After 8 O'clock This Morning.

RANEY THREATENED.

Ferguson Says He Will Take Legal Action If Remarks Repeated.

TORONTO, Mar. 25 (Canadian Press) — At 8 a.m. the Ontario Legislature was still sitting and the debate continuing on the Government control amendment of R. L. Brackin (Liberal, West Kent) to the budget speech. The house had then been in continuous session since 3 p.m. on Wednesday with the exception of an adjournment for dinner. W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, had the floor at 8 a.m. and will be followed by Premier Ferguson who in the early hours of this morning threatened Hon. W. E. Raney, Progressive leader, with court action if he (Mr. Raney) repeated outside the house his remarks regarding the "Cigar Box" incident and the Home Bank legals. Mr. Raney had stated that "one would have thought that the Prime Minister, as a member of a former government, would have seen to it that the matter was cleared up." It is expected that the parties will split on the Bracken amendment when the vote is taken, but that the amendment will be lost and the government sustained on the budget speech.

TORONTO, March 25 (Canadian Press) — The Bracken amendment to the budget speech was defeated this morning after an all night session of the legislature, by a vote of 84 to 10. This amendment favored the sale of liquor in Ontario under a system of Government control.

During the night there were 14 speakers from all parties in the House. Three Conservatives, Col. John Currie (Southeast Toronto), F. W. Wilson (Windsor) and W. C. Weichel (South Waterloo) declared their intention to vote for the amendment moved by R. L. Brackin Liberal, West Kent), which proposes a system of Government control and sale of liquor. E. C. Graves (Conservative, St. Catharines) although declaring himself against the Ontario Temperance Act, said he would oppose the amendment as he regarded it as a direct want of confidence vote in the government. This was the attitude also of Mark Vaughan (Conservative, Welland).

Dr. Wallis (Liberal Algoma), A. P. Mewhinney (Liberal, West Bruce), and W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal leader, declared they would oppose the amendment maintaining that the present law should remain on the statute books until the people by their votes declared for a change. Practically every word of discussion throughout the night was on the liquor question, and other features of the budget were ignored. Several attempts were made by Opposition members to adjourn the debate, but Premier Ferguson insisted that it continue to conclusion before the House rose.

R. L. Brackin, who spoke again on his amendment, declared that it was not a want of confidence motion. "If the Premier will promise that at this session, or even the next session, he will bring in a measure of Government control of liquor, I will support him. I will go further. I will go out and win a riding for him," Mr. Brackin said there was no other way than the one he had adopted of bringing the matter before the House. He announced that he might reconsider his previous announcement that he intended to retire from public life.

These voting in favour of the amendment were: F. W. Wilson, Conservative (Windsor), J. A. McCausland, Conservative (South-West Toronto), A. Belanger, Liberal (Russell), E. Proulx, Liberal, (Prescott), R. L. Brackin, Liberal (West Kent), J. A. Pinard, Liberal (East Ottawa), E. P. Tellier, Liberal (North Essex), K. K. Homuth, Laborite, (South Waterloo), W. G. Welchel, Conservative (North Waterloo), J. A. Currie, Conservative, (South-East Toronto).

The members of the Cabinet and all the party leaders voted against the amendment. The Progressive group voted solidly against, and F. J. Callan (Labor, Rainy River) also lined up with the opponents of the motion. Premier Ferguson spoke briefly just before the vote and declared the motion to be a direct want of confidence motion. "This is a challenge to this Government's existence," he declared, referring to the amendment. Mr. Sinclair and Mr. Brackin challenged the Premier to state the policy of his Government on the liquor question. The Premier reiterated his announcement made earlier in the session that the policy of the Government was to maintain the Ontario Temperance Act as it existed. "When we make up our minds that we can improve conditions by altering the Act we will say so to this House and to the public," said Mr. Ferguson.

The amendmen being lost, the House carried a motion to go into supply without any further formal voting. The committee passed on items of estimates and then adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

CENSURE DEFEATED BY QUEBEC HOUSE

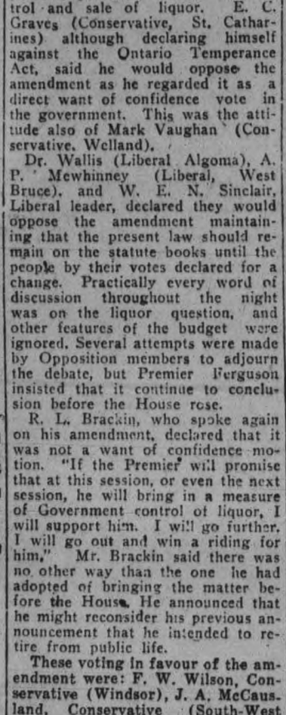
Division on Party Lines Declares Confidence.

QUEBEC, Que., March 25—(Canadian Press).—A number of motions of want of confidence and censure of the Government moved by opposition members on various matters in the House of Assembly yesterday were defeated by divisions largely adhering to party lines. Those moving the motions were Camille Houde, St. Mary's-Montreal (two motions); Jules Langlais, Conservative, Temiscouata (two); P. J. Dufresene, Conservative, Joliette; and Arthur Sauve, opposition.

In the first Houde motion, objecting to amendments inserted in the Workmen's Compensation Act by the Legislative Council, Peter Bercovitch, Liberal, St. Louis-Montreal, voted with the Opposition.

Third reading was given to the bill providing for the grant of $250,000 in cash, during five years, to the Canadian National Railway branch line from O'Brien into the Rouyn district.

The best known oil for watches is extracted from the spongy fat in the jaw pans of porpoises.



Handiest thing in the house

FOR FIRST AID

Every day on the farm brings a new need for "Vaseline" Jelly. A pure, safe remedy for burns, cuts, rashes and minor skin troubles. Take internally for coughs and colds.

Chesebrough Mfg. Company (Consolidated)
5520 Chabot Ave., Montreal

Vaseline
TRADE MARK
PETROLEUM JELLY

OBITUARY

MISS FLORENCE MITCHELL.

OMEMEE, March 25.—The funeral of Miss Florence Mitchell of Toronto was largely attended here on Monday afternoon, the service having been held at the home of her stepmother, Mrs. Charles McCaffrey.

Miss Mitchell had been in failing health since last July and spent several months in a Toronto hospital. Seven weeks ago she came to the home of her sister, Mrs. W. Nesbitt, of Indian River, where she received every care and attention. The end came very suddenly on Friday due to the weakened condition of her heart. Miss Mitchell was a daughter of the late Thomas Mitchell. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. W. Rowland of Trinity United church.

Many beautiful floral tributes were placed on the casket and the remains were tenderly borne to their last resting place in the Emily cemetery by Messrs. James Morton, Wesley Morton, William Nesbitt, S. Carew, J. White and W. Mitchell.

Left to mourn her passing is her stepmother, Mrs. McCaffrey, Mrs. Nesbitt of Indian River, Mr. Everet Mitchell (a brother) of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Lane, an aunt and uncle of deceased, of Toronto, with whom she had made her home.

MRS. ROBERT JONES.

OMEMEE, March 25.—News of the death of Mrs. Robert Jones in Nichol's hospital, Peterborough, on Sunday morning, came as a great shock to her many Omemee friends. On March 8th, the deceased, who had not been in the best of health was removed from her home to Nichol's hospital and after a time underwent an operation. The operation seemed to be successful and for several days the deceased was on the way to recovery but a change came quite unexpectedly and she passed peacefully away on Sunday morning at the age of 70 years.

Prior to her marriage the late Mrs. Jones was Elizabeth Poast, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Poast, who resided about three miles south of the village. After her marriage to Mr. Robert Jones, they took up residence on a farm quite close to her father's home where they lived for many years and it was here that their only daughter, Ethel, passed away a few years ago. Some time after the late Mrs. Jones moved to Millbrook and then to Peteborough.

Deceased was a member of the former Lebanon Methodist church and lately of the Trinity United church, Peterboro.

The remains were brought to Omemee by the C.N.R. train on Monday evening and conveyed to the home of her brother, Richard Poast, Sturgeon street, from which place the funeral was held on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The service was conducted by the Rev. W. E. Rowland who spoke from the words in Rev. 20: "And there shall be no more sea, for former things have passed away."

The funeral cortege wended its way to Emily cemetery where the remains of all that is mortal were tenderly laid to rest by Messrs. R. Poast, Joseph Jones, G. Haygarth, J. Bushnell, A. Laidley, and S. T. Wilson.

A profusion of flowers covered the beautiful casket, among the designs being a large wreath from her husband and a spray from Trinity United church, Peterborough.

Those who are left to mourn are her husband and two brothers, Thomas of Bridgenorth and Richard of Omemee.

Bilious Headache

Mrs. John Ireland, Nobleton, Ont. writes "I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me, and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful."

THE pains, the aches, the tired feelings, the depression, the bodily discomforts are the result of the accumulation of poisons in the body.

Only the liver and kidneys can purify the blood.

When they fail they must be aroused to action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

They are so direct in action on the liver, kidneys and bowels that relief comes quickly and serious ills are avoided.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

35c. a box, all dealers, or The Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto 2, Canada

BUSINESS MEN SHUN POLITICS

Take Only Passing Interest in Affairs of Dominion, Thornton Says.

ADDRESSED K.O.C.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press). — Professional men and business men of Canada are prone to treat politics with contempt and take but a passing interest in the affairs of the Dominion, whereas the future of Canada depends upon these men, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, told a gathering of members of the Ottawa Council, Knights of Columbus, here yesterday.

Stating that the centuries had seen men arise from the classes of masters and slaves and from despotic and autocratic governments to more popular democratic forms of government, Sir Henry said that the only fault in democratic government was that the thinking people took no interest in its machinery. "Instead of following, without question, the various political leaders of the day, give a thoughtful consideration of national problems and register your opinion at the polls," advised the speaker. "That is the only successful form of democratic government."

Sir Henry deplored loose talk about the men who sit in the House of Commons and said the best way to promote immigration and prosperity was not by criticizing the Dominion. He urged his audience to give their thoughtful consideration to such problems as immigration, railways and freight rates, the tariff, and the treaty with the West Indies. Sir Henry pointed out that the earnings of the C.N.R. in January and February, 1926, was $3,000,000, while in the corresponding months of 1925 the earnings came to $885,000. "The C.N.R. will cease to be a problem soon, as it is assuming supportable proportions," he added.

DISAGREE ON RECESS.

Longer Holiday Will Not Be Pressed.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Adjournment of the House of Commons for the Easter recess is not likely to take place this week. The Government's motion for adjournment from Friday evening until the Tuesday after Easter was not reached on the order paper yesterday. Answering a question from Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. Ernest Lapointe said that if the House could not agree on the longer adjournment, the Government would not press the motion.

For a number of years the Easter recess has lasted from Wednesday afternoon until the following Tuesday afternoon. It appears likely that this will be the procedure followed this year.

VETERINARY
DR. W. P. McELROY, Vet. Sur., office and residence, 190 Charlotte St., Charibond Bldg., Peterboro. Phone 1623J.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

FOR SALE.

Mrs. Arthur Jory, Lakefield, sale of Household Furniture, March 31st, at 1 p.m., consisting of contents of 11-roomed house.

3d-74-843.

Made in Canada

Time Savers—Money Savers

THINK how many advantages you enjoy when you buy Congoleum Gold Seal Art-Rugs—besides the great and important saving in money! No dusty sweeping or back-breaking beating; no fabric to collect dust and germs; no fear that tracked-in mud or spilled things will leave a stain on the easily-cleaned surface.

Figure what each of these means in comfort and leisure, and for years to come the beautiful patterns will brighten up your home.

Look for This Gold Seal When You Buy

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL GUARANTEE SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK

CONGOLEUM CANADA LIMITED MONTREAL, QUEBEC

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL ART-RUGS

We are showing on the third floor a full range of patterns and colors in Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs. Congoleum also by the yard.

The GRESSMAN Company Limited
We Furnish the Home Complete

Robert Fair & Co., Ltd. Carry a full line of Congoleum Rugs.

Let us solve your Congoleum Rug problems. Our stock is complete in every respect. THE HALL STORE

Home Furnishing Co. 208 CHARLOTTE STREET—Carry the biggest stock of Congoleum Rugs in a variety of patterns and colors. All moderately priced.

The Evening Examiner

PHONES—Editorial 1401. Business Office. 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

The Examiner is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening, by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office, 419 George street. $6.00 per year, delivered in city; out-of-town subscribers, by mail, $4.50 a year.

The Weekly Examiner, published every Thursday. Subscription price $1.50 a year.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVES

Special U. S. Representatives—W. H. Stockwell, 628 People's Gas Building, Chicago Ill.
New York—Chas. F. Miller, 225 Fifth Avenue.
Advertising Rates on application.
R. H. GLOVER, Managing Director.

THURSDAY, MARCH 25, 1926.

COMMUNITY SERVICE.

The Kiwanis Club in its decision to establish a wading pool at the King Edward Park for the benefit of children too small to go to the river for amusement has given another proof of its usefulness to the community.

In the larger cities wading pools have been the source of a great deal of fun for the little tots, and the local Kiwanians are determined that Peterboro's children shall have equal opportunities for recreation.

The little folks of the city will undoubtedly have reason many times during the summer to be grateful to the organization that made the pool possible.

Peterboro owes much to its service clubs, to Kiwanis for its swimming pool at Jackson camp and some of the buildings used by the Health Association there and for other similar activities, and to the Rotary Club for its boys' camp at Clear Lake and its splendid work on behalf of crippled children.

Such organizations have come in for some half-sneering criticism at the hands of a number of writers, but in the evidence the local clubs have offered of their willingness to undertake community service there is a complete refutation of these carping critics.

There cannot be very much wrong with any club that adopts service as its watchword, and conscientiously strives to live up to its slogan.

RETIRING THE DEBT.

Opinions may differ, according to political allegiance, as to Mr. Fisher's criticism of the Budget, but at least there can be little doubt that the Ottawa member of the Legislature was on sound ground in criticising the introduction of a debt-retiring scheme before the Government has got to the point where it can produce a balanced budget.

Mr. Fisher's claim that the Government's position is exactly that of the debtor who says, "Lend me $5 more and I'll pay you back all I owe in six months," is not far off the mark.

The retirement of Ontario's debt is a development devoutly to be wished, and the public will expect all parties to co-operate in any business-like plan of carrying out such a programme that may be brought down.

But first the Budget must be balanced.

What is the sense of talking about debt-retirement when each year there is a deficit?

The Government before pressing its larger scheme should first show that it is able to carry on the public business of the Province without a loss on the year's operations.

When that happy condition of affairs has arrived then it will be time for the 40-year retirement programme.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Apparently, so far as Premier Ferguson is concerned, Ontario will not participate in a scheme of old age pensions for some time, even if the Federal legislation along this line is passed during the present session of the Dominion Parliament.

The proposal is that each Province entering into the scheme shall pay one-half of the cost, but Ontario's Premier, in an interview, has expressed himself as very doubtful of the participation of this Province.

"Offhand, I am doubtful if our finances would permit of any new ventures involving considerable expenditures," declared Mr. Ferguson. "We want to balance our budget before we undertake any new commitments."

From that statement the advent of old age pensions in the Province is still a long way off.

Meanwhile Dr. Kaiser of Oshawa, the Federal member for that constituency of Ontario, is trying a new way of learning the views of his constituents upon the pensions question.

A ballot appears each night in the Oshawa Reformer giving an opportunity to vote for or against the proposal, and the electors are asked to take this opportunity of stating their opinion on the question for the guidance of the Federal member.

Dr. Kaiser deserves credit for his originality, but if his constituents are as apathetic as are Canadians generally over such questions his newspaper plebiscite will be far from complete in its findings.

AMATEUR HOCKEY MENACED.

The development of another international professional hockey league with most of its teams operating in the United States may cause a serious depletion of Canada's hockey players.

While Canadians have a thrill of pride in giving their neighbors a game that has no equal in the world for sheer speed and excitement, they cannot help viewing with some alarm the rapid growth of professional hockey.

For many years to come there can only be one source of supply for the teams across the border—the amateur leagues of Canada—and if the commercialized form of the sport is to increase by leaps and bounds, putting professional hockey into the ranks of big business, it is not difficult to see that the amateur game, which provides so much entertainment and so many thrills during the winter months for the people of Canada, is bound to suffer.

The indications are that every youngster who shows the slightest promise of developing into a clever hockey player will be in demand, and while it is true that Canada produces fresh stars every year, the supply is by no means inexhaustible, and the addition of fresh professional teams in the United States will represent a heavy drain.

Our neighbors have already lured away the cream of Canadian football players, and an exodus of hockey stars on a large scale would be a serious matter.

Usually they represent a type of young Canadian that we need at home, not only because of their hockey ability, but because they are live, alert citizens whom this country can ill spare.

THE GREAT LURE.

Thar's gold in them thar hills.

That line from melodrama puts into a few words an emotion that is one of the mainsprings of man's life. That emotion is the desire for money. To most men, money means independence, the ability to lead a life untrammeled by circumstance; to insure ease, a doubtful gift, for his children; to give his wife things of beauty and utility. To a few, it means power to domineer, and to fewer still, a great joy in the mere possession of it.

But whatever it means, it is romance; a romance that endures through all vicissitudes. That is why everyone is interested in the discovery of a new gold field; why men by the thousands, many of them utterly unsuited by temperament or physical hardihood, start on a trail of hardships to the gamble of staking out a lucky claim where gold is said to be. It explains why everyone follows with interest that is avid the progress of those adventurers.

In our country, we have had great exoduses from settled countries to new ones, caused by the lure of gold. A striking fact about these movements is that those who participate in them become the creators of more wealth than they took from the ground in metal. California of today is to an extent the result of the gold rush of 1849.

Now the gold rush is to Red Lake, Ontario. Men bred with a desire for gold brave the bitter winter trails to get there. Some of them, if we may judge by history, will remain to develop the other wealth of the region. Ontario will be forever enriched by them. And the public at home is thrilled at the accounts of the gold seeking.—Detroit News.

TAXATION IN QUEBEC.

Considerable ingenuity is being exhibited by the Government of the Province of Quebec in evolving new methods of taxation to meet the growing demands for expenditure which are being made upon it. Just when people fondly imagined that every possible avenue of taxation had been entered, along comes Mr. Taschereau with a new tax and one which seems fair enough in its application.

Throughout Quebec, as throughout Ontario, there has arisen in recent months a demand that greater assistance be extended to hospitals, institutions which, no matter how careful their management, invariably return deficits because of the large amount of charitable work which they do. A campaign to that end has been conducted in the press, especially that of Montreal, and petitions signed by thousands of names have been passed on to the Government urging that something be done to relieve the lot of the hospitals. Mr. Taschereau has met this demand by authorizing a special tax upon meals which cost upwards of $1.00. The proceeds will be spent in the municipalities in which they are raised and the hospitals should be largely the gainers, for some very healthy appetites are visible in the restaurants and hotels of Montreal. The beauty of this tax is that it will be borne very largely by those who can afford to pay it. Poor people are not in the habit of spending as much as a dollar upon a meal, while to the gourmand it is pin money and an additional five or ten cents is nothing at all. The hospital tax should provide a good deal of revenue for a much-needed purpose and provide it from a source which will not miss it and to which it will be no hardship.

There has also arisen a demand for greater assistance being extended to the cause of education. In many respects the schools of Quebec are most admirable and even in advance of those which we possess in Ontario; in other respects they are lamentably weak and fail to reach the same standard. The Government has decided to do something about it. Its revenues are not sufficient to embark upon any expenditure of the volume which is necessary and it has, consequently, reached a decision to levy a new tax, again where it will not hurt very much. In this case it is the natural resources of the Province which are to be taxed. These are now being exploited in greater measure than ever before, more pulp and paper being manufactured and more hydro-electric energy being generated than was thought possible a generation ago. Such enterprises are almost exclusively in private hands and are proving most profitable investments. From them the Government receives some revenue, but, apparently, they are capable of yielding more without imposing any severe burden upon the proprietors. At any rate, a bill introduced in the Legislature proposes to tax them for the benefit of education. Its provisions are briefly summarized by the Montreal Gazette as follows:

"Ten cents a cord on wood intended for the manufacture of pulp and paper, taken from the public lands of the Province, which duty may be increased to fifteen cents a cord if the wood is manufactured outside of the Province—payable by the limit holder.

"A duty of not more than one-half of one per cent. on the gross income of every person, company or corporation developing electric power from the water powers of the Province, held under titles from the Crown, when such power is used in manufacturing products from the forest.

"An annual duty of not more than ten cents a horsepower developed from water-powers held under titles from the Crown, to be paid by persons or companies possessing or exploiting them or selling the power so developed.

"On every public utility company an annual duty of six cents a horsepower developed from the water-powers of the Province held under titles from the Crown, and of one cent a month for each consumer of electric power so developed.

"It is provided that the duties so imposed shall be paid to the Provincial Treasurer and deposited in a special 'educational fund' wholly intended to assist education in the Province. This fund may be utilized to pay interest or annuities on bonds or other obligations or loans contracted by educational institutions."

This looks like good business on the part of the Province of Quebec. It is quite appropriate that the natural resources of a region should contribute the means of educating the people who are to take part in the industries developed by them. The tax will not prove unduly burdensome as far as any individual taxpayer is concerned. Spread over all of the industries deriving supplies or power from the resources, it should yield a sum large enough to prove of marked benefit to the primary schools and universities of the Province, none of which has been in receipt of a very large Government grant.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Viscount Allenby has been surprised at the mildness of the climate here since his arrival. And to tell the truth, so are the majority of Canadians.

The cause of Labour is very badly served by such nonsense as Mr. Woodsworth's motion in regard to Canada's relations with the Mother Country.

Canada produced nearly a million dollars worth of snuff last year, which is something not to be sneezed at.

— RADIO — PROGRAMS

FOR THURSDAY, MARCH 25.

BEST PICK

KGO (361.2) San Francisco, Calif. 4—Concert. 8—Instrumental. 9—Finnish program. 10—Orchestra.

WMCA (341) Cazenovia, N.Y. 6—Orchestra. 12—Studio.

WBAP (475.9) Fort Worth, Tex. 6—Concert. 7:30—Variety. 9:30—Novelty. 11—Vaudeville.

WIP (508.2) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:05—Orchestra. 8:15—Quartet. 8:45—Concert. 10:20—Orchestra.

WLW (422.3) Cincinnati, O. 6:15—Variety. 9—Band. 10:05—Popular. 11—Vocal. 12:15—Night Howls.

KPO (428.3) San Francisco, Calif. 6:40—Orchestra. 8—Piano. 9—Studio. 10—Orchestra.

EASTERN TIME

WEAF (492) New York City. 4—Hughetta Owen, mezzo contralto. 4:15—Sylvia D. Lyons, pianist. 4:30—Charles Gordon, baritone. 4:45—Talk by Mrs. Winter Russell. 5—Vincent Lopez and orchestra. 6—Dinner music. 7—Mid-Week Hymn sing. 7:30—"The Smith Brothers." 8—"The Larkinites." To WEEI (476), WGR (319), WOC (484), WFI (395), WWJ (352.7), WCCO (416.4), KSD (545.1), WTAG (268), WCAE (461.3) WEAR (389.4). 8:30—"Hire's Harvesters." To WEEI (476), WFI (395), WCAE (461.3), WLIB (302.8), WSAI (325.9), WWJ (352.7). 9—"Cliequot Club Eskimos." To WEEI (476), WFI (395), WSAI (326.9), WGR (319), WWJ (352.7), WGN (302.8), WTAG (268), WOC (484), WCCO (416.4) KSD (545.1), WCAE (461.3), WJAR (305.9), WEAR (389.4). 10—"Silvertown Cord Orchestra." To WJAR (305.9), WGN (302.8), WEEI (476), WTAG (268), WFI (395), WCAE (461.3), WGR (319), WWJ (352.7), WOC (484), WCCO (416.4), KSD (545.1), WADC (358), WSAI (325.9). 11—Vincent Lopez and orchestra.

WLIT (394.5) Philadelphia, Pa. 4:30—Classical.

WTAM (389.4) Cleveland, Ohio. 6—Orchestra.

WCX (516.9) Detroit, Mich. 6—Orchestra. 8—Studio.

WREO (285.5) Lansing, Mich. 6—Concert. 8:15—Musical varieties.

WWJ (352.7) Detroit, Mich. 6—Concert.

KDKA (309) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert. 9—Concert. 11—Revue.

WBAL (246) Baltimore, Md. 6:30—Orchestra. 7:30—Organ. 8:10—Musical.

WBZ (333.1) Springfield, Mass. 6:30—Orchestra. 8—Variety. 9—Concert.

WCAE (461.3) Pittsburgh, Pa. 6:30—Concert.

WCAU (278) Philadelphia, Pa. 6:30—Orchestra and soloists. 9—Variety. 11—Orchestra.

WGY (379.5) Schenectady, N.Y. 6:30—Trio. 7:45—Variety. 9—Orchestra. 11:30—Organ.

WTIC (348.6) Hartford, Conn. 6:50—Trio.

WJR (517) Detroit, Mich. 7—Orchestra and soloists. 9—Variety.

WRC (469) Washington, D. C. 7—Orchestra. 9—Orchestra. 10:15—Variety.

WOO (508.2) Philadelphia, Pa. 7:30—Orchestra.

WRNY (258.5) New York City. 7:45—Orchestra. 9:15—Entertainers. 10:30—Vocal and instrumental.

WNYC (526) New York City. 8—Vocal. 9—Orchestra.

CKAC (410.7) Montreal, Can. 8:30—Concert.

WBBR (272.6) Staten Island, N.Y. 8:40—Vocal.

CFCA (356) Toronto, Canada. 11—Orchestra.

WJZ (455) New York City. 9—Orchestra. 10:15—Variety.

CENTRAL TIME

WHAS (399.8) Louisville, Ky. 4—Concert. 7:30—Concert.

WBBM (226) Chicago, Ill. 4—Vocal. 8—Orchestra and soloists. 10—Variety.

WMAQ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 6—Organ. 6:30—Orchestra.

WOAW (526) Omaha, Neb. 6—Instrumental. 6:50—Orchestra. 12—Frolic.

KYW (536) Chicago, Ill. 6—Musical. 9—Variety.

WFAA (476) Dallas, Tex. 6:30—Orchestra. 8:30—Musical.

WGN (302.8) Chicago, Ill. 6:30—Orchestra. 10—Varieties.

WQJ (447.5) Chicago, Ill. 7—Orchestra. 10—Vocal. 1—Ginger Hour.

WMBB (250) Chicago, Ill. 7—Semi-classical. 9—Orchestra and soloists.

WEBH (370) Chicago, Ill. 7—Recital. 9—Orchestra and soloists. 11—Variety.

KFNF (266) Shenandoah, Ia. 7—Studio.

WOC (484) Davenport, Ia. 7:30—Vocal. 11—Orchestra.

WLIB (302.8) Chicago, Ill. 7:30—Musical. 11—Studio.

KPRC (296.9) Houston, Tex. 7:30—Orchestra. 8:30—Studio. 9—Orchestra.

WHO (526) Des Moines, Ia. 7:30—Musical. 8—Trio. 11—Orchestra.

KSD (545.1) St. Louis, Mo. 7:30—Piano.

WCBD (344.6) Zion, Ill. 8—Vocal.

WSB (428.3) Atlanta, Ga. 8—Studio. 10:45—Organ.

KLDS (440.9) Independence, Mo. 8:15—String instruments.

WORD (275) Chicago, Ill. 8:30—Studio.

WJAZ (322.4) Chicago, Ill. 9—Classical.

WKRC (423) Cincinnati, Ohio. 10—Organ. 10:30—Variety. 11:15—Orchestra.

KTHS (374.8) Hot Springs, Ark. 9—Orchestra. 9:45—Organ. 10—Violin. 10:40—Concert.

WCCO (416.4) St. Paul-Minneapolis. 7:30—Musical. 10:20—Dance tunes.

WDAF (365.6) Kansas City, Mo. 11:45—Frolic.

MOUNTAIN TIME

KOA (322.4) Denver, Colo. 6:30—Concert.

KSL (300) Salt Lake City, Utah. 8—Semi-classical. 9—Studio.

PACIFIC TIME

KGW (481.5) Portland, Ore. 6—Concert. 8—Vaudeville.

KNX (337) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Orchestra. 9—Feature. 11—Orchestra.

KFI (467) Los Angeles, Calif. 7—Variety. 9—Studio. 10—Orchestra.

KHJ (405.2) Los Angeles, Calif. 8—Studio.

FABLES IN FACT

LITTLE JIMMIE CARRIED A MOURNFUL COMMA IF NOT WORRIED COMMA LOOK AND HIS MOTHER FINALLY INQUIRED WHAT THE MATTER WAS PERIOD THE YOUNGSTER BEAT AROUND THE BUSH FOR A WHILE AND THEN SAID COMMA QUOTATION MARK HAS A CAT REALLY GOT NINE LIVES COMMA MAMMA QUESTION MARK AND WHEN HIS MOTHER REPLIED THAT SHE GUESSED THE SAYING WAS TRUE COMMA JIMMIE SMILED ALL OVER AND CONTINUED COMMA QUOTATION MARK WELL THEN COMMA MRS PERIOD MORGAN'S CAT HAS EIGHT COMING PERIOD QUOTATION MARK

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service.)

SERVED WITH ALLENBY.

Capt. Norman S. Macdonnell, barrister, of Toronto, who had the honor of leading the British artillery into Jerusalem on December 9, 1917. He was an officer in the R.F.A. and attached to the 6th division. He and Lord Allenby chatted over old times during the latter's visit to the city this week.

Fellowship of Prayer

THURSDAY—
Unfolding Truth.

Read Jn. 16:12-15. Text: 16:13. When he, the spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth.

Meditation.—Self satisfaction is the foe of achievement in the life of the spirit as elsewhere. They had followed Jesus three years and were in danger of thinking that they knew it all. They had made but a beginning. He was so eager to have them walk humbly that he put before them Truth, unfolding far beyond what they then knew. He told them his death was a step in the process. Ever beyond the mind of the church are new discoveries in the meaning of his wisdom, his power and his grace.

Prayer.—O Thou Holy Spirit of Truth, in Thee all our virtues are made true. Without Thee our faith, hope and love are all hollow shams. Help us to have a deep sense of the limitations of our best knowledge and the undimmed urge of glorious truth yet to be won before we see the Lord in His fulness. Amen.

(Copyright, 1926—F. L. Fagley.)

WISE AND OTHERWISE

Be careful about how you look into a mirror. Looking too much is liable to discourage you.

* * *

Hound dogs sit around and howl at the moon, but calamity howlers sit around and howl at nothing.

* * *

The weather seems to be perfect only during those months having a "r" in them.

* * *

Many a woman standing in front of a shop window has merely stopped to reflect.

* * *

Monday was wash day once. Now it is the day on which we have the garage man put the auto back together.

* * *

If a man's face is his fortune some of us are in debt.

* * *

One of the hard things about farming is resisting the temptation to quit and go fishing with the worms you dig up.

* * *

Don't get mad at a cross friend. His children may be sick or his wife may be reducing.

* * *

When a youngster says he'll tidy up the kitchen if mom will let him finish the frosting dish, it's just a lick and a promise.

* * *

Pin the strength medal on the cop who held up seventeen autos with one hand.

* * *

In explaining parliamentary law, a certain husband tried to tell his wife who the speaker of the house was. Just as if she didn't know.

* * *

Every man has his price—and it's pretty much up to him whether or not he's worth it.

* * *

 Many a spiritualist starts off   with only a ghost of a show   and yet meets with success. **

* * *

PERSONAL MAIL: Dear Mr. Ford: I'm very much in favor of the rye waltz. Where can I get some?

* * *

Two kinds of men. That's all there are,
If just the truth be said:
The kind who do as they are told,
And those who never wed.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

CAN SELFISHNESS SERVE?

Go where you will always find some member of the Secret Order of Selfishness.

In the office, at the dining table, on the train, in your home you will often find the man or woman who worships at the shrine of Self.

A member of the Secret Order of Selfishness courts admiration, seeks applause, and is always accusing.

A votary of this Order invariably insists on unequal opportunities, special favors, or preferential conditions.

Hotels entertain them, churches condone them, and steamships carry them as first-class passengers.

A member of the Secret Order of Selfishness will deny himself nothing and is famous for demanding everything. His heart is at variance with all the rules for making others happy.

With such a man or woman there can be no sincerity, no humanity, no dependable service.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Peterboro—Toronto—Montreal
Winnipeg

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, March 24.—Prices all round were firm and the market was about sold out by noon. Any good handyweights were $7 to $7.25 a cwt. and some good medium weight mixed butchers' sold at $7.50 a cwt. The exporters only bought a couple of heifers to go with today's shipment of 170 for Manchester. The market in butchers' cows was a busy one, and one buyer dropped out because of the high prices. The price advance was not so material today as the way in which offerings were taken, and quotations are strong at recent advances. Some butchers' sold 25 cents a cwt. higher.

Choice calves took a jump of half a dollar a cwt. this morning and sales were made from 13½ to 14½ cents a pound. Good calves were up to 13 cents and mediums sold as high as 12 cents. Thin calves were 9 cents a pound.

The lamb market was steady and decks of ewes and wethers sold at 14 cents a pound. Choice sheep were 8½ cents a pound.

Hog salesmen were able to get $12.75 a cwt. f.o.b. on Tuesday's hogs, and expect to hold the price today. Some salesmen will try for a little higher figure.

Current Quotations.

Choice heavy steers	$8.00	$8.25
Fair to good steers	7.25	7.7
Baby beeves	8.00	9.50
Choice handyweight butchers' cattle	7.35	7.50
Good handyweight butchers	6.75	7.00
Med. handy butchers	6.25	6.50
Com. handy butchers	5.50	6.00
Good to choice 950 to 1,000-lb. feeders	6.25	6.75
Fair to good light feeders	5.00	5.50
Choice butchers' cows	5.75	6.50
Fair to good cows	4.50	5.50
Common butchers' cows	3.50	4.25
Canners	2.25	3.25
Export bulls	5.00	5.75
Bologna bulls	3.75	4.50
Springers, choice	70.00	100.00
Springers, common	40.00	50.00
Lambs, choice	14.00
Heavy sheep and bucks	5.00	6.00
Sheep, choice	8.00	9.00
Calves, good	12.50	13.50
Do., medium	9.00	10.50
Do., common	7.00	8.50
Do., grassers	5.00	5.50
Hogs, f.o.b.	12.50	....
do. fed and watered	13.10	....
do. off cars	13.50	....

EGG MARKETS

OTTAWA, March 24 (Canadian Press).—With Western eggs arriving in increasing quantities on Eastern markets, it is expected that the Prairie provinces will soon replace the United States as a source of supply for Eastern consuming centres.

Toronto—Prices to retailers, extras 38-39c, firsts 34-35, seconds 29-30.

Montreal—With a strong demand existing for firsts, a 1 cent rise in the price of this grade has taken place. Consumptive demand is heavy. Prices to retailers, extras 37-40, firsts 35-37, seconds 31-33.

Winnipeg—Prices to retailers, extras 35-37, firsts 30 seconds 25.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, March 24 (Canadian Press).—The foreign demand for Canadian grain on the Montreal market today was again slow and no new business was reported. There was no improvement in the demand from local or country buyers in the domestic market, sales being confined to odd cars to meet actual wants. No. 1 northern wheat was offered at 16 1-4c per bushel over the Winnipeg May option, No. 2 northern at 10c over, and No. 3 northern at 5 1-4c over, No. 3 C.W. barley at 12c over, No. 4 at 9c over, and feed grades at 6c over, No. 2 C.W. oats at 13c over, No. 3 C.W. at 8c over No. 1 feed at 4c over, and No. 2 feed at 2c over, c.i.f. Montreal for shipment at the opening of navigation.

The feature of the flour trade was the weaker feeling that developed in the market for winter wheat grades and prices were reduced 20 to 25c per barrel. At the lower level the demand slowed a slight improvement. There were no new developments in the spring wheat situation.

The Chicago egg market today was again firmer at an advance of a fraction owing to the continued good demand for supplies for home consumption and for shipment to Canada and other points and in consequence the tone of the Montreal market was firm, but there was no change in prices announced. The demand was good and an active business was done in a jobbing way. The receipts were 2,757 cases as compared with 1,537 for the same day last week, and 2,544 for the coresponding day a year ago.

The receipts of butter today were 23 packages, as compared with 18 for the same day last week, and 421 for the corresponding day a year ago The condition of the market showed no further change, prices being about steady, but the volume of business was small.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

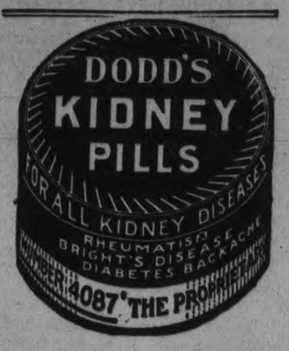
MINNEAPOLIS, March 24 (Canadian Press)—Flour unchanged to 10 cents higher at $9 to $10.05 a barrel. Shipments 27,211 barrels.

Wheat No. 1 northern, $1.52 to $1.54; May $1.49; July $1.44 1-8.

Oats, No. 3 white 35½ to 35¾.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Grain values here receded at the last today largely as the result of increased offerings on account of stock market weakness in New York wheat closed unsettled 1 1-8 to 2 1-2c net lower May (new) $1.54 5-6 to $1.54 7-8, and July $1.34 7-8, with corn 3-8 to 5-8c off; oats unchanged to 1-4c down, and provisions unchanged to 7c decline.



DOMINION STORES LIMITED
CANADA'S LARGEST RETAIL GROCERS
"Where Quality Counts"

CLARK'S Tomato Soup 2 TINS 19c
It's delicious—Made in Canada

Aylmer Spinach 15c tin
Lea & Perrin's Sauce 23c
Crown or Beehive Corn Syrup 2 2 lb. tins 27c
15 oz. packet Dessert Seedless Raisins 2 for 27c
Victory Brand Pickles Large Bottle
Sour Mixed Chow 36c
Sweet Mixed Mustard Sour Onions 46c
Asparagus Salad Points 33c tin
Libby's Prepared Mustard 13c
Pure Quebec No. 10 tin Maple Syrup $1.79
Post's Bran 2 pkts. 25c

Salmon Choice Pink 1 lb. tin 15c

TEA Flavor and Quality Unsurpassed
Richmello Ceylon and Assam 79c lb.
Select English Breakfast 69c lb.
D.S.L. Bulk 59c lb.
Domino Brand Catsup 19c

CANNED FRUITS Choice Quality Light Syrup
Pears 15c
Columbia Brand Raspberries 25c
Singapore Sliced Pineapple 17c
Silver Bar Apricots 20c
Choice Yellow Peaches 21c
Niagara Peaches 25c

Bacon Mayfield Brand
Machine Sliced 39c lb.
Selected from the Finest Bacon to be procured
Choice Peameal Back 49c lb.
Nestle's Evaporated MILK 16 oz. Tin 2 tins 25c

Sardines Glacier or Jutland 3 tins 25c
Fry's Breakfast Cocoa ½ lb. tin 22c
Libby's Happy Vale Sauerkraut 2 tins 25c

Finest California Navel Oranges 37c and 45c doz.

Special Blend Coffee A Delightful Blend 53c lb.
Christie's Cocoanut Fingers 31c lb.

These prices in effect for one week from date of this newspaper D-117

342 GEORGE ST—PHONE 2318 'PHONE YOUR ORDER
160 SIMCOE ST.—PHONE 1202 WE DELIVEER $3.00 ORDERS.

Quaker Oats

builds brain and brawn . . . gives children energy for work and play. Be sure the Quaker is on every carton of oats you buy. Quick Quaker . . . the only quick-cooking oat with the rare Quaker flavour.

Sealed Cartons Only.

A23

DEPUTY RETURNING OFFICER IS GUILTY

Initialed Ballots at Poll in Alberta.

EDMONTON, Alta., March 25.—(Canadian Press).—After 35 minutes' deliberation, a criminal court jury yesterday found H. M. Jenner, deputy returning officer at Frog Lake, poll 173, Athabasca riding in the Federal election, guilty of initialing the backs of ballots and not guilty of stuffing the ballot box. Mr. Justice Ives remanded Jenner in custody until Friday, when the accused will be sentenced. No evident was called for the accused, but Hugh Macdonald, K.C., argued for dismissal, on the grounds that no evidence had been called by the Crown to connect Jenner with the acts.

A number of witnesses swore they had not voted, although their names were shown in the poll book as having voted. Among the witnesses was a blind, half-breed woman, two Americans and one youth under age.

Only Fifty Voted.

The official poll book was produced in court showing that 75 people were purported to have voted, while the poll clerk swore that of the 75 names on the list only about 50 voted.

PASTEURIZATION OF MILK ADVOCATED

Deputy Minister of Health Addresses Kingston Kiwanis Club.

KINGSTON, March 25.—(Special).—In an address before the Kiwanis club, Dr. J. A. Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health, Ottawa, strongly advocated pasteurization of milk, but in an individual way. Members of the local Board of Health were guests at the meeting.

ELEVATORS BOUGHT BY GRAIN GROWERS

18 Sold By Manitoba Government For the Sum of $101,000.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 25.—(Canadian Press).—The sale of 18 of the Manitoba Government elevators to the United Grain Growers' Limited was consummated by Orders-in-Council signed by Lieutenant-Governor Sir James Aikins yesterday.

The sale price involves a total of $101,000, the price received for individual elevators ranging from $1,000 to $9,000.

The company previously had purchased 43 of the Government-owned elevators and at present holds 56 on lease which expires in the fall of 1927.

GERMANS DEMAND ROYAL PROPERTY

12,500,000 Voters Sign Petition to the Reichstag.

BERLIN, March 25 (Canadian Press). — Approximately 12,500,000 German voters, according to an official preliminary estimate, have signed petitions demanding submission to the Reichstag of a bill providing for confiscation without compensation of the properties of Germany's former ruling families. This is 8,500,000 more than necessary to compel the Reichstag to vote on such a measure.

Should the Reichstag fail to adopt such a measure, as it seems likely it must, it would be submitted to a national plebiscite in which fifty per cent. of the total electorate must participate to make its decision effective.

Eighty per cent. of the population of India get their living out of the soil.

Calgary Woman Acquitted Of Murdering Her Brother

CALGARY, Alta., March 25 (Canadian Press). — Margaret McPhail was acquitted of a change of murdering her brother ,Alex. McPhail, a soldier-settler on the Pope lease, near Drumheller, yesterday. McPhail was found dead in his house by the sister, according to her evidence. He had died from gunshot wounds. The two lived on the same homestead, but had separate residences.

The jury returned their verdict of "not guilty" after ten minutes' deliberation. Miss McPhail was immediately discharged.

PULPWOOD EXPORTS.

Shipments Last Year Worth $14,168,935.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Canada exported pulpwood to the value of $14,168,933 in 1925. In answer to a question in the House of Commons yesterday, it was stated that pulpwood worth this sum had gone out of the Dominion last year. Of this, Quebec sent the most, or $7,069,375, Ontario exported $4,203,302, New Brunswick $1,526,032, Nova Scotia $1,091,399, British Columbia $204,521, and Manitoba $74,306.

ROAD CONTRACT UNDER ENQUIRY

Liberals Contend Not Let to the Lowest Tenderers.

LYONS COMMITTEE.

TORONTO, March 25. — The public accounts committee of the Legislature sat practically all day Wednesday investigating the transactions of the James Lyons' Fuel and Supply Company of Sault Ste. Marie, of which Jas. Lyons, M.L.A., and former Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ferguson government is president, with government contractors. The committee sat concurrently with the House and a great amount of evidence of a routine character was taken from officials of the department of lands and forests. All of them swore that Mr. Lyons had never made any attempt as far as they knew to get government business for his business firm. Harry Lyons, son of Jas. Lyons, also testified. He repeated evidence taken before of sales from the firm to government officials and contractors.

C. H. Fullerton, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, told of various road contracts. He was examined closely by W. E. Raney and Harold N. Fisher (Lib, West Ottawa) on the Coniston-Sudbury and the Copper Cliff-Creighton road contracts. In each of these contracts the price ultimately paid was about 100 per cent. higher than the original tender, the contractors taking the contract on the "unit" basis. Mr. Fisher contended that on the unit basis the Copper Cliff road contract did not go to the lowest tenderers. He claimed McNamara brothers who were successful tenderers were higher in their prices than another firm. Mr. Fullerton would not admit it and refused to agree until he had checked over the figures.

Mr. Fisher was also critical of the estimates made by department engineers for tender purposes. In one case the estimate called removal of only 100 yards of rock. The actual amount ultimately removed was 3,125 yards. Mr. Fullerton defended such estimating declaring that it was sufficiently approximate for tender purposes.

E. J. Zavitz, provincial forester, said that as far as he knew there was nothing irregular in the construction of the aerodrome at Sault Ste. Marie for the forestry flying corps. It had been built in the usual way and under usual conditions. The committee adjourned at 6 o'clock to meet to-morrow at 1.30 p.m.

WRIT AGAINST BESCO.

SAINT JOHN'S, Nfld., March 25.—(Canadian Press.)—A writ was taken out yesterday against the British Empire Steel Corporation by James J. Miller, formerly an accountant with the corporation and one of the principal witnesses in the Hollis Walker enquiry. The plaintiff claims an indefinite sum alleged to be due for wages and back time and damages for wrongful dismissal. The case will come before the courts next month.

She Couldn't Sleep Heart Was So Bad

Mrs. J. D. McClintock, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes:—"About a year ago I was greatly troubled with my heart.

I could not sleep at night, and was so nervous I imagined that I could see everything in the room moving, and would have to turn on the lights before I could get to sleep.

After having read of your

MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS

I took several boxes of them, and can now get a full night's sleep without any trouble, and feel fine in every way."

H. & N. Pills have been on the market for the past 32 years; all dealers sell them; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TRADERS' BYLAW CASE IN COURT

Representative of Napanee Dry Goods Sold in Campbellford.

HAD NO LICENSE.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25. — Ray C. Root, who represents a dry goods firm in Napanee, was in the local police court on Wednesday, charged with offering goods for sale in Campbellford without a license and in violation of the transient traders' by-law. Magistrate Payne, who heard the evidence, took the matter under advisement and will give his decision on Wednesday of next week.

The complainant in the case was Chief of Police Brown, who was also the main witness. It was shown that Root came to town and arranged with a local merchant for a three days' sale of spring dresses and coats, the merchant to receive a profit of 10 per cent. on all sales. Root was present at the sales to demonstrate the goods, but he claimed that the actual selling was done by the merchant, who was given the privilege of returning all goods not disposed of or which did not prove satisfactory.

The defendant was represented by W. S. Herrington of Napanee, while Town Solicitor D. J. Lynch appeared to support the by-law. Mr. Herrington argued that the complaint charged Root with offering goods for sale, while the evidence failed to show that he had done so, all of the actual selling being left to the merchant. He contended further that dealers, wholesale and retail, and manufacturers all over the country were sending out goods on approval to be sold on a commission basis and that his client had not acted contrary to the provisions of the by-law.

Mr. Lynch maintained that the terms of the by-law were plain, and that local merchants who paid high rent and taxes were entitled to some protection against outside dealers who came here to dump goods they could not get rid of at home, and who, while here, were under no expense to speak of.

Mr. Herrington said that he had in his office at Napanee a decision by Mr. Justice Masten, dealing with just such a case, and he offered to send this to Magistrate Payne. The latter said that he would welcome all authorities provided these dealt with cases in Canadian courts.

Local merchants are anxiously awaiting the outcome of this case.

80 PASSENGERS SANK WITH SHIP

Captain and Two Engineers of Brazilian River Steamer Perished.

BOILER EXPLOSION

RIO JANEIRO, March 25.—Eighty passengers, the captain, and the first and second engineers, of the Brazilian river steamer Paese De Carvalho, perished when the steamer sank in the Solimoes River, one of the upper forks of the Amazon, near Manaos, according to despatches received here on Wednesday. The disaster was caused by an explosion.

Seventy-eight passengers and several members of the crew were rescued.

Back in 1913.

John Bentley of the Giants had a tryout with Washington back in 1913, later being loaned to Minneapolis in the American Association.

Ten Hits Twice.

Frankie Frisch of the Giants made 10 hits in both of the 1923 and 1924 world series, batting .400 in the former and .338 in the latter.

Was Pitcher Then.

Bib Falk, star outfielder of the White Sox, starred as a pitcher during three years of collegiate competition at the University of Texas.

Suffered with rheumatism for years

GOT RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM AT LAST

Spent more than $100 for remedies before help was found

How an obstinate case of rheumatism was given relief by a simple home treatment is told by a man in Los Angeles, California, who suffered for years with rheumatic pain in the feet and back.

"I spent more than $100 for liniments and medicines in twenty-four years," he writes. "Then I used Sloan's Liniment and it gave me complete relief."

And it is amazing—the quick, genuine comfort that Sloan's gives to even the most long-standing rheumatic aches. Sloan's doesn't just deaden pain—it helps your body to throw off the cause.

No need to rub even. A little Sloan's patted lightly on—and a healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place. Before you can believe it, the pain, swelling and stiffness are relieved. Try it! All druggists—35 cents.

RAILWAY FREIGHT RECORDS STOLEN

Under Investigation By Customs Enquiry Committee.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 25. — (Canadian Press.)—Four years outward freight records, under investigation by the Customs Enquiry committee, have been stolen from the Boston and Maine freight office at Rock Island, a border point.

R. L. Calder, K.C., informed the committee yesterday afternoon that the Boston and Maine office was broken into Tuesday night and the outward freight records from 1921 to 1925, inclusive, stolen.

The telegraphic advice from Rock Island to Mr. Calder suggested that protection of the balance of the records should be secured on both sides of the line.

Hon. H. H. Stevens said that every step possible should be taken to protect the records.

The committee authorized Mr. Calder to communicate with the Commissioner of the Canadian Mounted Police with a view to securing necessary protection.

Big Flock Of Wild Geese Seen By Hastings People

HASTINGS, March 25.—A large flock of wild geese were seen by some of the villagers on Tuesday evening at almost dusk. The birds were in a scattered position flying straight west. A short time after this first appearance they were seen flying eastwards. They were making considerable noise. Some have formed the opinion that they were lost.

ASHES OF DEAD RELATIVE LEFT WITH STRANGER

Montreal Police Looking for Custodian of Funerary Urn He Abandoned.

KEPT FIVE YEARS

"Uncle Art's" Remains Abandoned by Man About to Marry.

MONTREAL, Que., March 25.—(Canadian Press).—Police and officials of a Craig street hotel yesterday sought claimants to the earthly remains of an elderly Bostonian, who died five years ago and which were deserted in the Bonaventure station.

The sole clue seekers have to work on is the description of the man who deserted the remains, and a sealed urn said to contain the ashes of a man called "Uncle Art."

Sunday night the urn and the man who was taking it to Toronto became separated. This man, who claimed to be a nephew of the dead, disappeared shortly before he was to have taken a Toronto train Sunday night and left the urn in the care of Joseph Hanrahan, of St. John, N.B., who was on his way to Ogdensburgh.

Now the ashes are kept in the safe at the hotel where Hanrahan left them.

Abandoned Relic.

According to the story told by Hanrahan to hotel employees the urn was left in his keeping at the Bonaventure Station while the nephew went out to get some coffee.

"Wait here," he said in parting. "I'll be back in five minutes. Don't drop that urn."

He didn't come back though Hanrahan waited in the station until nearly midnight, long after the train they were both to have taken had left.

The man had told Hanrahan that he came from Boston, where he had lived for the past ten years. Five years ago his "Uncle Art," also of Boston, had died and been cremated. Since that time the nephew has looked after the remains. "Uncle Art' always occupied a place of honor wherever his relative happened to be domiciled.

About to Marry.

Recently, however, the nephew fell in love and planned to marry so it was arranged that the urn would be handed over to relatives in Toronto, his wife-to-be objecting to his keeping the relics.

For Cleaning Up

Comfort Lye has no equal

Dissolves and chases away all dirt and grease, no matter how old or hard. Keeps drain pipes of refrigerator and sink free running, cleans garbage cans, removes grease from garage floors, takes off old paint and kills insect pests. "Cleans where your scrubbing brush can't reach."

Get a tin from your grocer today. Save the labels for valuable premiums.

Write for free illustrated premium catalogue.

COMFORT SOAP CO., TORONTO

The Original Flaked Lye

RAILWAY SECTION MAN DEAD IN FIRE

Salvaging Tools From Burning Section House.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., March 25 (Canadian Press). — When a railway section house at Cavell, about 90 miles east of Port Arthur, was destroyed by fire yesterday, a section man, whose name is not known, was accidentally killed by a falling chimney. He with others of the section gang, were stated to have been making an attempt at salvaging some of the goods in the house and was emerging from the burning structure to the outside when the chimney collapsed, the bricks falling on him. He died a few minutes later.

WARKWORTH NEWS

WARKWORTH, March 24. — Miss Mary Dinner of Codrington was a guest of Miss Mary Philips on Sunday.

Miss Norma Black has returned to her home at Roseneath after visiting relatives in town and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert S. Nelson have returned after spending their honeymoon in Barrie and Toronto.

The morning service in St. Paul's church was in charge of the members of the Women's Missionary Society. The choir rendered special music. The report of the Society's year's work and a message to the congregation was ably given by Mrs. Alvin M. Smale. An address by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, urged all the lady members of the congregation to become members of the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. W. J. Harper, who occupied the chair and who read the eight psalm responsively, expressed thanks for the flowers for decoration from the young girls and also expressed thanks to the officials for allowing the Society the opportunity of this service. Mrs. John Dick gave the second bible reading, the sixtieth chapter of Isaah.

The world's largest electric shovel, which has done into action in the ore fields of Pennsylvania, takes twelve tone of earth at one bite.

"Fashions new and church bells pealing—
The world smiles forth that Kruschen feeling"

Grandpa Leads the Health Parade

With spring in his heart and "that Kruschen feeling" in his veins, Grandpa steps it out like a two-year-old. With all of the ambition and pride of a boy of twenty, he dresses immaculately. Grandpa knows that good clothes are part of the secret of a happy heart and a tireless spirit, and he dresses his youthful body and sprightly limbs to accord with "that Kruschen feeling."

Do as Grandpa does. Take your daily dimeful of Kruschen Salts — your daily dimeful of ambition and energy. Every morning, tip into your breakfast cup of coffee or tea just enough of the magic powder to cover a dime. Kruschen contains all of the salts your body needs to keep it healthful. And in a single 75c bottle there are 160 doses—nearly enough for six months.

If you could lead an ideal life in the open air, free from worry, getting the exercise that your body needs, and eating rightly, you would naturally extract those six salts from your food.

But, when you are tied down to the life of the city, too much indoors, getting little air and exercise, and never really free from worry, impurities of all kinds collect in the body, and make you feel listless and depressed.

Prepare to enjoy the summer weather. The Kruschen habit gently but thoroughly stimulates the liver and kidneys to their functions, removes waste matter and impurities from the system, sends new vigorous blood coursing through your veins, filling you with that "go-and-get-it" ambition that brings success.

Tasteless in Coffee or Tea

Put as much in your breakfast cup as will lie on a 10 cent piece. It's the little daily dimeful that does it.

Kruschen Salts

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

SOLE IMPORTING AGENTS: CHARLES GYDE & SON, MONTREAL.

"Safe through Saving"

Properly planned Life Insurance means happiness, comfort and peace of mind in the sunset years of life.

You may arrange with the London Life for a policy that will protect wife and family and make provision for your own old age at the same time.

If you die, the family is provided for. If you live, neither you nor they need worry about the problem of support.

The representatives of the London Life will give you valuable advice as to how life insurance can best serve you.

London Life

Insurance Company

"Canada's Industrial-Ordinary Company"

HEAD OFFICES - LONDON, CANADA

"Policies Good as Gold"

W. W. Richman, C. W. Mealing, District Representatives

Rooms 205-206, Royal Bank Bldg., Corner George and Hunter Streets, Peterboro

Outstanding Quality!

"SALADA"

GREEN TEA

is a blend of select & fragrant teas with a flavor richer than any Japan or Gunpowder.

MONTREAL TO BE THE SCENE OF GREATEST KIWANIS CONVENTION

All United States and Canada to be Represented in June.

FIRST IN CANADA

Peterboro Club Expects to Send Forty Representatives and Friends.

MONTREAL, March 25.—The greatest convention in the history of Kiwanis International is in prospect for June 7th-10th in this city. The International Convention Office was opened in January with Merton S. Heiss, International Convention Manager in charge and already it is apparent that there will be a record attendance of delegates and visitors from every section of the U.S. and Canada.

Invitation was extended by the Montreal Club at the International Convention in St. Paul last June, and the eagerness with which the invitation was accepted seemed to indicate a great desire by the people of the States to attend a convention in Canada and an unusual programme of entertainment and business has been arranged by the various committees in charge, and interest in the Convention will be increased by the campaigns which will be put on by Memphis, Tennessee and Indianapolis, Indiana for the honor of being hosts at the 1927 Convention.

Every Kiwanis Club in the Ontario-Quebec Kiwanis District is arranging for a large attendance.

It is expected that the Peterboro Club will be represented by about forty members and friends. John I. Allen is shepherding the local delegates.

A.D.C. TO ALLENBY.

Lt.-Col. W. C. Mitchell, M.C., supervising principal of high schools in Toronto, who acted as A.D.C. to Viscount Allenby during his visit this week.

SCHOOL REPORT

MARMORA, March 25.—Marmora Continuation School report, February 1926:

Form III—Gladys Williams, 82; Mary Murphy, 82; Barbara Emmorey, 74; Evelyn Neal, 71; Lulu Gray, 69; Norman Narrie, 65; Gertrude Robson, 62; Michael McGrath, 62; Donald Marett, 59; Douglas Marett, 58; Marjorie Colster, 52; Lillith Meehan, 48; Harry Barrows, 47; Leo Forestell, 44; Kathleen Neill, 42; Clayton Neal, 41; Lorraine Bell, 42.

Form II—Lillith Meehan, 80; Stanley Pearce, 76; Marion Osborne, 68; Beatrice Lee, 62; Eileen Mantle, 61; Joseph Murray, 60; Lorena Neal, 56; Dorena Gehan, 54; Magee Sanderson 54; William Lynn 53; Constance Simmons, 52; Lone Forestell, 51; Leeland Richardson, 46; Lena Rogers, 45; Jean Reynolds, 42; Margaret Bailey, 41; Arthur Phillips, 38; William Prest, 37; Mabel Rogers, 33; Carl McCoy, 29.

Form I—Manley Emmorey, 78; Clara Phillips, 74; Helen Cronkright, 73; James McGrath, 65; Kathleen Litt 64; Frances Murphy 61; Merle Bedore 57; Dora Lawrence, 56; Frederick Boyd, 56; Ilene Sopha, 55; Evelyn Rice, 54; George O'Neill, 55; Mary Murray, 51; Dorothy Gray, 50; Eugenia Gaffney, 50; Ralph Mumby, 47; Fergus Murray, 46; Hugh Brady, 40; Gerald Caldwell, 30; Bernice McComb 35; Edward Hughes, 36; Anna Maloney, 34; Mackenzie Bonter, 32; Eileen Meehan, 28; Benedict O'Connor, 23.

Brunswick RECORDS

Sales Still Climbing

67% increase over the same period of 1925

Electrically Recorded by The New LIGHT RAY PROCESS

Play on ANY Record Reproducing Instrument

Hear these New Recordings To-day at any Brunswick Dealers

3091 "FLAMIN' MAMIE"
"CHINKY BUTTERFLY"
—Two of the latest dance hits— MIKE MARKLE'S ORCHESTRA and Vocal Chorus.

3033 "SONG OF THE FLAME"
"COSSACK LOVE SONG"
—both from "Song of the Flame," with mixed chorus and CARL FENTON'S ORCHESTRA.

3082 "BELL HOPPIN' BLUES"
"THE ROSES BROUGHT ME YOU"
—Ben Bernie and his HOTEL ROOSEVELT ORCHESTRA.

3086 "SAY MISTER! HAVE YOU MET ROSIE'S SISTER?"
"SPANISH SHAWL"
—By WENDELL HALL—The Red-Headed Music Maker.

3090 "ALWAYS"
"THE SYMPATHY WALTZ"
—For Dancing, by REGENT CLUB ORCHESTRA.

3094 "THANKS FOR THE BUGGY RIDE"
"SHE WAS JUST A SAILOR'S SWEETHEART"
—For Dancing—THE SIX JUMPING JACKS, with Vocal Chorus.

There is always Something New on Brunswick Records

J. M. GREENE MUSIC CO., Ltd.

Home of Good Music
Charlotte St.

BIRTHDAY PARTY WELL ATTENDED

Social Arranged by Omemee Ladies Drew Many People.

A.Y.P.A. MEETING

OMEMEE, March 25.—All the world loves a birthday party, consequently when such an event was announced by the Ladies Aid of Trinity United church, the date was held in reserve by young and old. Each month was represented by a table prettily decorated in keeping with the season, and was in charge of two ladies whose birthdays came in that month. A splendid tea consisting of cold meats, salads, pickles, cake, pie, etc. was served. A birthday register was in charge of Mrs. T. C. Ivory and the guests of the evening were informed that it was not imperative that they should write the year in which they were born, the month and date being sufficient.

Following is a list of the tables decorations and hostesses.

January was in charge of Mrs. William Kennedy and Mrs. William Connell and was suitably decorated with miniature evergreen trees, artificial snow and new year greetings.

February—The month of hearts and cupids was prettily decorated in rose and white with softly-shaded candles, silver horse shoes. The hostesses in charge were Mrs. Charles Ivory an Mrs. Cecil Corneil.

March—Made the many Irish eyes glow with pride as they beheld a table spring like in its dress of green and white on the centre of which reposed a huge birthday cake, green candles and dainty holders containing shamrock. Mrs. Robert Williamson and Mrs. Harold Laidley gave a hearty welcome to all those who were fortunate enough to have March their birth month.

April—Which was in charge of Mrs. Overholt and Mrs. Brandon was gaily decorated with Easter eggs and flowers.

May—Under the capable supervision of Mrs. A. Fee with its decoration of waxed orchids and sweet peas, was very pretty.

June—The month of brides was a table greatly admired with its rose streamers running from the light to the corners of the tables. The centre piece was a floral arch with miniature wedding party underneath. Dainty cut glass and vases held June roses and maiden hair fern. Needless to say, this table was a lure to many young couples who were well served by Mrs. L. A. Mahood and Mrs. E. MacPherson.

July—Presented a very patriotic appearance with groups of small silk flags, candles and Union Jacks. Mrs. H. Lamb, Mrs. William Henderson, and Mrs. P. Parsons looked well after the wants of those visiting their table.

August—With its unique camp scene decoration made the memory drift back to other days. The table was centered with a small tent surrounded by shrubbery in which several gaily colored birds were perched. Mrs. D. Weir and Mrs. F. G. Sandy were in charge.

September—Presented a Harvest Home scene with fruit and vegetables. Mrs. A. Rutherford and Mrs. F. Parker were in charge.

October—Which was well looked after by Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Widdis assisted by Miss Neill was pretty with its autumn leaves and pumpkins.

November—Reminded one of the now famous Armistic Day, with its central decoration of the allied flags surrounded by beautiful Chrysanthemums, the emblem of fall. Mrs. Bushnell and Mrs. C. L. Morcombe catered to the needs of their numerous guests.

December—Was gay with Christmas decorations and this table probably was the most enticing to the juvenile portion of the gathering who were made glad within and without by Mrs. R. Poast and Mrs. E. Bradburn.

A short programme was given following the tea, which was much enjoyed by all.

The ladies deserve much credit for the unique social gathering. Owing to the disagreeable weather the amount realized was not as large as it otherwise might have been but the proceeds amounted to forty dollars.

The A.Y.P.A. held its weekly meeting in the basement on Monday evening, March 22. The new A.Y.P.A. magazine was introduced and subscriptions solicited for same. This publication is sponsored by the Dominion Association and promises to assume popularity among members. The evening was given to a discussion of the Laymans' Missionary movement. This movement has many very worth while points which were brought out in readings by Miss M. Dickson, Mr. Horace Hill and Mr. Allan Adams respectively. Rev. Mr. Weir explained some interesting facts about the church and its government in Canada. The programme was certainly in accordance with the edifying part of the four fold principle.

NORRIS TO RESIGN.

Veteran Leader of Manitoba Liberals.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 25 (Canadian Press).—The resignation of Hon. T. C. Norris, veteran leader of the Manitoba Liberal party, was rumored in political circles here yesterday. It was stated that Mr. Norris would tender his resignation at a conference of the Liberal forces to-day. His desire to withdraw, it was said, is due to failing health. He has previously declared that he would prefer to retire, whenever a younger successor loomed on the political horizon.

The YELLOW STUB

HCJI TELEGRAPHS — by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the yellow stub of a theater ticket.

JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Chicago, where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he finds Olga. She faints at hearing she is wanted for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see the man they are looking for—the man she says got the stub. He escapes, but they identify him by a police photo as IKE JENSEN.

Church, motoring with Mary, runs over a dog. She breaks the engagement.

Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has found Jensen. He rushes to her apartment to find her gone. Her disappearance is a news paper sensation for days.

He is walking with his friend, BARRY COLVIN, when he spies KID DIVIS, a known intimate of Jensen, boarding a street car. He trails him through lonely streets and dismal fog to a house in the outskirts. He hears a woman's voice cry out. It is Olga's, and he silently enters.

Jensen, Divis and Olga are in a room. Jensen goes upstairs to answer a phone. Jimmy creeps in and hits Divis with a broken andiron. Then he goes upstairs to overhear Jensen.

He betrays his presence, and there is a fight. Jensen corners him and, boastingly, confesses to the murder of Henry Rand. In the struggle that follows Jimmy is slowly being overpowered when the stair rail gives way and Jensen goes crashing through.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER L.

There was a heavy thumping noise on the stairs as Jensen's huge body struck. Then several lesser bumps as he rolled down the remaining steps and, finally, utter stillness.

For the life of him, Jimmy couldn't move. He was paralyzed with the fear that Jensen might get up and choose to enter that room where Olga sat and Divis lay, instead of coming back. He might even take time to find the revolver Jimmy had kicked downstairs.

Still, knowing this, he was unable to stir. He was leaning heavily against the wall, just where that last desperate push against Jensen had left him, and he was sucking the breath into his lungs in great, gasping sobs.

Jensen had crushed it out of him—had almost crushed the very life out of him with those gorilla-like arms of his. A sharp, shooting pain in his side—an agonizing stab—told of a broken rib, and deadly nausea had descended on him. He fought against fainting, with straining eyes fixed on the broken banister rail in front of him.

It seemed ages before his deadened, reluctant muscles would obey the messages of his brain. Finally he was able to move, and then, leaning heavily on the railing for support, he painfully descended, his eyes watchful for any movement in that shadowy, still form at the bottom of the stairs.

* * *

Olga sat where Jimmy had left her, the pistol held nervelessly in her shaking hand, not daring to take her burning eyes off the outstretched figure of Divis lying on the floor.

Her head ached and throbbed; her tattered nerves seemed to be screaming at her to relax.

To relax, to find relief in blessed unconsciousness. . . But she dared not. She knew for a certainty that if she but closed her eyes and laid her head on her arm, she would faint. . . . And Jimmy Rand had told her to watch Divis, to keep this pistol pointed at him in case he should move.

Would she dare to pull the trigger if he should suddenly leap up at her? She shuddered. She would try—but she did not know.

Why had Jimmy left her to go upstairs—with Jensen up there? Why had he not first taken her out some place and then, if he chose, taken the pistol himself and gone upstairs? Even that was foolhardy enough, for Jensen was armed. . . .

And she hadn't told Jimmy that. She had forgotten. She shivered, and with difficulty suppressed a scream. . . .

Her ears ached as she strained them against the silence that had enveloped the whole house.

Then she heard footfalls—the heavy tread of Jensen crossing the room. And then voices, loud and angry.

Jensen had discovered him! In agony she waited for the sound of a shot. But it did not come. Instead, she heard something rattling down the stairs, then—it seemed ages later—the slamming of a door, another shuffle of feet and a deep, full-throated laugh that could only be Jensen's.

She was trembling violently now, the pistol shaking loosely in her grasp. She turned her head toward the door, as if that would somehow bring the sound nearer. And she knew somehow she didn't want to hear what was about to happen. . . .

With a sudden start she turned back to the unconscious Divis. Suppose he had moved. Suppose he had come to and seen her with her head turned—and leaped at her. . . . Desperately, she tightened her fingers on the pistol. Divis lay in death-like stillness, and blood slowly trickled from a gash behind his ear. She sickened.

Voices again. . . . A deep rumbling voice that was Jensen's. And then—thank God!—a low, steady voice that told her Jimmy was at least alive.

But what could they be doing? Her imagination conjured up a thousand fates for Jimmy—in that room with the torturing, bone-breaking Jensen. There flashed through her mind that Jensen might be saving Jimmy for some refined cruelty he might work at his leisure—playing with him, as a cat plays with a helpless mouse.

She listened and waited for what seemed ages—and the silence was broken only by the gutteral voice of Jensen, and his laugh—that toneless, heartless laugh.

And again her nerves were screaming at her. She was tired to the point of utter exhaustion, and in her head—behind her eyes—was a pain such as she had never before experienced in her life.

Divis, she noted dully, was still lifeless, and beneath his head a little puddle of thickening blood had formed . . . .

The voices upstairs suddenly had grown louder. She heard a door open viglently, felt the house tremble beneath a rush of feet and shake as something hit against the wall. Then Jensen's taunting voice, sounding nearer, and the sound of deep, quick-drawn breaths.

A sharp exclamation, and then the cracking, splintering sound of breaking wood. A loud, prolonged crash and then a heavy thump on the stairs, and something rolling down.

Her senses reeled. "Jim!" she tried to scream, but her voice was only the faintest of whispers. Her head fell forward quite suddenly, and she rolled out of the chair and on to the floor, her fingers still loose around the handle of the pistol.

* * *

Long minutes passed during the interval between the confused awakening of Kid Divis and the opening of his eyes. Strange buzzing sounds were in his ears—then an unaccountable crashing noise.

He opened his eyes slowly, painfully, and the room revolved mistily before them. His head throbbed with a thousand aches, and the fingers that he moved to it came away with blood on them.

He tried to stagger to his feet, and had to catch hold of the dizzy table for support. His knees refused to hold his weight and he leaned on the table heavily.

Before him, stretched on the floor, lay a woman. Dull, confused remembrance was on him. . . . She had been here before the dark came—and someone else, too—Jensen. Where was Jensen? Had Jensen hit him? . . .

He crawled toward her, and from between her fingers he pulled a pistol he dimly remembered as having once belonged to him.

* * *

Jimmy was leaning over Jensen's voiceless, sprawling figure. He bent closer, and in the semi-darkness he could see that the man's head was twisted at an odd angle—as if it no longer were joined to his shoulders.

Dazed as he was with the shock—and still overcome with boiling, seething hate—Rand felt a sudden and odd revulsion.

Then he was beside the other man, listening at his chest. He raised his head slowly—Jensen wasn't breathing, even. He wondered, with a sharp hostility, whether the man was playing a trick on him. . . .

A shadow fell on the wall beside him, and a man's voice said, thickly, "Damn you, Ike, why'd you hit me?"

And then he turned and saw Kid Divis' wavering figure silhouetted against the light from the open door, a pistol trembling in his faltering hand.

"Olga!" Jimmy cried—he had quite forgotten about her—and Divis' head reared sharply at the sound of his voice. The pistol slowly raised.

Divis took an uncertain step, still fumbling for support with his free hand. "Who—" he began and then stood frozen, bathed in a sudden, glaring light.

The front door had swung open, quickly and soundlessly. Then there were voices, Jimmy heard a sharp command, and Divis, sliding down the wall, let the pistol clatter to the floor.

Barry Colvin's voice said, "Jim!" and a uniformed figure was bending over Divis with a flashlight.

"God, Jim, I'm glad we found you. What happened?" He glanced apprehensively at Jimmy's disarrayed clothing, his torn collar and tie.

Jimmy pointed. "Jensen. Tell you later," and with a bound was at the door of the room where Olga lay.

He was beside her, rubbing her wrists, Barry trying to help. . . .

"Cold water, Barry."

"This is better, Jim." Barry pulled a flash from his pocket. "Is this Olga Maynard, Jim?"

"Yes. God knows what she's been through."

Her eyelids slowly fluttered, then opened. She shuddered, and then the sight of Jimmy brought a faint smile.

The policeman had dragged Divis into the room. "What happened?" he asked.

"I followed him here," said Jimmy. "Hit him over the head. He and Jensen had this girl here—prisoner. Jensen's out in the hall. Had a fight with him. . . . Lucky, stair rail gave way . . . . He fell down. . . Looks like broken neck."

"He murdered my father, Barry . . . told me so." He turned to Olga. "You all right now? What did they do to you?"

Divis spoke, in a whining voice. "I didn't do nothin'."

"Shut up, you!" The policeman was gruff, unfriendly. "We'll make you talk later."

"Jensen," said Olga, "tried to make me go away with him. He wanted me first to write a note to you, saying I had done it. . . . He—he beat me because I wouldn't." Her head drooped wearily.

"Divis—" Jimmy turned—"who gave you that thousand dollars to give to Jensen?"

Divis was silent.

"You hear?" The policeman stirred him with his shoe.

"Don't," complained Divis. "I'm half dead now," and Jimmy was stirred to sudden regret that he had been forced to hit the man as he did.

"I think I know," said Olga, faintly, a sudden dead weight in his arms. "I heard Jensen talking. . . I think I know."

"Who?" Jimmy caught her closely. She whispered a name that Jimmy barely managed to hear, and then fainted dead away.

(To be continued.)

"I lost 40 lbs. without dieting"

People everywhere are telling how easily and quickly they lost their excess fat. They are urging others to do likewise. Note the results in any circle. Overweight is not one-tenth so common as it was.

The modern, scientific way is Marmola Prescription Tablets. Just take four a day. No abnormal exercise or diet is required.

Marmola has been used for 18 years. Its use has now spread the world over. It is so easy, so pleasant that people are using a million boxes yearly. There are users all about you whose slender figures show what Marmola means.

Learn the facts in justice to yourself. Excess fat sadly interferes with health, beauty and efficiency. There is no excuse for any blight so easily avoided. Get our book. It tells you all that Marmola contains, tells you just how it acts. It may lead you to delightful results.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. Send this coupon for our latest book, a 25-ct. sample free, and our guarantee. Clip it now.

The Pleasant Way to Reduce

MARMOLA
2-235 General Motors Bldg.
DETROIT, MICH.

Mail for 25c Sample Free

140-D

C.N.R. EARNINGS STILL UPWARD

Gross Earnings For February Were 7.32 Per Cent Higher.

MONTREAL, Que., March 25. — (Canadian Press.) — The upward trend in the operating earnings of the Canadian National Railways continues to make itself apparent in the earnings statement of the company for February and for the first two months of 1926, issued yesterday.

During February, 1926, the gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways were $17,693,338, an increase of $1,207,296 or 7.32 per cent, as compared with the corresponding period of 1925. Operating expenses showed an increase of $510,619 or 3.22 per cent and the net earnings for the month amounted to $1,308,401 an increase of $696,677 or 113.89 per cent, as compared with February 1925.

Substantial increases are also shown in the earnings for the first two months of 1926 as compared with the corresponding period of 1925. For the first two months of 1926 the gross earnings amounted to $35,749,259, an increase of $2,546,749 or 7.67 per cent, as compared with the first two months of 1925. Operating expenses over the period increased by $485,233 or 1.5 per cent, net earnings amounted to $2,946,042, an increase of $2,061,561 or 233.06 per cent.

During the first two months of 1926 the operating ratio was 91.76 per cent, as compared with 97.34 per cent, in the corresponding period of 1925, the percentage of decrease in favor of 1926 being 5.73.

C.P.R. EARNINGS.

MONTREAL, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for the week ending March 21, 1926, were $3,129,000; increase, $219,000.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT

(Continued from page one.)

reasonable delay in restoring the flow of water in the Great Lakes to its natural channels," went on Mr. Stewart. Canada would have, he said, the support of many United States municipalities along the southern shores of the great lakes. The pressure which they were bringing to bear upon the federal government would add force to Canada's demands.

Asked if the United States' Government had ever admitted that the Chicago diversion was illegal, from an International standpoint, Mr. Stewart replied "not in cold blooded language."

Lake Michigan Included

Defenders of the Chicago Sanitary District had suggested, said the minister, that the waterways treaty of 1909 did not mention Lake Michigan. Canada would not recognize that this made any great difference because the levels in Lake Huron were directly affected by the flow of waters in Lake Michigan. The same thing applied to practically the whole chain of lakes from the Lake of the Woods eastward. There was another factor in the present dispute he said. When the treaty of 1909 was negotiated, there was in existence, a permit issued by the United States Government to the Chicago Sanitary District, authorizing the diversion of 7,500 feet per second. That permit was not mentioned in the treaty and it made a considerable difference to Canada.

G. R. Geary (Conservative, Toronto South) stated that if the government acquiesced in the proposal to permit Chicago to continue the diversion until 1935 in order to complete its sanitation system, the question would be more difficult to settle then. The present was the time for action.

Want Canada's Goodwill

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, did not think the United States was so much concerned with the question of our rights, as the matter of the "goodwill of the Canadian people." Canada was supposed to look after her own interests. It was advisable that the United States should be impressed with our attitude.

One of the country's greatest assets had been taken in part year by year. At first, this water had been diverted in small quantities; but now it was being taken at the rate 9,700 cubic feet per second, on the authority of the United States Supreme Court.

Personally, Mr. Meighen thought that this diversion was likely in excess of 7,500 cubic feet per second. It had also been admitted by the United States that the level of the Great Lakes had been reduced by six inches through this diversion. Even if this figure were accepted, it meant loss of "millions per year to this country." Chicago was developing a great American asset at Canada's expense.

From Canada's Cloverlands

KRAFT K CHEESE

A Mellow, Appetizing Flavor You Can't Resist!

When you eat Kraft Cheese—You want MORE Kraft Cheese!

Eat it freely! It is as good as it tastes.

Dietitians are all agreed that cheese is one of the most valuable foods man can eat, containing as it does the essential vitamines A and B without which the human body cannot thrive or keep in a state of health.

Kraft Cheese, selected for quality, blended for flavor, properly matured, pasteurized for purity by the Kraft patented process, is the finest cheese available.

You can buy it by the slice, and in ¼-lb. and 1-lb cartons at any grocery.

—IN LENT—

Kraft Cheese may be served in many ways replacing meat. Write us for Cheese Recipe Book.

7-26

for Easter Morning!
—and the whole year round

Swift's Premium Hams and Bacon

Look for the "No parboiling" tag when you buy a whole "Premium" Ham or when you buy a slice.

TO satisfy Easter morning appetites there is no more savory dish than Brookfield Eggs served with tender slices of "Premium" Bacon or Ham.

Swift's "Premium" has long been recognized as the highest standard of quality. Always mild in flavor and uniform. Serve Premium for Easter and you will serve it all year around.

Order from your Grocer or Butcher

Swift Canadian Co.
Limited.

She comes as a boon to the housekeeping sex,
This bright little maid that we call Jane Gillex.
She washes the dishes, the pots and the pans,
The clothes and the windows, the pails and the cans,
The floors and the bathtub—in short we maintain
That for all household cleaning, no equal has Jane.

GILLEX

SOFTENS WATER and REMOVES DIRT WITHOUT RUBBING

Sold by all Grocers Made only by-

E.W GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED

TORONTO

VANCOUVER WINNIPEG OTTAWA MONTREAL QUEBEC

TRINITY W.M.S. ANNUAL MEETING

Reports Show Great Deal of Work Done During Year.

OFFICERS ELECTED

On Tuesday, March 23, the annual meeting of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church was held in the Sunday School Hall. Although the weather was very unfavorable and the streets in very bad condition for walking, yet a large audience gathered to hear the reports of the year's work and to elect the officers for the coming year.

The first item of business was the presentation of life membership certificates to the following ladies: Mrs. Ashley, Mrs. Ridyard, Miss Helen Moore and Mrs. R. J. Wolstenholm. These certificates had been filled in, in most beautiful penmanship by Mr. J. Kennett.

The reports from all departments of the work indicated a year of very faithful and efficient service rendered by the women.

In her report Mrs. (Rev.) Langford, the President, said she felt she had given her very best effort in leadership, and that she had always tried to follow her soul's vision of the Master's teaching and example for leaders, as she had endeavored in all her work to give equal rights to all and special favors to none. She repeated the motto of the society, "Not by might nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord," and then tried to impress upon the audience that the secret of the wonderful success of the society for the year was because the members believed the truth of their motto with all their hearts and then put forth their very best efforts.

The Treasurer's statement was also very gratifying when she reported $1,213.45 as the total for the year.

After the reports were heard the ladies stood and gave expression of their thoughts by singing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

The following officers were elected for the coming year.

President—Mrs. Bookhout.
1st Vice—Mrs. Carver.
2nd Vice—Mrs. Torey.
3rd Vice—Mrs. Cunningham.
Recording Secretary—Miss E. Wood.
Treasurer—Mrs. Cressman.
Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Seabrook.

Before the meeting closed Mrs. (Dr.) Morrison, in a few well chosen words, expressed to Mrs. Langford, the retiring President, the sincere appreciation of the society for her splendid help and leadership during the past two years. The speaker said she felt sure she was voicing the sentiments of every lady present when she moved a very genuine and hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Langford.

Mrs. Langford thanked the women for their kind thoughts and words, after which the results of a very successful year's work was committed to the keeping of the Master of the Vineyard in a closing prayer by the newly elected President, Mrs. Bookhout.

OLD MAN ON MURDER CHARGE

REGINA, Sask., March 25 (Canadian Press).—George Peoples, of Mulgrave, Guysboro County, Nova Scotia, 73 years old, was arrested here yesterday by the city police, at the request of the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia. He is said to be wanted on a murder charge.

ANGLICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

Well Attended Meeting of Association Held at St. George's.

On Tuesday evening, March 23, a very successful as well as enjoyable meeting of the Anglican Sunday School Teachers' Association was held in the basement of St. George's Church, in spite of the unfavorable weather conditions.

The meeting opened with prayer, led by Mr. Sorby, followed by a hymn. The report of the previous meeting was read by the secretary, Mr. H. Lang, after which the Rev. J. L. Hughes rendered a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes, which was very much enjoyed by all.

Miss M. Long then favored the meeting with an excellent talk on "Talks to Teachers in Sunday Schools," by "Boughton." This was very interesting as well as instructive.

Capt. A. G. Casey, of the Church Army, London, England, who is at present a guest of the Rev. J. L. Hughes, gave an outline of his work in connection with the Church Army which was heartily appreciated.

The meeting then closed with a hymn and prayer.

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES
Refreshes Tired Eyes
Write Murine Co., Chicago, for Eye Care Book

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NUMBER TWENTY—TATTERS WANDERS INTO FAIRYLAND

"Bow, wow, wow! Woof! Woof! Bow wow, wow!" went Tatters as he poked his nose around the little secret bush that hid the path to Scrub-Up Land.

The March Hare began to tremble and shiver so hard that he almost dropped his big book with the names in it.

"Dear! Dear! There's a dog. I'll have to hide," he cried breathlessly. "I'd like to know what he's doing here."

Bow, Wow, wow! Woof! Woof!" went Tatters again. This time a little nearer.

"Quick, Mister Rubadub, can you hide me?" said the poor March Hare.

"Jump into that soap box there," said the fairyman until we see what he wants. Now, children, go and open the gate and let him in."

"He sounds like a nice kind dog," said Nick. "I don't believe he'd hurt anyone."

"I should say not," said a tiny voice just then, and there sitting on a flower was Nimble Toes, the Fairy Queen's messenger. "I know this dog and he's a fine fellow, but he has no home. All he wants is to be allowed in to say 'How-do-you-do'," said Nimble Toes.

The March Hare jumped out of the soap box as quick as a wink at these words, looking a bit ashamed of himself. "I'm glad to hear it," he exclaimed. "We rabbits must be careful of strange dogs, however, if we do lose our dignity. Open the gate, children."

So Nancy and Nick ran and opened the gate and in walked Tatters.

"Bow, wow! Howdy-do folks," he said, smiling so he showed all his white teeth. "What place is this? Are there any bones buried hereabouts?"

"I'm afraid not, sir," said Mister Rubadub.

But suddenly to the amazement of everybody, there stood a large shiny tin pan right in front of Tatters' nose. And on the pan was a large helping of juicy roast beef, cut up into nice sized pieces for eating. Besides that there was a large marrow bone and some mashed potatoes and gravy. Beside the pan sat a large blue bowl of milk.

A little tinkling laugh came from the place Nimble Toes had been a moment before. But the tiny fairy had disappeared, wand, wings and all!

But now it was no longer a mystery where the delicious dinner had come from.

"Help yourself! Help yourself!" said Mister Rubadub, waving his hand. "Pitch right in, sir!"

Tatters did not need to be coaxed, you may be sure.

Nancy and Nick and the March Hare and Mister Rubadub said afterwards that it was better than eating a meal themselves, to see the poor hungry fellow licking up the gravy and potatoes, and swallowing the pieces of meat whole.

"I think I'll save my bone," he said presently. "I know a lovely place to hide it. Um, yum! That was good."

"Would you like a nice bath?" asked Mister Rubadub.

"Oh, shouldn't I, though!" cried Tatters. "I'd love it. I won't have to scratch so much then."

Well, my dears, under all his dirt, Tatters was a really a beautiful dog. A good lathering of "Fairyland Special" soap made his coat look like silk.

"I heard Mrs. Greenway say she would like another dog," said Nick. "Don is getting old, and you look so nice and kind, I think she would take you."

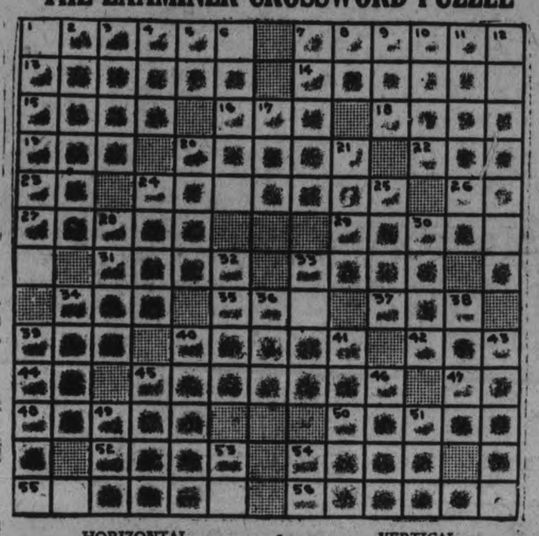
And Mrs. Greenway did take him the minute she saw him and Tatters is there yet. He is very happy.

You see, the fairies are great friends of the dogs, too!

(To be continued.)

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE EXAMINER CROSSWORD PUZZLE



HORIZONTAL

1. Blossom.
7. Red fruit sometimes considered a vegetable.
13. To feast.
14. A hard-finish glossy paint.
15. To acquire by labor.
16. Tiny green vegetable.
18. Heavy cord.
19. To piece out.
20. Feminine for ganders.
22. Parrot that kills sheep.
23. Myself.
24. Clerks of a bank.
26. Printer's measure.
27. To decorate.
29. To bring up.
31. To have on.
33. Questions (verb).
34. Command given to a horse.
35. External organ of hearing.
37. Bird similar to an ostrich.
39. Fuel.
40. Possessing flavor.
42. Mineral spring.
44. Three-toed sloth.
45. Officer in charge of a ship.
47. Bone.
48. To scatter.
50. Intends.
52. Genus of true olives.
54. To cry weakly.
55. Submits.
56. Tests chemically.

VERTICAL

1. One enjoying civil liberty.
2. Dripped through a crevice.
3. Frightened giant.
4. Pale.
5. Deity.
6. To repulse.
7. To harass.
8. Upon.
9. To damage.
10. Nervous malady.
11. Wigwams.
12. Soft ointment prepared from oil.
17. Snake-like fish.
20. The cheek.
21. Makes a mistake.
24. Largest land plant.
25. Final cause.
28. Is indebted.
30. Distinctive theories.
32. To harvest.
33. Melody.
34. Manner of walking.
36. Fit.
38. On.
39. Inflated.
40. Cut with a toothed implement.
41. Ten-cent pieces.
43. Almost donkeys.
45. Compartment in a prison.
46. Tidings.
49. Eggs of fishes.
51. Wing part of seed.
53. Like.
54. Mother.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, MARCH 26.

According to the prevailing lack of lunar transits, as well as mutual aspects, this may be a routine day, with affairs moving along in the customary channels. There is a little note of warning to be careful with all papers and writings, and to affix the signature to any document with precaution, the lunar aspect to Mercury being adverse

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a routine year, with all affairs moving quietly and in accustomed grooves. But they should be very cautious with all papers and sign all writings with unusual discrimination. Even so-called trivial correspondence may cause some anxioty. A child born on this day may have a fairly quiet career. It should be given early training in the importance of veracity and responsibility in its many relations in life

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

MONCUR DRUG STORE

Week-End Specials

Friday - Saturday - Monday

Hydrogen Peroxide. One Pound Bottles. Reg. 75c, for 43c

Many Flowers Face Powder 50c
2 Cakes Many Flowers Soap FREE

Mineral Oil, Regular $1.00, for 50c
Best Russian Oil

Acetal Tablets (British Aspirin). doz 10c
3 Dozen for 25c

Clinical Thermometers. Reglar $1. Tested "Correct." For..... 59c

Hot Water Bottles. Regular $3.25. Best Quality. Guaranteed 2 Years. for $2.00

MONCUR'S DRUG STORE

407 GEORGE STREET

Lowest Prices in the City on Patent Medicine

An ANNOUNCEMENT

by IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

TO THE MOTORISTS OF CANADA

ON the 20th of April we will be offering you a new motor oil which we sincerely believe is going to set aside all previous standards and introduce an entirely new era in Automotive Lubrication.

Marvelube is the name we have adopted for this new product—the nearest we could come in one word to signifying its marvelous lubricating qualities.

Marvelube is not the improvement of an old oil but the revolutionary discovery of a new. Its production involves a new system in refining.

Four years ago the scientists of our research department got on the trail of this new principle. Silently they have followed it ever since, testing, experimenting, perfecting, searching for the key that would unlock the ultimate. Last October they found it; and production meantime of an adequate stock to serve every motorist in Canada on the opening day, has been one of the closely guarded secrets of the Imperial Oil family.

Marvelube is a strictly Canadian triumph; the discovery of Imperial Oil scientists in our research laboratory at Sarnia, with no help from the outside world. For its base the ideal was found in a select grade of the world-famous Peruvian Crude, the product of a far foreign field developed by Canadian genius and controlled by Imperial Oil Limited.

Its lubricating qualities will recommend Marvelube at once to every motorist who gives it a trial. You will find Marvelube on sale at every Imperial Service station and at the establishments of all good dealers on the 20th of April.

Fill your crank case once. We leave the verdict to you.

President
IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

TO ALL DEALERS IN MOTOR OILS

Remember that Imperial Oil Limited is the sole manufacturer and will be the only marketer of this new oil. We caution you against accepting substitutes or imitations which cannot duplicate its wonderful lubricating qualities.

Before placing your order for Spring requirements it will pay you to investigate our dealer proposition.

IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED

TURNBULL'S GREAT LIQUIDATION SALE

Dependable Merchandise at Much Lower Prices than you procure elsewhere.

A Sensational Sale of Rugs for Friday and Saturday. Just think of it, every Rug in the Store goes on Sale Friday Morning at Half Price.

The Lot comprises Velvets, Wiltons, Axminsters, Brussels and Tapestry. Don't miss this opportunity. It will be your last chance this season to get High Class Rugs at Half Price.

Silks and Dress Goods

The Big Sale is still going strong. Nowhere can you find such values as we are offering in this department. Crepes, Taffetas, Duchess Satin, Crepe de Chine and Fancy Silks. Every yard guaranteed perfect goods and purchased for this spring's trade.

All-Wool Flannels in plain and fancy checks and stripes. The popular Flannel for sports wear, for children's frocks and spring coats. At tremendous savings.

Lace Curtains, Nets and Draperies

200 yards Colored Bordered Voiles, suitable for bedroom and kitchen curtains. Regular value, 45c. Sale price, yard 23c

10 ends Casement Cloth and Poplins, all colors. Values up to $2.50, for, per yard 98c

Lace Curtains. All Lace and Net Curtains at HALF-PRICE AND LESS. Don't miss this opportunity for spring needs. Your last chance.

Great Snap in Linoleum and Oilcloth

49 ends Linoleum, suitable for bathroom, halls or kitchen. Worth double the price asked. While they last, yard 69c

25 ends Oilcloth, lovely patterns, yard 36c

Special—150 yards Checked Linen Towelling, 24 inches wide. Regular value, 39c, for 25c

10 dozen Fancy Turkish Towels. Regular value, 75c, for, each 47c

Big Sale of French Ivory

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ONLY—THE LOT INCLUDES EVERY PIECE IN OUR STORE AT JUST HALF-PRICE

Vases, Pin Cushions, Picture Frames, Jewel Cases, Trays, Perfume Bottles, Hair Receivers, Powder Box. Brushes, Combs, Mirrors and Soap Boxes. All guaranteed best quality—no seconds.

MONARCH YARNS, 50 boxes only, best quality. 20c and 25c values, 10c and 15c values for 5c

Men's Suits and Overcoats

34 Men's Suits, all-wool, good colorings. Sizes 36 and 37 only. Values up to $20.00. Your last chance at this price $6.98

Men's Overcoats, sizes 36, 37 and 38. Values up to $30.00, for $9.98

Sweeping Sale of Beds, Mattresses and Springs

THE J. C. TURNBULL CO. LTD.

W. H. STINSON, Sales Manager

Basement Specials

7 bars good Laundry Soap (only 25c worth to a customer) 25c
24 Granite Jugs, quart size. Regular 50c value, for 25c
36 Coffee Pots, quart size. Regular 59c value, for 25c
24 Half-Gal. Blue Granite Jugs. Regular $1.00, for 49c
22 Dairy Pails. Regular $1.25 values, for 85c
25 Glass Flower Baskets. Regular 59c values, for 29c
3 only Carving Sets. Regular $9.50 value, for $5.95
2 only Egg Shell China Tea Sets, beautiful designs and colorings. Regular $29.75 value, for $15.00
100 Lunch Boxes. While they last, each 5c

Sweeping Reductions in Cut Glass

ALL NEW GOODS. Every piece in the Basement goes on Sale Friday morning at HALF-PRICE. A splendid opportunity to buy wedding presents. This is positively your last opportunity to buy Cut Glass at HALF-PRICE.

Special Display NEW Millinery

Friday and Saturday, at bargain prices. 200 beautiful Hats to select from at .....

$3.50, $3.75, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00

Terms Cash

TALENT REVEALED IN CAMPBELLFORD

Novelty Concerts Disclose Gifts of Entertainment.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25.—At every alphabetical social held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church the committee in charge of the arrangements appear to plan a surprise for the audience, who learn for the first time that residents of the town possess peculiar gifts never before suspected. Two weeks ago it was revealed that J. R. Battisby can play the role of an Irish comedian to perfection, and that Rev. James Greer is a vocalist as well as a preacher.

Other gems of talent of purest ray serene were brought to the surface at the social which was held in the school room Tuesday night, when John Brown, chief of police, extracted bagpipe music from a violin, and William Pearson, organist and choir leader of the church and also leader of the Northumberland Regiment Band, was disclosed as a poet, a parody which he had composed on a well-known college song and which sparkled with bright local hits, being sung by a male chorus trained by Mr. Pearson and this number proved one of the most popular on the programme.

All those whose surnames began with the letters from M to P were expected to help furnish the entertainment this included the majority of the members of the congregation of Scottish birth or descent, so that the musical numbers contained some of the standard songs of that country, not to mention the bagpipe music which Mr. Brown so cleverly drew from an instrument never designed for that purpose. Mrs. John Payne rendered for her encore number, "The Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond," the song that is held in such reverence by the Scottish race, that when Harry Lauder some years ago produced a convivial parody of it, it raised so general a protest that the famous entertainer was obliged to drop it from his repertoire.

Another novelty in these entertainments was the presence of a large number of the members of the band, young players whom Mr. Pearson has been training, with enough veterans to support the new graduates. A male chorus rendered "Three Black Crows," with all the spirit of college students, this number gathering additional interest on account of the prominence which is being given the crow in the press these days. It is hoped that Mr. Pearson will see his opportunity and will employ his poetical talent to write a new version of this college favorite, bringing it down to meet present ornithologic conditions.

The programme, including the selections by the band, consisted of twelve numbers, which were announced by Rev. James Greer, but as each performer responded to a hearty encore the entertainment was not concluded until nearly 11 o'clock. Those who took part were as follows

Song—Ivan Groh.
Song—Miss Helen McDonald.
Song—Major J. M. Bygott.
Song and Chorus—Ivan Groh, acting as leader.
Song—Miss Emma Meiklejohn.
Instrumental Trio—James Dorie and Earl and Kenneth Godden.
Song—Mrs. John Payne.
Song and Chorus, including Mr. Pearson's recent flirtation with the muses.—Ivan Groh, leader.

The service of refreshments brought the proceedings to a close. The attendance at these entertainments has increased in aritametical progression, as shown by the receipts which amounted to $45 at the first, $67 at the second, and to an even $80 Tuesday night.

Let your own discretion be your tutor; suit the action to the word, the word to the action.—Shakespeare

HASTINGS BANKER BEING TRANSFERRED

Friends of Arthur Dodd Gather To Make Presentations.

HASTINGS, March 25.—A number of friends and citizens gathered on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dodd to bid farewell to their son, Arthur, who has received a message from headquarters in Toronto of the Bank of Toronto that he is to be transferred to the St. Mary's branch. Rev. M. L. Hinton, Mr. Wm. Lynch, Mr. Thos. Chaplin and Mr. Carlos Runnels made a few remarks. Miss Carrie Doxsee played a piano solo and Mr. Neil Macdonald rendered a vocal selection.

During the evening two presentations were made, as follows, Dr. J. H. Hess reading the address and making the presentation:

"Dear Arthur,—We, the members of the Hustlers' Bible Class of the United Church and citizens of Hastings, regret to hear of your departure from us to take up your work in St. Mary's.

"While we regret your going, we rejoice the opportunity and promotion come to those who serve faithfully. It is needless to say that you stand very hi in the estimation of all as one of the most esteemed young men. In work and play since your childhood you have always played the game fairly, doing your best, thus endearing yourself to all by your happy and splendid spirit.

"We would desire you to accept this watch as a little gift from your many friends, with sincere wishes as the golden moments tick away we hope it will remind you of the love and esteem in which you are held.

"Signed on behalf of the class and citizens of Hastings."

"Dear Mr. Dodd,—It is with regret, coupled with feelings of pleasure, that we, the undersigned, have gathered together this evening to bid you good-bye, as you leave for your new sphere of duty. Feelings of regret that we have to lose one who has been amongst us so long, one who has joined with us for many years in all avenues of activity, and who has always been with us a real fellow. Feelings of joy again because your call to duty elsewhere teaches us that it is for your advancement in the business which you have taken on as your life's work.

"We tonight are with you in every sense of the word and wish you every success wherever you may be in the future. You are, we know, going to answer this call to duty nobly, which will lead you into larger fields of service and activity, and yet amid all the arduous tasks that duty brings us, it leaves us with true happiness.

"Doing the right things brings that calm and peaceful countenance that will demonstrate the fact of your right doing. Doing our duty nobly, dear friend, writes upon us its own inscription, and we can face the world with unquestioned gaze.

"As a token of our esteem towards you we ask you to accept this club bag, and may this little remembrance always bring vividly before you at all times your many friends left behind in your old home town, who will always be pleased to keep in touch with you at all times as to your advance to higher fields of service in the employ of the financial institution of which you are an honored and esteemed officer.

"Signed on behalf of the Royal Bank and Toronto Bank staff, Hastings, Ont.—A. U. Bailey, W. R. Learmonth, W. J. Taylor, R. A. Cassidy, W. E. Doughty, T. F. Richardson, A. N. Martin."

Eloquence may be found in conversations and in all kinds of writings; it is rarely found when looked for, and sometimes discovered where it is least expected.—La Bruyere.

Double the richness of ordinary milk, the use of St. Charles Milk will give a new flavor to old recipes of which your family may be getting tired. Try it.

STC-9-21

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutherford Entertain Number of Friends.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutherford entertained a number of friends at their home on Second street on Monday evening. The evening was spent playing progressive euchre, after which the hostess served lunch. Miss Essie Cassan and Mr. Jack Storie were prize winners.

Epworth League Meets.

The young people of the Epworth League of St. John's Church held their weekly meeting on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. S. A. Maguire and Thomas Craighead acted as chairmen of the programme. Miss Verna Sanders gave an interesting reading, Miss Ina Boyd read the Bible lesson and Mrs. C. W. Turner and Miss Cherrie sang a duet, accompanied by Miss Irene Stephens. Mrs. Robert Scott had the topic for the evening and gave a very instructive talk on "Citizenship."

Personals.

Miss Essie Cassan has accepted a position in D. J. Lynch's office.

D. A. McCook of Agincourt is spending a few days in town this week.

Mrs. H. Lawson of Toronto is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Runnels, Sebastapol street.

Miss Mary Taylor has accepted a position in Colborne and left last week for that place.

M'KIM'S DIRECTORY RECENTLY ISSUED

Book on Canadian Publications Supplies Much Information.

A. McKim Limited, Canada's largest Advertising Agency, has just issued the 1926 Edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications. This is the nineteenth edition, the first issue having appeared in 1892, and each succeeding number has shown an improvement over the previous one. This Publication is generally accepted as a reliable source of information on Canadian Publications and as well is regularly consulted for Geographical and Statistical particulars. Each year sees changes in the Canadian Publishing Field and as far as possible these changes are accurately indicated in each issue.

Architecture is frozen music.—Goethe.

YOUNG FOLK VISIT WILDMAN SCHOOL

Norwood League Attends Social Held By Neighbors.

NORWOOD, March 25.—Three sleigh loads of the members of the Young People's League of the United church attended the social held in the Wildman school house on Monday evening. The program was given by members of the league and an address was given by Mrs. Mortimer Clarke after which refreshments were served by the members of the Wildman Sunday school. A very enjoyable time was spent by all present.

Miss Maggie Nelson returned to Toronto on Tuesday after attending the funeral of her father, the late Wm. Nelson.

Mr. Fred Nelson of Winnipeg and Miss Lizzie Nelson of Toronto are with their mother, Mrs. Wm. Nelson, Hastings Road.

Mrs. Richard Lees of Peterboro, and Miss E. L. Waters of Norwood attended the funeral of their uncle, the late Mr. John Fleming, which took place in Hastings on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Brown were in Peterboro on Tuesday.

"All The Comforts of Home" can be enjoyed at THE Queen's Hotel

(Opposite New Union Station)
TORONTO

Noted for its homelike atmosphere, quiet, comfort and refinement. Unexcelled cuisine and moderate charges.

SPECIAL GARAGE FACILITIES FOR MOTORISTS

American and European Plans.

Phone or wire your reservation at our expense

503

HOT POKER PUT DOWN BOY'S BACK

Guilty Boy Given Warning By Judge About Matter.

KINGSTON, March 25.—(Special).—A fifteen-year-old lad named Groomes, was before Judge J. E. Madden, at Napanee, on Tuesday, charged with putting a hot poker down the back of another lad he was playing with. The offence occurred several weeks ago at a school a few miles west of Napanee, and while a number of other children looked on. The judge allowed the lad to go with a warning, he being of the opinion that it was not done with malicious intent, but more as a joke than to cause bodily harm, but the judge at the same time pointed out the seriousness of the matter.

OMEMEE LADIES' AID OFFICERS ELECTED

Reports Read at Annual Meeting Show Good Year.

OMEMEE, March 25.—The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Trinity United church was held in the basement on Thursday afternoon, March 18th with twenty-two members and three visitors present. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. William Henderson and following devotional exercises the secretary, Mrs. Widdis gave the minutes of the last meeting and also read two letters of appreciation from Mrs. S. Wilson and Mrs. Walter Magee for flowers sent by the Society during illness.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Morcombe gave an itemized statement of all receipts and expenditures during the year. The total amount raised was $734.00 while the expenditures were $589., leaving a balance in the treasury of $147.

A report from the flower committee was given by Mrs. Henderson. Twenty-two homes were remembered with flowers and fruit during the year.

Final arrangements for the birthday tea were made. It was decided to have a birthday book to be in charge of Mrs. T. C. Ivory and each person who attended the tea would be asked to register in the month in which their birthday came; this book to be kept as a souvenir by the Society.

The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place as follows:

President—Mrs. William Henderson.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. J. Bushnell.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. F. G. Sandy.
3r Vice-President—Mrs. D. Weir.
Secretary—Mrs. L. A. Mahood.
Assistant Secretary—Mrs. J. Widdis.
Treasurer—Mrs. R. H. Williamson.
Pianist—Miss N. Rutherford.
Flower committee—Mrs. Henderson and Miss L. Parsons.
Parsonage committee—Mrs. E. Bradburn and Mrs. C. L. Morcombe.

ROSENEATH NEWS

ROSENEATH, March 25.—Mrs. Henry Prittie, Centreton, spent a few days visiting her father, Mr. Alfred Sherwin.

Mrs. C. Bowen, Warkworth, visited her sister, Mrs. G. A. Dawe.

Mrs. William Taylor is in Colborne at the home of her son, Mr. Harold Taylor.

Miss Dorothy Birney, Centreton, spent the week end with her cousin, Miss Grace Blodgett.

Mrs. Lottie Nichol was called to Strathroy, Ont. Owing to the illness of her brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Nichol.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, Warkworth spent a few days with their daughter, Mrs. George A. Dawe.

Mrs. William Brown is still in a critical condition.

The L.O.L. gave a dance on Friday night last, which was well attended.

To refresh the Mouth "what could be sweeter"—than—

LIFE SAVERS
THE CANDY MINT WITH THE HOLE

purify the breath

"always good taste"

"I want HAWES'" says the Housewife when she buys wax—because

1. Hawes' is the HARDEST Wax!
2. Hawes' is QUICKEST Drying!
3. Hawes' is EASIEST to Apply!
4. Hawes' GOES FARTHEST!

"Preferred in Fine Homes for Many Years"

HAWES' FLOOR WAX

FOR FLOORS · LINOLEUM · FURNITURE · AUTOMOBILES

WOMEN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

Miss Vera Levesque of the Empress Hotel staff is visiting friends in Philadelphia, Pa., for a few weeks.

• • •

E. Brown, paying teller of the Bank of Toronto, leaves today for Montreal, having been transferred to the main branch of the bank in that city.

• • •

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher, Park street, when their friends gathered together to celebrate Mr. Fisher's birthday. During the evening he was presented with useful presents, giving a suitable reply. The evening was spent in games and dancing till the wee small hours of the morning.

• • •

Sister St. Oswald of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, returned to Kingston this morning, accompanied by Sister Gallagher, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. O'Keefe, 79 Lansdowne street. Sister St. Oswald also attended the reception at Mount St. Joseph, where her sister, Rosamond, was received into the Order of St. Joseph as Sister Rose Marie.

• • •

Miss Gladys White has entered the Toronto General Hospital as a nurse in training, instead of the Sick Children's Hospital, as previously noted.

• • •

A joint kitchen shower was held recently by the girl employees of the Bell Telephone Company, at the residence of Mrs. C. Chowen, Water street, for Mrs. L. Harrison (nee (Berenice Garside) and Miss Berenice Billington, whose marriage takes place in Hamilton on Saturday.

COBOURG, March 25.—There is every prospect of a good ball season for Cobourg the coming summer. The Cobourg Dye Works team and also a junior team, are Cobourg's entries in the Durham and Ontario League.

The Town League has been reorganized, and it is expected will have four teams. The following officers were elected:

President—Jos. Delaney.
Vice-President—E. E. White.
Secretary-Treasurer—Roy Dodge.

It was decided to hold a meeting on April 16, and all teams desiring to enter the Town League are asked to have their entries in by that date.

SEEKS FOWLER CUP.

Local Sport Follower Asks About Location of City Trophy.

Sporting Editor, Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Would you please let me know, through your valuable paper, what has happened to the fried potatoes, beet greens, peach salad, maple mousse, sponge cake, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

GET IN TH

The peach salad is a variation of that old standby of a pineapple salad. Instead of filling the cavity of the pineapple slice with cream cheese combined with nuts a peach is used and a ball of the cheese mixture placed in the cavity where the stone was removed. The fruit of course should be well chilled before stuffing and a light well-seasoned salad dressing used to mask the peach.

Creamed Dried Beef With Rice.

One-fourth pound dried beef, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1-2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 hard cooked eggs, 2 cups boiled rice.

Melt butter in frying pan. Add dried beef pulled into small pieces and cook until the edges frizzle. Sift flour over meat and stir with a fork until perfectly blended. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add cheese and cook until cheese is melted. Add chopped whites of eggs. Pour this mixture over hot boiled rice arranged on a hot platter. Sprinkle with yolks of eggs rubbed through caricer.

(Copyright, 1926.)

Her Face Was Covered With Large, Red Pimples

Miss Greta Carlisle, 23 Leonard St., Brantford, Ont., writes:—"A short while ago, my face was completely covered with large red pimples, and it seemed that it was almost impossible for me to get rid of them, as nothing I took seemed to do me any good.

One day I noticed an advertisement of

Burdock Blood Bitters

and I will never regret the day I bought it, as, now, my face is entirely cleared up of blotches and pimples of every kind."

For the past 47 years B.B.B. has been put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ECLIPSE FASHIONS

Exclusive Patterns by Hazel Dawn

1067 1062

Fabric Combinations Achieve Smartness in Two-piece Frocks

Fashion's fancy for combining two materials in one costume is charmingly expressed in this model which has flaring skirt, round collar, and bands on the sleeves of navy-blue taffeta plaided in red, yellow and white, while the overblouse is of navy-blue crêpe satin. Raglan sleeves are a feature of the blouse, which slips on over the head, fastening under a flat plait, and is banded at the hips, giving the new bloused effect. The skirt is moderately circular, opening at the side front and joined to a fitted band at the natural waistline. If desired the side front opening may be omitted and the front made in one piece. The Blouse, No. 1062, is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years (or 34, 36 and 38 inches bust only). Size 18 years (36 bust) requires 2½ yards 36-inch material. The Skirt, No. 1067, is in sizes 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist. Size 28 waist requires 2¼ yards 42 or 54 inch material. Price 20 cents, each pattern.

Our Fashion Book, illustrating the newest and most practical styles, will be of interest to every home dressmaker. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Pattern Purchase Coupon

Address Fashion Department, Evening Examiner

No. ..... Street .....

Name .....

Pattern Number ..... Size .....

Town .....

Province .....

Amount Enclosed .....

Price 20 cents each—coin preferred

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN TO MEET

Thirty-third Annual Meeting To Be Held in Vancouver.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—The 33rd annual meeting of the Canadian National Council of Women will be held in Vancouver commencing on June 9. This was agreed upon at a meeting here yesterday of the national executive at which delegates and representatives from all parts of Canada were present. The executive sessions will be continued today.

It was unanimously decided that the National Council ask the outstanding women of the British Empire who have visited Canada during the last year and contributed to the interests of the various councils that they become honorary members of the national council, which is an organization with a membership of 450,000 women. The British women who will be asked to accept an honorary membership are Countess Haig, Viscountess Allenby, Her Grace the Duchess of Atholl, Dame Rachael Crowdy and Dame Katherine Furse.

FIFTEEN KILLED.

Coal Shaft Cage Rope Breaks, Plunging It To The Bottom.

BERLIN, March 25 (United Press).—A coal mine cage containing 35 miners plunged to the bottom of a shaft near Oberhausen today, according to a dispatch received from Essen. Fifteen of the miners were killed and twenty injured. The rope from which the cage was suspended snapped during the changing of shifts.

The Woman's Day

Written by a Woman for Women.

Touching brightly on woman's every major interest in life from books and babies to politics and psycho analysis.

(By Allene Sumner)

THE PAPERS SAY

Dancing girls of Turkey now demand get—pay for tripping the light fantistic. A certain stag club in a town near Constantinople, composed of sons of old pashas who ruled harems, must hire their dancing entertainment these days and pay good shekels for the entertainment which their fathers had for merely providing shelter, food, and raiment.

• • •

At last! Some enterprising soul announces the discovery of a way to make silk stockings so they will not run! And just watch "us girls" ever own such! Ambitious stocking makers who turn them out while the woman pays and pays and pays for new ones every day or so, thanks to those measly "runs," will see to it that no anti-run invention ever hurts their business!

PIN MONEY

If you want pin money, Mrs. Home Woman, why not raise snails? The French custom of masticating helpless snails with zeal and gusto is spreading to this country, too, we are told. Here's how to raise snails in the way that they should go! Strew a cellar with mulberry leaves during the summer months. Put trillions of baby snails in the cellar. Sprinkle the snails with water from time to time, then turn on an electric light. The snailish habit of coming out to food after a shower will work now. The snails will stick their heads out of their shells, when they are sprayed with milk and flour and become milkbottle snails, are bottled, sold, and the lady gets richer than from raising mushrooms or dahlias.

STYLE NOTE

Spite of all the hue and cry about silk stockings, the girls wore them back in 1830. An old-time fashion book of that vintage speaks of fine white silk hose beneath which should be worn a second pair of pale pink cashmir ones.

• • •

HA HA HA!

Nothing new under the sun, at all! Maybe you thought the expression "high hat" sort of new. In the fascinating new book of "An Immigrant in Japan," by Theodore Geoffrey, the author tells of her shock in seeing her hitherto totally proper Japanese butler answer the door clad in undies only. To her remonstrances the butler showed an American ad of gents in nether garments and grinned. "Me new clothes all same as American boy. Very hi kara!" "Hi kara," it seems; is Japanese slang for "high collar."

THE CLUB

Do you need help for your "poetry evening?" Read "The New Poetry A Study Outline," by M. P. Parsons "Some Poets of Today" in "The Complete Club Book for Women," by C. F. Benton.

YOUR BIRTH MONTH

March's birth stone is the bloodstone. It signifies wisdom, firmness, and courage. March's flower is the violet. It is the symbol of modesty.

BEAUTY

A sonnet to my lady's eyebrows cannot be penned unless there are really some eyebrows. If you own the place where they ought to be, smear that vacant lot with vaseline every night, applying it in a curved arch just as you would wish the brow to grow. Just see what you'll have in six weeks or less!

The ORACLE

This day we fashion Destiny, our web of Fate we spin. —Whittier.

Fixed fate, free will, foreknowledge absolute. —Milton.

O. E. J.—You have a generous, kind-hearted nature, and are orderly and methodical in everything you do. You will have a strong, highly-developed personality, if you watch out for a few defects. You must not indulge in criticism of others, while thinking that you have no faults of your own. Look for good qualities in those about you, remember that money and aristocratic appearances are not as valuable as true friendship, for you are inclined to be a snob, a very disagreeable trait, and do not be so sensitive to public opinion. Be careful of what you eat and you wil, retain your youth and freshness to a remarkable degree. Marry someone born in March, May or August, begin important undertakings in February or November and on Wednesday, if possible. Develop your musical ability and never forget that success and happiness will come to you only through service to others, the intimate, personal service inspired by love.

You were born on Sunday. The day you ask about, a Tuesday, is one on which to be cheerful and generous and to confidently assume any responsibility offered you. Your colors are red and brown.

M. W. L.—Yes, you will have a great deal of difficulty in deciding just what you want to do. I am not so sure about your capacity as a nurse. Your star seems to point to work that is more in the business line, with success in commercial life. But you are careless in money matters and slow in paying your bills, you are careless of your own belongings and those borrowed from other people, and you are easily confused. You are neat in your ways, and worry a great deal. This will have a bad effect on your stomach as the years go on. You worry excessively over things that will never happen. You have a good deal of changefulness in your disposition also, which will have to be curbed if you are ever going to amount to anything. Try to follow out your own intuitions, as they are not easily deceived. Strive for habits of order, even in small things and learn patience and poise. Be careful in selecting friends, as your mind is very susceptible to influence from others. Marry a man born in February, May, August or March. Wear pink in all its shades. You were born on Monday.

Loc.—You have a friendly, jovial nature, without much efficiency, and, although you are naturally free and sympathetic in your ways, there are times when you appear to be very reserved and rather shy. Do not take too much interest in occult or spiritualistic matters. You are naturally kind and loving, but, being very emotional, you are liable to extremes of great rage, and are quite sulky when offended. You like to entertain your friends. You have great respect for law and authority, but do not like to be commanded by others. You enter sincerely into the feelings and interests of your friends, and are often imposed upon by them. You have a rich tone of voice, and walk with a quick and buoyant step.

Be very careful who you marry, as you are the type who trusts mainly to emotion and are quite likely to make a grave mistake. You will make an ideal homekeeper, if you marry the right man—someone born in September, October or December.

You were born on Wednesday, not Friday. Your colors are gold and white.

A pearl oyster does not produce any pearls until it is six or seven years old.

for Colds

Rub the original BAUME BENGUE on the forehead and outside of nose. The congestion will be quickly relieved and the stuffiness and head throb will disappear. Ben Gay does not burn or blister. Wonderful for Chest Colds, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and every ache and pain of nerve or muscle.

185

BAUME BENGUE (ANALGESIQUE)

For Free Sample Send 10c. to cover cost of packing and mailing:— The Leeming Miles Co. Ltd., Montreal.

The Original Baume $1.00

Today's Fashion

By Vera Winston

Unusual Black Wool Stitching Trims White Crepe de Chine Afternoon Frock.

White is coming more and more to the fore as the season advances. We see all white frocks, and we see white combined with most effective colors.

The afternoon gown above utilizes the ever-smart black and white. The material is white crepe. The bodice has an all-over design of large flowers done in black wool thread, and the neck and cuffs are finihsed with narrow black satin bands.

Notice the deeply scalloped treatment about the bottom of the blouse. This is much used this season. The handkerchief drape at the center-front also adds a smart touch. The little hat is black satin.

CARRY-ON PRESIDENT.

Mrs. F. W. Woolcott of Hamilton, the founder and present dominion president of the "Ladies' Carry-on League," an organization doing spendid work on a voluntary basis toward aiding sick and disabled veterans. Mrs. Woolcott organized the first Poppy Day held in Canada

HER OWN WAY

by A GIRL of TODAY

A MAN'S KISS OR HIS LOVE?

"I wonder How Mr. Hathaway can be so sure he can get back my money?" I asked Jim when we left the restaurant.

"Why, don't you know, Judy, that Jerry Hathaway's father is the owner of the Beaux Arts, as well as many of the other hotels and restaurants in town?"

"How should I know it, Jim? I've never even seen him in the place!"

"He seldom goes there for he almost broke his father's heart by refusing to go into the hotel and restaurant business. Hathaway senior offered to turn over the whole thing to Jerry and go to Europe, but his son refused to accept the proposition. I met Jerry Hathaway on one of my visits to this town and I found that he had about five thousand dollars, and I had about the same amount, so we went into the advertising business together. We've only been working about four months but we're doing mighty well. I'm awfully glad Jerry has a chance to go to his father, for his father can have an opportunity to know that his son has the ability to make good in something beside the restaurant business."

By this time we hzd finished our coffee.

As we left the restaurant Jimmie proposed a taxi but I insisted upon the elevated.

"It goes very near our apartment," I explained, "and I'd much rather walk the distance to the station and the few blocks after we arrive to Forty-seventh street, than to ride in an expensive taxi."

When we arrived, I found a bright light shining from the dining room windows. Mamie's apartment was on the first floor. And, much to my surprise when I asked the time of Jimmy, he told me it was after one o'clock.

As Jimmy left me at the door, he seemed about to kiss me but I drew back, although even while I did so, even while I was turning from the goodnight kiss, I wondered why I did it. I had never shied from one before. I knew the girl who kept her kisses for her husband nowadays was as impossible to find as the great roc's egg.

I think I would have liked to kiss Jimmy Costello. He was so big, and clean and protective. But, even before I left home, I knew that loving a man's kiss and really loving him were two different things. I knew that being thrilled by a kiss did not necessarily mean that one was in love with the man who kissed you.

I went into the house to find Mamie, her arms stretched out on the dining room table, her head down upon them, just shaking with sobs.

(Copyright, 1926—NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW: Tears of the Strong.

BAND CONCERT

Newly Formed Hastings Band Holds Successful Entertainment.

HASTINGS, March 25.— The newly organized band of the village held a successful concert and dance in Lynch's Hall on Wednesday evening, March 17th. Dr. J. H. Hess acted as chairman and during the programme, called on Mr. Neil Macdonald and Mr. R. C. Doxsee for a few remarks, which were made. The programme carried out was as follows:—

March—"Bugle Call."
Cornet Solo, Mr. C. Blackbourn, "Nearer My God To Thee."
Waltz, "Thine Own."
Serenade, "In the Twilight."
Waltz, "June Roses."
Cornet Solo, Mr. Wilfred Knight.
Waltz, "By the River."
Selection, "Rock of Ages."
Waltz, "Queen of My Heart."
Serenade, "Good Night."
March, "Rank and File."

After the programme lunch was served and the light fantastic was tripped by young and old in new and old dances.

The Ladies of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel held a Progressive Euchre Party in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, March 17.

A very large crowd was present and thirty-eight tables were used for the progressive euchre. The lady's prize was won by Miss Gorman and the gentleman's prize by Mr. James Faux.

An employee of the Hastings Tanning Company, Mr. Lance Snyider of the rolling room department had one of his thumbs injured while working. So serious was the injury that it was found necessary to have the injured thumb amputated at the first joint.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Brooks. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows:—President, Mrs. A. Metcalf; Treasurer, Mrs. A. M. Brooks; Rec.-Secretary, Mrs. G. Faux; Corr.-Secretary, Mrs. W. Waye; Strangers' Secretary, Mrs. B. F. Doxsee; Superintendent Mission Band, Mrs. M. L. Hinton; Assistant, Mrs. J. M. Baker. Other committees were formed or work during the year. A dainty' lunch was served during the afternoon.

TRINITY MUSICALE.

Delightful Programme Given at Reid Street Hall By Club.

A large crowd was present at the delightful musicale given by the Trinity club in Reid street hall last night. The programme was of excellent quality and the various artists rendered their selections in a pleasing manner.

At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served.

Vocal solo, Mrs. H. F. Doig.
Violin solo, Mr. Roy Rome.
Vocal solo, Miss Bertha Hill.
Piano solo, Miss Isabel McKee.
Vocal solo, Miss Helen Lytle.
Guitar duet, Misses Tretheway.
Vocal solo, Miss Trucie Pearson.
Vocal duet, Doris Donnelly and Alma Blanchard.
Vocal solo, Mrs. R. A. Williamson.
Refreshments.

Orchestral selections: Miss Alma Blanchard, Miss Gwen Donnelly, Miss Frances McFadden, Mr. W. T. Fanjoy.

FLAPPER FANNY says

The trouble with talkative men is that they remember kisses they promised to forget.

TO TOUR CANADA.

Dame Rachel Crowdy, chief of the social questions and opinion section of the League of Nations at Geneva, who will tour Canada and the United States in May. When she visits Ottawa her brother, James F. Crowdy, Secretary to the Governor-General, will see her for the first time in thirteen years.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie: I am a girl of 18. One night while at a dance I was introduced to a young boy, who greatly impressed me. He had many dances with me, and for several nights after he called on me. He suddenly stopped and is now going with another girl. Please tell me how I can win him back. DOWN HEARTED.

DOWN HEARTED. — It isn't likely you can win him back. Why waste time in trying? For some reason he was attracted to you when he first saw you, took a notion to find out if the impression would be lasting, tried it out for a while and found it wasn't. In other words, he is either fickle-winded or else you were not attractive enough to hold him. But at 18 years of age, why not play this same game yourself? Go around with other young men and don't put all your trust in one. Commonsense is a wonderful thing, after all. Why not try to cultivate it?

RED AND WHITE: You are just a little too obvious, don't you think so? Give us credit for some sense.

Dear Annie Laurie: We have come to you for advice. We both like the same girl, but the old man hates both of us. We don't want to fall out over the girl, so we go on separate nights but her father sets the dog on us. What would you advise us to do.

VENUS AND AENEAS.

VENUS AND AENEAS: You had better take a sausage along to propitiate the dog, or find another girl, whose father and dog are better-tempered.

BUNION SORENESS GOES QUICK

Tired, Aching, Burning Feet Instantly Relieved.

Maybe bunions can't be cured, but like tired, aching feet, the pain and soreness can be quickly conquered—and the first cooling, soothing touch of Geero Wormwood Balm will easily convince you of that!

No matter what your foot troubles may be—Geero Wormwood Balm will bring you prompt and certain relief: Pain disappears—hardened calloused spots quickly soften—and the stinging, burning soreness almost instantly goes away. Sold and guaranteed by all good druggists—try it tonight.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT THE THINGS THAT INTEREST THE BUSY WOMAN OF 1926.

SPRING.

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, March 25 (United Press).—Spring is here. Women are wearing straw bonnets and Spring neckwear. Glimpses of shop windows acquaint us with Spring styles and we make mental notes upon the newest ideas which appeal to us.

Of course, nothing can be really new with us since women of this era want only styles of youth. That means that lines must be slender or must appear to be so. Neck lines must be youthful. Waist lines must be minus quantities. Hems must be short. We can not hope to find radical style changes when the feminine world is intent upon keeping young.

It's whispered that Princess dresses and full-skirted period frocks are sponsored by some of the Parisian gownmakers. But we know that we won't wear them—unless we are slim and young and can afford to sacrifice youthful lines. Therefore, we grab at new colors, new collars, sleeves, waist lines and hems for our style changes.

Perhaps the most youthful style which has been brought out in years is the jumper frock of two-piece type. We find them in the Spring collection with narrow leather belts worn a few inches above the bottom of the jumper. Some new models have snug hip lines and bloused upper portions. Both youthful changes! Colors are invariably pastel with green a Spring leader.

Youthful, too, are taffeta frocks for afternoon wear. And although some women find taffeta a bit trying to the complexion they can avoid this by combining taffeta with chiffon, dotted net or lace. A charming black taffeta frock has its full skirt bordered with deep, black scalloped-edged lacd. The scallops of the lace extend upwards from the hem. This same lace forms a bertha collar in front which terminates in a deep rear cape of waist length. Also taffeta may be softened by using appliques of flower-printed chiffon or georgette. Ecru lace is another favorite taffeta trim.

Black or blue georgette posed over colorfully printed silk is a combination well thought of for the slender perron. One sees many dresses of this type with georgette or chiffon shadowing a vivid printed material.

This Spring will see much of the polka dot. Nearly every Fifth Avenue shop window is showing gowns or suits made of or trimmed in polka dots. For Summer the background is white with colorful dots. For Spring the background is black or navy with white, red, green or yellow dots.

One-sided effects are the craze of the moment. It would seem that one must be lop-sided to be in style. Sometimes it is merely the neckline that takes the one-sided trend as in the case of a black lace dinner gown which has a lace scarf draped about the batteau-shaped neck with the two scarf ends falling loose over one shoulder in cape effect. Again, it is the skirt which is one-sided as where ruffles or tiers extend, from the left hip to the right hemline.

RASH COVERED FACE AND NECK

Caused a Lot of Pain. Itched Badly. Healed by Cuticura.

"My trouble began with a rash of pimples that covered my face and neck. The pimples grew larger and started to fester, causing a lot of pain. They itched badly and I was very restless at night. The trouble lasted four months.

"A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Martha Martene, R. R. 2, Crediton, Ont., Nov. 3, 1925.

Daily use of Cuticura Soap, with touches of Cuticura Ointment now and then, keeps the skin fresh, smooth and clear. Cuticura Talcum also is ideal for the skin.

Sample Each Free by Mail. Address Canadian Depot: "Stenhouse, Ltd., Montreal." Price, Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c.

Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

INTERESTING COMBINATION

A coat dress of gray crepe de chine is entirely lined with rose-colored kasha which also forms a wide jabot running from neckline to hemline.

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Quick Way to Build Up Weight

This new combination of yeast vitamines with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood cells, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with vitamines that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamine food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast" — which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast Tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. If you are under weight, do not enjoy good health, lacking in energy and force, "ironized yeast" tablets will pick you right up, and if they fail, you get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package. Harold F. Ritchie & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Canada.

FURNITURE ON CREDIT

Here's your opportunity to furnish your home complete from attic to cellar and

SAVE 25 to 35%

Furniture of all kinds—beds, bedding, carpets, rugs, stoves, floor coverings, baby carriages, floor lamps, etc. sold on to suit you. Prices guaranteed lowest in city.

EASY WEEKLY PAYMENTS

$1.00 opens an account with us.

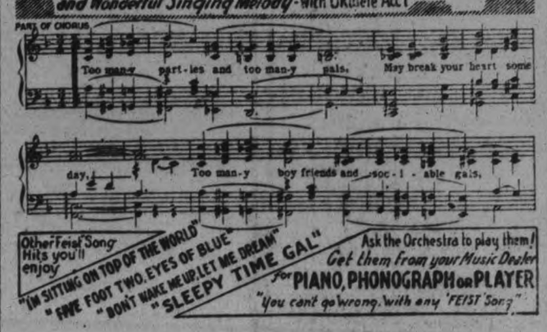
Home Furnishing Co.

208 Charlotte St.

You must hear this Powerful and Appealing Ballad!

"Too Many Parties and Too Many Pals"

The New Waltz Song Craze—a Heart Throb Story and Wonderful Singing Melody—with Ukulele Acct



Other Feist Song Hits you'll enjoy "I'M SITTING ON TOP OF THE WORLD" "FIVE FOOT TWO, EYES OF BLUE" "DON'T MAKE ME UP LET ME DREAM" "SLEEPY TIME GAL"

Ask the Orchestra to play them! Get them from your Music Dealer for PIANO, PHONOGRAPH or PLAYER

"You can't go wrong with any 'FEIST Song'"

LEO FEIST LIMITED, 193 YONGE ST., TORONTO, CAN.

For sale at 35c by the following:

Peterboro Music Co., 404 George St. | J. M. Greene Music Co. Ltd., Charlotte street.
Cressman Co. Ltd., 385 George St.

QUEBEC HOCKEY CHAMPIONS LAY ALLAN CUP CLAIM BEFORE C.A.H.A.

Annual Meeting of Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in Montreal.

CAN DO NOTHING.

MONTREAL, March 25 (Canadian Press).—The annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association got underway here Wednesday with a full attendance of delegates from the various provincial associations from Quebec to British Columbia. An afternoon session was called for, but was adjourned to allow the newly-appointed "resolutions committee" to draft the suggestions, given them by various delegates, into concrete form for presentation to today's session.

Yesterday's meeting gave a special hearing to President Sylvestre of the St. Francois Xavier Hockey Club, champions of the Province of Quebec, who made a last plea for the Saints to enter the Allan Cup competition.

St. Francois Xavier had the right to enter the cup eliminations, but the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association was late in naming a representative, so St. Francois Xavier were ordered to play a sudden-death game with Ottawa Gunners in Ottawa. This, the Saints refused to do, claiming that they should have the opportunity of home-and-home games. This, the Asociation could not allow, as the time was too short to arrange such a series. Special envoys from the St. Francois club travelled to Ottawa to see President Quilty and Secretary Dunn of the C.A.H.A. The situation was explained to the messengers and they were ordered to play the sudden-death fixture with Gunners. After much long-distance telephoning and use of telegrams St. Francois automatically dropped from the elimination series. The Gunners went into the Eastern final with University of Toroto by default.

The above situation was fully explained to Mr. Sylvestre and it was pointed out to him how it was impossible for the C.A.H.H. to do anything else in the matter, owing to the lateness of the date. It was explained that the C.A.H.A. had done all in its power to aid the Province of Quebec in straightening out the tangle, but that nothing more could be done.

Those present at the opening meeting were: Honorary President W. R. Sexsmith, Portage la Prairie; President Silver Quilty, Ottawa; Vice-President Dr. F. E. Sandercock, Calgary; A.A.U. of C. Governor R. C. Chambers, Fort William; Registrar-Treasurer W. A. Hewitt, Toronto; Secretary J. M. Dunn, Ottawa; Life Member C. C. Robinson, Winnipeg.

Quebec A.H.A., E. J. C. Finch, Montreal, and F. J. Morrissey, Montreal.

Inter-Collegiate A.H.A., Major D. Stuart Forbes Montreal.

Ottawa and District A.H.A., Capt. J. A. Labelle.

Ontario Hockey Association, W. Easson, Stratford; Sheriff J. F. Paxton, Whitby; W. W. Davidson, Toronto; W. A. Fry, Dunville.

Thunder Bay A.H.A., E. G. Murphy, Fort William; G. F. McDougall, Fort William.

Manitoba A.H.A., J. A. McVicar, Winnipeg.

Saskatchewan A.H.A., J. W. Hamilton, Regina.

Alberta A.H.A.—A. B. King, Okotoks, and G. E. Cruickshank Hillcrest.

British Columbia A.H.A., J. P. Watson, Alberta.

The special "nominations committee' chosen in the morning consisted of W. Easson, chairman; Major Forbes and A. B. King.

TORONTO PATS WIN.

Defeat Ottawa Ladies 2-0 in Semi-Finals—Meet Sudbury.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—By virtue of a 2 to 0 victory over the Rowing Club girls' hockey team here last night, Toronto Pats won the semi-final round of the Ontario Ladies' Amateur Hockey Association and the right to meet Sudbury ladies in the finals for the Provincial title.

Travel in luxury on the palatial steamships of the Canadian Pacific fleet. Service to guests perfect in every detail. Accommodation should be secured early.

Apply to local agent,
J. E. PARKER,
General Agent,
Ocean Traffic,
Canadian Pacific Bldg.,
Toronto, Ont.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

BASEBALL SCORES

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 24—Score:

Boston (A)	5	9	2
New Orleans (S.A.)	3	9	1

Ehmke, Sommers and Stokes, Hilton; Irwin, Austin and Dowie, Dowda.

TAMPA, Fla., March 24—Score:

Brooklyn (N)	3	10	2
Washington (A)	4	9	1

Vance, McWeeney, Stryker and DeBerry, O'Neill; Ogden, Marberry and Ruel, Tate.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24—Score:

Cincinnati (N)	1	4	0
New York (A)	4	5	2

Mays, Springer and Hargrave; Shocker, Hoyt and Collins.

KEYSTONE JOBS NEARLY FILLED

Gehringer, of Toronto Leafs Last Year, Gets Tiger Call.

OTHER CHANGES.

NEW YORK, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Infield reconstruction, problem of many major league baseball teams, has reached its final stage, with a general atmosphere of managerial satisfaction over the training camp tests of extravagant minor purchases.

The struggle of high priced recruits against veteran campaigners for position in the pivotal combinations around second base has found youngsters more than holding their own. As a matter of fact, the teams will make the training camp exodus with nine keystone changes in prospect for the season's opening.

The New York Yankees will display a brand new outfit in Mark Koenig and Tony Lazerre. The Detroit Tigers have given Gehringer, their Toronto purchase, the call over Frank O'Rourke at second base, while Hunnefield has apparently nosed out the veteran Everett Scott as first string White Sox shortstop.

Buddy Myer, promising Washington infielder, has been regularly appearing at shortstop for the Senators. Spurgeon, once regular second sacker of the Cleveland Indians is being pressed by a promising recruit in Guy Lacey.

Maurice Shannon, last year with Louisville, seems to have satisfied Manager McCarthy as the Cubs' best shortstop possibility for 1926, while Frank Emmer appears likely to crowd Bohne out of the same post in the Cincinnati inner works. At the camp of the champion Pirates, a three cornered second base fight has been in progress with Hal Rhyne, Pacific Coast find, making a strong impression on Manager McKechnie, although Johnny Rawlings or Eddie Moore may bet the call.

Illness of Johnny Butler and failure of Rabbit Maranville to play up to expectations, worries Manager Wilbert Robinson, of the Robins. Standaert looms as an infield certainty, either at second or third base. Butler is expected to be a fixture when his health returns, but the Dodgers are still highly uncertain of their opening lineup.

There may be a few third base chances, Riconda having made an impression on Manager Bancroft of the Braves, and Hodapp having pushed Lutzke closely for the job with Cleveland.

First base issues, however, appear to have been disposed of with the former Giant pitcher, Jack Bentley, satisfying Manager Fletcher of the Phillies at the initial bag, and Wally Pipp closing a gap in the Reds' infield.

CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE TO MEET

New Season's Activities To Be Planned at This Meeting.

TO-MORROW NIGHT.

On Friday, March 26, at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 8 o'clock sharp, there will be a meeting of the Peterboro City League.

This is the beginning of another year's activities, and it is hoped that all those interested will attend.

As the annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association will be held in Toronto, on April 3, it will be necessary for the league to have a representative there.

MUNRO IN GAME.

Maroons Captain Against Ottawa To-night.

MONTREAL, Que., March 25. — Canadina Press. — Captain Dunc Munro, of the Montreal Maroons, who has been ill for some time, was skating at the Forum yesterday, and will be in uniform to-night against the Ottawa Senators, according to an announcement by Manager Eddie Gerard.

Munro will not start in his regular berth, but he will get into the play sometime this evening. He is a little weak from his attack of grippe but otherwise feels greatly improved.

The remainder of the team are in perfect condition.

The team will start out the same as in the past couple of games in the first battle against Ottawa.

TWO OF VARSITY'S STARS.

Captain Hudson of Toronto Varsity's eastern championship hockey team.

"RED" PORTER. Brilliant Defence Player of the Varsity Hockey Team.

Pay no attention to the old adages . . . Where would the saxophone player be if he didn't toot his own horn.

Tommy Milton has an unusual distinction. . . . He is one of the few auto racers who ever lived to retire.

Brains break out in the most unexpected places. . . . For instance, Roland Rocktop of Marblehead thinks Punta Gordon is a dropkicker.

Bobby Jones had some tough breaks in his match with Walter Hagen, but the toughest of all was the impulse which moved him to agree to play it.

It is not always necessary to go to the dog races to bet on the dogs. . . . Sometimes you do that when you go to the horse races.

Miss Glenna Collett, 22, was beaten by Miss Virginia Van Wie, 17, in a golf match the other day. . . . Again proving youth must be served.

It may be hard for Mussolini to laugh but it isn't hard for him to give the rest of the world a laugh.

Los Angeles beat the Chicago Cubs in an exhibition game, 15 to 14. . . . Thereby demonstrating just what effect the departure of the lively ball has had on baseball.

Favorites in dog races remind us of the halitosis ads. . . . Four out of five never come home.

It all depends on how you look at it. . . . Ad Wolgast is a notable graduate of the school of hard looks and he's goofy.

You can say what you will about Suzanne Lenglen but she certainly knows her racquet.

Modern version: Never put off until tomorrow what can just as easily be put off altogether.

LEADERS. Their Records of 1925 BATTING

PETE DONOHUE.

Made major league debut with Cincinnati in 1921. Came direct from Texas Christian University where he had starred for three years.

Best season in 1922. Won 18, lost nine; percentage .667.

In 1923 and 1925 was one of few hurlers to cop 20 or more victories. Ranked fourth in effectiveness last season, allowing 3.08 earned runs per fray.

In 35 games in 1924 issued but 36 passes.

Defeated by Phillies last summer after having turned them back 20 straight times.

Considered one of best right-handers in National League. Along with Luque and Rixey, composes one of best "Big Three" pitching staffs in majors.

HAGEN WON TOURNEY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25. — Walter Hagen won the west coast open golf tournament here yesterday over his home course, the Pasadena Country Club, with a score of 70-73-69-71—283.

Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, the national amateur champion, came second—two strokes behind Hagen—with rounds of 75-69-71-70—285.

HELPFUL HINTS BY GOLFING STARS

By Special Arrangement With Colliers' Magazine.

FRANCIS OUIMET—VALUE FO KNOWING PITCH SHOT

Many a time the average golfer faces a pitch shot over a deep sand trap with fear and trembling.

Give him a 15-foot putt to win a match and it bothers him but slightly because he feels he may make that putt and if he doesn't, well, the chances are against anybody's holing 15-foot putts and consequently it fails to upset his poise, or emotions But that pitch to the well-guarded green scares him most to death.

That same pitch shot for the star player is greeted with joy for he knows he can pitch safely to the green and that is the least of his worries. The one foremost thought in his mind is how close can he get his ball to the hole.

Jock Hutchison, a master hand when it comes to pitching a golf ball to a green, scored a great many threes on par four holes of this type when he won his British title simply because this sort of shot was the easiest for him to play.

All star players are not nearly as expert as Jock when it comes to playing pitch shots, but nevertheless all golfers among the top ranks are extremely accurate with a mashie or mashie-niblick.

(Copyright, 1926.)

HOCKEY SCORES.

Allan Cup Finals.

Port Arthur 1, Toronto Varsity 0.

L.O.H.A. Senior Final.

Toronto Pats 2, Ottawa R.C. 0. Toronto Pats win championship, 6 to 0.

Inter-League.

Portland 4, New York 2. Portland wins series.

FLUKE GOAL IN FIRST PLAY OFF

Shot Deflected By Red Porter Only Score of the Game.

PORT ARTHUR WINS.

MONTREAL, March 25 Canadian Press).—A shot by Alex. Gray, Port Arthur's centre man, which was sent on its way from the red line without any particular objective, four minutes and twenty seconds after the game commenced, ran up against "Red" Porter's skate, turned towards the Varsity goal, and just as it reached Joe Sullivan in its erratic course, it bounced over the goalie's stick and settled down a few inches behind the line across the blue and white's goal. This somewhat lucky counter was the only one scored during sixty minutes of the first game of the best two out of three series between Port Arthur and University of Toronto teams for the Canadian amateur championship and possession of the Allan Cup, which is at present held by last night's winners, who defeated their opponents of this season in Winnipeg a year ago for the title and trophy.

The game was a good exhibition of hockey, as far as cup contests are concerned, but it will be far from reaching the heights of brilliancy that featured the two Varsity-Peterboro games. Port Arthur, securing an early lead, played a strong defensive game all the way.

CANADIAN BRIEFS.

GIFT FOR KING GEORGE.

SANTA CLARA, Calif., March 25 (Canadian Press).—Two Angora goat skins, destined to be a present to King George of England and the Prince of Wales, are on exhibition here. The skins were selected by the Prince on his Alberta ranch and have been undegoing a dyeing and tanning process here. They will be shipped to England next week.

FIRE IN HOSPITAL.

THREE RIVERS, Que., March 25 (Canadian Press).—Fire yesterday broke out in St. Joseph's Hospital. The flames burst through the roof of one of the towers and great anxiety was felt in the city for the hundreds of patients, orphans, aged persons, retired priests, nuns and boarders who live in the institution. The fire was brought under control, however, with a loss of about $1,500. No panic occurred.

CONVICTED OF BIGAMY.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., March 25.—(Canadian Press).—Fred Milne was convicted of bigamy on his second trial on a charge of being married to two women at the same time yesterday. He was tried here before Judge Wills. New evidence was introduced, and having already served seven months' sentence, he was let go on this count.

DIED OF EXPOSURE.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 25.—(Canadian Press). — Mrs. Anne Resch of Winnipeg, who was found with both feet frozen near a railway siding several miles from the city a week ago, died as the result of exposure yesterday. The woman, who is 67 years of age, was found in a helpless condition lying in a snowbank. An investigation is being conducted by the police.

Who Is Your Favorite?

Boys! Here's your chance!

Here's a competition you can all get in.

Write two hundred words about your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey Team, Champions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The prize winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given to the team in recognition of its splendid work this season.

This is the idea. The Petes have brought to this city the first Senior Championship it has ever had. They deserve all kinds of credit. Every boy on the team did his share. But you have your favorite—maybe you think he plays smarter hockey than the others; or he may skate better; or he may be merely better looking. Whatever your reason, write it out in not more than 200 words, and send it to "The Contest Editor, The Examiner," observing these simple rules:

(1) Open only to boys of 17 or under.
(2) Accuracy, penmanship, composition and neatness count.
(3) Contest closes at midnight, March 27.
(4) Pictures of the players will be run every day, without names. Clip out the picture of your favorite and paste it on a sheet of paper with his name written carefully under it. Pin this to your 200 word story or essay.
(5) A coupon, properly filled in and signed by a parent or guardian, must accompany every entry.

A committee of prominent citizens will be asked to decide the winner, and in case of dispute the Editor's decision will be final.

The date of the banquet will be announced later.

Clip out this Coupon and attach it to your essay.

FAVORITE HOCKEY PLAYER CONTEST

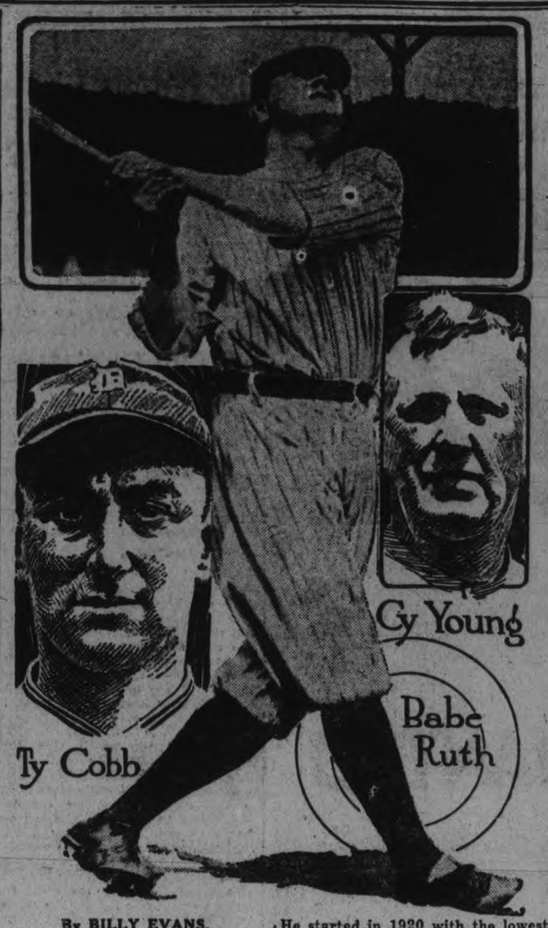
My Name .....

My address .....

My Favorite Hockey Player.....

The above contestant is.....years of age.

.....(Parent or Guardian)



By BILLY EVANS.

What are baseball's three greatest feats?

The superlatives of sport are always interesting.

Here are the three greatest feats in baseball as I see them:

Ty Cobb's record of leading the American League for nine consecutive years with a low average of .324 and a high mark of .420.

Babe Ruth's stunt of making 59 home runs in a 154-game schedule is certainly a super feat.

Cy Young's extraordinary performance in winning over 500 games in 22 years service as a big league pitcher.

Records are made to be broken. However, I have always felt that this trio of records would stand for years and years, if not for all time.

While Ruth's feat entitles him to the honor of being regarded as the greatest slugger the game has ever known, I have always felt the performances of Cobb and Young even more meritorious.

Young's Feat Greatest of All.

Ruth's stunt was a one-year flash of remarkable batting, a sprint affair, so to speak, while the performances of Cobb and Young was a sustained effort; Cobb over nine years, Young 22.

Young's feat looms up as the greatest of the three. Winning 20 ball games is a rare stunt for a pitcher these days; capturing 25 is decidedly unusual. Yet Young, over a period of 22 years, almost averaged 25 victories per season.

Cobb finished his nine years of American League batting leadership in 1915. He began it in 1908. The record has already stood for 10 years. However, a serious menace has come up in the person of Rogers Hornsby, star batsman of the National League.

When Hornsby finished the 1925 season with an average of .403 it made his sixth straight year of leadership in the National League. He started in 1920 with the lowest mark of the six years, .370.

Cobb's Record is in Danger.

In leading the National League for six consecutive seasons, no batsman in the history has been on such a furious batting rampage. His average for that period is practically .400, to be exact, .399.

Unquestionably Hornsby is the outstanding batter in the Nati League. He is easily 25 points ter than his most dangerous tender. On form he should cont to show the way for a numbe years unless incapacitated by in or illness.

Of the three super-feats in ba ball, there is a chance that Col will be broken by Hornsby. must take down the National ting crown for four more years top Ty. So you see Hornsby has his work cut out.

At the close of the 1925 sea I asked him what he thought ab his chances to better Cobb's gr record. He modestly replied:

"I have a chance to break Cob mark and have hopes of doing It's a long way, for I must le three more years to tie it.

"Good health and the breaks essential to batting. If I contin to enjoy both I'll certainly be dan erous."

OLD TIMER DEAD.

KINGSTON, March 25.—(Special).—Michael J. Dolan, who passed away here on Sunday, was one of the best baseball players ever Kingston. He was one of the old time honest-to-goodness amateu and he was one of the best-know ball players in the country in h day. He played second base for t old St. Lawrence team in Kingsto one of the first three teams in Ca ada, the other two being the Tecu sehs, at London, Ont. and t... Maple Leafs at Guelph. In addition to baseball, Mr. Dolan was ... success. He also had another, Pauline, a trotting mare, which he successfully raced.

VALUABLE BOOKLET FOR HOG RAISERS

'Hogs For Pork and Profit' Contains Much Information.

The Bank of Montreal, which has issued three previous booklets of interest to the farmer, has now for free distribution at all of its branches its latest booklet, entitled "Hogs for Pork and Profit."

As in the case of these previous booklets, "Hogs for Pork and Profit" is a practical book for practical people. The advice given is the result of investigation and experiments by leading specialists in the hog-raising industry. At the same time, the booklet is written in language that any person can understand, and its value is greatly added to by actual photographs illustrating every point that is made.

Any one in this industry will do well to secure a copy as there is no doubt about the value of the information it contains.

TRACK DAMAGED NEAR OMEMEE

Drawbar of Freight Car Breaks, Tearing Up a Stretch of Ties.

TRAINS HELD UP.

OMEMEE, March 25.—Considerable damage was done to the ties on a stretch of the C.N.R. track just west of the Iron Bridge here, when the draw bar of a freight car broke. The car ran along the track for a short distance, and then fell over on its side. None of the other cars was damaged or derailed.

The accident occurred about 6.30, when the freight was proceeding westward. The line was blocked for some time, the passenger trains from Peterborough and Lindsay being held up. The auxiliary from Lindsay cleared the t..., allowing the trains ...

Winchester
CIGARETTES

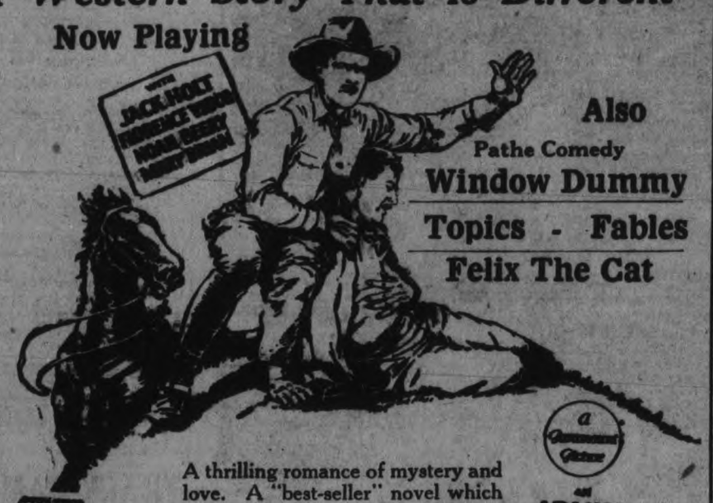
"A Mild, Blended Cigarette"

20 for 25¢

A Western Story That Is Different

CAPITOL THEATRE

Now Playing



Also
Pathe Comedy
Window Dummy
Topics - Fables
Felix The Cat

A thrilling romance of mystery and love. A "best-seller" novel which ran serially in Cosmopolitan Magazine. Produced with an unusually high-grade cast.

a Paramount Picture
an IRVIN WILLAT PRODUCTION
ADAPTED FROM THE NOVEL BY PETER B. KYNE

"THE ENCHANTED HILL"

CHURCH UNION BILL OPPOSED

Representative of United Church Under Fire in Committee.

SETTLEMENT EASY.

TORONTO, March 25 (Canadian Press).—G. W. Mason, K.C. representing the United Church of Canada, was under heavy fire at the private bills committee of the Legislature this morning, when he opposed a bill introduced by A. C. Lewis (Northeast Toronto), which would amend the Church Union Act passed last session, so that the church property commission would have power to make orders to alleviate hardship notwithstanding any previous disposition of the case.

Mr. Mason said he had instructions from the United Church of Canada, to facilitate anything that would make for a friendly settlement.

W. S. Haney (Conservative, Lambton) said he had not observed anything of the kind at Queen's Park.

The chief attack on Mr. Mason arose out of the Owen Sound case, where the property commission had recommended that the United Church should sell a church to the Presbyterians for $20,000, and which recommendation had been ignored.

This, Mr. Mason said, was physically impossible. W. Finlayson (Conservative, Simcoe) said it was his belief that if Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon of the United Church would go to Owen Sound and devote half an hour to trying to settle affairs an arrangement could be made in half an hour.

Financial News and Views

Latest Comment on Grain and Industrial Markets — Closing Quotations on the Principal Active Stocks

Quotations Over Stobie, Forlong and Co. wire.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	High	Low	Close
Atchison Rly.	125⅞	125¼	125⅞
Amer. Can.	261	257	259
Amer. Loco.	100	97⅜	98
Smelters	121¼	119¼	120
Baldwin	105	97½	100¼
Balt. & Ohio	88½	87½	88¼
Cast-Iron Pipe	170¼	166	169¼
Ches. & Ohio	133½	132¼	133
Cal. Petrol.	34½	33⅞	34¼
Chrysler	34¾	33½	34¼
Dodge Bros. A	31¾	31⅜	31⅜
Dupont De Nem.	204⅜	199	204⅜
Fleischmann	41	16¼	36½
Gen. Motors	119¾	117½	118⅜
Hudson Motors	83½	80½	82⅜
Int. Harvester	116½	115¾	116¾
Inter. Nickel	35¾	34¾	34⅞
Coca-Cola	132⅜	129	129
Mack Truck	111⅜	108¾	109¼
Marland Oil	54½	53⅝	53⅞
U. S. Rubber	68⅝	68	68⅝
Montgomery W.	64⅝	63⅝	63¾
White Motors	70	67¼	67⅜
U. S. Steel	122	120¾	121
Yellow Cab.	27⅞	..	..
Youngs. Tube	74	71	71

MINING STOCKS

	Asked	Bid
Apex	3¼	3¼
Argonaut	30	30
Baldwin	2⅛	2⅛
Chaput Hughes	16½	15½
Con. West Dome	19½	19
Dome	1700	1585
Goldale	31	28½
Gold Reef	3¼	2¾
Hollinger	1900	1835
Keora	11⅜	11¼
Kirkland Lake	99	93
Lake Shore	1020	1000
McIntyre	2375	2325
Newray	34½	34½
Nipissing	600	575
Preston	7¼	7¼
Teck Hughes	303	283
Vip. Con. Mines	156	153
W. Hargraves	810	801

Silver

Beaver	69½	64
Castle	156	150
Coniagas	400	400
Crown Reserve	15	14½
La Rose	16½	15½
McKinley	19	18
Mining Corp.	370	365

CHICAGO WHEAT.

	High	Low	Close
May	157	153¾	156¾
July	136⅝	134⅛	136¾

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

May	147⅞	145¾	147
July	144¾	142⅜	144¾

CHICAGO RYE.

May	87¼	85¾	86¾
July	88⅝	87¼	88

Wheat Has Early Increase Due To Liverpool Market

CHICAGO, Ills., March 25 (Canadian Press).—Wheat scored an early upturn to-day, influenced by the unexpected strength of the Liverpool market and by a decided falling off in this week's estimated shipments from Argentina.

Opening prices, 1-8 to 7-8 higher, May (new) $1.55 1-8 to $1.55⅝, and July $1.35 to $1.35¼, were followed by material further gains. Corn and oats were easy owing to the evident absence of the demand. After opening unchanged to 1-8 higher, May 72¼ to 72¼, corn underwent a moderate general sag.

Oats started unchanged to ¼ off, May 38 3-4 to 38 7-8, but later rallied somewhat.

In line with hog values, provisions were steady.

Decline Still Continues In Mines At Toronto

TORONTO, March 25 (Canadian Press).—A general downward tendency was continued on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning, with Mines the weakest section of the market. Dome sold down to the low of 15.75, loss of a dollar and fifteen cents, but recovered to 16.40, a loss of fifty cents. Brazilian closed the morning an eighth lower at 88, and Smelters a half higher at 194, after touching 191¾. Noranda Mines lost thirty cents at 12.00, and Hollinger 20 at 18.50. British Columbia Fishing was marked down 1 3-4 at 66¼, and Atlantic Sugar also lost slightly at 23 7-8; Massey Harris Common lost one at 54.

Sale Of Rubber Nipples Is Debated By Deputies

PARIS, March 25 (United Press)—Manufacture and sale of rubber nipples used by weary mothers to quiet their tearful children have been forbidden by the French Chamber of Deputies.

Disregarding serious financial and political measures on the agenda the Chamber vehemently discussed pros and cons of the "sucettes."

Professor Pinard, health authority, won the day for the opponents of the rubber nipples by declaring that "sucettes" caused more infantile mortality through liability to germs, than even the unsanitary lump of sugar knotted in a handkerchief such as peasant women give their children.

Majority Of List Strong On the Standard Exchange

TORONTO, March 24 (Canadian Press).—Weakness of Dome and Hollinger on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning was in direct contrast to the rest of the list. Dome sold down to a low of 15.75 but recovered to 16.50 at the morning close, a loss of 40 cents. Hollinger lost 25 at 18.35; strong points in the other part of the list were Teck Hughes, advancing 13 at 297; McIntyre, Gaining 15 at 23.65; Indian up 1 1-4 at 9, and Barry-Hollinger up 5 at 39. In Silvers, Noranda climbed 40 at 12.70, and Beaver 4 1-2 at 65, while numerous 1 point advances were recorded.

Watch or It !
Monday Next
The famous British Film Star
BETTY BALFOUR
—in—
SATAN'S SISTER
Her latest and best picture

NOW PLAYING

THUNDER MOUNTAIN

A drama without frills but with plenty of thrills.

A Wm. Fox Production with

MADGE BELLAMY

in the stellar role with a splendid cast of supporting players.

Also ANOTHER THRILLING CHAPTER of

THE GREEN ARCHER

Serial

and Comedy

THE GOSH DARN MORTGAGE

REGENT ORCHESTRA IN LATEST MUSICAL HITS !

FEMALE VOICE CHOIR.

Presentation To Mrs. Bugg Was Feature of Meeting.

An enjoyable evening was spent by the members of the Female Voice Choir at the home of Mrs. C. Cheu, 160 1-2 Simcoe street.

Mrs. Bugg, the leader of the Choir, was presented with a purse of money by the members of the Choir.

The remainder of the evening was occupied by a musical programme and a banquet.

TO BE EXECUTED.

Man and Wife Sentenced To Hang For Assassination Plot.

TOKIO, March 25 (United Press).—Boku Rethu, a Korean and his Japanese wife were sentenced to death today by a special court which tried them for plotting to assassinate the royal family with a bomb.

Execution will take place Saturday to the Gibbet at Ichigaya prison. The court was guarded by 200 police and gendarmes during the trial.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT

"THUNDER MOUNTAIN," SHOWING SCREEN VERSION OF NOTED STAGE SUCCESS, "HOWDY FOLKS."

Madge Bellamy, Leslie Fenton, Alec B. Francis and Zasu Pitts Have Featured Roles in Fine Cast Presenting William Fox Adaptation of John Golden Play.

"Thunder Mountain," the William Fox production which will be shown at the Regent Theatre, beginning today, is a highly romantic and tensely dramatic story of the crude people of the Blue Ridge mountains, filmed in the midst of gorgeous natural surroundings under the able direction of Victor Schertzinger.

It is a picture in which pathos is pleasingly blended with homely comedy, where tolerance and intolerance walk hand-in-hand; a picture filled with thrilling situations, sudden dramatic pauses—with an ending as different as it is unexpected.

Leslie Fenton is Sam Martin, the mountain boy, whose ambitions to educate his people are finally realized, and who unwillingly falls in love with Madge.

Aec Francis appears as the old circuit-rider, of whom all of the ignorant folk of Thunder Mountain stand in awe—even while some few of them love the old man.

Zasu Pitts is Mandy an illiterate mountain girl, Emily Fitzroy is the neuralgic "Ma" MacBirney, with whom little Azalea lives after her advent among the mountaineers, and Dan Mason is "Pa" MacBirney who dares not call his house his own.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Musterole Works Without the Blister--Easier. Quicker.

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, in the form of a white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

The Musterole Co. of Canada, Ltd. Montreal

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

Better than a mustard plaster

FURTHER DEBATE ON LIQUOR BILL

J. A. Currie's Measure To Come Up in Short Time.

ON SECOND HEARING.

TORONTO, March 25. — Canadian Press. — Further debate on the Ontario government liquor policy is assured in view of the fact that the bill of J. A. Currie, Conservative, Toronto, South east, awaits second hearing.

Col. Currie's bill provides for government control and sale of liquor.

CHEQUE FOR FIREMEN.

Murray Street Trustees Recognize Efforts in Saving Church.

Fire Chief Gimblett received a cheque the other day from the board of trustees of Murray Street Baptist Church in recognition of the great effort the fire department made to save their church from being a total loss by fire last December. This donation is very much appreciated by the fire brigade.

REMEDY FOR PYORRHEA

For pyorrhea, tender, spongy, bleeding or receding gums, use Parke's Py-Rhea Lotion. It destroys pus formations and keeps the mouth in a clean, healthy condition. 50c and $1.00 bottles. Bond's Drug Store, George and Hunter streets.

ACROSS CANADA AND BACK

Marvellous beyond conception inaptly describes the glories of Canada's Rockies. To be fully appreciated they must be seen. To start out on a trip by one's self into this unfamiliar but far-famed paradise-on-earth, to many appears quite a task. Realizing this, Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College, an experienced Rocky Mountain traveller for the third year in succession, has undertaken to conduct a party through this glorious wonderland.

A special train of dining, standard sleeping, and observation compartment cars has been chartered, to leave Toronto on July 19th via the Canadian Pacific Railway. Stops will be made at Port Arthur and Fort William, which together form Canada's greatest grain port; Winnipeg Beach, the popular summer resort for Winnipegers; Winnipeg, Canada's third largest city; Indian Head, the chief tree distributing centre of the Federal Forestry Branch; Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan; Calgary, Alberta's largest city; Banff, the world-famous mountain resort; by automobile for 104 miles over the Banff-Windermere Highway the most spectacular drive in Canada; through Kootenay Lake to Nelson, the commercial centre of Southern British Columbia; then through the Doukhobor country to Penticton; along lovely Okanagan Lake, and to Vancouver, thence by steamer to Victoria.

Returning, the trip will be by the main line of the Canadian Pacific, through the great canyons of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers, and through the Selkirks, and Rockies, affording scenery such as can be found nowhere else on earth; Lake Louise, the Pearl of the Rockies, the most perfect gem of scenery in the world; another day at Banff; Edmonton, the capital of Alberta; Saskatoon the city of optimism; Devil's Gap Camp, on the Lake of Woods, near Kenora, thence to Fort William, where one of the fine Canadian Pacific steamers will be used across Lakes Superior and Huron to Port McNicoll, then rail to Toronto, where the trip will terminate.

Everything is included in the price of $330.00, from Toronto; transportation, sleeping cars, accommodation in Hotels, and bungalow camps, meals in diners, hotels and on steamers, and sight-seeing tours at points visited.

The trip is open to all, and applications for accommodation, are being received.

Fares from other points than Toronto will be named and descriptive illustrated booklet sent on application to Dean Sinclair Laird, Macdonald College Post Office, Que.

aT T—107

COBOURG LEAGUE IS RE-ORGANIZED

Good Ball Season is in Prospect With Many Teams.

COBOURG, March 25.—There is every prospect of a good ball season for Cobourg the coming summer. The Cobourg Dye Works team and also a junior team, are Cobourg's entries in the Durham and Ontario League.

The Town League has been reorganized, and it is expected will have four teams. The following officers were elected:

President—Jos. Delaney.
Vice-President—E. E. White.
Secretary-Treasurer—Roy Dodge.

It was decided to hold a meeting on April 16, and all teams desiring to enter the Town League are asked to have their entries in by that date.

SEEKS FOWLER CUP.

Local Sport Follower Asks About Location of City Trophy.

Sporting Editor, Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Would you please let me know, through your valuable paper, what has happened to the Fowler Cup that was put up in 1921 for city hockey, and was won by W. Hamilton hockey team that year, and then in 1922 was handed to the Bankers' hockey club, having won the championship that year? Now, why was this cup not presented to the De Laval this year, as they are winners of the city championship. This cup was donated by Mr. Fowler for city hockey and should be handed over to the winners.

Trusting it will be done without any further delay, and thanking you Mr. Editor.

John Creighton.

FORMER CITIZEN DIES WHILE BOWLING

Clarence E. Barnett Is Stricken With Heart Disease.

TORONTO, March 25. — Clarence E. Barnett, Assistant City Manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, was suddenly stricken last night, while bowling. He collapsed while playing in the company's league game in a bowling alley at Temperance and Yonge streets, dying almost immediately from heart disease.

Mr. Barnett was a well known insurance man, having spent most of his life in the business being first connected with the Canada Life and then with the Mutual Life. He was in his fifty first year. He was born in Toronto and educated here, being a Dufferin street school Old Boy. He He was a member of Doric Lodge A. F and A.M., and Beaver Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. He was an Anglican and a member of Christ church Deer Park.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Louise and Marion, at his residence, 37 Mount Royal Avenue, and a daughter, Helen, visiting in San Francisco. His mother, Mrs. M. Barnett of Belsize Court; a brother, H. P. Barnett, and a sister, Mrs. E. A. Humphries, also survive.

Mr. Barnett was the district representative for the Canada Life Insurance Company here some 12 years ago.

RECORD CROWD FOR BIG RACE

Every Room in Liverpool Booked For Weeks Before Grand National.

.. FEWER ENTRIES.

LIVERPOOL, March 25 (Canadian Press).—A record attendance for the Grand National, to be run at the Aintree course to-morrow afternoon, appears assured. Every spare bed in Liverpool was booked weeks ago, and thousands of visitors are still arriving from all parts of the country and the continent.

The field for the great steeplechase will probably be two fewer than last year, when 33 started.

NO MORE PILES

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

The Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay. McDermid and Jury and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.

BILL KILLED.

Act To Give Church Property Commission More Power Lost.

TORONTO, March 25. — Canadian Press. — The Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature this afternoon killed by a vote of 22 to 21, a bill moved by A. C. Lewis, Conservative, Toronto, North East, which would give to the Ontario Church Property Commission power to enforce its recommendations.

Chemistry has become a badly overcrowded profession in Germany. Of the 16,00 chemists in that country about 1,000 are employed.

Children's Colds

Are best treated externally. Check them overnight without "dosing" by rubbing Vicks over throat and chest at bedtime.

VICKS VAPORUB

YOUNG FARMERS FROM ENGLAND

First Party Sent Out From Training Farms Sails This Week.

WELL TRAINED.

MONTREAL, Mar. 25 (Special). — Representatives of the Canadian National Railways will maintain supervision from Ipswich to Toronto of the first group of men to come forward to the Dominion from the first training farm established in Great Britain by the Ministry of Labor. This party of single men will number at least 52, and will sail from Liverpool on the Alaunia, the Cunard Line, on Saturday of this week. With the party will also travel H. C. L. Bluck, who has had charge of these men during their training at the Claydon Training Farm, and also is desirous of learning at first hand of farming conditions in Canada.

This group will land at Halifax, and when arrangements will have been completed by officials of the Canadian National Railways, will proceed to Toronto, where they will be placed on farms in Ontario.

These men form the first representatives of a new scheme designed to place young Britishers on the land. It is thought that this plan will prove more efficacious in supplying the farm labor needs of Canada than by taking practical, experienced farm workers, now scarce in the Old Land, and the only fully employed class.

Advices from officials who saw the men at Claydon are to the effect that they are a very fine lot, and suggest that they ought to get along very well. It is said that there are now more than 200,000 men between the ages of 20 and 25 years in Great Britain unemployed and eligible for such training.

Canadian representatives have lectured to the men training, and they have also had the benefit of the special courses of lectures prepared under the direction of Dr. W. J. Black, and which have proven so successful in describing agricultural conditions in this country. In addition to the lectures and the special course, movies depicting life in Canada have been shown to the young men during their training.

The training farm at Claydon, near Ipswich, in Suffolk, according to local tradition, was the site of an old workhouse, and there it was again local tradition that Oliver Twist had the temerity to ask for more, an incident that will remain a classical episode of literature as long as the name of Dickens is remembered.

UNUSUAL QUESTIONS.

Toronto City Issuer of Marriage Licenses Tells Amusing Antidotes.

TORONTO, Ont., March 25. — (Canadian Press.) — The city issuer of marriage licenses gets some curious queries sometimes. The other day he received a letter saying: "There are two brothers born of the same father but different mothers. The daughter of one brother wishes to marry her father's half brother." The answer was of course, was in the negative.

Another query recently received was in regard to the legality of a marriage which took place on a boat in 1909 on the high seas by an American minister in the presence of only one witness. The clergyman declared it to be "under the ordinance of God and the international law." The issuer advised the applicant for information to consult a lawyer.

Swedish churches hold a national fortune of about $27,000,00 in art treasures.

SHOT TO DEATH WHILE ASLEEP

Suspected of Having Revealed Hiding Place Of Robber Gang.

ASSASSINS UNKNOWN.

CHICAGO, March 25 (Canadian Press)—Robert Lafferty, 24, suspected of having revealed to the police the hiding place of William J. White and Thomas Shupe, identified as members of the robber band was shot to death while he lay asleep early today. The murder was committed by two men who gained admittance to the basement apartment by posing as policemen.

A dozen bullets were fired into Lafferty's body.

AGED WOMAN DIES.

Deceased Woman Spent Life in Hospital for Incurables.

TORONTO, March 25. Canadian Press. — There passed away recently at the Hospital for Incurables one of the most interesting and lovable patients that ever entered the hospital, Edith Emily Wheatley.

Stricken down for the fourth time with a species of rheumatisin at the age of 17 years and for 27 years there after lying in one position, the disease was active in warping and twisting every joint in her body until finally these became rigid. Some eight years ago she becam. almost totally blind.

Brock St. Rink

Closed for season. Parties having skates or uniforms may obtain same any evening this week between 7 and 9 o'clock.

2d-73-853

FREEDOM OF CITY TO CHAMBERLAIN

Foreign Secretary Receives Honors in Recognition of Work at Locarno.

LONDON, March 25 (United Press)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, today received the freedom of the city of London at the Guild Hall in recognition of his work for peace at Locarno.

Sir Austen was attended by Premier Baldwin and several other cabinet members and members of the diplomatic corps.

Sir Austen was in the uncomfortable position of receiving an honor from a past success whose brightness already has been tarnished by subsequent reverses.

"It is true," Sir Austen said, in accepting the freedom of the city, "that a cloud has passed over the Locarno sun.

"Unexpected difficulties arose and the reality behind the Locarno purpose was submitted to a sudden severe test.

"But if one thing was more clear than another at Geneva it was that seven nations were determined to permit no unexpected interruptions to impede the good work.

"In the bitterness of my first disappointment I think I used exaggerated language. This event has neither the inevitableness nor the finality of true tragedy."

DISEASES RESULTING.

Doctor Tells of the Bodily Harm That Results From Charleston.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 25.—(Canadian Press.)—A local doctor is reported as saying anent the dancing of the Charleston by enthusiasts who take it up too seriously: "The resulting strain on the organs during a three or four-minute session is equal to that occasioned by a ten-minute struggle with a frozen car, and a real first water Charleston dance produces the same effects as are enjoyed while pumping a bicycle up hill against a 20-mile wind. Hernia heart trouble, broken ankles, fallen arches and strained backs are only a few of the diseases resulting."

GET IN THE GAME

Come on, fellers! You don't have to look through a hole in the old arena — get right inside and mix with the boys.

All you have to do is select your favorite player on the Peterborough Senior Hockey team — winner of the O.H.A. championship—write a 200 word story telling the reasons for your selection and mail it or bring it to the Contest Editor at The Examiner.

The winner will be the guest of The Examiner at the banquet to be given the team by the City Council and citizens.

Get in the game! Win the prize and have it over your pals.

See today's sport page.

LOCALS

DR. T. P. McCULLOUGH

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists, 166 Brock St. Phone 36W

ROTARY CLUB. VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.

Grand Opera House, Easter Monday and Tuesday. The event of the season. Subscribers tickets now from any member of the club. 6d75

GET THIS ONE

Ordinary Ice will not heat, but Sanitary Ice WOOD.
All Kinds
Body Hardwood; Hardwood Slabs and Soft Wood. Phone 147. Sanitary Ice Supply. dtf

MISSIONARY'S VISIT

Miss Annie W. Allen, B.A., who has for 20 years past been a missionary of the Canadian Methodist Church in Japan, will visit the city on Friday, and will give an address in Knox Church at 8 p.m.

THANKOFFERING MEETING.

Knox Church W.M.S. will hold their Easter Thankoffering meeting on Friday evening, March 26, at 8 o'clock. Miss Allen, returned formeriy Methodist missionary, will give an address. Everyone interested in missions kindly accept this invitation to hear Miss Allen.
1d-72-849

DO YOU NEED AN ACCOUNTANT?

If you want your books audited or adjusted; if not satisfied with your book-keeping system; if you want your income tax return prepared for this or other years, or want some dispute adjusted.—H. K. Middleton. 'Phone 1353. Office, 202 Charlotte Street. dtf

CANADIAN PACIFIC TRAIN SERVICE, TORONTO-TWEED.

Toronto-Tweed. — Effective April 1st, train leaving Toronto 5.10 p.m., daily, except Sunday, operating Toronto to Havelock, will operate through to Tweed, arriving at 10.20 p.m. Commencing April 2nd, train for Toronto now leaving Havelock at 6.40 a.m., daily except Sunday, will be operated from Tweed, leaving at 5.30 a.m. 25 27 31

THE JEAN RIDDICK YARN SHOP

shows an unusually large stock of Yarns, Hosiery, Underwear, Etc Come and see us and save money
WE SELL FOR LESS!

CHIROPRACTOR M. C. GOODWIN
DC. Ph. C.
Palmer Graduate
100 Barrie Building.
Lady Attendant Phone 431
Hours 10-12 a.m., 2-4 and 7-8 p.m.
Office closed Tuesday evening, also Thursday afternoon and evening.

25c TAXI
WALTER GILLESPIE
Day or Night, Phone 480
Seven Passenger Sedans
12d-75-724

FOOT TROUBLES
N. D. FOOTE, D.S.C.
GRADUATE CHIROPODIST
107 Barr'e Bldg. Phone 1730w

For Easter Photographs
A New Vogue
"Silk Portraits"

We are introducing a new effect in Photography known as "Silk Portraiture."

It is new and it is decidedly beautiful.

The price is very little higher than for ordinary photographs.

You are invited to visit our Studio while we are showing these new prints.

The ROY Studio
140½ HUNTER ST.
Photographers and Picture Framers

By Trying To Do Without Glasses

when you should wear them you harm your eyes. But that isn't all of it, nor the worst of it. Strained eyes have a bad habit of upsetting things generally. There are many conditions outside of the eyes that eye strain causes. And proper glasses remove them all, almost at once in many cases. We find and eliminate the cause of eye strain.

A. A. FOWLER, Pharm. B.
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
R. McLeod has a drug store in the same place—373 George St.

CHOIR PRACTICE

Knox Church Choir will meet for practice tonight at 8.

ALL SAINTS' CHOIR

Practice will be held tonight at 7.30. Please bring copies.

CHOIR PRACTICE.

All Saints' Choir will practice tonight at 7.30 sharp. Members are asked to please bring copies.

AUCTION SALE

Friday, 1.30 p.m., at Hancock's Auction Room Cook Stove, Gas Range, Wicker Settee and two Chairs. Tables, Beds, Carriage, Sulky, Linoleum and Small Articles.
1d, 72, 850

UMBRELLAS REPAIRED AND RECOVERED AT TAYLOR'S.

Clipper plates and clippers sharpened. Every pair we do are tested. Saws filed and set. Scissors, knives and razors sharpened. All our grindstones run in water. 45 years' practical experience. Wm. Taylor, the Sheffield Cutler, 219 Hunter street west. t.t.s.

CARD OF THANKS

The members of the family of the late Mrs. John N. Telford of Bridgenorth wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown her during her long illness, and for the many expressions of sympathy, floral and otherwise, received by them in their sad bereavement.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

142 Acres of Choice Land, being Lot 1, Con. 3, Township of Ennismore; all in a high state of cultivation; first class frame house and comfortable outbuildings. Immediate possession.

This being the late Thomas Calvert's farm, it must be sold or rented at once.

For further particulars or inspection of said property, apply: Mrs. Thomas Calvert on the premises or J. T. O'Connell & Co., Peterborough. 3d, 74, 849

RECITAL.

Among the many interesting numbers sung by Dorothy Allan Park next Monday evening in the Conservatory Hall will be Schubert's masterpiece, "The Erl King." Other big numbers will be Donizetti's "Omis Fernando," from "La Favorita;" Moussorgysky's weirdly beautiful "Death and the Peasant," and May Turner Salter's dramatic "Cry of Rachel". Among Maurice Park's numbers will be "Lohengrin's Narration", from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Liza Lehmann's famous "Ah! Moon of My Delight". Mary Agnes Logan will be at the piano. Tickets 50 cents.
1d-72-840

SERIOUS BLAZE IS PREVENTED

Interior of Cigar Store is Badly Blackened By Smoke.

DISCOVERED IN TIME.

Last night at 11.42, the fire brigade received a call to Joseph A. Lonergan's cigar store, at 166 Charlotte street.

Police Constable J. W. Thompson discovered the store full of smoke, while he was going around his beat.

Mr. Lonergan stated this morning that he had left the store about 11.20 last night. There had been a few men in the store that evening, and before they left one of them had said he smelt smoke, and his statement passed off as a joke on somebody's cheap cigar.

Twenty minutes later the constable discovered the room full of smoke, and sent in an alarm. When the brigade arrived the fire was going in good style in the shelves in the centre of the store. Chief Gimblett broke in the back door and a wave of thick black smoke struck him in the face making it difficult to get into the fire.

A serious down town fire would possibly have broken out but for P. C. Thompson's discovery, and perhaps caused loss of life, as two families live over the store, and in one family there are five small children. Little damage was done exept to the interior decorating, which was blackened with smoke.

AROUND THE CITY.

The bank clearings for the week amounted to $763,681.

The Police department have received the dog tags for the year 1926. All citizens must purchase new tags for their dogs before May 1.

The fire brigade was called to two chimney fires yesterday. Both fires were caused by overheated stove pipes The calls were from 503 Stewart Street at 11.48 a.m., and from 232 Perry Street at 6.09 p.m.

EASTER GIFTS

If you are giving a gift for Easter now is the best time to select one of our new gifts.

We are showing the newest in Wrist Watches, Diamond Rings, Pearl Beads, Bracelets and a beautiful assortment of silverware. Ask to see the new gifts for Easter.

Wonderful assortment from $1.00 to $10.00.

WARNE BROS.
349 GEORGE STREET - DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880.

OBITUARY.

MRS. WILLIAM SPENCER

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Spencer will take place from the residence of Mrs. John King, 380 London street, on Friday, March 26, at 9 a.m., to St. Peter's cathedral and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

ROBERT HADDOW.

Mr. Robert Haddow, 573 Homewood Avenue, received a cable this morning, stating that his father, Robert Haddow, Senior, had died yesterday at the family residence, Newmills, Ayrshire, Scotland.

WILLIAM RICHARD COWAIN.

The funeral of the late W. R. Cowain will take place from his late residence, 324 King street, at 11 a.m. on Friday, March 26th, to the C. N. R. noon train for Belleville, Rev. A. J. Langford officiating.

Mr. Cowain leaves to mourn his loss, his sorrowing wife, one son, Harold, his father, one brother, Hudson Cowain, of British Columbia and one sister, Miss Mary Cowain, the principal of Corbyville school.

MRS. MATILDA DOWNER.

The death occurred in Peterboro, on March 24, of Mrs. Matilda Downer, at the age of 51. Mrs. Downer was born in South Monaghan, and was a member of George street United Church. She leaves to mourn her loss four sons and one daughter, Mrs. Gordon Hawley, and W. J. Downer of Peterboro, Charles N., of Westboro, Asa B., and Martin of this city.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, March 27 from her late residence, Auburn, at 2.30 p.m., to the Little Lake cemetery, Rev. J. E. Todd, officiating.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR YOUNG CANUCKS

Former Chaplain of Great War Addresses Meeting of United Church.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Rev. T. J. Thompson, minister of Glebe United Church, at a dinner of the 38th Battalion mess, told the gathering that if he had his way every youth would spend part of his life in military training. Canada was suffering from the utterances of several faddists, and those interested in military work must deal with pacifist forces which were moulding public opinion. He considered the clamor of Miss Agnes Macphail and others constituted a scandal, and should be dealt with as such. Rev. Mr. Thompson was the first chaplain of the 38th Battalion of the C.E.F. and of the 2nd Canadian Engineers, and saw service in Palestine and France during the Great War.

For Stomach Pains
Try NUGENT'S DYSPEPSIA REMEDY, 50 cents
For Gas, Indigestion, Heartburn
Phone 332 - We Will Deliver
NUGENT DRUG CO.
FRANK GREATRIX, Prop.
386 GEORGE STREET - Opposite Cressman's

CHILDREN TO HOLD OWN CERTIFICATE

Legislature Proposes a Bill Giving Children Right To Birth Certificate.

TORONTO, March 25 (Canadian Press).—By a bill introduced in the Legislature, it is proposed to change the system of birth certificates, so that much of the present inconvenience of obtaining an official document may be eliminated. A. W. Gray (Conservative, Leeds) is sponsor for the bill. It provides that in the future the clerk of the municipality shall be obliged to give a copy of the birth certificate to the parents or guardians of the infant registered. The certificate shall become the property of the infant for all time, and be held by him or her.

FEAR RATE WAR IF PRICE IS CUT

C. N. R. Officials Reply To Request For Lower Grain Rate.

FEAR RETALIATION.

OTTAWA, March 25 (Canadian Press).—Possibility of the freight rate war with American roads was held up before the Railway Board this morning by representatives of the Canadian National Railways in replying to the application of the Quebec port authorities for a lower grain rate on the National Transcontinental. F. J. Watson admitted that he was seriously alarmed at the likelihood of retaliation if Canadian grain rates were reduced.

It would mean a sharp cut in rates from the middle western states to the Atlantic seaboard and Canadian railways and ports would suffer in consequence.

MABEL NORMAND IS NOT SUSPECTED

Well Known Woman Not Actress, Suspected of Murder.

CHICAGO, March 25. — Canadian Press. — Mabel Normand, the screen artist, has "long since been completely exonerated of any connection with the murder of William Desmond Taylor," said Asa Keyes district attorney of Los Angeles County here to-day.

He said the queries he had planned to ask her upon his return to Los Angeles were "only of minor importance and of a general nature."

The Chicago Herald and Examiner to-day said that evidence so far uncovered had focussed attention upon a woman well known in Hollywood, not an actress, who previously had been under suspicion.

OUR service has been developed and improved to a fine point. Everything is done as you would want it done at home. That is why you will enjoy entertaining friends here.

Spend a Happy Hour
HOOPER'S TEA ROOM
414 George Street
Phone 1342

TALENT TEA.

Ladies' Aid of Knox Church Holds Afternoon Social.

Yesterday afternoon a talent tea, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of Knox Church, was held at the home of Mrs. R. Foster, 218 Wolfe Street, with a good attendance, considering the inclement weather. The guests were received by Mrs. Foster, Mrs. George Davis and Mrs. M. C. Mackinnon. The rooms were prettily decorated with marigolds and the tea-table was centred by a silver basket filled with daffodils. Tea was poured by Mrs. W. Carter and Mrs. R. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. M. Williamson, Mrs. N. Henry, Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. S. Watson, Mrs. R. Laing, Mrs. C. Morton and Mrs. H. Martin. Mrs. J. Londerville ushered the ladies into the tea-room. During the afternoon, an enjoyable musical programme, in charge of Mrs. J. J. Pollock, was rendered, including vocal solos by the Misses May Ritchie, Ethel Kennedy, Vera Foster, pianoforte selections by the Misses Alice Davis, May Pollock, Mildred Hetherington, Marion Armstrong and Arthur Watson and Berwin Tillcock, and an instrumental duett by Bob and Tom Allen.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

The Knights of Pythias will hold their regular weekly Euchre Drive Friday evening, March 26, at 8 p.m. Good prizes; admission 25c.
1d-72-1278

IN MEMORIAM.

AUSTIN PORTSMITH.

There is some one ...isses you sadly,
And find the time long since you went,
There is some one who thinks of you daily,
But tries to be ...ve and content.
Oft I think of you, dear Austin,
And our hearts are filled with pain,
Oh, this world would be a heaven,
Could we see your face again.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain,
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they'll wipe out never—
The memory of thos happy days
When we were all together.
WIFE AND FAMILY.

LATE WANT ADS.

FOR SALE—LAUNCH, 20 FT. LONG, 6 ft. beam, 2 cylinder Gray engine, 6-8 h.p., electric starter; 5 Hunter St. East. 6d-77-1277

FOR SALE — EXCELLENT BUILDING lot; choice location, Monaghan Road near Queen Mary School; will sacrifice for cash or might trade; phone 1956m. 3d-74-1276

POULTRY FOR SALE — WHITE Rock Cockerels; apply 508 Chamberlain St. 3d-74-1279

FOR SALE—MISSES' UP-TO-DATE Spring Coat; good as new; apply 620 Gilmour St. 3d-74-1281

TO RENT — DUPLEX, GROUND floor; central; modern; heated or unheated; apply 201 Brock St. 3d-25,27,29-1282

WANTED—CAPABLE MAID; APPLY 543 Gilmour street; phone 473. 3d-74-1283

PRIVATE SALE—BEDS, DRESSER, sewing machine, chairs, cook stove, water front, kitchen cupboard, tables; 539 Gilmour St. 3d-74-1284

G. A. BORLAND DRUGS

HAPPY EASTER

Here are suggestions for making someone's Easter joyful.
Easter Greeting Cards, each - - 5c
Easter Eggs and Novelties made of good eating chocolate - 5, 10, 15, 30 and 60c
Toileteries, Stationery, French Ivory Gifts at reduced prices.
Page and Shaw Chocolates

G. A. BORLAND
PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMIST
228 Charlotte St. near Aylmer
PHONE 274 - Fast Auto Delivery

Frank H. Dawson
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Flour, Baled Hay, Straw, Salt, Mill Feeds, Seed, Etc.
Exclusive Agency for
FIVE ROSES FLOUR
BLATCHFORD'S POULTRY FEEDS
ROYAL INCUBATORS AND BROODERS
Phone 55 380 Water Street
CUSTOM CHOPPING SOLICITED

CHAIN RED & WHITE STORES

You know what kind of selection you make when you come to the store. Well, every RED & WHITE dealer makes the same kind of selection for your phone orders. You get the best there is. Same kind of service if the children are sent. You can rely on what is sent you from R. & W. Stores.

ORDERS DELIVERED ANYWHERE IN THE CITY

Grape Nuts Pkg. - - - - - - - - 14c
Not more than three pkgs. to a customer.

Pure Raspberry Jam 4 lb. Pail - - - - - - - 77c

Broken Walnuts Bordeaux ½ lb. - - - - - - - - 20c

Libby's Beans With Pork & Sauce, 2S., 2 tins - 23c

CANNED FRUIT

For this week's shopping list we have selected all high-class Canned Fruits, such as we feel sure will give the best of satisfaction. They fill the emptied larders at an opportune time.

Raspberries, Maple Leaf, fancy, for 33c
Strawberries, Aylmer, fancy, for 25c
Peaches, Aylmer, heavy syrup, fancy 25c
Pears, Globe, special, 2 tins 35c
Pears, Bartlets, Aylmer, fancy, tin 28c
Pineapple, Singapore, tin ..21c
Apricots, Del Monte, fancy, per tin 25c

SERV-US SOUP 2 Tins 25c

We'd like to prove to our customers that this Canadian line of Soups is a really superior quality. That's why we emphasize it in this shopping list. We know it's good. Try it, and you'll know, too.

CANNED VEGETABLES

Peas, Aylmer, No. 4, choice, 2's, tin 15c
No. 3, 2's, tin 20c
No. 2, fancy, 2's, tin 25c
Corn, Aylmer, choice, 2 tins 25c
Honey Drop .....2 tins 35c
Beets, fancy, 2-lb. tin 25c
Tomatoes, standard .2 tins 25c
Aylmer, tin 15c
Pumpkin, fancy tin 15c
Beans, string, tin 25c
Spinach, tin 23c

CANNED FISH

Kippered Snacks ....3 tins 25c
Pilchards .....3 tins 25c
Sardines .....3 tins 23c
In Olive Oil .....2 tins 25c
In Olive Oil, tin 15c
Crossed, tin 17c
Salmon, pink, ½'s ..2 tins 25c
Pink, 1's, tin 20c
Clover Leaf, ½'s, tin ...25c
Sockeye, 1's, tin 45c
Cod Fish Flakes, tin 25c
Chicken Haddie, tin 30c
Kippered Herring, plain, tin, 20c
Sauce, tin 20c

SERV-US GOODS

Peas, very tender ..2 tins 35c
Corn, tin 15c
Baking Soda, pkg. 10c
Sal Soda, pkg. 9c
Cocoa, ½-lb. tin 25c
Ketchup, bottle 23c
Mayonnaise Dressing, bottle, 35c
Floor Wax, lb. tin 45c

SUGAR Redpath's Pure Cane, 7 lbs. - - - - 51c

ORANGES Dozen - - - - - - - - 59c

Black India TEA Two Prices 69c & 85c

Toilet Paper 3 Extra Large Rolls - - - - 25c
Fine quality. Roll contains more than the usual quantity of sheets.

"3 B" Creamery Butter, lb. 48c

Sour Pickles, qt. 25c
Sweet Pickles, qt. 50c
Heinz Sweet Indian Relish, pint 35c
September Cheese, lb. 25c
2 cans Pineapple 35c
2 cans Corn or Tomatoes..25c
Damson Plums in heavy syrup 14c
Tiger Salmon..... 17c and 27c
New Cabbage, lb. 10c
Carrots and Turnips, pk....25c
Parsnips, peck 35c
7 lb. Cooking Onions.....25c
3 Shiriff's Jelly Powder with spoon 25c
Black Tea, lb. 50c
2 lb. Shortening 33c
2 lb. Swift's Pure Lard....43c
Sliced Bacon, lb. 39c
Fresh Eggs, dozen 29c
2 dozen Oranges 35c
Cooking Apples, pk. 25c
Good Spy Apples, pk. 50c
5 lb. Mixed Honey.....49c
10 LB. SUGAR.....64c
5 lb. Light Amber Honey..55c
5 lb. Clover Honey 65c
FISH FISH
Whitefish, 2 lb. 25c
Halibut, sliced, lb. 21c
by the piece, lb. 17c
Fillet of Haddie, lb. 23c
2 lb. Haddies 25c

Bowles CASH & CARRY GROCERY
60 Hunter St. E. 168 Charlotte St.